WAR-BREEDING CHRISTIANITY)

"East Is East, West Is West"

The white author, Rudyard Kipling, wrote: "East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet." Whatever your interpretation of these lines may be, we insert that the East, today, has indeed met the West. Our brothers in the East have wondered over the captivity of their brother, so-called Negro, in this Western Hemisphere, but they did not have the power or the ability to free us from the prison-houses of North America. As Allah's Messenger informs us, it was only until approximately 70 years ago when some of our people of Asia became aware of our plight and voyage to this country.

Almighty God, now, is shaking the nations with truth. We are quite sure that it has been the hope of the Westren white man that the long-awaited Mahdi of the world would not come, for with His coming comes the death of their entire civilization. After the hour of his execution, not a trace or remembrance of his kingdom would remain.

They had hoped that Western Imperialism, Colonialism and all such aggressive "isms" would not be challenged and utterly stripped bare to reveal their evil roots. The white man would desire for the West to advocate supreme governing power in the capitals of the

Colgan Air Flight 3407 (9L/CJC 3407) was marketed as Continental Connection Flight 3407. It was delayed two hours, departing at 9:18 p.m. Eastern Standard Time (EST; 02:18 UTC), en route from Newark Liberty International Airport to Buffalo Niagara International Airport.[3]

The twin-engine turboprop Bombardier Dash 8 Q400, FAA registry N200WQ, was manufactured in 2008 for delivery to Colgan.[3]:15-21[7]

This was the first fatal accident for a Colgan Air passenger flight since the company was founded in 1991. One previous repositioning flight, with no passengers, CRASHED OFFSHORE OF CAPE COD, MASSACHUSETTS, in August 2003, killing both of the crew on board. The only prior accident involving a Colgan Air passenger flight occurred at LaGuardia Airport, when another plane collided with the Colgan aircraft while taxiing, resulting in minor injuries to a flight attendant.[8]

	Then U.S. President Barack Obama shaking hands with Beverly Eckert six days before the accident Crash: FEBRUARY 12, 2009.

After the captain reacted inappropriately to the stick shaker stall warning, the stick pusher activated. As designed, it pushed the nose down when it sensed a stall was imminent, but the captain again reacted improperly and overrode that additional safety device by pulling back again on the control column, causing the plane to stall and crash.[55] Bill Voss, president of Flight Safety Foundation, told USA Today that it sounded like the plane was in “a deep stall situation”.[56]

A total of 50 people died, including the 49 passengers and crew on board when the aircraft was destroyed, and one resident of the house that was struck. There were four injuries on the ground, including two other people inside the home at the time of the crash. Among the dead were:

- Alison Des Forges, a human rights investigator and an expert on the Rwandan genocide.[13][31]
- Beverly Eckert, who became co-chair of the 9/11 Family Steering Committee and a leader of Voices of September 11 after her husband Sean Rooney was killed in the September 11 attacks. She was en route to Buffalo to celebrate her husband’s 58th birthday and award a scholarship in his memory at Canisius High School.[13][32][33]
- Gerry Niewood and Coleman Mellett, jazz musicians who were en route to a concert with Chuck Mangione and the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra.[13]
- Susan Wehle, the first American female Jewish Renewal cantor.[34]

Robert H. Goddard retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Goddard was born in Worcester, Massachusetts, to Nahum Danford Goddard (1859-1928) and Fannie Louise Hoyt (1864-1920). Robert was their only child to survive; a younger son, Richard Henry, was born with a spinal deformity and died before his first birthday. Nahum was employed by manufacturers, and he invented several useful tools.

Goddard had English paternal family roots in New England with William Goddard (1628-91) a London grocer who settled in Watertown, Massachusetts in 1666. On his maternal side he was descended from John Hoyt and other settlers of Massachusetts in the late 1600s.

Shortly after his birth, the family moved to Boston. With a curiosity about nature, he studied the heavens using a telescope from his father and observed the birds flying. Essentially a country boy, he loved the outdoors and hiking with his father on trips to Worcester and became an excellent marksman with a rifle.[19]:63, 64 In 1898, his mother contracted tuberculosis and they moved back to Worcester for the clear air. On Sundays, the family attended the Episcopal church, and Robert sang in the choir.

He wrote in 1927, “I imagine an innate interest in mechanical things was inherited from a number of ancestors who were machinists.”

General Jimmy Doolittle

Jimmy Doolittle was introduced to the field of space science at an early point in its history. He recalls in his autobiography, “I became interested in rocket development in the 1930s when I met Robert H. Goddard, who laid the foundation. … While with Shell Oil I worked with him on the development of a type of fuel … “

Born December 14, 1896 Alameda, California, U.S.

General Jimmy Doolittle

James Harold Doolittle (DECEMBER 14, 1896 - September 27, 1993) was an American military general and aviation pioneer who received the Medal of Honor for his daring raids on Japan during World War II. He also made early coast-to-coast flights, won many flying races, and helped develop instrument flying.

Doolittle studied as an undergraduate at University of California, Berkeley, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in 1922. He also earned a doctorate in aeronautics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1925.[1][2] He was a flying instructor during World War I and a reserve officer in the United States Army Air Corps, but he was recalled to active duty during World War II.

Escort fighter tactics

Doolittle's major influence on the European air war occurred late in 1943 when he changed the policy of requiring escorting fighters to remain with their bombers at all times. Innstead, he permitted escort fighters to fly far ahead of the bombers' combat box formations, allowing them to freely engage the German fighters laying in wait for the bombers.

Throughout most of 1944, this tactic negated the effectiveness of the twin-engined Zerstörergeschwader heavy fighter wings and single-engined Sturmgruppen of heavily armed Fw 190As by clearing the Luftwaffe's bomber destroyers from ahead of the bomber formations. After the bombers had hit their targets, the American fighters were free to strafe German airfields, transportation, and other "targets of opportunity" on their return flight to base.

These tasks were initially performed with Lockheed P-38 Lightnings and Republic P-47 Thunderbolts through the end of 1943. They were progressively replaced with the long-ranged North American P-51 Mustangs as the spring of 1944 wore on.

Harry Guggenheim and Charles Lindbergh arranged for (then Major) Doolittle to discuss with Goddard a special blend of gasoline. Doolittle flew himself to Roswell in October 1938 and was given a tour of Goddard's shop and a "short course" in rocketry. He then wrote a memo, including a rather detailed description of Goddard's rocket.

In closing he said, "interplanetary transportation is probably a dream of the very distant future, but with the moon only a quarter of a million miles away-who knows!" In July 1941, he wrote Goddard that he was still interested in his rocket propulsion research. The Army was interested only in JATO at this point. However, Doolittle and Lindbergh were concerned about the state of rocketry in the US, and Doolittle remained in touch with Goddard.

Aerodynamics and motion

Goddard's interest in aerodynamics led him to study some of Samuel Langley's scientific papers in the periodical Smithsonian. In these papers, Langley wrote that birds flap their wings with different force on each side to turn in the air. Inspired by these articles, the teenage Goddard watched swallows and chimney swifts from the porch of his home, noting how subtly the birds moved their wings to control their flight. He noted how remarkably the birds controlled their flight with their tail feathers, which he called the birds' equivalent of ailerons. He took exception to some of Langley's conclusions and in 1901 wrote a letter to St. Nicholas magazine[21]:5 with his own ideas.

The editor of St. Nicholas declined to publish Goddard's letter, remarking that birds fly with a certain amount of intelligence and that "machines will not act with such intelligence."[16]:31 Goddard disagreed, believing that a man could control a flying machine with his own intelligence.

Around this time, Goddard read Newton's Principia Mathematica, and found that Newton's Third Law of Motion applied to motion in space. He wrote later about his own tests of the Law:

I began to realize that there might be something after all to Newton's Laws. The Third Law was accordingly tested, both with devices suspended by rubber bands and by devices on floats, in the little brook back of the barn, and the said law was verified conclusively. It made me realize that if a way to navigate space were to be discovered, or invented, it would be the result of a knowledge of physics and mathematics.

First scientific writings

The high school student summed up his ideas on space travel in a proposed article, "The Navigation of Space," which he submitted to the Popular Science News. The journal's editor returned it, saying that they could not use it "in the near future."

While still an undergraduate, Goddard wrote a paper proposing a method for balancing airplanes using gyro-stabilization. He submitted the idea to Scientific American, which published the paper in 1907. Goddard later wrote in his diaries that he believed his paper was the first proposal of a way to automatically stabilize aircraft in flight.[16]:50 His proposal came around the same time as other scientists were making breakthroughs in developing functional gyroscopes.

While studying physics at WPI, ideas came to Goddard's mind that sometimes seemed impossible, but he was compelled to record them for future investigation. He wrote that "there was something inside which simply would not stop working." He purchased some cloth-covered notebooks and began filling them with a variety of thoughts, mostly concerning his dream of space travel.

He considered centrifugal force, radio waves, magnetic reaction, solar energy, atomic energy, ion or electrostatic propulsion and other methods to reach space. After experimenting with solid fuel rockets he was convinced by 1909 that chemical-propellant engines were the answer.[10]:11-12 A particularly complex concept was set down in June 1908: Sending a camera around distant planets, guided by measurements of gravity along the trajectory, and returning to earth.

His first writing on the possibility of a liquid-fueled rocket came on February 2, 1909. Goddard had begun to study ways of increasing a rocket's efficiency using methods differing from conventional solid-fuel rockets. He wrote in his notebook about using liquid hydrogen as a fuel with liquid oxygen as the oxidizer. He believed that 50 percent efficiency could be achieved with these liquid propellants (i.e., half of the heat energy of combustion converted to the kinetic energy of the exhaust gases).

First patents

In the decades around 1910, radio was a new technology, fertile for innovation. In 1912, while working at Princeton University, Goddard investigated the effects of radio waves on insulators.[26] In order to generate radio-frequency power, he invented a vacuum tube with a beam deflection[27] that operated like a cathode-ray oscillator tube. His patent on this tube, which predated that of Lee De Forest, became central in the suit between Arthur A. Collins, whose small company made radio transmitter tubes, and AT&T and RCA over his use of vacuum tube technology. Goddard accepted only a consultant's fee from Collins when the suit was dropped. Eventually the two big companies allowed the country's growing electronics industry to use the De Forest patents freely

Rocket math

By 1912 he had in his spare time, using calculus, developed the mathematics which allowed him to calculate the position and velocity of a rocket in vertical flight, given the weight of the rocket and weight of the propellant and the velocity (with respect to the rocket frame) of the exhaust gases. In effect he had independently developed the Tsiolkovsky rocket equation published a decade earlier in Russia. Tsiolkovsky, however, did not account for gravity nor drag. For vertical flight from the surface of Earth Goddard included in his differential equation the effects of gravity and aerodynamic drag.

He wrote: "An approximate method was found necessary … in order to avoid an unsolved problem in the calculus of variations. The solution that was obtained revealed the fact that surprisingly small initial masses would be necessary … provided the gases were ejected from the rocket at a high velocity, and also provided that most of the rocket consisted of propellant material."

Professor Jason Royce Lindsey argues that even without a conspiratorial agenda, the term deep state is useful for understanding aspects of the national security establishment in developed countries, with emphasis on the United States. Lindsey writes that the deep state draws power from the national security and intelligence communities, a realm where secrecy is a source of power.[15]:35-36 Alfred W. A mole may be recruited early in life, and take decades to get a job in government service and reach a position of access to secret information before becoming active as a spy. Perhaps the most famous examples of moles were the Cambridge Five, five upper-class British men recruited by the KGB as communist students at Cambridge University in the 1930s who later rose to high levels in various parts of the British government.[3] By contrast, most espionage agents, such as CIA Director of Counterintelligence Aldrich Ames and FBI agent Robert Hanssen, who spied on the US government for the KGB, were either recruited or offer their services as spies after they were in place as members of the target organization.

Because their recruitment occurred in the remote past, moles are difficult for a nation's security services to detect. The possibility that a top politician, corporate executive, government minister, or officer in an intelligence service could be a mole working for a foreign government is the worst nightmare of counterintelligence services. [citation needed] For example, James Angleton, director of counterintelligence for the CIA between 1954 and 1975, was reportedly obsessed with suspicions that the top levels of Western governments were riddled with long-term communist agents[1] and accused numerous politicians such as former U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, former Canadian Prime Ministers Lester Pearson and Pierre Trudeau, former British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and many members of Congress before he was removed in 1975. Fears of such moles in prominent positions in American life led to overreactions such as McCarthyism.[citation needed]

The Intercept Jefferson Morley January 1 2018, 8:15 a.m.

In December 1974, CIA Director William Colby fired Angleton after the New York Times revealed the then-unknown counterintelligence chief had overseen a massive program to spy on Americans involved in anti-war and black nationalist movements, a violation of the CIA's charter. A Senate investigation, headed by Sen. Frank Church, exposed a series of other abuses: assassination conspiracies, unauthorized mail opening, collaboration with human rights abusers, infiltration of news organizations, and the MKULTRA mind-control experiments to develop drugs for use in espionage.

Economic or industrial espionage commonly occurs in one of two ways. Firstly, a dissatisfied employee appropriates information to advance interests or to damage the company. Secondly, a competitor or foreign government seeks information to advance its own technological or financial interest.[7] “Moles”, or trusted insiders, are generally considered the best sources for economic or industrial espionage.[8] Historically known as a “patsy”, an insider can be induced, willingly or under duress, to provide information. A patsy may be initially asked to hand over inconsequential information and, once compromised by committing a crime, blackmailed into handing over more sensitive material.[9] Wikipedia

Industrial espionage, economic espionage, corporate spying or corporate espionage is a form of espionage conducted for commercial purposes instead of purely national security.[1]

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

While economic espionage is conducted or orchestrated by governments and is international in scope, industrial or corporate espionage is more often national and occurs between companies or corporations.[2]

The Internet

The rise of the internet and computer networks has expanded the range and detail of information available and the ease of access for the purpose of industrial espionage.[16] This type of operation is generally identified as state backed or sponsored, because the “access to personal, financial or analytic resources” identified exceed that which could be accessed by cybercriminals or individual hackers. Sensitive military or defense engineering or other industrial information may not have immediate monetary value to criminals, compared with, say, bank details. Analysis of cyberattacks suggests deep knowledge of networks, with targeted attacks, obtained by numerous individuals operating in a sustained organized way.[16]

Opportunities for sabotage

The rising use of the internet has also extended opportunities for industrial espionage with the aim of sabotage. In the early 2000s, it was noticed that energy companies were increasingly coming under attack from hackers. Energy power systems, doing jobs like monitoring power grids or water flow, once isolated from the other computer networks, were now being connected to the internet, leaving them more vulnerable, having historically few built-in security features.[17] The use of these methods of industrial espionage have increasingly become a concern for governments, due to potential attacks by terrorist groups or hostile foreign governments

Malware

One of the means of perpetrators conducting industrial espionage is by exploiting vulnerabilities in computer software. Malware and spyware as “a tool for industrial espionage”, in “transmitting digital copies of trade secrets, customer plans, future plans and contacts”. Newer forms of malware include devices which surreptitiously switch on mobile phones camera and recording devices. In attempts to tackle such attacks on their intellectual property, companies are increasingly keeping important information off network, leaving an “air gap”, with some companies building “Faraday cages” to shield from electromagnetic or cellphone transmissions.[18]

In Prison Psychology often in prisons one prisoner or a group of prisoners will try to “bring down” an inmate or person set for release out of jealously of that release, and wish that other prisoner with the better outcome to have no better an outcome than the others and can become the subject of false claims.

Those prisoners who fear ill fates for themselves such as long sentences for serious crimes those perpetrators near those with lesser allegations or who are going to be cleared and set to go free may already be or become the targets of jealous or angry prisoner others who will start a fight with the prison victim, the prisoners initiating the fight (“I was sitting in that chair, get out of it) blaming the fight victim to the guards, planting evidence for the guards to find, etc.,

This has been the chip on the shoulder resentments I encountered by a “FTP” (Fuck the Police) prosecutor and general public of a town injured in a long history of poverty and disappear now trying to take it out an a poor white man who has moved into the area.

The public perception is the non verbal acts have real meaning, that I am being commanded by them or taught by them of what I am normally doing, but appearances matter and I am supposed to fight their delusions by arguing with them, and their denials, in escalating street fights I am said to be the delusional because they said nothing and I can not prove what they were claiming by behavior only.

Part of Genetics For Justice scheme seems to be framing a white supremacist for victimizing an empathetic non white child victim.

It is easier on the ego to seek genomic treatments on this basis.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Great_Leap_Forward

The Great Leap Forward of the People's Republic of China (PRC) was an economic and social campaign by the Communist Party of China (CPC) from 1958 to 1962. Chairman Mao Zedong launched the campaign to transform the country from an agrarian economy into a communist society through the formation of people's communes. Mao decreed increased effort to multiply grain yields and industry should be brought to the countryside.

Local officials were fearful of Anti-Rightist Campaigns and competed to fulfill or over-fulfill quotas based on Mao's exaggerated claims. They collected "surpluses" that in fact did not exist, leaving farmers to starve. Higher officials did not dare to report the economic disaster caused by these policies, and national officials blamed bad weather for the decline in food output and took little or no action.

The Great Leap resulted in tens of millions of deaths.[1] A lower-end estimate is 18 million and upper estimates find that some 45 million people died.[2] About the same number of births were lost or postponed, making the Great Chinese Famine the largest in human history.[3]

Etiology is the study of causation, or origination. The word is derived from the Greek αἰτιολογία, aitiología, “giving a reason for”. More completely, etiology is the study of the causes, origins, or reasons behind the way that things are, or the way they function, or it can refer to the causes themselves. Wikipedia

Louis Pasteur ForMemRS (/ˈluːi pæˈstɜːr/, French: [lwi pastœʁ]; 27 December 1822 - 28 September 1895) was a French chemist and microbiologist renowned for his discoveries of the principles of vaccination, microbial fermentation, and pasteurization.

Louis Pasteur ForMemRS (/ˈluːi pæˈstɜːr/, French: [lwi pastœʁ]; 27 December 1822 - 28 September 1895) was a French chemist and microbiologist renowned for his discoveries of the principles of vaccination, microbial fermentation, and pasteurization. His research in chemistry led to remarkable breakthroughs in the understanding of the causes and preventions of diseases, which laid down the foundations of hygiene, public health and much of modern medicine. His works are credited to saving millions of lives through the developments of vaccines for rabies and anthrax. He is regarded as one of the founders of modern bacteriology and has been honoured as the “father of bacteriology” and as the “father of microbiology (together with Robert Koch, and the latter epithet also attributed to Antonie van Leeuwenhoek).

Pasteur was responsible for disproving the doctrine of spontaneous generation. Under the auspices of the French Academy of Sciences, his experiment demonstrated that in sterilized and sealed flasks, nothing ever developed; and, conversely, in sterilized but open flasks, microorganisms could grow. For this experiment, the academy awarded him the Alhumbert Prize carrying 2,500 francs in 1862.

Pasteur is also regarded as one of the fathers of germ theory of diseases, which was a minor medical concept at the time. His many experiments showed that diseases could be prevented by killing or stopping germs, thereby directly supporting the germ theory and its application in clinical medicine. He is best known to the general public for his invention of the technique of treating milk and wine to stop bacterial contamination, a process now called pasteurization. Pasteur also made significant discoveries in chemistry, most notably on the molecular basis for the asymmetry of certain crystals and racemization. Early in his career, his investigation of tartaric acid resulted in the first resolution of what is now called optical isomers. His work led the way to the current understanding of a fundamental principle in the structure of organic compounds.

He was the director of the Pasteur Institute, established in 1887, until his death, and his body was interred in a vault beneath the institute. Although Pasteur made groundbreaking experiments, his reputation became associated with various controversies. Historical reassessment of his notebook revealed that he practiced deception to overcome his rivals.

The term “penicillin” is defined as the natural product of Penicillium mould with antimicrobial activity.[6] It was coined by Alexander Fleming on 7 March 1929 when he discovered the antibacterial property of Penicillium rubens. Fleming explained in his 1929 paper in the British Journal of Experimental Pathology that “to avoid the repetition of the rather cumbersome phrase ‘Mould broth filtrate’, the name ‘penicillin’ will be used.”[8] The name thus refers to the scientific name of the mould, as described by Fleming in his Nobel lecture in 1945:

> I have been frequently asked why I invented the name “Penicillin”. I simply followed perfectly orthodox lines and coined a word which explained that the substance penicillin was derived from a plant of the genus Penicillium just as many years ago the word “Digitalin” was invented for a substance derived from the plant Digitalis.

Feudalism is a Disease. These are the sayings of Victor Hugo.

May the Odds be in Cossettes Favor.

Les Misérables has several shades of meaning in French. Translators say that Victor Hugo's novel, published in 1862, could just as well be titled The Miserable Ones, The Outcasts, The Wretched Poor, The Victims [of Royalty] or The Dispossessed [by exploitive royals] .

Cosette is a fictional character in the 1862 novel Les Misérables by Victor Hugo and in the many adaptations of the story for stage, film, and television. Her birth name, Euphrasie, is only mentioned briefly.

As the orphaned child of an unmarried mother deserted by her father, Hugo never gives her a surname. In the course of the novel, she is mistakenly identified as Ursule, Lark, or Mademoiselle Lanoire.

She is the daughter of Fantine, who leaves her to be looked after by the Thénardiers, who exploit and victimise her. Rescued by Jean Valjean, who raises Cosette as if she were his own, she grows up in a convent school. She falls in love with Marius Pontmercy, a young lawyer. Valjean's struggle to protect her while disguising his past drives much of the plot until he recognizes "that this child had a right to know life before renouncing it"[1]-and must yield to her romantic attachment to Marius.

The House of Bonaparte

The House of Bonaparte (originally Buonaparte) is a former imperial and royal European dynasty of Italian (Genoese) origin. It was founded in 1804 by Napoleon I, the son of Genoese nobleman Carlo Buonaparte and Letizia (née Ramolino).

Napoleon was a French military leader who rose to power during the French Revolution and who, in 1804, transformed the First French Republic into the First French Empire, five years after his coup d'état of November 1799 (18 Brumaire). Napoleon and the Grande Armée had to fight against every major European power and dominated continental Europe through a series of military victories during the Napoleonic Wars.

Lucien Napoleon returned to France following his brother's abdication in April 1814. Lucien continued to Rome, where on 18 August 1814 he was made Prince of Canino, Count of Apollino, and Lord of Nemori by Pope Pius VII and Prince of Musignano on 21 March 1824 by Pope Leo XII.

Castle on a cloud - Les Miserables

There is a castle on a cloud
I like to go there in my sleep
Aren't any floors for me to sweep
Not in my castle on a cloud
There is a lady all in white
Holds me and sings a lullaby
She's nice to see and she's soft to touch
She says Cosette I love you very much
I know a place where no ones lost
I know a place where no one cries
Crying at all is not allowed
Not in my castle on a cloud

["Castle On A Cloud" (performed by Isabelle Allen) (from "Les Misérables: Highlights From The Motion Picture Soundtrack" soundtrack)

There is a castle on a cloud
I like to go there in my sleep
Aren't any floors for me to sweep
Not in my castle on a cloud

[Verse from original Broadway Cast recording:]

(There is a room that's full of toys
There are a hundred boys and girls
Nobody shouts or talks too loud
Not in my castle on a cloud)

There is a lady all in white
Holds me and sings a lullaby
She's nice to see and she's soft to touch

[YOUNG COSETTE]

There is a castle on a cloud,
I like to go there in my sleep,
Aren't any floors for me to sweep,
Not in my castle on a cloud.
There is a room that's full of toys,
There are a hundred boys and girls,
Nobody shouts or talks too loud,
Not in my castle on a cloud.
There is a lady all in white,
Holds me and sings a lullaby,
She's nice to see and she's soft to touch,
She says "Cosette, I love you very much."
I know a place where no one's lost,
I know a place where no one cries,
Crying at all is not allowed,
Not in my castle on a cloud.
Oh help! I think I hear them now, and I'm nowhere near finished sweeping and scrubbing and polishing the floor.
Oh, it's her! It's Madame!

[MME. THENARDIER]

Now look who's here
The little madam herself!
Pretending once again she's been `so awfully good,'
Better not let me catch you slacking
Better not catch my eye!
Ten rotten francs your mother sends me
What is that going to buy?
Now take that pail
My little `Mademoiselle'
And go and draw some water from the well!
We should never have taken you in in the first place
How stupid the things that we do!
Like mother like daughter, the scum of the street.
Eponine, come my dear, Eponine, let me see you
You look very well in that new little blue hat
There's some little girls who know how to behave
And they know what to wear
And I'm saying thank heaven for that.
Still there Cosette?
Your tears will do you no good!
I told you fetch some water from the well in the wood!

She says, "Cosette, I love you very much"

I know a place where no one's lost
I know a place where no one cries

[YOUNG COSETTE]
Please do not send me out alone
Not in the darkness on my own!
[MME. THENARDIER]
Now shut your face, or I'll forget to be nice!
You heard me ask for something,
And I never ask twice!
[Young Eponine pushes Cosette out. Thénardier says good night to his daughter as the inn fills up for the evening]

Victor Hugo retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Victor Hugo Victor-Marie Hugo (French: [viktɔʁ maʁi yɡo] (About this soundlisten); 26 February 1802 - 22 May 1885) was a French poet, novelist, essayist, playwright, and dramatist of the Romantic movement. During a literary career that spanned more than sixty years, he wrote abundantly in an exceptional variety of genres: lyrics, satires, epics, philosophical poems, epigrams, novels, history, critical essays, political speeches, funeral orations, diaries, letters public and private, as well as dramas in verse and prose.

Hugo is considered to be one of the greatest and best-known French writers. Outside France, his most famous works are the novels Les Misérables, 1862, and The Hunchback of Notre-Dame (French: Notre-Dame de Paris), 1831. In France, Hugo is renowned for his poetry collections, such as Les Contemplations (The Contemplations) and La Légende des siècles (The Legend of the Ages). Hugo was at the forefront of the Romantic literary movement with his play Cromwell and drama Hernani. Many of his works have inspired music, both during his lifetime and after his death, including the musicals Les Misérables and Notre-Dame de Paris. He produced more than 4,000 drawings in his lifetime, and campaigned for social causes such as the abolition of capital punishment.

Though a committed royalist when he was young, Hugo's views changed as the decades passed, and he became a passionate supporter of republicanism serving in politics as both deputy and senator. His work touched upon most of the political and social issues and the artistic trends of his time. His opposition to absolutism and his colossal literary achievement established him as a national hero. He was honoured by interment in the Panthéon.

Hugo's religious views changed radically over the course of his life. In his youth and under the influence of his mother, he identified as a Catholic and professed respect for Church hierarchy and authority. From there he became a non-practising Catholic and increasingly expressed anti-Catholic and anti-clerical views. He frequented spiritism during his exile (where he participated also in many séances conducted by Madame Delphine de Girardin)[38][39] and in later years settled into a rationalist deism similar to that espoused by Voltaire. A census-taker asked Hugo in 1872 if he was a Catholic, and he replied, "No. A Freethinker".

After 1872, Hugo never lost his antipathy towards the Catholic Church. He felt the Church was indifferent to the plight of the working class under the oppression of the monarchy. Perhaps he also was upset by the frequency with which his work appeared on the Church's list of banned books. Hugo counted 740 attacks on Les Misérables in the Catholic press.[41] When Hugo's sons Charles and François-Victor died, he insisted that they be buried without a crucifix or priest. In his will, he made the same stipulation about his own death and funeral.

Yet he believed in life after death and prayed every single morning and night, convinced as he wrote in The Man Who Laughs that "Thanksgiving has wings and flies to its right destination. Your prayer knows its way better than you do".

Hugo's rationalism can be found in poems such as Torquemada (1869, about religious fanaticism), The Pope (1878, anti-clerical), Religions and Religion (1880, denying the usefulness of churches) and, published posthumously, The End of Satan and God (1886 and 1891 respectively, in which he represents Christianity as a griffin and rationalism as an angel). Vincent van Gogh ascribed the saying "Religions pass away, but God remains", actually by Jules Michelet, to Hugo.

Romanticism the school of philosophical artistry praticed by Victor Hugo also known as the Romantic era) was an artistic, literary, musical, and intellectual movement that originated in Europe towards the end of the 18th century, and in most areas was at its peak in the approximate period from 1800 to 1850. Romanticism was characterized by its emphasis on emotion and individualism as well as glorification of all the past and nature, preferring the medieval rather than the classical. It was partly a reaction to the Industrial Revolution,[1] the aristocratic social and political norms of the Age of Enlightenment, and the scientific rationalization of nature-all components of modernity.[2] It was embodied most strongly in the visual arts, music, and literature, but had a major impact on historiography,[3] education,[4] chess, social sciences, and the natural sciences.[5] It had a significant and complex effect on politics, with romantic thinkers influencing liberalism, radicalism, conservatism, and nationalism.[6]

The movement emphasized intense emotion as an authentic source of aesthetic experience, placing new emphasis on such emotions as fear, horror and terror, and awe - especially that experienced in confronting the new aesthetic categories of the sublime and beauty of nature.[7][8] It elevated folk art and ancient custom to something noble, but also spontaneity as a desirable characteristic (as in the musical impromptu). In contrast to the Rationalism and Classicism of the Enlightenment, Romanticism revived medievalism[9] and elements of art and narrative perceived as authentically medieval in an attempt to escape population growth, early urban sprawl, and industrialism.

Although the movement was rooted in the German Sturm und Drang movement, which preferred intuition and emotion to the rationalism of the Enlightenment,[10] the events and ideologies of the French Revolution were also proximate factors since many of the early Romantics were cultural revolutionaries and sympathetic to the revolution.

The story arcs of the characters of Les Meserables are interesting in the concept of Class Mobility.

Though Hugo is a fading faith Catholic he writes of Prisoner 26401 Jean Valijean who upon release from long term hard labor imprisonment of forced French Fleet and Merchant Marine port working struggles in poverty only saved by the Bishop of Digne, France, the Bishop offering a meal, wine, and prayer, and a night of rest to the near death ex prisoner branded as too dangerous for civil life.

When Jean steals the sivler from the dining set the Bishop encourages it and Jean is lifted out of poverty to become a leading and ethical business man of France, hiding his prison brand of shame.

This class mobility is offset by the story of one of his female employees, a single mother, who in Jeans textile plant has to whore herself sexually and sell her hair and teeth on the prosthetic market finally dyeing of infection.

If there is a core story line in Les Meserables another is missed. In the complex La Encyclopedia engineering marvel of Paris the revolution of the Scientific Revolution and Modernity are coming into full bloom and the economic boom post agricultural city life promise, more than merely a Mill on the Hill.

It is in this life his new charge, Cosset, grows into a mature woman and begins to mix socially with the French aristocracy.

While the Church is inflexible and insensitive at times to the suffering of the French, the State is worse, mired in Genetic Legacies and enforcing perpetual poverty.

The fight of the revolution is holding down the French people as the economic miracles of Modernity unfold in Paris.

This strikes a cord with me and reminds me of my father and mother talking up the GI Bill and how much educational opportunities in the military and after the military contributed to the boob economies of the 1950s.

In fact I think the issue of the survival of Feudalism in Modernity is at the core of this book and the story which infolds in it, both on micro and macro levels.

For the Fantine strategy to work the Social Justice workers representing the victim female must also represent Squalid Filth Ed and arbitrate it all.

To make it more juicy Agent Provocateur Ed, the skid row mercenary pretending to be Ed will be caught with child porn, Ed's dna, Eds clothes or cell phone, by a Sex Worker who was sent on a mission of mercy to Skid Row Ed.

These high power espionage agencies have radiologically attacked me while in mental health custody, incited other prisoners to assault me, etc., and I fear even being in a Department of Motor Vehicles in the US because of their complicity in identity theft and actual assaults on those, like other, State properties where the State backed acts occur.

The Huguenots are believed to have been concentrated among the population in the southern and western parts of the Kingdom of France. As Huguenots gained influence and more openly displayed their faith, Catholic hostility grew. A series of religious conflicts followed, known as the French Wars of Religion, fought intermittently from 1562 to 1598. The Huguenots were led by Jeanne d'Albret; her son, the future Henry IV (who would later convert to Catholicism in order to become king); and the princes of Condé. The wars ended with the Edict of Nantes, which granted the Huguenots substantial religious, political and military autonomy.

Huguenot rebellions in the 1620s resulted in the abolition of their political and military privileges. They retained the religious provisions of the Edict of Nantes until the rule of Louis XIV, who gradually increased persecution of Protestantism until he issued the Edict of Fontainebleau (1685). This ended legal recognition of Protestantism in France and the Huguenots were forced to either convert to Catholicism (possibly as Nicodemites) or flee as refugees; they were subject to violent dragonnades. Louis XIV claimed that the French Huguenot population was reduced from about 900,000 or 800,000 adherents to just 1,000 or 1,500. He exaggerated the decline, but the dragonnades were devastating for the French Protestant community.

The remaining Huguenots faced continued persecution under Louis XV. By the time of his death in 1774, Calvinism had been nearly eliminated from France. Persecution of Protestants officially ended with the Edict of Versailles, signed by Louis XVI in 1787. Two years later, with the Revolutionary Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen of 1789, Protestants gained equal rights as citizens.[1] is a person who commits or who acts to entice another person to commit an illegal or rash act or falsely implicate them in partaking in an illegal act, so as to ruin the reputation or entice legal action against the target or a group they belong to. They may target any group, such as a peaceful protest or demonstration, a union, a political party or a company.

An agent provocateur (French for “inciting agent”)

In the case of me a black committing an offense against white females to introduce a need for the protection of females in the gym, apartment, elsewhere, from seeming attacks from Ed.

Prevention of infiltration by agents provocateurs is part of the duty of demonstration marshals, also called stewards, deployed by organizers of large or controversial assemblies.[1] [2]

History and etymology

While the practice is worldwide anciently, modern undercover operations were scaled up in France by Eugène François Vidocq in the early 19th century, and already included use of unlawful tactics against opponents. Later in the same century the police targets included union activists who came to fear plain-clothed policemen (agent de police in French). Hence, the French agent provocateur spread, just as is, to English and German. In accordance with French grammar, the plural form of the term is agents provocateurs.

Common usage

An agent provocateur may be a police officer or a secret agent of police who encourages suspects to carry out a crime under conditions where evidence can be obtained; or who suggests the commission of a crime to another, in hopes they will go along with the suggestion and be convicted of the crime.

A political organization or government may use agents provocateurs against political opponents. The provocateurs try to incite the opponent to do counter-productive or ineffective acts to foster public disdain or provide a pretext for aggression against the opponent.

> Historically, labor spies, hired to infiltrate, monitor, disrupt, or subvert union activities, have used agent provocateur tactics.
> Agent provocateur activities raise ethical and legal issues. In common law jurisdictions, the legal concept of entrapment may apply if the main impetus for the crime was the provocateur.

The Victim of the Copl or Doppelgänger, will bully me by several means. Though victimized by the Copl she will vaguely cheap shot me, also allow the Copo who "caught me" to be punished for my DNA secretly.

The scheme permits and even incentives cops to victimize women, using the identity of a White Supremacist, disparage the white supremacist, and be punished by a Dominatrix in his place.

Alternative Justice
Conspirators	Victim
Female victim/ Honey Trap in front of me and cop behind me	Me vaguely bullied, not the culprits and me and my property the real abusive shakedown victim
Female victim shown photo by cop
Female victim vaguely takes it out on me in public with attitude towards me, no articulated specifics
Cop is punished as me by leggy HoneyPot, signs away my DNA as though me among adult entertainers
The victims are sympathetic	the white guy stigmatized and ostracized

The operation will frame me as unfit for normal life, and ostracized from it, but on flimsy excuses of those who don't want to be around me, not protective of my rights.

I become the cover story of others acts, and their vague assaults upon me, vigilantist, is the persecution Gangstalk the "poison pill" acts of others is tied to me, my property, or rights

> Heuristic Expert Bullying (computer talk)
> A heuristic technique (/hjʊəˈrɪstɪk/; Ancient Greek: εὑρίσκω, "find" or "discover"), or a heuristic, is any approach to problem solving or self-discovery that employs a practical method that is not guaranteed to be optimal, perfect or rational, but which is nevertheless sufficient for reaching an immediate, short-term goal.

Short or long term True goal is Conspiracy Againt My Rights and doing so outside of Due Process which would have protected my rights.

The Excuse under the Pretext, is the temporary protection of the public or myself.

If someone thought to be a pervert or peeper is in the area and you choose not to do the rational thing in the prescribed way (make the case against him in a formal face to face, face the accuser in court way) then do something else instead, seeming a short term solution, warn others with some rumor mongering.

In fact Heuristic Expert Bullying, bullying acts by anonymous people, containing no explicit accusation towards me, anonymously done, by people who refuse to identify themselves to me.

Hide their accusation from me

Hide their identity from me, thus hide their probable motives from me (but use Stalk techniques, hyper-intimacy, and death threats other threats to their dogs, cell phone other parties, while right next to me.

They protect their accountability to me by using vague non explicit stalk while denying me they are in any way connected to me or anything about me as they stalk me never the less.

In the 45 year course of my life Copl or Doppelgänger, especially Doppelgänger, tend to be sex offender minded or recruited, very dirty scum with a history of sex offenses, and recruited but the State and backed by police explicitly and it seems in a Top Secret program in which the US DOD manufactures child porn, often with their own children, and using churches making victims of their own children, though this happens with State backing in jail and psych ward facilities, and for decades.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Heuristic

The study of heuristics in human decision-making was developed in the 1970s and 80s by psychologists Amos Tversky and Daniel Kahneman,[8] although the concept was originally introduced by Nobel laureate Herbert A. Simon. Simon's original, primary object of research was problem solving which showed that we operate within what he calls bounded rationality. He coined the term "satisficing", which denotes the situation where people seek solutions or accept choices or judgments that are "good enough" for their purposes, but which could be optimized.[9]

Rudolf Groner analyzed the history of heuristics from its roots in ancient Greece up to contemporary work in cognitive psychology and artificial intelligence,[10] and proposed a cognitive style "heuristic versus algorithmic thinking" which can be assessed by means of a validated questionnaire.[11]

Gerd Gigerenzer and his research group argued that models of heuristics need to be formal to allow for predictions of behavior that can be tested.[12] They study the fast and frugal heuristics in the "adaptive toolbox" of individuals or institutions, and the ecological rationality of these heuristics, that is, the conditions under which a given heuristic is likely to be successful.[13]

The descriptive study of the "adaptive toolbox" is done by observation and experiment, the prescriptive study of the ecological rationality requires mathematical analysis and computer simulation. Heuristics - such as the recognition heuristic, the take-the-best heuristic, and fast-and-frugal trees - have been shown to be effective in predictions, particularly in situations of uncertainty. It is often said that heuristics trade accuracy for effort but this is only the case in situations of risk. Risk refers to situations where all possible actions, their outcomes and probabilities are known. In the absence of this information, that is under uncertainty, heuristics can achieve higher accuracy with lower effort.[14]

This finding, known as a less-is-more effect, would not have been found without formal models. The valuable insight of this program is that heuristics are effective not despite of their simplicity - but because of it. Furthermore, Gigerenzer and Wolfgang Gaissmaier found that both individuals and organizations rely on heuristics in an adaptive way.[15]

Heuristics, through greater refinement and research, have begun to be applied to other theories, or be explained by them. For example: the cognitive-experiential self-theory (CEST) also is an adaptive view of heuristic processing. CEST breaks down two systems that process information. At some times, roughly speaking, individuals consider issues rationally, systematically, logically, deliberately, effortfully, and verbally. On other occasions, individuals consider issues intuitively, effortlessly, globally, and emotionally.[16] From this perspective, heuristics are part of a larger experiential processing system that is often adaptive, but vulnerable to error in situations that require logical analysis.[17]

In short, keep Ed away from females and normal life. It would be real trouble again for (the Doppelgänger of) him to be around females.

But if there was an acceptable substitute for Edward Paul Donegan in the community that should not risk Edward Paul Donegan use that person.

DopL

Logically

Dop Cop or Doppelgänger and Cop
	Witting or Unwitting Female Victim
Me

The Doppelgänger or Cop catches themselves with a camera alleged to me, and because it seems I took the photo, they rather than I should be punished for it, owing the female victim DNA

To sell this I am verbally or otherwise assaulted at the scene by cheap shot innuendo, the cop roaring their engine and skidding their car or motorcycle, etc.., to “intimidate me harming the female victim.”

Never any explicit spoken allegation, etc., against me, but that same Copl or Doppelgänger will skid their car or motorcycle, or call me a peice of shit, or tell someone else to do so, etc., but never and ACCUSATION regarding me.

Mostly the COple or Doppelgänger are non whites or gays, will say they work for ANti White Hate or Trinistas Nasimbari (ARC of Nova) or something like that, and also say they “are going to have my baby” as they get caught, as me, with peeping photos of the witting or unwitting victim.

With Tx’s evidence in hand FAV is a pedophile, etc., Tx and Rx will Gangstalk FAV together. Rx could be a cop, a domina, etc., Tx a homeless person, the retarded, etc., Social Justice IN, White Male victim OUT.

I will later call Tx Mr Hyde, and myself Dr Jekyll. Mr Hyde and Dr Jekyll are not the same but fused to be.

In Practice

Dop Cop or Dop and Cop with zoom camera
	Me with normal smartphone	Witting or Unwitting Female Victim	Normal non exploitative photographic interest, aka museum placard information

Roaring engines fuse the Dop with me since the engine noise is near me

Dop Cop or Dop and Cop with zoom camera and skidding muscle car
	Me with normal smart-phone	Witting or Unwitting Femal Victim

I am told there is nothing, nothing going on, and there is no explanation of normal sounds of engines near me, there is nothing going on.

Shell Game

Using confusion of who has the pea, which shell, is the shell game and handle by shell corporations who confuse who did what and which accounts or apartments or hotel rooms are which or who is running what kind of operation, aka a retardation firm or a money laundering operation.

Cognizance OF Guilt and Criminal Intent

For decades several different things have been happening.

- Element A, oddly out of place females, etc.,
- Doppelgänger or con artists either having a masturbation disorder, or by activity towards me, planting an impression I do

Element A occurs where I am. Element B where the Doppelgänger, the zoom photographer is confronted, happens one apartment over from me, in a similar apartment, different floor, etc.,

Element A
Wide angle	My Eyesight Field of View
	Subject of photo or my normal activities normal life view
Zoom/Scam Photographer →	Female Photo Victim
Me using my camera	Me with natural eyesight ↑
Scam Artists	Does Misrepresentation of me Does represent alleged victim

I could not figure out why teens or tots where in my field of view near me. I now call this element “A” of a con artist move.

I also could not figure out why people either masturbated themselves dressed as me or pushed mops around me.

This latter part sets up Element B of the con. The Doppelgänger of me uses the victim of Element A as “porn” and thus “owes” DNA.

Only after taking a cross country trip on my motorcycle and taking pictures did I FINALLY find the zoom photographer using my cheap cameras, though cheap, had wider field of view than my natural eyesight.

As I confronted the zoom photographers though they attack me with death threats, seemingly, according to them, for photographing the female victims. In reality the planted the victims as it is the ZOOM photographers hiding their zoom photography.

Sexual Abuse

The central element of the racket is tied to sexual abuse and sexual ostracism of me at the same time undisclosed parties of great clout have some undisclosed in my reproductivity.

I am first exposed to disgusting imagery then assaulted in every way for it as if I was to blame.

US Marshalls	Me normal day
• Photos of woman’s buttocks, especially teens and tots, on peep camera which is theirs or stolen from me but behind my back will be alleged to me drawing cliques to secretly black ball me • The Marshall or recruited asset of the Marshall or police will seek to be “punished” for the photograph, and my DNA	• Assaults on my property when starting self relief to adult porn, tots after that outside by window disgusting me • Tots and teens in public attempting to create the appearance of me having an interest in them or them as my paid models. I can not stop them or those who placed them near me from being near me • Normal acts like normal photography or watching news stigmatized by shouting into apartment from outside, engine roars, etc.,

will be assessed as the correct penalty for the anti social buttocks photographing, activity which a white supremacist is framed-up as having done but the law enforcement did • The female seeking the credibility and ethics of the law enforcement will leave me in the cold and accept the rights to my DNA from the law enforcement perpetrator of me • The alleged female victim of the photograph will assault me as a “bear” or other abusiveness though they created the proximity and photo if anything were out of the ordinary, was not my doing. • Marshalls or others will roar engines and create sound and fury a perp is in the area and protect others, behind my back from me, and roar engines stigmatizing my normal conduct as if it ties me to abnormal conduct.	• In affect sound and fury to my normal acts with external engine roars as thought his ties me to the Marshalls acts. The Marshalls do not catch themselves for the guilt, they only roar engines at me stigmatizing normalcy and even assaulting during normal sexual relief in my own apartment, and engine roaring to normal non eroticism in my apartment accusing me eroticism the normal anti socially and addictive, not true about me. Manufacturing the allegation by treating what are non symptoms publicly.

All of this is sexually abusive to me. Planting vulnerable females near me, eroticized, disgusting to me and others. Using their, not my, peeping photos of those females to criminally harass my access to adult women. Sexually stigmatizing my non erotic acts by sound and fury to try and humiliate me with public assaults on me normal days in public.

Religious or Other Abuse

The medical consequences of this sexual abuse has been harassed and unusable gym conditions leading to untreated terminal disease.

It appear religious “victims” are making false claims upon me, aggrandizing their churches or causes and attempting to sexually humiliate me on a falsified factual theory of disgusting sexuality in me.

Sea Men

Their pornography, female victims, my photography

When I photo I tend to ask. I choose better subjects than exploited or vulnerable, have older women tastes, and don’t need to engage in fraud or other acts to meet my needs.

The whole point of all these books I have researched and written is why is there a Doppelgänger of me, why is he subject to blackmail, and what is it with my DNA they are secretly interested in?

Sound and Fury of roar of engines seems to create a cloud of suspicion on my normal clear text acts as they covertly engage in antisocial acts, assert me in the vicinity to others, ask others to blackball me in favor of them.

Roaring Engines, anonymous over-taching engines, surround, subsume, My Normal Acts into a per in the area, btw NOT ME

Cypher-text anonymous undisclosed to me	Clear Text in the open

A critical point in this is that the Doppelgänger deny the acts to me. They are in a money laundering ring, in my identity, as morally superior to me as they allege, they, rather than I, will be punished for my DNA due the victim. They will be punished by an adult entertainer, but hide that from me, and hide hey paid with my dna.

Roles

- 1 Me in clear text with only clear text meaning and only clear text simple poverty limited transactions books.
- 2B The Operators of a Second Set Of Books using Doppelgangers (not me) in human trafficking and adult entertainers at set locations to be confused with my locations, which sometimes I can catch the activity and sometimes I cannot.
- 2A Shills who are in the VPN who have the code words and make plans with other shills who are also in my proximity (or unauthorized access to my apartment) who will traffic in my DNA as
- 2A An alleged provider of a call girl to my apartment (but really to a set location I know nothing about.)
- The the 2A Doppelgänger of Me who will confess as though me to anti social peeping conduct and pay with my DNA as requested by a Domina or other

- 2A A clerk or cashier who will attempt to fuse 1 economic authorized transactions with activity not in explicit text or meaning withe me, and if were, or even intoned, I disavow. The fusion of what I am aware of 1, and what I do not approve of or know about or authorize, the second set of books transactions by impersonators and money launderers.

- FV_{WU} A victim of photography, the photographs will later be attributed to me. Could also be someone who jumps in front of me or places themselves or herself in my path and verbally assaults me as “bear,” etc.,

- 2A U.S. Marshall Most likely U.S. Marhsalls roaring engines, parking vehicles, etc., creating the intonation that a predator is in the area and I (not them) is/are the predator(s.) Probably justifying their acts on the gains which they wish from wrongful asset seizures, lurid activities, and excuses about the need to take the image of a White Nationalist down a rung.

- 2A retardation Coaches who will make gestures of statements in public part of the VPN, the retardation coaching of a retarded Doppelgänger of me, though fuses with my daily intelligent life. Sets up retardation VPN operators to control, money launder, my IQ and other genes in the racket

ad quod damnum

> (according to the harm) the penalty will be assessed.

If it was Edward Donegan who made a female his pornography by photographing her and masturbating to it, it stands to reason HIS DNA should “pay the bill” to his pornography he cant control himself over, female buttocks.

Lying in wait

> In criminal law, lying in wait refers to the act of hiding and waiting for an individual with the intent to kill that person or inflict serious bodily harm to that person.[1] Because lying in wait involves premeditation, some jurisdictions have established that lying in wait is considered an aggravating circumstance that allows for the imposition of harsher criminal penalties.

Shills are premeditating false claims to my genome and but for their prediction in my path and placing themselves there with Criminal Intent they would not be there laying in wait and photographed by their friends.

Unjust Enrichment

> What is the doctrine of unjust enrichment?

Consciousness of Guilt

> Law and Legal Definition. Evidentiary rules allow a prosecutor to introduce testimony that tends to show that the defendants actions prove he knew he was guilty (at least of something). This is sometimes referred to as “consciousness of guilt”.

The term “guilt” connotes many different phenomena: theology, philosophy, ethics, psychology and law all contributed to the variety of connotations. It is not my purpose, nor do I pretend to engage in etymological or anthropological research into the evolution of the various aspects and concepts of guilt: I shall try to describe and distinguish only those phenomena of guilt of which judges may have to take cognizance for the proper exercise of punitive discretion.

First and foremost, there is “guilt” within the meaning of criminal law. On the one hand, guilt is spoken of as denoting the mental element in crime: the guilt of one who committed a criminal act actus reus - presupposes the criminal mind mens rea; or, an actus reus is transformed into guilt by the supervenience of mens rea. Whether the mens rea is intent or wilfulness, or only negligence or recklessness, does not affect the incidence of guilt, but may well raise the question of degree of guilt. On the other hand, “guilt” is the result of a verdict to the effect that the accused is criminally responsible (“finding of guilty”), and it is in this sense that the accused may “plead guilty”.

Criminal Intent in fraud is to create fraudelent pretext or pretense to achieve unjust enrichment through fraud.

The desire to achieve a state, to reach the stat of unjust enrichment via fraud is Mens Rea, the rational plan to achieve, to carry out, the unjust gain and is the formation of Conspiracy.

The acts carried out in the Conspiracy is Actus Reas, the reasoned acts which though wrongful will achieve the unjust reslut planned under Mens Rea.

It considered evidentiaraliy probative that the criminals in Conspiracy realized the Actus Rea involved the commission of unjust or fraudulent acts and to preserve the acts from scrutiny hid the acts from scrutiny.

It is true people acting justly will sometimes act in error and without criminal intest. Those whose additional action preserve rather than reverse or stop the error give evidence their Fraudulent acts of deciet were the display of Criminal Intent, often not otherwise exposed to those outside the process of the criminal's mind, but are displayed by the criminals actions as the best explanation of the criminals actions.

My Theory of 40 or so years of Conspiracy against My Own and Mother's Rights

Etiology, a need existed for the Gottlieb Deep State to justify claims to me DNA through fraud since it was never authorized for Illuminati family experiments.

Legend, the creation of the fraudulent appearance I have anti social and destructive sexual interests which I am humiliated over and must pay blackmail debts because of.

That this alleged humiliating and wrongful sexuality supposed to be my own created the stigma the claims against me are filed under.

That A racket benefiting those in need, the criminals, help the racket at their unjust enrichment rather the defense of me.

That this stigmatization of me Breaks My White Eggs and creates a Brown Egg Omelet.

And that this is MKULTRA Birtherism from the DIA, CIA, DOD, CIA, Secret Service, NASA, the Illuminati, and others.

That a role I call 2A carries this out.

Those operating on behalf of 2B are 2A.

Operatives 2A make statement or acts towards me I receive (Rx) creating a circuit I have disgusting sexuality.

Operatives 2A take over my identity and as me Tx, transmit, the that defamatory information about me I am also being bombed with inbound by 2B Rx.

Over time, much time, I have proven Tx, what he does, who he confesses to, including "Mistress Rozz"

It is Pizzagate. A Code Word, in a pizzashop is spoken aloud. Seemingly tied to a clear text purchase of Rx, Tx , a Doppelgänger, takes off to confess as Rx to what Rx, me, would not confess to and is not true.

And in the forged confession of Tx, a defaming claim about Rx. But it was all Tx all along, the preTxT for false claims and illegal acts.

Within this VPN corrupt cops and their prison recruits function as both the victimize of women and the retarded person confessing. The confession is btw to a Dominatrix interested in helping charities. They will allege the evidence they plant or fake as tied to real Edward Paul Donegan is his interest in tots, or exploitation. The opposite is true, but they sell the defamation of me after the fact by roaring muscle cars around me, making me appear the culprit of their acts. Because they takeover my identity in stores in a ring I am not connected to it took years to prove this. I was arrested and committed numerous times reporting the cops Doppling me.

Assault of me, inexplicable from my perspective, have been concomitant with the perverse acts and confessions of the person away from my presence (at what I call Element b) of peeping or exploitation of vulnerable.

Element A is what I call the actual perp, police backed, using high power photography to take pictures of females near me, though me closer and with a smart phone.

Row Two, 2, claims I am in their "kinder garden" being run alleging I am mentally and sexually retarded but really envious of who I am and by claiming my biological and intellectual property and aesthetics using it to bolster their own in redistributing from me to them, doing so when their Mr. Hydes dresses as me harm their others and make claims against my identity.

The racket uses an impersonator of me to confess to what I have no interest in, peeping tom photos of females; then, the impersonator of me who DID the scumbag deed owes DNA to be donated to a retardation firm who claims the right to assign custom genes to others creating designer babies.

Outlandish and ahead of statutes on designer babies, but having enough clout to avoid racketeering charges of design babies genes reselling.

In the scheme the impersonator, Mr Hyde, as me confesses to teen or tot honey traps to Victoria Secrets models who demand rights to DNA for the community and others.

RxTx Ploy

I receive a comment. Rx. A fraudster will make a statement towards me which creates the Legend the crime ring needs to be true. For instance a woman will say to me “I am sorry.” Her cover story is she is blocking my shopping cart which she just stepped into the path of but she will before the public claim an alternate meaning that it is not advantageous for women to be near me.

A Doppelgänger of me makes a statement. Tx. The Doppelgänger is obsessed with women, especially their buttocks, and can not stand to be in their presence without a bipolar fit of trying to steal the soul of women’s buttocks with the use of a camera. Caught with the “pornography” of Buttphelia on the Dopple’s smart phone, the Doppelgänger owes his dna as fitting punishment for the anti social photographing of buttocks.

Chemia Fury Alchemia Ploy

Annoying and furious sounds towards me take my Chemia, smart phone, metal shopping cart, and with an annoying noise, it as alchemia now a camera.

One of perhaps one thousand examples. I hold my smart phone up with the UBER recognition color scheme and the driver responds back in kind.

Meanwhile tots run in front of the moving cab who is looking 7 feet above me shoes at the screen on my smart phone.

A bystander states that is a solar panel I am holding.

No it is not a solar panel. When I am near my solar panel for my solar lights motorcycles roar their engines. THat does not turn my solar panels into a peeping device.

Hyperspacig Ploy

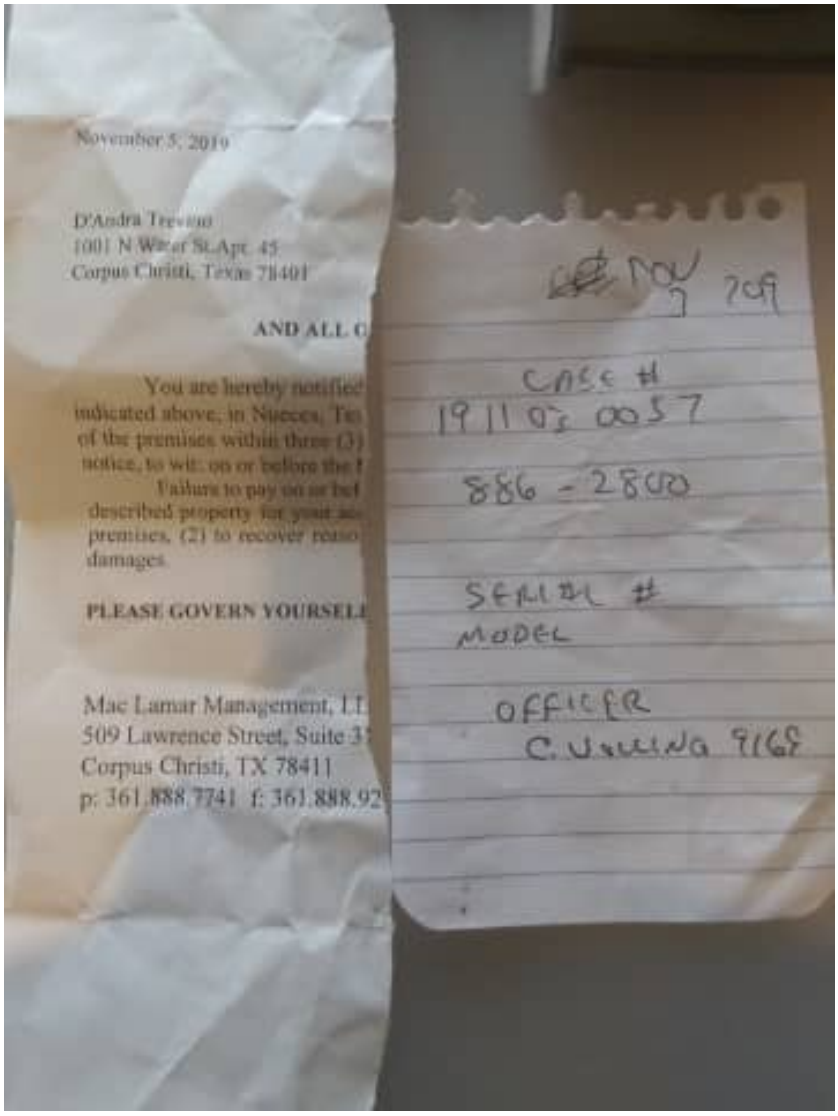
With the public appearances now I am an an antisocial buttocks photographer and the double entender made about some normal property in my possession, the public stage is now set for a double entender I will be somewhere else some other time, and though out of place in the conversation, vague enough that I am not privy to or able to refute some rendezvous which in fact, in a secret I am not included in, the Doppelgänger will be in and the Doppelgänger next to me does understand the vague “have a good time tonight” comment made to me during the day in the course of regular clear text communications I am using and only mean.

Summary affect of the three ploys

Little bits of out of place though vauge things are planted like women near me in odd ass flashing conduct, Doppelgänger dressed similar to me who are touching themselves or taking photos of females, and odd statements of later meet ups of people. At that rendezvous I am not privy to the Doppelgänger will conceded, rather than reject, accusations against me. In fact it was the Doppelgänger who in my identity was the photographer/masturbater, and the the Doppelgänger as me will confess to the act in activity behind my back with a blind conservator of me assisting, and that blind conservator who work for retarded children will accept from the Doppelgänger of me my high iq genes.

In-congruent with who I am and what I eroticize but what fits with "Legend" (manufacture of public appearances of me before the public.)

Their own police reports and suspicious treatment of me as a sex offender or despicable person will create the cloud of suspicion I was the perpetrator, and= Representative for the victim will without proper accounting or notice to me utilize my genome as compensation to the victim or even compensation to the victim who "allowed me the [jail] bait" which I never had any interest in.



This was in CCPD Case Number 1911030057 11/20/2019 and on the CDROM is an example. As I was about to watch The Kings Speech on my TV DVD a black male cased the apartment and broke in the next day stealing the TV and laptop. The police report denied the thief came in the hall doorway and failed to mention the black female in 45 was the likely perpetrator. The report implied my sliding door was open for some suspicious reason.

The real reason for the theft was to slow my history research on the topic I was writing my book about, the time when in the FOXP2 LONDON KE Family, London King Edward family, his younger brother Prince

Phillip of York replaced Prince Edward Prince of Windsor (despite a speech defect) as King because King Edward VIII as Prince Edward of Windsor has been “too close” to the Nazis, Hitler, Franz Kutcherea, Maria Kutschera included, and likely had out of wedlock children with Maria Kutchere when she went to London in 196 and in that year married Captain Von Trapp of Austria who fled to England with Maria Von Trapp (after his first England tied wife, Agatha Whitehead), the death of his first wife leaving him in need of Maria Kutschera as house nanny for his soon to be singing Kutchera family, singing pro Nazi anti England monarchy songs.

This was tied to the Windsors in 1925 withe the OSS creating clones through the world for long term Imperial rule in long term planning dating back to the 1800s but the speech defect had to be studied and worked out.

Mohammad Reza Pahlav retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Reza Pahlavi (Persian: رضا پهلوی; born 31 October 1960) is the eldest son of Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, the last Shah of Iran, and his wife Farah Diba. Prior to the Iranian Revolution in 1979, he was the crown prince and the last heir apparent to the throne of the Imperial State of Iran.

Shah of Iran Reign: 15 DECEMBER 1925 - 16 September 1941

His legacy remains controversial to this day. His defenders assert that he was an essential reunification modernization force for Iran (whose international prominence had sharply declined during Qajar rule), while his detractors assert that his reign was often despotic, with his failure to modernize Iran’s large peasant population eventually sowing the seeds for the Iranian Revolution nearly four decades later, which ended 2,500 years of Persian monarchy.[

Mohammad Reza Shah took the title Shahanshah (“King of Kings”)[2] on 26 October 1967. He was the second and last monarch of the House of Pahlavi. Mohammad Reza Shah Pahlavi held several other titles, including that of Aryamehr (“Light of the Aryans”) and Bozorg Arteshtaran (“Commander-in-Chief”). His dream of what he referred to as a “Great Civilization” (Persian: تمدن بزرگ, romanized: tama

The incident,the theft was falsified by the police and made it seem the computer and tv stolen were part of some peeping ring, but the real reason the TV and laptop were stolen was to prevent my home screening of The Kings Speech in the course of researching my book, this book.

That SJWs will blame me for their own acts will incite vigilantism towards me including gender hostile environments were the treatment of me, never substantiated to me, is as though my behaviors or lifestyle was exploitative of females.

Detla Hex is using blame to me of the incident to incite others to assault me, though in carefully crafted vigilantism, under a theory my secret is kept, and WHY they are assaulting me will not be spoken aloud. Thus I have no recourse in clearing my name, there is only groundless attacks upon me which seem to identify me as the perpetrator of unnamed activities.

As I state in another part of the book series these assailants of me, trying to stigmatize and humiliate me as an old disgusting “bear” stalking them is the insult they use to blame me for for what is not to blame.

They as fraudsters predicted my normal path and created an incident that was the fake claim against me while announcing out loud I caused the incident.

Nice to live in the United States, huh? It is not that I haven't tried to get out.

I am walking down the street in normal business as they assault me for what I have not done. There interested in me, not disgusted by me, but their cry of whiplash or bumping into me as though I bumped into them makes me seem vulnerable to their assets demands from me.

The more I am corralled into the SJW clientel living the more SJW beneficiaries can mount claims against me and "warn the (outside) world" about me, keeping me under controlled circumstances I call in South TExas Federal District Court Kidnap by Enveigal.

In retrospect this goes back to probably about 2003 or so except I did not recognize it as such. While walking to the San Francisco Public Library on Market Street downtown a woman from NA/AA more or less ass flashed me and I remember making a SFS 49ers center joke. I did not recognize even who she was until she had jumped in front of me and bent over and then I had thought "oh yeah the woman from NA. I recognize her now." And I told her that joking about it. She had a sort of globular ass.

Back then I did not get that for years, decades to follow, that would be a bizarre inexplicable pattern. Later I would learn both the ass fetishism and teens and tots were a Shill operation. They weren't alleging I was following them down the street they were alleging I was following their asses down the street. In 2019 I figured out that is what the planted females were laying in wait to assert.

It is congruent that this disgusting use of tots defames a white supremacist and the black and non white who ARE making white buttocks "their visual porn" had the motives of using me as a cover story for their ass photography, and in using me as that cover story creating legal and social antagonism towards me, if it LOOKED like I was the smart phone zoom photographer and "fapper."

The International RICO Racket in control of Constitutional Offices of the United States

Modus

As late as my trip to new york, even mid 2019 I could not figure out why teens, tots, others planted near me. Alleged motivation of me? NOW i've found "victim" or "provider" of victim claims my DNA.

3rd parties wishing to claim my DNA under false pretexts, SJWs, set themselves in position (I never authorized it) to settle claims for their "victims" against my DNA by CLAIMING they manage my DNA

The "peeper" is next to me, not me, and part of the false claims system. The SJWs "protecting" my DNA by claiming management of it and faking claims is a racket

Cheap shot of anger without intellect make a public show of anger towards me, but hide from MY scrutiny the false claims the anger towards me SEEMS TO accuse me with. One finger → three fingers ←

Certainly part of this has been non whites and gays defaming me (by manufacturing their own victim-hood, and by them peeping at white women while dressed as me) and Anti White hate political and religious espionage or if you will just "dirty tricks" against someone (me.)

Operandi

In what in Cons is called the Grandparents con, a mother of a child will find a phone, not my phone but at the table near me, and it will have her daughter pictured. Fortunately a Jesus Freak nearby is there to hear all about it. They tell me nothing is out of the ordinary (it all is I want nothing to do with any of this.)

Bird-Doggers

Criminal Operative working on behalf of secret police fake claims. Here, I photographed the entire scene as a Doppelgänger of me in front of me photographs a planted tot and the gang surrounding me physically assaults me for the dopple's act. In fact at CCRTA the same thing or HEB Foods. I want nothing to do with it but I am the assault victim.

If I object to the Doppelgänger I am accused of being a psychotic delusional and threatened with arrest. Nevertheless the Doppelgänger will concede to blackmail as though me and pay the black cops with my DNA.

I am told by these same police I am not being ass flashed, it is all coincidence and I am crazy if I think otherwise. Well, the cover story for staging the photo where I look like a peeping tom stalker of the teen is that it was only coincidence or the US Marshalls daughter so why am I complaining?

I report in MKULTRA TNGin the Wetworks section the following

Utilizing Psychiatry to dismiss the reports of the Doppelgänger made by the Doppled person

Heautoscopy is a term used in psychiatry and neurology for the hallucination of "seeing one's own body at a distance".[24] It can occur as a symptom in schizophrenia[25] and epilepsy, and is considered a possible explanation for doppelgänger phenomena.[26] https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Doppelg%C3%A4nger

It sounds much like this.

https://www.projectveritas.com/2018/03/01/james-okeefe-sits-down-with-rush-limbaugh/ O'KEEFE: Yes, Bob Creamer and Scott Foval. That was extraordinary, because Bob Creamer was one of Barack Obama's closest allies and community organizers. This young woman, Allison Maass, is mentioned in the book, and it reads like a John Grisham novel, following her along as she pretends to be the niece of a donor. She gets into his office, and they're describing how the money is funneled from Hillary to the dnc to Democracy Partners to the Foval Group to execute the expletive on the ground. That's to say, to foment violence at Trump rallies. She even meets with the "bird-doggers," as they're called, who incite this violence.

https://isthmus.com/news/news/democratic-operative-scott-foval-says-sting-that-brought-him-down-was-a-fraud/ Throughout the videos, Foval discusses what he calls "conflict engagement," saying "We have mentally ill people we pay to do shit" and describing "bird-dogging," which he explains as planting people at events of his political opponents to get the attention of the media or to disrupt candidates. A couple days after the videos were released, Foval was "summarily dismissed from both" jobs, he says.

As I document the ENTIRE SCENE with these photos I am violently threatened by the entire Shill group who surounded me.

This latter element of the crime is effectively the witches test. If I don't document manufacture of KOMPROMAT to be used behind my back by evidence, a photo, I can't prove it. If I do document the entire scene I create the claimed pretext of the criminals to assault me for "taking the bait and photographing the child."

These people will also "get the word out (to others) about the White Supremacist, (me) and skid their cars while in my vicinity to show how they feel about me.

- The planted teen or tot who is about to be exploited by a scum bag
- The Gull sitting at the next table, a gullible, a pervert who photographed the child but is working with the other con artists and will "confess" he is actually ME and that child is his "pornography." In cons a Gull falls for a trap and then will give into the blackmail resulting from the trap.

- The Marshall/Protector of the Shill teen, tot, or female who the mother will report the found photo to.
- The “Grandparent” who claims to be my grandparent and also is the grandparent of the planted teen or tot, and will settle the claim against me behind my back.

Reports to the police fail because the police are shaking down my “grandparent” for my genome and other finances which will be used for reparations against their own community’s victim hood.

But over the course of trying to understand the clout this massively illegal international RICO scheme operates with lead me to believe this ties into reverse justifying claims to my DNA already in the OBama family and other locations by religious work tied to the Illuminati.

It is insane for so much effort to claim rights to my genome so outrageously in a decades long MKULTRA Targeted Individual Gangstalk of me.

How is this happened and why does Obama always seem tied to it?

Why do people make the false case I am retarded when I am not so my “grandparents” can settle false claims against me and for their “injured” parties?

1961 to 1965 Creation of Obama out of Malcom Little (X) and Glorian Donegan (Y) after leadership of Windsors could be matched with Malcolm X insurgency building capabilities in non white countries planted from Hawaii and assassinations of those who could compromise the Illuminati plot of MKULTRA world plans 1970s and 80s Probably at some time, maybe the 1990s, Ethiopia Genomic Relief, IQ, GDP, and The Brain. Perhaps disease fighting as well.

1992 to 1999 Clintons in Arkansas, Huckabee governor, James Woosely CIA. Plans formed in 1992 probably called Foundation X at University Y create a plan for the Obama children, using Donegan DNA again for consistency between BHO and children.

2006 to 2007 World plans for DNA around the world and mass genetic engineering research. FEB 20 2007 is the Second “Annuki Convention” in which the testing is reviewd and the go no go decision completed. White water will flow. RUSSELL MCDOUGAL and Lous Freeh not pleased. Likly to roll out in Iraq under Prescott HW and W Bush. Hasting and his Fiance deaths. My imprisonment.

2011 Extortion17 is the name for genomic world genes base building for world populations and the plan is underway. At the same time comes RFLP and family databases and worry that the Obama family lineage should come out of Ethiopia, not Glorian Donegan.

2015 to 2020 MKULTRA continues, false claims to my genome rights used to genetically seed and economically redevelop 3rd world laboratory environment of Feces Neuces which is actually in the USA and the God’s Missionary work can test out world religous orphanages plans.

Again, speculating, and doing so on the basis of what I have found out on the web and from some of the parties directly, I continue to think ties to the Obama family and genome racketeering.

With family history problems on the maternal side of the Obama family tree in 1997 Linda Newkirk became the test surrogate mother for the Obama children again using Donegan DNA, and Michelle Obama was not only never pregnant but Micheal Lavon Robinson, a male that Andrew Breitbart had discovered in the background of an Obama rally.

If Donegan DNA was usurped into a non white family tree of the Obamas and planted around the world it had to not be found in me as the source of it.

In Arlington Virginia females were being planted around me, then openly said to be working for the Obamas in Sport and Health Gym making me look like a stalker and I assumed it was because of my politically connected brother who was part of Arlington County Social Services and the city town hall activities and my left wing nut job counseling staff I wanted nothing to do with.

Thus I left for red state Texas hoping to get away from that. The story of my arrival in Texas though is of being setup for con jobs by Gods Missionary work to the Homeless and Non Whites.

It is in this context, a racially, religiously, and internationally hostile blind conservators' motives that I had to research and in this book series is my Etiology conclusion.

My long standing deep hatred of religion as a waste of time, of pretentious incompetence and self entitlement, and of confused backward people has been further inflamed.

The bizarre racketeering and stigmatizing interest in my genome kept secret by a racketeering Social Justice government backed operation

Client Group 1 exists (CG1.) CG1 has retarded,low IQ, and autistic clients.

Social Justice Reps 1 (SJR1) exists or is created to serve as representatives for CG1

SJR1 can now settle claims of CG1 victims as they victimize each other. This includes when a victimizer is on one dressed as me, IF the claim to represent me. SJR1 now in the Judiciary of the school yard effectively.

This is similar to a realtor with a listing also finding the buyer or a market maker in a financial product.

This is similar to a realtor with a listing also finding the buyer or a market maker in a financial product.

Moving my DNA rights and other property into the SJR1 group is easy since CG1 groups surrounds my life for evidence plants.

Failed and fraudulent accounting occur claiming every day non code words actually are a secret accounting when in fact they are not.

Money laundering is made to look legal in asset seizures within the total trust fund. In fact it mimics a single trust fund of a single group, (CG1+Me) which is another form a trust may have rather than equity share in the total pool based on original contribution.

I have no interest in SJR1 or need for them but they put themselves in place claiming rights to manage my assets on my behalf.

They create a protection racket placing a playground around me, faking accusations on the playground and declaring me too dangerous to leave the playground.

Their statement of that to Jim Volcelka, William Ruiz, and others follows in the 200 Wintesses chapter.

Extortion (17) Protection and Exaction Rackets, Robbery

Under manufactured and concealed pretexts women are forcibly or incited to withdraw from my vicinity then by the acts of Doppelgangers ascribed to me I seemingly become dependent on exploitative acts towards females who the Racket will compensate from my assets they conceal from me they are using for alleged victims.

Extortion (also called shakedown, and, in a legal sense incorrectly, exaction) is obtaining benefit through coercion. In most jurisdictions it is likely to constitute a criminal offense, the bulk of this article deals with such cases.

Extortion is sometimes called the "protection racket" since the racketeers often phrase their demands as payment for "protection" from (real or hypothetical) threats from unspecified other parties; though often, and almost always, such "protection" is simply abstinence of harm from the same party, and such is implied in the "protection" offer. Extortion is commonly practiced by organized crime. In some jurisdictions, actually obtaining the benefit is not required to commit the offense, and making a threat of violence which refers to a requirement of a payment of money or property to halt future violence is sufficient to commit the offense.[1] Exaction refers not only to extortion or the demanding and obtaining of something through force,[2] but additionally, in its formal definition, means the infliction of something such as pain and suffering or making somebody endure something unpleasant.[3]

The term extortion is often used metaphorically to refer to usury or to price-gouging, though neither is legally considered extortion. It is also often used loosely to refer to everyday situations where one person feels indebted against their will, to another, in order to receive an essential service or avoid legal consequences. Neither extortion nor blackmail requires a threat of a criminal act, such as violence, merely a threat used to elicit actions, money, or property from the object of the extortion. Such threats include the filing of reports (true or not) of criminal behavior to the police, revelation of damaging facts (such as pictures of the object of the extortion in a compromising position), etc.[1]

In law extortion can refer to political corruption, such as selling one's office or influence peddling,[citation needed] but in general vocabulary the word usually first brings to mind blackmail or protection rackets. The logical connection between the corruption sense of the word and the other senses is that to demand bribes in one's official capacity is blackmail or racketeering in essence (that is, "you need access to this resource, the government restricts access to it through my office, and I will charge you unfairly and unlawfully for such access").[citation needed]

Legal Terms and Taxonomy

Racketeering and RICO

A Racket is an organized crime ring often using Money Laundering techniques to commit crime under the guise of legitimacy. A Racketeering Influenced Crime Organization is likely to have several features.

It is a racket in that unneeded services are involuntary imposed on a person and creates the condition (such as broken windows of a shop along a sidewalk or other vandalism, or peeping at women) then propose to protect the victim against the crimes they themselves comit, in my case offering to settle the false claims they create as fraud with my own DNA to their victims)

Money Laundering is often a feature of RICO in that the assets being fraudulently moved around are done in dummy accounts where it is out of direct view of tracing.

Vague statement which are retracted or denied upon pin down are part of the accounting fraud.

Shills are Con Artists who in Long Cons can do things like fall down in front of you allegedly tangled feet or a push, and perhaps another shill at the scene will bear false witness to what occurred. These are Grifter teams.

Misrepresentation or corrupt officials. Those who claim to represent me by have hidden objectives and use their positions to manufacture wrongful outcomes.

Etiology is understanding why the Illuminati or those who want designer babies or have political connections want to fake evidence, commit fraud, etc., because of their motive to do so.

The basic problem I have in this is that I have been mortally wounded by plain clothes police assaults across many years I never new the motive for, but was institutionalized over fights I had with them, on occasion, multiple occasions, I voluntarily entered into (or involuntarily) entered into drug treatment centers, tracing beliefs of plain clothes police harassment to paranoia.

Since then I have found National Institute of Health Police and others have a medical-genes interest in my genome and that a series of RICO schemes allowing embezzlement of it benefits those police officers.

The perceptions of me and life course affects of my arrests as I confronted illegal evidence manufacture has been the Psych Ward stifle my attempting defense against the evidence being manufactured in my vicinity and also Psych Ward claim my delusions assertions of facts required National Institute fo Health management of my assets rather than me, since I allegedly was delusional as to what was going on.

In order for the National Institute of Health to succeed in this embezzlement of genes value they must succeed in certain "bunko" or "grifters" techniques of planting evidence or staging photos of the actually physical me, unavoidably with my noticing they are doing so, and following this, the embezzlement scheme by the NIH police to have an impersonator of me or National Institute of Health backed conservancy of me doing the accounting over the stage evidence.

Thus not only do women plant themselves in front of me, parties other than me, and never me, shout “he’s bough her [as a paid for model , and in exchange for his [[my]] DNA.]”

This is not me making any deals or executing those deals, but others in place of me are doing so.

In short, the National Institute of Health Police claim I am being paid for my DNA with models who I seem to be learning at (thought they jump in front of me,) then an impersonator of me will agree to give the National Institute of Health my DNA for my being modeled to.

In fact this scheme creates the public perception I am being paid for my DNA, but in reality NIH police in others are merely partying it up on their own on the value of my DNA to the models they have really bought for themselves and use an impersonator of me along with them to pay the tab.

In fact not only do I not want the modeling of women who jump in front of me in public, those very models planted in public are designed to stigmatize me as having interests I do not have and are part of social sabotage of me to women who otherwise I would be in relationships with, but I am socially sabotaged to.

Because it is an embezzlement scheme harassing me but without accounting to me I need to get my foot inside the door of any embassy to make case on this, and that has not happened yet.

Illustrated, ErosX

Veronica Hoffman

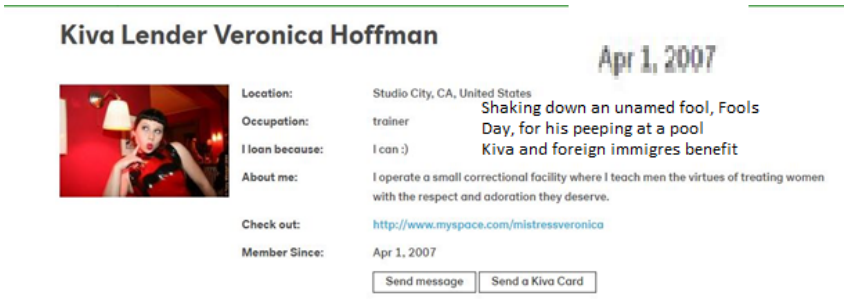
I had met Veronica Hoffman at a party. Nothing “pool peeper” about it, High Goth BDSM Couture.

MY AGREEMENT WITH HER was this.

She was a very elite dominatrix and I was poor. We agreed that rather than I pay her for a the BDSM Eros lap-dance like erotic scene with a dominatrix, not prostitution, that , I would compensate the erotic lap dance by allowing it to be filmed which then she could market commercially.

THE IMPERSONATOR WHO BEHIND THE SCENES TOOK OVER MY CONTACTS WITH HER.

Veronica Hoffman created pool picks on her web site, likely the impersonator of me who took over her contacts with forged a deal for my DNA after the impersonator of me was blackmailed for pool peaking.



This is NOT the inchoate deal I and her initiated nor any confession I ever made to her.

Because in hundreds of scenes I have talked about as possible includes this very rare one for me, it is easy to, behind me back, “pin” this impersonator’s forgery to my actual identity and it gives black African Nationalists a peek at white women.

This fits a years long embezzlement scheme with foreign ties and interests which include others such as Frua Stein, Rozzolinda, DejaVu, and others.

Bolstering the Impersonations

Theft of my clothes and use of architectural analogs of where I really live or break-ins to where I live bolster the identity theft the forger of agreements makes use of.

Tell-tales Indications

- People: People I have initially met or contacted leave online traces they have had contact with impersonators of me. This is only detectable over time because the purpose of defaming me is also served by public innuendo references to alleged acts of mine.

- Impersonators of me: I often cross paths with those who will later take over my identity to the People above.

- Financial: Accounting information tied to my email address in electronic systems such as Asset Campus Housing/Ballpark West Apartments, Home Depot, TSA flight system ticketing, AOL/Time Warner Payrolls, St Lois Property Records, etc., show mismatches of what is alleged of actual information as forgeries, much like in the detection forged rather than separate paintings.

- Manufactured Compatriots: As I was at St Timons, and other locations, reference was made to a “high school ring” being found in the “soup.” I was socially sabotage to the “soup” in the soup kitchen.

  In fact Tom Duhamm was also impersonated. While we were were real life friends not interested in 17 year olds, we were both impersonated by symmetric sock-puppets in a teen exploitation ring. Neither of our impersonators contested the alleged ring but the must surely have been me hanging out with Tom Dunham https://www.blogger.com/profile/07704024690967658160 and from there http://tenofswords.blogspot.com/2007_07_01_archive.html.

  Tom Dunham and I refute these mentally and sexually incompetent impersonatorswho are part of both Pizzagate and Genentech outflow from Pizzagate..

- Acts of those in my vicinity: Statements by others towards me which try to implicate me as a partner in the information publicly directed towards me out of my control.

- Locations: The Sound-stages impersonators of me use to stage me making agreements when I am not the one doing so are clearly detectable.

Dislocations

I go to lobby and my card key is fixed to 400. Likely I have my impersonators room and vice versa.
I book a flight to Canada	I can not board, no passport,and modification to NYC is denied	I have to pay for and book an entirely new flight on an impersonators name, not my own

The same happened in Casa Linda Apartments and everywhere I go and everything I do.

- Motive: The parties involved in the RICO have multiple things to gain from carrying it out.

Illustrated, Dislocation of Bedroom Leased

I an “assigned” to one room, a corner room, to a Salinas house. The story goes back and forth. First I am to move into the room with lots of shoes, mirror pictured. I am shown the room and agree to it.

The plan is changed and I lease the room at the end of the hall in a corner of the house. The room with the shoes has a my photo tucked into its mirror and several times they fake my being in the shoes and teddy bear room as a child peeping pervert while am in a different room, master bating, prior to leaving and having no privacy later on the road.

Means, Motive, and Opportunity are met.

Those needing IVF of Donegan semen or DNA,j in particular blacks, gays, foreign nations, politically connected people already having it, need authorization it, thus fake my agreement to it.

International Scheme

The scheme is international in nature and criminal in nature and fit definitions of the Rome Statute and other law regarding criminal acts as well.

My father, mother, and I were natural born white life long patriots, educated, and loyal to Democrat, GOP, and Libertarian party politics, obeying laws and always in continuing education.

The form of the hostility visible to me has been non-whites and gays often from abroad and likely have both genetic and political interests in contradiction to my own, or least competing.

This has had a polarizing effect on me as the sense of injustice my mother, father, and I, have experienced so that these RICO elements can prosper criminally and politically.

Shadow 360 World Espionage

Name For This Book Section

The Illuminati talk about “360 Degrees DNA” and world operations, and espionage agencies operate from around the world all over the world.

Entangled activities much like with the beginning of WWI now makeup what I consider the basis for WW III and British Royals, MI5 and MI6, the CIA,Secret Service, the Vatican, Masons, the Defense Intelligence Agency of the USA, and many families (Dulles, Obamas, Gottlieb, Woosley, Bushes, Clintons, Cruzs, Powell) and perhaps others contiue secret operations not for the good of the world but preserving the cash, ruling, political, and financial fortunes of these people with coverup espionage, shadow governments, shadow wetowrks, shadow profiteering, and shadow acts they have nor desire any way out of as they continue their secret rule of the world and genofarming

Why would I think Espionage is behind the harassment I have experienced for decades, at three, 45 years by another account?

Guerilla Warfare has harassed and destoryed the life of Glorian and Edward Donegan. Those who should have been our allies and partners in normal life are pulled away as they find it it is more profitable to betray us.

The system of destroying lives is called #Ganstalk or #PsyOps and uses things like faked appearances to defame and harrass.

This is a large scale situation with large scale wet division around the world tied to Eugenics era race studies.

The East-West Center was established by the United States Congress in 1960 as a national educational institution to foster better relations and understanding among the peoples of the United States, Asia, and the Pacific islands through programs of cooperative study, training, and research.

The Center was established in Hawaii based on the conclusions reached by Congress and the U.S. Department of State that Hawaii offered special advantages for a national institution with an Asia Pacific focus that could not be duplicated anywhere else in the country. In early 1959, as Hawaii’s statehood was approaching, John A. Burns, Hawaii’s Territorial Delegate to Congress, and the then- Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson, both agreed that the East-West Center was an idea whose time had come. Senator Johnson first publicly suggested the concept of an international center during a speech at the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington, D.C. on April 16, 1959.

Tom Clancy was working on a novel very “Manchurian Candidate-ish”. But it was replete with fact and exposed the Saudi Muslim plant in the White House and the direct funding that went into it. Birth Certificate? Want the real one? Tom had it. Search Tom Clancy: Western Journalism | Informing Americans Who Love Freedom Clancy was killed because he was getting too close to a secret they don’t want the world to know. Dr. Garrow, executive director of The Bethune Institute, states Obama had Tom Clancy killed, noting that it takes 5 days for plant toxins and most poisons to break down and leave no traces in the human body. Strangely (or not), doctors did not perform an autopsy on Clancy’s body for 5 days.

Tom Clancy's Ex-Wife Tries To Take Over Book Series retrieved from The Washington Post and copied or modified to here

By Michael Amon JULY 9, 2003

Tom Clancy's former wife is trying to take over management of a lucrative paperback book series they own together, claiming that the best-selling author wants to derail the side project and dilute her considerable profits, according to a lawsuit filed in Calvert County Circuit Court.

Wanda T. King, Clancy's wife of almost 30 years before their 1999 divorce, alleges that the Calvert-based writer wants to stop publication of "Tom Clancy's Op-Center," a popular set of books stamped with his imprimatur but written by others.

King, 53, also alleges that Clancy has not hired an agent for the books, has refused to promote them and has blocked potential television spinoffs and a hardcover book deal for the series. In court papers filed last week, she asked a judge to remove her ex-husband as managing partner of the Op-Center series and install her in his place.

King owns a 25 percent stake in the series and alleges that as part of the divorce settlement, Clancy must work to "maximize" its profits.

Sound familiar in DiVinci Code dates of July 4 and also like Rianna gettign re-written songs from Brittany Spears, and what might be sung or written about in the works like the song Umbrella?

Court battle rages over the estate of a prominent military novelist Tom Clancy retrieved from Lexology and copied or modified to here

It was never an issue that the Marital Trust qualified for the marital deduction and should be spared of all tax. Alexandra's Petition argued that the Family Trust also qualified for the marital deduction and likewise should not pay any tax due. Alexandra maintained that the language in the Second Codicil is clear and unambiguous in its assertion that the Family Trust qualifies for the marital deduction.

The dispute regarding the estate tax liability of the Family Trust arises from the changes made by the Second Codicil in 2013 and its relationship with the tax clause found in Item Third (A) and Sixth of Mr. Clancy's original Will, executed in 2007 ("Tax Clause"). Alexandra and the children disagreed whether the amendment to Item Twelfth (D) of the Second Codicil ("Savings Clause") exempts the Family Trust from estate tax liability; this clause reads, in part, as follows:

> D. No asset or proceeds of any asset shall be included in the Marital Share or the Non-Exempt Family Residuary Trust as to which a marital deduction would not be allowed if included."

- In the United States of America

  Clancy, Andrew Breitbart, Micheal Hastings, Leslie Ann Shedd, Thomas C Wales, and others knew GLorian was the real mother of Barack Obama, the Manchurian Candidate, and that Fuddy faked the Hawaii birth certificate, placing Obama Nov 18 Manhattan Beach MKULTRA birth of a few months and off shore too.

- Around the world, Malcom Shabaz, Mexico, Obama Sr., Kenya. Not the biological family of Obama.

I can explain all of these deaths.

You can not.

Michelle Obama is not the source of Obama children mitochondria though the CIA may now fake biological information about Micheal La Vaugh Robbinson, as Breitbart had evidence of.

NOW THE END BEGINS EXCLUSIVE STORY: Listen to our original 10/06/13 interview with Dr. Jim Garrow: How Obamacare Will Be Used To Destroy The US Constitution

On tonight's The Wise Shall Understand Radio Broadcast, our guest was Dr. Jim Garrow whom you may remember shocked the world by saying this back on January 21, 2013:

HAVE JUST BEEN INFORMED BY A FORMER SENIOR MILITARY LEADER THAT OBAMA IS USING A NEW "LITMUS TEST" IN DETERMINING WHO WILL STAY AND WHO MUST GO IN HIS MILITARY LEADERS. GET READY TO EXPLODE FOLKS. "THE NEW LITMUS TEST OF LEADERSHIP IN THE MILITARY IS IF THEY WILL FIRE ON US CITIZENS OR NOT". THOSE WHO WILL NOT ARE BEING REMOVED," - SOURCE.

Dr. Jim Garrow reveals himself to be covert government agent.

As a long-time friend and guest on NTEB Radio, we know Dr. Garrow to be a previous Nobel Peace Prize nominee and executive director of the Bethune Institute's Pink Pagoda Girls school and rescue outreach in China.

> Doctor Jim Garrow is a man that works for ending genocide in China. He has a PhD, taught college classes in the United States, and throughout the world. He is also the founder of the Bethune Institute, which operates > hundreds of schools throughout China. He was even given a secondary honorary doctorate from the North Carolina Collage of Theology and is one of the few Christian teachers in China. In fact many of the Chinese elite business members and military personnel send their kids to Doctor Garrow's school.

But on this night, Dr. Garrow made the amazing revelation - on our show for the first time anywhere - that he had, in fact, right up until this past Wednesday night at midnight, spent 45 years as a covert CIA operative.

Garrow said that as a result of his "litmus test" statement in January, he was outed from the agency by Obama, and forced to accept early retirement.

But the revelations didn't stop there.

In addition to revealing that Andrew Breitbart had been killed under orders from Obama administration officials, he also said that spy thriller novelist Tom Clancy had also be killed in much the same way, and for the same reasons. Garrow said that Clancy had been spoon fed inside information for years from covert operatives for his novels, and he knew too much. Interestingly, when asked about where he got his ideas for his novels, Clancy had said this before he died:

""I HANG MY HAT ON GETTING AS MANY THINGS RIGHT AS I CAN," MR. CLANCY ONCE SAID IN AN INTERVIEW. "I'VE MADE UP STUFF THAT'S TURNED OUT TO BE REAL - THAT'S THE SPOOKY PART." NY TIMES

A little too real, as it turns out, Dr. Garrow said the reason no autopsy was performed for the first 5 days is that it 'takes that long for the chemicals he was poisoned with to work their way out of his body'.

Lastly, he revealed that Obama's administration was made up of Marxist Muslims who all take their orders from Senior Adviser to the President, Iranian-born Valerie Jarrett. Dr. Garrow said that it is well known to intelligence agencies all over the world that Obama is a foreign plant who was placed on the path to the presidency by ultra-rich Saudi nationals This is why, Garrow said, that all of Obama's education records have been permanently sealed.

The Optics I have on Dr Garrow's Comments and how I see them applying to my world and view

I was insanely and illegally placed in some mental hospitals as I fought Pizzagate the the fake appearance created by a neighbor Thea Smith that I was a participant in it.

At a private mental hospital (prior to being moved to a Dept of Defense facility with a black Mason asking me questions about my view of the Age of Reason, Enlightenment, etc.,) I met a recruited and or planted mental health patient, black, who told me the Dept of Defense had hired him as an "AI INT" expert in "civil rights" and part of that was fighting white supremacists and even logging in as a white supremacists with provided usernames and passwords and pretending to be a white supremacist.

He told me Barracck OBama had built into the US Military (because the military was permenant but Obama could only serve two terms) a secret program that would outlast Obama and it would continue even after Obama stepped down.

I now believe this program was MKULTRA, the DARPA program to defeat White Supremacism and Genocide by repairing the genomic gaps that formed from unequal evolutionary experiences across the globe.

I believe DARPA found black masons and others tied to the original MKULTRA affecting my family and now these same world masons tied interests will kill people like Judge Roll, Justice Scalia, Thomas C. Wales, and others in the dual goal to

- Conceal the genomic evidence of the original MKULTRA
- Continue MKULTRA around the world and forever erode racism by elimination of racial gaps.

Italian Mafia, the Vatican and La Cosa Nostra

FBI.GOV History of La Cosa Nostra

Giuseppe Esposito was the first known Sicilian Mafia member to emigrate to the U.S. He and six other Sicilians fled to New York after murdering the chancellor and a vice chancellor of a Sicilian province and 11 wealthy landowners. He was arrested in New Orleans in 1881 and extradited to Italy.

New Orleans was also the site of the first major Mafia incident in this country. On October 15, 1890, New Orleans Police Superintendent David Hennessey was murdered execution-style. Hundreds of Sicilians were arrested, and 19 were eventually indicted for the murder. An acquittal generated rumors of widespread bribery and intimidated witnesses. Outraged citizens of New Orleans organized a lynch mob and killed 11 of the 19 defendants. Two were hanged, nine were shot, and the remaining eight escaped.

> Jean Paul Ludwig, who was born in France in 1890, emigrated to the United States in 1924, and was assigned SSN 042-68-4425 in or about March, 1977

The American Mafia has evolved over the years as various gangs assumed, and lost, dominance over the years-for example, the Black Hand gangs around 1900, the Five Points Gang in the 1910s and ‘20s in New York City, and Al Capone’s Syndicate in Chicago in the 1920s. It was not until 1951 that a U.S. Senate committee led by Democrat Estes Kefauver of Tennessee determined that a “sinister criminal organization,” later known as La Cosa Nostra, operated in this nation. Six years later, The New York State Police uncovered a meeting of major La Cosa Nostra figures from around the country in the small upstate New York town of Apalachin. Many of the attendees were arrested. The event was the catalyst that changed the way law enforcement battles organized crime.

Later in this book I deal with the issue of Catholics, Opus Dei, and an Italian far right wing Mason connected anti commumist anti Hitler group called P2.

The unity of government which constitutes you one people is also now dear to you. It is justly so, for it is a main pillar in the edifice of your real independence, the support of your tranquility at home, your peace abroad; of your safety; of your prosperity; of that very liberty which you so highly prize. But as it is easy to foresee that, from different causes and from different quarters, much pains will be taken, many artifices employed to weaken in your minds the conviction of this truth; as this is the point in your political fortress against which the batteries of internal and external enemies will be most constantly and actively (though often covertly and insidiously) directed, it is of infinite moment that you should properly estimate the immense value of your national union to your collective and individual happiness; that you should cherish a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment to it; accustoming yourselves to think and speak of it as of the palladium of your political safety and prosperity; watching for its preservation with jealous anxiety; discountenancing whatever may suggest even a suspicion that it can in any event be abandoned; and indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest, or to enfeeble the sacred ties which now link together the various parts.

The hacking of my electronics, surveilance used against me despite my socially and legal upstanding life interests and acts make me question why people so badly, as State Acts, need an espionage scheme targeting me even thought the State actors know better than the facts they pretend to in public and behind my back.

MKULTRA and Foreign Genoforming, Ethiopia and Australia

A Foreign Intelligence Service (SVR) report circulating in the Kremlin today states that the top US Federal Judge for the State of Arizona was assassinated barely 72-hours after he made a critical ruling against the Obama administrations plan to begin the confiscation of their citizen's private retirement and banking accounts in order to stave off their nations imminent economic collapse, and after having the US Marshals protecting him removed.

Dec 13 1927 IQ Econmic DNA?

According to this SVR report, Federal Judge John McCarthy Roll was the Chief Judge for the United States District Court for the District of Arizona who this past Friday issued what is called a "preliminary ruling" in a case titled "United States of America v. $333,520.00 in United States Currency et al" [Case Number: 4:2010cv00703 Filed: November 30, 2010] wherein he stated he was preparing to rule against Obama's power to seize American citizens money without clear and convincing evidence of a crime being committed.

The Foreign Intelligence Service of the Russian Federation (Russian: Слу́жба вне́шней разве́дки Росси́йской Федера́ции, tr. Sluzhba vneshney razvedki Rossiyskoy Federatsii, IPA: [ˈsluʐbə ˈvnʲɛʂnʲɪj rɐˈzvʲɛtkʲɪ]) or SVR RF (Russian: СВР РФ) is Russia's external intelligence agency, focusing mainly on civilian affairs. The SVR RF succeeded the First Chief Directorate (PGU) of the KGB in December 1991.[1] The SVR has its headquarters in the Yasenevo District of Moscow.

Unlike the Russian Federal Security Service (FSB), the SVR is tasked with intelligence and espionage activities outside the Russian Federation. It works together with the Russian Main Intelligence Directorate (Russian: Гла́вное разве́дывательное управле́ние, tr. Glavnoye razvedyvatel'noye upravleniye, IPA: [ˈglavnəjə rɐzˈvʲɛdɨvətʲɪlʲnəjə ʊprɐˈvlʲenʲɪjə], GRU), its military-affairs espionage counterpart, which reportedly deployed six times as many spies in foreign countries as the SVR in 1997.[2]

The SVR is also authorized to negotiate anti-terrorist cooperation and intelligence-sharing arrangements with foreign intelligence agencies, and provides analysis and dissemination of intelligence to the Russian president.[3]

Any information pertaining to specific identities of staff employees (officers) of the SVR is legally classified as a state secret; since September 2018, the same applies to non-staff personnel, i.e. informers and recruited agents.[4]

Espionage and my February 20 November 18 December 13 Family Fertilization History

Drawing upon both Jenniefer Moore aka Task Force and my own life with my mother Glorian, adopted into the Dew family of South Carolina, I believe she carried the FOXP2 gene obtained from Maria Von Trapp and LONDON KE [VIII] Speech impaired King Edward VIII and the descendents of King George, when Prince Edward was in Londong in 1927 he impregnated Maria Von Trapp about 1926 and he had a reputation for that kind of activity.

I am named after “my grandfather” “Edward” and carry the FOXP2 gene and all it symptoms as described by many including the Illuminati test subject Linda Newkirk, Borderline Personality Disorder and high sexual energy.

On my father’s side he worked in MKULTRA I believe, the Manhattan Project a longitudinal line across Hawaii to New Mexican and Arizona where the first atomic bombs were built and tested, including ration affects on DNA and I would later in life end up in a dispuate between the Department of Energy and National INstitute of Health Human Genome program as odd DNA issues and racially motivated reproductive harassment surrounded my life.

THe CIA, Mossad, and Russians all seem to have some theories about Obama family ties to this, and earlier CIA OSS Vatican and Windsor ties to all this, including close ties between King Edward VIII, Nazi Germany, Spanish Illuminati Opus Dei, and others, and now possible ties to MI5 and MI6.

The CIA an Secret Service may have trouble solving the Kennedy assasinations because they were a part of it.

I even suspect former Joint Chiefs chair Colin Powell because of his wifes Boston work in hearing and speech possibly tied to this and possible tied to a CENTCOM Deep State of “brain berries” and the Clintons, Free Masons based out of Little Rock Arkansas and the State Department.

Trump’s Situation Room shouting match retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Gen. Mark Milley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, repeatedly blew up at President Trump over how to handle last summer’s racial-justice protests, The Wall Street Journal’s Michael Bender writes in his forthcoming book, “Frankly, We Did Win This Election.”

The backdrop: Trump wanted to invoke the Insurrection Act and put Milley in charge of a scorched-earth military campaign to suppress protests that had spiraled into riots in several cities.

Milley - now a GOP villain for his testimony last week on critical race theory - pushed back, Bender writes in a passage Axios is reporting for the first time:

Born in Winchester, Massachusetts, Milley attended Belmont Hill School.[3] Milley graduated from Princeton University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in politics in 1980 after completing a 185-page-long senior thesis titled “A Critical Analysis of Revolutionary Guerrilla Organization in Theory and Practice”.[4] Milley also holds a Master of Arts degree in international relations from Columbia University and another Master of Arts degree in national security and strategic studies from the Naval War College.[5] He is also an attendee of the MIT Center for International Studies Seminar XXI National Security Studies Program.[6]

In June 2021 a report from an Associated Press investigation found that at least 1,900 U.S. military firearms were lost or stolen.[67][68] Most of the stolen firearms came from the Army; some of the stolen firearms were found in the possession of a gang member, believed to have been sold by the firearms thieves.[69] Reports say that when Milley learned of this scandal, he was shocked, and said that he will consider a more systematic fix on how the military keeps track of its firearms, while many claim that Milley is actually downplays the report of 1,900 lost or stolen military firearms.[70]

On June 23, 2021, Milley attracted notice for telling Congressman Matt Gaetz that he found it “offensive” that the U.S. military was being characterized as “woke” for including “critical race theory” in its West Point curriculum; “I want to understand white rage - and I’m white. What is it that caused thousands of people to assault this building and try to overturn the Constitution of the United States of America?” he added.[71][72][73][74]

On June 30, 2021, former President Trump, who appointed Milley as Chair, called on him to resign, implying that he was unwilling “to defend [the US military] from the Leftist Radicals who hate [the United States] and [its flag].” This came after Milley’s defense of studying a broad range of ideas including the politically-controversial critical race theory and news reports that Milley and Trump engaged in a shouting match over military involvement in the 2020-2021 US race protests. Trump previously denied the incident and accused Milley of falsifying it.[75] viictim #2: You must understand the central fact about the Whitewater Development Corporation: It was not the main crime. Whitewater was only a pretext set up by Jim McDougal and the Clintons to milk millions of dollars from the SBA [Small Business Administration], banks, Arkansas Development Finance Authority, and Madison Guaranty Savings & Loan (which was later bailed out by us taxpayers to the tune of $65 million).

The Resolution Trust Corporation [RTC] people eventually figured out that their investigation of Madison wasn't getting anywhere because it was based in Kansas City, where Clinton's people stymied it. So Jon Parnell Walker, a Senior Investigation Specialist in the RTC's Washington office, began a campaign to get the case moved to DC.

There is speculation that they possibly had knowledge of the birth and care for Barack Obama in Kenya and were later murdered to cover the trail. When murdered, the Husband had his full wallet which the thieves/car jacker didn't take, and there was never a connection made to the said attackers the police later shot dead, but blamed for the double homicide/car jacking.

Their church was burned in 2008, possibly to destroy any possible birth records there. Then police chief Mohammed Hussein Ali was later removed from office by Obama supported Kenyan strongman Odinga. All possible witnesses ended up dead, all possible records of the care of infant Obama burned in the church fire, and the public official responsible out of office.

> Red Cross rescue workers said so far some 50 bodies had been recovered in the Kenya Assemblies of God Church in the town of Eldoret, some 300 kilometers (185 miles) from the capital Nairobi. It was unclear how many people had escaped Tuesday's inferno as about 200 Kenyans were reportedly in the church when an angry mob torched it, local residents and security sources said.

> Yesterday afternoon, an anonymous source known only as "Peter R." reached out to VICE with claims that he had in his possession a video of President Barack Obama's birth. Peter said that the footage was shot at a hospital in Mombasa, Kenya, on AUGUST 4, 1961, BY HIS FATHER, BARACK OBAMA SR. He sent us the password to a private video on Vimeo, a short clip that appears to depict a white woman who resembles Ann Dunham, Obama's mother, giving birth to a ginormous black baby. Peter also told us that he has the entire roughly 15-minute video in his possession and has been attempting to reach out to Donald Trump and other prominent birther theorists. *

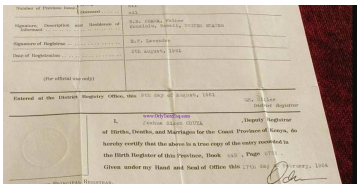
https://www.salon.com/2009/08/03/birthers_kenya/ To hear the Birthers tell it, their Holy Grail has been found: Over the weekend, de facto movement leader Orly Taitz released a photo of what is supposedly a certified copy of a Kenyan birth certificate for President Obama, which shows that he was born in Mombasa, Kenya, and not in Hawaii.



The movement is, naturally, all abuzz. But even people who might normally be inclined to support it, like the founder of conservative forum FreeRepublic.com and the Birthers' favorite self-proclaimed document expert, who declared Obama's Hawaiian certification of live birth a forgery, are calling foul. The document is just another in an increasingly long line of fakes intended to prove Obama wasn't born in the U.S.

Deafening Silence About the Camp Bastion Attack
MICHELLE MALKIN • SEPTEMBER 28, 2012

Three days after the bloody siege on our consulate in Benghazi, the Taliban waged an intricately coordinated, brutal attack on Camp Bastion in Afghanistan. The Taliban animals released video earlier this week showing their jihadi training prep.

Two hero U.S. Marines were killed in the battle. Their names Lt. Col. Christopher Raible and Sgt. Bradley Atwell - have not been uttered publicly by the commander-in-chief. Their arrival back in the U.S. was not broadcast on network TV. But their brothers-in-arms did not and will not forget.

And neither must we.

The September 2012 raid on Camp Bastion was a Taliban raid on Camp Bastion in Afghanistan's Helmand province on the night of 14 September 2012.[1] The base hosted British, American, Danish and Tongan military personnel at the time of the attack. The Taliban fighters killed two U.S. Marines and destroyed or severely damaged eight U.S. Marine Corps AV-8B Harriers and a United States Air Force C-130 before the entire raiding force was killed or captured. The Taliban claimed that the raid was in response to the film, Innocence of Muslims, and have also stated that Prince Harry, who was stationed at the base at the time, was the target of the attack.[2] To replace the aircraft lost in the attack, the USMC deployed 14 Harriers to Afghanistan 36 hours after the raid.[3]

Extortion 17: On 6 August 2011, a U.S. Boeing CH-47 Chinook military helicopter, call sign Extortion 17, was shot down while transporting a quick reaction force attempting to reinforce an engaged unit of Army Rangers in Wardak province, west of Kabul, Afghanistan The resulting crash killed all 38 people on board-25 American special operations personnel, five United States Army National Guard and Army Reserve crewmen, seven Afghan commandos, and one Afghan interpreter-as well as a U.S. military working dog. NTSB Chair Hersman has been been accused of conflict of interest., compromsing her independence at the NTSB.-> Speculations: 1. NTSB allowed the evidence in both this Cessna engine failure and the one on Oct 21 very close to Molokai to be contaminated 2. The NTSB had found Cessna 208 engine failure in 2 cases in the previous 34 years, within 50 days and 25 miles there were another 2, and those 2 were not properly treated by Obama's NTSB as a crime scene as mandated. 3. Engine failure itself actually occurred 9 miles north of where the plane landed in the Oct 21 incident, which puts it probably 10-15 miles away from Molokai. 4. Pilot Clyde Kawasaki has never been listed as a pilot of Makani Kai AIr on their staff webpage, even though he has supposedly flown for them for the past 1-2 years (depending on the article). There are 2 staff web pages, and both have been updated within the last half a year - one in June, the other earlier this month. 5. Rchard Schuman, Makani Kai Air owner/CEO says the plane (which was photographed sinking while nearly fully-intact) fell apart in a week's time 60-70 feet underwater because of the movement of the water banging the plane against the rocks but waves would have to have been much greater to affect the engine at that depth. If the engine had come apart from the plane during the salvage operations Schuman would certainly have said that. The fact that he tried to blame the engine's removal on water says that the witnesses on the salvage team knew it hadn't come apart during the lifting of the plane. ; Globe Magazine: Fuddy murdered for knowing where Obama was born ; NTSB: Hawaii plane floated 25 mins, then sank.; WasFuddy involved with the SUBUD Cult? That article says that the plane went down at about 3:45….within 40 minutes of the plane going down it was reported on the news, and within 55 minutes it was reported that there was one casualty. According to the timeline the NTSB is giving now (see http://www.freerepublic.com/focus/f-news/3107346/posts), help crews didn't even ARRIVE to check out the condition of the victims until 80 minutes after the crash - or 5:05pm…. 40 minutes after the crash was reported in the news and 25 minutes after it was reported in the news that there was one casualty. If the NTSB timeline is believed the rescue workers still had to pass Fuddy by, check out others, go back to Fuddy and determine her to be dead, and report it to the news reporter. *If that whole process took 30 minutes, then the NTSB timeline would have the news reporting one dead almost an hour before anybody would have determined and reported that. If the NTSB timeline is believed, a death from that plane crash was reported in the news before ANYBODY know

Liz Cheney Lied About Her Role in Spreading the Discredited CIA "Russian Bounty" Story retrieved from Glenn Greenwald and copied or modified to here

In an interview on Tuesday with Fox News' Bret Baier, Rep. Liz Cheney (R-WY) denied that she spread the discredited CIA "Russian bounty" story.

That CIA tale, claiming Russia was paying Taliban fighters to kill U.S. troops in Afghanistan, was cooked up by the CIA and then published by The New York Times on June 27 of last year, right as former President Trump announced his plans to withdraw troops from Afghanistan. The Times story, citing anonymous intelligence officials, was then continually invoked by pro-war Republicans and Democrats - led by Cheney - to justify their blocking of that troop withdrawal. The story was discredited when the U.S. intelligence community admitted last month that it had only "low to moderate confidence" that any of this even happened.

When Baier asked Cheney about her role in spreading this debunked CIA story, Cheney blatantly lied to him, claiming "if you go back and look at what I said - every single thing I said: I said if those stories are true, we need to know why the President and Vice President were not briefed on them." After Baier pressed her on the fact that she vested this story with credibility, Cheney insisted a second time that she never endorsed the claim but merely spoke conditionally, always using the "if these reports are true" formulation. Watch Cheney deny her role in spreading that story.

> MR. RUSSERT: What, specifically, has [Saddam] obtained that you believe would enhance his nuclear development program? …..
> VICE PRES. CHENEY: Now, in the case of a nuclear weapon, that means either plutonium or highly enriched uranium. And what we've seen recently that has raised our level of concern to the current state of unrest, if you will, if I can put it in those terms, is that he now is trying, through his illicit procurement network, to acquire the equipment he needs to be able to enrich uranium to make the bombs.
> MR. RUSSERT: Aluminum tubes.
> VICE PRES. CHENEY: Specifically aluminum tubes. There's a story in The New York Times this morning this is - I don't - and I want to attribute The Times. I don't want to talk about, obviously, specific intelligence sources, but it's now public that, in fact, [Saddam] has been seeking to acquire, and we have been able to intercept and prevent him from acquiring through this particular channel, the kinds of tubes that are necessary to build a centrifuge. And the centrifuge is required to take low-grade uranium and enhance it into highly enriched uranium, which is what you have to have in order to build a bomb.

So having CIA stories leak to the press that fuel the pro-war case, then having pro-war politicians cite those to justify their pro-war position, is a Cheney Family speciality.

On July 1, the House Armed Services Committee, of which Rep. Cheney is a member, debated amendments to the National Defense Authorization Act, the bill that authorized $740.5 billion in military spending. One of Cheney's top priorities was to align with the Committee's pro-war Democrats, funded by weapons manufacturers, to block Trump's plan to withdraw all U.S. troops from Afghanistan by the end of 2020 and to withdraw roughly 1/3 of the 34,000 U.S. troops in Germany.

WSJ Who Is Dan Lasater?

AUGUST 7 1995

CHICAGO — Last week, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. issued a report criticizing Little Rock's Rose Law Firm for conflicts of interest in representing the government. It was harsh on convicted felon Webster Hubbell in one case, and in another laid much responsibility on the late Vincent Foster. But it minimized the role of a third partner, Hillary Rodham Clinton, on questions about her relationship with drug convict Dan Lasater and Rose's role in suing him on behalf of the government and First American Savings & Loan of Oak Brook, a Chicago suburb.

The FDIC didn't exactly say Mrs. Clinton had no conflict of interest, but it did say that in the First American case she billed for only two hours, reviewing some work in the absence of Mr. Foster, the lead attorney. It said Mrs. Clinton met Mr. Lasater only twice, though he had contributed $16,000 to her husband's gubernatorial campaigns and had a close friendship with Virginia Kelley, Mr. Clinton's mother, and Roger Clinton, Mr. Clinton's half brother. It said that in the end Mr. Foster got a settlement of $200,000 from Mr. Lasater, against a loss to the thrift of $361,000 — not at all bad by the standards of bankrupt thrifts. There seems little reason to doubt that these facts are accurate, as far as they go.

TD Yet some time probing the affairs of First American here in Chicago suggests that the FDIC's bland recitation conceals a much more interesting story. First American of Oak Brook — not to be confused with the First American Bank in Washington illicitly owned by the Bank of Credit and Commerce International — happened to be owned by former Illinois Gov. Dan Walker, like Mr. Lasater now an ex-con. The $361,000 figure was established in a lawsuit by Mr. Walker against Mr. Lasater for unauthorized trading of Treasury bonds. Mr. Lasater's defense was that the trades were authorized and there was no breach of fiduciary relationship. But in a broader sense, given Mr. Lasater's financial relations with First American and Gov. Walker, he may have had reason to believe he owned the bank. Court records relating to Mr. Lasater's curious trades with First American also suggest that he may have taken more than the disputed $361,000 out of the thrift. And, to connect the Illinois affair with the probe of Little Rock's Madison Guaranty, the savings and loan at the heart of the Whitewater scandal being aired in congressional hearings this week, there's reason to wonder whether Mr. Lasater was doing the same thing with Madison, where he also held a trading account.

Laura Ann Branigan (JULY 3, 1952[nb 1] - August 26, 2004)[6] was an American singer, songwriter, and actress. Her signature song, the platinum-certified 1982 single “Gloria”, stayed on the U.S. Billboard Hot 100 for 36 weeks, then a record for a female artist, peaking at No. 2. It also reached number one in Australia and Canada. In 1984, she reached number one in Canada and Germany with the U.S. No. 4 hit “Self Control”. She also had success in the United Kingdom with both “Gloria” and “Self Control” making the Top 10 in the UK Singles Chart.

Branigan and her music saw renewed popularity and public interest in 2019 in the US after “Gloria” was adopted by the NHL’s St. Louis Blues as their unofficial victory song

Tozzi recorded one of his most famous songs, “Gloria”, which became a major hit in Italy in 1979 and 1980. Jonathan King wrote English lyrics for the song, which became popular in the UK as well in 1979, and was sung and recorded by the English singer Elkie Brooks in 1980. A cover version of the song by the American singer Laura Branigan in 1982 caused the song to grow in popularity in the US as well. Branigan worked with the arranger and keyboardist of Tozzi’s own version, Greg Mathieson, to give the song what she called “an American kick.”[

Gloria, you’re always on the run now
Running after somebody, you gotta get him somehow
I think you’ve got to slow down before you start to blow it
I think you’re headed for a breakdown, so be careful not to show it
You really don’t remember, was it something that he said?
Are the voices in your head calling, Gloria?
Gloria, don’t you think you’re fallin’?
If everybody wants you, why isn’t anybody callin’?
You don’t have to answer
Leave them hangin’ on the line, oh oh oh, calling Gloria
Gloria (Gloria), I think they got your number (Gloria)
I think they got the alias (Gloria) that you’ve been living under (Gloria)
But you really don’t remember, was it something that they said?
Are the voices in your head calling, Gloria?
A ha ha, a ha ha, Gloria, how’s it gonna go down?
Will you meet him on the main line, or will you catch him on the rebound?
Will you marry for the money, take a lover in the afternoon?

Feel your innocence slipping away, don't believe it's comin' back soon
And you really don't remember, was it something that he said?
Are the voices in your head calling, Gloria?
Gloria, don't you think you're fallin'?
If everybody wants you, why isn't anybody callin'?
You don't have to answer
Leave them hangin' on the line, oh-oh-oh, calling Gloria
Gloria (Gloria), I think they got your number (Gloria)

Micheal Jackson Born: August 29, 1958, Gary, IN Died: June 25, 2009, and Jimi Hendrix November 27, 1942 - September 18, 1970)

Kingdom of Sanwi is a traditional kingdom located in the south-east corner of the Republic of Ivory Coast in West Africa. It was established in about 1740 by Anyi migrants from Ghana. In 1843 the kingdom became a protectorate of France. In 1959 it was merged with Ivory Coast and at that time the tribal population was estimated to be around 40,000 people in 119 settlements.

The kingdom received much attention after declaring American singer Michael Jackson to be the King of the Sanwi in 1992. Reciprocal visits by Michael Jackson and King Amon N'Douffou IV were made to Krindjabo and Los Angeles respectively. After Jackson's death in 2009, an elaborate two-day funeral was held in Sanwi. Jesse Jackson (no relation) was declared prince in August of that year when he was crowned Prince Nana by Amon N'Douffou V, Amon N'Douffou IV's successor as king of Sanwi.

Amon N'Douffou V (born Enan Eboua Koutoua Francis) is king of the Kingdom of Sanwi in Ivory Coast, Africa. He was enthroned AUGUST 5, 2005, which was reported by AllAfrica.com to result in "popular jubilation".[1][2][3] The coronation, held in Krinjabo, took three days.[

His Majesty Amon N'Douffou V in 2017 (center, dressed in gold)

In August 2009, Amon N'Douffou V named American pastor Jesse Jackson a prince of the Kingdom of Sanwi. Jackson was the second to receive the title after American singer Michael Jackson received the same honor from Amon N'Douffou IV.

Jackson was born as Kattie B. Screws[1][2] on May 4, 1930 in Barbour County, Clayton, Alabama, the eldest of two daughters to Martha (née Upshaw; December 14, 1902 - April 29, 1990) and Prince Albert Screws (October 16, 1907 - January 21, 1997). Jackson contracted polio at age two, which left her with a noticeable permanent limp. In 1934, her father changed his surname to ‘Scruse’, and renamed his daughter “Katherine Esther”.[2]

Michael Joseph Jackson[7][8] was born in Gary, Indiana, near Chicago, on August 29, 1958.He was the eighth of ten children in the Jackson family, a working-class African-American family living in a two-bedroom house on Jackson Street.

His mother, Katherine Esther Jackson (née Scruse), played clarinet and piano, had aspired to be a country-and-western performer, and worked part-time at Sears.[13] She was a Jehovah’s Witness.[14] His father, Joseph Walter “Joe” Jackson, a former boxer, was a crane operator at U.S. Steel and played guitar with a local rhythm and blues band, the Falcons, to supplement the family’s income.

James Marshall “Jimi” Hendrix was an American musician, singer, and songwriter. Although his mainstream career spanned only four years, he is widely regarded as one of the most influential electric guitarists in the history of popular music, and one of the most celebrated musicians of the 20th century. Wikipedia Born: November 27, 1942, Seattle, WA

Jimi Hendrix’s mixed genealogy included African American, Irish, and Cherokee ancestors. His paternal grandmother, Zenora “Nora” Rose Moore, was African American and one-quarter Cherokee.[4][nb 1] Hendrix’s paternal grandfather, Bertran Philander Ross Hendrix (born 1866), was born out of an extramarital affair between a woman named Fanny and a grain merchant from Urbana, Ohio, or Illinois, one of the wealthiest men in the area at that time.

In 1979, college students at the campus newspaper of Santa Barbara University (USB) filed for release of FBI files on Hendrix. Six heavily inked-out pages were released to the student reporters. (The deletions nixed information “currently and properly classified pursuant to Executive Order 11652, in the interest of national defense of foreign policy.”)

WEAVER WAS PRACTICE FOR WACO

Many consider the BATF entrapment of white separatist Randy Weaver, the 1992 federal marshal attack that killed his son, the FBI sniper attack that killed his wife, and the FBI's eleven day siege to have been merely practice for the massive attack against the Davidians. Since the same crew of FBI agents and officials are responsible for the massacre of the Davidians, it is useful to look closely at that case.

White separatist Randy Weaver had retreated to rural Idaho with his wife, Vicki, four children and a family friend, Kevin Harris.12/ In 1990 a BATF undercover agent entrapped Weaver into selling him two illegally sawed-off shotguns for $300. Weaver alleges BATF charged him after he refused to inform on other white separatists. The government then gave him the wrong date for a court hearing, March 20 instead of FEBRUARY 20, 1991. Disgusted, Weaver decided to end all contact with the judicial system. *

Who's murdering all the COVID scientists?

Doctors, scientists and other medical experts involved with research into the Wuhan coronavirus (COVID-19) are mysteriously turning up dead all around the world in what appears to be a mass culling of people who know too much truth about the plandemic.

One of the latest deaths was that of Alexander "Sasha" Kagansky, a Russian scientist who had been working on developing a COVID-19 vaccine when he was brutally stabbed and thrown from the window of his 14th floor apartment in St. Petersburg.

Reports indicate that Kagansky died "under strange circumstances," an understatement considering the nature and timing of his demise.

Kagansky had recently been awarded a grant by the Russian government to investigate new ways of diagnosing and treating brain tumors. He was also a vocal advocate for natural remedies like herbs and mushrooms that are known to help kill cancer cells.

Back in January, we reported on Plummer's connections to a communist Chinese spy ring that appears to have been responsible for stealing coronavirus strains from a Canadian lab and taking them to Wuhan.

Professor Bing Liu from the University of Pittsburgh is another relevant scientist who was murdered this year, in this case right before he could go public with a new breakthrough concerning the nature of COVID-19.

"Bing was on the verge of making very significant findings toward understanding the cellular mechanisms that underlie SARS-CoV-2 infection and the cellular basis of the following complications," reads a statement from his colleagues within the Department of Computational and Systems Biology.

Then we have Gita Ramjee, an HIV scientist who supposedly died from COVID-19 while visiting London to deliver a lecture about HIV treatment and prevention. Upon returning to Durban, she reportedly felt unwell and went to the hospital, where she died not long thereafter.

A World Health Organization (WHO) driver named Pyae Sone Win Maung also died back in May while transporting coronavirus samples for the United Nations. He had been driving a well-marked U.N. vehicle at the time when shots were fired, killing him and injuring another passenger.

Vaccine whistleblower Brandy Vaughan, a former sales executive from Merck & Co. and founder of LearnTheRisk.org, was also found dead in her home earlier this month beside her nine-year-old son. Vaughan had been working hard to educate the public about vaccine safety risks.

> In a not-very-publicized article from the Denver Westword, Unruh indeed claims that Holmes told him that he was programmed to kill by an "evil therapist" - a very simple term describing what might have been his trauma-based mind control handler. He also reportedly added that "he felt like he was in a video game" during the shooting (which is somewhat how one feels when an alter persona is triggered) , that "he wasn't on his meds" and "nobody would help him."

U.S. troops among victims of Colorado movie shooting retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

U.S. troops were among the casualties in the shooting rampage at the Colorado movie theater, including a sailor who was listed as unaccounted for, the Pentagon said Friday.

he Defense Department released a statement that said one sailor was injured and another one, known to have been at the theater, was unaccounted for. Two airmen were wounded in the incident, it said.

Buckley AFB in Aurora, Colorado, is the closest military base to the scene of the shootings. Spokesman Master Sgt. Jill Lavoie said some of the wounded were from Buckley.

About 10,000 troops - including members of the Air Force, Army and Marine Corps - are stationed at Buckley. Soon after the shooting, the base initiated a head count, Lavoie said.

One of the units on base is the 743rd Military Intelligence Battalion.

Colorado's strong space, defense industries continue to act as magnet for companies retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

By JUDITH KOHLER | jkohler@denverpost.com | The Denver Post FEBRUARY 21, 2020 at 12:00 p.m.

When Booz Allen Hamilton was looking to expand its operations in Colorado, Aurora made sense because of its proximity to Buckley Air Force Base.

Colorado's profile as a stronghold for the aerospace and defense industries would be further elevated if U.S. Space Command, temporarily sited at Peterson Air Force Base in Colorado Springs, is permanently located in Colorado. Four of the six bases in the running are in Colorado: Buckley, Peterson, Cheyenne Mountain Air Force Station and Schriever Air Force Base in Colorado.

President Donald Trump launched Space Force in December as the first new military service in more than 70 years. The headquarters will be in the Pentagon. Trump, in his visit to Colorado Springs on Thursday, said he would make a decision on Space Command's location by the end of the year.

The prospect of the location of the Space Command in Colorado adds another layer to Aurora's draw for businesses like Booz Allen and others involved with space and defense, said Andrea Tilliss, marketing manager for the Aurora Economic Development Council.

"We think that it would be a perfect fit for Buckley," Tilliss said.

The Motive: Payback for a Double-Cross If the culprits had been Adam Lanza and his pals, then their response to grounding would have been something like posting photos and address of naked children. The method of the shooting point-blank execution-style gun shots indicate that the assailants were professional hit men, probably allied with the Winter Hill Gang.

The Sandy Hook assault happened probably because of a split between competing institutions and diverging policies. On one hand, the gangland figures who cooperated with CIA mind-control program that promoted child-sex as a means of ensuring obedience and secrecy were being challenged by politicians playing up parental demands to clean up the scandalous child-sex problem in Connecticut.

The dirty FBI agent John Connelly was more of a double agent and go-between for the Feds and not simply a Winter Hill mole as portrayed at his sentencing. The arrest of Whitey Bulger was a pure-and-simple double-cross by the FBI and CIA, who had used him as an ally in MKULTRA and informant for more than a half-century. In his ambitious drive to win a U.S. senatorial seat, state attorney general and now Senator Blumenthal broke the basic rules of mob cooperation. And now that has led to a war on the streets and in the schools. *

The Gangstalk I have experienced getting me "into the system" through violence launched at me through "Bird Dogging mental health patients

The are easy for the Government to recruit and use as assassins since they are difficult to prosecute criminally and wouldn't mind "three hots and a cot" for life either, thus are the main CIA tool for hits.

It especially helps when the mental health inmate is told he going to be a vigilante against a child molester, white supremacist, snitch, or some other way a prison snitch is reflexively controlled to manipulate him or her to attack a fellow prisoner as State backed "social good."

That is the supposed peer level prisoner to prisoner fights. At the layer above that Social Services is staging and provoking the fights and often staging includes planting evidence related to the fight, phony witnesses who claim to be neutral, etc., such that the VICTIM of the fight is regarded as the PROVOKER of the fight and te victim ends up on custody and seems to be paranoid, bipolar, or schizophrenically in fights with ghosts or delusions or delusions about people.

I call that Rigged Rorschach in the Face Ploy. A tot or teen scarf "twerks" near me, I complain about it, and enreaged peole ask me why I was looking!

The insane situation towards a person creates a seemingly insane or paranoid comment from the person seeing the situation.

Thus the operator of social services gets their existing clients to act in odd ways near a new person an the new person describing the odd behavior suddenly is also a client of social services.

Fraud is intentional Deception of protection of fallback explanations of Bunco activities. Various sources copied or modified to here

"Street Theater" also known as Gangstalk creates deceitful appearances. The Bunco, the Fraud, uses apparent or seeming inculpatory circumstances surrounding me such as who is present or what is being said which would seem to be suggestive I am involved and a part of activities near me or referred by people near me.

Upon my challenge of the suggestiveness the fallback of those using vague and deceitful acts claim the acts were not suggestive but really something else; for instance, the comment they made was intended for someone else such as the dog they were walking the person they were on the phone with, etc.,.and was not meant to reference or include me after all.

Despite Gangstalk refutation when I challenge them the suggestive statement or acts surrounding me are clearly intended to suggest I am involved in seeking an adult model, or seeking a minor who is going to pose for me, though I am doing neither.

The scheme using and impersonator of me who rather than refute the activities will, as me, later participate in the activities and authenticate and participate in the actives, though forging my identity and agreement to and participation in those activities I refute.

The entirety of the scheme seems to be that Social Services Workers are using their double of me to get caught in disreputable and mentally ill acts, and in doing so, get caught by adult entertainers who will prompt the impersonator of me to sign my assets over to Social Services recipients.

An added element, other than the property rights tranfers, is the defamation to my political, religious, and intellectual worth as the Dopple and the dapples acts are taken for my own.

FRAUD

In law, fraud is intentional deception to secure unfair or unlawful gain, or to deprive a victim of a legal right. Fraud can violate civil law (i.e., a fraud victim may sue the fraud perpetrator to avoid the fraud or recover monetary compensation), a criminal law (i.e., a fraud perpetrator may be prosecuted and imprisoned by governmental authorities), or it may cause no loss of money, property or legal right but still be an element of another civil or criminal wrong.[1] The purpose of fraud may be monetary gain or other benefits, for example by obtaining a passport, travel document, or driver's license, or mortgage fraud, where the perpetrator may attempt to qualify for a mortgage by way of false statements.[2]

HOAX

A hoax is a distinct concept that involves deliberate deception without the intention of gain or of materially damaging or depriving a victim.

accuse or blame. “he blamed himself, but also inculpated his fiancée” incriminate. “someone placed the pistol in your room in order to inculpate you”

SUGGESTIVE (GOOGLE KNOWLEDGE PANEL)

indicative or evocative. “flavors suggestive of coffee and blackberry” making someone think of sex and sexual relationships . “a suggestive remark”

FALLBACK (DEFINITIONS FROM OXFORD LANGUAGES)

an alternative plan that may be used in an emergency.

BUNCO AND BUNKO SQUADS FROM WIKIPEDIA, THE FREE ENCYCLOPEDIA

Bunco was re-popularized as a gambling game, often associated with a speakeasy. Law-enforcement groups raiding these parlors came to be known as “Bunco squads”. Bunco as a family game saw a resurgence in popularity in the 1980s

Organized racial crime targeting me in the legal system supported by the Media fits a larger agenda my family story is a part of Things, teams of people like behavioral health care workers, teams of them, my surroundings and cities, those who happen to be the company reps of companies as CSRs, landlords and neighbors, all shit demographically to black who express envy of me on the one hand but undermine my rights to gain the upper hand in claiming my assets as managers of them or faking claims to my genome via conflicts they initiate and I am blamed for.

This seems to fit that my father and mother had places in history as my parents parents have places in history and now powerful historic figures are using an architected but fraudulent system to claim the distribution rights and substantive rights to my genome and in this scheme of covert actors duplicitously placing themselves in forms of proximity to me are interested in false claim mechanisms to my genome, claim by processor and substance are falsely gained rights to my genome.

The switch-out scheme is that under claims I a retarded savant of abnormal mental function then those who care for those of abnormal mental function should manage my genome.

In fact this allows my normal and beneficial brain genes to then be transferred “transfusion” style from patient to patient on the Behavioral Health Care system of patients.

The entirety of the system is based on fraud but the desperate need for the fraud is motivated by the dark secrets of MKULTRA which need to be covered up, the truth of my genome and how and who can or has used it.

have confidence or faith in

To rely is to have confidence in something. You might rely on staying in bed to make you feel better and rely on your friends to tell you everything you missed when you were sick.

THose who are supposed to be reliable people, reliable social services, helping the retarded are supposed to be worthy of that trust in both the ethics and legitimacy of the operation and that those under their conservatorship are being helped rather than exploited.

My subsumption into the system has been manipulated based on the systems interest in controlling and exploiting my genome, including hampering my own normal life and use of it and receipt of the value of it.

Aurora massacre: several links between James Holmes and U.S. government research (Salk Institute involved in neurologically enhancing soldiers' abilities on battlefield… connections to DARPA)

James Holmes, the 24-year old suspect in the mass shooting of Batman "The Dark Knight Rises" movie goers in Aurora, Colorado that left 12 people dead and 58 injured, has had a number of links to U.S. government-funded research centers. Holmes's past association with government research projects has prompted police and federal law enforcement officials to order laboratories and schools with which Holmes has had a past association not to talk to the press about Holmes.

Holmes was one of six recipients of a National Institutes of Health Neuroscience Training Grant at the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus in Denver. Holme is a graduate of the University of California at Riverside with a Bachelor of Science degree in neuroscience.

Although Holmes dropped out of the PhD neuroscience program at Anschutz in June, police evacuated two buildings at the Anschutz center after the massacre at the Aurora movie theater. Holmes reportedly gave a presentation at the Anschutz campus in May on Micro DNA Biomarkers in a class titled "Biological Basis of Psychiatric and Neurological Disorders."*

The sinking of MV Conception occurred on September 2, 2019, when the 75-foot (23 m) dive boat caught fire and eventually sank off the coast of Santa Cruz Island, California, United States. The boat was anchored overnight at Platts Harbor, a small undeveloped bay on the north shore of the island, with 33 passengers and 1 crew member asleep below decks when fire broke out shortly after 3 a.m.

It is the worst maritime disaster in California since the sinking of the Brother Jonathan in 1865, and the deadliest in the United States overall since the USS Iowa turret explosion in 1989.[3]

U.S. News California Owner of boat that burned, killing 34, sells other vessels

March 11, 2021

FILE - In this Sept. 2, 2019, file photo provided by the Santa Barbara County Fire Department, the dive boat Conception is engulfed in flames after a deadly fire broke out aboard the commercial scuba diving vessel off the Southern California coast. The owner of the boat that burned and sank off the California coast, killing 34 people, has sold his two remaining vessels. The Los Angeles Times says Glen Fritzler of Truth Aquatics Inc. sold the dive boats to Channel Islands Expeditions. One new owner says Fritzler has no involvement in the company. LOS ANGELES (AP) The owner of a scuba diving boat that burned and sank off the California coast, killing 34 people, has sold off his two remaining vessels.

Glen Fritzler of Truth Aquatics Inc. sold the dive boats to Channel Islands Expeditions, which was listed as the owner as of DEC. 9, the Los Angeles Times reported Thursday.

The two boats owned other than Conception by Truth Aquatics - Vision and Truth - were sold in November to Channel Islands Expeditions, which is operating out of Sea Landing.

California Diving - Glen Fritzler Receives California Scuba Service Award

(The environmentalist and educator is recognized for his aquatic tours business)

Truth Aquatics started construction on a third boat, the Vision, in 1984. Around the same time, they secured the lease for Santa Barbara's Sea Landing facility. Today Sea Landing accommodates the three-boat fleet and Glen subleases the rest to water sports concessions including a whale watching boat, a dive center, and a jet ski rental company. Sea Landing is the hub for ocean activities in Santa Barbara.

In the early 2000s luxury dive boats were popping up in warmer water destinations around the globe and California dive business started to slow. Roy had retired and Glen reinvigorated his business by securing a contract with the Channel Islands National Park to take non-diving passengers to visit the islands. The trips include hosting the Sierra Club and various school groups - seniors and kids alike enjoy the thrill of experiencing the Channel Islands for the first time onboard a Truth Aquatics vessel. Through these and other types of trips showcasing what the region has to offer, Glen hopes to bring California diving back as a worldwide destination.

In 2016, he sold his house and moved into an apartment in Biltmore Park, a mixed-use community in Asheville, North Carolina, while deciding where to buy next in either Henderson or Buncombe counties.[He is the owner of Highlands Properties, which specializes in construction and land development.[14] In 2014, Meadows sold 134 acres (54 hectares) of land in Dinosaur, Colorado, to a young earth creationist group. He appeared in the film Raising the Allosaur: The True Story of a Rare Dinosaur and the Home Schoolers Who Found It.

Young Earth creationism (YEC) is a form of Creationism which holds as a central tenet that the Earth and its lifeforms were created in their present forms by supernatural acts of the God of Abraham between approximately 6,000 and 10,000 years ago.[1][2] In its most widespread version, YEC is based on the religious belief in the inerrancy of certain literal interpretations of the Book of Genesis.[3][4] Its primary adherents are Christians and Jews who believe that God created the Earth in six literal days,[5][6] in contrast with old Earth creationism (OEC), which holds literal interpretations of Genesis that are compatible with the scientifically determined ages of the Earth[7][8] and universe and theistic evolution, which posits that the scientific principles of evolution, the Big Bang, age of the universe and age of Earth are compatible with a metaphorical interpretation of Genesis.[9] Since the mid-20th century, young Earth creationists-starting with Henry Morris (1918-2006)-have developed and promoted a pseudoscientific[10] explanation called creation science as a basis for a religious belief in a supernatural, geologically recent creation, in response to the scientific acceptance of Charles Darwin's Theory of Evolution, which was developed in the previous century. Contemporary YEC movements arose in protest to the scientific consensus, established by numerous scientific disciplines, which demonstrates that the age of the universe is around 13.8 billion years, the formation of the Earth and Solar System happened around 4.6 billion years ago, and the origin of life occurred roughly 4 billion years ago.

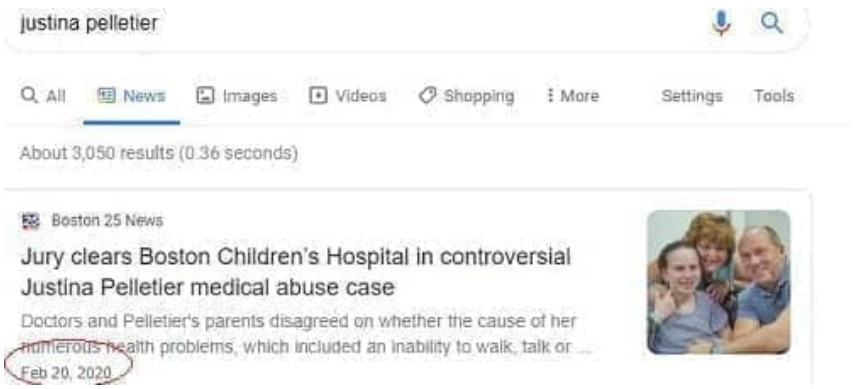
Justina Pelletier



Linda Pelletier is from Checkoslovokia and part of a pscyhlogically intense family, she has a figure skating background as her daughters do, the family shows ADD like coverstaional patterns per a visiting forensic psychiatrist.

According to Lou Pelletier, he took his daughter to Boston Children's Hospital to seek treatment for a negative reaction to the flu. They went to visit Dr. Alejandro Flores, her gastroenterologist, who had recently transferred to Boston from Tufts. However at Boston Children's Hospital, the request to see Flores was denied, and Jurrian Peters, a doctor just out of Harvard Medical School, treated Justina.

Peters assessed Justina's symptoms and brought in a psychologist, who concluded that her medical problems were psychiatric, a disease called Somatoform Disorder.

Boston Children's Hospital then asked the Pelletiers to sign a form agreeing to cease any further medical treatment in regards to Mitochondrial Disease. When the Pelletiers objected and demanded to take Justina back to Tufts where she had been treated for a year, Boston Children's Hospital brought DCF in and stripped them of their custodial rights on grounds of alleged medical abuse.

Justina has spent the last 13 months detained in two Massachusetts' facilities against her parents' wishes: Wayside Youth and Family Support Network facility in Framingham, Mass., after spending a year at the Boston Children's Hospital.

D. B. Cooper

Dan Cooper is the pseudonym of an unidentified man who hijacked a Boeing 727 aircraft in United States airspace between Portland and Seattle on the afternoon of NOVEMBER 24, 1971.[1][2] The man purchased his airline ticket using the alias Dan Cooper but, because of a news miscommunication, became known in popular lore as D. B. Cooper. He extorted $200,000 in ransom (equivalent to $1,260,000 in 2019) and parachuted to an uncertain fate. Despite an extensive manhunt and protracted FBI investigation, the perpetrator has never been located or identified. It remains the only unsolved case of air piracy in commercial aviation history.[3][4][5]

The pilot, William A. Scott (1920 - 2001), who had served in the United States Army Air Forces during World War II, contacted Seattl - Tacoma Airport air traffic control, which informed local and federal authorities. The 35 other passengers were given false information that their arrival in Seattle would be delayed because of a “minor mechanical difficulty”.[25] Northwest Orient’s president, Donald Nyrop, authorized payment of the ransom, and ordered all employees to cooperate fully with the hijacker’s demands.[26] The aircraft circled Puget Sound for approximately two hours to allow Seattle police and the FBI sufficient time to assemble Cooper’s parachutes and ransom money, and to mobilize emergency personnel.[3 D. B. Cooper

Flight attendant Tina Mucklow recalled that Cooper appeared familiar with the local terrain; at one point he remarked, “Looks like Tacoma down there,” as the aircraft flew above it. He also correctly mentioned that McChord Air Force Base was only a 20-minute drive (at that time) from Seattle-Tacoma Airport. Schaffner described him as calm, polite, and well-spoken, not at all consistent with the stereotypes (enraged, hardened criminals or “take-me-to-Cuba” political dissidents) popularly associated with air piracy at the time.[3]

During the International Geophysical Year 1957 - 1958, and subsequently through 1962 the 62d TCW supported scientific stations in the Arctic Ocean by airlanding and airdropping supplies on the drifting ice. It helped transport United Nations troops and supplies to the Congo in 1960. In 1963 the wing assumed responsibility for worldwide airlift of nuclear weapons and associated equipment, continuing this mission through early 1971.[6]

as witnessed by Mucklow.[38]) The FBI stressed that inclusion of the dummy reserve parachute, one of four obtained in haste from a Seattle skydiving school, was accidental.[91]

In March 2009, the FBI disclosed that Tom Kaye, a paleontologist from the Burke Museum of Natural History and Culture in Seattle, had assembled a team of “citizen sleuths”, including scientific illustrator Carol Abraczinskas and metallurgist Alan Stone. The group, eventually known as the Cooper Research Team,[94] re-investigated important components of the case using GPS, satellite imagery, and other technologies unavailable in 1971.[87] Although they gained little new information about the buried ransom money or Cooper’s landing zone, they were able to find and analyze hundreds of minute particles on Cooper’s tie using electron microscopy. Lycopodium spores (likely from a pharmaceutical product) were identified, as well as fragments of bismuth and aluminum.[94]

In NOVEMBER 2011, Kaye announced that particles of pure (unalloyed) titanium had also been found on the tie. He explained that titanium, which was much rarer in the 1970s than in the 2010s, was at that time found only in metal fabrication or production facilities, or at chemical companies using it (combined with aluminum) to store extremely corrosive substances.[95] The findings suggested that Cooper might have been a chemist or a metallurgist, or possibly an engineer or manager (the only employees who wore ties in such facilities at that time) in a metal or chemical manufacturing plant,[96] or at a company that recovered scrap metal from those types of factories.[97]

Bismuth titanate or bismuth titanium oxide is a solid inorganic compound of bismuth, titanium and oxygen with the chemical formula of Bi12TiO20, Bi 4Ti3O12 or Bi2Ti2O7

Bismuth titanates exhibit electrooptical effect and photorefractive effect, that is, a reversible change in the refractive index under applied electric field or illumination, respectively. Consequently, they have potential applications in reversible recording media for real-time holography or image processing applications.[4][1]

Electrophoresis is used in laboratories to separate macromolecules based on size. The technique applies a negative charge so proteins move towards a positive charge. Electrophoresis is used extensively in DNA, RNA and protein analysis.

On August 23, 1987, the bodies of 16-year old Don Henry and 17-year old Kevin Ives were hit by a cargo train in Alexander, Arkansas as they lay on the tracks. It was later discovered during autopsy that Don Henry has been stabbed in the back and Kevin Ives’ skull had been crushed prior to being run over. The train driver attempted to stop and blew the horn, but the momentum of the train carried it over the bodies.

One week before the boys died, a man wearing military fatigues was spotted not far from the train tracks. When police officer Danny Allen attempted to stop him, the man opened fire and managed to disappear into the night. On the same night the boys died, a similar-looking man dressed in military fatigues was spotted nearby

Former professional wrestler Billy Jack Haynes claimed to have videotaped the boys being run over by the train.[12]. He claims corrupt police officers involved in the drug trade killed the children because they witnessed a drug drop.[13]

- No bullet was ever found in Fort Marcy Park, even though Foster supposedly shot himself there.
- The gun that was found in his hand has never been positively identified as his.

- Foster’s fingerprints were not found on the gun. […] Some other critical facts:
- Foster’s car, a 1989 gray Honda, was not at Ft. Marcy Park when he died.
- The .38 revolver found in his hand was not the gun that killed him. It was not his gun. The caliber of the gun was too large to be consistent with the small hole in the side of Foster’s neck. A memo by Rodriguez found at the National Archives stated that “the corpse was staged with the revolver brought by” investigators.
- Foster’s so-called suicide note was a forgery. It said nothing about suicide. Handwriting experts say the note, which had no fingerprints on it, wasn’t even written by Foster. The note was found in a briefcase that had previously been searched.

The Parks Murder

“I’M A DEAD MAN,” whispered Jerry Parks, pale with shock, as he looked up at the television screen. It was a news bulletin on the local station in Little Rock. Vincent Foster, a childhood friend of the President, had been found dead in a park outside Washington. Apparent suicide.

He never explained to his son Gary what he meant by that remark, but for the next two months the beefy 6′ 3″ security executive was in a state of permanent fear. He would pack a pistol to fetch the mail. On the way to his offices at American Contract

Services in Little Rock he would double back or take strange routes to “dry-clean” the cars that he thought were following him. At night he kept tearing anxiously at his eyebrows, and raiding the valium pills of his wife, Jane, who was battling multiple sclerosis. Once he muttered darkly that Bill Clinton’s people were “cleaning house,” and he was “next on the list.”

[a] two-week trial in U.S. District Court involved the slaying of Eric Butera, 31, an informant who was robbed and then stomped to death while working with police on Dec. 4, 1997, in Southwest Washington. His mother, Terry Butera, filed a lawsuit alleging that police failed to take steps to protect him that night and that those failures contributed to his death.

“This was a young man who put his life on the line,” one juror said shortly after the 3:45 p.m. verdict. “He should have been more protected.”

Mary Caitrin “Caity” Mahoney - Killed on JULY 7, 1997

Caity, the youngest of three children, flunked the second grade but worked hard to catch up and by the sixth grade was accepted into the McDonogh School. She brought home report cards full of A’s and “an arsenal of great friends,” recalled her brother, Patrick Mahoney.

BUT CAITY STUTTERED, AND SHE DISLIKED ANSWERING THE TELEPHONE BECAUSE OF HER SPEECH IMPEDIMENT. BY THE TIME CAITY WAS IN THE EIGHTH GRADE, HER SPEECH HAD IMPROVED SO MUCH THAT SHE WON THE EIGHTH-GRADE ORATORY CHAMPIONSHIP. “CAITY WAS SO DETERMINED,” HER BROTHER RECALLED.

Mary Caitrin “Caity” Mahoney - Killed on July 7, 1997. In the pre-trial publicity surrounding Paula Jones lawsuit journalist Michael Isikoff dropped hints that a “former White House staffer” with the initial “M” was about to go public with her story of sexual harassment at the White House. Days later two gunmen entered a Starbuck’s that Mahoney managed. Two associates, Aaron Goodrich, 18 and Emory Evans, 25, were taken to a room and executed. Mahoney had five bullets in her, in the chest, her face, and in the back of the head from two different guns. $4000 in the store remained untouched.

On December 4th, just months after Caity Mahoney (and 2 co-workers) was murdered, Eric Butera, an informant who came forward offering information regarding the murder of White House intern Mary Caitrin Mahoney, was sent into an ambush situation by Federal agents and beaten to death.

Starbucks Suspect Faces Host of Charges

By Bill MillerWashington Post Staff Writer Thursday, AUGUST 5, 1999; Page B1

Carl Derek Cooper was charged in a 48-count federal racketeering indictment YESTERDAY with a host of crimes, including a triple slaying at a Starbucks coffeehouse.

Cooper, who has been in custody since March in the Starbucks case, also is accused of killing a security guard in Northwest Washington in 1993 and attempting to kill an off-duty Prince George’s County police officer in 1996. Like the July 1997 slayings of three employees at the coffee shop in Northwest Washington, the other violence took place during robberies, prosecutors said.

On the surface, the trio couldn’t have seemed more different. One was an African American man from New Jersey who dreamed of being a musician. Another was a gay Irish American woman from Baltimore who loved politics. The third was a young Jewish man who listened to hard rock, relished cartoons and movies and someday wanted to be a cop.

But all three — Emory Allen Evans, 25; Mary Caitrin Mahoney, 25; and Aaron David Goodrich, 18 — had overcome challenges in their young lives and landed jobs in a Georgetown coffee shop. Each described the job to family and friends as a pivotal step toward a future goal.

Instead, last Sunday night, in several horrific moments, those lives ended together. They were gunned down execution-style in the back room of the Starbucks on Wisconsin Avenue in Georgetown, a trendy coffee shop in an affluent Washington neighborhood that is seldom touched by such violence.

n Washington, where Ms. Mahoney had worked for more than a year, and in Baltimore, where her family still lives, loved ones tried yesterday to put her ebullient life into words.

Ms. Mahoney was the one who never cried as a baby and who stopped eating meat as an adult because she felt sorry for the animals.

She was the one who gave leftover food to homeless people on her way home from her waitress job, who trekked across Alaska with her 74-year-old grandmother, who danced literally until dawn with friends most weekends.

She was the one who watched CNN every day, who included her cat's name in the greeting on her answering machine, who still became homesick every now and then and didn't mind admitting it.

"Why does God take the angels and leave the rest?" asked Molly Mahoney, her sister.

The forensic pathologist then consulted with others and took extensive X-rays. As a result of these consultations and full-body X-rays, we absolutely ruled out anything beyond a blunt-force injury to the head."[7]

This, of course, has now raised the question of whether or not it's possible the Clintons might have had something to do with the woman's death. After all, it's not the first time we've all heard of something really, really bad happening to those who know things about this family.

On 20 NOVEMBER 1992, a fire broke out in Windsor Castle, the second largest inhabited castle in the world and one of the official residences of Queen Elizabeth II. The castle suffered extensive damage and was fully repaired within the next few years at a cost of £36.5 million, in a project led by the conservation architects Donald Insall Associates. It led to the Queen paying tax on her income, and to Buckingham Palace, the Queen's other official residence, being opened to the public to help pay for the restoration work.

Early stages

An 1848 drawing of the Private Chapel by Joseph Nash The fire began in the Queen's Private Chapel at 11:15 in the morning when a curtain was ignited by a spotlight pressed up against it.[1] Agents of the Royal Household were in the chapel at the time inspecting works of art.[2] A fire alarm went off[when?] in the watch room of the castle fire brigade, manned by the Chief Fire Officer, Marshall Smith. The location of the fire was shown by a light on a grid-map of the castle. Initially, the Brunswick Tower was lit up, but lights soon began to flash indicating that the fire had quickly spread to neighbouring rooms. A major part of the State Apartments was soon ablaze.

A Tuesday filing said a plea agreement hearing for Awan and his wife Hina Alvi has been set for July 3 before U.S. District Judge Tanya S. Chutkan in Washington.

The filing did not reveal any details about the terms of the apparent agreement. But in court documents last month, prosecutors hinted that a deal could be in the works.

“The parties are currently exploring a possible resolution of this matter,” prosecutors wrote. “Therefore, the parties are requesting additional time in which to explore that resolution.”

Gene Sperling, who worked with Krueger in the Obama administration as the director of the National Economic Council, tweeted: "Just shocked, just stunned, so, so saddened."

"Alan has been my friend and colleague for over 20 years - and one of the very most consequential economists of our generation," Sperling said. "His pathbreaking work on minimum wage was only one of many ways he used his genius for the good of all."

After serving as a Labor Department economist under President Bill Clinton, Krueger worked for President Barack Obama as a top Treasury official and then as chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers from 2011 to 2013.

While serving under Obama, he developed and popularized the concept of the "Great Gatsby Curve." It showed that high economic inequality corresponds with low economic mobility on a generation-to-generation basis. In short, it meant that when economic disparities between the rich and everyone else are wide, people's ability to improve their financial health depends even more heavily on their parents' economic status.

Victoria Windsor: Blogger, researcher into ancestry (sudden illness)

By Miki Booth

Dear Friends,

It is with a heavy heart that I inform you that Victoria passed away this morning at 4:15AM after a sudden illness. She is survived by her daughter, Deborah Rhodus, her mother, Betty Pugh, both of Colorado and 3 grandchildren. Prior to moving to Richmond, VA, Victoria lived in San Diego, Denver and Amarillo. Victoria ran a blog entitled, “Windsor’s America” on the website, “Richmond Patriots” or “The Patriots.” She was a champion for liberty defending the Constitution and instrumental in exposing corruption in the state of Virginia and criminal activity in and of the Obama administration. Victoria fought the good fight for our country and now deservedly and peacefully rests with God.

Victoria was active on blogs and newspapers in the constitutional arena. She was an excellent researcher, particularly in the area of ancestry. One of the last emails The Post and Email received from her stated that she had found evidence that the records of Madelyn Payne Dunham and Stanley Armour Dunham had been “tampered with.”

Over the last several months, Victoria had been involved in a new project which we do not believe she was able to complete.

Victoria had also performed extensive research on the background of then-presidential candidate Rick Santorum in an attempt to determine if he met the definition of “natural born Citizen” found in Article II, Section 1, clause 5 of the U.S. Constitution. It was believed that Santorum’s father had not naturalized prior to his son’s birth. Santorum dropped out of the race on April 10 but could be a candidate for vice president. The vice president must qualify under Article II in order to assume the duties of the president in the event of the president’s “removal, death or resignation” under the 25th Amendment.

For people who say they are the target of mind control or gang stalking, there may be enough evidence in the scientific literature to fan their beliefs. Many sites point to MK-ULTRA, the code name for a covert C.I.A. mind-control and chemical interrogation program begun in the 1950s.

Recently the sites have linked to an article published in September in Time magazine, “The Army’s Totally Serious Mind-Control Project,” which described a $4 million contract given to the Army to develop “thought helmets” that would allow troops to communicate through brain waves on the battlefield.

Leslianne began working at the CIA in February 1991. She received extensive training in operations and completed the Career Training Program in 1992. Her training included an interim assignment in the Directorate of Operations (DO) Africa Division, where she was responsible for operational support to several stations abroad.

Sylvia-Stasiewicz lived with and trained Bo before knowing who his owners were. She had been suggested to the family by Vicki Kennedy, wife of Senator Kennedy who had told her that the dog was for a "very busy family with two young daughters".

How are autism and cancer related? Two internationally known doctors may have lost their lives, because they knew about the connection between these two diseases.

Dr. Jeffrey Bradstreet, MD, an alternative autism specialist, and Dr. Nicholas Gonzalez, MD, an alternative cancer specialist, saw the truth and were willing to step outside of the standard allopathic medical model for treating cancer and autism. They were pioneers in their respective fields and both recently died or perhaps were killed because of their successful treatments of sick, suffering and dying patients.

Death of Dr. Bradstreet

On June 19, 2015, Dr. Bradstreet reportedly shot himself in the chest after his offices were raided by U.S. FDA agents and State of Georgia law enforcement agents. Three days before his death, agents exercised

When agents from the USFDA and local state of Georgia law enforcement raided Dr. Bradstreet's clinic, they had a very specific agenda - they were after everything they could find pertaining to GcMAF. The search warrant stated in part that agents were to gather all Globulin component Macrophage Activating Factor (GcMAF), GCGlobulin, and/or any other products or component substances thereof that constitute misbranded drugs under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

They were to collect all records, in whatever form, associated with the use of GcMAF. This included patient records.

Here is a link to the complete search warrant.

GcMAF is a Substance Produced in the Human Body

GcMAF is not a drug, but a natural substance produced in the human body. GcMAF was being produced in Europe and Dr. Bradstreet was using it with his patients. He was conducting clinical experiments the results of which were published in scientific medical journals. [4]

Scientific medical research is also being done on GcMAF for the treatment of terminal cancer. The results are very promising. [5]

Death of Dr. Gonzalez

On July 21, 2015 Dr. Nicholas Gonzalez died. The cause of death was indicated as a heart attack. At the time of this writing, results from an autopsy have yet to be published. He was reported to be in good health. [6, 7]

Dr. Nicholas Gonzalez. Image from Dr-Gonzalez.com.

Would a healthy man who understood how diet could be used to prevent, reverse and cure disease be someone who was likely to have a heart attack? Was his heart attack just a natural occurrence, or could it have been caused by an external intervention?

In 1975, testimony before the U.S. Congress indicated that a weapon had been developed to shoot a projectile into a victim without the victim's knowledge, which would introduce a nearly undetectable substance into the body that would cause a heart attack. The victim would be killed without the telltale evidence of normal bloody assignation. [8] How much more sophisticated weaponry has been developed in the last 40 years since that testimony? Are there new ways to permanently silence doctors who stand alone on the outside of conventional medicine and who will not be quiet about the truth they see?

Are the causes of death for these two very well-known alternative medicine doctors coincidental? Are we being told the truth? Is there a connection between their research and their deaths? Was there research about to cut a large hole in the cancer treatment business and the vaccine business? Let's take a closer look at GcMAF.

The Power of GcMAF to Cure Modern Diseases

What if there was a simple treatment that could reverse all forms of cancer without radiation, chemotherapy, or surgery? What if it was an unpatentable natural substance produced by the human body and could be given to boost the human immune system to such a degree that it could eradicate cancer from the body without side effects? What if that same substance could be given to autistic children and 85% of them would experience improvement in their autism and many would be completely cured? Wouldn't that be wonderful!

The British-American coup that ended Australian independence retrieved from The Gaurdian and copied or modified to here

John Pilger

Across the media and political establishment in Australia, a silence has descended on the memory of the great, reforming prime minister Gough Whitlam. His achievements are recognised, if grudgingly, his mistakes noted in false sorrow. But a critical reason for his extraordinary political demise will, they hope, be buried with him.

Australia briefly became an independent state during the Whitlam years, 1972-75. An American commentator wrote that no country had "reversed its posture in international affairs so totally without going through a domestic revolution". Whitlam ended his nation's colonial servility. He abolished royal patronage, moved Australia towards the Non-Aligned Movement, supported "zones of peace" and opposed nuclear weapons testing.

Although not regarded as on the left of the Labor party, Whitlam was a maverick social democrat of principle, pride and propriety. He believed that a foreign power should not control his country's resources and dictate its economic and foreign policies. He proposed to "buy back the farm". In drafting the first Aboriginal lands rights legislation, his government raised the ghost of the greatest land grab in human history, Britain's colonisation of Australia, and the question of who owned the island-continent's vast natural wealth.

Latin Americans will recognise the audacity and danger of this "breaking free" in a country whose establishment was welded to great, external power. Australians had served every British imperial adventure since the Boxer rebellion was crushed in China. In the 1960s, Australia pleaded to join the US in its invasion of Vietnam, then provided "black teams" to be run by the CIA. US diplomatic cables published last year by WikiLeaks disclose the names of leading figures in both main parties, including a future prime minister and foreign minister, as Washington's informants during the Whitlam years.

Whitlam knew the risk he was taking. The day after his election, he ordered that his staff should not be "vetted or harassed" by the Australian security organisation, Asio - then, as now, tied to Anglo-American intelligence. When his ministers publicly condemned the US bombing of Vietnam as "corrupt and barbaric", a CIA station officer in Saigon said: "We were told the Australians might as well be regarded as North Vietnamese collaborators."

Fount of Honour influencing "Fountain of Authority or Taproot of Power in US Founding terms of governmental philosophy

The Sovereign is 'the fountain of all honour and dignity' and enjoys the sole right of conferring all titles of honour, dignities and precedence. Formerly most honours were awarded on the advice of the prime minister and the premiers.

The Order of Australia was instituted not by statute but by Letters Patent under the royal prerogative, and has since replaced most imperial honours except those in the personal gift of the Sovereign.

In the United Kingdom, The Queen is the Defender of the Faith, and the Supreme Governor of the Church of England, which is established in England and Wales.

In Australia there is no established church, but it is worth recalling that the preamble to the Constitution Act, 1900 (Imp) recites that the people of the several colonies "humbly relying on the blessings of Almighty God," had " agreed to unite in one indissoluble Federal Commonwealth under the Crown." When that was submitted to a wide consultation process before the referenda to approve the Constitution, this provision attracted very strong public and political support.

The couple separated before their son was born. When Julian was a year old, his mother married Brett Assange, an actor with whom she ran a small theatre company and whom Julian regards as his father (choosing Assange as his surname)

Christine and Brett Assange divorced around 1979. Christine then became involved with Leif Meynell, also known as Leif Hamilton, whom Julian Assange later described as “a member of an Australian cult” called The Family. They separated in 1982.

The Family - also called the Santiniketan Park Association and the Great White Brotherhood - is an Australian New Age group formed in the mid-1960s under the leadership of yoga teacher Anne Hamilton-Byrne (born Evelyn Grace Victoria Edwards; 30 December 1921 - 13 June 2019). The group’s headquarters was raided by the police on 14 August 1987 and all children were removed from the premises.

The Family teaches an eclectic mixture of Christianity and Hinduism with other Eastern and Western religions on the principle that spiritual truths are universal.[3] [page needed] The children studied the major scriptures of these religions and also the works of fashionable gurus including Sri Chinmoy, Meher Baba, and Rajneesh.[4] [page needed] The group has an inner circle who justify their actions by their claim to be reincarnations of the Apostles of Jesus.(Great Society like Jonestown)

During the late 1960s and the 1970s, Newhaven Hospital in Kew was a private psychiatric hospital owned and managed by Marion Villimek, a Santiniketan member; many of its staff and attending psychiatrists were also members.

Many patients at Newhaven were treated with the hallucinogenic drug LSD.[12] The hospital was used to recruit potential new members from among the patients, and also to administer LSD to members under the direction of the Santiniketan psychiatrists John Mackay and Howard Whitaker.[13] One of the original members of the Association was given LSD, electroconvulsive therapy, and two leucotomies, also called lobotomies, during the late 1960s.[7]

MK-Ultra and Monarch "sleepers":the case of The Family cult in Australia

A Sleeper Agent is a spy who is placed in a target country or organization, not to undertake an immediate mission, but rather to act as a potential asset if activated.If they are mind controlled and programmed they most of the time are not even aware to be "sleepers" ,or even agents for that matter, and live a normal life until a pre-programmed sound or command activates them.

During the '60 and '70 and '80 the cover for C.I.A.'s Monarch and MK-Ultra projects in Australia was a sect/cult called "The Family" [which is what Julian Assange was born into but rejected.] It was set up as a school for children but as it turned out after the investigation of the Australian Federal Police,it was in reality a mind controlling/programming facility of the C.I.A.

Known children that were raised in The Family cult were Martin Bryant,the spree killer who pled guilty to murdering 35 people and injuring 21 others in the Port Arthur massacre, and Julian Assange. A mention of this crucial event in Julian's life even appears in the Hollywood blockbuster movie based on his life called "The Fifth Estate". During a dialogue at the beginning, Assange tells his former friend and colleague Daniel Berg, > Assange: "When I was 13, my mother started dating a guy who was part of a nasty Australian cult. The Family. They believed in blue auras and cleansing souls and the strict discipline of children … starvation diets … regular dosing of psychiatric drugs and severe beatings. It had a surprisingly large network of influence, extending to the highest levels of government. My mum knew the guy was a

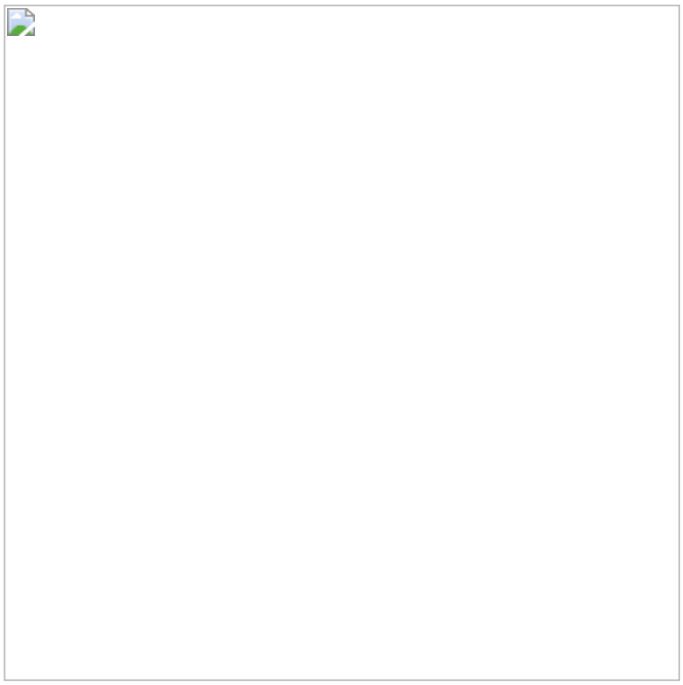
[I Ed Donegan would rather kill Julian Assange before he spent even one second in any US legal system.]

Assange has reportedly been left with a drooping right eyelid, memory problems and signs of neurological damage following a mini-stroke.

It’s reported the stroke happened at the time of a High Court appearance via video link in October.

His fiancee Stella Moris said he is “struggling” with the stress of fighting extradition to a US prison.

Since the mini-stroke, Assange reportedly has had an MRI scan and is taking anti-stroke medication.



Ms Moris told the Mail: “Julian is struggling and I fear this mini-stroke could be the precursor to a more major attack. It compounds our fears about his ability to survive the longer this long legal battle goes on.

“It urgently needs to be resolved. Look at animals trapped in cages in a zoo. It cuts their life short. That’s what’s happening to Julian. The never-ending court cases are extremely stressful mentally.”

Deaths of 215 children at Kamloops residential school - CTV retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

“When the oblates began to centralize their operations, they began to divest themselves of their records by donating them to appropriate public archives across the country,” Weber told CTV News Vancouver.

She says there are four other locations across the country with archives from the oblates, but B.C. has the bulk of the material.

In fact, Weber says the museum has “about 250 bankers’ boxes” full of records. Those include official government documents, letters, correspondence, daily journals, diaries and reports.

“Some of the records are written in cursive and some people had very good handwriting and some didn’t,” Weber said, adding she is “very adept” at reading the script.

Weber believes the documents will give an insight into the “conditions of life at the schools.” That could include evidence of disease outbreaks like measles, as well as the conditions of the buildings where the children lived.

According to information already recorded by the National Centre for Truth and Reconciliation, in 1910, the school’s principal said that the government did not provide enough money to feed the students properly. In 1924, a portion of the school was destroyed by fire.

Weber says the documents also include information about the missionary work that the oblates did in the surrounding communities.

“There’s information that speaks to the conditions in general for the Indigenous people of that region at various points in time over the past 150 or so years,” she said. “It also speaks to the relationship between the Department of Indian Affairs and the school itself, as there’s a lot of letters and communication and reports back and forth between those two entities.”

The museum is in the process of digitizing the documents, which is happening with the assistance of UBC’s Indian Residential School History and Dialogue Centre.

“They have wonderful technology and the capability to safely store electronic records and share them in a way that can keep them restricted and private so that only the community members have access to them,” Weber said.

Breaking and Entering vs Trespassing - What's the difference? retrieved from Shouse Law Group and copied or modified to here

Breaking and entering and trespassing are similar but distinct crimes. Breaking and entering generally involves the use of force, however slight, to gain entry into a building or residence. Trespass only requires an unauthorized entry onto someone else's property, with or without forced entry.

In most states, there also has to be an intent to commit a crime for it to be breaking and entering. The penalties are also different.

What is the crime of breaking and entering?

Generally, breaking and entering is the crime of using force or fraud to gain access to a building, and then entering it in order to commit a crime. Breaking and entering is sometimes referred to as "B&E."

Some states have criminal laws that forbid breaking and entering, specifically. Each state may define the crime slightly differently. Many other states, like New York and California, do not have criminal laws that specifically prohibit breaking and entering. Instead, these states cover the act with other criminal statutes, like burglary.

To add even more complexity, in some states, burglary only requires entering a building. The act of breaking into it is no longer necessary. California is one of these states.[1] The wide variation in state laws makes it important to discuss your particular case with a local criminal defense lawyer.

What is the crime of trespassing?

Trespassing is the crime of entering or remaining on someone else's property without permission or a right to do so.

In California, the elements of the crime of trespassing are:

- the defendant willfully entered someone else's property,

- the defendant had the specific intent to interfere with the other person's property rights, and
- the defendant did actually interfere with those property rights.[2]

The prosecutor has to prove each of these elements beyond a reasonable doubt.

What are the differences between the two?

Generally, breaking and entering is different from trespassing in 3 ways:

1. breaking and entering requires the use of force or fraud,
2. trespassing can happen anywhere, while B&E can only happen in a building, and
3. there has to be an intent to commit a crime for it to be breaking & entering.

These differences can be very slight and nuanced. Additionally, different states can have different definitions of breaking and entering. However, the differences can turn a relatively minor offense of trespassing into a more serious property crime. An experienced criminal defense attorney can help fight the criminal charge.

Force or fraud

Perhaps the most important difference between trespassing and breaking and entering is the use of force to gain entry. Cases of trespass, even criminal trespass, do not require the use of force or fraud. In many states, breaking and entering does. The amount of force required to gain entry, though, does not have to be great for it to become B&E. It can even be negligible.

In one state that has a breaking and entering law, Indiana, the following cases had sufficient force to be considered a breaking and entering:

- gaining access to a store through an unlocked door,[3] and
- further opening a door that is already slightly ajar.[4]

However, it is generally not considered to be breaking and entering when someone enters without using force because there was already an opening.

> For example: Steven reaches through an open car window and steals a tape cassette player.[5]

Some states, like California, have burglary laws that cover conduct that used to be considered breaking and entering. Many of these laws have done away with the need for force.[6] In these states, simply entering the premises to commit a crime is enough.

Breaking and entering can also be done through fraud, rather than through force. Coercing or tricking someone into allowing a defendant to enter does not make the entry a lawful one.

> For example: David walks up to a house and rings the doorbell. He asks to be let inside to use the phone because his car broke down. Once inside, he attacks the occupant and > steals money. He is convicted of burglary for breaking into and entering the home.[7]

Buildings

While trespassing can happen anywhere on someone else's property, breaking and entering generally has to involve a building. In some states, it has to be a residence or dwelling.

The reason for this difference is that the law of breaking and entering is designed to protect people. Trespassing is just to keep others from intruding on property. Therefore, courts have required that the building or structure be large enough to accommodate a person,[8] and could actually be lived in.[9] However, the property owner does not have to be inside at the time of the offense for it to be breaking and entering.[10]

Intent to commit a crime

The crime of breaking and entering generally requires an intent to commit another crime - usually robbery, theft, or arson. Trespassing does not.

This intent to commit a crime has to exist at the time of the breaking and entering.[11] However, it only has to be an intent to commit the crime. It is not a defense that the intended crime was never committed.

Some states require the crime to be a felony offense. Many other states, including California, require an intent to commit a felony or a theft or larceny crime while inside. In other states, the intent to commit any crime will do.

What are the penalties of a conviction?

Because breaking and entering is a more severe type of criminal offense than mere trespassing, the penalties of a conviction are also higher. Breaking and entering is often a felony. Trespassing is usually a misdemeanor.

In California, for example, the crime of entering a structure or vehicle with the intent to commit a felony or theft is considered burglary.[12]

First-degree burglary is any burglary of a residence. It is always a felony offense. Convictions come with:

- up to $10,000 in fines,
- a 2, 4, or 6 year prison sentence in a California state prison, and/or
- a "strike" on the defendant's criminal record under California's Three Strikes law.[13]

Second-degree burglary in California is the crime of burglary involving any building that is not a residence. In California, these burglary charges are wobblers. Prosecutors can pursue either misdemeanor or felony charges.

If pursued as a felony, convictions carry up to:

- $10,000 in fines, and/or
- 16 months, 2 years, or 3 years of jail time in county jail.[14]

If pursued as a misdemeanor, convictions carry up to:

- $1,000 in fines, and/or

- 1 year in county jail.[15]

The penalties for trespassing in California are lower. Most trespassing cases in the state are simple misdemeanors. Convictions carry up to:

- 6 months in county jail, and/or
- $1,000 in fines.[16]

In certain, rare cares, trespassing carries higher penalties in California. Some examples are:

- refusing to leave a domestic violence shelter for battered women after being asked to do so,[17] and
- aggravated trespass, or entering someone else's property after making a credible threat on his or her safety.[18]

Whether charged with trespass or breaking and entering, defendants should strongly consider establishing an attorney-client relationship with a criminal defense lawyer from a reputable law firm and getting their legal advice for how to proceed.

Dozens of National Security Agency, DARPA, and other Pentagon officials purchased and downloaded child pornography over the Internet, according to a report in The Boston Globe on Friday.

The newspaper said it obtained more than 50 pages of documents revealing that the government workers identified in an internal probe included NSA contractors with top secret clearances, one of whom has fled the country and is believed to be hiding in Libya.

Another involved a person working at the super secret National Reconnaissance Office, which operates the military's spy satellites, who was transferred to a field office and has not been charged with a crime.

In the United States, it is legal to possess obscene materials, which are generally defined as hardcore pornography involving consenting adults. It is also legal to posses non-obscene pornography.

But the knowing possession of child pornography is a federal felony. In the last few decades, the definition of child pornography has been expanded to include not only depictions of minors being sexually abused, but even images of clothed girls in leotards and, as CNET reported in 2006, photographs of clothed minors in what prosecutors claim were overly "lascivious" poses.

- A victim perhaps exploitatively photographed, will later find she had been vicimized when both the Gangstalk Victim and the Confidential Informant were at the location (Golds Gym members refered Moron J Ploy.)
- In my case the victim will approach misrepresentation of me who also likely represents her, as "the community" the "church group" or a retardation firm.
- Though all the little piece of the chain of events happened, were drawn out any single context the Police Narrative will glue them into a narrative context fitting the events together real and faked.

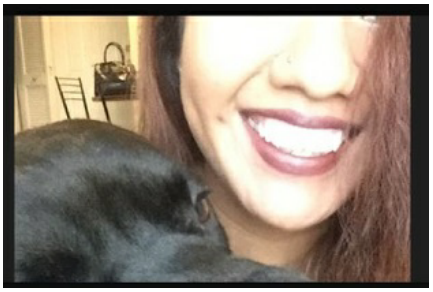
I'm starting a couple of libertarian-oriented groups in the DC area, and Bruce Majors suggested that you might be interested.



One is the Kameny Way Area Libertarian Club. It's centered on Kameny Way, obviously — that's 17th Street between P and R NW. From there, our target area goes out a half-mile to a mile, or a 10-to-20-minute walk. If you're outside that area, no problem. We welcome everyone, regardless of geography.

I expect we'll have the first meeting of the KWALC in July, most likely at Trio (http://www.triodc.com, 202-232-6305), 1537 17th Street NW

The other is the Mensa Libertarianism SIG, meeting June 10. This is a Special Interest Group in the local Mensa chapter. People who are or might be interested in joining Mensa are welcome to attend. Here is the listing in the local Mensa newsletter:

"Tuesday, June 10 // 7-9pm: LIBERTARIANISM SIG. Join us at Trio Restaurant,1537 17th Street NW in Washington, DC (202-232-6305, www.triodc.com) for a friendly, agree-to-disagree discussion of politics, culture, and events by anyone interested in libertarianism or in hanging out with libertarians. Ask for the Mensa table. POC: Steve Allen

(I'm encouraging all libertarians, Mensan or not, to attend, especially the first meeting, because I want to make sure that there's a decent-sized group there.)

Feel free to call or e-mail if you have any questions. — Steve

I am not a high value target for any Fusion Center, Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit but my assets are AS I AM FRAMED by high profile politicians.

So what do they want from my seize-able assets as they fake the basis to seize them from me? This is the question, the challenge, Jim Volcelka challenged me to solve and I think it is that legitimacy must exist for my genome to others if that has ALREADY happened why not make it legal, and I think that includes the Obama family and other Illuminati Family who want my genome undetected and used from me but legitimized in others.

Roadblocking me in Housing and NORMAL cities and counties

Roadblocking, Disruption of Continuous Event Paths as applied to Housing

Roadblocking is a forgery system starting with tieing me to something like saying what bedroom I will be renting on the Volcelcka house then after that altering which bedroom I was in while building a chain of events in the bedroom originaly tied to me but I was blocked from continuing with.

Machold Rare Violins, domiciled in Bremen, was the global market leader in the historic string instruments trade. retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The company was established in 1861 in Markneukirchen as a violin manufacturer. The owner was Dietmar Harry Joachim Machold, born in 1949 and resident at Schloss Eichbüchl bei Katzelsdorf. Of the surviving 600 violins, 60 cellos and 12 violas crafted by Antonio Stradivari in Cremona, Italy, around half have passed through Machold's. The company also sold Guarneri del Gesù violins.

Machold had branch establishments in Vienna, Zurich (Geigenbau Machold GmbH and Cadenza AG), Alpnach (Bomalu AG), Bremen, Berlin, New York City, Aspen, Chicago, Seoul and Tokyo, buying and selling, among others, Stradivari and del Gesù violins.[1]

Dietmar Machold was given the title of honorary professor for a collection of historic violins he procured for the Oesterreichische Nationalbank.

In June 2011 one anonymous buyer paid $15.9 million for the Lady Blunt Stradivarius.[1]

Dietmar Machold was arrested in Switzerland in March 2011. He was accused of embezzlement and grand commercial fraud, among other things. A further reason for his arrest is the fact that Machold has settled in Switzerland instead of remaining in Austria.[2] In November 2012, Machold was convicted of embezzlement and fraud by an Austrian court. He was sentenced to 6 years in prison.

Forgeries in misrpresenting a fake product as authentic

In a television documentary on the case it was noted a certificate of proof of authenticity of a violin's origin was valid but not for the violin being represented.

It is this form of forgery Roadblocking creates. Real value does exist, but some identifying element is applied (incorrectly) to some other item which does not posses the real value. It appears from the certificate use on the replacement element that the replacement element is the same as or has the same value as the original element.

Collusion and Cartel

People in a similar or conneced area of enterprise colluded with each other for a mutually beneficial act of fraud.

Machold Rare Violins mad a large donations of rare violins to an operao, over valued, and the opera accepted the violins and false valuation thus the opera had a greater claim of musical resources to attract ticket sales and perhaps musicians and public attention.

Regarded by many as the most influential dealer in the world, Machold, who went on trial last month on charges of serious fraud, embezzlement, misappropriation and fraudulent bankruptcy to the tune of about €250 million, may soon be reviled as the 'Bernie Madoff of the violin world'.

Fitzgerald blew the whistle, many of Machold's later deals might have been prevented. Instead, it was business as usual.

FItzgerals: When I was in Vienna in 2005 researching an art fraud case for a British newspaper, I was interested in finding out whether the fallout from the Axelrod affair had had an impact on the international violin market. I arranged to meet Dietmar Machold at his office near the Opera House. Sweeping into the elegant premises, the fox collar of his coat turned up against the chill, he was all charm. Not only did he claim that accusations that he overvalued instruments had no impact on the business, he also insisted that within the tiny, elite world of top dealers in Britain and the United States, which he described as 'part gentleman's club, part Mafia cartel', he was in any case seen as an outsider.

Fitzgerald then filed a statement with the United States Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and the Senate Committee on Finance, which was then investigating tax fraud through donations of overvalued artworks to charities. Alleging 'a taxation fraud perpetrated by an eminent American collector with Mr Machold's collusion'

At roughly 5:30 PM 3/7/2021 I was in between sets of jump rope with the music at a very moderate level and I began to facebook post the glass I had on top of my wood bookcase and post how I could if I wanted to sink a bolt post then use 1/4 holes in the glass along with perhaps washers to set one or more layers of glass shelf on using the bolts posts.

A black male from 47 who had no right to surveil or ambush me immediately appeared at my door on a flimsy excuse, my music was too loud for his daughter, which distracted my activity of normal living.

This pattern of a harassing act to my normal life, often creating an appearance I need help, is part of others asserting their claim to what I am doing (in a taunt often expressed I am a retarded white person) while them force teaming by ambush of to what I am doing as if they were doing it or we were doing it together.

Perhaps 800 to 900 ambushes, never anything not ambushed in regular and constant Gangstalk by Behavioral Health as I am pushed to appear a low performer in comparison to others ambushing me as superiors which deny my assets and claims other in control of my assets which need management.

> It appears I have the kind of Adaptive Intelligence that can value add to a $25.00 USD bookcase and turn into a thing of value. How that could help foreign economies!

I described this in a lawsuit citing Jim Volcelka teaching me who I could put a motorcycle bag on the side of the seat side hand rails to carry my tools in attempting to preempt the fact I already had bought a tool-bag in San Francisco, had it with me, and was staring to mount it.

Dimuniiziong me as retarded in part achieves the affect of making me look retarded, and by pushing that hot button with me these Mental Health System bird doggers may get me throw the punch at them for these activities, activities Law Enforcement back and assist the conduct of 800 to 900 times this happening may understate this in the 35 years I so I have been fighting the Gangstalk and at least 300 times in the last 4 years.

Included in this are annoying phone calls as I am doing regular life things and the phone calls are a from of “shot” as are gunning engines, etc., letting me know I am being watched and stalked from a veiled stalk system.

I am either

- Retarded and getting coaching
- A Psycho for punching clear homeless people bird dogger stalkers force teaming themselves with me in offensive times and ways, which sounds like Foval and Creamer working for DNC/Obama

One interesting example of this is during my ride I had a stripped thread side view mirror problem. I was trying to find a reverse thread lock nut in a regular hardware store and while I was doing it some social worker type women surrounded me in an empty store and said “my retarded boy needs help with his scooter. He needs a bolt to fix the handle bar mirror” to the store clerk, a black female was at the register with a cheap shot grin, and the two women almost touch me among three isles of bolt draws, all other isles empty were saying (cluing me into that they were social workers) “I feel like this one would be the one that would fit it” and they did realize they were satirizing themselves.

The building has all sorts of slight of hands confusions like the letter B and 8 right next to each other and consider how this scam operates.

A female connected to, hanging out with 4B residents, is with some other guests of 4B, they make some “milk” like references.

Mops are pushed all around 48 while the apartment 4B is right next door, and the fake hero peeping from the adjoining unit “owes” and provides DNA to the family making milk references, people push mops or cleaning rags all around where the fake hero was or might have been, and this surround me walking around.

The manufacture of confusion is the art of Bunko and I will have a full chapter and the sapient architecture of a complex “sperm bank” long con using corrupt law enforcement and profiteering shills.

Because 4B and 48 are separate units what each party knows, those who occupy 4B and 48 may not match the same story.

It is possible the female in 4B thinks she was peeped at by Edward Donegan in 48 or someone substituting for Edward Donegan in 48, if she knows it is a substitute she may feel better about being peeped at by the substitute for Edward Paul Donegan.

A Central Intelligence though which includes the ability to setup the physical layout scam and operations may have the sole consistent sapient truth to the happenings.

My apartment is not wired for AT&T, they confuse apartment numbers, which wiring goes where, etc., and this is the usual of the long con set of the victim unit and the adjourning fake hero unit who is caught (by him or herself peeping at the next door unit.

Es a Peeper in the identity of Edward Donegan. Then in the identity of a neighborhood watch hero finding evidence Ed Donegan peepes, an event like that 1/5/2021.

This has operated all my life, is based in fraud, but compounding fraud it had taken decades of my research to both prove the existence of and research the motive of.

It is the false manufacture of DNA rights and PCR manufacture of my DNA may accompany rights to my DNA under peeping claims.

In what might be called “movie line pull out” or Hero replacing me comes on to dominatrices, or better

A key feature of this has been creating fights with me and what may be true of my ancestry and WWI and WWII and sensitizing me on that subject with provoked disputes, then suggesting someone with less baggage move in to Stay and Play instead.

August September Leave and Play

During the month of August 2018 I was at Stay and Play Bondage theme Bed and Breakfast and Jim V and I should have been perfect friends but he was recruited into abusively planting evidence on me and attacking me during August.

During this time I invited Deja for a scene and in August I was asked to leave.

The KOMPROMAT generated by evidence plants and frames, shown to Deja, motivated her to reject me and in September, after I left, see and impersonator of mw who would “throw money” at her white buttocks and she would on false evidence reject me as a loser though she never met me.

The presence of Barack Obama thank you card there and the totality of my life leads me to concluding Espionage is harassing my normal access to reproductive life as I am beat out to just about any connection or project or other activity I start towards via an espionage take over of it.

Jim Vocelcka asked why he and William Ruiz would force me out of the BDSM scene or normal US Cities and while at it why they would claim rights to my DNA by shaking down me as a white supremacist scum.

Riuz Rocket doc x (My motorcycle jacked stolen, used in chair by Ruiz masturbating as though me

> There is law enforcement or Secret Service, DOD, or other internal law enforcement support based on what I have been told by at least 9 people. In ErosX (My identity is crossed out with someone else s) black sex offenders, black foreign nationals, and junkie white trash or other tattooed prison felons have been setup to receive stolen or embezzled property, telling me they were hired by the DOD to do so and in fact they have used names like “Harvey Dent” and “Casper.” I do believe this is slush fund related corruption and in international RICO scheme.

In the course of this book and researching I find it was attacks on me that led me to research and resent racial assaults on me and others, and as salt gets rubbed into the sensitivities I have developed around these assaults, the assailants claim the higher ground and profit off the fights generated with me.

In short, if the parties are non neutral, have a shakedown scheme, and the scheme is a fight erupts around race between a proud white and proud black, the proud black will win the public and any observer especially non-neutral profit gaining observer with a secret motive.

If fact though my research also indicates these racial assaults on me, planting evidence of child porn to take down a white person in society, was created by the old white CIA connected families which ran the CIA like George H.W. Bush and now want to sabotage and even get the CIA in control of my reproductivity by giving non whites or gays a stake in a fight with me which I will lose.

Getting me ostracized from a potential family life by faked allegations will work, and it works by showing how framing me can pay off for social good, if good people will frame and attack me (as dupes of George H.W. Bush and others.)

It is called the Precious Gemms Scam, people are told a Gullible loser fool is coming along and you can help shake him down and then you (or the cause you like) will be in possession of the Precious Gems when the scam is over and he has left without them.

The Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs is the state agency responsible for affordable housing, community and energy assistance programs, colonia activities, and regulation of the state's manufactured housing industry. The Department currently administers $2 billion through for-profit, nonprofit, and local government partnerships to deliver local housing and community-based opportunities and assistance to Texans in need. The overwhelming majority of the Department's resources are derived from mortgage revenue bond financing and refinancing, federal grants, and federal tax credits.

All TDHCA divisions regularly interact with other state and federal agencies, the state legislature, housing and community development organizations, community assistance agencies, lending institutions, real estate interests, the media, and other public sources.

Examples of things that might indicate unlawful rental discrimination is occurring could include (but are not limited to):

- Lying about or misrepresenting the availability of housing when housing is available
- Requiring different terms or conditions based solely on a household member's race, color, national origin, religion, sex, familial status, or disability

- Advertising that indicates a limitation or preference based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, familial status, or disability
- Harassment or intimidation such as verbal threats, vandalism, or unwanted sexual advances
- A refusal to make reasonable accommodations for a person with disabilities
- Being steered to properties, buildings, or units on one side of a complex based solely on factors related to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, familial status, or disability, regardless of other available options

In addition to rights under the Fair Housing Act (www.justice.gov) which are further described on the Fair Housing 101 page, Texas Property Code (www.statutes.legis.state.tx.us) includes an overview of your basic rights as a tenant in a rental property.

Additional resources may be available to you through your local Legal Aid Office or through one of HUD's approved rental counseling programs (hud.gov). Many Legal Aid Offices also operate legal clinics or hotline services to better serve the public. A comprehensive listing of each office's location, services, and hours is available at TXLawHelp.org (www.txlawhelp.org).

Just as I was on my way to pay rent at Stay and Play a Crisis Actor Team created a crisis to road black that, and the same happened as I was trying to move to Austin, but a fake crisis blocked my getting to Austin when the fake crisis got their first and me kicked out before I got there.

Initially I thought and still at least idealize Austin as a good town for me. Bicycles, health, hiking, bdsm scene, university town, capital of a state, lower cost of living, high tech center, parks and rec, etc.,

I joined a motorcycle meetup, had drinks downtown, during a stalk, was stalked everywhere, pools were shutdown on pretext, it would have been a national emergency if I I met a white female between 25 and 40 and helicopter gunships and black nationalist prison recruits were on hand to make sure that never happened.

I was gang swarmed by cheap shot black females perhaps 85 times the times I was there of nothing other than black nationalism and Asians with a tude swamring those around me, always denyimg they were doing it.

The move in was an example. I had a lease. dishwasher and washer dryer, cheap rent, on the park for excersize on tree lined trails, etc.,

Malicious filthiness so absurd only Black Nationalists could be behind it. Pretending I was a retarded person who thought an apartment complex who's marketing effort was that it had student level pricing and was near a college therefore meant I was mentally retarded delusion thinking he was in "incoming freshman waiting for his dorm room assignment." Unlike most homeless people being recruited to physically assault me I have lived in dorms, near schools, and away from schools, and the statement towards me were insane.

"Meet by the poolside" for your dorm assignment. No, the lease stipulated they assign the 1 X1 apartment. A fake peeping incident handled by "Cynthia Nino" allegedly protection children (which I can not get away from even at Stay and Play) would get me away from adult women as though "my balls had been cut off" by those black nationalist who keep threatening me, as they said.

(ordered me off the property of my lease as I was there with my moving truck and belongings with threats of police action if I stayed. I was late a day or two though my apartment was being hit by Hurican Henry as I was packing and driving.

The general pattern is a black defeating white supremcism conducts a peep but it is alleged to me. The black nationalist fighting white supremacism then make a baseless cheap shot at me, aviding a direct statement and thus avoiding direct scrutiny, yet say they are “always above” (a white person) and “really on to me now” (though no allegation) and happily tell me what scum I am.

Because the “legend” of peeping is alleged then my dna is due to blacks and I must be removed from women being around me.

Protection Racket

Not only do False Flags of Crisis actors create closed doors to me the Crisis Actors bill my trust fund for high power muscle cars, beach going 4 jeeps, other equipment to patrol against further crisis, though they generated the crisis they are on patrol for.

Who did take the photo of the teen or tot I can not get away from me? REruited sex offenders and others the protection racket who claims to have me as a client had already as a charged. I am then charged (by their protection racket) for that act of that “zoom photographer” who took the picture I am not interested in.

Then, acting on “all peoples safety” I am moved into homeless shelters and county programs which will manage my IQ genes, etc., for me.

THe protection racket breaks my leases on false pretenses, etc., to get me into Social Services as a white male with no normal life being lived.

In absurdity they simply deny their are moving white women away from me even when they assault white woman, assault her, threaten to arrest her, or shout a death threat at me.

Their (the protection racket's) cause is not shown to me, no allegation is made to me, thus I am not given a chance to scrutinize the claim behind my back people are "my pornography" entitled to my DNA. I do not photo women without permission.

First last and massive deposit were paid in advance but had been "zeroed out" prior to my arrival

In fact rather than the unflushed ghetto toilets I am force into that would have been a better lifestyle for me.

I have posted on Storm Front I have a White Supremacist stomach, made ill by the site of third wold education levels, third world behavior, ghetto filth and ghetto losers and ghetto crachheads and ghetto music.

Force out of Austin at gun point and with repeated institutionalization design to keep black nationalist lefist protection racket denial of my ordinary life, including by stealing my wallet, blacks forced me back to Daiper Stain Texas 78411 again.

The sight, sound, and actions of Diaper Stain reaffirm my Nazism and Odinism and the gay leftism of social Austin as well as Abbot, the CIA and DOD history of Texas, CIA front operations at places like University of Texas Austin match the MKULTRA Gods CIA activities I hate anyway.

Thus my life for Austin was mixed with the realization I don't like many of the ingredients.

Leaving for Gay austin was not far enough. I believed then and still now that even Canada is not far enough away from here.

As always I can't get to the hearing, can't find wout what was told the the psych examiner with me not there, and never say any paper work as I rotted away in detention and black nationalists pulled the usual stunts during my detention, like giving books I requested to a black and putting me in some corner broom closet cell I was never let out of just like being put in a near bulkhead on Amtrack by black nationalists who surrounded me there.

I live in discreet non adjoing units which are Quauntum Tunneled incursion system where from close enough to me the borders can be violated in some way for others near me to create blur moving their liabilties to me and my assets to them.

My rental of it and planned and actual use of it

To understand it you must first my “I just had a heat attack and it changed my life” lifestyle.

Some time ago, years ago, over a decade ago Dr. Christina Baselga of Arlington Internal Medicine was concerned about my medical condition.

I was overweight, hypertensive, aging, and had breathing difficulty, a task avoid by me through the use of alcoholic beverages to preoccupy my assphogus .

Like my father, she assured me these were warning signs of bad health to come.

It was time to educate the young skinny doctor.

People grow old and fat. It is right. If William Shatner can then I can too.

Well anyway that lasted until I was diagnosed with diabetes and an A1c of 13.3. Meeting her in the park I though by coincidence (she with a child) I said to her I took the A1c 33.3 thing seriously, getting the number scale I was just starting to learn wrong and the numerals jumbled.

In fact on reading the symptoms I joined the gym went to lean meats, cut the drinking, and started working out the the hard driving music I already listened to and let Auto-play find me more during the free hours i had, even budgeting time in the day at home for gym music music hunt on YouTube.

Penny Ashley, an Arlington Behavioral Health Care worker commented on my weight loss while she had been away for a while.

“I never thought it would be me saying it” I told her. “I feel like one of those people who had a heart attack and rather than hate the lifestyle and diet changes, I LOVE them and everything feels great and new, even my horrible neck problems have improved as I use slowed down meditative should press machines and just let my muscle flex and stretch in that area.”

That has been my lifestyle ever since using the area around 1001 N. Water St #46 and the Marina and Sea Wall as an exercise platform, as I made a par course out of Arlington Virginia running foothills, running Goff Courses ad I did in my 30s, and making gym equipment out of outdoor fixtures like fences like Le Mans drivers make race course out of city street, and I photographed the outdoors I loved being in too, always like the good times with my father in the Sierra Mountains, hiking, biking, and skiing.

If you grow up on the San Francisco Bay Area it is impossible to understand why ANYONE would EVER exercise indoors and I even emailed Arlington Parks and Rec about how similar I was to that black QB though I lived in absolute poetry.

The good stuff is when you get outdoors, and especially in the Pacific Northwest, home of the San Francisco /PNW Sound I grew up too like Jefferson Airplane, Janis Chaplin, and others at the Fillmore.

I asked MacLamar management what was available it was the north 4th Floor corner unit or the one next to it both at the same price which was being looked at by who I called “the talloid” a violent black and his white female partner.

At 1001 N. Water Street the North 4th Floor

How the Townsfolk used my presence

One of the last times tried to use the outdoors I nearly lost my hand to a downward spiral of the abusive false claims treatment I was receiving from the area.

A teen female was placed near me in yoga pants suggesting that I had a yoga pants fetish, that it applied to under age females, and that I owed for that and would have to pay for that as my porn to the townsfolk.

I spit on the ground in part because I expectorate my ashtma quite a bit and also because I had stated openly I wanted noting to do with the town migrant workers and others placing exploited females around me.

The reaction of Hispanic and black males was to jump me from behind knocking me to the ground and as I broke my fall I injured my elbow and worsened my shoulder injury.

The “provider” will tell Social Security admin or others I was after that teen female who he was protecting.

I say it was a photo bomb which was both racially and sexually offensive by minorities planting child porn on an alt right person and saying I am pedophile.

Some time ago on a CCRTA city bus system I nearly attacked a women with a hammer which she said the youth female with her was being provided as porn to me.

It is not provided to me, a nearby persons to me will, using identity theft, take a picture of the minor and do so will being next to me and in similar clothes.

I call this a later exploit of the ambiguity of who took the picture at the scene, me or he other person.

Behind my back it will be shown to others that minor female was photographed, I was in the area, and a confession not mine will be forged by a person not me.

Even if I had not been attacked on the street by a group of people a legal risk or social risk to me exists as the entire scene can social engineer people regarding me and get gym memberships or apartments canceled on whisper campaigns about what is alleged about me.

As to the physical risk of being outnumbered at the scene and an skid row friendly Hispanic prosecutor likely helping the fake claims against me I was at risk for arrest in the fight.

I was also at risk for loosing my finger. A piece of gravel went deep into the the outermost finger and could have caused an infection, it did, but did not get out of control despite lack of a good area safe outdoors to lower by diabetes blood sugar. thus I stay indoors and can not use the Par Course I designed for the area lapping around the spiral stairs, Boradway Terrace, the Sea Wall and docks, etc.,

My weight bar was sabotaged and I am attacked when I excessive by hooligans and my diet is often sold out, lean meats, so my entire A1c 13.3 to A1c 4.7 has not been available even if the extreme heat and no shade sunshine of near equatorial living were acceptable for my needs.

From the move in to my apartment it was undermined as a peeping tom area to spy on hotties, though my side over looked the dumpster and gas station, dopples of me did spy at pools and gym, getting me banned from the gym and the pool at the apartment shutdown.

The law enforcement re-write police reports including regarding property theft from me to help shake down my trust fund and back the claims of the migrant farm worker and skid row communities, then the falsified police reports shunning the alt right white guy are passed around.

The false claims of the community I am the aggressor include people outside my window saying they are my pornography and I own them compensation for the sight of them, I demand they get away from my windows.

My asset manages, social services of my mothers trust fund and those working with those social services, would rather my assets go towards this poor community rather than me.

The OECD piece of all this

The scientific articles I poured through reading about diabetes, about insulin resistance, number mechanisms of cell, metabolizing carbohydrates, Syndrome X, sports nutrition and sports medicine, all where amazing fightback against diabetes, but like fixing up a dive apartment, others are hostile to recognizing me as a contributor and instead harass me with hostile defaming and entangling actions towards me.

I have called it the Oliver Twist Ploy that social services recipients forced themselves into my vicinity, acted like I needed their coaching and team work with me, when I did not, meanwhile used time in my vicinity to make disparaging statements or acts regarding me when I wanted nothing to do with them.

If I realize income from my work and activity I think it has historical relevance, OECD wanted my mother's genome, and also legal significance.

If my activities generate Substantially Gainful Income by my returning to work in a normal way the trust fund dissolves as a need.

It it also likely in marriage partnership family finances would not need the trust which is what I had told Tia Mareselli right from the outset, perhaps third conversation with her.

I wanted to order some Those Shirts duds from Drudge Report advertising so I could go meet a fellow drudge report reader wife and say goodbye the the trust fund by marriage.

Spmeboday allegedly babysitting me as though I am retarded has realized others could fix up the apartment as i have and realize a capital gains in the held asset value, though I made the improvements, the buidling management would not even fix what was broken, my being in the apartment still showed its potential worth above what it was valued at.

> Remainder beneficiary - When the trust ends (usually upon the beneficiary's death), the remainder beneficiaries are the individuals who will receive any remaining trust assets. In first-party SNTs, the state's Medicaid division is typically the first remainder beneficiary (note that in some states, Medicaid is not considered a beneficiary but rather a creditor). After Medicaid is reimbursed for the services it provided to the beneficiary, if trust assets still remain, they usually pass to the beneficiary's estate, or in some cases to persons named as remainder beneficiaries in the trust instrument. In third-party SNTs, the grantor of the trust decides who the remainder beneficiaries are. Medicaid should never be named as a remainder beneficiary of a third-party SNT.

If I work normally in normal cities in normal high tech jobs I am not disabled under the law under the general mental health system if he is a danger to himself (can not care for himself) or is a danger to other, then becomes subjected to behavioral health car and asset management as well.

I Edward Donegan had sent Tia Marsili Director of Trusts this info as email text and this was her reply as to my housing and physical assault crisis in the town of Corpus Christi.

Law Enforcement and Social Services Role in This Operation

If Ed Donegan were retarded, deveopmentally retarded, not able to function or produce wealth or income, no income oppurtunities presenting themselves, let’s say, he might be take to a Dominatrix or sex worker for sex therapy, to be shown “female parts” and to also be caught by the white dominatrix or sex worker with child porn.

If actual Ed Donegan took the picture of Homegirl, why should Ed Donegan see a dominatrix or sex worker, when Homeboy could and be punished instead for a payment with Ed Donegan’s DNA.?”

This what white male told me a Bikini’s sports bar in Austin. Best punishment a Dominatrix can do is leave a person alone, not entertain them, rather than one role play or another.

The adult sex worker industry may or may not believe Ed Donegan took the picture of Homegirl. But she does believe Home Families matter and will most likely knowingly accept a substitute to give Ed Donegan’s permissions for Ed Donegan’s DNA rights or PCR manufactured actual DNA, and also likely help Homeboy enter the Goth scene and defeat white supremacism, also helping homeboy learn about it.

Because the photo exploitation victim female, the male who in my identity and in my vicinity photographed the victim, and away from my vicinity confessed to sex worker while in my identity do not need need to involve me this occurring in my vicinity is more to get the adult sex worker or any other female or normal life to consider me to be poisonous and quickly reject me on the rumors created by the Law Enforcement distributed allegations of me.

It is an independent self contained unit of creating and utilizing negative information regarding Ed Donegan and it is a Conspiracy Against my Rights generally, Conspiracy against my Safety as it leaves me homeless, and Conspiracy Against my Property Rights in money laundering as the criminals creating pretext to utilized the value of Ed Donegan genome are the creators of the liabilities under which they will gain my assets, and this is aggression, and I am on the correct side of the law calling out the Racket.

A racial hate crime COIINTELPRO operations has been organized against me which is supposed to define me and defeat me and this is likely because my genome has been used in blacks and whites who do not wish be associated with the Kutscheras by attributes but do wish me defined by Kutschera attributes and defeated and disavowed.

The primary system has been subjected me to intense racial assault including black adults planting white minor children near me or my home as a black nationalist statement about me, and vows from those same black males to use my genome on their white female partners.

This should be easy to defeat by elites all through society black and white go far back in generations of underground railroads the destruction of my atomic veteran genome which was from lawful marriage and lawful family life achieves a benefit to the genome co-opting criminals and organizations.

Those high power well placed elites use their influence to get necessary programs in place to destroy or co-opt assets already my own and roadblock all property and achievement I attempt which is rooted in my law abiding Atheist family.

This is called “road blocking” or also Surveillance Ambushes where Espionage can intercept and co-opt my positive activities of health and community activities of normal life and opportunity.

Quackery can diagnose a legitimate police report into the rantings of an unbalanced mind that should be ignored.

The definition of maladministration is wide and can include: Delay, Incorrect action or failure to take any action, Failure to follow procedures or the law, Failure to provide information, Inadequate record-keeping, Failure to investigate Failure to reply, Misleading or inaccurate statements Inadequate liaison, Inadequate consultation, Broken promises

Wire fraud, welfare fraud, phusical assault, sexual assault by planted operatives who have access to common property of sole posession property. Welfar and other fraud.

Racketeering retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

In short Rackets create a need for a service then provides the service which otherwise would not be used by the recipient of the goods or services.

A racket is a service that is fraudulently offered to solve a problem, such as for a problem that does not actually exist, that will not be put into effect, or that would not otherwise exist if the racket did not exist. Conducting a racket is racketeering.[34] Particularly, the potential problem may be caused by the same party that offers to solve it, although that fact may be concealed, with the specific intent to engender continual patronage for this party. An archetype is the protection racket, wherein a person or group (e.g., a criminal gang) indicates to a store owner that they could protect her/his store from potential damage, damage that the same person or group would otherwise inflict, while the correlation of threat and protection may be more or less deniably veiled, distinguishing it from the more direct act of extortion. Racketeering is often associated with organized crime, and the term was coined by the Employers' Association of Chicago in June 1927 in a statement about the influence of organized crime in the Teamsters union.

Hostile and self enriching Conservators can entangle, forced-team with me and assets belonging to me or my trust fund if I appear to need an asset manager.

If a manager of assets can insert itself as a conservator in layer of finances to become co-mingled with me and my asset by forced team they can assert they are required by law to continue to entangle, forced-team, with me and my assets.

What Constitutes Child Abandonment?

The term "child abandonment" is broadly categorized and used to describe a variety of behaviors. Specific examples of abandonment vary, but common actions that may lead to charges include:

- Leaving a child with another person without provision for the child's support and without meaningful communication with the child for a period of three months;
- Making only minimal efforts to support and communicate with a child;

- Failing for a period of at least six months to maintain regular visitation with a child;
- Failing to participate in a suitable plan or program designed to reunite the parent or guardian with a child;
- Leaving an infant on a doorstep, in trash cans and dumpsters, and on the side of the road;
- Being absent from the home for a period of time that created a substantial risk of serious harm to a child left in the home;
- Failing to respond to notice of child protective proceedings; or
- Being unwilling to provide care, support, or supervision for the child.

Abusive Gaurdianship after sabotage of finances

This book asserts criminal breaking and entering of my home to create false but actionable legal claims against me or rather my trust fund, that those claims are fenced via a Sting operation run at a child porn peeping house where deals made with my trust fund satisfy false claims against it , the false claims brought to that tree house of child porn which is not my home but a fencing operation location.

The incitation to violence is people believe the claim against me was real and settled an a manner agreed to me or agreed to by an representative acting in my interest.

MILIEU

A milieu is a surrounding culture. Your family, house, neighborhood, school, and people you hang out with make up your milieu. If you live in a mansion and have rich friends, you’re part of the upper crust milieu. Go you.

A milieu is both “surroundings” and everything that makes up the surroundings. Your milieu is your world, or the context you come from. Sometimes a milieu shapes a person, as when a “milieu of abuse and poverty,” inspires someone to improve things for others. Milieu sounds a lot like mildew without the “d,” but unless you grew up in a moldy bathtub, mildew probably has little to do with your milieu, or environment.

Peter Strzok’s SMS

An SMS between Peter Strzok and Lisa Page released in February 2018 On 7 February 2018 the US Senate released a set of (redacted) SMSs between Peter Strzok and “his alleged mistress Lisa Page”.[9] One from 28 July 2016 reads: “This article highlights the thing I mentioned to you earlier, asking if Bill had noted it to 7th floor. I’m going to send it to him”.[10] Strzok had previously referred to a “‘secret society’ of folks within the Department of Justice and the FBI”.[11]

A third and earlier reference was in a 2013 NBC-article[12], but this time it was on the 7th floor of the CIA headquarters, and seems to refer to “the Sisterhood,” a powerful band of female CIA-leaders: Avril Haines, Fran Moore, Sue Gordon (CIA Zoology) and many others “some of which are classified”.

Hillary Clinton and Huma Abedin are not known to have attended their meetings, but this inference seems highly plausible considering that some names were redacted from the FBI document, Hillary’s office was also located on the 7th Floor of the US State Department Headquarters, where she is known to have met with her top advisers, including Huma Abedin and Cheryl Mills.[5]Moreover, in 2018, an email to Colin Powell was declassified in which she wrote “Colin, I am finally out of the SCIF and want to thank you for all of the advice about berries, security and life on the 7th floor! I hope we’ll have a chance to visit in person sometime soon. All the best, H”[6]

One such passage, present in the draft but not in the final report states that “Sources reported that a senior ‘7th Floor’ Department official ordered [diplomatic security] to stop the investigation of an ambassador accused of pedophilia, and another such senior official had [diplomatic security] stop an investigation of an ambassador-designate”.

Counterfeit retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

To counterfeit means to imitate something authentic, with the intent to steal, destroy, or replace the original, for use in illegal transactions, or otherwise to deceive individuals into believing that the fake is of equal or greater value than the real thing. Counterfeit products are fakes or unauthorized replicas of the real product. Counterfeit products are often produced with the intent to take advantage of the superior value of the imitated product. The word counterfeit frequently describes both the forgeries of currency and documents as well as the imitations of items

Gresham's law

In economics, Gresham's law is a monetary principle stating that "bad money drives out good". For example, if there are two forms of commodity money in circulation, which are accepted by law as having similar face value, the more valuable commodity will gradually disappear from circulation.

It is my belief (Edward Donegan) that a self funding Racket was created to surround me with hostile people which served several functions the most sought one was the the funded RICO operatives could motivated themselves and empower themselves in a fraud of self gain exploiting assets of mine which displaced normal life for me which would have existed otherwise.

The bad money which is forgery by under seignorage (of great value after it is forged) is desired over regular law abing commerce and has replaced law abiding commerce and currency.

The forged currency is seen as a Good and is counterfiet to the real currency but provides a higher return.

The process of Forgery is a document is started such as Drivers Liscense application and then in some way road blocked before completion in a contiguous way. Falling into the wrong hands the documents is later completed but with incorrect data entered into as the second stage of its manufacture.

Counterfeiting misrepresents aggreements or transactions as authentic or have some meaning they do not.

Money Laundering is using these techniques to create false accounting of transactions.

Rackets are entties which use these techniques to illegal fraudulent gains.

Seigniorage

Seigniorage /ˈseɪnjərɪdʒ/, also spelled seignorage or seigneurage (from the Old French seigneuriage, “right of the lord (seigneur) to mint money”), is the difference between the value of money and the cost to produce and distribute it. The term can be applied in two ways:

If rights to a sought after genome can be faked the value of it to others may be very hight and thus a temptign crime for fraudsters to comit.

Funding Road Blocking False Allegations by paying false allegations. Even paying street criminals to act like they are protecting themselves from me, after fake allegations I harmed them.

Whatever I do in my life, positives, is given a poison pill of being an act of child abuse, shizophrenia, etc., thus assassination my character and making me a pariah to civilized environments (who conspire against me on the rumors) and undermines my life.

In fact not only was ARC of NOVA impeding what I was doing them they were roadbloacking the rest of my life.

- I requested Microsoft Office with Access to track my blood sugar and calories, workouts, etc., and ARC Nova denied the request.
- I used my cell phone for exercise music including tablets and making my own videos decrypting movies on DVDROM and excerpting the music pieces of Austin Powers, etc.,
- I used the cell phone as a coordinator of Honor Flight DCA including filming the events.
- I used the cell phone for safety on long trail walks.

- I transferred the cell phone video footage to Cyvberlink software to create the You Tub videos of Honor Flight DCA videos I made with Cyberlink and HIT processor M4 quad core.

You would not pay for the Cyberlink software not the cell phone, nor my doing laundry for the gym, leading me into the crisis I was evicted over, contesting this and Tom Donegan ties to this, and when I encountered a Texas a cop (he said NIH) lectured me in the value of cell phones in volunteer work while at First United Methodist CC work where I was to volunteer helping homeless veterans.

ARC has been blocking me in these matters while they have been life long pursuits of mine including at Computers Freedom Privacy 2011.

Does access to my high tech and health needs requests foundations demonstrate to you a good plan which you are denying to me but allowing for others?

Knowing I had lethal A1c levels and a prescription from my board certified Internets M.D. for exorcize and diet and blood sugar manage to stave off death Tom Donegan and Tia Marsili become the road block to housing, leading to homelessness, denial of gym funds, denial of diabetes expenses of any type

My mother's will and trust fund of about 333K dollars in assets was the sale of her Moraga Caolifornia bouse likely sized in the Judge Roll case and the desperation of Gneome Cartel to seize that asset.

What does ARC of Northern Virginia and my brother Tom Donegan get as a remainder benefit if I die homeless or of Diabetes, as they both break my housing agreements and deny me medical care as hostile elder abuse of me and the trust fund left for me not them .

If Tom Donegan, Metro Churches or Methodists, or other Church groups and others claim my mother's will was not just for the half the value of the sale of her house at death (he in the will got half the value of the house in cash) but also somehow rights to her genome, I was never told about any value in her geonome, then I died, he had my half of the estate for their retarded peoples fund as the remainder benefit if I died as a single man and btw soon.

That page one was not a STATEMENT. IT was a CONTRACT. If you read Page 1 is says (in the Membership and Electronic Funds Transfer section) that the initial term of the contract is the first month, sept 1 through 30, then the bill repeats each month by electronic funds transfer unless cancelled.

To have a request approved it is very simple: please send us a statement from Sport and Health that shows your name, on-going membership, the amount to be paid, and address. If you haven’t already sent a recurring disbursement request form, send a signed one to us, too.

To date you have sent us a statement that has a September 1, 2013 start date and a September 30, 2013 end date. This cannot be used to pay a monthly payment since there is no indication that you have a membership.

I have 143 email sent items trying to get gym re-imbursement since my diabetes diagnsosis, starting with this email, 8/17/2013, where I was already trying to get ARC to take over because would never provide an accounting of the trust, a copy of the trust, or any disbursments. As of today, those 143 emails plus about 50 or o I probably deleted, 7 faxes, 5 scans, 19 txt messages, and at least 20 phone calls later, 8 mothns later, and after breaking down crying four times wondering “how in the hell is it possible I can’t get this re-mbursed..?”

It still isn’t.

Dopple of Ed Donegan say they are Ed Donegan, incur liabilities in conduct towards others, forming a Triangle of persons. A victim, a Dopple of me who both victimizes the victim (photographically) while also selling at the scene I was the one who took the photo (the Dopple taking advantage of the fact I have my cell phone out for some legitimate reason.)

The Dopple in my identity will confess to vctimizing a feamle and thus create a Coupon for restitution, access to my genome.

Without people interested in that Coupon, the psuedo currency would not be accepted but the Coupon is used among those who will accept it because they want to and use means to bypass normal currency usage by using the Coupon for genetics rights instead.

Money Laundering is complex. The layering of it diffuses it vertically with financial entities involvement and horizontally with confused accounts or identity of people thus broken up mini spread sheets or views of a financial picture are not consolidated into a single events picture which in its totality would not survive cross checks in a contiguous view of events. This book draws upon Dept of Treasury research and other research into how RICO Operations can be setup in complex and layered way to evade detection.

Non White Agent provocatuers fighting "White Supremacism" (whites who are threat and alleged psychopaths) by creating novel sex crimes and child pornography in my identity utilizing children in my vicinity.

Dozens of National Security Agency, DARPA, and other Pentagon officials purchased and downloaded child pornography over the Internet, according to a report in The Boston Globe on Friday.

In the United States, it is legal to possess obscene materials, which are generally defined as hardcore pornography involving consenting adults. It is also legal to posses non-obscene pornography.

But the knowing possession of child pornography is a federal felony. In the last few decades, the definition of child pornography has been expanded to include not only depictions of minors being sexually abused, but even images of clothed girls in leotards and, as CNET reported in 2006, photographs of clothed minors in what prosecutors claim were overly "lascivious" poses.

The non victims of the peeping tom provocateurs will be paid through my trust fund. and racial hatred as if I offended will be directed at me.

Cui Bono

It can also be rendered as cui prodest? (“whom does it profit?”) and ad cuius bonum? (“for whose good?”). *

Those seeking to benefit gays, blacks, the retarded, etc., or they themselves, have an industry of false claims to my DNA and seizing rather than protecting my assets and rights.

One way Homeboy in the identity of Ed Donegan might get caught is to go to a Glamm Domme who believes Homeboy Lives Matter (much more so than peeping white supremacists) and that Glamm Dome will catch Homeboy (who is in the role of Ed Donegan and needs a sex worker) wiht that child porn in his porn folder, thus vamping Ed Donegan’s trust fund.

History *

“Laws against money laundering were created to use against organized crime during the period of Prohibition (of alcohol trafficking) in the United States during the 1930s. Organized crime received a major boost from Prohibition and a large source of new funds that were obtained from illegal sales of alcohol. The successful prosecution of Al Capone on tax evasion brought in a new emphasis by the state and law enforcement agencies to track and confiscate money, but existing laws against tax evasion could not be used once gangsters started paying their taxes.” From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Money laundering retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

MONEY LAUNDERING IS THE PROCESS OF MAKING ILLEGALLY-GAINED PROCEEDS (I.E., “DIRTY MONEY”) APPEAR LEGAL (I.E., “CLEAN”).

BLACK MONEY AS ASSETS SIEZED FROM A DOPPLE OF ED NOT AUTHORIZED TO AGREE TO ASSET SIEZURE USING IMPROPER ACCOUNTING FOR THE ASSETS TAKEN IN BY AN INSTITUTION AND NOT REPORTED TO THE PERSON WITH RIGHTS TO THE ASSETS.

Typically, Money Laundering involves three steps: placement, layering, and integration and introducing money not accounted for into a financial racket

- the illegitimate funds are furtively introduced into the legitimate financial system. (ARC Northern Virginia denied any starting accounting or geno assets accounting in setting up trust fund. I was told

I would not a staring or opening accounting only a firs quarter statement after the first quarter passed. Similarly Integrity Payee denied principle statements and reported back to me some disbursements I requested but no whole ledger accounting)

- Then, the money is moved around to create confusion, sometimes by wiring or transferring through numerous accounts (Doppelgangers, fake Ed Donegan, fake Ed Donegans at locations contused for Ed Donegan's locations)

- Finally, it is integrated into the financial system through additional transactions until the "dirty money" appears "clean" after the Dopple of Edward Donegan agrees to real Ed Donegan assets being seized upon the Dopple of Ed Donegan harming others in real Ed Donegan's community thus Dopple Ed Donegan creates a liability of real Ed Donegan

> Note that in Assets and Liabilities balance sheets the assets and liabilities must match, thus for an asset to be paid from the trust fund a liability must exist, which is children being exploited as child porn as the liability to be balanced with an asset disbursment.

ACHIEVING CONCEALMENT OF ED DONEGAN ASSETS.

Concealment of Ed Donegan cognitive assets by denial they exist and thus making the trade in them unlikely if not preposterous. Creating the appearance of a mentally challenged Ed Donegan not only creates an unlikelyhood a retardation service would trade his genes it also puts that retardation services advocacy group as mice guarding the cheese.

"STRIPPER BUCKS" AND SPENDING ASSETS NOT PROPERLY REPORTED TO, BLACK MONEY, NOT ACCOUNTED TO ED DONEGAN

With unreported assets in a financial system and "cut out" accounts, accounts similar to be distinct from the real accounts to do illicit unreported transactions under spending assets can occur

- Genomic assets of interest to those seeking designer babies, etc., may be offered during erotic services as "Payment" by a person pretending to be Edward Donegan. Those “stripper bucks” title or form of deed to pay for adult entertainers are “black money”

- The Adult Entertainer Stripper and the Dopple of Edward Donegan may work an agreement he idolizes little “non white princesses” and their beauty, and by photographing them (which Real Ed Donegan did not) the genomic assets of the “fake” white supremacist Ed Donegan should go to those he thinks superior, little hottie non white totties

Thus under a RICO financial operation (engaging in advocacy for the underprivileged) a fake Ed Donegan, like for instance a social services beneficiary, could hire a stripper, pay for the stripper with Ed Donegan assets, and then also agree Ed Donegan really thinks minorities are his dream, how owes them, Ed Donean is a through a Dopple’s acts seems fake white supremacist who believes in The 14 Words.

HORIZONTAL AND VERTICAL LAYERS USED IN MONEY LAUNDERING TO CREATE LEGITIMATE APPEARANCES

- Moles and Inside Jobs through buyout of leasing companies or apartment complexes and
- setting up lateral “accounts” such as apartment numbers to be confused with the tenant whose assets are being money laundered.
- Use of itermediate devices such as inserting an FBI Fake Cell Tower (Stingray) which will switch and cross switch between phone SIMM Chips for switching out who is on the phone and what is being said.
- Exploiting that smart phones have multiple functions such as Google Books reading, gym music, and cameras, and altering the perception of what lateral seperate functions of the phone are in use in a gym, etc.,
- Person lateral to each other sharing similar clothes, motorcycles, etc.,

SHILLS

Shills are fronts for secret motives and operations who conceal their real objectives and appear to be neutral, uncorrupted, or motivated as chartered but operate on behalf of secret agendas instead.

Shill planted victims who claim ti be victimize but in fact victimize themselves such as children sexualizing themselves in my vicinity and claiming they are “my visual pornography.” I am their victim for false claims, not vice versa.

Paper Moon (film) retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The film, shot in black-and-white, is set in Kansas and Missouri during the Great Depression. It stars the real-life father and daughter pairing of Ryan and Tatum O’Neal as protagonists Moze and Addie.

In a state of poverty and needing car repairs, Moses visits recently widowed women often driving to funerals in the old car, pretending to have previously sold expensive, personalized Bibles to their deceased husbands, and the widows pay him for the Bibles inscribed with their names. Addie joins the scam, pretending she is his daughter, and exhibits a talent for confidence tricks, such as selling Bibles and the quick change scam. As time passes, Moses and Addie become a formidable team

This is a short con, run quickly, on sequential Gulls (Gullibles) who are grieving widows, emotional, at their husbands funeral, as the Bibble saleman shows up with a Bibble tied to the last purchase of their departed husband, which for a fee, the widow can buy and finish the sale.

It features many Confidence Tricks elements such as selecting Gulls in advance for a particular type of scam which has been rehearsed again and again, using Gulls who are in emotional and quick decisions states, and a team of Shills rather than just one con artist.

A Long Con focuses on a single Mark, such as my trust fund and Glorian Donegan, shaking it down in with long term preperation, resources, and complex sustaining efforts to keep the Con running.

Prostitution is illegal or highly regulated in many countries across the world. These places form a classic study of the underground economy, because of consistent high demand from customers, relatively high pay, but labor-intensive and low skilled work, which attracts a continual supply of workers. While prostitution exists in every country, studies show that it tends to flourish more in poorer countries, and in areas with large numbers of unattached men, such as around military bases.[17] For instance, an empirical study showed that the supply of prostitutes rose abruptly in Denver and Minneapolis in 2008 when the Democratic and Republican National Conventions took place there.

Prostitutes in the black market generally operate with some degree of secrecy, sometimes negotiating prices and activities through codewords [faked, I am not using them] and subtle gestures. In countries such as Germany or the Netherlands, where prostitution is legal but regulated, illegal prostitutes exist whose services are offered cheaper without regard for the legal requirements or procedures-health checks, standards of accommodation, and so on.

In other countries, such as Nicaragua, where legal prostitution is regulated, hotels may require both parties to identify themselves, to prevent the rise of child prostitution.

Black Market Biological organs and custom brains via DNA

Main article: Organ trade § Illegal organ (or third party parents brain genes or other genes trade)

According to the World Health Organization (WHO), illegal organ trade occurs when organs are removed from the body for the purpose of commercial transactions.[31] The WHO justifies its stance on the issue by stating, “Payment for … organs is likely to take unfair advantage of the poorest and most vulnerable groups, undermines altruistic donation and leads to profiteering and human trafficking.”[32] Despite these ordinances, it was estimated that 5% of all organ recipients engaged in commercial organ transplant in 2005.[33] Research indicates that illegal organ trade is on the rise, with a recent report by Global Financial Integrity estimating that the illegal organ trade generates profits between $600 million and $1.2 billion per year with a span over many countries.

Racketeering

Main article: Racket (crime)

A racket is a service that is fraudulently offered to solve a problem, such as for a problem that does not actually exist, that will not be put into effect, or that would not otherwise exist if the racket did not exist. Conducting a racket is racketeering.[34] Particularly, the potential problem may be caused by the same party that offers to solve it, although that fact may be concealed, with the specific intent to engender continual patronage for this party. An archetype is the protection racket, wherein a person or group (e.g., a criminal gang) indicates to a store owner that they could protect her/his store from potential damage, damage that the same person or group would otherwise inflict, while the correlation of threat and protection may be more or less deniably veiled, distinguishing it from the more direct act of extortion. Racketeering is often associated with organized crime, and the term was coined by the Employers' Association of Chicago in June 1927 in a statement about the influence of organized crime in the Teamsters union.[35]

THE HOBBS ACT 18 U.S.C. § 1951

(a) Whoever in any way or degree obstructs, delays, or affects commerce or the movement of any article or commodity in commerce, by robbery or extortion or attempts or conspires to do so, commits, or threatens physical violence to any person or property in furtherance of a plan or purpose to do anything in violation of this section shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than twenty years, or both.

The Hobbs Act criminalizes both robery and extortion

1. "robbery" means the unlawful taking or obtaining of personal property from the person or in the presence of another, against his will, and

2. "extortion" means the obtaining of property from another, with his consent, induced by wrongful use of actual or threatened force, violence, or fear, or under color of official right.

3. Medical State: I have used the legal interpretation of Extortion as appending unwanted penalty or price to a necessary predicate such that the person extorted does no have a "door out" thus must remain in the transaction, also a concept in sexual abuse. If a voluntary package includes an unwanted component extortion may not apply.

Section 1951 also proscribes conspiracy to commit robbery or extortion without reference to the conspiracy statute at 18 U.S.C. § 371. Although the Hobbs Act was enacted as a statute to combat racketeering in labor-management disputes, the statute is frequently used in connection with cases involving public corruption, commercial disputes, and corruption directed at members of labor unions.

The Hobbs Act also reaches extortionate acts by public officials acting under the color of law. A public official commits extortion under the color of law when he obtains a payment to which he is not entitled knowing that it was made in exchange for official acts.[5] § 1951 therefore not only embraces the same conduct the federal bribery statute (18 U.S.C. § 201) prohibits, it goes further in two ways:

1. § 1951 is not limited to federal public officials.

2. The government need only prove a public official agreed to take some official action in exchange for payment as opportunities arose to do so (i.e. a "stream of benefits" theory) to sustain a § 1951 charge whereas, under § 201, the government must prove an express quid pro quo (or something approaching one).[6]

SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY

It should also look in public like the people racketeering me are actually daily living and business partners with me, though as I confront them in public they reveal the truth, their statements are in my vicinity and seem to be a connection to me but are not.

What Is the Crime of False Pretenses? retrieved from legalmatch.com and copied or modified to here

What Is the Crime of False Pretenses?

In order to better understand the crime of false pretenses you must first understand the crimes of fraud, larceny, and embezzlement. Both larceny and embezzlement are theft crimes that deal with the taking of another's property without consideration or permission from the owner of the property.

Criminal fraud occurs when an individual misrepresents a material fact that they know to be false, with an intent to deceive another, which results in an actual injury or damages to the individual that relies on the misrepresentation.

Specifically, larceny is the unlawful taking of the property of another without the permission of the owner coupled with the intent to permanently deprive the owner of that property. Embezzlement is similar to larceny in that it involves a taking of the property of another person or business, however the person who performs the taking has permission to access and handle the funds. The act of embezzlement occurs when the person entrusted to handle funds takes funds for their own personal use, and is generally classified as a white collar crime.

False pretenses, also known as "obtaining property by false pretenses," is a crime that is a combination of fraud and larceny where an individual lies or makes misrepresentations in order to obtain the property of another. False pretenses is very similar to the theft crime of "larceny by trick," which involves convincing someone to transfer you possession of their property through deception.

ELECTIONS New FBI release on Clinton email probe refers to 'Shadow Government'

PUBLISHED MON, OCT 17 201612:19 PM EDTUPDATED MON, OCT 17 20163:35 PM EDT Everett Rosenfeld

The documents, part four of four to be released by the FBI, include notes and interview summaries that may illuminate more about the bureau's decision not to recommend Clinton be prosecuted for her actions.

Many Republicans have criticized that decision, but FBI Director James Comey has repeatedly insisted the move was apolitical.

> "I want the American people to know we really did this the right way. You can disagree with us, but you cannot fairly say we did it in any kind of political way," Comey said in July. "We don't carry water for anybody. We were trying to do what the right thing is."

One revelation in the documents came from an interview with an unidentified person who suggested that Freedom of Information Act requests related to Clinton went through a group sometimes called "the Shadow Government."

"There was a powerful group of very high-ranking STATE officials that some referred to as 'The 7th Floor Group' or 'The Shadow Government

The "We have permissions through Asset Seizures" Gambit

> Gambit: noun., a device, action, or opening remark, typically one entailing a degree of risk, that is calculated to gain an advantage. Definitions from Oxford Languages

The gambit, an exploited child, or exploited female's buttocks, is the allegation "I took the bait" and exploited the minor, though, after that, my trust fund will compensate the victim, the gambit, and those who protect the child.

In fact I am not "taking the bait" ,the minor as an exploitable gambit, but others using my identity are exploitively photographing the child near me.

On the larger view the Illuminati are putting a Gambit near me and created a Legend I am taking it, I am not, but under that theory the Illlluminati claim rights to my genome.

Gambit retrieved from Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia and copied or modified to here

"Gambit" is also sometimes used to describe similar tactics used by politicians or business people in a struggle with rivals in their respective fields.

Soundness

A gambit is said to be 'sound' if it is capable of procuring adequate concessions from the opponent. There are three general criteria in which a gambit is often said to be sound:

1. Time gain: the player accepting the gambit must take time to procure the sacrificed material and possibly must use more time to reorganize his pieces after the material is taken.

2. Generation of differential activity: often a player accepting a gambit will decentralize his pieces or pawns and his poorly placed pieces will allow the gambiteer to place his own pieces and pawns on squares that might otherwise have been inaccessible. In addition, bishops and rooks can become more active simply because the loss of pawns often gives rise to open files and diagonals. Former world champion Mikhail Tal once reportedly told Mikhail Botvinnik that he had sacrificed a pawn because it was simply in the way.[3]

3. Generation of positional weaknesses: finally, accepting a gambit may lead to a compromised pawn structure, holes or other positional deficiencies.

The Character Assassination of this Atheist are created weakness in my political, religious, and personal reputation.

Representive Payee (Trustee) for Disabled People

Representative Payee Program

Program Description We follow the Guide for Organizational Representative Payees as provided by the United States Social Security Administration.

We serve as the source of financial assistance towards the clients gain of basic needs such as food, shelter, and clothing.

Representative Payee Program Keeps Homeless Numbers Down established 1971

By becoming the Representative Payee, Catholic Charities assumes the financial management responsibilities for people who because of severe mental or physical limitations or may be subject to family exploitation, are unable to manage their own finances. The Payee Program provides assistance to the most vulnerable members of the community; the young, the elderly, and the disabled who are unable to manage their SSA, SSI, and or VA benefits.

I, Edward Paul Donegan was homeless and without a payee when I was in Corpus Christi homeless Catholic Charities shelter. I was evicted the day I an appointment for them to become my payee.

In short this book is about public photo bombs areas I am in and using my phone in, changing the context of what I am doing by placing teens and tots in health club areas or tourist areas, or planted in my home or windows area, and even falsifying which residence is mine or under my control, all of which can be faked through requests for law enforcement co operation that landlords, others will provide.

I have repeatedly watched the local media ASSIST in the fabrication of deceptive public circumstances and other acts of fraud as well as allow those activities on the visible parts of their outdoor property and the refuse to remediate any of it or allow accept my complaints.

As stated elsewhere the Gangtalk uses “Rough Music” of harassment getting back at the village enemy for real or imagined reasons. I have refuted since I have been here in Corpus Christi I am “on the run” for anything yet the strategic interest in giving themselves an excuse, and keeping that excuse alive, allows the town to shakedown my trust and me without a sense of guilt.

The ups turn to the community is seen to be great. I hope instead the weed of crim bears bitter fruit and the risks of a town like this be understood unless their corrupt border official are held to account for running unsafe communities, to unsafe for “gringos” to move to.

The facts are visible to the Media, the MSM, but the shot callers, the elites, request the media not report them or intimidate factual statements or factual reporting.

Have they always had and always used my assets without my permission and are they now going toi get caught, once and for all, settling many mysteries?

MKULTRA and DIA CIA US Marines use Counter Intel powers to seize the most basic of my human rights and in the service of Non-US interests of genes export from the U.S at the expense of my U.S. Natural Born white family and my forced U.S. celibacy

The scheme is advanced by plain clothes hostility towards me which is intolerable crimes though which complicit foreign aligned workers civil commit me as a result of the provoked conflicts, nulling my outcries and disrupting my normal course of life.

The below pictures are the standard of a ploy which began around at least 2006 or so with Veronica Hoffman.

The basics are that I am around someone, someone I contacted (Veronica Hoffman though she dropped contact with me) or someone I don't know approaching me (a woman here in Yoga pants riding on Metro and literally putting it in my face invading my space) and doing so very suggestively.

I look around and there is the Harvey Dent figure, a military or skid row looking black, often non-english speaking. I ask him who he is in friendly conversation. He is from Ethiopa and on a study trip to Georgetown. He has a Catholic like wrist band on and is reading from an article that looks written in some African script.

Further away are some females, often one white and one non-white who sometimes appear to be some sort of sociology tied people.

I didn't see one on this trip but usually when this happens, which is whenever I am in public, a person dressed like me will have an interest in the female and the parties will then bifurcate from me and I believe the person dressed like me will take over my identity.

With some suzzy guy there, from Ethiopia, a Catholic he explains as I ask about his wrist bracelet, and he also says he goes to Georgetown from some kind of program.

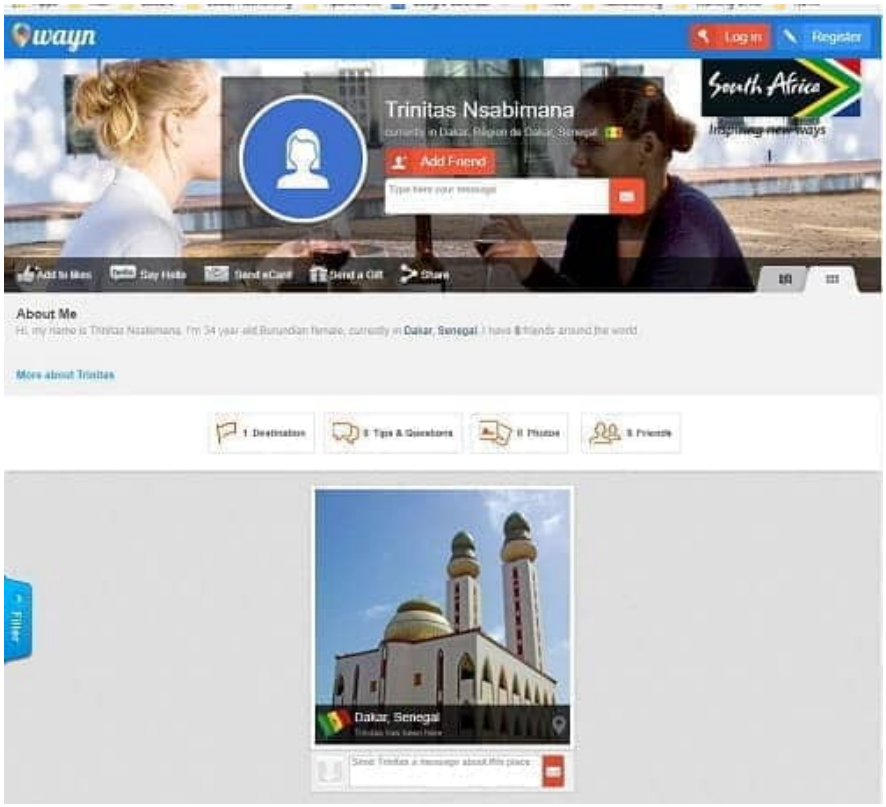
It seems to be as ass flashed (or sexually abusive treatment of me such as shouting in pain and saying I owe the shouter because that person is my pornography) at me. I was provided for they say, or made to look like I was chasing it and now owe for it (owe my dna) to her or the scuzzy “provider” who stalked me and go on the train. An alleged DNA debt I owe for seemingly victimizing her, but they stalked me, not the other way around.

Probably those females are social workers or something, perhaps Nueces County Services or Texas Ministries workers, Metro Churches, etc., “Ed Did it again, victimized a female.”

People like Trinitas Nsabimana of Africa, Obama and Tom Donegan connected, seem to be put in place at places like ARC of Northern Virginia to arrange something with the blacks or sometimes gays, who may wish IVF rights based on some patterns which seem to occur.

Note that if this use of foreign nationals for activities inside the U.S. are part of RICO for sexual results (semen) rights for Africa this could and likely does tie for foreign use DNA theories I have asserted as the Judge Roll and Justsice Scalia murder motives.



CIA contractor illegal irregulars were used to kill Jen Moore and to assault me, drawn from Social Services Agencies (who are in a RICO scheme embezzling genes rights and the value of genes they do not own) because she and I were uncovering and reporting on the RICO scheme, its black budget coming from violent crimes connected racketeering.

All of this is achieved not as real counter intelligence activities counter intel is empowered for, but instead, a financial and sex trafficking ring including rape, murder, arson, and coverups

A Blind Conservertorship was created without Due Process to me and without accounting to me.

This State controlled and created Conservatorship “nationalized” (enslaved) me in or through NDAA like powers for an international criminal organization to succeed in MKULTRA plans throughout the world.

Fraudulent acts before the Public

Acts of Fraud

- In public people who are complete strangers to me deny any connection to me put on public shows of being my daily living advisors and coaches by saying things to me which are pointless and unwanted.

Example. I ask one question of a store clerk, a stranger near me asks a question as “another question .. ” thus trying to associate herself with me and my first question.

- Items I am shopping for pause near me, such as cars or campers. Vaugely, it appears I am associated with this, or statements made in my vicinity about business relations. These are public shows out of my control staging events around me which are mere illusions.

Example Chris Lloyd makes a comment he bought a Porsche. He also send me a pic of the house I grew up in. No statement is made to me, at least the REAL me, regarding these things. It may be portrayed to others that I had somehow approved that or any other use of any money. In fact Chris Lloyd directly denied any business relationship to me at all, none whatsoever.

- PizzaGate - Roving squads of scam artists frame me as a stalker seeking to expoitively view women, the real motive for any of me acts. In fact I did not “buy” or “own” anyone, whatever any illegal conservancy of MY human rights was invented. Supposedly I was picking women out for something, I don’t know what, probably the polymorphous perversity DoppleEd wants in place of Human sex, when my music went from Play to Pause and I had to reach to my phone to get the music playing again. When I took my SIMM chip out people stood next to me and started hand signaling when women were near. This was never me signalling anything. Any agreement of me to any of this was mere illusion, forgeries of my agreement by impersonators wrongful people speaking for me not authorized by me to do so.

A central lie in Pizzagate is that in ordinary acts I am actually “sendng the signal” or making the deal for my DNA, signed over during a tryst an impersonator of me is really setting up in which my DNA sperm bank rights will be money laundered.

Sigma Squads in the Gym and Elsewhere

Blacks, often Ethiopians or others, surround me and move white women away, normal white women, asking if I am ok, thus asserting I could not handle the presence of the attractive white women in the flesh, then a fake target fo my affection flashes me and an impersonator of me will have “cyber” with that woman in ErosX replacing me with crossed wires, rather than my dick entering real women.

My DNA is being forced across insecure lines.

The Mousetrap

Ten Little Indians is a 1965 British crime mystery film directed by George Pollock. It is the second film version of Agatha Christie's 1939 novel.[1] It was produced by Oliver A. Unger, with co-producer Harry Alan Towers also credited as co-writer under his pen name Peter Welbeck.

Ten people travel by aerial tramway to a snowbound mansion, invited there by a Mr. U.N. Owen (Unknown) to spend the weekend. They discover that none of them has actually ever met Owen, Dinner is served by the butler Grohmann on a tray adorned with ten little Indian figurines, as well. At exactly 9 p.m., as instructed, Grohmann switches on a hidden tape recording. A man identifying himself as Owen reveals that each of the 10 guests has a scandalous secret, their involvement in various innocent people's deaths. One by one, the guests begin dying off.

The Mousetrap (written by Dysgraphic Agatha Christie) is a murder mystery play by Agatha Christie. The Mousetrap opened in London's West End in 1952, and has been running continuously since then. The longest-running West End show, it has by far the longest initial run of any play in history, with its 25,000th performance taking place on 18 NOVEMBER 2012 . [1]

The play has a twist ending, which the audience are traditionally asked not to reveal after leaving the theatre.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Mousetrap

The Premise of the play and movie is to bleed a trust fund by creatign fraudulent factual use.

In my case a Doppelgänger of me will create a harm to others protected by the same trust fund, and my assets will be transfered among the trust fund recipients using my assets for others managed by the same trust workers.

In my case the leftist anti white hate workers had the advantage of making non whites victims of a white supremacist, the white supremacist made to look retarded and perverted, needing trrust fund services.

Those Doppling me and planting tots, porn, etc., describe blacks as “the power race” and they say that by “Disrupt[ing]” white nationalism and bleeding assets away they are protecting others.

Breaking the Terms of a Trust via an Con

In the case of GLorian Donegan, her financial trust is mixed with undisclosed biological rights to her genome, then a money laundering system is setup to creat fake claims.

The fake claims are a “mousetrap” is set in front of Edward Donegan. It appears Edward Donegan is taking the bait and owes victims DNA because he (Edward Donegan) made vulnerbale people his photographic pornography.

Though this is not a behavior of Edward Paul Donenan an impersonator of Edward Paul DOnegn, a “zoom photographer,” will take the bait and sign away genomic rights managed by the undiclosed assets trust.

Wild Things 2 Ploy

- Britney Havers every day teen with a $70 million dollar trust fund from her rich dead biological mother, allowing her only a 25K a year stipend. Her rich mother secretly murdered in an Florida alligator swamp.

- Maya King secret teen lover and brash accomplice to Brittney Havers who will use the clause of the will if a biological relative is found the trust then goes to her, and the 25K a year basic scheme is no longer in place.

- Kathy Neff plays Brittney rich biological mother, killed by alligators in a accident, at least it seems that way to the story line the public believes

- Niles Dunlap, step father to Brittney Havers, after the biological parent (played by Kathy Neff) dies in the alligator swamp but dies in a plane crash, creating a professional trust management firm.

When Dunlap is killed in a private plane crash, his will calls for Brittney to receive a small stipend until she finishes college, after which she will receive only $25,000 a year for life from the estate. The rest of Dunlap's assets, totaling $70 million, are to be left to a corporate trust, unless a blood heir can be found.

Brittney's brash, relatively poor classmate Maya King suddenly claims to be Dunlap's illegitimate daughter as the result of her mother's extramarital affair. She is ordered by a judge to submit to a DNA test, the result of which proves she is Dunlap's child.

At the Dunlap home, Brittney hears a noise on her way to the wine cellar but it turns out to just be rats. Suddenly Maya appears and the girls reveal they are lovers before being joined by Dr. Julian Haynes, who had arranged the DNA test. The trio are in cahoots, running a scam to secure and share Dunlap's fortune.

A Long Con backed by the CIA and others created a fake "Nest Egg" (Ovum) Trust Fund out of what was only a Sale of The Moraga House principle funded trust fund, about $323K, 42 Lambeth Square Moraga California.

In this case, the controlled assets, are the secret trust fund interest in brain genes for the retarded, and the trust fund is complicit in the shakedown scheme and operate it validating false claims, using their retarded clients as fake victims.

She (Glorian Donegan) never touched the principle of that house, living frugally, so she could leave it to Tom and myself. She used interest on the amount and divorce/social security money for her apartment.

The CIA and Tom Donegan, Public Health Service, and others wanted her ovum and built a Long Con to get them. Tom Donegan and Mark Weirness setup a “Nest Egg” long con to create then falsify access to her genome through false claims and false conservatroship of me, all on blatantly fraudulent basis.

This is not a “victimless crime.” The crimes are felons, sexually abusive and otherwise abusive of me by felony assaults on me denying basic rights and constitutional protections as I have been subjected to and blamed for disgusting erotic activity meant to foul, despicable, and repulsively offensive.

Further, blacks, gays, the retarded, and others have claimed the moral high-ground in their assaults upon me and my seeking those willing to criticize and understand the DNA needs of this group, to describe the attack on me, have for at leats 3 decades only accelerated the attacks as they continue to vilify me morally, the victim of their attacks.

As I write the decades long biography this con will be clearly visible.

Jen Moore on this betrayal

Jen Moore knew both my mother and me and using the trust fund to save me from problems and worries and instead attack my life was a betrayal of my mother.

I needed food, medicine, safety, and normal life opportunities including returning to paid employment and the white wife and white family I desired, but leftist non white race baiters worked to defeat that in my life instead for race and class warfare against me and my mother instead.

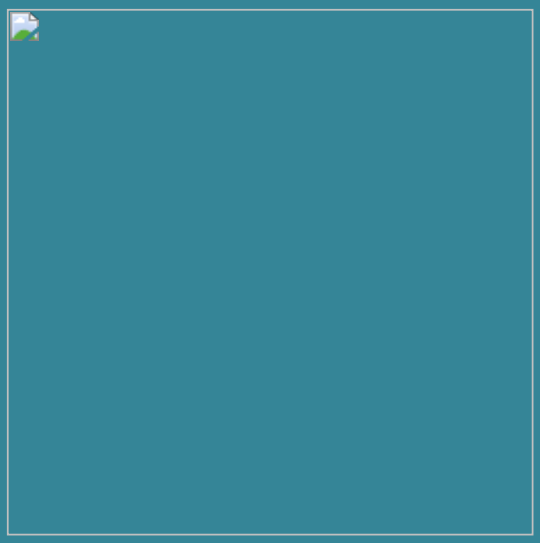
It's Too Late To Apologize - How Affairs Snowball

October 3, 2013 Thomas Van



When does a person under a #COINTELPRO #MKULTRA cloud of suspicion pant his feet and demand, fight for, fair housing rights?

FBI can draw law abiding people into fights by asking or inciting others to comit petty or worse crimes against a law abiding person, selcting criminal or needy Confidential Informants into profitable illegal schemes against a law abiding person the police create the crimes rather than resolve them.

> The snowball represents the accumulation of all of the mistakes you've made in your relationship [or been blamed for in your neighborhood area.] With each new mistake you give the snowball a little nudge down the hill. With every stop you try to fix and contain your mistakes. At some point you have made too many mistakes and the snowball rolls on its own - you must now pay for your mistakes.

I will assert during this book that manufacture of fraud and forgeries are central to the scheme and not fighting them is a risk as well as fighting them is. Documentin them presumes nuetral listeners who are truth seeking, I have not found that yet.

enter or gain access to (an organization, place, etc.) surreptitiously and gradually, especially in order to acquire secret information. "the organization has been infiltrated by informers"

Hostile and abusive infiltrators control the private spaces such as my housing I live in and insert Confidential Informants who are encouraged to participate in Mafia like acts against me.

One such act I call "Still Framing." Normal housing matter such as the lever-chain-stopper flush mechanism on my toilent broke.

Rather than replace it easily the building supe used the Modus Operandi of fraud via forgeries. He said "I will need to take a picture of that" out loud, took a photo of the real toilet, then went to some other toilet somewhere else and as if using a "7" on a passport and modifying it to a "9" created a forged story line in an apartment not mine, and even never returned to my apartment.

If I change the channel on my TV with the remote that becomes the basis for a forgery created elsewhere I was photographing someone which I call the "Play

To Pause Attack."

Normal acts of mine are altered by other events seeming to tie my acts to other events, but the other events are merely superimposed onto the base normal elements I am involved in, then extened, embellished, by the super imposed acts of others make the "7" a "9" seemingly.

The art of the fraud is using of deceit to add the extra elements of othes which is wrongdoing on top of my normal acts and make the two layers seem one.

Rather than hide many of these acts the Confidential Informants often bait for a fight while doing it, I calll it "trying to me into a fight coming from out of the blue against a red predator criminalliy harrassing Confidential Informant who is acting under cover."

If I (Edward Paul Donegan) accept the soft innuendo (NOT hard allegation against me) I should move out and the appearance of impropriety of me shadows me as a rumor my life will be again damaged by the rumors of the Dopples acts tied to me in a Slander Campaign costing me this apartmet and the next as well

Repeatedly people make public show in saying "I saw you do it!"" yet refuse to say what, often keepign their own acts they are blaming me for (which they are encouraged to do as paid actors) this creating a defaming cloud of suspicion around me which never clears and cause people to deny my rental applications on flimsy excuses. I am including to protect therefore the rental agreement that I DO HAVE from any fraud. I can not be replaced during a methodial slander campaign udnering the ability to keep in housing and write books with computer equipment.

My premise is that the road blocking of positive acts of mine like choosing and renting good apartments is they conspired against for my usage and are usally taken over by skid row and I am blamed for skid row acts is both an asset transfer from me which many approve of as justice for the oppressed minorities but I believe it is a plot to conceal I generate worth even and perhaps especially under 3rd World or 2nd World like living conditions (homelessness) and this value creating of mine is being hidden to hide the Organization for Cooperation and Economic Development (OECD) interest in my February 20 November 18 December 13 DNA supply line (my mother.)

I need to enforce my housing rights but even suing has not worked and I think that was rigged for 7 years now b B. Janice Ellington and other Federal Courthouse officials, and also County Courthouse officials not notifying various hearings held regarding me I had therefore not attended.

B. The Exclusionary Rule as a Deterrent to Illegal Police Activity

It is, of course, incorrect to assume and too much to expect that the exclusionary -rule will deter all illicit police activity. Often the police will act illegally for harassment purposes to prevent certain activities-gambling and prostitution, for example-or to satisfy the public's demand for action on vice-squad crimes.

The threat of excluding evidence will, at least in -these situations, be insignificant. Dean Francis Allen suggests that "[t]he uncomfortable possibility even exists that the presence of the exclusionary rule in a jurisdiction may in certain situations influence the police to reject efforts to make a case for formal prosecution and to rely on such informal and illegal sanctions as they see fit to devise and apply."

The same author, however, indicates that "in localities where police illegality is most deliberate and systematic, conviction of offenders remains obviously an important objective of police activity. One may assume that the presence of the rule induces a degree of caution and care in preparing the case that might otherwise be lacking.

Although the exclusionary rule may not deter all official illegality, it is fair to assume that it is the most effective way of limiting such methods.

C. Exclusion of the Fruits of Illegally Obtained Evidence

The complete exclusion-in all situations and for all purposes-of second and subsequent generation "fruits" of illegally obtained evidence seems logical and warranted unless there are competing considerations to restrict the radiations of the exclusionary rule.

The obvious competing consideration, in criminal as well as civil cases, is the policy of admitting relevant and trustworthy evidence in order to maximize the search for truth. In criminal prosecutions the exclusionary rule conflicts with another interest of society-convicting the guilty. Hence, departures "from the primary evidentiary criteria of relevancy and trustworthiness must be justified by some strong social policy."

I suggest dirty cops not only planting evidence for self gain doing so an asset possessing law abiding people to use for personal enrichment of corrupt policing (of the police) by pretextual seizures assets based upon the planted evidence tilts to full the need to prosecute the misconduct of the law enforcement.

The bizarre spectacle of this frame job is people near me photograph children, do so while dressed as me, that person dressed as me will be taken to a dominatrix who will leave me out of a scene and scene with the dopple.

Dopple with the ass fetish impersonates me as he photographs asses of tots, minors

Domina hates that I, dressed the same as the dopple, who seems turned on by teen and tot asses

Domina sees the Dopple instead who is working with the cops, an will taunt me that someone else thew my money at her ass

The Domina, a wise person, knows punishing me by NOT talking to me or role playing with me punishes me for photographing teen or tot asses, leaving me alone, so then the cop and neighborhood watch paid the domina with my DNA instead and they saw her ass.

An espionage backed impersonator of me has beaten me out to a white woman and is throwing the value of my genome at her buttocks.

A recurring event. I attempted to come on to Mistress Isys but somebody beat me out to her.

So here are some questions I have back to Jim Volcelka.

- Who sexually assaulted, physically assaulted me, and manufactured child porn and peeping porn at Stay and Play attributed to me in Black Bag operation?
- Who used that information to socially sabotage me to Deja and used his property to money launder the rights to my genome?
- Who was the person, not me, who paid Deja with my genome rights?

I have been through thousands of sexual assaults in what amounts to Ruby Ridge standoff as people shout into my home in sexualized ways or time, death threats are shouted into the home, I am wrongfully forced out of my real lawful home into a controlled sexual assault controlled environment located in Nueces County Texas I want nothing to do with from day one.

Film splicer Wikipedia retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Film splicer From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

A film splicer (also called a film joiner, usually in Europe) is a device which can be used to physically join together lengths of photographic film. It is mostly used in film motion pictures. The units are made in various types depending on the usage: Single-8, Super 8 film, 16mm, 9,5 mm, 35mm and 70mm. Used in film editing to make a cut (transition).[1][2]

Contents

1. Cement splicers
2. Tape splicers
3. Ultrasonic splicers
4. Thermal paper splicers
5. Cement splicers

Cement splicers join films together by using a chemical called film cement which is made of film base dissolved in a solvent. The photographic emulsion is removed from the area to be joined and the base of the other end is brought into contact with it.[3][4]

Film editors use a version with a very small overlaps at the top and bottom of the picture frame to edit film negatives, although units with a longer overlap are preferred for projection release prints.[5]

These can only be used with acetate, triacetate and nitrate films. Polyester film, such as that used for currently produced prints, will not bond with standard film cement.[6]

Tape splicers

Here a piece of thin transparent adhesive tape is used to join the two ends. The tape may be pre-perforated for the film perforations, or the splicer may make perforations as the splice is made (this type of splicer is sometimes referred to as guillotine splicer).[7]

Tape splicers can be used on most types of film. This is the most popular way to join polyester prints in theaters.

Ultrasonic splicers

These splicers use an ultrasonic signal to melt the film together. They are generally used with polyester film, and are used in splicing microfilm as the splice will not break down over time as a tape splice might.

Thermal paper splicers

Used in film processing labs to join film into large rolls before processing. These use a plastic coated tab to make the splice. The tab is heated and the plastic melts slightly, bonding to the film. The tabs are often printed with a number or bar code to identify the film after processing.

See also

Splicing is sometimes used to describe the technique of compositing used in digital film-making which is used to combine visual elements such as actors onto a virtual background.

Compositing (composing photos) [*]

Photobombing has been known to get global exposure, mainly due to the bandwidth and ease of dissemination afforded by the Internet, and the abundance of snapshots by smartphone cameras and other hand-held devices. A number of websites include sections on them, or are entirely devoted to photobombs.

In 2014, “photobomb” was named Word of the Year by the Collins English Dictionary.[4]

> Photobombing can be described as a person, intentionally or unintentionally appearing in a photograph of someone or something else and intentionally or unintentionally taking the focus and attention off of the intended subject *.

Manufactured Coutouts to be spliced together

- Classless: Start by the appearances of a ring which in now way exists, a ring between Tom Dunham and Edward Paul Donegan, a ring in which suck puppets of each seem to traffic in teens and or tots being eroticised as well as adult entertainers who catch them and rumors grow, cliquishly. A Grand Jury or other Ex Parte group will act as a certified class of injured parties and remdiators The fictional world of an exploitation rign existing.

- Begin faking exploitation by photo bombing my normal use of cell phone by placing teens and tot buttocks on the non display side of the phone whenever I hold the phone in use of any type uage.

- Place me in the lens view of people who saw me, filmed me, in the area of a photographed teen or tot.

- Someone other than Edward Paul Donegan creates on the phone that person has a photo of a the teen or tot and that photo will be alleged to the memory chip of Edward Donegan's smart-phone or a phone alleged to Edward Paul Donegan

- Call something in Edward Paul Donegan's possession a camera and in some way later "tape a photo to it" as if the shopping cart, solar cell, or whatever had been a camera generating a picture taken by something else and someone else.

- Bragadicio assaults on me by those who "see me in the area" photograph me in hostile way and show the hostility towards me they would show a pedophile WITHOUT calling me a pedophile and without accusing me of me anything. Their harmed child is added into the fake class of harmed people, and child's parent believes I am a pedophile, but harming their child is worth it to get in on the class action against my trust fund.

All of this is witch burning. Neither Tom Dumham nor I have any interest in exploitation or minors and fight against both, but use of fictional allegations allows fictional victim hood of claimants in tampered with chains of events.

People are encourage to fake claims against me which create normalization of them and I think that was meant to bolster one very important one in the 1990s which allowed for IVF of the Obama children by bacteria based brain genes supplementation which created a brain genes parrallel between Barack Obama Jr. Edward Paul Donegan, and Glorian Donegan which MKULTRA Brain Research, DARPA and Boeing Corp, the CIA would rather not talk about.

Thus this book does talk about it amidst death threat towards my writing it and hinderences to publication of the book.

1. Duty: the defendant has a duty to others, including the plaintiff, to exercise reasonable care,
2. Breach: the defendant breaches that duty through an act or culpable omission,
3. Damages: as a result of that act or omission, the plaintiff suffers an injury, and
4. Causation: the injury to the plaintiff is a reasonably foreseeable consequence of the defendant's act or omission.

When you intercede, you try to help people work out their differences or achieve something, like when you intercede on your friend's behalf to encourage your boss to hire him, or when feuding friends ask you to intercede, guiding them to sort out their differences.

The verb intercede comes from the Latin root words inter, meaning "between," and cedere, meaning "go." Acting as a go-between is exactly what you do when you intercede. Maybe you are the peacemaker, or you play matchmaker, or you just bring people to work out their problems. Sometimes people pray that God will intercede in their lives, meaning bring change that improves a situation.

INTERVENE VOCABULARLY.COM

From the Latin “intervenire,” meaning “to come between,” the verb intervene means just that: to get involved, to jump in the middle of something, to interfere.

The verb intervene was first recorded around 1600. Since then there haven’t been many interventions in its meaning or usage. You should probably intervene in a heated verbal fight between two of your friends before it escalates and gets physical. Especially if they’re debating the United States’ habit of intervening in international conflicts.

INTERFERE VOCABULARLY.COM

To interfere is to try to stop something from happening. If you get into a fight on the street, people passing by might try to interfere so no one gets hurt.

Many countries resent it when other countries interfere (get involved) in their internal affairs, just as people often dislike it when others interfere in their personal affairs. In this sense interfere is the opposite of minding one’s business. On airplanes you’re not allowed to use cellphones because, it’s said, they interfere with the plane’s navigational systems.

INCLINATION

1) the act of inclining; bending forward 2) a characteristic likelihood of or natural disposition toward a certain condition or character or effect

You can see the word "incline" inside inclination, which clues you in to the fact that inclination has to do with leaning. Sometimes the inclination is literal; in most cases it's about what you incline toward in a figurative sense.

An inclination is something you are leaning toward, a tendency you have. You could have a specific inclination for chocolate, or you could have an inclination that applies to a decision you are about to make: “Looking at this dessert menu, my inclination is to skip everything and just go home and have a chocolate bar.”

INTEREST

1. n. sense of concern with and curiosity about someone or something 2. n. a fixed charge for borrowing money; usually a percentage of the amount borrowed 3. n. (law) a right or legal share of something; a financial involvement with something 4. n. (usually plural) a social group whose members control some field of activity and who have common aims

Interest is used most often to describe something you like, enjoy or think useful. You might have an interest in African literature, or you might follow the news with interest.

Although interest is used mainly to describe anything that is, well, interesting, it also is used in specific legal contexts. If you have an interest in a company, it means you own part of it. Interest is also the word used to describe money charged or given as part of a debt. If a bank loans you $10,000, you have to pay back the $10,000 plus the interest. If the interest rate is 5 percent annually, you would owe $500.

In the Grifters scheme of things which surround me this guy is in the role of the tough guy, glaring at me at the scene some tot was abused at. I didn’t do anything to the tot or teen female, he won’t say I did, thus I won’ be availed the chance to clear my name, but instead of a statement accusing me of something he will play a fool in some kind of aviator glasses as the alternative to saying something.

Sometimes something will be said like “that will be 20CCs” or something, and I either tell them I have nothing to do with them or I want nothing to do with them, including the exploited minors near me, but depending on the mere appearances they create they will to my trust fund, a county prosecutor, local religioius services, and demand some blind conservator of me “pay the bill.”

Subversion

Subversion (from the Latin word subvertere, ‘overthrow’) refers to a process by which the values and principles of a system in place are contradicted or reversed in an attempt to transform the established social order and its structures of power, authority, hierarchy, and social norms. Subversion can be described as an attack on the public morale and, “the will to resist intervention are the products of combined political and social or class loyalties which are usually attached to national symbols.

Infiltration and establishing front groups[edit]

In order for a group to be successful in subverting a government, the group itself and its ideas must be seen as an acceptable alternative to the status quo. However, groups that work toward subverting a government, in many cases, follow ideas and promote goals that on their surface would not receive the support of the population

Therefore, “to gain public credibility, attract new supporters, generate revenue, and acquire other resources, groups need to undertake political activities that are entirely separate, or appear separate, from the overtly violent activities of those groups.

Sometimes this is achieved by infiltrating political parties, labor unions, community groups, and charitable organizations.”

Offensive terror

Offensive terror can be defined as the killing of people, destruction of property, kidnapping, etc. It is usually a minor part of subversion and “is used not to exert force in the transfer of state power, but is meant to cower the people or ruler.”

Cower: Crouch down in fear. Jen Moore would not, nor did Ted Gunderson.

I believe the pillow over the face of Justice Scalia, played dwon in the press, was a warning not to talk about “The Family” aka D Ass Raper Gangstalk mobs.

Bribery

Bribery is one of the most common tools of subversion. Most societies see bribery as a form of corruption, and it used as a subversive tool because it “implies the undermining of existing rules of political or moral conduct.”[37] It can also be one of the less reliable tools as well. Bribed officials are only useful if they take action. However, actions taken over a period of time draw suspicion from the public.

It is more so that the non white US Marshalls like adult white women and use them to catch the impersonator of me, and when that happens, my genome goes to non whites, the adult entertainer, etc., and also buys the cars of the US Marshalls tracking white supremacism.

Surreptitious needs and surreptitious plots

Vocabulary.com SURREPTITIOUS *

When someone behaves in a surreptitious way, they're being secretive. They're doing something that they don't want to be seen doing.

While surreptitious means secret, it has the added sense of "sneaky" or "hidden." During the Jewish Passover meal of Seder, an adult will surreptitiously place a piece of matzoh somewhere in the house for the children to hunt for later in the meal. You'll see surreptitious applied mostly to actions, rather than to things or ideas. We do things surreptitiously. The members of the secret society hold surreptitious meetings because, well, they're a secret society. I was very surreptitious in how I organized the surprise party: she never knew!

Stegonography or Secret Writing uses "cyhper" (encoded) references to "clear text" (unencoded) information.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/CIA_cryptonym

Format of cryptonyms

Each CIA cryptonym contains a two character prefix called a digraph, which designates a geographical or functional area. Certain digraphs were changed over time; for example, the digraph for the Soviet Union changed at least twice.

Digraphs

Partial list of digraphs and probable definitions AE: Soviet Union 1960s AM: Cuba
AV: Uruguay
BE: Poland
BG: Albania

The rest is either an arbitrary dictionary word, or occasionally the digraph and the cryptonym combine to form a dictionary word (e.g., AEROPLANE) or can be read out as a simple phrase (e.g., WIBOTHER, read as "Why bother!"). Cryptonyms are sometimes written with a slash after the digraph, e.g., ZR/RIFLE, and sometimes in one sequence, e.g., ZRRIFLE. The latter format is the more common style in CIA documents.

Abuse of Process (railroads)

After being driven out of California leases by assault in my home, rented apartments which the State conducted, I was forced to return to Texas. During the time in California I completed the first thirty days of rental and showed Wells Fargo Bank and Social Security billing at Salinas address. Black surrounded me during all phases including at Social Security office as I was using the machine on premisis wasting years of my life. People from Texas also surrounded me in the waiting chairs striking up conversation about how God and Science were really the same thing, the concept I and my father have fought against our whole lives. Texans harassed everywhere I went across the USA.

Crisis Acting as foundation work in the Long Con, Stages of the Long Con on my Sperm Bank Rights

In the Lambda Green White chapter of this book this and more information is found on Cons or Long Cons, shakedown schemes.

Keep these in mind as I describe the trip to and arriving in Stay and Play.

Con artists cops out to get “Trump supporters” (STormfronters) will advise/falsify to Jim Vocelka who is on the way and enlist Jim Volcelka to handle the “emergency” in a “curbside justice” way which will shake me down for Social Justice before I am sent packing into homelessness.

Using me as cover story for blacks peeping and the peeping being caught by white glam dominatrices who will want nothing to do with Ed is part of a narcissistic rage built around black theory my family stole DNA from blacks and it is payback time and it is I who is the scum not blacks.

Per the blacks this Antifa like assault upon me and resultant claims to my children merely sets history and racial justice back to even.

Thus I am assaulted in my own home in long term persecution I have not been able to break free from.

Now, the list of witness starting with Stay and Play of assaults upon me meant to make me the suspect for the acts of others, the acts of those others under my identity will create false claims by those assailants to the rights to “my babies”

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Confidence_trick

Stages of the con

In Confessions of a Confidence Man, Edward H. Smith lists the “six definite steps or stages of growth” of a confidence game.[7] He notes that some steps may be omitted.

Creating the Crisis

Foundation Work

Preparations are made in advance of the game, including the hiring of any assistants required. [Crisis Actors which will require others to take acts in the crisis]

The Hurrah

A sudden crisis or change of events forces the victim to act immediately. This is the point at which the con succeeds or fails.

Con People Seek the Assistence of Others in the Crisis

Approach

The victim is contacted. (in this case Jim Volcelka who will be drawn into criminal activity he thinks will not be caught. He otherwise as one of the “goodguys” would have had a great room mate tenant.)

Build-up

The victim is given an opportunity to profit from a scheme. The victim’s greed is encouraged, such that their rational judgment of the situation might be impaired.

Pay-off or Convincer

The victim receives a small payout as a demonstration of the scheme’s effectiveness. This may be a real amount of money, or faked in some way. In a gambling con, the victim is allowed to win several small bets. In a stock market con, the victim is given fake dividends.

Special Operators

The In-and-In

A conspirator (in on the con, but assumes the role of an interested bystander) puts an amount of money into the same scheme as the victim, to add an appearance of legitimacy. This can reassure the victim, and give the con man greater control when the deal has been completed.

also called a plant or a stooge, is a person who publicly helps or gives credibility to a person or organization without disclosing that they have a close relationship with the person or organization. Shills can carry out their operations in the areas of media, journalism, marketing, politics, confidence games, or other business areas. A shill may also act to discredit opponents or critics of the person or organization in which they have a vested interest through character assassination or other means.

A conspirator

(in on the con, but assumes the role of an interested bystander) puts an amount of money into the same scheme as the victim, to add an appearance of legitimacy to the scheme. This can reassure the victim, and give the con man greater control when the deal has been completed.

Effect of False Flag, effect of Crisis Acts acts on real person in whose identity the crisis was created in

In addition, some games require a “corroboration” step, particularly those involving a “rare item”[flim flam quackery claim of savant, etc.,]. This usually includes the use of an accomplice who plays the part of an uninvolved (initially skeptical) third party, who later confirms the claims made by the con[man.

Character assassination

(CA) is a deliberate and sustained effort to damage the reputation or credibility of an individual[1] The term could also be selectively applied to social groups and institutions. Agents of character assassinations employ a mix of open and covert methods to achieve their goals, such as raising false accusations, planting and fostering rumors, and manipulating information.

CIA Mockingbird - Does the Run setup the Pass or the Pass setup th

Normally abusiveness towards Person “A” (I call myself Rx as person A) in public is resultant from misconduct by Person “A”.

In my case the bullying of me creates the Legend of me, a false legend, underwhich Person “C” aka CIA can operate catching Person “B” (I call Tx) in conduct consistent with the bullyingo of me, thus selling to the public CIA backed misconduct of an imersonator of me as my misconduct.

The accusations by in-explicit foundation-less chest full of hot air not saying anything have been far removed from any truth about me but they person planting evidence has the chest full of hot air.

I spent years of my life around the clock trying to figure out why people planting evidence seemed to believe the phony conduct allegations against me, out of character for me, not me.

I came to learn as I head a “talloid” confess pretending to be me that a behavoiral charicturization of me had to be sold to the public, not specific enough for me to refute, such that the impersonator of me, selling that reputation, can then act as me under that reputation for misconduct tendencies and be believed, if the Legend of Ed Donegan, the CIA claim of who Ed Donegan is, gets accepted by key people.

The confession of Tx, the impersonator of me confessing to misconduct, must match the bullying towards me, Rx, the recipient of foundation-less abusive treatment.

In a totalitarian regime The effect of a character assassination driven by an individual is not equal to that of a state-driven campaign. The state-sponsored destruction of reputations, fostered by political propaganda and cultural mechanisms, can have more far-reaching consequences. One of the earliest signs of a society’s compliance to loosening the reins on the perpetration of crimes (and even massacres) with total impunity is when a government favors or directly encourages a campaign aimed at destroying the dignity and reputation of its adversaries, and the public accepts its allegations without question. The mobilisation toward ruining the reputation of adversaries is the prelude to the mobilisation of violence in order to annihilate them. Generally, official dehumanisation has preceded the physical assault of the victims.[10]

My arriving at Stay and Play

I was invited to Stay and Play and met then who was called Jim and Simply Cat and it was agreed I would move in and pay $600 per month.

I took the amount out in cash because I do not use paper checks and took the cash paper bill pocked from the bank and put into the interior of my motorcycle jack where an internal chest area pocket was.

As usual when I am in the vicinity of cash a Shill con artist scheme surrounds me as a leggy teen was near, strange people around, black Secret Service inside the bank including one male and one female with a graduated like drinking bottle which would be similar in description to my camping cooking one though I had left that for then at Capitola where I was moving from.

It was probably alleged I was trying to pick up the teen near the bank though a black probably was.

It was agreed when I would move in and prior to that day what I call a Bifurcation occurred. While another motorcyclist was near me in an open park I was called and asked why I wasn’t at that dinner at Stay and Play which btw I had not been told about and wasn’t going to anyway.

Likely at that dinner Jim Volcelka received false information about me as was enlisted by con artist to continue a con against me, a protection con which would get me into homeless shelters and social services and away from him and white females.

Jim Volcelka modified his building to what would be a peeping tom facility in the shower. Simply cat demanded the window open in the shower at all times including when I was using it. The wall was modified, etc.,

Women in muscle cars came into the facility, one sitting at the computer when my phone rang. I call that a Google Books Ploy. I use my phone and someone near me is photographed, behind my back those two facts are merged together.

Adult white reproductive healthy females missing and “the are really on to me” game was played, not accusation towards me but Jim V wearing a NYPD cap must of made me the/a suspect for what somebody else did.

I had contacted a Dominatrix i never heard back from but likely she was warned off me based on the fake allegations against me and saw a Doppelgänger of me who confessed to peeping and acknowledged my DNA was due to others because of that.

I was a great friendly and law abiding roommate and Jim V blew it. He was part of a protection racket shakedown in bad faith acts of making me LOOK retarded or savantish when he knew I was not. He felt letting the protection racket shake me down was good curbside justice.

He did thinks like coach me to put a motorcycle pouch on my rear bench handles knowing I already planned to do it and had the gear., etc., but felt it was for a good cause, much like those at Highlander Motel, who doesn’t want to shake down a scum bag behind his back and send him packing.

The outrage and disbelief I hold continues that these insane criminals have been convinced their crimes are law abiding and my law abiding is crime.

In fact blaming me for the acts what Nazis would call the inferiors are said to be social justice. I am very neutral about things and without any sense of superiority. In fact I carry a few or one genetic disorder tied to ADD/Dyslexia, etc., which has been a hassle and I don’t doubt myself in anyway because of it.

But I have turned to whites to find what motivated blacks to attack me and my mother over decades including black and others defaming with with persecution for acts and interests not my own.

Other than that behind my back Jim V said would not hurt me, and asking me to leave as Simply Cat requested, he was in some ways accommodating. Still, the damage can not be overlooked. I do believe somewhat in dupes, entrapment, and mass hysteria, and Jim Volcelka in part affected by that.

I have always wanted, expected, and demand better than faking sexual allegations against someone by scene elders, ever.

The common elements to the 200 People Witness List to be taken from Stay and Play are these.

Physical,sexual assaults, character assassination attacks upon me and evictions are heaped upon me by the Protection Racket.

Those attacks launched on me and publicly launched upon me are the cover story others use for their crimes and sexual misconduct and acts of racial predation.

Non white are willing to harm children if that harm can become a pretext for assaults on me.

Modification of the home to create a peeping tom allegation against me is done at the request of the Protection Racket so I can blamed for what usually I don’t even know occurred or catch others who ARE involved in the generation of child porn., etc..

There is a strong propensity for this scam where I would live WITHOUT social services and it is social services who wish my DNA for non whites and operate the Protection Racket. The sexual misconduct allegation against me also prevent me from a white wife family I have sought.

During this time I was analyzing Capitola Santa Cruz GoPro footage and Doppelgangers and Jen Moore Pizzagate reporter was murdered, I think she was murdered to cover up my family history, Freemason interest in Feb 20 Full Term Spiritual Code for Yahweah, and why an impersonator was shaken down over “pizza” for DNA rights.

My primary motive for California trip was to displace the Doppelgänger to the BDSM Scene (Daemon Boyle, Stefanos, others) and to Genentech as well and I was emailing Genetech, Chris Lloyd, others at that time as well as Capitola Police and Fetlife Legal on the situation.

Another Ripple of this emanation registered at Wiliam Ruiz Capitola

I spent nearly all my time at Capitola either trying to fix the PC well enough for a legally blind person to be able to use OR, more likely, writing documents for Genetech, Capitola, Santa Cruz Police, and other law enforcement as well as document evenets as they were occurring.

William Ruiz was using the computer for his “sandwich” of white lesbians in the shower porn in my stolen clothes and with a chair “he assigned to me” moved from the condo in the development to likely another condo across the street.

In fact stealing my necessary items, riding gloves, eye goggle for laps, swim suits, motorcycle jacket, have been common assaults upon anything I do for safety.

Jim Volcelka would spit on my changing the music to pairs free skate to songs I like as peeping tom activity and he rather than I would be the peepoing tom in his own Stay and Play bed and breakfast, but assault on what I did do by claiming it is what I did NOT due is the scheme of making me the suspect for the black on white crimes committed by Black Nationalists such as William Ruiz, part black hispanic out to get “Nazi scum.”

In fact like Tom Dunham I spent about 20 years trying to prove the things in my vicinity and even in my home I a not involved in. Instead it is police activity alleged to Tom Dunham and I as others are in pizza pedo networks.

Though I did not get to Genentech all through my motorcycle trip to California that was my main goal. I also was going not from shower cam peeping as William Ruiz was, I was going to rope workshops, Rainbow adult supplies in Santa Cruz, and Pansexual LGBT BDSM events on the beach listing to band concerts with scene members etc.,

That is who I am and William Ruiz is who he is.

During the course of my stay at Capitola I alerted business owners that the activities around me were a scam (to no avail though) took documents to police department after police department to no avail.

The seedy disgusting world of CIA Midnight Climax run by DOD CIA Secret Service for trafficking in DNA rights is run by Government and they will kill to keep it secret as they killed Jen Moore who had the documents I was generating as Fetlife Legal did.

Nevertheless William RUiz took the “law enforcement positive” acts I was doing on the computer and turned it into HIS black nationalist “Fapping” to white lesbians, the Sandwich of Aug 10 2017 (2 days before Jen MOore death) and he did it the Aviator Glasses Cheap Shot character assassination way.

Of course, my documents of course. How was that shower cam peeping at the white girls William?

Another piece of this story was me surrounded at Capitola health club, me working out great and I should be doing that today, but a Doppelgänger of me and lesbians in that same club.

William Ruiz fapping to white women equals my DNA to blacks. How co mingling world.

In fact the Griffith Observatory and Utah Geologic museums are other things I cite of black nationalists defecating on my life.

It was my hope that getting into a scene reputable place would get me away from the fraud of William Ruiz and thus my own acts in between Capitola, Santa Cruz, and Salinas were one long ongoing act going back and forth between expected credible people and not finding any, even in law enforcement.

Part of the evidence I collected though on William Ruiz stealing my motorcycle jacked (it was a great time to hike, motorcycle ride, etc., by I lost all my life I would have led in the area to fighting William Ruiz) included a video of text messages screen shots, recordings, patterns of activities, events, etc., and I still think in that Jen Moore got the final peices of evidence SHE needed to help me and Jen Moore also hear my raging screaming pain at the US and all that it is right now and she wanted to help me.

Other Activities

One of the deepest resentments I hold is being stuck in the feces filth of Nueces when I had moved to Austin (and did before being ordered to leave my leased apartment apartment complex property at near gunpoint) when I wanted to join Sierra Club, bike, join motorcycle clubs, attend Libertarian and Web meetups, and so much more including the Austin BDSM and rope scene.

Richard Neal, an old hight tech friend was in a motorcycle meet-up I was joining, in the area as was Christ Lloyd I wanted to discuss matters with, and others I wanted to meet anew or reestablish friendships with.

The crackhead feces toilet buckets of human waste I am assaulted with is a stench so great I can not get Feces Stench Neuces out of my pours but the black prison felons are making sure they are “always above” a piece of shit like me.

I have black ghetto hurling feces at me and proud of it, and they started it and they oddly want to ‘have my baby.”

Other Common Elements To Take Away From William Ruiz and Jim Volcelka for RICO Pattern

People are asked (in part to defeat White Supremacism) to adopt my identity in some way (making statements in the first person as me but them speaking, stealing my clothes or phone, pretending their phone is mine, or a device not a camera I have is a camera) to allege peeping to me when they did it.

My being vigilante attacked especially publicly creates the cover story for their acts. I continue to demand an allegation such as “Ed photographed a woman or child” and instead mere cheap shots such as Aviator Glasses or law enforcement wear like t shirts and hats by those who were asked to comit the acts that I implied as the suspect of.

In this way use of my genome by racketeers seeing adult entertainers in my identity or KOMPROMAT shown to others by made by police back people seems to have been acts of my own. Rational analysis af an allegation against me because no actual allegation occurs.

Those hostile to me will handle accusations made against me behind my back and agree to those allegations.

A very common elements that probably has something to do with transcripts are people speaking lines which should be mine.

After I came back from a long motorcycle camping trip and was using a home shower for the first time in weeks William Ruiz said “it sure is nice taking a shower after not doing so for weeks” and note the shower reference. Jim Vocelcka spoke in the first person as me taking military IQ tests as ASVAB MEPs but then not enlisting, doing the same thing (cryptanalust) in the private sector.

I guess Jim Volcelka when caught by a domina peeking in the Stay and Play shower will be able to sign his genetics to the retarded.

This book

The Jim Vocelcka Question

Etiology and the Jim Vokelcka Question

As Jim Vokelca did what others did, persecute me as a Nazi and fake being me to sign my DNA away to others prior to evicting me at his female co occupants request, he posed a question I now know is a quesion of Etiology

> Why would we frame you as retarded and why would we sign your genome away to social justice as we frame you, you being a right winger [suggesting Nazi though behind the accusation of MAGA TRump supporter]?

Grammer clipped writing on paper, choking on food like Artichokes, speeking rapadily in ADHD like spastics or mumbly quick slur, much like handwriting, is not being retarded. It is FOXP2 but hiding that I have London KE FOXP2 has been an issue for me in Behavoiral Health in disguised the clear quality and genetic origins of my brain, making me seem retarded by interfering with normal developed adult mind life.

In another section I will list many like Dr. Charney, Ryan, Augustus, and others switched out so different, almost always non white, "hit job" environments and diagnosis takeover with malicious mischaracterizations of me, I think part of DARPA Twins Study covert FBI CIA NSA Secret Service work in the Brain Program making me an unlikely candidate to share brain genes with those that I do share brain genes with.

My brother spent most of his life doing hit jobs on both my mother and I overty lying and trying to hide both our DNA continaing clothes and items, photos, anything of the like.

Whether he himself knew it or not the answer this book poses to that question of Etiology, what gave rise to this black market racket, is the need for Black Hebrew Isrealites to lay claim to GLorian Donegan Ed Donegan DNA around the world in interracial missionary use and end that genome in the United States and accomplish the illegal goal off the books, hidden. Illegal ends by illegal means.

This starts to introduce the protection racket I call Weekend at Bernies or Extortion17 in which the need for a protector, an asset manager will be setup, and that same asset manager hostile to me will fake evidence against me and “double dip” being both the representative of the retarded, autistic, and low IQ non white or gay seeking IVF, and as SJW for them, litigate against me who they also want to represent.

Hostile to me and probably the same black felon types who surrounded my mother and I, engaging in “payback” for alleged crimes of my mother (Nazi Kutscheras?.)

But for the motive of gaining furtive access to her genome the co-operating Illuminati seeking to help minority families effectively shifted the represented Pooled Trust of half the sale of Glorian Donegans home, the principle dollar amount she refused to touch for 30 years (never using the principal so it could be inherited) and faked for her genome a Master Trust effectively behind the scenes, faking me as need a trust after her death and then settling false claims of other covered retarded children such that my mothers cash value of their home was turned into genomic feed to non-whites.

Such a system of settling conflicts with me including sexually abusive ones, while benefiting the assailants needs deprived me of the assault free environment I would have enjoyed. damnum emergens aka opportunity cost.

Is Edward Paul Donegan a clone (no) of Baptist Church or clone of Baptist CHruch “little brown princesses” work of Salvation Army work with Glorian Donegan DNA, or work with Trinity Bapstist Church Chicago, Glorian genome used by the Baptist chruch in 1961 and 1996, and will Edwdward Donegan drop like a homeless housefly because he is not a Baptist like the other God Fearing clones who do have housing?

Will that get rich Baptist ministers off the hook if I do drop like a homeless housefly?

I am evicted on pretexts from places I shoudl live then on religious property fake religious allegations undermine me and I don't have religous housing either.

After Capitola at $600 a mos and Stay and Play about the same, homeless in all male violent homeless shelter.

"Those, which they have cloned, to look like those, who will be taken out, will begin to drop dead like houseflies. I am against the clones. I am against the genetic sciences, which they have devised to destroy My purity. I am against the evil alchemists, who play god. When they least expect it, I shall utterly destroy them. Go this day in peace, my Child; and know that My love for you is great. I am your Father in Heaven, yea Jehovah, Most High God.

I was hit by radiological attack and my mother stalked and hit by it too in 2011, me in 2009 and Ted Gunderson and others in 2009.

This is precisely what I sued over and requested Federal Defender assistance with Process Service (since I don't trust the Marshalls) but in the court room B Janice Ellington, south Texas Federal District Court, forced to return after losing other leases, and then she merely threw unsubstantiated cheap shots at me for allegedly harming children, perhaps intoning at Stay and Play or she was furtively referring to Capitola California or something in Texas that fits that.

Jim Volkelca made a huge point out of why would we be framing you (Ed Donegan) as retarded when you are not, and when only to gain access to a trust fund amount of $160k (half of 320k or so) was at stake? such chicken Feed! For a rich guy like Jim Volcelka. Obviously they had NO motive to fake a case against my trust fund or the requirement fo a trust fund. Which the Rockefellers might want. Maybe that last things was the reason.

I believe it was the Obamas who were born of Glorian DOnegan ovum and others now want control of it to cover-up MKULTRA Birtherism/Truther and the fake birth certificate of Barack Obama, and his attempt to protect his children from controversy.

Blacks have long said what garbage I am, I do seem very close to the garbage can in this photo.

Unable to rent apartments, stay in shape, nothing at all like Barack Obama or his children, and need of someone to manage his DNA. A person who must be in need of money managers

More on Etiology and Benefits Prosecutors can bring to County Hospitals and Goodwill Industries Programs with Asset Seizures

In fact by claiming County social services victims those victims and other programs generally can claim biologically seized assets including those religious groups involved.

Some of the ploys

What I call the Double Dip Ploy of Photocopied Books that is to say of my amino acid sequences.

Like a realtor with a seller listing who also finds a buyer or a market maker representing both the buyers and sellers of financial product, these SJWs who represent blacks, gays, autistic, low IQ minorities set themselves up with a flase claim I need them to manage me too, allegedly that I am schizophrenic or low IQ or autistic or savant so therefore false claims can be mounted against my brain genes.

The theory is that since they are only creating rights to my brain genes with false claims of me victimizing their other clients then therefore no damage has been done to real me.

In fact that is not true. It is based on social justice hatred of a white and by non whites who incite vigilantism against me for their own demons demons of theirs they let out while dressed as me.

White women are victimized by peepers claiming to be me.

I am blamed and isolated and litigated against by the unwanted conservator who denies real accounting.

The vigilantism is supposed to and does have lethal consequences against myself including evictions for the acts of others and manufactured or resultant conditions I am subjected to.

In fact Christian ministries representing those I hate as much as Christians set this up. It is a way to dab away from an Atheist what religions have no right to.

Forcing me out my homes and INTO homeless shelters

This chapter (like all chapters in this book) re-write some information from the earlier book.

In this chapter I will write about being forced into social services by social services proxies of me violating my own rights which are normal and my own, exactly so they can prevent my housing, et al.,, from coming from anyone other than their mental health services.

Being in Social Services, I never needed or wanted or signed up for, gives Social Services a proxy claim to administer, without disclosure to me, my financial and biological assets.

Blacks in Social Services Blocking My Austin white family life: Enslavement to Corpus Christi Texas and a black lead Retardation Children's Fund

Even before beginning, some may say the fact of the attempted moves to Austin are vaguely stated first hand accounts of mine.

True but t h i s .. y e a r .. a lo n e .. 2018 I had valid leases at 42nd Ae Capitola, CA, and Salinas 19020 Karen Dr, Salinas, CA "Kink BnB, and CasaLinda Apartments, Corpus Christi.

42nd Street Capitola, CA

> At 42nd Ave Capitola, William Ruiz stole my motorcycle jacket, at least, from my room, and moved the chair I normally sat at to falsify his identity as mine in an impersonation, also shouting abusively at me about what a Nazi scum piece of shit I was we we had never talked politics even once in the short time we knew each other.
> He also faked my voice by this method. He lived in a two bedroom condo advertised on Craig's list I moved into on an ongoing rental leasee, handshake, for the unused bedroom. I had been camping for weeks prior to that. He said, as though me, "It sure is nice showering after not having had showered for weeks!" setting up the sound of his voice as my while he also had stolen my clothing.
> Evidence exists of this including a recording of him.

Karen Drive, Salins, CA

> In the next rental in California these plain clothes police backed harassment schemes continued and were even worse.

> Clothes were stolen (my lap swim clothes and goggles) and Jim Volckelcka said to me things that applied to me rather than him. Jim Vokelcka said to me “I had taken the Military Entrances Processing Center ASVAB (vocational aptitude) Test but decided not to enlist and did the same thing privately.”
> This applied to me. I had taken that test in Oakland California, scored so high on the IQ piece I was questioned about cheating before cleared, offered Naval Intelligence Service Cryptographic Analyst or Flight Fire Control seat.
> In my private high tech life I did a lot of work on cryptographic technology in network security.

All Together Now

In both cases (of these two recent examples of the harassment) I was framed as being a sexually knowledgeable naive boy who like preschool children needed to learn about female anatomy and this frame job of me continues in public and out of me control.

this housing activity seemed to interplay with the health club I was in at the Capitola and Salinas locations, mirroring the Gold’s Gym and other health clubs, also staffed by US Marines.

Gyms and Health in the Monterrey Bay Area during this

> On hikes and in the gyms planted females, including teens, made bizzare and uwnated inuendo.
> In gyms, as usual, black former marines, no white women, scum scuzzy looking people flooding the gym for and keeping equipment I needed tied up, and pretend coaching or pretend workout partner with me.

> As always I had to take the Tmobile chip out of the phone to prevent disruption of PLAY of music when women were in the area, which caused me to have to press PLAY again.
> As I took the chip out what happened instead is people, mostly women, I did not know would get on treadmills next to me and start waving their arms around as other women were near me, all of which was distracting and out of my control.

As I told Jim Volcekla of Salinas Karen Dr KinkBnB I had done thousands of BDSM scenes in the Goth Fetish Industrial scene, including observing scene for safet as the backup Dungeon Master at the most famous club, where I still have VIP For Life membership, was the houselave of some of the best known dominatrices including of the club Bound (Athena,) and had an old horse farm Concord CA residence with attached barn which furnished as a dungeon as was every room of the house, and repeatedly through 50 to 100 people orgies and oversaw them for safety including observing penetrations and insuring safe word observance, and I had a live in slave at that very house name Meridith who was under slave color to me.

None of this harassment, assault, or defamation of me, in my leased housing, has any legitimacy.

This sexually assault of me police brutality of me is what keeps me homeless.

My rent on Salinas Kink BnB was 600 per month I should have lived there with my motorcycle, my car, my 2K per months, my book revenue, and my mothers trust fund.

And my white wife who I would double date with in Monterrey County with joining Jim and his wife.

Free from diabetes, outdoors, and healthy. This is what the government had to stop at all costs, and it did.

2014 Arlington Sport and Health, taken over by blacks

Gym access was hard to get. When I had $18,000 in unused social security as well as my regular social security monthly amount, and a family trust found of $160,00 for medical and similar use, it took over three hundred email and other attempts to get a gym membership, valued at $50 per month, this when I had an A1c of 13.3 and I showed to everyone.

Diabetes is going to be the cause of death, and the further I fought to get healthy, the more the conservancy has fought against me, including from within the gym.

When I die, certain problems related to the Donegan family line get eliminated.

So the question, “What harm does this all do?” has this answer

Unwanted parties tied to my brother have been trying to, and achieving, the circumstances of my homeless celibate death, and this is achieved through the creation of hostile conservancies trying to bring about my death by proxying for me to undermine my life.

Switching Jim Volcelka’s Pez Dispenser for mine seems to have been an Obama family request and I think I now know why.

Moving my family DNA into the Obama family line and ending Jim Donegan’s family line.

    - I spent 30 years trying to understand black on white hostility against me and scams of white females any where near me. I finally found a world rico plot of keeping me single, out of housing, out of jobs, OUT OF NORMAL ENVIRONMENTS, on the basis of BACK STABBING MANUFACTURED EVIDENCE, persecution of me money and laundering of my genes by non whites AS I APPEAR DISABLED AND OUT OF NORMAL ENVIRONMENTS

- Fake retardation claim, as though I need coaching to attach tool bag to bike

- Money laundering undisclosed genes values into adult entertainment industry
    - Stassia as a web site and adult toys supplies
    - Pay up or Be Arrested scams on planted evidence and impersonators punished by the Dominatrix industry and an adult entertainer

- Impersonation first person speech confusion accomplishes that and was used at 42nd Ave Capitola, Golds Gym Corpus Christi, Arlington VA, at least

- Aliases akak cutouts someone who had size 13 feet was shopping online for boots and guns. I have size 13 feet and would be attributed to me.

- Clothes of Law Enforcement, wearing NYPD cap while assaulting me with baseless innuendo of that which would not withstand any scrutiny if actually named, and in conjunction with that, manufacturing the evidence needed to support the innuendo near my presence but in ways not involving me

- Murder, Whistle blower Jen Moore murdered to coverup what I was documenting, and the police were not responding to my calls
- Conspiracy against my housing and sexual reproductive rights
- Conspiracy against religious rights and beliefs including misuse of atheist works in the New and Duex Electro and my book rights exposing the Opus Dei conspiracy
    - Jim Volcelcka talked of a book rights deal as THOUGH me
    - Tried to get me to write UIX for religous grave markers
    - Sold me out to my religious enemies

Typically, it involves three steps: placement, layering, and integration.

- the illegitimate funds are furtively introduced into the legitimate financial system. (ARC Northern Virginia denied any starting accounting or geno assets accounting in setting up trust fund)
- Then, the money is moved around to create confusion, sometimes by wiring or transferring through numerous accounts (Doppelgangers, ERosX, etc.,)
- Finally, it is integrated into the financial system through additional transactions until the “dirty money” appears “clean”.

According to the United States Treasury Department

> Money laundering is the process of making illegally-gained proceeds (i.e., “dirty money”) appear legal (i.e., “clean”). Typically, it involves three steps: placement, layering, and integration.

- First, the illegitimate funds are furtively introduced into the legitimate financial system.
- Then, the money is moved around to create confusion, sometimes by wiring or transferring through numerous accounts.
- Finally, it is integrated into the financial system through additional transactions until the “dirty money” appears “clean”

The payout to the racketeering influenced crime org could vary. Its employees or clients may receive the benefit of the value due others, its goals may be served in its mission, or some other benefit received to the organization which participates in the money laundering.

Quackery

The ARC of Northern Virginia has used quackery from the outset to undermine the fact i never needed them or signed up for them. When; for instance, I first moved to Texas I found and bookmarked Texas information lines and other resources for a Texas payee. ARC of Northern Virginia pretentiously sent me the same information as though my helper, after the fact, attempting to establish themselves as the source of what I had done, a regular pattern of Bunko activity ARC of Nova has displayed, use of quakerty to created the claimed need I am said to have for them.

In fact the quackery just facilitates step two of money laundering, creating an account of mine with them they can then confuse with their other accounts.

The entire scam is medical supplies fraud, siezing healthy kidney from me so it can be resold to those who need one under the pretense my healthy one needs to be removed.

Forcing me into indigence

I never asked for SSDI nor a trust fund.

My brother, backing the National Institute of Health, to my mother, organized both.

Illegal criminal harassment of my rights (by my brothers proxy of me) to live at these places, and not retardation housing, forced me out Ballpark West and other normal housing.

Exactly what my brother wanted, hostile to my OWN situation, but favorable to his Obama connected goals.

It was retardation services who illegal forced me out of my legitimate lease thus I could be forced into retardation housing, them further racketeering me into THEIR services diminuizing me.

My car seemed to break down (a black male was in the car who did not seem to work for the autoshop I had it preventive maintenance serviced at,) a black female seemed to be stalking some way as I bought the fuel service additive, gays seemed to trash my phone calls as I made inquiries, my right to lease was twice disrupted.

I think the purpose of people interjecting themselves into sabotage, conspiracy, against my human rights is simply to enslave me into social services, who, by proxy of me, are merely sabotaging me.

Some of the sequence of events here is useful to note again.

I made sure the ARC of Northern Virginia were not involved, thus not in position to block anything from my moving downtown to the capital of Texas in a University Town of High Tech USA workout in the best bicycling town in the USA.

Everything SJWs would never permit.

It wasn't just that those two moves to Austin were undermined, it was that after that a tree seemed to try to destroy my apartment, in my absence during Hurricane Henry, targeting my apartment in particular.

Retarded black females in need of human dna kept saying I was or had signed up for their social services allowing them, per the agreement, them to speak and act for me.

I have for twenty years been saying absolutely no way does anyone speak or act for me.

Donegan,

The Trust Department received a disbursement request from you to pay Highlander Motel Arlington the amount of $736.19.

After review by the Director of Trusts, this request was disapproved. As the end of November 2018, we received $17,000 worth of disbursements, half of which were hotel fees. Our recommendation is to look for permanent housing. Below is a link to the Arlington County Housing grant information.

In my apartment 46 the connecting chain between flushing arm and the stopper broke and for months the apartment management refused to fix the problem. I simply tied a piece of wire in place of the chain or used a pale of water to flush the toilet while I waited for the property manager to respond.

As I continuously pushed the point the Mac Lamar person upon arrival said vaguely “I need to take a photo of that” and did and then said he need a flush kit which he did not have with him.

Not having the kit with him blocked him from the continuous chain of events of fixing my toilet and it appears from what I was able to hear in 46 he had gone a couple of floors below to 26 where a scene was staged of a peeping tom toilet and enraged community members outside the windows skidding their cars around.

The service all to repair my toilet with a permanent solution is in non-performance and the property management call to some other location switch that location’s activities into the start of my service call.

IMG_20210117_084518308.jpg 1/17/2021

> Most toilets have a standard flush valve. … Changing a flush valve in a standard toilet is a fairly easy project that can be done by most homeowners. If you have a running toilet and have replaced the flapper, but this did not stop water from leaking out of the tank, your toilet may need a new flush valve.
> - Google “People also ask”

If members of the community were harmed by the activities in 26 then that could appear in the chain of events be a liability of mine which could be presented to asset managers and the community generally as a sham complaint about me, a false allegation.

If I am evicted for any such activities unfolding at other apartments confused with mine that is the manufacture of pretexts in conspiracy against rights and conspiracy against property.

From day one I moved in I had been told by a black in unit 40 that blacks were the “power race” and there seems to have been intentional provocations of racial give and take that has harmed my wish for peaceful relations with all.

Any dispute here was founded in frauds out of my control and the building is in nonperformance of service calls and living conditions.

Braggadocio acts of suggestive behaviors (not statements) behaviors like skidding cars around operated by Neighborhood Watch have no specifications, not statements to subject to examination, no test of an allegation, but the braggadocio in the community via behavior will sell to the public behind my back a specific allegation is valid. My trust fund probably agrees to the specification, the specification is NOT stated to me.

For man in this migrant farm worker community the narrative that a white establishment alt right male is harming them and owes them is a narrative they want and ALSO my conservator wants.

So where else does this chart apply to a Targeted Individual

In the above example the roadblock was the buidling repair man did not have the flush kit.

In other examples, per what a AT&T installer told me the telephone wiring pairs to my apartment had been [his word here] “sabotaged” before I moved in, thus I never had WiFi for researching my book, communicating, etc., and I suspect my telephone lines were directed to some other apartment.

The Building numbers appeared to undergo an offset of one unit number after I signed my lease but before I took occupancy and per the renatal management company my name was used (by others) for other apartment units and I had no control over that confusion.

Some apartment number labels on the doorways have been tampered with or removed or false claims apartments are cojoined when they are not.

Enigma has an electromechanical rotor mechanism that scrambles the 26 letters of the alphabet

Like other rotor machines, the Enigma machine is a combination of mechanical and electrical subsystems. The mechanical subsystem consists of a keyboard; a set of rotating disks called rotors arranged adjacently along a spindle; one of various stepping components to turn at least one rotor with each key press, and a series of lamps, one for each letter.

[Like rotating the wheel which changes one letter to a differnet one, the change of apartment unit numbers in a crossed way is like this altering the pathway of what would be and was one thing into another thing.]

The repeated changes of electrical path through an Enigma scrambler implement a polyalphabetic substitution cipher [letters, like apartment units] get their identity switched creating a soup of confusion]

The plugboard (Steckerbrett in German) permitted variable wiring that could be reconfigured by the operator

Enigma Keyboard - Keyboard Plug alters letters type - Enigma Wheels rotate letters around - Confusing but later reversable text

CIPHER

Cipher comes from the Arabic sifr, which means “nothing” or “zero.” The word came to Europe along with the Arabic numeral system. As early codes substituted numerals for letters to hide the word’s meaning, codes became known as ciphers.

A Conspiracy Against Rights by Pretexts of “zero” truthful information.

I am suggesting the Targeting of me has meant use of garbled data of zero value, mostly from paid actors or rigged proceedings for that information to be a Conspiracy Against my Rights via baseless pretexts for State acts like evictions, suing my trust fund, encouraging others to ostracize me, etc.,

Landlords can both plant evidence and show that evidence if the building management chooses to cooperate with police, and because access to the apartment is not supervised the surreptitious access the validity of activities are already suspect.

SURREPTITIOUS

When someone behaves in a surreptitious way, they’re being secretive. They’re doing something that they don’t want to be seen doing

While surreptitious means secret, it has the added sense of “sneaky” or “hidden.” During the Jewish Passover meal of Seder, an adult will surreptitiously place a piece of matzoh somewhere in the house for the children to hunt for later in the meal. You'll see surreptitious applied mostly to actions, rather than to things or ideas. We do things surreptitiously. The members of the secret society hold surreptitious meetings because, well, they're a secret society. I was very surreptitious in how I organized the surprise party: she never knew!

adj. kept secret, especially because it would not be approved of. "they carried on a surreptitious affair" - Google Dictionary from Definitions from Oxford Languages

The occupants of 42 seem like MS13 gang members.

My best guess is these are MS13 or MS13 inside Black Hebrew Israelite church groups tied to Organized Crime and as part of Organized Stalking who will as criminals recruited as Neighborhood Watch help “catch” a law

America's 1st Methodist church more than a historical landmark retrieved from By Raquel LaneriNovember 23, 2016, New York Post and copied or modified to here

The Methodists took an even more active role in social justice when one of its first African-American members, a slave named Peter Williams, expressed fear of going on the auction block after his Loyalist master high-tailed it back to Europe. Wesley Chapel bought Williams, and granted him his freedom in 1784. A decade later, Williams had his own prosperous tobacco business and a home on Liberty Street nearby. And in 1796, he and one of John Street's black deacons formed the country's first all-black Methodist congregation, the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, out of Wesley Chapel. That church now operates out of Harlem.

> "The Methodist Church begins here in lower Manhattan, just a few blocks from Five Points, one of the earliest African-American settlements in New York City," said New York historian Kenneth Jackson, explaining John Street's important role in African-American history.

> "For many people, the civil-rights highway is the church."

I am as always seeking legal activity in all maners, but I am into darkly brutal and strict BDSM, torture is a word I like the sound of and seek a Mistress comfortable with.

I am trapped in skid row hell hole Texas at the moment. If I just watched porn, it might be on the boundary of legal or illegal on community standards basis though I have no interest in anything other than athletic adult females on consensual activities.

Female or male subbing is fine, me or seeing a female suib but Iam interested female tops.

So the porn in borderline but a consenting session is between only us, and mere fantasy talk less of a problem the most likely thing.

I am also looking to move to NYC or other scene friendly locations to get me out of Gregg Abbot or Ken Paxtons or George Bushs God fearing Texas.

I would rather fear S. :-)

Philip Rushton, Mineasota Twins Study, and R and K Reproductive STrategies

I use through this book a scheme tied to money laundering, “money shot” as genetic value that is transferable by a court or conservator, and fake claims to “the money.”

Philip Rushton in Race Evolution and Behavior proposed what others have summarized as “Brains versus Dicks,” that Knowledgeable civilizations will behave in civilized ways as those con-formant with civilized conduct will thrive including in status and reproductive opportunity.

More aggressive and animalisic behavior was built around sexual predation as forceful conduct.

In order to gain my genome when I am engaged in my normal civilized conduct predators engage in a predatory way inserting predatory claims to genome based on non abusiveness towards me rather than civilized conduct.

Here is an example of predatory conduct targeting reproductivity when I was engaging in normal Civilized conduct, Knowledge based socities.

New occupants were moving into 43 and I had no idea who they were. As I was doing laundry and going down the hall the door was open and I saw a few people, “smoking out” with each other as they put a new apartment together in move.

I introduced myself and they were working with tools as the male said trying to hang something, I think a picture but maybe a TV though out of view of me.

I offered my tool box with hammer, etc., when the male asked for a philips head and later offered my power drill. THey already had that but DID want a tray of screws and thanked me for that saying they needed it.

I offered to show them the cabinets I had built using that very drill but a the female answered the door and said she was not interested in that.

later the male returned and returned my tools, still glad he had borrowed them, but said the female did not like me going to her door on these matters and she (and her female co occupant) where threatened by me.

In fact the entire group of them at various times as I was walking the halls to both give and get back the Man Cave tools and get my laundry were all together reporting themselves as pleased and giving positive social cues but then AFTER they had some phone session with a Domina, and babies given out during the role play, the claim was I was aggressive wrongly towards these females.

It appeared my good Man Cave conduct was turned into a fake claim of my aggression towards the female, creating a hostile false claim aginast me reproductivity, when I all I was doing was working on cabinet and book case building.

A predatory and dishonest element was introduced to my civilized conduct, and it was predatory and it was tied to reproductivity, and as time place manner were all wrong but part of a fraud a person seeking my genome committed.

It is probable the scuzzy ghetto person in 47 is some kind of ghetto neighborhood watch, he is accusing me of harming the ghetto, and this claim is possible because a person who seems to be me, likely the person from 43, as me, confesses to harming the people in 43.

On the phone with the remote domina 4b could have taken my role as 46, and in so doing, acting in conjunction with 47, 43, and 4B, and the domina, arrange a fake claim to my genome to be presented to protectors of the neighborhood from [the impersonator of] me.

Adding to me theory that the Shills in 48 and 4B were impersonating me for the purpose of forging a confession is that a black lady was talking to them about extreme porn on the cell phone operated by TMOBILE. At that time I was doing laundry because I had no cell phone service, very rare, so I did laundry rather than work on my book and for the several loads between the washing machine and dryer I was going back and forth and transferring the laundry which as at the far end of the hall from my apartment.

A few days before a woman asked me to help her with what would have been a selfie at the Selana memorial, a Tejano songstress killed in Corpus Christi and memoralized with a statue and Mira Vista structure which looks over the Nueces Bay.

That “tough” of her cell phone by me may have been used to tie me to other material on her phone victimizing her.

HANDKERCHIEF CODE

The handkerchief code (also known as the hanky code, the bandana code, and flagging[1]) is a system of color-coded cloth handkerchief or bandanas for non-verbally communicating one’s interests in sexual activities and fetishes. The color of the handkerchief identifies a particular activity, and the pocket it is worn in (left or right) identifies the wearer’s preferred role in that activity. Wearing a handkerchief on the left side of the body typically indicates one is a “top” (considered active in the act/fetish indicated by the color of the handkerchief), while wearing it on the right side of the body would indicate one is a “bottom” (considered passive in it). For example, a dark blue handkerchief indicates an interest in anal sex, and wearing it in the left pocket indicates a preference for being the insertive partner. The code was most widely used in the 1970s in the United States, Canada, Australia, and Europe, by gay and bisexual men seeking casual sex, or BDSM practitioners.

the who Central Intelligence Agency CIA that term was made up by them in order to kind of throw the scent off of anything that has to do with these kinds of evil acts so they threw the conspiracy theorist tag on it to make it stick children from Haiti are being used in these trafficking rings, these [gambit] sacrifice rings and now that's what you hear all the time anyone that comes out with truth that is this evil is named a conspiracy theorist and these are not theories this is a because our conspiracy truths a conspiracy is a crime in and of itself it's the gathering of you know at least two people and making a plan to commit a crime that is crying mystic conspiracy this is not a and the theory is actually an idea that needs facts to support it and we have those facts so the word conspiracy theorists has always been used as some derogatory term to make everyone think that you're crazy well that was their goal it was their goal from the beginning so all of you people screaming conspiracy theorists they've accomplished their goal with you congratulations you have officially been brainwashed and you know pat yourself on the back for that and once you get done with that take your hand off patting yourself and each other on the back it actually started doing some work and researching this and looking into this and start helping uncover some of this stuff so that we can have our country back and children can be set free and child again and we are not gonna stop until that is done so that's the end of part three point two I believe and there will be some more coming up but thank you for listening and paying attention and I'm giving as many details as I can

I know people will want me just to come forward with with names and come forward with interviews I get it I so wish I could but I have to take in the witnesses and victims safety in their lives first and until I know that some of this is safe and there are for sure good people protecting them and going to help them and

I have confirmation of that I cannot release this information publicly for their lives and their lives are way more important than me releasing anything on videotape just to get people to watch the videos or to get hits or anything like that I don't really care about that all I care about is people actually listening expanding your thinking doing the research and realizing that it is not only possible it has been happening for you know really since the beginning of time but it has really a just blown up in the past you know seven or eight years and is rampant in our society and it's it's the underbelly of the darkest of dark and these kids and these young adults who have survived this need all the support and all the encouragement and all the protection and all the safety that we as the American people who believe in justice can possibly offer them so please continue to research and share what you can what you know about child trafficking and all the just horrific crimes that that come with it including sacrifice and really really just disturbing things that that you people think to themselves human beings don't really have the propensity to do that and I'm telling you yes they do and they have the propensity to not only do it but also to get up the next morning and put a suit and tie on or even the uniform and go into work as if nothing ever happened and this is going to come out and shot people so open your eyes drop the scales look deeply and realized that those of us that are pushing this envelope on YouTube or whatever Twitter things like that the reason they are blocking us a shadow banning us or doing all these things is not because we're crazy conspiracy theorists at that point you would just let us go because we would just sound like crazy conspiracy theorists no they're shutting us down and attacking us and blocking us why why would they do that for people who are just nuts as as some people would like to believe they're not doing it because it's the truth and some of them are involved and they don't want it to come about we're going to force the issue so checking out for now thank you for listening thank you for your support

Let Caveat Emptor in medicine be the only message of my life for fear of diminuation of it, and the my choice to take chances against against COVID19 v the USA.

Caveat emptor

Caveat emptor (/ˈɛmptɔːr/; from caveat, “may they beware”, a subjunctive form of cavēre, “to beware” + ēmptor, “buyer”) is Latin for “Let the buyer beware”.[1] It has become a proverb in English. Generally, caveat emptor is the contract law principle that controls the sale of real property after the date of closing, but may also apply to sales of other goods. The phrase caveat emptor and its use as a disclaimer of warranties arise from the fact that buyers typically have less information than the seller about the good or service they are purchasing. This quality of the situation is known as ‘information asymmetry’. Defects in the good or service may be hidden from the buyer, and only known to the seller.

It is a short form of Caveat emptor, quia ignorare non debuit quod jus alienum emit (“Let a purchaser beware, for he ought not to be ignorant of the nature of the property which he is buying from another party.”)[2] I.e. the buyer should assure himself that the product is good and that the seller had the right to sell it, as opposed to receiving stolen property.

A common way that information asymmetry between seller and buyer has been addressed is through a legally binding warranty, such as a guarantee of satisfaction.

Where Leviathans battle Anarchy reigns not Sovereigns.

The premise of a Leviathan who can oversee a Realm and insure the end of anarchy brutishness to impose law may hold true under an instituted government, but on a shadow government of mafia actors who have infiltrated subsumed government rules are few, war is constant, and brutishness returned in the Deep State control of populations and waring shadow governments.

Leviathan (Hobbes book) retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Hobbes describes human psychology without any reference to the summum bonum, or greatest good, as previous thought had done. Not only is the concept of a summum bonum superfluous, but given the variability of human desires, there could be no such thing. Consequently, any political community that sought to provide the greatest good to its members would find itself driven by competing conceptions of that good with no way to decide among them. The result would be civil war.

However, Hobbes states that there is a summum malum, or greatest evil. This is the fear of violent death. A political community can be oriented around this fear.

Since there is no summum bonum, the natural state of man is not to be found in a political community that pursues the greatest good. But to be outside of a political community is to be in an anarchic condition. Given human nature, the variability of human desires, and need for scarce resources to fulfill those desires, the state of nature, as Hobbes calls this anarchic condition, must be a war of all against all. Even when two men are not fighting, there is no guarantee that the other will not try to kill him for his property or just out of an aggrieved sense of honour, and so they must constantly be on guard against one another. It is even reasonable to preemptively attack one's neighbour.

> In such condition there is no place for industry, because the fruit thereof is uncertain, and consequently no culture of the earth, no navigation nor the use of commodities that may be imported by sea, no commodious building, no instruments of moving and removing such things as require much force, no knowledge of the face of the earth, no account of time, no arts, no letters, no society, and which is worst of all, continual fear and danger of violent death, and the life of man, solitary, poor, nasty, brutish, and short.

The desire to avoid the state of nature, as the place where the summum malum of violent death is most likely to occur, forms the polestar of political reasoning. It suggests a number of laws of nature, although Hobbes is quick to point out that they cannot properly speaking be called “laws,” since there is no one to enforce them. The first thing that reason suggests is to seek peace, but that where peace cannot be had, to use all of the advantages of war.[14] Hobbes is explicit that in the state of nature nothing can be considered just or unjust, and every man must be considered to have a right to all things.[15] The second law of nature is that one ought to be willing to renounce one’s right to all things where others are willing to do the same, to quit the state of nature, and to erect a commonwealth with the authority to command them in all things. Hobbes concludes Part One by articulating an additional seventeen laws of nature that make the performance of the first two possible and by explaining what it would mean for a sovereign to represent the people even when they disagree with the sovereign.

Part II: Of Commonwealth

The purpose of a commonwealth is given at the start of Part II: THE final cause, end, or design of men (who naturally love liberty, and dominion over others) in the introduction of that restraint upon themselves, in which we see them live in Commonwealths, is the foresight of their own preservation, and of a more contented life thereby; that is to say, of getting themselves out from that miserable condition of war which is necessarily consequent, as hath been shown, to the natural passions of men when there is no visible power to keep them in awe, and tie them by fear of punishment to the performance of their covenants…

The commonwealth is instituted when all agree in the following manner: I authorise and give up my right of governing myself to this man, or to this assembly of men, on this condition; that thou give up, thy right to him, and authorise all his actions in like manner.

DAVID SANCHEZ MORALES

David Sanchez Morales was born on 26th August, 1925. He spent his early life in Phoenix, Arizona. A Mexican-American, Morales was later to be nicknamed El Indio because of his dark skin and Indian features. As a boy his best friend was Ruben Carbajal. After his mother divorced his father he was virtually adopted by Carbajal's parents.

Morales attended Arizona State College in Tempe (now Arizona State University) during the 1944-45 school year, before moving to Los Angeles and attending the University of Southern California (1945-46).

Morales joined the United States Army in 1946 and after basic training was sent to Germany where he was part of the Allied occupation force. According to Ruben Carbajal, Morales was recruited into army intelligence in 1947. However, officially he was a member of 82nd Airborne. It was during this time he began associating with Ted Shackley and William Harvey.

In 1951 became a employee of the Central Intelligence Agency while retaining his army cover. The following year he joined the Directorate for Plans, an organization instructed to conduct covert anti-Communist operations around the world.

In 1953 he returned to the United States and after a spell at the University of Maryland he assumed cover as a State Department employee. Morales became involved in CIA's Black Operations. This involved a policy that was later to become known as Executive Action (a plan to remove unfriendly foreign leaders from power). This including a coup d'état that overthrew the Guatemalan government of Jacobo Arbenz in 1954 after he introduced land reforms and nationalized the United Fruit Company. After the removal of Arbenz he joined the staff of the US embassy in Caracas (1955-58). During this time he became known as the CIA's top assassin in Latin America.

Morales moved to Cuba in 1958 and helped to support the government of Fulgencio Batista. In 1960 Wayne S. Smith was a State Department officer in the American Embassy in Havana. Smith tells the story of being in a bar in Havana with Morales. After a heavy drinking session Morales began talking about the CIA's secret operations that involved frog men operating out of Guantanamo Bay. Smith told Gaeton Fonzi (The Last Investigation) that Morales was very indiscrete when drunk. According to fellow CIA agent, Robert N. Wall: "He (Morales) was a rough-neck. He was a bully, a hard-drinker and big enough to get away with a lot of stuff other people couldn't get away with."

This photograph, taken of David Morales in 1959, appeared in a Cuban newspaper in 1978.

In November, 1961, William Harvey arranged for Morales to be posted to JM/WAVE , the CIA station in Miami. Morales was operations chief for the CIA's covert operation to train and infiltrate teams into Cuba to destabilize the Castro government. Morales reported directly to veteran Agency covert operator Ted Shackley, who was the Agency's Miami bureau chief. In May, 1962, Morales was seconded to ZR/RIFLE, the plot to assassinate Fidel Castro. During this period he worked closely with David Atlee Phillips, Tracy Barnes, William Pawley, Johnny Roselli and John Martino.

JM WAVE was the Central Intelligence Agency station in Florida. Located south of Miami in a heavily wooded 1,571-acre tract. The numerous buildings were said to belong to Zenith Technological Enterprises.

After the Bay of Pigs disaster President John F. Kennedy created a committee (SGA) charged with overthrowing Castro's government. The SGA, chaired by Robert F. Kennedy (Attorney General), included John McCone (CIA Director), McGeorge Bundy (National Security Adviser), Alexis Johnson (State Department), Roswell Gilpatric (Defence Department), General Lyman Lemnitzer (Joint Chiefs of Staff) and General Maxwell Taylor. Although not officially members, Dean Rusk (Secretary of State) and Robert S. McNamara (Secretary of Defence) also attending meetings.

While mostly remembered for his career in government, Dean Rusk was also a distinguished university professor and an influential president of the Rockefeller Foundation (RF). Dean Rusk was born in Cherokee County, Georgia, in 1909. He attended Davidson College and was selected as a Rhodes Scholar.

At a meeting of this committee at the White House on 4TH NOVEMBER, 1961, it was decided to call this covert action program for sabotage and subversion against Cuba, Operation Mongoose. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy also decided that General Edward Lansdale (Staff Member of the President's Committee on Military Assistance) should be placed in charge of the operation.

Some researchers such as Gaeton Fonzi, Larry Hancock, Noel Twyman, James Richards and John Simkin believe that Morales was involved in the assassination of John F. Kennedy. It has been suggested that others involved included Carl E. Jenkins, Rafael Quintero, William Pawley, Roy Hargraves, Edwin Collins, Steve Wilson, Herminio Diaz Garcia, Tony Cuesta, Eugenio Martinez, Virgilio Gonzalez, Felipe Vidal Santiago, Theodore Shackley,

According to CIA agent Tom Clines, Morales helped Felix Rodriguez capture Che Guevara in 1965. “We all admired the hell out of the guy. He drank like crazy, but he was bright as hell. He could fool people into thinking he was stupid by acting stupid, but he knew about cultural things all over the world. People were afraid of him. He was big and aggressive, and he had this mystique. Stories about him permeated the Agency. If the Agency needed someone action-oriented, he was at the top of the list. If the U.S. government as a matter of policy needed someone or something neutralized, Dave would do it, including things that were repugnant to a lot of people.”

In 1966 Ted Shackley was placed in charge of CIA secret war in Laos. He recruited Morales to take charge at Pakse, a black operations base focused on political paramilitary action within Laos. Pakse was used to launch military operations against the Ho Chi Minh Trial. In 1969 Morales moved to Vietnam where he officially worked as a Community Development Officer for the International Development Agency.

Morales moved to Chile in 1970. He was a member of the team that used $10 million in order to undermine left-wing forces in the country. Morales told friends that he had personally eliminated several political figures. He was also involved in helping Augusto Pinochet overthrow Salvador Allende in September, 1973 [organized by The Chicago Boys].

After arriving back in the United States Morales moved to Washington where he became Consultant to the Deputy Director for Operations Counter Insurgency and Special Activities. Larry Hancock believes that during this period he provided advice to right-wing governments (Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay, Chile, Brazil and Argentina) as part of Operation Condor.

According to his friend, Ruben Carbajal, in the spring of 1973, Morales talked about his involvement with the Bay of Pigs operation. He claimed [JFK and through formal delegate AG RFK] “Kennedy(s) had been responsible for him having to watch all the men he recruited and trained get wiped out”. He added:

> “Well, we took care of that SOB [JFK], didn’t we?”

Another example of Morales indiscretion was allowing his photograph to be taken by Kevin Schofield at the El Molino restaurant on AUGUST 4, 1973. The picture appeared in the Arizona Republic with the following text: “Feted by friends at a fiesta Saturday was former American counsul to Cuba, David Sanchez, left, who was in that country when Castro took over… In government service for 28 years, Sanchez is now consultant in the office of deputy director for Operations Counter-insurgency and Special Activities in Washington."

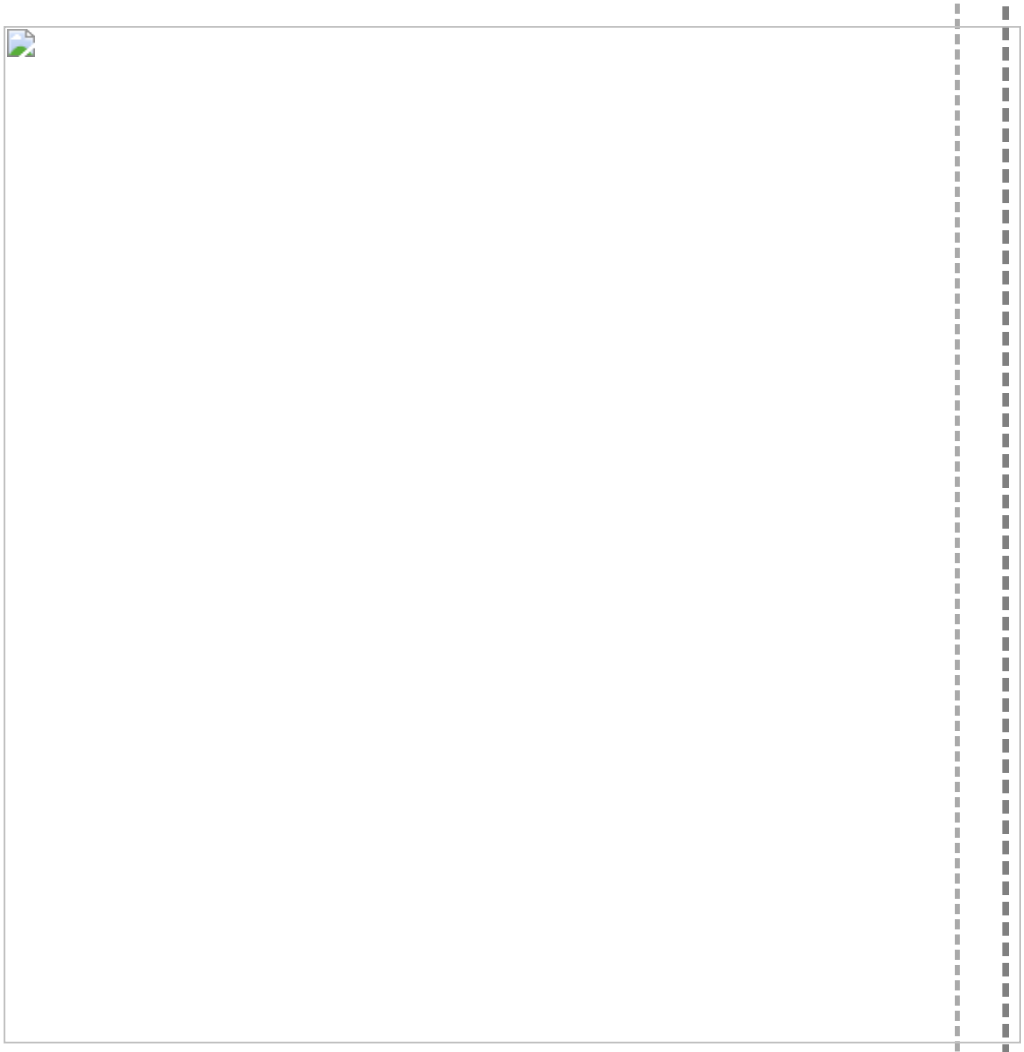
Soon afterwards Morales left the CIA. However, he continued to make regular trips to Washington. When asked about this by his friend Ruben Carbajal, Morales replied: "Oh, they run into some problems, I have to go up there and take care of them. These people never let go of you."



Morales built a new house at El Frita, which is about half-way between Willcox and the Mexican border. Morales told another friend, Robert Walton, that he had put in the best security system in the United States. Walton said, "What do you need so much security for? You're still thirty miles from the Mexican border." Morales replied, "I'm not worried about those people, I'm worried about my own."

Gaeton Fonzi, staff investigator for the House Select Committee on Assassinations (HUCA) found out about Morales from CIA asset, Paul Bethel, who worked for David Atlee Phillips. It was suggested that Morales might have been the “Latin-looking” man seen with Lee Harvey Oswald in New Orleans during the summer of 1963.

Fonzi had also read David Phillips’s autobiography, The Night Watch: 25 Years of Peculiar Service. It includes a reference to a CIA agent who used the code-name Hector (William (Rip) Robertson) and his “sidekick ‘El Indio’, a massive American of Mexican and Indian extraction I had seen only briefly during the revolt (the CIA-stage 1954 Guatemala coup) but was to work with in other operations over the years.” El Indio was Morales.

When Fonzi interviewed David Atlee Phillips on behalf of the HSCA he asked him about Morales. Phillips said that Morales was an unimportant figure in the CIA and suggested that he might have died as a result of his heavy drinking. At this stage Morales was still alive. What is more, Morales was far from being an important figure, he had in fact been Chief of Operations at JM/WAVE in 1963 and at the centre of the operation to kill Fidel Castro. Fonzi also discovered that Morales had worked very closely with John Rosselli, who also played a key role in the plots against Castro. Rosselli was to be one of the first people to be interviewed by the HSCA but went missing in July 1976. His body was later discovered in the Intracoastal Waterway in North Miami. He had been cut up and stuffed into a 55-gallon steel drum.

Morales began to worry about his own health during the HSCA investigations. Rip Robertson had died in 1970 and could not be interviewed. William Pawley committed suicide in 1977 when he was asked to appear before the HSCA. The other key figure, in the assassination of John F. Kennedy, CIA officer, Carl E. Jenkins, had remained deeply undercover and was not being investigated by the HSCA.

David Sanchez Morales made his last trip to Washington in early May, 1978. Ruben Carbajal had a drink with Morales a few days later. Carbajal told him he looked unwell. He replied: “I don’t know what’s wrong with me. Ever since I left Washington I haven’t been feeling very comfortable”. That night he was taken to hospital. Carbajal went to visit him the next morning. As Carbajal later recalled: “They wouldn’t let no one in, they had his room surrounded by sheriff’s deputies.” Later that day (8th May) the decision was taken to withdraw his life support. Morales’s wife, Joanne, requested that there should not be an autopsy.

In a letter sent to John R. Tunheim in 1994, Bradley E. Ayers claimed that nine people based at JM/WAVE “have intimate operational knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the assassination” of John F. Kennedy. Ayers named David Sanchez Morales, Theodore Shackley, Grayston Lynch, Felix Rodriguez, Thomas Clines, Gordon Campbell, Rip Robertson, Edward Roderick and Tony Sforza as the men who had this information.

Bradley E. Ayers was interviewed by Jeremy Gunn of the Assassination Records Review Board in May, 1995. According to Gunn: “Ayers claims to have found in the course of his private investigative work, a credible witness who can put David Morales inside the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles on the night of JUNE 5, 1968 (RFK’s assassination).”

In January 2004, E. Howard Hunt gave a taped interview with his son, Saint John Hunt, claiming that Lyndon Baines Johnson was the instigator of the assassination of John F. Kennedy, and that it was organised by Morales, Cord Meyer, David Atlee Phillips and Frank Sturgis.

While researching a documentary, Shane O’Sullivan discovered a news film of the Ambassador Hotel on the day Robert F. Kennedy was assassinated. Bradley Ayers and other people who knew them, identified David Sanchez Morales, Gordon Campbell and George Joannides as being three men in the hotel that day. An article about this story appeared in The Guardian and on BBC Newsnight on 20th November, 2006.

GEORGE JOANNIDES

George Efythron Joannides (JULY 5, 1922 - March 9, 1990) was a Central Intelligence Agency officer who in 1963 was the chief of the Psychological Warfare branch of the agency’s JMWAVE station in Miami, and in 1978 was the agency’s liaison to the United States House Select Committee on Assassinations.

ROBERT MAHEU FROM WIKIPEDIA AND SPARTACUS

Robert Aime Maheu (October 30, 1917 - AUGUST 4, 2008) was an American businessman and lawyer, who worked for the FBI and CIA, and as the chief executive of Nevada operations for the industrialist Howard Hughes. [1]

Maheu was born in Waterville, Maine, the son of Christine and Ephrem Maheu, who were of French-Canadian descent.[2] He held degrees from Holy Cross and Georgetown University. In 1941, during his law studies at Georgetown, he was hired by the FBI and worked as a counter-intelligence officer in Europe during World War II.[3] He left the FBI in 1947 and opened Robert A. Maheu and Associates, a private detective firm in Washington, DC.

Maheu also worked for the Central Intelligence Agency. He would later recall: “The CIA was my first steady client, giving me ‘cut-out’ assignments thus the the assignment would be linked, if found, only to Maheua [those jobs in which the Agency could not officially be involved].”[15] Maheu’s investigative agency was said to be the model for the television series, Mission Impossible.

In the summer of 1960, the CIA recruited Maheu to approach the West Coast representative of the Chicago mob, Johnny Roselli. When Maheu contacted Roselli, Maheu hid the fact that he was sent by the CIA, instead portraying himself an advocate for international corporations.

According to Maheu associate John Gerrity, he and Maheu were summoned to Vice President Richard Nixon’s office in 1954 at the behest of the National Security Council. Nixon gave Maheu a green light to employ a series of dirty tricks to wreck a pending agreement between Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis and the king of Saudi Arabia.

Robert Maheu was born in Waterville, Maine, in 1918. After graduating from the College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, in 1940, he joined the Federal Bureau of Investigation. During the Second World War he posed as a Nazi-sympathising Canadian and infiltrated New York’s German-American Bund, passing disinformation to spies who were eventually arrested.

In 1947 Maheu established his own investigative company. Maheu also worked for the Central Intelligence Agency. He was later to admit “The CIA was my first steady client, giving me `cut-out’ assignments (those jobs in which the agency could not officially be involved).” This work brought him into contact with Howard Hughes and in the late 1950s worked for him on a freelance basis. This included intimidating would be blackmailers and obtaining information on business rivals.

In 1954 Maheu was hired to deal with a starlet attempting to blackmail Howard Hughes after their relationship had soured. Hughes also employed Maheu to spy on Ava Gardner. While working for Hughes he met Edward Bennett Williams, who in turn introduced him to Johnny Rosell, the mob's frontman in Las Vegas. Maheu and Roselli became close friends.

Maheu served as Hughes's bagman and among those who received money was Bebe Rebozo, a close associate of Richard Nixon. Hughes via Maheu also provided $205,000 to the politician's brother, Donald Nixon in January 1957.

In 1960 Richard Bissell and Allen W. Dulles decided to work with the Mafia in a plot to assassinate Fidel Castro. Maheu was employed by the CIA to organize the conspiracy. The advantage of employing the Mafia for this work is that it provided CIA with a credible cover story. The Mafia were known to be angry with Castro for closing down their profitable brothels and casinos in Cuba. If the assassins were killed or captured the media would accept that the Mafia were working on their own.

In August 1960, Colonel Sheffield Edwards contacted Maheu. As Maheu explained in 1995: "In the winter of 1959-60, however, the CIA still thought it could pull off the invasion (of Cuba). But it thought the odds might be better if the plan went one step further - the murder of Fidel Castro. All the Company needed was someone to do the dirty work for it. Professional killers. A gangland-style hit."

for a meeting on 11th October, 1960, between Maheu and two leading mobsters, Santo Trafficante and Sam Giancana. As Maheu pointed out, "both were among the ten most powerful Mafia members" in America. Maheu told the mobsters that the CIA was willing to pay $150,000 to have Castro killed.

On 12th March, 1961, Maheu arranged for CIA operative, Jim O'Connell, to meet Roselli, Trafficante and Giancana at the Fontainebleau Hotel. During the meeting O'Connell gave poison pills and $10,000 to Rosselli to be used against Fidel Castro.

In 1895, Wilhelm Roentgen discovered the existence of X-rays, though the mechanism behind their production was not yet understood.

The Annus mirabilis papers (from Latin annus mīrābilis, “miracle year”) are the four papers that Albert Einstein published in Annalen der Physik (Annals of Physics), a scientific journal, in 1905. These four papers were major contributions to the foundation of modern physics. They revolutionized science’s understanding of the fundamental concepts of space, time, mass, and energy. Because Einstein published these remarkable papers in a single year, 1905 is called his annus mirabilis (miracle year in English or Wunderjahr in German).

In August 1922 Marie Curie became a member of the [European Royal Families leaning] League of Nations‘ newly created International Committee on Intellectual Cooperation. She sat on the committee until 1934 and contributed to League of Nations’ scientific coordination with other prominent researchers such as Albert Einstein, Hendrik Lorentz, and Henri Bergson. In 1923 she wrote a biography of her late husband, titled Pierre Curie. In 1925 she visited Poland to participate in a ceremony laying the foundations for Warsaw’s Radium Institute.[49] Her second American tour, in 1929, succeeded in equipping the Warsaw Radium Institute with radium; the Institute opened in 1932, with her sister Bronisława its director.[49][65] These distractions from her scientific labours, and the attendant publicity, caused her much discomfort but provided resources for her work.[65] In 1930 she was elected to the International Atomic Weights Committee, on which she served until her death.[73] In 1931, Curie was awarded the Cameron Prize for Therapeutics of the University of Edinburgh.

Curie visited Poland for the last time in early 1934.[16][75] A few months later, on 4 July 1934, she died aged 66 at the Sancellemoz sanatorium in Passy, Haute-Savoie, from aplastic anemia believed to have been contracted from her long-term exposure to radiation, causing damage to her bone marrow.

Werner Heisenberg (born December 5, 1901, Würzburg, Germany-died February 1, 1976, Munich, West Germany), German physicist and philosopher who discovered (1925) a way to formulate quantum mechanics in terms of matrices. For that discovery, he was awarded the Nobel Prize for Physics for 1932. In 1927 he published his uncertainty principle, upon which he built his philosophy and for which he is best known. He also made important contributions to the theories of the hydrodynamics of turbulent flows, the atomic nucleus, ferromagnetism, cosmic rays, and subatomic particles, and he was instrumental in planning the first West German nuclear reactor at Karlsruhe, together with a research reactor in Munich, in 1957. Considerable controversy surrounds his work on atomic research during World War II.

Ernest Rutherford, in full Ernest, Baron Rutherford of Nelson, (born August 30, 1871, Spring Grove, New Zealand-died October 19, 1937, Cambridge, Cambridgeshire, England), New Zealand-born British physicist considered the greatest experimentalist since Michael Faraday (1791-1867). Rutherford was the central figure in the study of radioactivity, and with his concept of the nuclear atom he led the exploration of nuclear physics. He won the Nobel Prize for Chemistry in 1908, was president of the Royal Society (1925-30) and the British Association for the Advancement of Science (1923), was conferred the Order of Merit in 1925, and was raised to the peerage as Lord Rutherford of Nelson in 1931 *.

Opportunistic Assassinations studied by the CIA of how these therapies can be used to advance rather than retard cancer cases.

When radiation therapy is used to kill cancerous cells in the body, it is important to measure the dose correctly to avoid unnecessary damage to normal cells in the body.

Radiation is not selective to tumor cells and therefore targets any cells that are in the process of replication when the therapy is applied. This thereby stresses the importance of administering the correct dose in order to ensure optimal efficiency with minimal side effects.

200-300	Serious radiation sickness effects as in 100-200 rem and hemorrhage; exposure is a Lethal Dose to 10-35% of the population after 30 days (LD 10-35/30).
300-400	Serious radiation sickness; also marrow and intestine destruction; LD 50-70/30.

1000-5000	Acute illness, early death in days; LD 100/10.

How much radiation is a roentgen? One roentgen of X-rays may deposit anywhere from 0.01 to 0.04 Gy (1.0 to 4.0 rad) in bone depending on the beam energy. As the science of radiation dosimetry developed, it was realised that the ionising effect, and hence tissue damage, was linked to the energy absorbed, not just radiation exposure. - Google Knowledge Panel

LONG TERM EFFECTS ON HUMANS

Long after the acute effects of radiation have subsided, radiation damage continues to produce a wide range of physical problems. These effects- including leukemia, cancer, and many others- appear two, three, even ten years later.

BLOOD DISORDERS

According to Japanese data, there was an increase in anemia among persons exposed to the bomb. In some cases, the decrease in white and red blood cells lasted for up to ten years after the bombing.

CATARACTS

There was an increase in cataract rate of the survivors at Hiroshima and Nagasaki, who were partly shielded and suffered partial hair loss.

MALIGNANT TUMORS

All ionizing radiation is carcinogenic, but some tumor types are more readily generated than others. A prevalent type is leukemia. The cancer incidence among survivors of Hiroshima and Nagasaki is significantly larger than that of the general population, and a significant correlation between exposure level and degree of incidence has been reported for thyroid cancer, breast cancer, lung cancer, and cancer of the salivary gland. Often a decade or more passes before radiation-caused malignancies appear.

KELOIDS

Beginning in early 1946, scar tissue covering apparently healed burns began to swell and grow abnormally. Mounds of raised and twisted flesh, called keloids, were found in 50 to 60 percent of those burned by direct exposure to the heat rays within 1.2 miles of the hypocenter. Keloids are believed to be related to the effects of radiation.

FALLOUT PARTICLES

Many fallout particles are especially hazardous biologically. Some of the principal radioactive elements are as follows:

Strontium 90 is very long-lived with a half-life of 28 years. It is chemically similar to calcium, causing it to accumulate in growing bones. This radiation can cause tumors, leukemia, and other blood abnormalities.

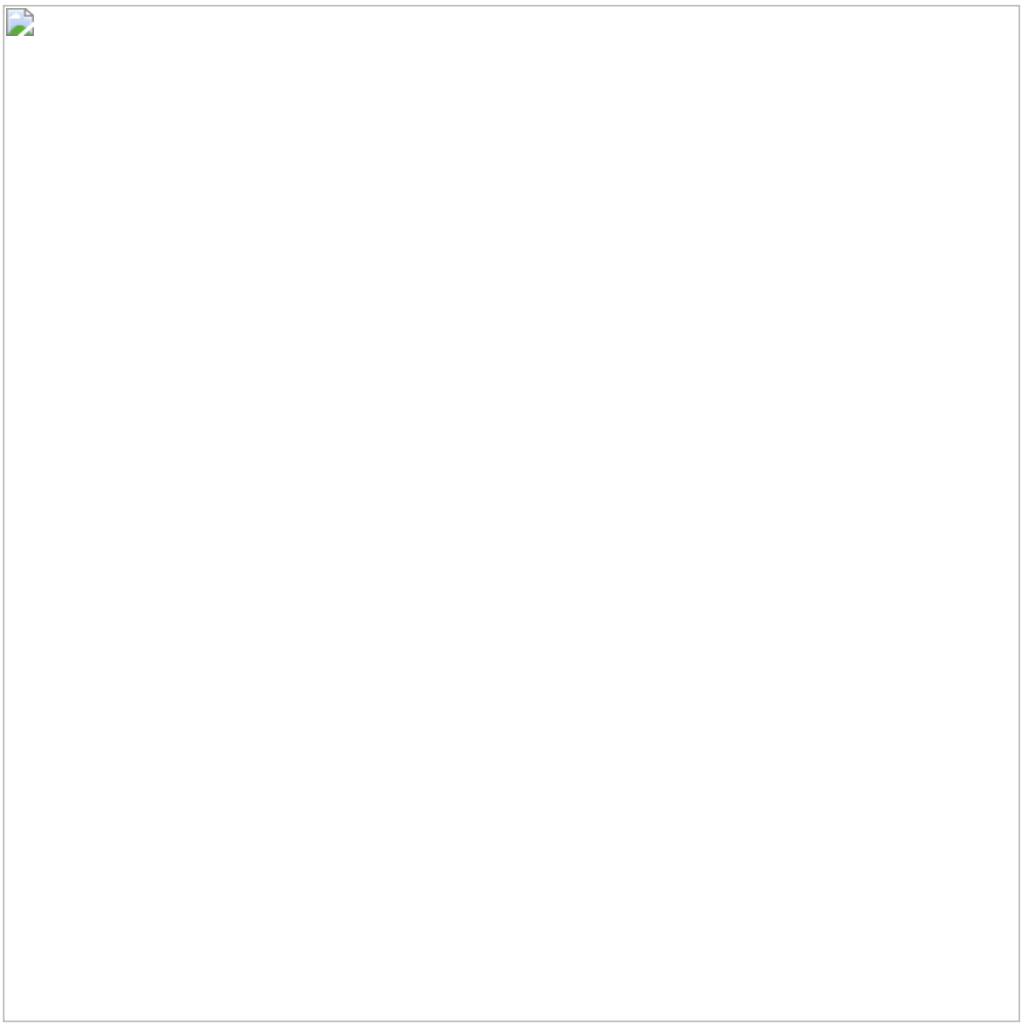
Iodine 131 has a half-life of 8.1 days. Ingestion of it concentrates in the thyroid gland. The radiation can destroy all or part of the thyroid. Taking potassium iodide can reduce the effects.

The amount of tritium released varies by bomb design. It has a half-life of 12.3 years and can be easily ingested, since it can replace a hydrogen in water. The beta radiation can cause lung cancer.

Cesium 137 has a half-life of 30 years. It does not present as large a biological threat as Strontium 90. It behaves similar to potassium, and will distribute fairly uniformly thoughout the body. This can contribute to gonadal irradiation and genetic damage.

When a plutonium weapon is exploded, not all of the plutonium is fissioned. Plutonium 239 has a half-life of 24,400 years. Ingestion of as little as 1 microgram of plutonium, a barely visible speck, is a serious health hazard causing the formation of bone and lung tumors.

On JULY 8, 1962, the EMP from the high altitude (250 miles above Johnston Island) “Starfish Prime” test (1.4 Mt) turned off 300 streetlights in Oahu, Hawaii (740 miles away).



Psychological Operations in Guerrilla Warfare (Operaciones sicológicas en guerra de guerrillas) was a manual written by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) for the Nicaraguan Contras, who were involved in a civil war with the Nicaraguan government. It was revealed by the Associated Press on October 15, 1984. The ninety-page book of instructions focused mainly on how "Armed Propaganda Teams" could build political support in Nicaragua for the Contra cause through deceit, intimidation, and violence.[1] The manual also discussed assassinations.[2] The International Court of Justice case Nicaragua v. United States found that the publication of this manual had "encouraged acts … contrary to general principles of humanitarian law."[3] However, the CIA claimed that the purpose of the manual was to "moderate" the extreme violence already being used by the Contras.[4]

The late Charles Thomas belonged to an exclusive, unhappy and forgotten club: U.S. government officials whose efforts to honestly investigate the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in 1963 cost them their jobs and reputations.

Last week the Washington Post ran an obituary of Cynthia Thomas, the widow of Charles Thomas. It was an unusual tribute. The Washington Post, now acknowledges that there are good and solid reasons for perfectly sane people to reject the U.S. government's implausible and widely disbelieved official theory that a "lone gunman" killed JFK for no discernible reason.

This is a welcome and overdue development, as the facts of Thomas's tragic story attest.

Charles Thomas, doomed diplomat

Thomas, a Foreign Service officer, was stationed in Mexico from 1964 to 1967. In the course of his consular duties, Thomas gathered first-hand information from credible sources about the visit of accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald to Mexico City six weeks before JFK's assassination. Thomas assumed that the CIA and FBI would be interested in his new evidence. He assumed wrong.

In fact, Thomas was punished for asking questions about JFK's assassination. Despite glowing job recommendations, he was inexplicably dismissed from the Foreign Service in 1969. "It was nonsensical," Cynthia Thomas told a reporter, "Charles was the best sort of American diplomat."

Two years later, Charles Thomas put a gun to his right temple in the second-floor bathroom of the couple's home in northwest Washington, and pulled the trigger.

'Sandbagged'

Other than its violent end, Thomas' story resembles that of John Whitten, a senior CIA official, who died in 2000. Whitten too paid a price for asking JFK questions.

In 1963 Whitten served as chief of the Mexico desk in the clandestine service. He came up through the agency's Berlin base where he pioneered the use of the polygraph in counterespionage investigations. He investigated the famous case of Otto John, the West German intelligence chief who defected to East Germany in the 1950s.

The day after JFK was killed, deputy CIA director Richard Helms put Whitten in charge of collating all reports on Oswald. Arrested for killing Kennedy, Oswald denied responsibility and told reporters he was "a patsy." Oswald was then killed in police custody.

The more Whitten learned about Oswald's Cuban contacts, the more he wanted to investigate. With a clerical staff of 30, he launched a counterespionage investigation of Oswald, a leftist who had lived in the Soviet Union.

John Whitten: His Oswald investigation was also killed

Within a month, Whitten was, in his own words, "sandbagged" by CIA counterintelligence chief James Angleton.

"Angleton started to criticize my report terribly without pointing out any inaccuracies," Whitten told Senate investigators in closed-door testimony. "It was so full of wrong things, we could not possibly send it to the Bureau, and I just sat there and I did not say a word. This was a typical Angleton performance. I had invited him to comment on the report, and he had withheld all of his comments until he got to the meeting. ”

A legendary and controversial figure in the annals of the CIA, Angleton is best-known for the “mole hunt,” his ceaseless unsuccessful effort to find a Soviet spy inside the CIA in the late 1960s. As I recounted in my 2017 biography of Angleton, The Ghost, Angleton and his molehunters closely monitored Oswald’s travels, foreign contacts and political activities from November 1959 to November 1963.

At a bitter meeting on Christmas Eve 1963, Whitten was relieved of his duties. “Helms wanted someone to conduct the investigation who was in bed with the FBI,” Whitten. “I was not, and Angleton was.”

The questions Whitten wanted to pursue about Oswald and the Cubans were never asked, much less answered, by the Warren Commission, which concluded predictably that Oswald acted alone, and that no one in the government was to blame.

When Whitten, an outstanding undercover officer, received a poor job evaluation in 1965, he quit the CIA and moved to Europe to join the Vienna Men’s Choir.

Snatched. Thomas and Whitten’s story also resembles that of Win Scott, the veteran chief of the agency’s Mexico station in the 1960s.

As told in my 2008 biography, Our Man in Mexico, Scott and his deputy Ann Goodpasture, launched their own private investigation of Oswald at the same time as Thomas. Like Thomas, Scott came to reject the official theory of a “lone gunman.” He wrote as much in an unpublished memoir in 1970.

Our Man in Mexico Biography of the silenced station chief.

Angleton suppressed Win Scott’s JFK dissent too. When Scott died suddenly in April 1971, Angleton flew to Mexico City and seized Scott’s unpublished manuscript. It would be 20 years before portions of Scott’s memoir surfaced with its damaging account of how the CIA had fed a lie to the Warren Commission about Oswald.

CIA officials then disparaged Scott, who had received the agency’s Distinguished Intelligence Medal in 1969. One CIA official said Scott had “gone to seed.”

Unwelcome Questions For Thomas’s obituary, the Post turned to an outside writer, former New York Times reporter Philip Shenon. The author of two well-reported books about the Warren Commission and 9/11 Commission, Shenon reported Thomas’s story for The Guardianlast spring.

In the Post, Shenon wrote:

> Declassified government files released in the 1990s suggested to her and her family - and to some historians and researchers who have studied the case - that her husband’s career was ended to stop him > from continuing to raise unwelcome questions inside the government about the 1963 assassination of President John F. Kennedy: specifically, about whether the assassin Lee Harvey Oswald had accomplices in Mexico, Thomas's "unwelcome questions," Shenon contends, concerned a possible Cuban communist conspiracy to kill Kennedy.

The long-classified State Department and CIA documents show that her husband alarmed his superiors in the late 1960s by pressing for a new investigation that might have pointed to a conspiracy in Kennedy's death. It was a plot, he suspected, that had been hatched on Mexican soil and somehow involved officials of the communist government of Cuba.

The implication of the Post's obituary is that the U.S. government protected Fidel Castro from credible evidence of Cuban involvement in JFK's assassination-and continues to protect the Cuban government to this day.

As I explain in this piece for Salon, the "Castro did it" theory lacks plausibility.

Why would the CIA protect the impudent revolutionary leader who loved baiting the U.S. government as "Yanqui imperialists" and "war criminals?" The U.S. government had-and has-a policy of unremitting hostility toward the government of Cuba. The agency mounted scores, if not hundreds, of conspiracies to assassinate Castro. Declared U.S. policy long called for the overthrow of Castro's government.

If Thomas' evidence credibly pointed to Cuban involvement, why wouldn't U.S. officials have publicized it in order to discredit Castro, facilitate the overthrow of his government, and do justice for the slain president?

To protect themselves is the obvious answer. But what did the CIA have to hide

THE STATE DEPARTMENT: Undiplomatic Reforms Monday, Nov. 15, 1971
retrieved from Time magazine and copied or modified to here

harles W. Thomas was a desperate man. A lawyer and a career diplomat, Thomas, 45, had been "selected out" of the Foreign Service. Reason: he had not been promoted from the Class 4 level to Class 3 within the mandatory eight years. He was dismissed with only one year's salary and $323 a month (money he had himself put into a retirement fund) to support a wife and two children. In nearly three dispiriting years Thomas endured nearly 2,000 job rejection letters; he was "too old" or "too qualified," and anyway, he had been fired by the State Department. Finally on an April afternoon in Washington, Charles Thomas took up a gun and shot himself to death.

There is a Kafkaesque cast to the Thomas tragedy. Try as he might, Thomas could not get his day in court to determine whether his selection-out was based on the fact that he had received poor performance ratings or that the State Department had somehow failed to consider his highly favorable ratings. In fact, it was the latter. Thomas had carved a distinguished career in posts such as Tangier, Port-au-Prince and Mexico City, where he became a specialist in Mexican radical politics. Indeed, he had high marks from his superiors and colleagues alike; the explicit blemish on his record was an observation by a Mexico City superior that Thomas did not exercise proper “control” over his secretary.

In contrast, a laudatory report from the Foreign Service Inspector, Ambassador Robert McClintock, was accidentally misfiled under the name of another Charles W. Thomas, then Consul General in Antwerp. The report was eventually logged into its proper place, two days after Thomas had been turned down by the promotion board. The board deemed it too much bother to reopen the case.

David Atlee Phillips retrieved from Spartucus Eductional and copied or modified to here

David Atlee Phillips was born in Fort Worth, Texas, on 31st October, 1922. He was educated at William and Mary College and Texas Christian University. During the Second World War he served as a nose gunner in the United States Air Force.

Phillips joined the Central Intelligence Agency in 1950. Over the next few years Phillips was involved in clandestine operations in Guatemala against President Jacobo Arbenz. The plot against Arbenz became part of Executive Action (a plan to remove unfriendly foreign leaders from power).

Tracy Barnes was placed in charge of what became known as Operation Success. Phillips was appointed to run the propaganda campaign against Arbenz’s government. According to Phillips he initially questioned the right of the CIA to interfere in Guatemala: In his autobiography Phillips claims he said to Barnes: “But Arbenz became President in a free election. What right do we have to help someone topple his government and throw him out of office?” However, Barnes convinced him that it was vital important that the Soviets did not establish a “beachhead in Central America”.

The CIA propaganda campaign included the distribution of 100,000 copies of a pamphlet entitled Chronology of Communism in Guatemala. They also produced three films on Guatemala for showing free in cinemas. Phillips, along with E.Howard Hunt, was responsible for running the CIA’s Voice of Liberation radio station. Faked photographs were distributed that claimed to show the mutilated bodies of opponents of Arbenz. William (Rip) Robertson was also involved in the campaign against Jacobo Arbenz.

Roosevelt had just delivered a speech in Miami’s Bayfront Park from the back seat of his open touring car when Zangara opened fire with six rounds. Five people were hit. The president escaped injury but the mayor of Chicago, Anton Cermak, who was also in attendance, received a mortal stomach wound in the attack.

Several men tackled the assailant and might have beaten him to death if Roosevelt had not intervened, telling the crowd to leave justice to the authorities. Zangara later claimed I don’t hate Mr. Roosevelt personallyI hate all officials and anyone who is rich. He also told the FBI that chronic stomach pain led to his action: Since my stomach hurt I want to make even with the capitalists by kill the president. My stomach hurt long time [sic].

These card tricks can bu used by Espionage agencies and actors who are concealing activities from the public but surround people material to events which have unfolded or will in the future.

FORCING DECKS

These decks are used to force a spectator to select a particular card, which the magician already knows in advance. Such a feat can be accomplished using a regular deck and sleight of hand but with the aid of a forcing deck the trick is made self-working. The simplest forcing Deck is called “one-way”. In a one-way deck all cards are identical (with the possible exception of one or two at the top and bottom of the deck). When using this deck, the magician must be careful to prevent the spectator from seeing the faces of the cards. The above-mentioned Svengali Deck is another sort of forcing deck, making it extremely easy to force the choice of one of the twenty-six short cards (which are all identical) in the deck.[9]

A variant of the one-way forcing deck is the Monte Cristo deck invented by Henry Hardin, where the cards appear to be different when fanned out. It is constructed by printing a deck of cards so their top half is as in a normal deck, while the bottom is all the same, originally the five of diamonds. Only one card is printed as normal, the same on top and bottom. The deck is arranged with the single normal card on the bottom. When the deck is fanned, only the tops of the cards can be seen so the identical lower halves are invisible. Only the single normal card on the end is fully visible. The magician can be sure that the spectator will always choose the five of diamonds, simply by rotating the deck so the other end of the cards is upward after a split.[10]

RISING CARD DECK

With a rising card deck, the spectator chooses a card and puts it back in the deck of cards. Then, the chosen card magically rises, whether it is in the box, in the hands, on a surface, or even in a wine glass.

The construction of these decks varies. The simplest of these, often described in amateur magic books, involves cutting a hole in the back of the carton so that the performer can surreptitiously push up the top card with their finger. More complex arrangements include a pair of cards gimmicked with an elastic band onto which the target card can be pushed (between the gimmicked pair), or a deck with a fine black thread passed across the top onto which the target card can be pressed down. There are without a doubt more complex and clever arrangements in use.[11][12]

INVISIBLE DECK

The invisible deck is one of the best known card tricks. Joe Berg created the Invisible Deck in the 1930s, originally calling it the Ultra Mental Deck. Often mistakenly credited to Dai Vernon, Don Alan or Eddie Fields, the most-used presentation of an “invisible” deck of cards was invented by J.B. Bobo.

The trick’s title stems from the classic presentation of this effect, in which the magician hands the spectator an imaginary, or “invisible” deck. On being handed the deck, the spectator is asked to mime the acts of removing the cards from their case, shuffling them, spreading them face-up on the table, freely selecting a card, replacing it face-down among the other face-up cards, and returning the deck to its box.

At this point, either the spectator keeps the imaginary deck while the magician removes the real deck from his pocket, or the spectator hands the imaginary deck to the magician, which suddenly becomes real in the magician’s hands.

John F. Kennedy’s Brazen Bull

John F. Kennedy was led to believe, and did believe partially, that regular armed conflict was growing too dangerous to the Earth and humanity and new ways must be found.

A policy was developed by strategic thinkers that short cuts must be created, short cuts which could undermine and reroute the lead-up into war and prevent war.

Irregular Ware ranging from assassinations, dirty wars, leverage, and special operations were to replace or preempt uniformed military combat.

He trusted those like the CIA and Sidney Gottlieb, the Dulles Brothers, and others, for a while, and then those very people burned JFK himself inside the Brazen bull JFK suspiciously built, the device in which the creators of devices die within.

What was to assist the United State quickly came to represent the United States and later even become the defining and controlling element of this Nation States existence.

Dirty wars, dirty people, deep state families, and corruption in lawless agencies.

I am a witness to the John F. Kennedy assassination and what unfolds is my story but it is also the story of the CIA and irregular warfare and how my family, law abiding and loyal, became a victim of dirty war techniques.

This material has not been easy to write. It meant learning terms of philosophy and war, and studying history, studying law, and study racial, ethnic, and religious rights, all trampled upon by ever more corrupt, desperate, and confused espionage policies spiraling into compounding error.

I call out to you now using linqa of Polis Sangua, of wetworks espionage takeing the place of Statemanship as fights for power, profit, and the escape of blame or culpability now is the charter of Palace Guards in a return to abitrary princes and governments.

Using illegal acts to defend the Nation is questionable. Using illegal acts to defend the acts of blundering leadership is not. It is wrongheaded government.

QJOHN F. KENNEDY AND U.S. NAVY SEALs - A New Commander in Town retrieved from Sharon Hamilton, https://authorsharonhamilton.com/ and copied or modified to here

… most people are surprised to learn that President John F. Kennedy formally recognized and created the U.S. Navy SEALs in 1962. While he didn't invent them, as is sometimes claimed, he was the first to sign into legislation the formal elite branch of the Navy that became the SEALs. Prior to that, SEALs had been known as UDT or "elite frogmen", since World War II. Learning from some of the heartbreak of earlier beach invasions, under water demolition (UDT) groups were trained to remove some of the land mines and obstacles to future invasion landings. These men were in fact the early SEALs.

In 1962 President Kennedy outlined in his now-famous speech to Congress that he desired to implement an elite fighting force that was well-trained and ready to respond to any "hot spot" or emergency that developed that threatened to destabilize our interests or those of our allies, or American citizens. Most people remember the speech as mentioning "putting a man on the moon," but he also talked about implementing the birth of the Navy SEALs. Kennedy was controversially interested in restructuring the military to make room for quick, unconventional forms of warfare, to augment and in some cases replace, the massive troop buildup and operations.

The Arms Control and Disarmament Act of 1961, 22 U.S.C. § 2551, was created to establish a governing body for the control and reduction of apocalyptic armaments with regards to protect a world from the burdens of armaments and the scourge of war. The Act provided an important aspect for the Kennedy Administration's foreign policy which was coherent with the United States national security policy.

The H.R. 9118 legislation was passed by the United States 87th Congressional session and signed by the 35th President of the United States John F. Kennedy on September 26, 1961.[1][2] From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Degeneration and Degenerates, and the Disregulation of the State

In this book I assert and prove I am, my mother, father, and I are victims of viscous and outrageous Surveillance State violations of Human Rights and US Constitutional law, and in researching the true origins (not the State manufactured pretexts for it) I find I have been targeted for human rights abuse due to my father and mother's roles in history dating back to the Windsor Family and Vontrapps in Austria, then London, then the USA, and later my fathers Manhattan Project participation on the Atomic Bomb testing and bombing as a P-51 photographic B-29 escort pilot as well as Nevada above ground atomic blast exposure DNA testing subject.

The CIA, NSA, FBI, DARPA, and others have had long interest in certain family lines from an espionage standpoint of studying DNA, race, IQ, twins over courses of lives, and in covert activities have simply turned involuntary lab rats already victims into lab rats for harassment as study and for twins outcome life path manipulation of circumstances and opportunities.

I am among those families, those people which the Church Committee in Congress investigated as victims and the victimhood including reproductive state practices abuses continues in my family line during the course of Human Rights violations but rouge agencies with long term wrongdoing which they will never admit to, the activities of MKULTRA and its continuing abusive horrors.

The origins and collective continue operation of MKULTRA is a collective guilt of a "Deep State" now turned into human trafficking in designer babies, murders, cover-ups, international acts of murder, and chaos of failed plans, successful coup de tats, sleeper agents, assassinations, and "animal husbandry" of grooming leaders in test tubes as much for CIA amusement and curiosity or profit rather than genuine state purpose.

The Laws in the USA may yield a different result than you expect

In the USA feelings are protected, as is most actions of a person or group within that belief such as the free exercise of religion so long as such acts do not unreasonably intrude on the rights of others.

Consider these elements individually under the laws of the USA.

1. My beliefs, my feelings on race, are protected. I (or perhaps someone's beliefs taken theoretically here might) find, here, the sight of non whites repulsive, disgusting, as I find their culture and behavior disgusting, and if it were up to me white supremacist boots would crunch their skull into the pavement wherever these non whites were found.

2. What is NOT legal in the United States is non whites near me or even far away from me in locations I have have never and may never go to victimizing themselves to the cameras of others and therefore manufacturing a claim "they will have my baby" because these non whites are "my pornography" or "providers" of "my pornography," females perhaps near me but certainly victimized by the cameras of others, not mine.

Element 1 is legal, Element 2 is not. Elements 1 and 2 do not compete nor overlap but are polar instead, deviating from the center such that the repugnance of Element 2 is made greater in consideration of my lawfully held beliefs I define in Element 1.

Not only is this legitimately held as my belief is these matters fo conscience or mine which are protected from racial, religious, or ethnic violations by the Rome Statue.

These elements do not mutually annihilate or flow from each other either. Overtly stated, the providing a a white supremacist child porn against his will and sexual interests is abusive and meant to be a hostile act of a provocateur, an assailant.

Finally, the mechanism or the economics of the system are black market of the forged rights to DNA in adult entertainment as prurient racial use of black market economics and other manipulation to motive adult entertainment workers and create repugnant and exploitative systems.

This is merely those who find in their identity sphere recognizing a deficit condition and using hostile means to close the deficit by hostility towards another, towards others, me, and through victimizing me, victimizing my parents.

My “spiritual codes” my genetics origins and progeny future are not the property of others nor is it subject to involuntary transfer generally, involuntary transfer on a fraudulent basis, on a human rights basis, or any other involuntary basis.

Any claim I have ever consented to any of this is resultant from forged communication, forged identity, or misrepresentation, or those in combination., all of which have been used to found the operation’s claims which lack any legitimacy.

Racial Walls and Pretexts that Manufacture Them

Apartheid South Africa

Between 1960 and 1983, 3.5 million black Africans were removed from their homes and forced into segregated neighbourhoods as a result of apartheid legislation, in some of the largest mass evictions in modern history.[17] Most of these targeted removals were intended to restrict the black population to ten designated “tribal homelands”, also known as bantustans, four of which became nominally independent states.[15] The government announced that relocated persons would lose their South African citizenship as they were absorbed into the bantustans.[8]

The crime of apartheid is defined by the 2002 Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court as inhumane acts of a character similar to other crimes against humanity “committed in the context of an institutionalized regime of systematic oppression and domination by one racial group over any other racial group or groups and committed with the intention of maintaining that regime”.

- Gender apartheid, economic and social discrimination because of gender
- Occupational apartheid, the concept that people can be deprived of meaningful work through segregation

- Religious apartheid, separation of people according to their religion
- Social apartheid, segregation on the basis of class or economic status

Reproductive Aprtheid, Veiled threats continue in my life that if I am near a white female I will be subjected to violence while at the same time I am forced teamed to sexualozed encounters with non whites or other and via these abusive conditions it is asserted I must “pay up with my DNA’ for these non white living conditions.

VEIL

6. verb make undecipherable or imperceptible by obscuring or concealing “a veiled threat”

In its most desperate hour, not its noblest, an Espionage scramble to claim the rights to my genome and that such a claim would be legitimate.

A Surveillance State Survivor thus far, with loss of health and lifespan to Covert COINTELPRO long term ambush of my life

Similarly pretextual and false arrest backed excuses are made to prevent my being in normal cities as the true motives to hold me under Reproductive Apartheid and held from the scrutiny of the rights holder, myself.

In its simplest terms those who want the goods want to be near me, claim the goods, and under threat of arrest keep me from any others

I have stated many times I, I, am not a victim of this, my mother and father are the victims

Many have called my views in race into question because I keep shouting (and saying in my Sunday best voice) “You dirty greasy things are so filthy I need to bleach the pours of my white skin just because I was ever near you, you disgusting turd non-white mud.”

Repugnance

Racial, Religious, Ethnic and Internationally motivated sexual abuse has regularly even repetitively (sensitizing me on these matters by continuing abrasion) been used to attack me not only for the effect on reproductivity and fertility but as an intentional infliction of emotional distress in the conduct of reproductivity abuse.

Repugnance via State Involuntary Medical Procedure

Conspiracy Against Rights OF Individuals under involuntary pretextually false civil commitment (using Due Process, Habeus, and other violations) in prelude to Reproductive and other abuses.

Religious Abuse by Ethnic Warfare

Much of the abuse of me has been in the form of those of other religions attacking me both legally and in public standing by attempting to sexually humiliate me before the public as a sexually abusive person (and thus a morally and also included intellectually flawed person) so their own religion may gain in standing before the public and claims to my reproductivity.

This abuse has been sourced from both racial and religious grounds, in an overlay of ethnically and racially connected groups operating in the illegal scheme.

Repugnance as defined in the Rome Statute accord

The numerical scale may be questioned as to applicability of the Rome statute in these religious, ethnic, and reproductive matters but the jurisdiction of the Rome Statute is not in question; a wide ranging operation is underway in numerous countries, most all of them signator nations and bound by the Rome Statue including nations in which the United State Military is conducting illegal acts within those national and international jurisdictions.

There is more information about 555 timers and their circuits on the Electronics in Meccano website.

"The 8-pin 555 timer must be one of the most useful chips ever made and it is used in many projects. With just a few external components it can be used to build many circuits, not all of them involve timing! A popular version is the NE555 and this is suitable in most cases where a '555 timer' is specified. The 556 is a dual version of the 555 housed in a 14-pin package, the two timers (A and B) share the same power supply pins. The circuit diagrams on this page show a 555, but they could all be adapted to use one half of a 556.

Low power versions of the 555 are made, such as the ICM7555, but these should only be used when specified (to increase battery life) because their maximum output current of about 20mA (with a 9V supply) is too low for many standard 555 circuits. The ICM7555 has the same pin arrangement as a standard 555." *

The 555 timer, simplex trigger, operates on a trigger which in my case should be the acts of Rx, me. The 556 uses the second timer of a seperate operation entirely and trips on the signal of Tx. That then is fed to the 555 output logic used against me in Asset Seizures i a duplicitous-pretext way.

My theory is if the government can not do harm to a person for entirely arbitrary reasons (the gov has other religious, political, financial interests) the government “targets” people for harassment by defaming them with a Gangstalk of false evidence appearances, like children tots bending over in front of me in parks making me look like Aqualung (song) so I am disavowed by the communities I would otherwise be in because they THINK I was pursuing the exploitatively positioned tot, not vice versa. The role of the office mob is for stalkers to move into a persons location of employment and in a whisper campaign talk up the appearances that were created when a TI was walking around in public and paid actors put them in a scene out of the TIs control, but was written as a play in which the TI is a villain.

MKULTRA families tied to Eugenics when Eugenics were OK have no where to run, no where to hide. As the most powerful elites in society they can abuse government offices and increasingly unconstitutional (Void for Vagueness) systems to target their MKULTRA victims and discredit them.

First off an illegal scheme called a Gangstalk will harass my life to a downward turn by evidence plants and other harassment, and during the course of that cops taller and thinner and with more hair seem to be interested in competing with me for any woman I am near as these cops speed away with her, the squad car lights on, champagne in the squad, waving goodbye to me.

It is a harassment of my family and reproductive life and I believe in a hostile way they are both claiming my biology in asset seizures tied so sex offense evidence plants and what they also get out of that is making me a second tier choice for women and I think their hoping I will not settle down with a woman in my own life and doing that as politician backed harassment, harassment stemming from secret DNA usgae and where my DNA might later be found.

My genome is a high value disruption target for the ruling elite of US Government and society for it is proof of their guilt and illegal programs.

This book guesses that there is a Deep State in DARPA, the CIA or CIA contractors like Blackwater, the FBI DOJ, and even CENTCOM, and the NSA in which secretive programs are studying brain genes and have been doing so since 1920s Vienna Austria and in that history underground Free Mason railroads and espionage agencies have been inseparable in roles of history and even in the major figures in history who wore many hats in their civil service.

They now have been caught "with their pants down" (except those arguing for transparency) as DNA Forensics are revealing family connections and genome history around the world which some of these Illuminati have been secretly tampering with, using the "goods" of unknown hidden identities like famous leaders illegitimate children for their own Illuminati use and around the world for Illuminant groomed as sleeper agents including the Obama family line.

This research, this book, came out of my search for the bizarre and illegal interest the USA has in my genome, my tracing it to MKULTRA and online material tracing it into "truther" theory.

My genome appears to be going onto the black market to help the economy of underprivileged communities near me and it seem internationally too through genome seizures under the NDAA.

NDAA Secret Military Acts directly out of the White House

Every year, Congress passes the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA), which makes appropriations for the defense budget. This is mandated under Article I, Section 8 of the U.S. Constitution, which delegates powers to Congress, here stating: “The Congress shall have Power … To raise and support Armies, but no Appropriation of Money to that Use shall be for a longer Term than two Years.” However, like much of the legislation that comes out of Washington, each years bill is stuffed with other provisions.

The NDAA began receiving wide attention in late 2011 when, on December 31, President Obama signed the NDAA for Fiscal Year 2012. Under Title X, Subtitle D of this law is the controversial section 1021, which essentially legalizes martial law in the United States. Reading “Affirmation of authority of the Armed Forces of the United States to detain covered persons pursuant to the Authorization of Use of Military Force,” this provision allows the United States military to act as a police force, and arrest or use force against any person (including American citizens) suspected of terrorism. Further, they may hold these persons without trial indefinitely.

The NDAA for 2013, which President Obama signed this month, again includes these provisions despite pressure from Senator Rand Paul (R-Ky.), citing Section 1021 as a gross, unconstitutional overreach of federal power. Proponents of this legislation characterize such interpretations of the law as hyperbolic and “paranoid,” stating that Section 1021 will only be used under the pretext of “Counter-terrorism.” Save the fact that this provision all but wipes out nearly our entire Bill of Rights in one fell swoop and that the persons detaining you serve as judge, jury, and executioner in determining who qualifies as a “terrorist.”

Senator Diane Feinstein (D-Calif.) and Senator Mike Lee (R-Utah) sponsored an amendment to the 2013 NDAA which is intended to limit Section 1021’s powers to indefinitely detain American citizens. However, many civil liberties groups, including the ACLU, have publicly stated that the amendment is counterproductive. Senior Legislative Counsel at the ACLU, Chris Anders, states that the Feinstein-Lee Amendment can be misconstrued to imply that the Constitution grants authority for indefinite detention.

“Moreover, we are very concerned that the Feinstein amendment implicitly authorizes domestic military detention. By seeking to protect only United States citizens and legal permanent residents, the amendment could be read to imply that indefinite military detention of any other persons apprehended within the United States was authorized in 2001 and was lawful,” the ACLU wrote, referring to the Authorization for Use of Military Force, passed the week after the 9/11 attacks in pursuit of a “war on terror.” “In addition, the clause ‘unless an Act of Congress expressly authorizes such detention’ could be read to imply that there are no constitutional obstacles to Congress enacting a statute that would authorize the domestic military detention of any person in the United States.”

Late in the evening on Monday, Aug. 13, about six hours after President Donald Trump publicly signed the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) for fiscal 2019 into law, the White House quietly released a signing statement identifying “constitutional concerns” with more than 50 of the new NDAA’s provisions. Among them are several measures specifically intended to address concerns with Trump’s foreign policy, including by imposing limits on troop withdrawals from South Korea, Trump’s engagements with Russia, and U.S. support for the Saudi-led campaign in Yemen. Trump’s statement indicates that these constitutional concerns prevent his administration from implementing these provisions as written. Instead, it states, he intends to interpret and apply them in a manner consistent with his constitutional authorities.

The Anonymous Letter

Re: Thomas C Wales

OK, so I was broke and between jobs I got an anonymous call offering $xxxx to shoot the guy, so I drove to Seattle to do the job. I did not even know his name. Just got laid off from a job. Nice talking lady, I didn't know her name, she called me, talked to me by name, and asked if I needed some money. I agreed to pursue the matter, hell, I was going bankrupt.

Go to Seattle, heck I lived there once, no big deal. Hang out in this guy's backyard, she even gave me the address. Stop off at a place, pick up our gun, and drop it off at a specified location when you are done. THEN, you will be directed to where your money is. The wife was out of town, I had no witnesses here, I was curious about who knew me so well. I used cash to pay for all my expenses to avoid an audit trail. No cell phone. I was directed to a place to pick up the gun, they wanted me to use, and an address. The gun was there.

I drove to the address, and then parked some distance away, north of downtown. I kind of camped out in the backyard of this house, and waited for the guy to settle in at his computer. Once he was there, I took careful aim. I shot two or possibly more times, and watched him collapse. I absurdly waited a few minutes and then left. I was sure he was dead. Retracing my steps, I dropped off the gun, found my money, and returned to Vegas. I feel bad about it, > but I needed the money, and there were no witnesses. I really don't know who fronted the money, but the $xxxx was there, and I sure needed it.

In February 2018, an FBI official reported the investigation had found "evidence strongly suggesting" Wales was murdered by a contract killer and, for the first time, indicated that his death was likely a conspiracy involving a small group of people. An Unsolved Killing What does the firing of a U.S. Attorney have to do with a murder case? retrieved from The New Yorker and copied or modified to here

Tom Wales was not supposed to be home on the night of October 11, 2001. Wales, an Assistant United States Attorney in Seattle, had planned to have dinner and spend the evening with his girlfriend, Marlis DeJongh, a court reporter who lived downtown. But that afternoon Wales called DeJongh and said that he had projects he needed to work on at home. In the evening, after leaving his office, near the federal courthouse, he returned to his Craftsman-style, wood-frame house in a quiet neighborhood known as Queen Anne.

Wales was forty-nine years old and had been a federal prosecutor for eighteen years. When he worked late, which was often, he would tell his family and friends, "I'm here at my post, serving my sovereign." While eugenic principles have been practiced as early as ancient Greece, the contemporary history of eugenics began in the early 20th century, when a popular eugenics movement emerged in the United Kingdom,[6] and then spread to many countries, including the United States, Canada,[7] and most European countries. In this period, people from across the political spectrum espoused eugenic ideas. Consequently, many countries adopted eugenic policies, intended to improve the quality of their populations' genetic stock. Such programs included both positive measures, such as encouraging individuals deemed particularly "fit" to reproduce, and negative measures, such as marriage prohibitions and forced sterilization of people deemed unfit for reproduction. Those deemed "unfit to reproduce" often included people with mental or physical disabilities, people who scored in the low ranges on different IQ tests, criminals and "deviants," and members of disfavored minority groups.

The eugenics movement became associated with Nazi Germany and the Holocaust when the defense of many of the defendants at the Nuremberg trials of 1945 to 1946 attempted to justify their human-rights abuses by claiming there was little difference between the Nazi eugenics programs and the U.S. eugenics programs.[8] In the decades following World War II, with more emphasis on human rights, many countries began to abandon eugenics policies, although some Western countries (the United States, Canada, and Sweden among them) continued to carry out forced sterilizations.

Since the 1980s and 1990s, with new assisted reproductive technology procedures available, such as gestational surrogacy (available since 1985), pre-implantation genetic diagnosis (available since 1989), and cytoplasmic transfer (first performed in 1996), concern has grown about the possible revival of a more potent form of eugenics after decades of promoting human rights.

A criticism of eugenics policies is that, regardless of whether negative or positive policies are used, they are susceptible to abuse because the genetic selection criteria are determined by whichever group has political power at the time.[9] Furthermore, many criticize negative eugenics in particular as a violation of basic human rights, seen since 1968's Proclamation of Tehran[10] as including the right to reproduce. Another criticism is that eugenics policies eventually lead to a loss of genetic diversity, thereby resulting in inbreeding depression due to a loss of genetic variation.[11] Yet another criticism of contemporary eugenics policies is that they propose to permanently and artificially disrupt millions of years of evolution, and that attempting to create genetic lines "clean" of "disorders" can have far-reaching ancillary downstream effects in the genetic ecology, including negative effects on immunity and on species resilience.[12]

Original Articles Languages of Place and Discourses of Power: Constructing New Senses of Place Patricia A. Stokowski Pages 368-382 | Published online: 13 DEC 2017 retrieved from The Interwebes and copied or modified to here

Abstract The concept of “sense of place” typically is used to refer to an individual’s ability to develop feelings of attachment to particular settings based on combinations of use, attentiveness, and emotion. Despite the assumed positive values of a sense of place, critics point out that places are more than simply geographic sites-they are also fluid, changeable, dynamic contexts of social interaction and memory, and they “contain” overt and covert social practices that embed in place-making behaviors notions of ideology, power, control, conflict, dominance, and distribution of social and physical resources. This paper traces emerging scholarship about sense of place as a social construction, and offers examples from leisure, outdoor recreation, and tourism development. Place and sense of place are seen as socially constructed, always in the process of being created, always provisional and uncertain, and always capable of being discursively manipulated towards desired (individual or collective) ends. A research program about leisure and the politics of place awaits development, but should focus on language and discourse, and should begin with the question: how are leisure places socially constructed with political consequences?

Interesting to note about the assassination of Judge Roll is that it is being blamed on a “lone gunman” said to be mentally unstable (aren’t they all) said directed at a US Congresswoman named Gabrielle Giffords, who survived this mass killing, and that killed at least 5 other innocent people, including a 9-year-old girl named Christina Taylor Green “curiously” born on September 11, 2001 (9/11) [A response to 9/11?].

Christina-Taylor Green (who had mad baseball skills) is still surprising her parents Karina Bland The Republic | azcentral.com *

The Greens went to Cape Cod every summer, while John, a scout for the Los Angeles Dodgers, worked. Christina-Taylor and her brother, Dallas, attended baseball camps.

It’s been nearly eight years since Christina-Taylor Green died in front of a grocery store outside Tucson, the only child among six people killed by a gunman trying to assassinate then-Rep. Gabrielle Giffords.

She is still surprising her parents. Hall of Fame award-winning baseball writer Peter Gammons had met Christina.

Gammons was to be inducted into the Cape Cod Baseball League’s Hall of Fame. An award would be named after him, the Peter Gammons Award for Excellence and Distinction. He wanted to nominate Christina-Taylor as the first recipient.

Equally interesting to note about the assassin, a 22-year-old man named Jared Loughner, is that he is being described by the

RIG

1. equip with sails or masts
2. the act of swindling by some fraudulent scheme
3. truck consisting of a tractor and trailer together

When you rig something, you connect parts in a way that's so crazy it just might work. You could rig your jeans by using a paper clip to replace a button that pops.

Rig can also describe deceiving people to achieve a certain outcome. Voting multiple times, purposely miscounting the number of votes a person received, even throwing out certain people's votes: these are all ways to rig an election. Outraged people say, "The election was fixed!" This doesn't mean it was repaired; it means it was rigged - fraud played a role in the outcome.

Interest how "fixed" means "stuck on" like a Fixed Delusion or a Compulsive Act, a belief or action fixed in destiny by a sapient or controlling, engineering, even socially or legally enginerring force.

In the 1960s, highly accurate genetic paternity testing became a possibility when HLA typing was developed, which compares the genetic fingerprints on white blood cells between the child and alleged parent.] HLA tests could be done with 80% accuracy, but could not distinguish between close relatives. Genetic parental testing technology advanced further with the isolation of the first restriction enzyme in 1970. Highly accurate DNA parental testing became available in the 1980s with the development of RFLP. In the 1990s, PCR, developed in 1983, became the standard method for DNA parental testing. A simpler, faster, and more accurate method of testing than RFLP, it has an exclusion rate of 99.99% or higher.

HLA genes are highly polymorphic, which means that they have many different alleles, allowing them to fine-tune the adaptive immune system. The proteins encoded by certain genes are also known as antigens, as a result of their historic discovery as factors in organ transplants. Different classes have different functions

HLAs corresponding to MHC class II (DP, DM, DO, DQ, and DR) present antigens from outside of the cell to T-lymphocytes. These particular antigens stimulate the multiplication of T-helper cells (also called CD4 positive T cells), which in turn stimulate antibody-producing B-cells to produce antibodies to that specific antigen. Self-antigens are suppressed by regulatory T cells.

Finding genetic relatives 23 And Me Customer Care

The first step towards finding your genetic relatives is searching our database for individuals with whom you share DNA. This is not a trivial task since we all share many small DNA segments with each other. However, on average you share longer stretches of DNA with your relatives than with unrelated individuals.

Our simulations have concluded that we can confidently detect related individuals if they have at least one continuous region of matching SNPs (Single Nucleotide Polymorphisms) that is longer than our minimum threshold of 7cM (centiMorgans) long and at least 700 SNPs.

Using that criteria, we estimate the likelihood of detecting a genetic relationship with a 3rd cousin to be approximately 90%, The table below shows the average likelihood of detecting cousins of different degrees:

Family Relationship Probability of detecting
1st Cousin or closer	~100%
2nd Cousin	99%
3rd Cousin	~90%
4th Cousin	~45%
5th Cousin	~15%
6th Cousin and beyond	under 5%

After completing his active duty tour, he continued in the Naval Reserve, advancing to the rank of Captain.

Estimating the Sizes of the Genealogical atDNA Databases

The past few months have brought some exciting news from two of the main autosomal DNA (atDNA) companies: AncestryDNA exceeded 3 million testers in January 2017, and 23andMe broke 2 million in April. (Note: I earn a small commission if you purchase through the links in this post. The cost is the same for you.

Click here for more information.) The larger the database, the more likely we are to find DNA relatives with information that might enhance our family trees, so this information is an important consideration in deciding where to spend our testing dollars.

However, Family Tree DNA (FTDNA) does not publicize how large their atDNA database is, and the newest player in the market, MyHeritage, hasn't released figures either. Another wrinkle is that not everyone at 23andMe participates in DNA Relatives, the matching tool there. Thus, there is a difference between the total size of a database and what I'll call the effective size, that is, the number of people available for cousin matching.

MKULTRA tied the Obama DNA to the Donegan DNA. Now, as techniques have improved including DNA modification techniques like CRISPR, the final answer emerges ..

Several strategies must be employed at once, if read-in judges will permit it.

1. Donegan DNA will have to move to Africa and create a family tree in Africa for Obama. This will also boost IQ in Afica now called Autism Spectrum disorder, perhaps also some other medical benefits.

2. My eggs will need to be broken in the U.S., If I have children five generations later they will tie to Obama's children five generations later.

3. IQ issues in the U.S. will have to be avoided since retardation and the timeline dispute of when European DNA will be setlled in a few years in newly emerging research in newly found African DNA.

4. As a fall-back, researches will later find Ed Donegan tends to sign away his DNA to blackmail, and he once signed his DNA to the Obama family when he worked at AOL. In fact Ed Donegan was quite famous for this. (like now, impersonators of me signed away my DNA at AOL Netscape)

The statistical device used to represent the distribution clutter of events varying from a center point randomly is referred to as a Bell Curve. How far an item is from the median, or the middle, is referred to in units of Standard Deviation. Also called a normal distribution curve (because this is the form random variation forms in occurrence,) the Bell Curve takes it name from the similarity of the shape of the curve to a bell. In the mid-90's Richard Herrnstien and Charles Murray published a book exploring life in America and intelligence and race, and produced the following curve.

missing graphic Obtained from Wikipedia http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Race_and_intelligence

In addition to US statistics posted here, worldwide IQ studies have been done as well. IQs vary by country. Note that typical African values for average IQ vary from US African Americans. In theory, differences in living conditions have already been accounted for; however, people of African descent in the US typically average about 7-20% racial mixture with European genetic base.

What the truth is.

The highest measuring ethnic identity are European Jews (.Ashkenazim.) Thus, the furthest extremes are occupied by Africans and Jews. It would seem like they don't have very much in common, right? Wrong. If there is one thing the Big Middle resents, it's the extremes. Both ends of the extremes are often viewed as a financial threat. The Jews are going to take everyone's money, and the Blacks are going to cost everyone their money.

Race and distribution of IQ after values corrected for nutrition, etc.,

IQ Distribution Of U.S. Blacks And Whites

One of the statistical tampering mechanisms in IQ studies is to suggest that poverty in general is causal of low IQs (presumably through starvation) and thus IQs can not be studied among low income populations segments. The difficulty with this is in the causality analysis. While starvation can case low IQ, inheritable low IQ can can also cause poverty. By eliminating poverty segments of populations from the IQ studies, upper IQs are "cherry picked" because they are all that remain in the analyzed populations. 40 years of attempts to eradicate low IQ in black populations through programs such as Head Start, which provided nutrition and developmental resources to populations in poverty, did not succeed in eliminating "environmentally caused" low IQs, suggesting it was more likely the low IQs causing the poverty than poverty causing low IQs. Nevertheless, the simple suggestion that environment has to be "accounted for" in statistics by "correcting" the IQ tests results is constantly used to continually upward adjust IQ statistics for minority populations.

Despite these disagreements on causality models, there are still discernable differences in inheritable IQ between whites, blacks, and Asians at all income levels, the difference between whites and blacks being about 1.1 standard deviations, (15 or so IQ points,) and between whites and Asians of about 3 IQ points at all points in the IQ distributions. Thus, at least at high income levels and IQ points, there is general agreement that cognitive abilities are heritable even when their are no other possible environmental explanations.

Cali Caretl retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

In the absence of a hardline policy from the DEA on cocaine, the trade flourished. The group developed and organized itself into multiple "cells" that appeared to operate independently yet reported to a celeno ("manager").[3] The independent clandestine cell system is what set the Cali Cartel apart from the Medellín Cartel. The Cali Cartel operated as a tight group of independent criminal organizations, as opposed to the Medellíns' centralised structure under leader Pablo Escobar.

The Cali Cartel eventually became "The biggest, most powerful crime syndicate we've ever known", according to then DEA chief Thomas Constantine.[3][11]

Juan Carlos Saavedra represented the Cali KGB Cartel in Spain.[12]

Activities

Trafficking

The Cali Cartel would become known for its innovations in trafficking and production, by moving its refining operations out of Colombia to Peru and Bolivia, as well as for pioneering new trafficking routes through Panama. The Cartel also diversified into opium and was reported to have brought in a Japanese chemist to help its refining operation.[10][13] The Venezuelan General Ramon Guillen Davila, who ran the Venezuelan National Guard unit that was to interdict cocaine shipments and was the CIA's most trusted narcotics asset in Venezuela and worked with Mark McFarlin and Jim Campbell, was charged by United States authorities with smuggling 22 tons of Cali Cartel cocaine from 1987 to 1991 known as Operation North (Spanish: Operación Norte).[14][15][16][17]

According to reports and testimony of Thomas Constantine to the United States Congress, "Cali would be the dominant group in trafficking South American heroin due to their access to the opium growing areas of Colombia." Debate over the cartel's participation in heroin trafficking remains. It is believed the cartel's leaders were not involved in heroin trading, but that close associates to them, such as Ivan Urdinola-Grajales, were,[3] and that they cooperated with heroin distribution centers.[8]

At the height of the Cali Cartel's reign, they were cited as having control over 90% of the world's cocaine market and for being directly responsible for the growth of the cocaine market in Europe.[3] By the mid-1990s, the trafficking empire of the Cali Cartel was a multibillion-dollar enterprise.[4][5] In 2002, the Cali KGB had an estimated $30 billion in profits.[18]

Finances

Cali Cartel money laundering chart

In order to launder the incoming money of the trafficking operations, the Cali cartel heavily invested its funds into legitimate business ventures as well as front companies to mask the money. In 1996, it was believed the Cartel was grossing $7 billion in annual revenue from the US alone.[4][19][20] With the influx of cash comes the need to launder the funds. One of the first instances of the Cali Cartel's laundering operations came when Gilberto Rodriguez Orejuela was able to secure the position of Chairman of the Board of Banco de Trabajadores. The bank was believed to have been used to launder funds for the Cali cartel, as well as Pablo Escobar's Medellín Cartel. Cartel members were permitted, through their affiliation with Gilberto, to overdraft accounts and take out loans without repayment.[3][8][19] Allegedly, Semion Mogilevich instructed Natasha Kagalovsky to wire transfer Cali cartel funds from Bank of New York accounts though Brazilian banks to offshore shell companies.[21]

Capitalizing on this basis, Gilberto was able to found the First InterAmericas Bank operating out of Panama.[8] In an interview with Time, Gilberto admitted to money being laundered through the bank; however, he attributed the process to only legal actions. The laundering, which Gilberto states was “in accordance with Panamanian law”, is what led to the US authorities’ pursuing him. Gilberto later started, in 1979, the Grupo Radial Colombiano, a network of over 30 radio stations and a pharmaceutical chain named Drogas la Rebaja, which at its height amassed over 400 stores in 28 cities, employing 4,200. The pharmaceutical chain’s value was estimated at $216 million.[3][19][22] As a consequence of the Cali Cartel’s ownership of the chain, from January 1988 to May 4, 1990, it was targeted for 85 bombings by Pablo Escobar and the Medellín Cartel, leaving a total of 27 people dead.[23]

Russian state connections

According to Felipe Turover Chudínov, who was a senior intelligence officer with the foreign-intelligence directorate of the KGB, Russian prime minister Viktor Chernomyrdin secretly decreed in the early 1990s that Russia would become an international hub through which narcotics are trafficked including cocaine and heroin from South America and heroin from Central Asia and Southeast Asia.[24][25] Yuri Skuratov supported Turover’s statements and began numerous investigations into corruption with high ranking Russian government officials.[26] Alexander Litvinenko provided a detailed narcotics trafficking diagram showing relationships between Russian government officials and Russian mafia and implicating Vladimir Putin and numerous others in obschak including narcotics trafficking money.[27][28][29] Following Operation Troika which targeted the Tambov Gang, Spanish Prosecutor José Grinda concurred and added that to avoid prosecution numerous indited persons became Deputies in the Russian Duma, especially with Vladimir Zhirinovsky’s Liberal Democratic Party and gained parliamentary immunity from prosecution.[30]

St. Petersburg Immobilien und Beteiligungs AG or SPAG is a real estate company registered in Germany under Vladimir Putin’s control in 1992 and suspected by German police of facilitating Saint Petersburg mobsters, Colombian drug lords, and transcontinental money laundering.[31][32] Kumarin-Barsukov, of the Tambov Russian mafia was a partner in Znamenskaya, a subsidiary of SPAG.[33][34] Vladimir Smirnov was the general director of Znamenskaya and Kumarin-Barsukov was his deputy.[34] Through his 200 shares or 20% control, Vladimir Smirnov was Putin’s voting proxy in SPAG.[35][36] Jalol Khaidarov (Russian: Джалол Хайдаров) stated that the final destination of the funds was to the “Operator Trade Center” in Liechtenstein but also said that the Bank of New York was a participant.[35] In the early 2000s, the company’s co-founder Rudolf Ritter was arrested in Liechtenstein for laundering cocaine cash for the Cali cartel.[33][37] Robert Walner was the chief prosecutor in Liechtenstein’s capital Vaduz.[33]

Former Ukrainian presidential bodyguard Nikolai Melnichenko bugged the following conversation between Ukrainian President Leonid Kuchma and his security chief Leonid Derkach about SPAG:[33][38]

> Leonid Derkach: Leonid Danilovich. We've got some interesting material here from the Germans. One of them has been arrested.
> Leonid Kuchma (reading aloud): Ritter, Rudolf Ritter.
> Leonid Derkach: Yes, and about that affair, the drug smuggling. Here are the documents. They gave them all out.
> Here's Vova Putin, too.
> Leonid Kuchma: There's something about Putin there?
> Leonid Derkach: The Russians have already been buying everything up. Here are all the documents. We're the only ones that still have them now. I think that [FSB chief] Nikolai Patrushev is coming from the 15th to the 17th. This will give him something to work with. This is what we'll keep. They want to shove the whole affair under the carpet.

Later in the conversation Derkach states that "they've bought up all these documents throughout Europe and only the rest are in our hands".[38]

Using Israel as its base, Russian mafia moved heroin and Colombian cocaine, sometimes through Venezuela, through Israel, where money laundering would occur of the narcotics profits, to Saint Petersburg while the Russian Kurgan mafia (Russian: Курганская организованная преступная группировка) provided security.[39][40][41][42][43]

According to Alexander Litvinenko, Vladimir Putin, while Putin was Deputy Mayor for Economic Affairs of St Petersburg in the early 1990s, organized an Afghanistan origin heroin supplying ring using ethnic Uzbek criminals and corrupt KGB and later FSB officers including the Moscow-based KGB Colonel Evgeny G. Khokholkov, the Oleg Ivanov created Izmaylovskaya Russian mafia and led by Anton Malevsky including mafia leaders Gafur Rakhimov, Vyacheslav Ivanov ("Yaponchik" (Япончик) or Little Japonese), who governed Uzbek networks in America, and Alimzhan Tokhtakhunov (Russian: Алик Тахтахунов) ("Taiwanchik" (Тайванчик) or Little Taiwan), who governed Uzbek networks in Europe, and Salim Abdulaev. These networks also supplied Europe and America with cocaine from the Cali KGB cartel.

My computers were robbed and destroyed as I wrote my book (two computers, both notebooks) and WiFi was never installed.

I knew CPUs and found a Windows 10 installed I5 processor unit from Yesteryear and it is fast. Not the most fast, but on a $200 computer I can render an epub to PDF fast, or encode video, or , or write incredible CSS using only HTML CSS free to the world as tool sets.

It is probably true I get a lot of coaching and good adice in my life. Not as much as I would like, but that is tool I like to use too and be that to others too as I learn from experience.

All of this alleged taught to me by others, as if to deny this ability in me.

The concepts of fluid intelligence and crystallized intelligence were introduced in 1963 by the psychologist Raymond Cattell. According to Cattell's psychometrically-based theory, general intelligence is subdivided into gf and gc. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

- Fluid intelligence (gf) refers to basic processes of reasoning and other mental activities that depend only minimally on prior learning (such as formal and informal education) and acculturation. Horn notes that it is formless, and can "flow into" a wide variety of cognitive activities [7] Tasks measuring fluid reasoning require the ability to solve abstract reasoning problems. Examples of tasks that measure fluid intelligence include figure classifications, figural analyses, number and letter series, matrices, and paired associates.[6]

- Crystallized intelligence (gc) refers to learned procedures and knowledge. It reflects the effects of experience and acculturation. Horn notes that crystallized ability is a "precipitate out of experience," resulting from the prior application of fluid ability that has been combined with the intelligence of culture."[7] Examples of tasks that measure crystallized intelligence are vocabulary, general information, abstract word analogies, and mechanics of language.[6]

Intelligence and Creativity in Problem Solving: The Importance of Test Features in Cognition Research retrieved from Frontiers in Psychology and copied or modified to here

Abstract

Let’s just come out and aay it. An attribute of inteligence which has functional importance to cognition may be the creatice proccess of thinking outside the box, the normal knowledge donmain, to create, to innovate, new problem solutions.

This paper discusses the importance of three features of psychometric tests for cognition research:

- Definitoin of Constructs,
- problem space a problem presented,
- and knowledge domain of existing knowledge and tools for available for the problem solution.

Definition of constructs, e.g., intelligence or creativity, forms the theoretical basis for test construction. Problem space, being well or ill-defined, is determined by the cognitive abilities considered to belong to the constructs, e.g., convergent thinking to intelligence, divergent thinking to creativity.

Knowledge domain and the possibilities it offers cognition are reflected in test results. We argue that (a) comparing results of tests with different problem spaces is more informative when cognition operates in both tests on an identical knowledge domain, and (b) intertwining of abilities related to both constructs can only be expected in tests developed to instigate such a process. Test features should guarantee that abilities can contribute to self-generated and goal-directed processes bringing forth solutions that are both new and applicable. We propose and discuss a test example that was developed to address these issues.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. McGEORGE BUNDY
THE WHITE HOUSE

Subject: Meeting Between the Secretary General of the OECD, Thorkil Kristensen, and the President on October 1 at 9:30 a. m.

Attached is a briefing memorandum prepared for the President's use at his meeting with Mr. Kristensen

A Foreign Intelligence Service (SVR) report circulating in the Kremlin today states that the top US Federal Judge for the State of Arizona was assassinated barely 72-hours after he made a critical ruling against the Obama administrations plan to begin the confiscation of their citizen's private retirement and banking accounts in order to stave off their nations imminent economic collapse, and after having the US Marshals protecting him removed.

According to this SVR report, Federal Judge John McCarthy Roll was the Chief Judge for the United States District Court for the District of Arizona who this past Friday issued what is called a "preliminary ruling" in a case titled "United States of America v. $333,520.00 in United States Currency et al" [Case Number: 4:2010cv00703 Filed: November 30, 2010] wherein he stated he was preparing to rule against Obama's power to seize American citizens money without clear and convincing evidence of a crime being committed.

The case being ruled on by Judge Roll, this report continues, was about bulk cash smuggling into or out of the United States that the Obama administration claimed was their right to seize under what are called Presidential Executive Orders, instead of using existing laws. The Obama administration used as support for their claim before Judge Roll, the SVR says, the seizing of all American citizens' gold, in 1933, by President Franklin D. Roosevelt's signing of Executive Order 6102, which was ruled at the time to be constitutional.

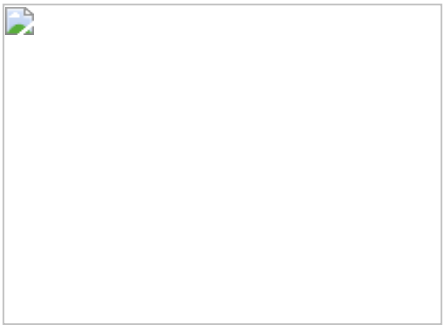
Should the Obama administration win their argument to seize their citizen's money by Executive Order without having to abide by the law was made more chilling this past week when reports emerged from the US stating that President Obama and his regime allies were, indeed, preparing to rule America by decree since their loss this past November of their control over the US House of Representatives, and in the words of the Washington Posts columnist Charles Krauthammer: "For an Obama bureaucrat … the will of the Congress is a mere speed bump".

Since taking office in early 2009, Obama has completely overturned the once free United States through his use of Executive Orders that asserts his power to put anyone he wants in prison without charges or trial forever and his right to assassinate any American citizen he deems a threat.

The most chilling of these powers Obama has asserted for himself, however, are contained in Executive Order 13528 he signed nearly a year ago (January 10, 2010) creating a Council of Governors he has hand-picked to rule over the United States in place of its elected representatives when their next "disaster" strikes and orders them to begin "synchronization and integration of State and Federal military activities in the United States; and other matters of mutual interest pertaining to National Guard, homeland defense, and civil support activities".

Going from the chilling to the outright scary, about whatever "disaster" the American regime is preparing their people for, is Obama's Homeland Security Department, through their Ready.Gov organization, beginning to air this past week a public service television commercial titled "World Upside Down" that shows a typical family sitting in their home suddenly losing all of its gravity and warning all who watch it to begin preparing.

Note: In our previous reports US Descends Into Total Police State As 2012 'Solar Chaos' Fears Grow, Pole Shift Blamed For Russian Air Disaster, Closure Of US Airport and Poisonous Space Clouds Slamming Into Earth Cause Mass Bird And Fish Deaths we had detailed some of fears the US government are most worried about, but which they still will not be truthful to their citizens about.



MARK EDWARD KELLY (BORN FEBRUARY 21, 1964) is an American politician, engineer, FORMER ASTRONAUT, AND U.S. NAVY CAPTAIN. He also is an author, political activist, as well as aerospace executive and consultant. Kelly is the husband of former U.S. Representative Gabby Giffords.

Interesting to note about the assassination of Judge Roll is that it is being blamed on a "lone gunman" said to be mentally unstable (aren't they all) said directed at a US Congresswoman named Gabrielle Giffords, who survived this mass killing, and that killed at least 5 other innocent people, including a 9-year-old girl named Christina Taylor Green "curiously" born on September 11, 2001 (9/11).

Equally interesting to note about the assassin, a 22-year-old man named Jared Loughner, is that he is being described by the propaganda media organs in the US as an "anti-government" type individual who prior to this mass killing is said to have left "crazed rantings" on the Internet, but whose "handler", described as a white male between 40-50 years old with dark hair, is still being sought after.

The circumstances surrounding Judge Roll's assassination by Loughner, also, mirror those of Farouk Abdulmutallab (aka The Underwear Bomber) who "used cash to buy a one-way ticket to the United States at the last minute while carrying no luggage and being on a terrorist watch list. Incredibly, his father had communicated to the US Embassy in Nigeria in November that Abdulmutallab had been radicalized and may be planning a terrorist attack.

At least one witness-passenger Kurt Haskell-claimed that a well-dressed Indian man had escorted Abdulmutallab to the ticket counter and told a ticket agent that Abdulmutallab didn't have a passport but needed to get on the plane."

To if this Loughner is able to join the long list of CIA/US Military "mind controlled" assassins there appears to be no doubt as his actions, past, present and future, shows his fitting the "profile" of these maniacs as detailed in the massive lawsuit currently wending its way through the US Federal Court system [United States District Court Northern District Of California, San Francisco Division Case: CV-09-0037] filed against the US government by hundreds of veterans, and as we can read as reported by the Raw Story news service:

"It's well known that the CIA began testing substances like LSD on soldiers beginning in the 1950s but less is known about allegations that the agency implanted electrodes in subjects. A 2009 lawsuit claimed that the CIA intended to design and test septal electrodes that would enable them to control human behavior. The lawsuit said that because the government never disclosed the risks, the subjects were not able to give informed consent."

To if the American people will ever be told the truth about Loughner and his assassination of Judge Roll there seems little doubt as the Obama regime is fighting with everything it has to keep the information on these "mind controlled" assassins secret, and as we can read as reported by the Courthouse News service:

"The Central Intelligence Agency in January (2011) will argue for dismissal of Vietnam veterans' claims that the CIA must provide them with information about the health effects of chemicals used on them during Cold War-era human experiments. The CIA also claims it is not obligated to provide the veterans with medical care for side effects of the drugs. It's the CIA's third attempt to get the case dismissed.

"In a 2009 federal lawsuit, Vietnam Veterans of America claimed that the Army and CIA had used at least 7,800 soldiers as guinea pigs in "Project Paperclip." They were given at least 250 and as many as 400 types of drugs, among them sarin, one of the most deadly drugs known to man, amphetamines, barbiturates, mustard gas, phosgene gas and LSD.

Among the project's goals were to control human behavior, develop drugs that would cause confusion, promote weakness or temporarily cause loss of hearing or vision, create a drug to induce hypnosis and identify drugs that could enhance a person's ability to withstand torture.

The veterans say that some of the soldiers died, and others suffered grand mal seizures, epileptic seizures and paranoia. The veterans say the CIA promised in the 1970s to compensate those who were made guinea pigs, but the 2009 complaint states that the government "never made a sincere effort to locate the survivors."

In its 32-page motion to dismiss the group's third amended complaint, the CIA claims it has no legal obligation under the Administrative Procedures Act to provide the veterans with notice of the drugs' health effects and that the veterans' notice claim "rests solely on state common-law duty."

The CIA claims that the law on which the veterans base their claim for health care compensation stems from the Department of Defense and Army regulations, "which do not purport to have a binding affect on the CIA." And it claims that the Defense Department "never intended nor committed to providing medical care for service member participants in the test programs."

Based upon the CIA's assertion that the US Defense Department "never intended nor committed to providing medical care for service member participants in the test programs" clearly shows their knowing of the existence of these "mind control" assassins, like Loughner, leading one to wonder how many more of them are out there, and even worse, when they will strike next.

One can only hope that there is some "power" in America today able to stop the madness currently taking over that once great nation before all is truly lost, we hope it is much sooner than later for all of the worlds sake.

Skull and Bones (Order 322) Founded at Yale

The Order of Skull and Bones is a secret society founded at Yale University in New Haven, Connecticut in 1832. Skull and Bones founder William Huntington Russell was inspired by an occult society he’d visited in Germany. His co-founder was Alphonso Taft, future Secretary of War under President Grant and father of president William Howard Taft… who would also be a member of Skull and Bones. The prominent list of Bonesman includes several presidents and modern-day power brokers.

Each year, 15 seniors at Yale are tapped to join Skull and Bones. Their names are published in Yale Rumpus, though what happens behind the closed doors of The Tomb, the windowless meeting space where Bonesmen gather twice a week, is under wraps: Members take an oath of secrecy. Graduate members are referred to as “patriarchs,” while those undergoing initiation are called “knights.” Outsiders of the group are “barbarians.” Famous Skull and Bones members include Presidents William Howard Taft, George H.W. Bush and his son, George W. Bush; founder of Time magazine Henry Luce; former secretary of state and presidential hopeful John Kerry; Fortune 500 elites and members of the CIA. The controversial 1986 exposé America’s Secret Establishment by Anthony Sutton claimed that Skull and Bones was out to create a “new world order” run by Bonesmen, prompting myriad conspiracy theories.

James Forrestal FEBRUARY 15, 1892 - May 22, 1949)
ited to Princeton and Gottlieb CIA MKULTRA

Forrestal came from a very strict middle class Irish Catholic family. He was a successful financier on Wall Street before becoming Undersecretary of the Navy in 1940, shortly before the United States entered the Second World War. He became Secretary of the Navy in May 1944 upon the death of his superior, Frank Knox. President Franklin D. Roosevelt requested that Forrestal take the lead in building up the Navy. In 1947, after the end of the war, President Harry S. Truman appointed him the first Secretary of the newly created Department of Defense. Forrestal was intensely hostile to the Soviet Union, fearing Communist expansion in Europe and the Middle East. Along with Secretary of State George C. Marshall, he strongly opposed the United States' support for the establishment of the State of Israel, fearing that this would alienate Arab nations which were needed as allies, and whose petroleum reserves were vital for both military and civilian industrial expansion.

Forrestal was a supporter of naval battle groups centered on aircraft carriers. He tried to weaken the proposed Department of Defense for the Navy's benefit, but was hard pressed to run it from 1947 to 1949 after Truman named him Secretary of Defense. The two men were often at odds, and Truman forced Forrestal's resignation.

Thereafter, Forrestal's mental health rapidly deteriorated, declining to the point in which he underwent medical care for depression. While a patient at Bethesda Naval Hospital, Forrestal died from fatal injuries sustained after falling out a sixteenth floor window.

In 1954, the world's first supercarrier was named USS Forrestal in his honor, as is the James V. Forrestal Building, which houses the headquarters of the United States Department of Energy. He is the namesake of the Forrestal Lecture Series at the United States Naval Academy and of the James Forrestal Campus of his alma mater Princeton University.

Forrestal entered Dartmouth College in 1911, but transferred to Princeton University in his sophomore year, where he served as an editor for The Daily Princetonian. His senior class voted him "Most Likely to Succeed", but he left just prior to completing work on a degree. Forrestal was a member of University Cottage Club while he was a student at Princeton.[4] Forrestal married the former Josephine Stovall (née Ogden), a Vogue writer, in 1926. She eventually developed a dependence on alcohol and suffered various mental health issues

Forrestal went to work as a bond salesman for William A. Read and Company (later renamed Dillon, Read & Co.) in 1916. When the USA entered the First World War, he enlisted in the Navy and ultimately became a Naval Aviator, training with the Royal Flying Corps at Camp Borden and Deseronto in Canada.[6] During the final year of the war, Forrestal spent much of his time in Washington, at the Office of Naval Operations while completing his flight training and reached the rank of lieutenant. After the war, Forrestal resumed his career in finance and made his fortune on Wall Street. He became a partner in 1923, was appointed vice president in 1926, and by 1937 was president of the company. He also acted as a publicist for the Democratic Party committee in Dutchess County, New York, helping politicians from the area win elections at both the local and state level. One of the individuals aided by his work was a neighbor, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Forrestal was a compulsive workaholic and skilled administrator. He was described as pugnacious, introspective, shy, philosophic, solitary, and emotionally insecure.[3][7][8] He took no part in national politics, though he usually voted for Democrats, but did not support New Deal liberalism

As Secretary, Forrestal introduced a policy of racial integration in the Navy. Forrestal traveled to combat zones to see naval forces in action. He was in the South Pacific in 1942, present at the Battle of Kwajalein in 1944, and (as Secretary) witnessed the Battle of Iwo Jima in 1945. After five days of pitched battle, a detachment of Marines was sent to hoist the American flag on the 545-foot summit of Mount Suribachi on Iwo Jima. This was the first time in the war that the U.S. flag had flown on Japanese soil. Forrestal, who had just landed on the beach, claimed the historic flag as a souvenir. When Forrestal witnessed the sight of the Stars and Stripes atop Mount Suribachi, he turned to Major General Holland Smith and said, “the raising of that flag on Suribachi means a Marine Corps for the next 500 years.”[16] A second, larger flag was run up in its place, and this second flag-raising was the moment captured by Associated Press photographer Joe Rosenthal in his famous photograph.

ALLEN DULLES (1893-1969) retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

ALLEN DULLES (1893-1969)

Allen Welsh Dulles (April 7, 1893 - January 29, 1969) was the first civilian Director (1953-1961) of the Central Intelligence Agency and a member of the Warren Commission. Dulles was the younger brother of John Foster Dulles, Eisenhower’s Secretary of State, and the grandson of John W. Foster, another U.S. Secretary of State. His uncle Robert Lansing also was a U.S. Secretary of State.

Dulles was active in the Office of Strategic Services in Berne, Switzerland during World War II. He worked on intelligence regarding German plans and activities. Dulles's career was jump-started by the information provided by Fritz Kolbe, a German diplomat and a foe of the Nazis. Kolbe supplied secret documents regarding active German spies and plans regarding the Messerschmitt Me 262 jet fighter.

In 1948 Presidential election, Allen Dulles was Dewey's chief advisor. The Dulles brothers and James Forrestal helped form the Office of Policy Coordination.

In 1953 Dulles became the first civilian director of the Central Intelligence Agency, which had been formed in 1947 as part of the National Security Act; earlier directors had been military officers. The Agency's covert operations were an important part of the Eisenhower administration's new Cold War national security policy known as the "New Look".

Under Dulles's direction, the CIA established MK-Ultra, a top secret mind control research project which was managed by Sidney Gottlieb.

At Dulles' request, President Eisenhower demanded that Senator McCarthy discontinue issuing subpoenas against the CIA. In March, McCarthy had initiated a series of investigations into potential communist subversion of the Agency. Although none of the investigations revealed any wrongdoing, the hearings were still potentially damaging, not only to the CIA's reputation, but to the security of sensitive information as well. During the time, Dulles was personally overseeing Operation Mockingbird, a program which influenced American media companies.

Dulles went on to be successful with the CIA's first attempts at removing foreign leaders by covert means. Notably, the elected Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran was deposed in 1953 (via Operation Ajax), and President Arbenz of Guatemala was removed in 1954.

During the Kennedy Administration, Dulles faced increasing criticism. The failed Bay of Pigs Invasion and several failed assassination plots utilizing CIA-recruited operatives from the Mafia and anti-Castro Cubans directly against Fidel Castro undermined the CIA's credibility, and pro-American but unpopular regimes in Iran and Guatemala were widely regarded as brutal and corrupt.

Dulles was fired from the CIA by Kennedy in 1961 over Operation Northwoods, a proposed covert CIA operation aimed at gaining popular support for a war against Cuba by framing Cuba for staging real or simulated attacks on American citizens.

Dulles published the book The Craft of Intelligence (ISBN 1592282970) in 1963.

On November 29, 1963 President Lyndon Johnson appointed Dulles as one of seven commissioners of the Warren Commission to investigate the assassination of the U.S. President John F. Kennedy.

Despite his knowledge of the several assassination plots by the CIA against Castro, he is not documented to have mentioned these plots to any investigating authorities during the Warren Commission.

In 1969 Dulles died of influenza, complicated by pneumonia, at the age of 75. He was buried in Greenmount Cemetery in Baltimore, Maryland.

About the author Landis Gores (1919-1991) was born in Cincinnati, Ohio. Graduating cum laude at the age of 15 from Walnut Hills High School, he attended Princeton University, where he majored in English Literature, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and graduated summa cum laude in 1939. From

Princeton Mr. Gores went on to the Harvard Graduate School of Design, graduating in 1942, and receiving the A.I.A. Gold Medal that same year. At Harvard, Mr. Gores became friendly with professor Marcel Breuer (formerly professor at the Bauhaus) and Philip Johnson, future fellow members of a group of modern architects that would later be known as the Harvard Five

My second overriding debt is to my onetime senior overseer and arbiter in the line of duty, Ralph Bennett, President of Magdalen College, Cambridge. Apprised early that the very day after release of the first body of Ultra field signal typescripts Ralph had commenced to put together a precise chronicle of the Ultra aspects of the Allies' Western Front campaign of 1944-1945, I presumed as my own far less authoritative in-house memories took shape to appeal to him for verification of my inevitable subjectivity and fallibility as well as for help in securing copies of those actual signals which because of my specific connection I desired to confirm in entire detail. My list of desiderata arrived however only after Ralph, with reading galleys of his Ultra in the West finished, had no further occasion for visits to the P.R.O. at Kew where the originals lay;

To my several surviving Princeton colleagues I am grateful for contributions of personal histories while I was compiling a brief and rudimentary resume of Princetonians in the Ultra Service for the Princeton Alumni Weekly in 1975, together with subsequent recollections and observations as our correspondences have continued: Adolph Rosengarten, Edmund Kellogg, Yorke Allen, Langdon Van Norden and William T.B. Carnahan. To Ernest Bell III I declare a debt for encouragement in my first phases of compilation and for some useful early copies of signals brought back from the P.R.O. as well as other materials valuable as corroborative evidence. And finally, small notes of gratitude to my daughter Valerie over these years offering me the fruits of her vocation as a librarian to scout out and scour out a wide range of obscure records and documentations in search of precision of detail or accuracy of allusion, and to old family friend Laurence Buckley interested enough from his days as a Mosquito-flying Pathfinder pilot in the R.A.F. to proofread my entire final typescript.

Conrad, a Huntington Beach resident whose lifelong aerospace career started with NASA in 1962, died at 5:07 p.m. at Ojai Valley Hospital, five hours after crashing his 1996 Harley-Davidson, said James Baroni, a Ventura County deputy county coroner. Conrad was 69.

Doctors who operated on Conrad to find the source of internal bleeding were unable to revive him, Baroni said. “Initially it did not appear that he had many injuries,” Baroni said. “But after he was there [at the hospital] for a while, he started having more difficulty breathing and his blood pressure was dropping.”

Conrad’s wife, Nancy Conrad, was riding on another motorcycle when the crash occurred, Baroni said. The couple and several friends, also on motorcycles, had been headed north to Monterey. The group planned to stop at Ojai for lunch, Baroni said.

It was not uncommon for Conrad to be riding. In fact, he was a thrill-seeker. In an interview with The Times several years ago, Conrad said he enjoyed “Fast bikes, fast cars and anything that moves.”

The crash occurred on a slight grade on California 150 about three miles east of Ojai in an unincorporated area of Ventura County. Conrad’s riding buddies, some of whom were bringing up the rear and came upon him seconds after the crash, said it appeared Conrad was traveling under the posted 55 mph speed limit when he took the turn, Baroni said. Conrad, who was wearing a helmet and full riding gear, apparently took the turn wide, lost control and flew off the bike onto the pavement, authorities said. An autopsy is scheduled in Ventura today and funeral arrangements are pending, Baroni said.

Conrad died on July 8, 1999, from internal injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident. While traveling with his wife and friends from his Huntington Beach home to Monterey, California, his motorcycle crashed on a turn. Conrad later died in a hospital in Ojai.[30] He was wearing a helmet at the time and was operating within the speed limit.[4] He was buried with full honors at Arlington National Cemetery,[31] with many Apollo-era astronauts in attendance.

Charles “Pete” Conrad Jr. (JUNE 2, 1930 - JULY 8, 1999) was an American NASA astronaut, aeronautical engineer, naval officer and aviator, and test pilot, and commanded the Apollo 12 space mission, on which he became the third person to walk on the Moon. Conrad was selected in NASA’s second astronaut class in 1962.

Conrad was considered a bright, intelligent boy, but he continually struggled with his schoolwork. He suffered from dyslexia, *a condition little understood at the time. Conrad attended the Haverford School, a private academy in Haverford, Pennsylvania, that previous generations of Conrads had attended. Even after his family's financial downturn, his uncle Egerton supported his continued schooling at Haverford. However, Pete's dyslexia continued to frustrate his academic efforts. After he failed most of his 11th grade exams, Haverford expelled him from school.

Conrad's mother refused to believe that her son was unintelligent, and she set about finding him a suitable school. She found Darrow School in New Lebanon, New York. There, Conrad learned how to apply a systems approach to learning, and thus found a way to work around his dyslexia. Despite having to repeat the 11th grade, Conrad so excelled at Darrow that after his graduation in 1949, he not only was admitted to Princeton University, but he was also awarded a full Navy ROTC scholarship.[3]: 64-67 While at Darrow, although he was only 5′6″ and weighed 135 pounds, Conrad started as the center on his football team and became the team captain. "He was a very tough boy, and we won our share of games," said the school's assistant headmaster.

Pete Conrad was born on JUNE 2, 1930, in Philadelphia,[2] the third child and the first son of Charles Conrad Sr. (1892-1969) and Frances De Rappelage Conrad (née Vinson; 1899-1981), a well-to-do real estate and banking family.[3]:17,74

The Great Depression wiped out the Conrad family's fortune, just as it had those of so many others. In 1942, the family lost their manor home in Philadelphia, and then moved into a small carriage house, paid for by

Conrad was considered a bright, intelligent boy, but he continually struggled with his schoolwork. He suffered from dyslexia, a condition little understood at the time. Conrad attended the Haverford School, a private academy in Haverford, Pennsylvania, that previous generations of Conrads had attended. Even after his family's financial downturn, his uncle Egerton supported his continued schooling at Haverford. However, Pete's dyslexia continued to frustrate his academic efforts. "He was a very tough boy, and we won our share of games," said the school's assistant headmaster.

Starting when he was 15 years old, Conrad worked during the summertime at the Paoli Airfield near Paoli, Pennsylvania, bartering lawn mowing, sweeping, and other odd jobs for airplane flights and occasional instructional time. He learned more about the mechanics and workings of aircraft and aircraft engines, and then he graduated to minor maintenance work. When he was 16, he drove almost 100 miles (160 km) to help a flight instructor whose airplane had been forced to make an emergency landing. Conrad repaired the plane single-handedly. Thereafter, the instructor gave Conrad the flight lessons that he needed to earn his pilot's certificate even before he graduated from high school.

Conrad continued flying while he was in college, not only keeping his pilot's certificate, but also earning an instrument flight rating. He graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in aeronautical engineering from Princeton in 1953, after completing a 200-page-long senior thesis titled “The Design of a Turbo-Jet Military Advanced Trainer” with Richard V. Warden, Richard W. Vannata, and Calvin H. Perrine.[5] He was commissioned an Ensign in the U.S. Navy as a Naval ROTC graduate.

Aviation career in the U.S. Navy

Following his commission in 1953, Conrad was sent to Naval Air Station Pensacola, Florida, for flight training. He was also trained at the Naval Air Station Corpus Christi, Texas. He was designated a Naval Aviator in September 1954[6] and became a fighter pilot. He excelled in Navy flight school, and he served for several years as an aircraft carrier-based fighter pilot in the Navy. Conrad also served as a flight instructor in Navy flight schools along the Gulf of Mexico.

Next, Conrad applied for and he was accepted by the United States Naval Test Pilot School at Naval Air Station Patuxent River, Patuxent, Maryland. His classmates were future fellow astronauts Wally Schirra and Jim Lovell. He graduated in 1958, as part of Class 20, and was assigned as a Project Test Pilot.[3]:83,146 Conrad became a captain in the U.S. Navy on December 11, 1969.

During this period, Conrad was invited to take part in the selection process for the first group of astronauts for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) (the “Mercury Seven”). Conrad, like his fellow candidates, underwent several days of what they considered to be invasive, demeaning, and unnecessary medical and psychological testing at the Lovelace Clinic in New Mexico. Unlike his fellow candidates, Conrad rebelled against the regimen. During a Rorschach inkblot test, he told the psychiatrist that one blot card revealed a sexual encounter complete with lurid detail. When shown a blank card, he turned it around, pushed it back and replied, “It’s upside down”.

Then when he was asked to deliver a stool sample to the onsite lab, he placed it in a gift box and tied a red ribbon around it. Eventually, he decided that he had had enough. After dropping his full enema bag on the desk of the clinic’s commanding officer, he walked out.[3]:113-119 His initial application to NASA was denied with the notation not suitable for long-duration flight.

After his NASA episode, Conrad returned to the Navy as a fighter pilot, serving in the Pacific Fleet's second operational F-4 Phantom II squadron, VF-96, on board USS Ranger.[1] Thereafter, when NASA announced its search for a second group of astronauts, Mercury veteran Alan Shepard, who knew Conrad from their time as naval aviators and test pilots, approached Conrad and persuaded him to reapply.[10] This time, Conrad found the medical tests less invasive, and in June 1962 he was selected to join NASA.

He logged more than 6,500 hours of flying time, with more than 5,000 hours in jet aircraft.

NASA career Project Gemini

Conrad joined NASA as part of the second group of astronauts, known as the New Nine, on September 17, 1962.[12] Regarded as one of the best pilots in the group, he was among the first of his group to be assigned a Gemini mission. As pilot of Gemini 5 he, along with his commander Gordon Cooper, set a new space endurance record of eight days. The duration of the Gemini 5 flight was actually 7 days 22 hours and 55 minutes, surpassing the then-current Russian record of five days. Eight days was the time required for the first crewed lunar landing missions. Conrad facetiously referred to the Gemini 5 capsule as a flying garbage can.

Conrad tested many spacecraft systems essential to the Apollo program. He was also one of the smallest of the astronauts, 5 feet 6½ inches (1.69 meters) tall,[14] so he found the confinement of the Gemini capsule less onerous than his Commander Gordon Cooper did. He was then named Commander of the Gemini 8 backup crew, and later Commander of Gemini 11 with pilot Richard Gordon. Gemini 11 docked with an Agena target vehicle immediately after achieving orbit. Such a maneuver was an engineering and flight test similar to what the Apollo Command Module (CM) and Lunar Module (LM) would later be required to do. Also, the Gemini 11 flight holds the distinction of being the highest-apogee earth orbit ever, reaching an apogee of 1,369 kilometres (851 mi).

Apollo program

Pete Conrad's quote while descending the LEM ladder Conrad was assigned in December 1966 to command the backup crew for the first Earth orbital test flight of the complete Apollo spacecraft, including the Lunar Module (LM) into low Earth orbit. Delays in the LM's development pushed this mission to December 1968 as Apollo 8. But when one more delay occurred in readying the first LM for crewed flight, NASA approved and scheduled a lunar orbit mission without the LM as Apollo 8, pushing Conrad's backup mission to Apollo 9 in March 1969. Director of Flight Crew Operations Deke Slayton's practice was to assign a backup crew as the prime crew on the third following mission. If the swap of 8 and 9 had not occurred, Conrad might have commanded Apollo 11, the first mission to land on the Moon.

On NOVEMBER 14, 1969, Apollo 12 was launched with Conrad as Commander, Dick Gordon as Command Module Pilot, and Alan Bean as Lunar Module Pilot. The launch was the most harrowing of the Apollo program, as a series of lightning strikes just after liftoff temporarily knocked out power and guidance in the Command Module. Five days later, after stepping down from the ladder of the Lunar Module, Conrad joked about his own small stature by remarking:

> Whoopee! Man, that may have been a small one for Neil, but that's a long one for me.

He later revealed that he said this in order to win a bet he had made with the Italian journalist Oriana Fallaci for $500 to prove that NASA did not script astronaut comments (Fallaci was convinced that Armstrong's "One small step for man" speech had been written for him and were not his own words).[18] (In actuality the two speeches did not represent the same event; Conrad's "long one" referred to the jump from the ladder to the LM footpad, whereas Armstrong's "small step" referred to the small step from the footpad and on to the Moon's surface. Conrad's words for the latter were "Oooh, is that soft and queasy.")

One of the photos that he took during the mission with his own image visible on the helmet visor of Al Bean was later listed on Popular

Paul J. Weitz, (left) Charles Conrad Jr. (middle); and Joseph P. Kerwin (right); America’s first space station crew would spend 28 days in space Conrad’s last mission was as Commander of Skylab 2, the first crew to board the Skylab space station. The station had been damaged on its uncrewed launch, when its micrometeoroid shield tore away, taking one of two main solar panels with it and jamming the other one so that it could not deploy. Conrad and his crew repaired the damage on two spacewalks. Conrad managed to pull free the stuck solar panel by sheer brute force, an action of which he was particularly proud. The astronauts also erected a “parasol” solar shield to protect the station from intense solar heating, a function which the lost micrometeoroid shield was supposed to perform. Without the shield, Skylab and its contents would have become unusable.[20] President Jimmy Carter honored Conrad for this in 1978 by awarding him the Congressional Space Medal of Honor.

During his training for Skylab 2, Conrad had to bail out from NASA T-38 N957NA on May 10, 1972. He was returning to Houston from a visit to ILC Industries in Delaware. On approach to Ellington AFB he was advised that the weather had deteriorated below minimums so he diverted to Hobby. During the night, instrument flight rules (IFR) descent, he suffered a generator failure at 800 feet and broke off the approach. He elected to divert to an airfield with better weather. Unfortunately he ran out of fuel as he reached Bergstrom AFB and was forced to eject at 3,700 feet. He landed about 100 yards from the base operations building and his airplane impacted in an open field about two miles away.

Post-NASA career

Conrad undergoes dental exam by Skylab 2 Science Pilot, Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin, M.D. Conrad retired from NASA and the Navy in 1973, and went to work for American Television and Communications Company. He started as the vice president of operations and chief operating officer.

Conrad was in charge of the operation of existing systems and the national development of new cable television systems.

In 1976, he accepted a position with McDonnell Douglas as a vice president and consultant. In 1978, he became vice president of marketing and was responsible for the commercial and military sales of Douglas Aircraft Company. After an engine fell off a McDonnell Douglas DC-10, causing it to crash with the loss of all passengers and crew in 1979, Conrad spearheaded McDonnell Douglas's ultimately unsuccessful efforts to allay the fears of the public and policymakers, and save the plane's reputation. In 1980, he was promoted to senior vice president of marketing. From 1982 to 1984, Conrad served as the senior vice president of marketing and product support. He was appointed staff vice president of international business development in 1984. During the 1990s he consulted for the Delta Clipper experimental single-stage-to-orbit launch vehicle. He became vice president of project development in 1993.

On FEBRUARY 14, 1996, Conrad was part of the crew on a record-breaking around-the-world flight in a Learjet owned by cable TV pioneer, Bill Daniels. The flight lasted 49 hours, 26 minutes and 8 seconds.[22] Today the jet is on permanent static display at Denver International Airport's Terminal C.

A month before he died, Conrad appeared on ABC News Nightline and said, "I think the Space Shuttle is worth one billion dollars a launch. I think that it is worth two billion dollars for what it does. I think the Shuttle is worth it for the work it does." In the last interview he gave before his death, Conrad sat down for PBS's Nova series and discussed where he felt the future direction of space travel should go. He considered returning to the Moon "a waste of taxpayer money", but recommended missions to Mars and asteroids.

In 2006, NASA posthumously awarded him the Ambassador of Exploration Award for his work for the agency and science.

Personal life "When you can't be good, be colorful." -Conrad's personal motto.[4]

While at Princeton, Conrad met Jane DuBose, a student at Bryn Mawr, whose family owned a 1,600-acre (650 ha) ranch near Uvalde, Texas. Her father, Winn DuBose, was the first person to call Conrad “Pete” rather than “Peter”, the name he had used since birth. Upon his graduation from Princeton and acceptance of his navy commission, Conrad and Jane were married on June 16, 1953. They had four sons: Peter, born in 1954; Thomas, born in 1957; Andrew, born in 1959; and the youngest, Christopher, born in 1960.

Given the demands of his career in the navy and NASA, Pete and Jane spent a great deal of time apart, and Pete saw less of his boys growing up than he would have liked. Even after he retired from NASA and the Navy, he kept himself busy. In 1988, Pete and Jane divorced.[1] Both Pete and Jane remarried.

In 1989, Conrad’s youngest son, Christopher, was stricken with a malignant lymphoma. He died in April 1990, at the age of 29.[3]:230-1

Conrad met Nancy Crane, a Denver divorcee, through mutual friends. Conrad and Crane married in 1990.

Conrad was a Cub Scout.[28] His recreational interests included golf, water skiing and auto racing, such as Formula Vee.[29]

His first name was Charles, but everyone called him Pete.

Apollo 12 astronaut, Charles “Pete”Conrad was selected as part of NASA’s second class of astronauts, known as the “Next Nine.” An accomplished naval aviator with a degree in aeronautical engineering from Princeton, Conrad was known for his colorful personality and sense of humor.

A veteran of four space missions, Conrad’s astronaut career spanned the Gemini, Apollo and Skylab programs. He set space endurance and altitude records during his flights on Gemini V and XI. He also led the second Moon landing as commander of Apollo 12. On his final mission, he served as commander of Skylab 2, America's first space station. But Conrad's many achievements did not come easily. He had to overcome many obstacles on his road to the stars, including a significant learning disability.

A Challenging Childhood

As a young man growing up in Philadelphia, Pete Conrad struggled in school. Though he excelled at mechanical tasks,Pete had "dyslexia," a learning disorder which made reading and writing difficult.When he was sixteen, Conrad was expelled from the very traditional Haverford School in Pennsylvania, where he was perceived as a poor student. He transferred to the more hands-on Darrow Boarding School. There, he made an amazing turnaround. By the time he graduated from Darrow in 1949 on a Navy scholarship to Princeton, Pete made the honor roll, was elected class president, and despite being the smallest guy on the squad, became captain of the football team.

From Jets to Rockets

Like most of the United States' first astronauts, Pete Conrad began his career as a military aviator. He earned his naval aviator wings on September 24, 1954. He flew F9F-8 Cougars with squadron VF-43. He went on to attend the Navy Test Pilot School at Patuxent River, Maryland in 1958 and became a project pilot and flight instructor.

Conrad received an invitation to apply for the Mercury program in 1958. He and 31 other military test pilots went through a series of medical tests to selec tthe United States' first astronauts. Pete grew frustrated with what he considered to be the overly intrusive nature of the testing, and was not shy about voicing his disapproval. This led the flight surgeons to deem his attitude "not fit for long duration space flight," rejecting him from the Mercury program.

Little did those doctors know that Pete would try again in 1962, and be selected for NASA's second class of astronauts. He went on to set a space endurance record during his first Gemini mission, and again aboard the Skylab space station.He is perhaps best known as the commander of Apollo 12, the second mission to land on the Moon, and the first to make a precision landing.

Apollo 12

Though Pete's Apollo mission didn't bring a rover, later ones did, and the Museum has an engineering mock-up, built by Boeing in 1971. Find out more about it with our Senior Curator Matthew Burchette in our latest video.

REG BISHOP

Bishop was made an Officer of the Order of Australia in January 1984.[4] He was survived by a daughter and son, but his wife of more than sixty years, Connie predeceased him in 1997.

Reginald Bishop AO (4 February 1913 - 3 July 1999) was an Australian politician who served as a Senator for South Australia from 1962 TO 1981. He was a member of the Australian Labor Party (ALP), and held office in the Whitlam Government as Minister for Repatriation (1972-1974) and Postmaster-General (1974-1975).

Bishop was born in Adelaide and left school at fifteen and became a clerk in the South Australian Railways at the Islington Railway Workshops. He was an official of the Australian Railways Union from 1937 until 1956 and Secretary of the South Australian Trades and Labour Council from 1956 until 1962. He enlisted in the Royal Australian Air Force during World War II and served from February 1943 until January 1946 in Darwin and Borneo.[1][2]

MARK SANDMAN

Mark Sandman was born into a Jewish American family in Newton, Massachusetts. He graduated from the University of Massachusetts, then worked a variety of blue-collar jobs, including construction, taxi driving, and commercial fishing

Mark Sandman (September 24, 1952 - July 3, 1999) was an American singer, songwriter, musical instrument inventor, multi-instrumentalist and comic writer. Sandman possessed a distinctive, deep bass-baritone voice and a mysterious demeanour. He was an indie rock icon and longtime fixture in the Boston/Cambridge music scene, best known as the lead singer and slide bass player of the band Morphine. Sandman was also a member of the blues-rock band Treat Her Right and founder of Hi-n-Dry, a recording studio and independent record label.

On July 3, 1999, he suffered a heart attack during a concert in Italy and died instantly.

His instruments were extensively altered and sometimes built by hand. In Morphine, he usually played a two-string slide bass guitar tuned to a fifth, and sometimes a unitar (named after the one-stringed instrument in American blues tradition), and three-string slide bass with one bass and two unison strings tuned an octave higher (usually to A). He sometimes paired bass strings with one or two guitar strings, creating the “basitar” “tri-tar” and “guitbass.” The guitbass and basitar were later used by the band The Presidents of The United States of America, with whom Sandman was close friends.

The Presidents of the United States of America (occasionally referred to as PUSA, PotUSA, The Presidents of the USA or simply The Presidents) was an American grunge power trio band formed in Seattle, Washington, in 1993.

Mark Sandman was born into a Jewish American family in Newton, Massachusetts. He graduated from the University of Massachusetts, then worked a variety of blue-collar jobs, including construction, taxi driving, and commercial fishing. Sandman once noted he would often earn considerable overtime pay, which allowed him to take leave of work and travel outside of New England to places such as rural Colorado-the setting for a number of Treat Her Right and Morphine songs penned by Sandman, including “Thursday,” “The Jury,” and “I Think She Likes Me.”

Two tragic events affected Sandman's life and would later influence his music: he was robbed and stabbed in the chest during a robbery in his cab,[2] and his two brothers died.[3] These events would later be recounted in the Treat Her Right song "No Reason." His mother, Guitelle Sandman, later self-published Four Minus Three: A Mother's Story, a book about the loss of her three sons.

Few details are publicly known about Sandman's personal life. Fans have often speculated that many of Sandman's songs were autobiographical, which to this day remains unconfirmed. Although Sandman served as an unofficial spokesman for Morphine, he avoided answering questions about his personal life or his professional experiences outside of the music business.[4] Sandman was reported to have been particularly secretive about his age, becoming angry with any reporter who expressed an interest in revealing it publicly, perhaps because he was 10 to 20 years older than most of his indie-rock contemporaries.

LOUISE CASELOTTI AUGUST 23, 1910 - JULY 13, 1999

Caselotti was born in Bridgeport, Connecticut,[citation needed] the daughter of voice teacher Guido Caselotti, with whom she studied after the family moved to Los Angeles, California.

Caselotti debuted with the San Carlo Opera Company in Los Angeles in 1927 in that city's Philharmonic Auditorium. She was particularly noted for having sung the title role in Carmen more than four hundred times, and she also appeared notably as the gypsy Azucena in Il Trovatore.

She performed in Italian motion pictures in the early 1930s.[2] In the United States she sang on radio and even experimental television broadcasts in the 1930s for CBS. She dubbed the voices of several leading Hollywood actresses in the late 1930s and early 1940s. Later she married attorney Richard "Eddie" Bagarozy and lived in a Riverside Drive apartment in Manhattan. Bagarozy wanted to start his own opera company, but ultimately found the enterprise beyond his abilities. Nevertheless, he planted the seeds for what ultimately became the Lyric Opera of Chicago.

Caselotti and Bagarozy managed the career of a promising Greek-American soprano, Maria Callas, and introduced her to the Metropolitan Opera's general director Edward Johnson. Caselotti was Callas' vocal coach during 1946 and 1947.

She died July 13, 1999, in Malibu, California, at the age of 88.

World War II Engen entered Naval Aviation Cadet Program on 9 June 1942, he soloed in August and in September 1942 was sent to naval preflight school.[3]:18 In October 1942, Engen was assigned to Naval Air Station Los Alamitos for primary training and then in February 1943 was sent to Naval Air Station Corpus Christi for further training. He then attended advanced training at Naval Air Station Kingsville, graduating as a Naval Aviator on 9 June 1943.[3]:19-20 Engen was assigned to Bombing Squadron 3 (VB-3) at Naval Air Station Daytona Beach for operational training in dive-bombing.[3]:20 In August 1943, Engen carrier-qualified by making 8 landings on USS Sable and he then joined Bombing Squadron 19 (VB-19), flying the Curtiss SB2C Helldiver; nicknamed “the Big-Tailed Beast” by Navy personnel at NAS Los Alamitos.[3]:20

In January 1944, Carrier Air Group 19 (CAG-19) embarked on the USS Lexington for transit to Hawaii, offloading at Ford Island.[3]:20 From January-June 1944, VB-19 underwent further training at bases in Hawaii before deploying with the rest of CAG-19 aboard the USS Intrepid to the southwest Pacific arriving at Enewetak Atoll, where they transferred to the USS Lexington.[3]:21 On 14 July 1944, Lexington left Enewetak to support the invasion of Guam and Engen later sank a Japanese freighter.[3]:21 In October 1944, VB-19 fought in the Battle of Leyte Gulf; Engen participated in the sinking of the Japanese aircraft carrier Zuikaku and was one of 32 VB-19 pilots to be awarded the Navy Cross for their role in the battle.[3]:23[5] On 5 November 1944, Engen and the rest of VB-19 participated in the sinking of the Japanese cruiser Nachi in Manila Bay.[3]:24 On 23 November, CAG-19 was replaced by Carrier Air Group 20 and it embarked for transport to Hawaii and then on to San Diego.[3]:24 In early 1945, Engen was assigned to the newly formed VBF-19 at Naval Air Station North Island and was undergoing further training in Hawaii when the Japan surrendered.[3]:25 In addition to the Navy Cross, Engen was awarded the Air Medal and the Distinguished Flying Cross for his service in the Pacific.

1960s-1970s In January 1962 Engen was appointed commander of Carrier Air Group 11 and from early 1963 he served as operations officer on the USS Coral Sea.[3]:30 In April 1964, he received his first command as captain of the USS Mount Katmai. He would command the ship until 31 August 1965 when he left to attend the Naval War College, in preparation for taking command of USS America.[3]:30 On 21 July 1966, Engen became Captain of USS America. During this command the USS Liberty incident took place and America launched aircraft to engage the attackers before being ordered to recall the aircraft.[3]:30-32 In July 1967, Engen passed command of America in Valletta and he returned to the US.[3]:

The USS Liberty incident was an attack on a United States Navy technical research ship, USS Liberty, by Israeli Air Force jet fighter aircraft and Israeli Navy motor torpedo boats, on 8 JUNE 1967, during the Six-Day War.[2] The combined air and sea attack killed

34 crew members (naval officers, seamen, two marines, and one civilian NSA employee), wounded 171 crew members, and severely damaged the ship.[3] At the time, the ship was in international waters north of the Sinai Peninsula, about 25.5 nmi (29.3 mi; 47.2 km) northwest from the Egyptian city of Arish.

Israel apologized for the attack, saying that the USS Liberty had been attacked in error after being mistaken for an Egyptian ship.[5] Both the Israeli and U.S. governments conducted inquiries and issued reports that concluded the attack was a mistake due to Israeli confusion about the ship's identity.[6] Others, including survivors of the attack, have rejected these conclusions and maintain that the attack was deliberate.

In September 1967 he received his Bachelors of Science in Business Administration from the George Washington University.[3]:32-3 In September 1968 he was assigned to the Chief of Naval Operations and headed the Aviation Plans Branch until February 1970. He then headed the Strategic Plans Branch until June 1971, a service for which he was awarded the Legion of Merit.[3]:33 In July 1971 he was appointed commander of Carrier Division Four and was awarded a Gold Star to the Legion of Merit for his service during this period.[3]:33 In June 1973, he was appointed Deputy Commander in Chief United States Naval Forces Europe, his final command was as Deputy Commander in Chief US Atlantic Command.[3]:33

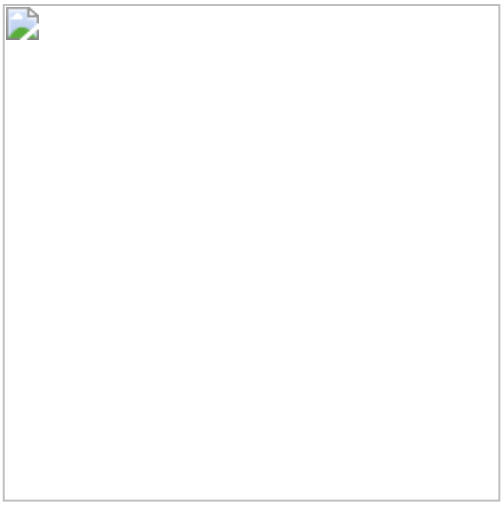
MARY KERRIDGE



Mary Kerridge (3 April 1914 - 22 July 1999)[1] was an English actress and theatre director, who (with her husband, John Counsell) ran the Theatre Royal, Windsor and its in-house repertory company from the 1930s to the 1980s. Her daughter is the actress Elizabeth Counsell.

Mary Kerridge died in Windsor on 22 July 1999 and was buried at St George's Chapel, Windsor. Fittingly, the chapel is also the resting place of Elizabeth Woodville, the Queen Elizabeth in Richard III that Kerridge famously played.

Born in Islington to Ernest Kerridge and Antoinette Fick, she attended Highbury Hill School from 1924 to 1928. Her family later moved to Esher, Surrey and she attended Wimbledon High School from January 1929 to July 1932, having taken her London University Higher Certificate in English, French, Modern History and German in June 1932. At University College London, she studied for the (one year) Intermediate Arts BA. She worked as a secretary, model and receptionist before making her name as an actress.[2] In the middle of 1939 she married John Counsell, the managing director of the Theatre Royal, Windsor.[3] She gave birth to twin daughters in 1942, one of them the actress Elizabeth Counsell.[4]

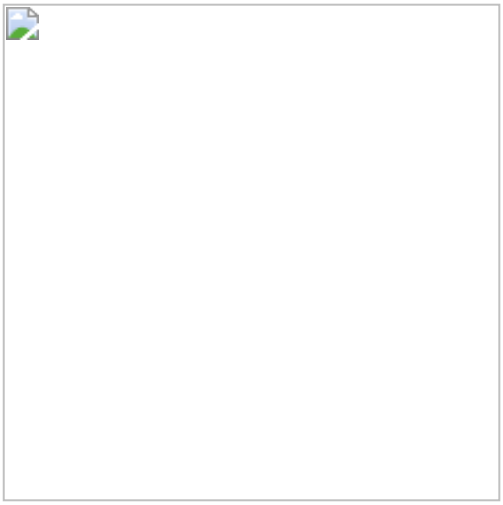
FRANK MINIS JOHNSON



Frank Minis Johnson Jr. (October 30, 1918 - July 23, 1999) was a United States District Judge and United States Circuit Judge serving 1955 to 1999 on the United States District Court for the Middle District of Alabama, United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit and United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit. He made landmark civil rights rulings that helped end segregation and disenfranchisement of African Americans in the South. In the words of journalist and historian Bill Moyers, Judge Johnson “altered forever the face of the South.”

Notable district court case and incidents In 1956, Johnson ruled in favor of Rosa Parks, striking down the “blacks in the back of the bus” law of the city of Montgomery Alabama, as unconstitutional.

In orders issued in 1961 and 1962, he ordered the desegregation of bus depots (such as the Montgomery Greyhound station) and the Montgomery Regional Airport in Alabama’s Middle judicial district. In 1961 he ordered the Ku Klux Klan and Montgomery police to stop the beating and harassment of Freedom Riders attempting to integrate interstate bus travel.

In March 1965, Judge Johnson ruled that activists had the right to undertake the Selma to Montgomery march as a means to petition the government, overturning Governor George Wallace’s prohibition of the march as contrary to public safety. Thousands of sympathizers traveled to Selma to join the march, which had 25,000 > participants by its last leg into Montgomery on March 25, 1965. It was considered integral to gaining passage by Congress of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

> Judge Johnson received death threats and ostracism for his role in advancing civil rights, and was protected by federal marshals for nearly two decades. A burning cross was placed on his lawn in 1956 following the Rosa Parks decision, and his mother's house was bombed in 1967, although she was not hurt.
> FBI director nomination In 1977 President Carter and Attorney General Griffin Bell asked Johnson to become FBI Director when Director Clarence M. Kelley stepped down. But, the day after Carter nominated him, Johnson was found to have an aneurysm, or abnormal swelling, of his abdominal aorta. His nomination had to be withdrawn and William H. Webster was nominated in his place.
> Johnson died at his home in Montgomery of pneumonia after being briefly hospitalized for a fall at his home the week prior.[7]

Many more, more than time here permits.

Representative Leo Ryan of California was posthumously awarded the Congressional Gold Medal, Congress's highest experession of national appreciation for distinguished achievements and contributions.

Leo Joseph Ryan Jr. (May 5, 1925 - November 18, 1978) In office January 3, 1973 - November 18, 1978

After the 1965 Watts riots, Ryan took a job as a substitute school teacher to investigate and document conditions in the Los Angeles area. In 1970, he launched an investigation into California prisons. While presiding as chairman of the Assembly committee that oversaw prison reform, he used a pseudonym to enter Folsom State Prison as an inmate. During his time in Congress, Ryan traveled to Newfoundland to investigate the practice of seal hunting. He was also known for his vocal criticism of the lack of congressional oversight of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), and co-authored the Hughes-Ryan Amendment, passed in 1974, which requires the president of the United States to report covert CIA activity to Congress.

In 1978, Ryan traveled to Guyana to investigate claims that people were being held against their will at the Peoples Temple Jonestown settlement. He was shot and killed at an airstrip on November 18, as he and his party were attempting to leave. Shortly after the airstrip shootings, 909 members of the Jonestown settlement died in a mass murder-suicide by drinking cyanide-laced Flavor Aid. Ryan was the second sitting member of the U.S. House of Representatives to be assassinated in office, after James M. Hinds in 1868.

Forty-four American colleges or universities, 15 research foundations or chemical or pharmaceutical companies and the like including Sandoz (currently Novartis) and Eli Lilly & (Bush family) Co., 12 hospitals or clinics (in addition to those associated with universities), and 3 prisons are known to have participated in MKULTRA

In 1973, CIA Director Richard Helms ordered all MK-ULTRA files destroyed. Pursuant to this order, most CIA documents regarding the project were destroyed, making a full investigation of MK-ULTRA impossible. Possible Link with Peoples Temple Suicide: Jonestown, the Guyana location of the Jim Jones cult and Peoples Temple mass suicide, was thought to be a test site for MKULTRA medical and mind control experiments after the official end of the program. Congressman Leo Ryan, a known critic of the CIA, was assassinated NOVEMBER 18 after he personally visited Jonestown to investigate various reported irregularities.

Guyana achieved independence from the United Kingdom on 26 May 1966 and became a republic on 23 FEBRUARY 1970, remaining a member of the Commonwealth. The United States State Department and the US Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), along with the British government, played a strong role in influencing political control in Guyana during this time.

Rose Cheramie (Cherami): was found unconsciousness by the side of the road at Eunice, Louisiana, on 20TH NOVEMBER, 1963 days before Barrack OBama Jr turned 2 years old. Lieutenant Francis Frugé of the Louisiana State Police took her to the state hospital. On the journey Cheramie said that she had been thrown out of a car by two gangsters who worked for Jack Ruby. She claimed that the men were involved in a plot to kill John F. Kennedy. Cheramie added that Kennedy would be killed in Dallas within a few days. Later she told the same story to doctors and nurses who treated her. As she appeared to be under the influence of drugs her story was ignored.

Following the assassination, Cheramie was interviewed by the police. She claimed that Lee Harvey Oswald had visited Ruby's night club. In fact, she believed the two men were having a homosexual relationship. Upon arrival in Houston she repeated this claim to Captain Morgan but refused to talk to federal authorities saying she's didn't want to get involved in this mess. According to Lt. Fruge, the information Rose Cherami supplied about the narcotics ring was "true and good information."

Rose Cheramie was found dead on 4th September, 1965. At first it appeared she had been involved in a road accident. Later it was argued that she had been shot in the head before being run over by by a car in order to disguise the original wound. However, the Louisiana State Police Memo reported: "Cheramie died of injuries received from an automobile accident on a strip of highway near Big Sandy, Texas, in the early morning of September 4, 1965. The driver stated Cheramie had been lying in the roadway and although he attempted to avoid hitting her, he ran over the top of her skull, causing fatal injuries. An investigation into the accident and the possibility of a relationship between the victim and the driver produced no evidence of foul play. The case was closed."

Spiro, Eisman, and McDonald

The shooting death of Dennis Eisman APRIL 5, 1991 (an attorney for Michael Riconosciuto, who was a material witness in the House Investigation 102-857): DENNIS EISMAN - An attorney with information on INSLAW. Eisman was found shot to death on APRIL 5, 1991 According to the same TC Technical Consultant article, “In April, a Philadelphia attorney named Dennis Eisman was found dead, killed by a single bullet in his chest. According to a former federal official who worked with Eisman, the attorney was found dead in the parking lot where he had been due to meet with a woman who had crucial evidence to share substantiating Riconosciuto’s claims [regarding Inslaw].” He and his former law partner, Bernard L. Segal, had represented Green Beret Army surgeon Jeffrey McDonald who was accused in 1970 of brutally murdering his pregnant wife and two young daughters at Fort Bragg, N.C. Mr. Eisman and Mr. Segal represented McDonald during Army hearings that resulted in the dismissal of military charges, Mr. Segal said. lpMcDonald was convicted in U.S. District Court of the murders in 1980 and is serving three life prison terms.

Ian Stuart Spiro (14 December 1946 - 8 November 1992) was a commodities broker who either murdered his wife and children, then killed himself in 1992 or was himself murdered along with his family. Police stated that he was a “low-level conduit by United States government intelligence agencies and the United Kingdom’s MI-6” from 1981 to 1986, and the case stirred a conspiracy theory that the family was murdered by assassins or terrorists because of Spiro’s history as an intelligence operative.

Sightings 8 thru 12. IAN SPIRO AND FAMILY - Spiro had supporting documentation for grand jury proceedings on the INSLAW case. His wife and 3 children were found murdered on November 1, 1992 in their home. They all died of gunshot wounds to the head. Ian’s body was found several days later in a parked car in the Borego Desert. Cause of death? The ingestion of cyanide. Declared a murder/suicide.

The official reports of the visit concluded that Soviets were running a covert and illegal BW programme. Kelly also took part in reciprocal visits to the United States Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases at Fort Detrick, Maryland, and visits to Porton Down by Russian and American inspectors. Despite their findings, Kelly concluded that the tripartite inspection programme had failed. It was, he said, “too ambitious; its disarmament objective deflected by issues of reciprocity and access to sites outside the territories of the three parties”. He went on to add that “Russia’s refusal to provide a complete account of its past and current BW activity and the inability of the American-British teams to gain access to Soviet/Russian military industrial facilities were significant contributory factors”.

David Christopher Kelly was born in Llwynypia, Glamorgan, South Wales, on 14 May 1944. His parents were Thomas John Kelly and Margaret, née Williams; Thomas was a schoolteacher who was serving in the Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve as a signals officer during the Second World War. Thomas and Margaret divorced in 1951 and she took her young son and moved in with her parents in Pontypridd. From the age of eleven he attended the local grammar school. He was a keen sportsman and musician at school, and represented Wales in the youth cross-country running team; he played double bass in the National Youth Orchestra of Wales and played the saxophone to a high standard]

In 1963 Kelly was admitted to the University of Leeds to study chemistry, botany and biophysics. His mother died two years later from an overdose of prescription barbiturates. Although the coroner's inquest gave an open verdict, Kelly believed she had killed herself. As a result of the death, Kelly suffered from insomnia and was prescribed sleeping pills; he was also given an extra year to complete his degree. Kelly graduated in 1967 with a BSc in bacteriology; he then obtained an MSc in virology from the University of Birmingham.Between his first and second degrees, on 15 July 1967, he married Janice, née Vawdrey, who was studying at Bingley Teacher Training College.

Kelly joined the Insect Pathology Unit at the University of Oxford in 1968, while a student of Linacre College. In 1971 he received his doctorate in microbiology for his thesis "The Replication of Some Iridescent Viruses in Cell Cultures". In the early 1970s he undertook postdoctoral research at the University of Warwick, before moving back to Oxford in the mid-1970s to work at the Institute of Virology, where he rose to the position of Chief Scientific Officer. Much of his work was in the field of insect viruses.

Kelly said of Gilligan's evidence that "The description of that meeting in small part matches my interaction with him especially my personal evaluation of Iraq's capability but the overall character is quite different".[95][96] In closing, he reiterated that "With hindsight I of course deeply regret talking to Andrew Gilligan even though I am convinced that I am not his primary source of information."

Tony Blair, the British Prime Minister, who chaired the meeting that agreed to confirm Kelly's name to journalists if they guessed his identity. Kelly was interviewed twice by his employers—on 3 AND 7 JULY; they concluded that he may have been Gilligan's source, but that Gilligan may have exaggerated what Kelly said.

As far as it is known, Kelly walked a mile (1.6 km) from his house to Harrowdown Hill. It appears he ingested up to 29 tablets of co-proxamol, an analgesic drug, then cut his left wrist, severing his ulnar artery, with a pruning knife he had owned since his youth. It was subsequently established that neither the knife nor the blister packs showed Kelly's fingerprints on their surfaces.

Andi: That's why I can't see every day; the level of such extreme torture and gross indifference to human life.

And that's why I worry about you and wonder if you ar are holding up because it is and you are such an empathetic sponge.

You absorb it all, and I know it weighs heavy on your mind and heart even if you don't admit it.

Its hard to be a witness to human suffering and even harded ro realize there is no clear plan, or even hope, to put an end to it.

Twain once said trying to establish peace is nearly impossible because you have to be able to tame the human race first, and history seems to show that canot be done.

And particularly, in this war alone, it seems that can not be done.

Natalie Wood (born Natalie Zacharenko) July 20, 1938 - November 29, 1981)

Wood died off of the coast of Santa Catalina Island on November 29, 1981, at age 43, during a holiday break from the production of her would-be comeback film Brainstorm with Christopher Walken. The events surrounding her death have been the subject of conflicting witness statements, prompting the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, under the instruction of the coroner's office, to list her cause of death as "drowning and other undetermined factors" in 2012.

Brainstorm is a 1983 American science fiction film directed by Douglas Trumbull, and starring Christopher Walken, Natalie Wood (in her final film role), Louise Fletcher and Cliff Robertson.

It follows a research team's efforts to perfect a system that directly records and replays the sensory experiences and emotional feelings of a subject, and the efforts by the company's management to exploit the device for military ends. After a researcher records her own death from a heart attack, her colleagues join forces to retrieve the information and play it back.

> Within days of Monroe's death, he writes, Frank Sinatra's attorney Mickey Rudin, who also worked with Monroe, told him that the actress had been killed. It was a rumor also circulating among Mob Boss Sam Giancana's men, some of whom claimed involvement. According to the book, Sinatra had several sources who told him the same story: "She'd been murdered with a Nembutal suppository and Robert Kennedy or the Mob was involved."

Giancana was murdered on June 19, 1975, in Oak Park, Illinois, shortly before he was scheduled to appear before the Church Committee.

Samuel Mooney Giancana[1] (/dʒiɑːnˈkɑːnə/; born Gilormo Giangana;[nb 1] Italian: [dʒi ˈlɔrmo dʒaŋˈgaːna]; May 24, 1908[nb 2] - June 19, 1975) was an American mobster who was boss of the Chicago Outfit from 1957 to 1966.

Giancana was born in Chicago to Italian immigrant parents. He joined the 42 Gang as a teenager, developing a reputation in organized crime which gained him the notice of Chicago Outfit leaders. During the late 1930s, Giancana joined the Chicago Outfit. From the 1940s through the 1950s, he controlled the illegal gambling, illegal liquor distribution, and political rackets in Louisiana. In the early 1940s, Giancana was involved in Chicago's African-American lottery payout system for the Outfit. In 1957, Giancana became the boss of the Chicago Outfit.

According to some sources, Giancana and the Mafia were involved in John F. Kennedy's victory in the 1960 presidential election. During the 1960s, he was recruited by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) in a plot to assassinate Cuban leader Fidel Castro. Conspiracy theorists consider Giancana along with Mafia leaders Santo Trafficante Jr. and Carlos Marcello associated with the assassination of Kennedy. In 1965, Giancana was convicted of contempt of court, serving one year in prison. After his release from prison, Giancana fled to Cuernavaca, Mexico. In 1974, he was deported to the United States, returning to Chicago. Giancana was murdered on June 19, 1975, in Oak Park, Illinois, shortly before he was scheduled to appear before the Church Committee.

After Giancana's return to the United States, police detailed officers to guard his house in Oak Park, Illinois, but on the night of June 19, 1975, shortly before he was scheduled to appear before the Church Committee,[37] which was investigating CIA and Cosa Nostra collusion,[38] a gunman entered the home through the basement and shot Giancana in the head and neck seven times with a .22 caliber pistol. At around 11 p.m., Joseph DiPersio, Giancana's caretaker, found his body on the floor of the basement kitchen where he was said to be frying sausage and peppers.[39][40] A week before his death, Giancana had gall bladder surgery in Houston.[39] Giancana was interred next to his wife, Angeline, in a family mausoleum at Mount Carmel Cemetery, in Hillside, Illinois.

Reed Miller Nesbit (October 8, 1898 - AUGUST 1, 1979) was an American urologist, surgeon, and professor. He was Head of the Urology Section of the Department of Surgery at the University of Michigan Medical School in Ann Arbor, Michigan, from 1930-1967.[1] Nesbit was a pioneer of transurethral resection of the prostate. He devised the 'Nesbit operation' for treating Peyronie's disease,[2] and he made prominent contributions to pediatric urology, most notably the Cabot-Nesbit style orchiopexy.

From 1959 to 1961, he served as a flight surgeon in the United States Navy stationed at the Keflavík naval base in Iceland. McDonald married an Icelandic national, Anna Tryggvadottir, with whom he would eventually have three children: Tryggvi Paul, Callie Grace, and Mary Elizabeth.[2] In Iceland, McDonald asserted to his commanding officer that the U.S. Embassy in Reykjavik was doing things advantageous to communists, but was told he did not understand the big picture.

After his tour of service he practiced medicine at the McDonald Urology Clinic in Atlanta. He took an increasing interest in politics, reading books on political history and foreign policy.[2] He joined the John Birch Society-a conservative, anti-communist organization - in 1966 or 1967.[6] His passionate preoccupation with politics led to a divorce from his first wife.[2] McDonald made one unsuccessful run for Congress in 1972 before being elected in 1974. In 1975, he married Kathryn Jackson, whom he met while giving a speech in California.[2] McDonald served as a member on the Georgia State Medical Education Board and as chairman from 1969 to 1974.

While most political prognosticators in the mainstream press presume that Obama is the presumptive Democratic nominee for president, they still wonder aloud if Hillary Clinton (or some other entity) has something up their sleeve.

The bombshell may involve the murder of Donald Young, a 47-year-old choir master at former Rev. Jeremiah Wright's Trinity United Church of Christ--the same congregation that Obama has attended for the past 20 years. Two other young black men that attended the same church-Larry Bland and Nate Spencer-were also murdered execution style with bullets to the backs of their heads-all within 40 days of each other, beginning in November 2007. All three were openly homosexual.

What links this story to Barack Obama is that, according to an acquaintance of Obama, Larry Sinclair, Obama is a closet bisexual with whom he had sexual and drug-related encounters in November 1999.

Further, Sinclair claims that Obama was friendly with at least two of these deceased parishioners, and that choir director Donald had contacted him shortly before being murdered from multiple gunshot wounds on DECEMBER 23, 2007.

Kurt Donald Cobain retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Kurt Donald Cobain (FEBRUARY 20, 1967 - c. APRIL 5, 1994) was an American singer, songwriter, and musician. He was the frontman of the rock band Nirvana, serving as the band's guitarist, lead vocalist, and primary songwriter. Through his angst-fueled songwriting and anti-establishment persona, Cobain's compositions widened the thematic conventions of mainstream rock music. He was often heralded as a spokesman of Generation X and is considered to be one of the most influential musicians in the history of alternative rock.

Cobain formed the band Nirvana with Krist Novoselic and Aaron Burckhard in 1987 and established it as part of the Seattle music scene which later became known as grunge. After signing with major label DGC Records, Nirvana found global success with "Smells Like Teen Spirit" from their critically acclaimed second album Nevermind (1991). Although Cobain was hailed as the voice of his generation following Nirvana's sudden success, he resented this, believing his message and artistic vision had been misinterpreted by the public. In addition to "Smells Like Teen Spirit", Cobain wrote many other notable songs for Nirvana, including "Come as You Are", "Lithium", "In Bloom", "Something in the Way", "Heart-Shaped Box", "All Apologies", "About a Girl", "Aneurysm" and "You Know You're Right".

uring the last years of his life, Cobain struggled with heroin addiction and chronic health problems such as depression. He also struggled with the personal and professional pressures of fame, and had a tumultuous relationship with his wife, fellow musician Courtney Love.[2] In March 1994, Cobain overdosed on a combination of champagne and Rohypnol, and subsequently entered an intervention and underwent a detox program. On April 8, 1994, Cobain was found dead at his home in Seattle at the age of 27; police concluded he had died on April 5 from a self-inflicted shotgun wound to the head.

Giotopoulos appealed his conviction, and described himself as the victim of "an Anglo-American conspiracy" [npte not a Franco Cahtolic conspiracy]. At the start of his appeal, in 2005, he received support from left-wing organisations and personalities in France, where he was born,[2] including Alain Krivine and Pierre Vidal-Naquet. However, on May 3, 2007, his conviction and those of his 17N accomplices were sustained by the court of appeals.[3]

The Greek junta or Regime of the Colonels[a] was a far-right military junta that ruled Greece from 1967 to 1974. On 21 April 1967, a group of colonels overthrew the caretaker government a month before scheduled elections which Georgios Papandreou's Centre Union was favoured to win. The dictatorship was characterised by right-wing cultural policies, restrictions on civil liberties, and the imprisonment, torture, and exile of political opponents. An attempt to renew its support in a 1973 referendum on the monarchy and gradual democratisation was ended by another coup by hardliner Dimitrios Ioannidis.

GEORGE TSANTES, JR.

US Navy Captain and victim of terrorist assassination. Captain George Tsantes was murdered on NOVEMBER 15, 1983 in Greece by a local group of terrorists. They began in 1975 avenging the Greek government's 1973 crackdown on a university protest that killed 30 students and injured about 800 because their military used tanks to crush the protest. The group was able to avoid capture for 27 years during which they murdered, injured, and robbed several people. They were known for being pro-communist and their hatred for anything they thought unfit for Greece including the US military's presence in their country. Their victims were Greek, American, Turkish, and British. They planned and carried out an assassination of CAPT Tsantes as he was driven to work. Both Tsantes and his Greek driver were killed. This terrorist group has also killed Greek citizens and he was murdered in the very country where his parents were born and raised before moving to the United States.

By Charlie Savage JUNE 8 2012 WASHINGTON - Attorney General Eric H. Holder Jr. on Friday assigned two United States attorneys to lead separate criminal investigations into recent disclosures to the news media of national security secrets, saying they were authorized to “follow all appropriate investigative leads within the executive and legislative branches of government.”

But Mr. Holder instead assigned two prosecutors - Ronald C. Machen, the United States attorney for the District of Columbia, and Rod J. Rosenstein, his counterpart in Maryland - to take over direction of existing investigations by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, elevating the stature of the cases but not giving them any special powers.

Earlier Friday, President Obama declared that the White House had not been behind the recent leaks and vowed to prosecute the people responsible for disclosing classified information if they could be identified. NYT

Morphological icons are images, patterns or symbols that relate to a specific morpheme.[9] For children with dyslexia, it has been shown to be an effective way of building up a word. The word 'inviting' as an example is made up of two commonly used morphemes, 'in-' and '-ing'. A morphological icon for 'in-' could be an arrow going into a cup, and '-ing' could be an arrow going forward to symbolise that something is in action (as in being, running, fishing).

The concept of combining visual aid icons with morpheme teaching methods was pioneered from the mid 1980s by Neville Brown[10]. He founded the Maple Hayes school for dyslexia in 1981, where he later improved the method alongside his son, Daryl Brown. The school's curriculum uses morphological icons as a learning aid.[11]

MKULTRA From Vienna and Micheal Hastings

January and February 2006

Hastings: Andi sent me this email shortly after our IM exchage ended:

Andi: That's why I can't see every day; the level of such extreme torture and gross indifference to human life.

And that's why I worry about you and wonder if you ar are holding up because it is and you are such an empathetic sponge.

You absorb it all, and I know it weighs heavy on your mind and heart even if you don't admit it.

Its hard to be a witness to human suffering and even hardened ro realize there is no clear plan, or even hope, to put an end to it.

Twain once said trying to establish peace is nearly impossible because you have to be able to tame the human race first, and history seems to show that canot be done.

And particularly, in this war alone, it seems that can not be done.

Hastings: My twenty-sixth birthday comes, January 28. Andi and I talk late into the night about how we'll celebrate it when we see each other in VIenna in March.

Roger Allies out of Fox News NOVEMBER 18.

I believe my father and mother were targeted, my father harassed and gang stalked, and like Veronica Hoffman, drive into mental hospital for his outcry or self defense, after that, hit while in the hospital or harassed to suicide.

In my case they say I am a Nazi and that is the reason the plant child porn on me. In Veronica Hoffman's case they asked her to dress up as a Nazi for a lark. It think that was KOMPROMAT to incite others.

My father, Linda Newkirk, Veronica Hoffman, myself, all receive Junk PHone calls showing we are being stalked, watched in our homes, etc., as we move about, in my case if I get off, read a scientific book, etc., and this is anonymous Stalk psychological harassment by strangers.

My father spent years of his life tracing down hang up calls and sought phone company assistence believe it was in conjunction with threats to kill him, and once sought me as backup to him in the 1990s should something happen to him or an attempt be made. His computer also was making the Sheryl Attkison player piano acts with hime flabergasted watching it which matched the timing of unprovoked anonymous physical attacks on me in the Alringon Virginia area.

Commonalities with Others and My Story.

- I had first contacted [Veronica Hoffman after meeting her in person, all was well. Later she got approached behind the scenes by impersonators of me and dropped contact with me. Possibly after being approached by blacks who wanted to sniff out White Supremacism of CybreGoth. She had read my DOE HGP Inspector General Complaint and the DOE/NIH was likely familiar with her because of it.

> [in memorium] thinking it was funny being a Jewish girl with a Nazi armband dressed as Ilsa - She Wolf of the SS for Halloween (then a couple of years later seeing the fawning look in the eye of Don Edmonds, director of Ilsa (RIP) whom she befriended when I mentioned her to him).

> [Luke Is Back]I KNOW THIS GIRL… KNEW THIS GIRL. I WAS STANDING AT AN ATM A FEW WEEKS AGO. She looked real normal, cute, civilian like. She was standing behind me as I was with my friend on line at the Chase ATM, she started talking to me. I ended up catching up to her and talking to her on the street as she had just finished talking to the Lyndon Larouchees on Sunset / Vine.

- She was taking apart electronics as I was, fire alarms from the celings, etc., seeking why in a non-survieled room bizzare unwanted phone calls or phone reboots out of nowhere would occur, though at stragic “frame job” times such as when a suspicously acting person was loitering near me, making unwanted gestures towards me, or were otherwise out of place.

> Most of the time, this worked in her favor, but not always. I recall that she was a particularly dangerous person to allow near any kind of electronic equipment, especially any that you wished to continue functioning. She had two ways of breaking electric stuff: direct and indirect.
> “Indirect” worked just by simply standing close to something, say your TV hard disk recorder with 120 hours of programs stored on it. Oh, it seems to have crashed. Oh. Or, at Joseph’s place, the new Apple TV system he’d just installed. Funny, it was working OK yesterday. Or her Blackberry, which stopped working except on speakerphone almost as soon as she got it.

> If “indirect” didn’t work, there was always “direct”, which might mean pulling the batteries out of your new car’s fancy built-in carphone while it was switched on, thus immediately destroying the charging circuitry and voiding your warranty. Or pulling your external hard drive’s Firewire

After the death of the U.S. marshal, the commander of the FBI’s Hostage Rescue Team was called in, and ordered federal agents to shoot any armed adult outside the Weaver cabin, regardless of whether that person was doing anything to threaten or menace federal agents. (Thanks to the surveillance, federal officials knew that the Weavers always carried guns when outside their cabin.)

With the massive federal firepower surrounding the cabin — the automatic weapons, the sniper rifles, the night vision scopes — this was practically an order to assassinate the alleged wrongdoers. Four hundred government agents quickly swarmed in the mountains around the cabin. Most important, the federal agents at that time made no effort to contact Mr. Weaver to negotiate his surrender.

The next day, Aug. 22, Randy Weaver walked to the little shack where his son’s body lay. As he was lifting the latch on the shack’s door, he was shot from behind by FBI sniper Lon Horiuchi. As he struggled back to the cabin, his wife, Vicki, stood in the doorway, holding a 10-month-old baby in her arms and calling for her husband to hurry. The FBI sniper fired again and hit Vicki Weaver in the temple, killing her instantly. (Mr. Horiuchi testified in court that he could hit within a quarter inch of a target at a distance of 200 yards.)

Reuters reported on Aug. 25, three days after the shooting: “FBI Agent Gene Glenn said that the law enforcement officers were proceeding with extreme care, mindful that Weaver’s wife Vicki and three remaining children … were also in the cabin. ‘We are taking a very cautious approach,’ he said in a statement to reporters.” An internal FBI report completed shortly after the confrontation justified the killing of Mrs. Weaver by asserting that she had put herself in harm’s way, the New York Times reported in 1993.

Though federal officials now claim that the killing of Vicki Weaver was an accident, the Washington Times’s Jerry Seper reported in September 1993: “Court records show that while the woman’s body lay in the cabin for eight days, the FBI used microphones to taunt the family. ‘Good morning, Mrs. Weaver. We had pancakes for breakfast. What did you have?’ asked the agents in at least one exchange.”

More recently, Ibragim Todashev, friend of accused Boston bomber Tamerlan Tsarnev, was shot in the head six times by the FBI, who initially claimed Todashev was armed but later had to admit this was a lie.

Speculation has raged that Todashev was assassinated because he had knowledge about the Boston bombings which the feds didn't want to see the light of public scrutiny.

Interrogation Turned Deadly: New Questions In FBI Shooting retrieved from WBUR News by David Boeri and copied or modified to here

Abdul-Baki Todashev holds a photo he claims is of his dead son, Ibragim, during a news conference in Moscow, Russia, on May 30, 2013. (Alexander Zemlianichenko/AP)

Ibragim Todashev shot six times by the FBI. In the photo shown by his father a person has been shot directly into the brain as well as less visible torso shots

What made Todashev's shooting national news in May was what he reportedly told interrogators before he was shot. In a court filing in Boston in October, federal prosecutors stated that Todashev had implicated Tsarnaev in previous crimes - specifically the gruesome, unsolved murders of three men in Waltham nearly two years before the marathon bombing. If what Todashev was saying was true, that made him a witness to the slayings - apparently the only witness.

On the day of the shooting the FBI made a terse statement that Todashev initiated a "violent confrontation." But the FBI has not yet issued a report on whether the use of deadly force was justified. And though FBI Director James Comey told reporters on Jan. 9 that he was "eager" to see the report released, the bureau has shown no sense of urgency to release any details of what happened, despite widely conflicting news accounts of the shooting, based on anonymous federal sources, and accusations by Todashev's family that he was murdered. Citing its ongoing investigation, the FBI even ordered the Florida state medical examiner to seal the autopsy report, which was ready for release in July.

Ronald Harmon Brown AUGUST 1, 1941 Washington, D.C., U.S. Died APRIL 3, 1996, their Commerce Secretary who reportedly told Bill he would take him down with him if he was indicted for corruption. Ron Brown, under fire for his role as a fixer or enabler of deals for dollars involving businessmen who wanted easier access to Chinese markets and cheap labor, was found dead in a plane crash in Croatia. But the plane crash apparently wasn't good enough for someone who didn't wish Brown well; Ron Brown's body was found with a bullet hole in his head. Many surmised he was on the verge of telling investigators a good deal of the truth about his administration's dealings with the Chinese because he didn't want to be the fall guy for the scandal.

Kathleen Janoski was the chief of the forensic photography team detailed to photograph the bodies of the deceased when they arrived back in Dover, Delaware. When ready, Janoski mounted a stepladder and began to photograph Brown's body starting at the head. She had scarcely begun when she saw something that took her breath away. "Look at the hole in Brown's head," she exclaimed. "It looks like a bullet hole." Going public with that that observation would cost Janoski and three military pathologists their careers. Brown's family was never informed of the hole. By order of the White House, there was no autopsy. Janoski fared better than Niko Jerkuic, the man responsible for the airport's aviation systems. Three days after the crash, a day he just happened to be off work, he was found with a bullet hole through his chest.

Shaw Air Force Base is a United States Air Force base located approximately 8.4 miles west-northwest of downtown Sumter, South Carolina. It is one of the largest military bases operated by the United States, and is under the jurisdiction of the United States Air Force Air Combat Command.

Shaw Field was activated on 30 August 1941 and placed under the jurisdiction of the Army Air Corps Southeast Air Corps Training Center. The mission of the new airfield was a basic (Phase II) flying school to instruct air cadets in flying, and the Air Corps Basic Flying School was activated at the field on 26 June to operate the school. The airfield consisted of three 4,500-foot (1,400 m) runways and several auxiliary airfields.

On 1 APRIL 1945 jurisdiction of Shaw Field was transferred to First Air Force. The 139th Army Air Force Base Unit, I Fighter Command became the host unit. and pilots were sent to Shaw for fighter transition training in Republic P-47 Thunderbolt single-engined fighters.

Postwar era

Shaw Army Airfield was designated a permanent Army Air Forces installation after the war, being transferred to Continental Air Forces on 16 April 1945. After a period of reorganization, jurisdiction was transferred to Air Defense Command on 1 March 1946. From July 1946 until May 1947 Shaw was the home of the 414th and 415th Night Fighter Squadrons.

The squadrons flew the P-61 Black Widow in Europe with Ninth Air Force during World War II, and were reassigned back to the United States after the end of hostilities. The 414th was transferred to Caribbean Air Force at Rio Hato AB, Panama in March 1947 to perform an air defense mission of the Panama Canal. The 415th was reassigned to Alaska Air Command at Adak Island, Alaska in May 1947 also to perform an air defense mission, over the Aleutian Islands and the territorial waters of western Alaska.

The 20th Fighter Group was reassigned to Shaw on 20 October 1946 from Biggs Army Airfield, Texas which was transferred to Strategic Air Command. The 20th FG came under Ninth Air Force.

After the establishment of the United States Air Force as a separate military branch in September 1947, Shaw Army Airfield was renamed Shaw Air Force Base, on 13 January 1948 and the 20th Fighter-Bomber Wing was activated on 15 August 1947 with the implementation of the Hobson Plan.

The 20th Fighter Group was first equipped with North American P-51D, then exchanged its P-51's in February 1948 for F-84B Thunderjets, the first TAC group to receive operational F-84s. The group was composed of the 55th, 77th and 79th Fighter Squadrons. The F-84s began arriving in February 1948 and ran through May when the full complement was received. Nine were lost in accidents before the remainder were returned to Republic Aircraft in May 1949 in exchange for F-84D models. Control over the wing changed hands on 1 February 1949 with its assignment to Fourteenth Air Force.

Leon Lott is a traitor.

Leon Lott is a treasonous Sheriff in charge of law enforcement for the unincorporated area's of Richland County, South Carolina.

Only a year after the joint drills of the Richland County Sheriff's Department and the US military raised eyebrows, Sheriff Leon Lott of the RCSD has once again announced that the department will be conducting drills that involve the joint training of civilian law enforcement and the US military.

On May 8, 2015 it was reported by WLTX that the Richland County Sheriff's Department will be conducting drills in

The Murdaugh family is one of the most prominent families in South Carolina, with a long and storied history of influence and power.

A member of the Murdaugh family had served as solicitor - or district attorney - in conjunction with the 3rd Special Forces Group out of Fort Bragg, North Carolina. The exercises will take place at late-night and pre-dawn and will run from May 8 until May 15, 2015.

Citizens have now been informed that Sheriff's Department and Military vehicles will be traveling in the Lower Richland County community near Eastover and Hopkins as well as Elgin near Screaming Eagle Road. The vehicles will also be traveling in the North Richland County area near Monticello Rd.

The Sheriff's Department has announced that residents in these areas may hear explosives being detonated and ordinance being set off as well as shots being fired.

JUNE 7, 2021: Alex Murdaugh, 53, calls 911 and reports he found his wife Margaret, 52, and son Paul, then 22, shot dead outside of their home in Islandton

JUNE 10 Randolph Murdaugh III dies peacefully at his home at age 81, according to his obituary.

Sheriff Leon Lott stated that the department's Special Response Team, a SWAT-like team formulation that is becoming ever popular in South Carolina Sheriff's Departments, with the 3rd Special Forces Group. Lott announced that the Sheriff's department will "provide simulated scenarios for the military" and added that Richland County "an ideal location for training that cannot be replicated at Fort Bragg."

There were no elaborations as to what these scenarios might be or what the training will involve. This is perhaps because the last time the Richland County Sheriff's Office conducted training with Special Forces, it was simulating and training to raid farm houses and engaging in domestic raids as well as to set up checkpoints and chopper insertion. See my article "Local Police Train With Special Forces To Raid Farm Houses, Conduct Domestic Raids."

It is worth nothing that the drills will be taking place in the exact same location as last year's drills.

With this in mind, and taking into consideration not only the increasing number of military and joint military/law enforcement drills taking place over recent years practicing the round up, disarming, and relocation of American citizens as well as the ongoing Jade Helm exercises taking place across the country, it is highly likely that these drills are of the same category. After all, the last time they were conducted, they apparently contained a number of these elements.

The fact that the police and military are engaging in joint drill exercises in violation of Posse Comitatus and a long-standing American tradition of separation between domestic policing and military activity is concerning enough. However, if they are training for domestic operations such as raiding American farm houses, setting up domestic checkpoints, and conducting other related raids on the home-front should be terrifying to every single American that desires to keep what little shred of freedom they have left.

Unfortunately, it has become abundantly clear that the American military and indeed Sheriff Leon Lott of the Richland County Sheriff's Department see the American people and the people of South Carolina as the enemy.

HEADLINES Murdaugh Murders: Unanswered Questions About Multiple Suspicious Deaths Connected To Family

FEB. 24, 2019: Mallory Beach, 19, goes missing after a boat crash near Parris Island. A 911 call is placed from the scene of the crash at Archer's Creek.

Paul and Maggie Murdaugh were found shot to death at their Colleton County property on June 7.

According to SLED investigators, at 10:07 p.m. Alex Murdaugh, Margaret's husband and Paul's father, called 911 and said that he had returned to the family property on Moselle Road in Islandton to find the bodies of his wife and son who were shot outside of the home on the property.

Murdaugh murders update: Husband who found wife, son dead outside home offers reward in case

Alex and Buster Murdaugh announced a reward of $100,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who killed Paul and Maggie

Earlier this week SLED confirmed the 2015 death of a 19-year-old in Hampton County was now being investigated by the agency based on information gathered after the deaths of Paul and Maggie.

The coroner's report said Stephen Smith was most likely hit in the head by the mirror of a passing semi-truck in July 2015. Police said he was walking on a two-lane road after running out of gas.

Smith's mother, Sandy Smith, told The Augusta Chronicle in 2015 that there were no broken glass or plastic shards from a mirror on the road where her son's body was found.

A man on his way to work spotted Stephen Smith's body on Sandy Run Road in the early morning hours of JULY 8, 2015. Smith had a head wound consistent with being shot, the coroner explained in a report.

After his autopsy, however, Smith's death was ruled a hit-and-run. The forensic pathologist who conducted the autopsy hypothesized he could have been struck in the head by the mirror on a large truck.

S.C. Highway Patrol officers investigating the case doubted that conjecture.

"There's just no physical evidence. We got evidence on the body but no physical evidence," SCHP Cpl. M. E. Duncan explained to Smith's twin sister in a July 17, 2015 interview. "Like I said, I will say 'hit-and-run'. … I don't even want to call it that. It's more a 'death investigation.' [It] could be a homicide, could be a voluntary, involuntary [manslaughter]."

“Jimmy’s dead! Jimmy’s dead!” she remembers screaming hysterically before she collapsed in shock on the floor of the Underwoods’ living room.

According to Sally, Jean then blurted, “Joe, this has gone too far.”

As Sally remembers it, Underwood said nothing. He calmly walked over to the Sabows’ back yard, returning a few moments later. “Well,” he said finally, “we’ve got to call General Adams.”

According to the Orange County coroner’s report, Sabow perished from a self-inflicted shotgun blast to the mouth. That finding was included in a U.S. Navy Criminal Investigations Service (NCIS) crime-scene investigation that took place at El Toro. Two successive 1991 Navy Judge Advocate General Manual (JAGMAN) investigations also reached the conclusion that Sabow committed suicide. Five years later, the Marine Corps’ Office of the Inspector General (OIG) conducted a separate investigation that the Sabow family had requested. It, too, found that Sabow killed himself.

At first, it seemed obvious Sabow had committed suicide. He had every reason to think his military days were over, and his family readily acknowledges that Sabow felt abandoned by the Marine Corps, which he had served loyally for three decades and had grown to love. On the other hand, his wife says Sabow spent the weekend before he died typing up his rsum. And according to both Sally and retired Marine Corps Colonel Bill Callahan, Sabow’s best friend, he planned to become a pilot for America West Airlines, where Callahan already worked.

Dr. John David Sabow, Sabow’s brother and a South Dakota neurologist, had both the medical background and the tenacity to mount his own investigation. His increasingly pointed questions about his brother’s death led to a March 9, 1991, meeting with El Toro’s commanding officer and Sabow’s boss, General Adams.

Dr. John David Sabow, Sabow’s brother and a South Dakota neurologist, had both the medical background and the tenacity to mount his own investigation. His increasingly pointed questions about his brother’s death led to a March 9, 1991, meeting with El Toro’s commanding officer and Sabow’s boss, General Adams. During that meeting, the Sabows have alleged, the military used scare tactics to prevent them from going to the press with their doubts about the suicide, referring to the late colonel as “a felon and a crook.”

This meeting-and that phrase-eventually produced a lawsuit filed by the Sabow family in an Orange County federal court in 1996. Three weeks ago, the suit was thrown out of court by U.S. District Judge Alicemarie Stotler. According to the lawsuit, Sabow was murdered because he threatened to expose an illegal covert operation at El Toro involving Sabow’s fellow officers, CIA-sponsored airlifts to Central and South America, black cargo planes landing in the middle of the night and drugs.

For people who say they are the target of mind control or gang stalking, there may be enough evidence in the scientific literature to fan their beliefs. Many sites point to MK-ULTRA, the code name for a covert C.I.A. mind-control and chemical interrogation program begun in the 1950s.

Recently the sites have linked to an article published in September in Time magazine, “The Army’s Totally Serious Mind-Control Project,” which described a $4 million contract given to the Army to develop “thought helmets” that would allow troops to communicate through brain waves on the battlefield.

The Waco Siege: 6 Little-Known Facts

https://www.history.com/news/waco-siege-what-happened-little-known-facts
UPDATED: FEB 20, 2020 ORIGINAL APR 13, 2018

Sometime during the fire, Koresh, then 33, died of a gunshot wound to the head.

It remains unknown whether he killed himself or was shot by someone else. But that’s not the only unanswered question when it comes to the infamous siege. Here are some other debates around and other little-known facts about the Waco siege and Koresh:

Regarding the Waco incident, Wilcher alleged that:

- Koresh and six others in his cult were CIA deep-cover operatives who had refused an order to activate against an unknown target.
- The initial engagement plan was designed to result in the deaths of US officers to justify a large-scale retaliation.
- Nerve gas, not tear gas, was used in the final assault.
- A CIA hit squad was dropped onto the roof by helicopter and killed Koresh and dozens of others with pistol shots to the head at close range.
- The CIA set the fire at the compound using timed white phosphorus incendiaries.

Roger Eugene Ailes married his third wife Elizabeth Tilson (born 1960) on FEBRUARY 14, 1998

In a 2013 book excerpt from Roger Ailes: Off Camera, Ailes spoke about facing death, saying, “Because of my hemophilia, I’ve been prepared to face death all of my life. When it comes, I’ll be fine, calm. I’ll miss life, though. Especially my family.”[61]

On May 10, 2017, Ailes fell and hit his head at his Palm Beach, Florida home. He died on May 18, three days after his 77th birthday.[62][63][64] T

Ailes and his wife Elizabeth, through their charity, ACI Senior Development Corp., promised $500,000 toward the completion of a senior center in Cold Spring, Putnam County, New York. Local opposition to Ailes’s participation in the project arose after publication of the sexual harassment accusations against him and in response to a Journal News report about previously undisclosed conditions attached to the proposed gift. Under those conditions, ACI would act as general contractor for the project with no obligation to conduct competitive bidding before awarding construction management and other subcontracts.

Further, ACI was excused from any obligation to pay prevailing wages to workers on the project, workers and subcontractors would have no recourse against ACI in case of payment disputes and ACI would deliver its work without warranty.[57][58] There was extensive public objection to Ailes’s participation. At an AUGUST 2, 2016, public hearing, the Putnam County Legislature suspended adoption of the proposed charitable donation agreement with ACI.[59] The next day Ailes withdrew the gift.[60]

I've NEVER taken a daily pharmaceutical drug. And I haven't taken any pharmaceuticals in 10 years (and ten years ago it was one pill, one day). Nothing over the counter, nothing by prescription. In other words, I'm not on anything that could kill me unexpectedly or suddenly. I've never done illegal drugs either. Not even once.

There's no way anyone could get into my house, no robbers, no angry exes (which I don't have btw), no fanatical people - my house is like Fort Knox…unless it was someone super professional. It just wouldn't be possible for anyone without highly special equipment and tactics (I.e. remotely taking down my high-level security system, which they have done before, unfortunately). But my place is also highly secure in a hard-wired kinda way. So even if the power was out, most people could still never get in.

If something were to happen to me, it's foul play and you know exactly who and why - given my work and mission in this life. I'm also NOT accident prone. And I got the highest health rating possible when I went through a battery of medical tests a couple of years ago for my life insurance policy.

If something were to happen to me, I have arranged for a close group of my friends to start a GoFundMe to hire a team of private investigators to figure out all the details (I have the team and have passed the info on to them). Oh, and money for a PR firm to make it national news. There would be a press release sent to every journalist in this country (and more). It would not be swept under the rug, and it would be their worst nightmare.

There have been many on this mission or a similar one that have been killed and it's time this bullshit stopped. The darkness cannot win. I will never stop speaking out for those who no longer can. Even if from the other side, where I image I would be FAR MORE powerful.

I have a team of angels surrounding me every step of this journey, but prayers of protection and love are ALWAYS appreciated

Minnie Joycelyn Elders (born Minnie Lee Jones; AUGUST 13, 1933) is an American pediatrician and public health administrator who served as Surgeon General of the United States from 1993 to 1994

Military Service Branches

United States Army, USPHS Commissioned Corps (Non Combatant Service)

Elders has received a National Institutes of Health career development award, also serving as assistant professor in pediatrics at the University of Arkansas Medical Center from 1967. She was promoted to associate professor in 1971 and professor in 1976. Her research interests focused on endocrinology, and she received board certification as a pediatric endocrinologist in 1978, becoming the first person in the state of Arkansas to do so.[3] Elders received a D.Sc. degree from Bates College in 2002

Elders was born Minnie Lee Jones in Schaal, Arkansas,[2] to a poor, farm sharecropping family, and was the eldest of eight children, and valedictorian of her school class.[3] The family also spent two years near a wartime shipyard in Richmond, California before returning to Schaal. In college, she changed her name to Minnie Joycelyn Lee. In 1952, she received her B.S. degree in Biology from Philander Smith College in Little Rock, Arkansas, where she also pledged Delta Sigma Theta. She married briefly to Cornelius Reynolds, a Federal employee, and later to Oliver Elders, a basketball coach. After working as a nurse's aide in a Veterans Administration hospital in Milwaukee for a period, she joined the United States Army in May 1953 and became a 2nd Lieutenant. During her 3 years in the Army, she was trained as a physical therapist. She then attended the University of Arkansas Medical School, where she obtained her M.D. degree in 1960. After completing an internship at the University of Minnesota Hospital and a residency in pediatrics at the University of Arkansas Medical Center, Elders earned an M.S. in Biochemistry in 1967.

Views on drug legalization

Elders drew fire, as well as censure from the Clinton administration, when she suggested that legalizing drugs might help reduce crime and that the idea should be studied. On DECEMBER 15, 1993, around one week after making these comments, charges were filed against her son Kevin for selling cocaine in an incident involving undercover officers four months prior. Elders believes the incident was a frame-up and the timing of the charges was designed to embarrass her and the president.[11] Kevin Elders was convicted, and he was sentenced to 10 years in prison, of which he served four months.[12][13] He appealed his conviction to the Arkansas Supreme Court, and that court reaffirmed the conviction. The court held that Mr. Elders failed to show that he was entrapped into making the narcotics sale.[14] There was no further appeal.

The Big Bamboozle : 9/11 and the War on Terror by Philip Marshall (2012, Trade Paperback) retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Product Information

From the perspective of a Boeing 767 captain and former “special activities” contract pilot, Philip Marshall straps the reader into the cockpits of hijacked commercial airliners to tell the story of the most sophisticated terrorist attack in history.

Based on a comprehensive ten-year study into the murders of his fellow pilots on 9/11, he explains how hijackers, novice pilots at the controls of massive guided missiles, were able to beat United States Air Force fighters to iconic targets with advanced maneuvering, daring speeds and a kamikaze finish.

But, as Marshall explains, the tactical plan was so precise that it rules out car-bombers and shoe-bombers known as al Qaeda, KSM and Osama bin Laden.

So then, who was it? That’s what you are about learn. Backed by official NTSB, FAA and black box recordings, Marshall finds the most capable and most documented group of conspirators buried deep within a Congressional Inquiry’s report and retraces their work in gripping detail. Fasten your seatbelt- the sad truth is that all of the solid evidence points to a dark collaboration between members of the Bush Administration and a covert group of Saudi government officials.

This is a game changer that will finally set the record straight on the most horrific crime in US history. This book is a compilation of official reports that disputes the Bush Administration, the Bush Intelligence Community and the American media's account of the 9/11 attack. United States Senator Bob Graham's Congressional Joint Inquiry in 2002 revealed that Saudi Arabian Intelligence agents met the 9/11 hijackers in the Los Angeles in January of 2000, harbored them and led them to 18 months of flight training in Florida and Arizona. Marshall follows reports from FBI field agents that warned George W. Bush's Administration that a "cadre of individuals of investigative interest were engaged in flight training" in the Arizona desert in the spring of 2001.

Marshall identifies three top federal investigators who complained that Dick Cheney obstructed justice by refusing access to suspects who supposedly confessed to the greatest crime in U.S. history. None of the federal investigators were ever allowed to verify the confession of Khalid Sheik Mohammed who had been water boarded over 180 times at Guantanamo detention facility. The book disputes the video and media confession of Osama bin Laden and points out that none of the accusations by the Bush Administration could be proved.

Marshall asserts that the Saudi government was the true executioners of the 9/11 attack and framed their enemies while CIA special operations set up an elaborate decoy named Osama bin Laden to divert attention away from the Saudi operation

. He follows the hijackers to flight training airports and finds that Saudi agents led the hijackers to the Arizona desert where Boeing 757 and Boeing 767 airliners were parked at a secluded CIA operated airport. The operators of the CIA airport were traced to suspicious insider stock trades on two airlines, United Airlines and American Airlines, the only two airlines used in the 9/11 attack.

Marshall breaks down the tactical flight plan that was used by the hijackers and chronicles the actions of Condoleezza Rice, Donald Rumsfeld, Saudi Arabian Prince Bandar bin Sultan, Dick Cheney and George W. Bsuh to learn that their account of the attack was severely flawed. Three top investigators wrote that Dick Cheney had obstructed the investigation and redacted the involvement of the Saudi government agents who were employed in California by the Saudi Civil Aviation authority. The Congressional Inquiry reported that the Saudi agents had "seemingly unlimited funding from Saudi Arabia" and had traced the hijacker financial support to Prince Bandar through a Riggs Bank account.

Finally Marshall chronicles the media trial that allowed Bush and Cheney to derail American Justice by trying the 9/11 case with media propaganda and away from the American federal court sys

Obituary: Teresa, Lady Rothschild

Teresa Georgina Mayor, wartime intelligence officer: born London 10 September 1915; married 1946 Victor, third Baron Rothschild (died 1990; one son, two daughters, and one son deceased); died London 29 May 1996.

An 80th birthday for others might have been the occasion for a large party. Instead she spent hers last year quietly in Suffolk with two of her children and was horrified by having to blow out candles on a cake. She was teased then into some rare confessions of autobiography, about her childhood and Bedales, about the Bloomsberries of her youth and working for Jonathan Cape before the war; about entering Paris (as a member of the counter- intelligence group, she was one of the first women to do so) with the Allied forces after the liberation.

Victor Rothschild records in one of his books the step-by-step dismantling of a bomb masquerading as a crate of onions. Tess herself was appointed MBE for throwing a bomb off a bridge. But she didn't tell that story.

In 1987, Rothschild joined the family banking firm, N M Rothschild & Sons. By 1990 he was made chief executive of one of the Rothschild's weaker assets, Rothschild Asset Management. In 1993, he became Chairman of the firm, helping to steer it onto a more stable path.[citation needed]

One of his favourite pastimes was farming. Rothschild had inherited an arable farm, Rushbrooke, near Bury St. Edmunds where he spent many hours at work. He was also a keen racer of cars, and was known as one of the best amateur racers in the country. His passion started when he acquired a scrambler motorcycle, at age thirteen. In later life, he got into motor racing, and was the winner of the Peter Collins Memorial Trophy Race at Silverstone in 1996. Among his car collection was an AC Cobra Daytona sports car, a 1957 Maserati 250F Formula I, and a 1958 BRM P25 Formula I. He was known as one of the best classic car racers of his generation.[3]

Rothschild was also an amateur pilot, and kept a Stampe at his home in Suffolk.[3]

Rothschild was a trustee of Yad Hanadiv, the Rothschild foundation which has supported many projects in Israel, including the building of the Supreme Court and Knesset in Jerusalem.

Kennedy investigation

Kennedy moments before his assassination. Main article: John F. Kennedy assassination conspiracy theories

In the first half of 2006, De Vries and Wim Dankbaar produced a two and a half hour special about the 1963 assassination of U.S. president John F. Kennedy. In what has been De Vries' longest show to date, he spent two weeks in Texas speaking with former CIA and FBI agents and the ex-girlfriend of Lee Harvey Oswald. One of the interview subjects, James Files, said he was the gunman responsible for taking Kennedy's life. Files contradicted the findings of the Warren Commission and claimed that the CIA and the mafi were involved in the assassination.

The mysterious death of Chicago activist, Jeff Joe Black, who claimed that Emmanuel was put into place in Chicago to oversee a coming false flag event. Black, at the last-minute, cancelled an appearance on my show and subsequently went into hiding and was eventually murdered while in hiding.

In my mind, Black's murder strongly validates the aforementioned assertions. Black had toldjeff-joe-black me that we were going to witness Chicago becoming the site of a massive false flag operation which would be the catalyst for martial law. Black asserted that Chicago would experience a massive wave of house to house gun confiscations. It was Black's contention that this was a lead up to the implementation of full-scale martial law and possible war.

Rahm Emanuel… A Mossad Agent!!! in Barack Obama, Mossad, United States "Assafir" 11/10/2008

U.S. intelligence sources uncovered few days ago excitant news concerning the man the U.S. president elect, Barak Obama, appointed as his White House Chief of Staff, Rahm Emanuel, which confirmed his connection with the Mossad, and his embroilment in the White House Monica Lewinsky affair during the Democratic President Clinton Administration. Lewinsky had a secret affair that could have ended with his resignation.

As per the W.M.R. American electronic site, Emanuel has an active file at the Department of Counter Espionage of the FBI; which could form a "security problem" for the President Elect, if the FBI insisted on going ahead with the routine investigation about the history of Emanuel, as a candidate for the outstanding post of the White House Chief of Staff.

The question marks raised about his relation with the Israeli intelligence service, The Mossad, during former Democratic president Bill Clinton's administration, which was so serious and large that obliged Clinton to dismiss Emanuel from his post in 1998. The WMR site quoted intelligence sources saying that an FBI agent who discovered Emanuel connection with the Israeli intelligence , was the assistant of the manager of the former investigation office, John O'Neill, and another agent whose name was not uncovered, who is still employed by the investigation office. O'Neill and his colleague discovered that Emanuel was deeply involved with the assignment of Monica Lewinsky in the President Clinton's staff.

O'Neill was killed in the 9/11, W.T.C. bombardment, while employed by Croll and CO. after his dismissal from FBI with another agent whose name was not uncovered as a result of the loss that was related with his job. And in last April the CIA branch manager in Houston, Ronald Tony Canby, a close friend of O'Neill was assassinated by the state's police, while investigating the Mossad's activities in the region.

Biographers have suggested that sympathetic female classmates in college helped him compose his papers. But these friendly collaborative efforts weren't enough to see him through the required course in "Thought and Expression" at Carnegie Tech, and he failed his first year. (From Andy Warhol, 2001)

St Bernard’s Catholic Grammar School Jean Shrimpton attended (formerly St Bernard’s Convent School) is an academically selective Roman Catholic grammar school on Langley Road, Slough, Langley, Berkshire. It was previously designated as a Humanities College. Aldin House was bought (and renamed St Bernard’s) by the Bernardine nuns in 1897.[2] Since then, various additions have been made to the building. Beginning with a school for 12 French students, the educational work of the Bernardines has evolved enormously. In 1904, day girls were first admitted to the school, leading to the development of a girls’ grammar school.[2]

In 1906, a nearby house was bought and opened as St Joseph’s day school “for children of all denominations”.[2] In 1945, St Joseph’s formally merged with St Bernards, becoming the preparatory school. In the 1970s and 1980s, the prep school moved to a new site[5] where it continues today as an independent fee paying school for about 200 pupils, although it shares a badge with the state supported grammar school. Until August 2006, the school was also the home to nuns of the Bernardine order, who gave up their home for the school, and a few gave up their time to teach. At the time of the foundation, the convent was right in the countryside, with nothing but fields separating it from Windsor Castle. -From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

DIPTYCH

A diptych is any object with two flat plates which form a pair, often attached by hinge. For example, the standard notebook and school exercise book of the ancient world was a diptych consisting of a pair of such plates that contained a recessed space filled with wax. - Wikipedia

Some of his best known works include the silkscreen paintings Campbell’s Soup Cans (1962) and Marilyn Diptych (1962), the experimental films

Du Pont Empire

Empire State Building retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Empire State Building was financed primarily by Raskob and Pierre du Pont, while James Farley's General Builders Supply Corporation supplied the building materials.

From the outset the building was in debt, losing $1 million per year by 1935. Real estate developer Seymour Durst recalled that the building was so underused in 1936 that there was no elevator service above the 45th floor, as the building above the 41st floor was empty except for the NBC offices and the Raskob/Du Pont offices on the 81st floor.

The site was previously owned by John Jacob Astor of the prominent Astor family, who had owned the site since the mid-1820s. In 1893, John Jacob Astor Sr.'s grandson William Waldorf Astor opened the Waldorf Hotel on the site; four years later, his cousin, John Jacob Astor IV, opened the 16-story Astoria Hotel on an adjacent site. The two portions of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel had 1,300 bedrooms, making it the largest hotel in the world at the time. After the death of its founding proprietor, George Boldt, in early 1918, the hotel lease was purchased by Thomas Coleman du Pont. By the 1920s, the old Waldorf-Astoria was becoming dated and the elegant social life of New York had moved much farther north than 34th Street. The Astor family decided to build a replacement hotel further uptown,[30] and sold the hotel to Bethlehem Engineering Corporation in 1928 for $14-16 million. The hotel closed shortly thereafter, on May 3, 1929.

Bethlehem Engineering Corporation originally intended to build a 25-story office building on the Waldorf-Astoria site. The company's president, Floyd De L. Brown, paid $100,000 of the $1 million down payment required to start construction on the building, with the promise that the difference would be paid later.[30] Brown borrowed $900,000 from a bank, but then defaulted on the loan.[40][41] After Brown was unable to secure additional funding,[38] the land was resold to Empire State Inc., a group of wealthy investors that included Louis G. Kaufman, Ellis P. Earle, John J. Raskob, Coleman du Pont, and Pierre S. du Pont.

The name came from the state nickname for New York. Alfred E. Smith, a former Governor of New York and U.S. presidential candidate whose 1928 campaign had been managed by Raskob, [44] was appointed head of the company. The group also purchased nearby land so they would have the 2 acres (1 ha) needed for the base, with the combined plot measuring 425 feet (130 m) wide by 200 feet (61 m) long.

The Empire State Inc. consortium was announced to the public in August 1929.

Sonny Bono was born in Detroit to Santo Bono (born in Montelepre, Palermo, Italy) and Zena "Jean" Bono (née DiMercurio).[2] His mother called him "Sono" as a term of endearment, which evolved over time into "Sonny".

Sonny was the youngest of three siblings; he had two sisters, Fran and Betty.[2] The family moved to Inglewood, California, when he was seven, and his parents divorced soon afterward.

Bono decided early in life to become part of the music business, and began writing songs as a teenager.[5] "Koko Joe", a song he wrote at age 16, was recorded by Don and Dewey in 1958, and later covered by several other artists including The Righteous Brothers.[6] Bono attended Inglewood High School, but did not graduate, opting to drop out so he could begin to pursue a career as a songwriter and performer.

Bono was married four times. He married his first wife, Donna Rankin, on November 3, 1954. Their daughter Christine ("Christy") was born on June 24, [not JULY 4] 1958. They divorced in 1962.

Ted Gunderson did not believe that Sonny Bono died in a skiing accident. Instead, Gunderson alleged that top officials linked to an international drug and weapons ring feared the singer-turned-politician was about to expose their crimes - so they had Sonny murdered on the ski slopes and staged the result as an accident.

Bono worked at a variety of jobs while trying to break into the music business, including waiter, truck driver, construction laborer, and butcher's helper.

Sunny Bono born FEBRUARY 16, stated that he was a Roman Catholic on all official documents, campaign materials and websites. He did also attend Scientology while asserting he was a Roman Catholic.

His wife Mary also took Scientology courses.[25][26] However, after his death, Mary Bono stated that "Sonny did try to break away [from the Church of Scientology] at one point, and they made it very difficult for him." The Church of Scientology said there was no estrangement from Bono. *

A former FBI agent has claimed that 1960s pop star Sonny Bono was assassinated.

New accusations emerge over Cher's husband's death

Ted Gunderson said that Cher's former husband was targeted in a politically-motivated assassination in January 1998.

However, Bono‘s autopsy concluded that he died of injuries sustained after crashing into a tree while skiing at the Heavenly Ski Resort in Nevada.

“It’s nonsense for anyone to now try to suggest that Bono died after crashing into a tree,” Gunderson told America‘s Globe.

“There’s zero evidence in this autopsy report to show such an accident happened. Instead, there’s powerful proof he was assassinated.

“This was an evil plot that was carried out to almost perfection by ruthless assassins.”

Gunderson said hitmen hired by top US officials moved in on him because Bono - a member of the US House Of Representatives - was believed to be about to expose an international drug and weapons ring.

His claims are reportedly backed by several top forensic experts.

Tabloid says ‘thugs’ killed Sonny Bono retrieved from Bradley Foster in the Daily Tahoe Tribune and copied or modified to here

High ranking official Sgt. Tim Minister, a detective for the Douglas County Sheriff’s Office, sat at his desk and laughed.

He had seen a headline in the Jan. 11 edition of The Globe, a weekly tabloid, claiming that Sonny Bono was murdered, when he died at Heavenly Ski Resort two years ago.

“I saw it, but I refused to buy it,” Minister said. “I was the first one there, so I know what really happened.”

Bono, an entertainer and a U.S. Congressman, died Jan. 5, 1998 of massive head injuries after skiing into a tree.

The Globe, however, claimed it received secret government files that suggest Bono was actually murdered by “two menacing thugs” employed by the Russian mafia.

“People shouldn’t believe anything they read in the Globe,” she added derisively.

Minister also scoffed at the Globe’s suggestion.

“It was very obvious that he lost control due to the excessive speed he was traveling and struck a tree,” he said. “That is what killed him.”

The Globe article said Bono was being chased when he hit the tree, and that he had become a target because of his efforts in the war on drugs.

“He was co-sponsor of the Methamphetamine Elimination Act of 1997 and bravely stood up to pushers like the ruthless Russian mob. Gangsters put a contract out on Sonny’s life after they were unable to blackmail him into taking pressure off their growing empire,” the story, written by Tom Kuncl, said.

The Globe ignored several requests for comment on the story.

Sonny continued to work with Cher through the early and mid-1970s, starring in a popular television variety show, The Sonny and Cher Comedy Hour, which ran on CBS from 1971 to 1974. From 1976 to 1977, the duo, since divorced, returned to perform together on The Sonny and Cher Show. Their last appearance together was on Late Night with David Letterman on NOVEMBER 13, 1987, on which they sang “I Got You Babe”.

Salvatore Phillip “Sonny” Bono (/ˈboʊnoʊ/; FEBRUARY 16, 1935 - January 5, 1998) was an American singer-songwriter, producer, actor, and politician who came to fame in partnership with his second wife Cher as the popular singing duo Sonny & Cher. He was mayor of Palm Springs, California, from 1988 to 1992, and the Republican congressman for California’s 44th district, elected during the Republican Revolution and serving from 1995 until his death in 1998.

Bono co-wrote “She Said Yeah”,[citation needed] covered by The Rolling Stones on their 1965 LP December’s Children

He became interested in Scientology and took Scientology courses partly because of the influence of Mimi Rogers, but stated that he was a Roman Catholic on all official documents, campaign materials and websites.[24] His wife Mary also took Scientology courses.[25][26] However, after his death, Mary Bono stated that “Sonny did try to break away [from the Church of Scientology] at one point, and they made it very difficult for him.” The Church of Scientology said there was no estrangement from Bono.[27]

Sonny Bono, the former singer and TV performer who was killed in a skiing accident Monday, revealed that he died of massive head injuries. Douglas County, Nevada, Sheriff Ron Pierini said at a news conference Tuesday that Bono’s death “was caused by massive head injuries due to blunt force trauma” from hitting a tree.

Corpus Christi Police Chief loyd Simpson suffers head injuries after death

Based on the forensic evidence coupled with evidence discovered during the autopsy, investigators concluded this impact resulted in a fatal neck injury to Chief Simpson.”

Investigators initially believed Simpson’s helmet became dislodged when he laid his motorcycle down in an evasive manor on the highway, and his head hitting the pavement killed him, according to the release. A witness later told police a bystander removed his helmet in an attempt to perform first aid before first responders arrived, the release states. The Nueces County Medical Examiner determined the head injury was suffered after Simpson’s death, according to the release.

Police do not believe speed or weather conditions were a factor in the crash. The boy told police he “lost focus and may have fallen asleep for approximately one to two seconds,” the release states.

In critical condition, he underwent surgery at George Washington University Hospital to drain the blood and stop further bleeding.[32]

Johnson then underwent a lengthy regimen of physical, occupational, and speech therapy to regain strength and mobility and restore his severely affected speech.[33] In his 2007 State of the Union Address, President George W. Bush sent Johnson his best wishes.

Johnson was the only seated member of Congress to have a son or daughter serving in the active duty military when the Senate voted to approve the use of force in Iraq. Johnson's oldest son, Brooks, served in the Army's 101st Airborne Division, which would surely be mobilized to fight in Iraq.

U.S. Senators Tim Johnson and John Thune announced today that legislation to facilitate construction of a visitor center at the Minuteman Missile National Historic Site was unanimously approved by the Senate. Johnson and Thune's legislation would transfer approximately 29 acres of National Forest Service land to the National Park Service to construct a visitor facility and provide parking. The legislation now heads to the House of Representatives for consideration.

The Minuteman Missile National Historic Site is an American national historic site established in 1999 near Wall, South Dakota to illustrate the history and significance of the Cold War, the arms race, and intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) development. The site preserves the last intact Minuteman II ICBM system in the United States, in a disarmed and demilitarized status. Guided tours are available of the underground Launch Control Center, and a missile silo can be observed from above. 450 of the newer Minuteman III missiles are still on active duty at Malmstrom AFB, Montana, Minot AFB, North Dakota, and F. E. Warren AFB ,a United States Air Force base located approximately 3 miles west of Cheyenne/ Aurora.

From 1963 until the early 1990s, the missile silo at Delta-09 contained a fully operational Minuteman Missile, bearing a 1.2 megaton nuclear warhead. The Delta-09 missile silo was one of 150 spread across western South Dakota. In total there were 1,000 Minuteman missiles deployed from the 1960's into the early 1990's. Visitors can now tour the site daily.

This National Historic Site consists of three facilities: a visitor center and two significant Cold War-era sites, a launch control center and a missile silo/launch facility, formerly operated by the 66th Strategic Missile Squadron of the 44th Strategic Missile Wing, headquartered at Ellsworth Air Force Base in Box Elder, near Rapid City. The facilities represent the only remaining intact components of a nuclear missile field that once consisted of 150 Minuteman II missiles, 15 launch-control centers, and covered over 13,500 square miles (34,964.8 km2) of southwestern South Dakota.[4]

Every presidency can be seen as a series of words. Which is why we decided to read through hundreds of thousands of the words of Barack Obama-who was a writer, in practice and disposition, long before he was the 44th president of the United States. What does he think of his job? Yes we can, Obama said when he ran. But not overnight, he was quick to add after he won. Change is hard. Just look at these 101 things he's said since 2006, from his glossy sense of what his presence in the Oval Office could mean to what turned out to be a much more constrained, less soaring reality. Here is the arc of Obama.

Blame it on Dexter. David started his career as an Amway salesman, then joined his father-in-law's insurance company, Northwestern Mutual Life. At one time, David also served as chairman of West Side Christian School, where Sandra coached girls volleyball.

It's not clear exactly when trouble started brewing for the Duysts, but on NOV. 19, 1998, a severely wounded, bleeding Sandra crawled to a neighbor's house for help, explaining that her horse Dexter had kicked her in the head while she was trying to feed him.

She would survive her injuries, but suffered from mood swings and depression afterward, according to people who knew her well.

Her personal physician, James Veldkamp, would later testify that she improved after he prescribed Paxil for her.

In 1999, she and one of her horses placed in the Top 5 at the All-American Quarter Horse Congress in Columbus, Ohio.

But on March 29, 2000, David Duyst called 911 and said his wife had committed suicide in her bedroom and was dead.

CABAL

A cabal is a group of people who are united in some close design, usually to promote their private views or interests in an ideology, a state, or another community, often by intrigue and usually unbeknownst to those who are outside their group. Wikipedia

Consider Octopus tentacles, alliances, cartels, mafia groups, gangs, etc., Octopuses have 9 brains because, in addition to the central brain, each of 8 arms has a mini-brain that allows it to act independently. Daniel Casolaro, a journalist investigating the Inslaw affair and matters he believes to be related, calls Richard Stavin, a former Department of Justice Organized Crime Strike Force prosecutor, to discuss his research into the matter. In a sworn statement to the House Judiciary Committee, Stavin will later say: “He spoke to me about Inslaw. He spoke to me about a group he called the Octopus. I believe he mentioned Robert Nichols [an important source for Casolaro’s research], and possibly also John Phillip Nichols, in this conversation, and was extremely interested, intrigued, and frustrated in his inability to get a grasp on what he called the Octopus. He had indicated that he had met with-again I believe it was Robert Nichols on several occasions, that Robert Nichols was extremely talkative to a point, but when Mr. Casolaro would ask specific questions, he [Nichols] would become somewhat evasive.”

RobinW *

At Casolaro's funeral, an African-American man in a military uniform showed up, put a medal on Casolaro's casket and saluted before walking away. After the funeral, Danny's family and friends discussed this and realized that none of them had the slightest idea who this guy was. What's even stranger is that Casolaro never actually served in the military, so the gesture of placing a medal on his casket doesn't make much sense.

I guess the obvious answer to this mystery is that the military man was a confidential informant on the "Octopus" story that Casolaro was working on, and that this gesture was his way of paying respect to Danny dying in the line of duty while trying to do the right thing. His actions resemble that of a man who's bothered by his conscience.

However, if this guy was secretly working with Casolaro trying to uncover the conspiracy, he's taking a huge risk by coming to the funeral in front of all those people

Gary Webb

DECEMBER 13, 2004 1400 PDT (FTW) - Gary Webb, 49, the Pulitzer Prize winning reporter from the San Jose Mercury News made America hold its breath in 1996 when he showed us proof of direct CIA involvement in drug trafficking. For a few months many of us had hope.

He reportedly died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head two days ago. His body was discovered at 8:20 AM Saturday as movers reportedly found a note on the door of his residence asking them not to enter but to call for paramedics.

Webb's August 1996 series Dark Alliance for the San Jose Mercury News pulled deep covers away from US covert operations and American denial about connections between the CIA and drugs. Gary left a bigger historical footprint than anyone who has ever touched the subject including among others, Peter Dale Scott, Alfred McCoy, Jonathan Kwitny and me.

In a scene from the new movie Kill the Messenger, investigative reporter Gary Webb (played by Jeremy Renner) says that he doesn't believe in conspiracy theories. He does, however, believe in real conspiracies: "If I believe it, there's nothing 'theory' about it." The true story on which the movie is based, however, makes it clear that it's not always obvious what's a theory and what's the truth.

1966 Palomares B-52 crash retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The 1966 Palomares B-52 crash, also called the Palomares incident, occurred on 17 January 1966, when a B-52G bomber of the United States Air Force's Strategic Air Command collided with a KC-135 tanker during mid-air refueling at 31,000 feet (9,450 m) over the Mediterranean Sea, off the coast of Spain. The KC-135 was destroyed when its fuel load ignited, killing all four crew members. The B-52G broke apart, killing three of the seven crew members aboard.

At the time of the accident, the B-52G was carrying four B28FI Mod 2 Y1 thermonuclear (hydrogen) bombs, all of which fell to the surface. Three were found on land near the small fishing village of Palomares in the municipality of Cuevas del Almanzora, Almería, Spain. The non-nuclear explosives in two of the weapons detonated upon impact with the ground, resulting in the contamination of a 0.77-square-mile (2 km2) area with radioactive plutonium. The fourth, which fell into the Mediterranean Sea, was recovered intact after a search lasting two and a half months.

Murder of Cheri Jo Bate retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The murder of Cheri Jo Bates is an unsolved murder that occurred in Riverside, California, on October 30, 1966. Bates, an 18-year-old college freshman, was stabbed and slashed to death on the grounds of Riverside City College. Police determined the assailant had disabled the ignition coil wire and distributor of Bates's Volkswagen Beetle[4] as a method to lure her from her car as she studied in the college library. The murder itself remains one of Riverside's most infamous cold cases and has been described by some locals as a murder which "stripped Riverside of its innocence".

Bates's murder became highly publicized due to both the graphic nature of her death and the fact she is considered by some investigators to have been the first murder victim of the Zodiac Killer, although this theory has never been definitively confirmed.

"He [the Zodiac Killer] is obsessed and pathologically preoccupied with intense hatred against female figures-all the more so if he sees the young woman as attractive. Because of his own unconscious feelings of inadequacy, he is not likely to act out his feelings sexually, but in fantasy, as a rule. The fantasy can take on aggressive aspects … I would like to emphasize that there is a real possibility that he can become homicidal again."

- Evaluation of the mindset of the murderer of Cheri Jo Bates, written by the Chief Psychologist of Patton State Hospital. July 1967.

Bates was found sprawled face down on a gravel path between two unoccupied houses on Terracina Drive, close to the library parking lot where she had parked her Beetle the previous evening. She was still dressed in a long-sleeve pale yellow print blouse and faded red capri pants and her woven straw bag-containing both her identification and 56 cents-lay alongside her body. Her clothing was undisturbed but was saturated in blood. She had been repeatedly stabbed in the chest and left shoulder, and suffered several deep slash wounds to her face and neck.

Ten feet from Bates's body, investigators discovered a cheap, paint-spattered Timex brand wristwatch with a seven-inch circumference along with a footprint of a shoe produced by Leavenworth prisoners sold solely in military outlets. The shoe size was between eight and ten inches.[2] Although only 5 ft 3 in (1.60 m) in height, Bates had been an athletic woman. Both an examination of the crime scene and Bates's subsequent autopsy revealed ample evidence of a ferocious physical struggle between Bates and her murderer; she having evidently scratched her assailant's arms, face and head and torn off his wristwatch.

An autopsy revealed Bates had been repeatedly kicked in the head in addition to having received two stab wounds to her chest inflicted by a knife estimated to be one-and-a-half-inches wide and three-and-a-half-inches in length. Her left cheek, upper lip, hands and arms had also been cut, with three slash wounds to her throat having severed her jugular vein and larynx and almost decapitating her. Bates had evidently lain upon the ground when she had received the knife wounds to her left shoulder blade and neck. Furthermore, she had not been subjected to any form of sexual assault or robbery within this attack. Numerous fragments of skin and brown hair were also recovered from beneath the fingernails of her right hand; this evidence having evidently been collected beneath her nails as she clawed at her assailant in a desperate effort to defend herself. The ground surrounding her body was described in her official autopsy report as "looking like a freshly plowed field.

… the preschool site, acquired by Virginia McMartin in 1966, had been a horse stable and was inhabited by all sorts of farm animals. The presence of bones, he said, "should surprise no one. My understanding is all sorts of animals were buried there, as well as trash and other debris. There were outhouses all over that property." LA Times * ollowing the family tradition, Bush attended Yale University, graduating in 1948. His membership in the Skull and Bones secret society there later became an issue that his critics used as evidence of elitism. Rejecting a position in his father's firm, he moved with his young family to Texas and became a salesman of oil field supplies. He cofounded the Bush-Overbey Oil Development Company (1951), the Zapata Petroleum Corporation (1953), and the Zapata Off-Shore Company (1954).

In 1959 he became active in the Republican Party in Houston. After losing a campaign for the U.S. Senate to Democrat Ralph Yarborough in 1964, Bush was elected in 1966 to a safely Republican seat in the U.S. House of Representatives. He gave up the seat in 1970 to run again for the Senate. He was defeated again, this time by Democrat Lloyd Bentsen, Jr. Shortly after his defeat, Bush was appointed by Pres. Richard M. Isrealite (Black Hebrew, British, Islreal United in Christ (People of Color Tribes of Christ) British Israelism (also called Anglo-Israelism) is the pseudoarchaeological belief that the people of the British Isles are "genetically, racially, and linguistically the direct descendants" of the Ten Lost Tribes of ancient Israel [and their lost to history line of Kings]. With roots in the 16th century, British Israelism was inspired by several 19th century English writings such as John Wilson's 1840 Our Israelitish Origin. Numerous British Israelite organisations were set up throughout the British Empire as well as in the United States from the 1870s onwards; a number of these organisations are independently active as of the early 21st century. In America, the idea gave rise to the Christian Identity movement.

Later in 1974, Pres. Gerald R. Ford, who had nominated Nelson Rockefeller as his vice president, named a disappointed Bush chief of the U.S. Liaison Office in Beijing-which was then the senior U.S. representative in China, because relations between the two countries did not permit the exchange of ambassadors. He served in this capacity until he was asked to head the Central Intelligence Agency in 1976. As CIA director, Bush took steps to ensure that the agency's activities did not exceed congressional authorization. When Jimmy Carter took office in 1977, Bush resigned and returned to Texas, where in 1979 he announced his candidacy for president. *

The central tenets of British Israelism have been refuted by evidence from modern archaeological, ethnological, genetic, and linguistic research.

Interviewed by Mike Morford, she talks frankly about her recollections of Donna Lass and the relevant time period before and after September 6th 1970, having traveled to South Lake Tahoe the day of her disappearance to spend a couple of days sightseeing with Donna. Unfortunately, that meeting never transpired, and Donna Lass was never seen again. We will also discuss a private investigator's report, provided to the family of Donna Lass by the investigator they hired. The season finishing podcast should be an interesting listen of about 90-120 minutes. So don't forget to tune in on December 18th

Santa Barbara JUNE 4Zodiac Killing Robert Domingos and his seventeen-year-old girlfriend Linda Edwards June 4th, 1963 was Senior Ditch Day at Lompoc High School. It was a day which traditionally saw those in the senior year take a day off from classes and spend the day partying instead. Eighteen-year-old Robert Domingos and his seventeen-year-old girlfriend Linda Edwards where just two of the many participating students.

Instead of attending one of the gatherings arranged, Robert Domingos and Linda Edwards decided they would rather spend the day together in a more intimate setting. Originally they had planned to head to the beach with another young couple, however, when that couple had to cancel those plans Robert and Linda went on alone.

The young lovers drove down to Gaviota Beach near Santa Barbara in Robert's 1957 Pontiac. He parked the car near some bushes just off Highway 101 and then the couple hiked down the short trail leading to a secluded spot of the beach. Sadly, the two teenagers would never make it home.

he following morning both the teenagers were reported missing. During the search, a friend remembered that Robert and Linda had previously mentioned spending time together at Gaviota Beach. Upon arrival in the area, Robert Domingos dad George Domingos spotted his son's 1957 Pontiac parked along Highway 101. During a further search of the area, a Highway Patrolman named Paul Schultz came across a shack. On entering Schultz discovered the bodies of Robert Domingos and Linda Edwards.

According to Basiago, between [April] 1962 -'72 the U.S. government ran a clandestine operation called Project Pegasus. The program led to the successful development of a number of highly advanced technologies allowing for teleportation, physical time travel, and holographic time travel. He claims the program was run jointly by the CIA and DARPA, and was used to contact former presidents and create [Sleepers for foreign govs, Moles in the USA], teleport to Mars, and maintain a rapport with extraterrestrials [The Illuminati].

Beginning when he was just a child, Basiago was selected from a group of psychically gifted children to become a time traveling liaison who would go on to meet historical and future dignitaries, as well as various extraterrestrial entities.

Basiago says his father had previously worked for the Ralph M. Parsons Engineering Corporation, where he helped develop the technology.

Of the claims that Freemasonry exerts control over politics, perhaps the best-known example is the New World Order theory, but there are others. These mainly involve aspects and agencies of the United States government, but actual events outside the US (such as the Propaganda Due scandal in Italy) are often used to lend credence to claims.

Another set of theories has to do with Freemasonry and Religion, particularly that Freemasonry deals with "the occult".[8] These theories have their beginnings in the Taxil hoax.[9][10] In addition to these, there are various theories that focus on the embedding of symbols in otherwise ordinary items, such as street patterns, national seals, corporate logos, etc.

There are Masonic conspiracy theories dealing with every aspect of society. The majority of these theories are based on one or more of the following assumptions:

- That Freemasonry is its own religion, requires belief in a unique Masonic god, and that belief in this Masonic god is contrary to the teachings of various mainstream religions (although usually noted in terms of being specifically contrary to Christian belief)[11]
- That the 33RD DEGREE OF THE SCOTTISH RITE is more than an honorary degree, coupled with the belief that most Freemasons are unaware of hidden or secretive ruling bodies within their organization that govern them, conduct occult ritual, or control various positions of governmental power[12]

- That there is a centralized worldwide body that controls all Masonic Grand Lodges, and thus, all of Freemasonry worldwide acts in a unified manner.

Questions surrounded the timing and handling of the Scalia death.*.

From Brobible

Big, big, big day for those of you who believe the world is run by a cabal of elites, be it the Free Masons, Illuminati, or New World Order.

One of the most powerful men on the planet, Antonin Scalia, was at a meeting for a secret society when he unexpectedly passed away earlier this month.

The Washington Post has the scoop. The hunting trip Scalia went on was with the International Order of St. Hubertus, an Austrian secret society that began in the 1600s and was instrumental in the assassination of archduke Franz Ferdinand in June of 1914 (citation needed on that last fact).

> When Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia died 12 days ago at a West Texas ranch, he was among high-ranking members of an exclusive fraternity for hunters called the International Order of St. Hubertus, an AUSTRIAN society that dates back to the 1600s.
> After Scalia's death Feb. 13, the names of the 35 other guests at the remote resort, along with details about Scalia's connection to the hunters, have remained largely unknown. A review of public records shows that some of the men who were with Scalia at the ranch are connected through the International Order of St. Hubertus, whose members gathered at least once before at the same ranch for a celebratory weekend.

The group is an all-male society (of course), who wear green robes with a Latin inscription on them that reads "Honoring God by honoring His creatures."

A celebration of life for Mrs. Doris “Dot” Gandy Dew, 85, who died peacefully on Friday, June 23, 2017 will be held at 5:00 p.m. on Wednesday, June 28, 2017 at Hephzibah Bible Church. Mrs. Dew, widow of Herbert O. Dew was born in Darlington Co., SC, to the late Clarence Festus and Lily Grace Gainey Gandy. Dot loved the South Carolina Gamecocks and the Atlanta Braves. She also loved to work in her flower garden and especially loved her family.

Justice Scalia rejects defacto reliance on findings from geneticists or other scientists

> Bazelon also claims that Scalia “contradicted scientific consensus when he declared it ‘very likely’ that the death penalty deters murder.” But beyond her unscientific conflation of hard science and social science, she flatly misrepresents the National Research Council report that she cites for that supposed consensus. That report concludes that “research to date on the effect of capital punishment on homicide is not informative” on the deterrence question. In short, it denies the existence of any consensus. Scalia was modest about his own scientific knowledge and doubtful of the mastery that his judicial colleagues and other non-scientists claimed to have. That displayed a respect for science, not a hostility to, or skepticism of, it. Sincerely, Ed Whelan P.S. disclosure: I am a former law clerk to Justice Scalia.

I am unable to affirm those details on my own knowledge or even my own belief. It suffices for me to affirm, having studied the opinions below and the expert briefs presented here, that the portion of DNA isolated from its natural state sought to be patented is identical to that portion of the DNA in its natural state; and that complementary DNA (cDNA) is a synthetic creation not normally present in nature.

Criticism of Justsice Scalia in the media is widespread as the Supreme Court Associate Justice publicly questions Affrirmative Action for African American applicants

Justice Scalia doubts the most routine of black applicants are well suited to Universityh of Texas at Austin

Justice Scalia references Mismatch Theory Amicus Brief in Fisher affirmative action case

Scalia: “There are those who contend that it does not benefit African-Americans to get them into the University of Texas where they do not do well, as opposed to having them go to a less-advanced school, a less - a slower-track school where they do well. One of the briefs pointed out that most of the black scientists in this country don’t come from schools like the University of Texas. They come from lesser schools where they do not feel that they’re being pushed ahead in classes that are too fast for them.”

I’m just not impressed by the fact that the University of Texas may have fewer. Maybe it ought to have fewer.

Scalia has a long track record of distrust of science taken as fact by the Court or its justices.

MARK JOSEPH STERN
Mark Joseph Stern is a writer for Slate. He covers the law and LGBTQ issues.

But sometimes his caustic bluntness isn’t just about furthering his own originalist legal philosophy. Sometimes, he’s merely telling the truth. That was the case in Thursday’s opinion in Association for Molecular Pathology v. Myriad Genetics, Inc., better known as the DNA patenting case. The case involves some complex science with which the justices clearly struggled. During oral arguments, they tried, and failed, to draw lucid analogies to rainforest plants, baseball bats, and chocolate-chip cookies. (At one point, Justice Stephen Breyer asked a question involving the scientific record, only to concede that “I probably misread it.”)

Today, the court ruled unanimously that natural genes cannot be patented-a decision that will likely help breast and ovarian cancer patients as well as cancer researchers (and biotechnology firms). Behind that unanimity, however, lay a small crack: Scalia, as is his wont, concurred only in part, adding a brief but telling qualification to his vote.

“I join the judgment of the Court,” he wrote, “except [the portions] going into fine details of molecular biology. I am unable to affirm those details on my own knowledge or even my own belief.”

Scalia, in other words, doesn’t really understand the scientific basis of the case. And-unlike, implicitly, some of the other justices-he’s not going to pretend to.

To Scalia’s credit, the science in Myriad is convoluted, especially for someone who hasn’t taken biology in decades. Justice Clarence Thomas, who wrote the majority opinion, takes an admirable stab at elucidating it at the outset, explaining the basics of genes, chromosomes, and “the familiar ‘double helix.’ ” He even expounds upon nucleotides for a time, penning what must be the most esoteric sentence in the court’s modern history: “[T]he nucleotide cross-bars are chemically connected to a sugar-phosphate backbone.” (One suspects Thomas was less than enthused to be assigned this case.)

In asking such a pointed question, Mr. Scalia was stepping into a long debate over what has been called the mismatch theory of college admissions.

The proponents of the “mismatch effect” say that large allowances based on a student’s race are harmful to those who receive them, that they learn less than they would if they attended a college more closely matched to their level of academic preparation, receive lower grades, become academically discouraged and socially segregated. Critics say that the “mismatch” research is based on flawed assumptions that cannot be validated by other researchers, and that the evidence is more likely to show that all students, regardless of race, benefit from enrolling at the most challenging college that will accept them.

Oral arguments, the text below copied from Wikipedia

On October 10, 2012, the Supreme Court heard oral arguments in the case. Bert Rein represented the petitioner, Gregory G. Garre, a former Solicitor General, represented the respondent, the university,[21] and Solicitor General Donald Verrilli, Jr., presented the government’s stance in support of the respondent.

During the beginning of the petitioner’s argument, Justices Sotomayor and Ginsburg asked questions about whether the case was moot. Specifically, they were concerned with the university’s arguments that Fisher would not have earned admission regardless of her race, that she had already graduated from college, and that she only named the $100 application fee as real damages. Scalia commented that the harm of racial discrimination alone created an active controversy under the Court’s previous Equal Protection jurisprudence.

Justices Scalia, Alito, and Roberts asked many questions about the definition of a “critical mass”, which Grutter named as the central measure of diversity. Scalia started calling it a “critical cloud” after the university’s lawyer failed, upon multiple requests, to define the central measure of diversity.[23] Chief Justice Roberts asked whether an applicant who was one-quarter or one-eighth Latino would be permitted by the University to check the “Latino” box.[23] Garre responded that the applicant was entitled to self-identify as any race, subject to discipline under the university’s honor code, and that the University did not ever question that determination.

Legal analysts concurred that the process of oral argument indicated that a majority of the justices disliked the university’s position.[24]

My Brain Your Brain Our Brain

I had a huge dispute with this lasting and several FOIA arrests that brain size was increasing in oost South African life. Dr. Bruce Lahan noticed in the history of civilization the major advancements followed brain complexity and size genes, Sub Saharan Africa evolutionary path, and during that migration this genes overlays with civilization advances.

Mu understanding of The History of Western Civilization taught at Head Royce and a time line of history teach ing system matched his theories of those genes exactly.

I had cited Dr. Bruce Lahan University of Chicago, Max Plank Institute, University of Chicago, Howard Hughes Medical Isntitute (Seatle) Researcher.

Human evolution, University of Chicago researchers report, is still under way in what has become our most important organ: the brain.

In TWO RELATED PAPERS, published in the September 9, 2005, issue of Science, they show that two genes linked to brain size are rapidly evolving in humans.

University of Chicago Medicine: researchers find human brain still evolving *

"Our studies indicate that the trend that is the defining characteristic of human evolution-e - growth of brain size and complexity - is likely still going on," said lead researcher for both papers Bruce Lahn, Assistant Professor in Human Genetics and an investigator in the Howard Hughes Medical Institute.

"Meanwhile, our environment and the skills we need to survive in it are changing faster then we ever imagined. I would expect the human brain, which has done well by us so far, would continue to adapt to those changes." Evolution, Lahn said, does not occur at the species level. Rather, some individuals first acquire a specific genetic mutation, and, because that variant confers on those who bear it a greater likelihood of survival, it then spreads in the population.

These time windows are extraordinarily short in evolutionary terms, indicating that the new variants were subject to very intense selection pressure that drove up their frequencies in a very brief period of time - both well after the emergence of modern humans about 200,000 years ago. Each variant emerged around the same time as the advent of “cultural” behaviors. The microcephalin variant appears along with the emergence of such traits as art and music, religious practices and sophisticated tool-making techniques, which date back to about 50,000 years ago. The ASPM variant coincides with the oldest-known civilization, Mesopotamia, which dates back to 7000 BC.

The team also observed geographic differences. For haplogroup D of ASPM, they found that it occurs more frequently in Europeans and surrounding populations, including North Africans, Middle Easterners and South Asians, and at a lower incidence in East Asians, New World Indians and sub-Saharan Africans. For microcephalin, the researchers found that haplogroup D is more abundant in populations outside of sub-Saharan Africa.

Human brain size gene triggers bigger brain in monkey fetus Date: June 18, 2020 Source:Max-Planck-Gesellschaft

Summary: A human-specific gene causes a larger neocortex in the common marmoset, a non-human primate.

A human-specific gene causes a larger neocortex in the common marmoset, a non-human primate.

The expansion of the human brain during evolution, specifically of the neocortex, is linked to our cognitive abilities such as reasoning and language. A certain gene called ARHGAP11B that is only found in humans triggers brain stem cells to form more stem cells, a prerequisite for a bigger brain.

Scientists Grow Bigger Monkey Brains Using Human Genes, Replicating Evolution This may have replicated the moment in history where humans and primates were set apart in evolution. *

It’s our larger brains that set us apart from other primates. Back when we evolved from non-human primates, one specific gene came into play, which made our brains bigger while theirs stayed smaller.

Now a collaboration between researchers in Germany at the Max Planck Institute of Molecular Cell Biology and Genetics and in Japan at the Central Institute for Experimental Animals, has used that same gene to grow a monkey brain to be bigger for the first time.

Their study was published in Science on Thursday.

Going back to evolution

This study is not only incredible, it’s also enlightening. It could replicate the moment in evolution where humans became separate from other primates. All due to one gene.

“We had certain hopes - what the gene, ideally, could do and should, if it had the function that we had postulated it should have,” lead study author Wieland Huttner of the Max Planck Institute told Inverse.

The death of Supreme Court Associate Justice Antonin Scalia on Saturday has further complicated Abigail Fisher v. University of Texas, which could decide the fate of affirmative action in college admissions. The Supreme Court will now come to a decision with only seven members, since Associate Justice Elena Kagan recused herself from the case, or delay the decision until Scalia's replacement has been appointed.

The Philadelphia Experiment (film) retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Philadelphia Experiment

The Philadelphia Experiment is a 1984 American science fiction film. It is directed by Stewart Raffill and stars Michael Paré, Bobby Di Cicco, and Nancy Allen and based on the urban legend of the Philadelphia Experiment. The film is set in 1943 where two sailors, David Herdeg (Paré) and Jim Parker (Di Cicco), are stationed on a ship used for an experiment to make it invisible to radar. However, the experiment goes horribly wrong and the ship completely disappears and Herdeg and Parker find themselves in the Nevada desert in the year 1984. They find out the program has been revived in 1984, unexpectedly interacting with the experiment in 1943 and putting the entire world in danger.

In 1943 United States Navy sailors, David Herdeg and Jim Parker, are assigned to the destroyer escort USS Eldridge during a project to make it invisible to radar. The ship is in Philadelphia Harbor, filled with equipment from a team led by James Longstreet. During the experiment, the equipment begins malfunctioning. Observers simply see the ship disappear but sailors on board experience a bizarre and disorienting phase shift. David and Jim try to shut down the generator to stop the experiment but receive severe electric shocks when they touch the equipment. The two men jump overboard to escape.

Instead of landing in Philadelphia Harbor during the daytime, David and Jim land during the night in a small desert town, which then disappears as well, leaving them in the dark open desert. They are startled by the appearance of bright light in the sky-it’s a military helicopter with a spotlight looking for intruders. They escape into the desert and after walking for miles, they eventually find their way to a roadside diner the next day.

An energy discharge from Jim destroys two arcade games in the diner, and the angry diner owner grabs a revolver, demanding that Jim pay for the damages. David grabs the gun and the men run and carjack a car (a 1976 Ford Torino) in the parking lot. Since he is unfamiliar with the automatic transmission, David takes the driver, a woman named Allison, as a hostage and driver. They are shocked when she tells them that they are in the year 1984.

The police eventually catch them. Jim, who is suffering increasingly severe seizures, is hospitalized. David explains that he and Jim accidentally traveled through time, but no one believes the story. Jim eventually disappears from his hospital bed in a corona of energy. David and Allison then evade military police, who have arrived to take David into custody.

Jim was from nearby California, so David decides to try to find his family. He and Allison find the family listed in a phone book and drive to see them. Jim’s wife Pamela, who is now a senior citizen, immediately recognizes David from 1943. She says that the Eldridge had reappeared minutes after disappearing and that a lot of the sailors on board had been horribly burned. Jim had also returned and had been chastised and hospitalized after telling the truth about temporarily visiting 1984. David asks about himself and finds that he never came back. David sees Jim outside a window riding a horse, but Jim, who had slowly come to terms with the bizarre events of 1943, refuses to speak with David. As David and Allison reluctantly leave, they see military police approaching and a high speed chase through Jim's ranch ensues. The two manage to elude them when the pursuing vehicle crashes and burns. From the burning wreck, David salvages documents mentioning Dr. Longstreet. Recognizing that Longstreet had been involved with the Philadelphia experiment in 1943, David decides to find him. As they spend time together, David and Allison fall in love.

In 1984, Dr. Longstreet has attempted to use the same technologies that were used in the original Philadelphia experiment to create a shield to protect from an ICBM attack. When the equipment was tested, the shielded town disappeared into "hyperspace", just like USS Eldridge had. The scientists are unable to shut down the experiment, despite cutting the power. Worse, the experiment has left a vortex in 1984, which starts drawing matter into it. The vortex causes extremely unstable and severe weather, including tornadoes and monstrous bolts of lightning. Longstreet predicts that the vortex will continue to expand until the entire world is consumed. The scientists send a probe into the vortex and discover the Eldridge inside; the two experiments have linked together across time. They theorize that the generators on the Eldridge are providing the energy to keep the vortex open.

While in a relationship with a general in charge of atomic tests in the desert, Allison stumbles upon secrets - and sufferings - being hidden as a result of those tests, something that leads someone to murder her by throwing her from a plane. Investigating her murder is the L.A.P.D.'s 'Hat Squad', a group of intrepid detectives who get much more leeway in their methods and their cases because they get results. Heading that squad is Det. Max Hoover (Nick Nolte), who happens to be a former lover of Allison's. Determined to find her killer, he and his squad confront Federal and military roadblocks determined to keep them from getting to the truth. In the end, Hoover discovers Allison was murdered to keep from blowing the whistle on human testing of radiation sickness, and avenges her by disposing of her killers.

THE DAY THE FISH CAME OUT (FILM 1967)

Fictional, the movie about the time of the Robert F. Kennedy assassination is conceptually very important

The film, set in 1972, was inspired by an actual incident which occurred on 17 January 1966: a B-52G Stratofortress collided with a KC-135 Stratotanker over Palomares, Spain, and four B-28 FI 1.45-megaton-range hydrogen bombs aboard the B-52 were briefly lost.

Life on the remote Greek fictional resort island of Karos is forever changed when atomic bombs are dropped there by a NATO plane rapidly losing power. Life on the island is so bleak that the inhabitants stage a mass exodus on news that Denmark has opened Greenland to Greek emigration. The pilots drop their payload - which includes two atomic weapons and a mysterious box called simply "Container Q"

The pilot and navigator of the lost bomber scour the island like vagabonds. Unknown to the pilots, the Americans have already deployed their own operation: a team of agents disguised as resort developers. The pilots are unaware of the fact that American agents are also on the island searching for their cargo.

The significance of the plot is that MKULRA is covering up military industrial CIA assassinations and long term operations by using espionage teams to target locations and people who pose an informational threat to US misconduct and assassinations including overthrow of the US Government and its elected offices by the Military Industrial Complex.

National Association of Atomic Veterans, Inc.

(A Non-profit Veteran's Assistance Organization)

The NAAV Mission Purpose

NAAV was founded in August, 1979 by the late Orville E. Kelly (of Burlington, Iowa) for the purposes of allowing the U. S. Atomic Veteran Community to speak, with a single voice, to their inability to get a fair hearing related to their developing (radiogenic) health issues that may have been precipitated by their exposure to "ionizing" radiation while participating in a nuclear weapon test detonation, or a "post-test" event. From the beginning, and to date, we continue to pursue our purpose to this dedicated cause.

Who is an Atomic Veteran

Atomic Veterans were members of the United States Armed Forces who participated in atmospheric and underwater nuclear weapons tests from 16 July, 1945 to 30 October 1962. They also include veterans who were assigned to post test duties, such as "ground zero" nuclear warfare maneuvers & exercises, removing radiation cloud samples from aircraft wing pods, working in close proximity to radiated test animals, de-contamination of aircraft and field test equipment, retrieval and transport of test instruments & devices, and a host of other duty assignments that provided an opportunity for a radiation exposure & contamination event.

Also included are military personnel who were a part of the Occupation Forces assigned to Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan soon after the detonation of Atomic-Bombs over those respective cities, and those American prisoners of war (POW's) who were housed in close proximity to those cities. These Veterans fit the VA's "official" description of an Atomic-Veteran.

There is a second group of veterans who may have been involved in radiation exposure events. These include post test events related to nuclear weapon devices detonated underground or in shafts (after 1962) that may have provided a radiation exposure event, or those who's duties involved regular use of radiation producing equipment or processes, such as power plant technicians aboard nuclear powered Aircraft Carriers and Submarines, X-ray technicians, and those veterans assigned to the Enewetak Atoll radiation clean-up projects. These veterans fit the VA's "official" description as Occupational radiation exposed veterans.

The U. S. Nuclear Weapons Testing Program

There were more than one million U.S. Armed Forces personnel, civilian scientists and engineering technicians involved in the detonation of nuclear & thermonuclear weapon devices, from 16 July 1945 (the "Trinity" test at Alamogordo, NM.) to 23 September, 1992 (the last test in the "Julin" series at the Nevada Test Site). The United States has sponsored a total of 1,054 nuclear weapons tests, and detonated two of these weapons over enemy soil during an act of war.

During this period of time there were 1,147 actual nuclear (aka "bomb") tests. Some of these nuclear and thermonuclear detonations failed to produce any noticeable explosion, either by design, or due to mechanical or electrical faults. Several of these tests, by official definition, were actually multiple detonations, two or more at the same time, designed for gathering specific data & information or for instrument calibration purposes.

Eisenhower's farewell address

Now this conjunction of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new in the American experience. The total influence-economic, political, even spiritual-is felt in every city, every Statehouse, every office of the Federal government. We recognize the imperative need for this development. Yet, we must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources, and livelihood are all involved. So is the very structure of our society.

In the councils of government [National Space Council?], we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex. The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. We must never let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable citizenry can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of defense with our peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.[1]

Akin to, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in our industrial-military posture, has been the technological revolution during recent decades.

The Bourne Identity - Logistics coordinator, Niky Parsons (Julia Stiles) handled many technical tasks during Treadstone missions. In The Bourne Identity, she was responsible for many smaller tasks, such as printing wanted posters for Bourne and his traveling partner (later girlfriend), Marie Helena Kreutz, and operating a switchboard through which calls to and from Treadstone's base were filtered. She also handled more important tasks, such as being commanded to cover up the very public death of an agent, the agent killed himself by jumping out a window to escape Bourne after Bourne beat him severely (although she specifically says that she couldn't because it was public and in Paris). Essentially, her job as logistics coordinator involved managing the technical details of Treadstone missions and cleaning up collateral damage.

Afterburn is another one where the wife of a dead air force pilot had to fight the military industrial complex

In this fact-based film, Ted Harduvel (Vincent Spano), one of the finest pilots employed by the U.S. Air Force, is enlisted to perform test flights for a new model of the F-16 plane. When Ted dies after his jet goes down, the military's official report claims that the cause of the accident was human error. But Ted's spouse, Janet (Laura Dern), refuses to believe this, and so investigates. As Janet digs deeper into the case, a disturbing military conspiracy slowly becomes apparent.

Afterburn is a 1992 drama film written and produced for television, based on a true story where one woman takes on the United States military and General Dynamics, manufacturer of the F-16 jet fighter aircraft that took her husband's life. The docudrama starred Laura Dern, Robert Loggia, and Vincent Spano. The film's name is derived from the "Afterburner" bar where the central character (Janet Harduvel), who works as a waitress, met her future husband, a setting that forms the focus of the first part of the film.

On NOVEMBER 15, 1982, Janet Harduvel (Laura Dern) is devastated by the news of the death of her husband Ted (Vincent Spano) who flew as a United States Air Force pilot in one of the world's most sophisticated fighter aircraft, the General Dynamics F-16 Fighting Falcon.[N 1] She is stymied in finding out the truth behind his crash in Korea and takes on the US military and General Dynamics, maker of the F-16. With the help of her lawyer, Leo Morrone (Robert Loggia), and her sister Mary (Welker White), Harduvel begins the long process of unraveling the lies and deception that are behind a joint military and General Dynamics cover-up that blames the accident on pilot error. Despite setbacks, she proves to be unwavering in her search for the truth to clear his name and uncover the deadly secret buried in the F-16.

The technical issues that are dealt with in Afterburn is that the F-16 "Viper"[N 4] is entirely reliant on its electrical systems to relay flight commands as well as digital instrument reading, instead of traditional analog instruments and mechanically-linked controls, leading to the early moniker of "the electric jet". [10] In Capt. Harduvel's final mission, he relied on his faulty instrument reading that showed him close to terrain, but did not indicate that he was upside down and his "pull out" actually propelled him at full power, inverted, into a hillside.[5] General Dynamics was aware of a potential problem of wiring becoming chafed by the high-G forces inherent in the F-16's flight envelope, and had a maintenance advisory issued.

A dramatic tension was created with Harduvel pitted against the secrets buried deep in the miles-long wiring that eventually was proved to be the reason for a series of F-16 crashes. Principal photography took place in southern California, although the production had no access to USAF bases, the ingenious use of a solitary "mocked-up" F-16 fighter and USAF fighters created by the special effects team of Stargate Films, were seamlessly blended into the film.[9] A number of evocative images by Isidore Mankofsky of the F-16 are used for effect, later to be recognized by an Emmy nomination for his cinematography. Also notable is the music by Stewart Copeland, best-known to the public as the drummer for the British band The Police, but who also was a very successful composer with an extensive career in films and TV productions.

Capt Theodore Harduvel JR. 8th Tactical Fighter wing was killed November 16th when his F-16 Fighting Falcon crashed near Taejon, Korea during a low level training mission. Captain Harduvel was a member of the Wolfpack fighter wing since 1982, he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Physics from the University of Illinois. He received his commision in 1971 after graduating from the Air Force Academy. He was a distinguished graduate. He was a F-4 Commander and Instuctor pilot at Macdill Air Force Base. and held the possition of flight examiner at Hahn AFB Germany. He was weapons Officer at Macdill AFB for the F-16 Unit. His awards include Air Force Commander Medal, Combat Readiness Medal, Outstanding Unit Award, National Defense Medal, Air Force Longevity with two oak leaf clusters and the Small Arms Marksmanship Medal, he also won the Top Gun Medal in 1982. He was going to be promoted to Major several months after his Korea tour. He is survived by his wife Janet L. and daughter Christina J.

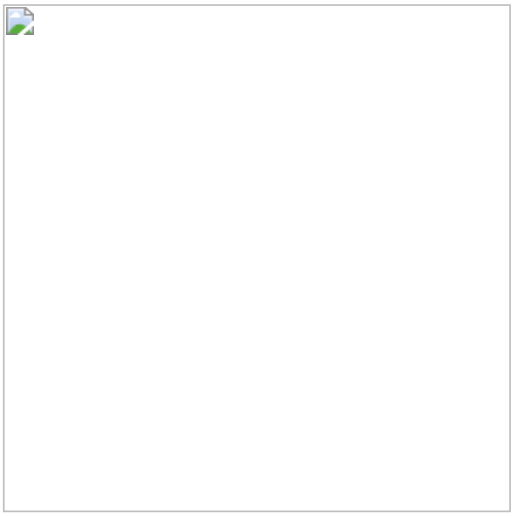
If you consider me the son of an air force pilot abused in DNA studies as analogous to the air force wife, in my case the defense contractors of big business are not only failing to come clean they are trying a hit on me from the offices they and their church groups hold.



If the analogy were to hold the Janet Harduvel would be assaulted as she walked down the street, then arrested for being “off her meds” for reporting the assaults, people would make statements to her “Good thing we took LSD and sold secretes to the Russians last night. I hope we can keep our clearances with the Veterans Administration” etc., which would undermine her reason for investigating the big wigs and undermine her credibility.

“Star Goddess” Janet Sciales retrieved from Janet Sciales profiled in St. Petersburg Times by Gary P. Posner and copied or modified to here

The May 9 St. Petersburg Times showcased local astrologer Janet Sciales in an article entitled, “To Lutz woman, the stars tell life’s story.” Sciales, who is billed as the “Star Goddess” on her highly rated, every-other-Monday radio appearance on FM 98.7’s The Freak Show, has been Tampa Bay's most prominent astrologer for at least as long as Tampa Bay Skeptics has been around.

Ironically, Sciales was among the inaugural TBS members upon our founding in 1988. I had arranged to see her at her office one Monday that summer, with an invitation to address the second meeting of TBS. Not only did Sciales enthusiastically accept, she handed over a check for membership, explaining that while she knew from experience that "astrology" was real, she agreed with TBS's philosophy with regard to "psychic" power and the rest of the pseudosciences. (In later years I would occasionally see her billed as a "psychic astrologer.")

I had previously seen Sciales on television a number of times. So, the night before that Monday encounter, I was struck by her resemblance to the woman featured in Diane Sawyer's 60 Minutes story about the widow of an Air Force "Top Gun" pilot whose F-16 had crashed into a mountain in South Korea. The widow, Janet Harduvel, had won a multi-million-dollar jury award in 1987 against General Dynamics, alleging a flight instrumentation malfunction due to frayed wiring as the cause of the crash. The verdict would ultimately be overturned, not on its merits, but on the basis that federal defense contractors enjoy blanket immunity from such lawsuits.

When I mentioned the uncanny resemblance, Sciales acknowledged that she was indeed Janet Sciales Harduvel (her personal story is detailed in the recent Times article). She then went on to regale me with an anecdote about how, in the process of becoming friends with Diane Sawyer, she predicted, through astrology, that Sawyer would soon fall in love with a man of Germanic descent. Indeed, Sawyer would shortly thereafter meet and ultimately marry director Mike Nichols.

Mike Nichols was an American film and theater director, producer, actor, and comedian. He was noted for his ability to work across a range of genres and for his aptitude for getting the best out of actors regardless of their experience. Wikipedia

Born: November 6, 1931, Berlin, Germany Died: NOVEMBER 19, 2014, Manhattan, New York, NY Spouse: Diane Sawyer (m. 1988-2014), Children: Max Nichols, Daisy Nichols, Jenny Nichols

Sciales also told me that she had prevailed upon her attorneys to time certain crucial legal actions, such as the filing of papers with the court, based upon the astrological charts. And she credited such timing with her successful jury trial outcome (despite her defeat on appeal). Though the Times article does not mention that, it does contain another anecdote that Sciales did not tell me: She supposedly had been forewarned by the stars that she was destined to be widowed, and, more specifically, that something terrible would happen to her husband on that final mission. Yet, as compelling as that anecdote is, all mention of astrology had been deliberately kept out of the 60 Minutes program.

In 1966, Warner Brothers invited Nichols to direct his first film, Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?, starring Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton. The groundbreaking film inspired some critics to declare Nichols the "new Orson Welles". It won five Academy Awards (out of 13 nominations) and was the top-grossing film of 1966. His next film, The Graduate (1967), starred then unknown actor Dustin Hoffman and Anne Bancroft. It was another critical and financial success, became the highest-grossing film of the year, and received seven Academy Award nominations, winning Nichols the Academy Award for Best Director. Among the other films Nichols directed were Catch-22 (1970), Carnal Knowledge (1971), Silkwood (1983), Working Girl (1988), Postcards from the Edge (1990) The Birdcage (1996), Primary Colors (1998), Closer (2004) and Charlie Wilson's War (2007). Nichols also was known for work on television directing HBO's Wit (2001) with Emma Thompson and Angels in America (2003) starring Meryl Streep.

Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc. (commonly known as Warner Bros.[a] and abbreviated as WB) is an American diversified multinational mass media and entertainment conglomerate headquartered at the Warner Bros. Studios complex in Burbank, California, and a subsidiary of AT&T's WarnerMedia through its Studios & Networks division. Founded in 1923 by four brothers Harry, Albert, Sam, and Jack Warner, the company established itself as a leader in the American film industry before diversifying into animation, television, and video games, and is one of the "Big Five" major American film studios, as well as a member of the Motion Picture Association (MPA).

In 1903, Harry's brothers, Abe and Sam, began to exhibit The Great Train Robbery at carnivals across Ohio and Pennsylvania. In 1905, Harry sold his bicycle shop and joined his brothers in their fledgling film business.[24] With the money Harry made from selling the bicycle shop, the three brothers were able to purchase a building in New Castle, Pennsylvania. They would use this building to establish their first theater, the Cascade.[25] The Cascade was so successful that the brothers were able to purchase a second theater in New Castle.[26] This makeshift theatre, called the Bijou, was furnished with chairs borrowed from a local undertaker.

In 1907, the Warners expanded the business further and purchased fifteen theaters in Pennsylvania. Harry, Sam, and Albert then formed a new film exchange company, The Duquesne Amusement Supply Company,[26] and rented an office in the Bakewell building in downtown Pittsburgh.[26] Harry sent Sam to New York to purchase, and ship, films for their Pittsburgh exchange company,[26] while he and Albert remained in Pittsburgh to run the business.[26] In 1909, the brothers sold the Cascade Theater and established a second film exchange company in Norfolk, Virginia. Harry agreed to let younger brother Jack be a part of the company, sending him to Norfolk to serve as Sam's assistant.[28] A serious problem threatened the Warners' film company with the advent of Thomas Edison's Motion Picture Patents Company (also known as the Edison Trust), which charged distributors exorbitant fees.[29] In 1910, the Warners sold the family business to the General Film Company for “$10,000 in cash, $12,000 in preferred stock, and payments over a four-year period for a total of $52,000”.

After they sold their business, Harry and his three brothers joined forces with independent filmmaker Carl Laemmle’s Independent Motion Picture Company, and began distributing films from his Pittsburgh film exchange division. In 1912, the brothers earned a $1,500 profit with the film Dante’s Inferno. In the wake of this success, Harry and the brothers broke with Laemmle and established their own film production company.[31] They named their new company Warner Features.[32] Once Warner Features was established, Harry acquired an office in New York with his brother Albert, sending Sam and Jack to run the new corporation’s film exchange divisions in San Francisco and Los Angeles.[33] In 1917, Harry won more capital for the studio when he was able to negotiate a deal with Ambassador James W. Gerard to make Gerard’s book My Four Years In Germany into a film.

In 1918, after the success of My Four Years In Germany, the brothers were able to establish a studio near Hollywood, California.[29] In the new Hollywood studio, Sam became co-head of production along with his younger brother, Jack.[35] They were convinced that they would have to make movies themselves if they were to ever generate a profit. Between the years 1919 and 1920, the studio did not turn a profit.[36] During this time, banker Motley Flint, who was, unlike most bankers at the time, not anti-semitic, helped the brothers pay off their debts.[36] The four brothers then decided to relocate their studio from Culver City, California to the Sunset Boulevard section of Hollywood.

During this time, Warner decided to focus on making only dramas for the studio.[36] The studio rebounded in 1921 with the success of the studio’s film Why Girls Leave Home;[36] The film’s director, Harry Rapf, became the studio’s new head producer.[37] On April 4, 1923, following the success of the studio’s film The Gold Diggers, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc. was officially established, with help from a loan given to Harry by Montly Flint. Harry became company president, with Albert as treasurer and Jack and Sam as co-heads of production.[38] Harry and his family moved to Hollywood.

Godfather of Talkies The success of Warner Bros.’ early talkie films (The Jazz Singer, The Lights of New York, The Singing Fool and The Terror) catapulted the studio into the ranks of the major studios. Flush with cash, the Warners abandoned their old location in the Poverty Row section of Hollywood and acquired a big studio in Burbank, California.[40] As a result of this success, Warner was able to acquire the Stanley Company of America (founded by Jules E. Mastbaum), which controlled most of the first-run theaters on the East Coast.[41] This purchase gave them a share in rival First National Pictures, of which Stanley owned one-third.[42] After this purchase, Warner was soon able to acquire William Fox’s one third remaining share in First National and was now officially the majority stockholder of the company.[42] After success of the studio’s 1929 First National film Noah’s Ark,[43] Harry Warner also agreed to make Michael Curtiz a major director at the Burbank studio as well.

Sound-on-film is a class of sound film processes where the sound accompanying a picture is recorded on photographic film, usually, but not always, the same strip of film carrying the picture. Sound-on-film processes can either record an analog sound track or digital sound track, and may record the signal either optically or magnetically. Earlier technologies were sound-on-disc, meaning the film's soundtrack would be on a separate phonograph record.

Lee de Forest (August 26, 1873 - JUNE 30, 1961) was an American inventor and early pioneer in radio and in the development of sound-on-film recording used for motion pictures. He had over 300 patents worldwide, but also a tumultuous career-he boasted that he made, then lost, four fortunes. He was also involved in several major patent lawsuits, spent a substantial part of his income on legal bills, and was even tried (and acquitted) for mail fraud. His most famous invention, in 1906, was the three-element “Audion” (triode) vacuum tube, the first practical amplification device. Although de Forest had only a limited understanding of how it worked, it was the foundation of the field of electronics, making possible radio broadcasting, long distance telephone lines, and talking motion pictures, among countless other applications.

Nationality American Alma mater Yale College (Sheffield Scientific School) Occupation Inventor Known for Three-electrode vacuum-tube (Audion), sound-on-film recording (Phonofilm)

A vacuum tube, electron tube,[1][2][3] valve (British usage), or tube (North America),[4] is a device that controls electric current flow in a high vacuum between electrodes to which an electric potential difference has been applied.

The type known as a thermionic tube or thermionic valve uses the phenomenon of thermionic emission of electrons from a hot cathode and is used for a number of fundamental electronic functions such as signal amplification and current rectification. Non-thermionic types, such as a vacuum phototube however, achieve electron emission through the photoelectric effect, and are used for such purposes as the detection of light intensities. In both types, the electrons are accelerated from the cathode to the anode by the electric field in the tube.

The simplest vacuum tube, the diode, invented in 1904 by John Ambrose Fleming, contains only a heated electron-emitting cathode and an anode. Electrons can only flow in one direction through the device-from the cathode to the anode. Adding one or more control grids within the tube allows the current between the cathode and anode to be controlled by the voltage on the grids.

[the functionality of a Gate between the Anode and Cathode which can control the flow of electrons creates an analogy or digital control, or switch, on reostat control on the flow of electrons. In analog circuits this can be used easily for output level or input level and in digital circuits it works easily for on off logic gate functions. The Quantum Tunnel affect of the Zener Diode is the implicit non direction of flow which contradicts the allowed flow direction. The quantum tunnel creates a switch operable int the negative simplex (implied only) contradiction space to the positive overtly allowed direction flow simplex space.]

These devices became a key component of electronic circuits for the first half of the twentieth century. They were crucial to the development of radio, television, radar, sound recording and reproduction, long-distance telephone networks, and analog and early digital computers. Although some applications had used earlier technologies such as the spark gap transmitter for radio or mechanical computers for computing, it was the invention of the thermionic vacuum tube that made these technologies widespread and practical, and created the discipline of electronics.

In the 1940s, the invention of semiconductor devices made it possible to produce solid-state devices, which are smaller, more efficient, reliable, durable, safer, and more economical than thermionic tubes. Beginning in the mid-1960s, thermionic tubes were being replaced by the transistor. However, the cathode-ray tube (CRT) remained the basis for television monitors and oscilloscopes until the early 21st century. Thermionic tubes are still used in some applications, such as the magnetron used in microwave ovens, certain high-frequency amplifiers, and amplifiers that audio enthusiasts prefer for their “warmer” tube sound.

Not all electronic circuit valves/electron tubes are vacuum tubes. Gas-filled tubes are similar devices, but containing a gas, typically at low pressure, which exploit phenomena related to electric discharge in gases, usually without a heater.

Electrical devices are built with the help of the linear and nonlinear components. To understand the basic design of these devices, the fundamental understanding of linear circuit and non-linear circuit are necessary. In this article, we are discussing what is a linear and non-linear circuits with its differences, elements of the linear & nonlinear circuit and some of the examples are explained.

LINEAR CIRCUITS

Simply we can say that the linear circuit is an electric circuit and the parameters of this circuit are resistance, capacitance, inductance and etc are constant. Or we can say the parameters of the circuits are not changed with respect to the voltage and current is called the linear circuit. Generally, the word linear means a straight line which looks like diagonal and it tells about linear characteristics in between voltage and current. i.e the current flow in the circuit is directly proportional to the voltage. the formula is I Amperage aka power flow is equal to the voltage levels difference and resistance to equalization flow between the voltage levels of the parts of the circuit expressed as E = I/R

Generally, the word linear means a straight line which looks like diagonal and it tells about linear characteristics in between voltage and current. i.e the current flow in the circuit is directly proportional to the voltage. If there is an increase in the voltage then the current flow in the circuit also increases and vice versa.

NON LINEAR CIRCUITS

In the an active (or internally interactive circuit) or also called Non Linear electric circuit, the parameters like waveforms, resistance, inductance and etc are not constant is called as Non- linear circuit.

The actions of Non Linear Circuit are complex but follow rules of physics such that things like an oscillating wave (as though in an ocean) will alter parameters of wave function based on conditions (comparable to depth of the ocean, in a circuit how much energy the circuit holds) and thus acts as if an intelligence responding to conditions in ever more complex circuit design possibilities.

TURING TEST

The Turing test, originally called the imitation game by Alan Turing in 1950, is a test of a machine's ability to exhibit intelligent behaviour equivalent to, or indistinguishable from, that of a human. Wikipedia the Touring Test (and internally active cirucits) retrieved from Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy and copied or modified to here

The phrase "The Turing Test" is most properly used to refer to a proposal made by Turing (1950) as a way of dealing with the question whether machines can think. According to Turing, the question whether machines can think is itself "too meaningless" to deserve discussion (442). However, if we consider the more precise- and somehow related-question whether a digital computer can do well in a certain kind of game that Turing describes ("The Imitation Game"), then-at least in Turing's eyes- we do have a question that admits of precise discussion. Moreover, as we shall see, Turing himself thought that it would not be too long before we did have digital computers that could "do well" in the Imitation Game.

The phrase "The Turing Test" is sometimes used more generally to refer to some kinds of behavioural tests for the presence of mind, or thought, or intelligence in putatively minded entities. So, for example, it is sometimes suggested that The Turing

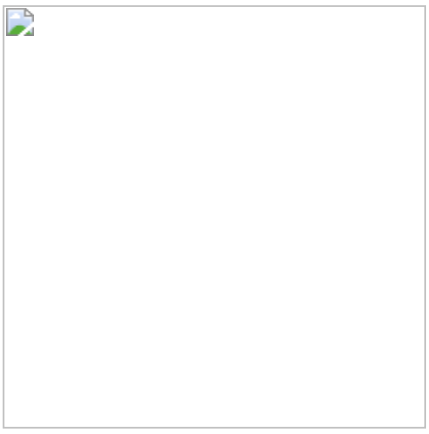
Test is prefigured in Descartes' Discourse on the Method. (Copeland (2000:527) finds an anticipation of the test in the 1668 writings of the Cartesian de Cordemoy. Abramson (2011a) presents archival evidence that Turing was aware of Descartes' language test at the time that he wrote his 1950 paper. Gunderson (1964) provides an early instance of those who find that Turing's work is foreshadowed in the work of Descartes.) In the Discourse, Descartes says:

> If there were machines which bore a resemblance to our bodies and imitated our actions as closely as possible for all practical purposes, we should still have two very certain means of recognizing that they were not real men. The first is that they could never use words, or put together signs, as we do in order to declare our thoughts to others. For we can certainly conceive of a machine so constructed that it utters words, and even utters words that correspond to bodily actions causing a change in its organs. … But it is not conceivable that such a machine should produce different arrangements of words so as to give an appropriately meaningful answer to whatever is said in its presence, as the dullest of men can do. Secondly, even though some machines might do some things as well as we do them, or perhaps even better, they would inevitably fail in others, which would reveal that they are acting not from understanding, but only from the disposition of their organs. For whereas reason is a universal instrument, which can be used in all kinds of situations, these organs need some particular action; hence it is for all practical purposes impossible for a machine to have enough different organs to make it act in all the contingencies of life in the way in which our reason makes us act. (Translation by Robert Stoothoff)

[If an Ocean can be designed or replicated as a machine can it act as though a boat is sailing through or respond to other similations of the machine has an input system to create simulations?]

Although not everything about this passage is perfectly clear, it does seem that Descartes gives a negative answer to the question whether machines can think; and, moreover, it seems that his giving this negative answer is tied to his confidence that no mere machine could pass The Turing Test: no mere machine could talk and act in the way in which adult human beings do.

Jack Leonard Warner (born Jacob Warner;[1] AUGUST 2, 1892 - September 9, 1978) was a Canadian-American film executive, born in Canada, who was the president and driving force behind the Warner Bros. Studios in Burbank, California. Warner's career spanned some 45 years, its duration surpassing that of any other of the seminal Hollywood studio moguls.



As co-head of production at Warner Bros. Studios, he worked with his brother, Sam Warner, to procure the technology for the film industry's first talking picture, The Jazz Singer (1927).[3] After Sam's death, Jack clashed with his surviving older brothers, Harry and Albert Warner. He assumed exclusive control of the film production company in the 1950s, when he secretly purchased his brothers' shares in the business after convincing them to participate in a joint sale of stocks.

Although Warner was feared by many of his employees and inspired ridicule with his uneven attempts at humor, he earned respect for his shrewd instincts and tough-mindedness.[2] He recruited many of Warner Bros.' top stars[5] and promoted the hard-edged social dramas for which the studio became known.[6] Given to decisiveness, Warner once commented, "If I'm right fifty-one percent of the time, I'm ahead of the game."

Throughout his career, he was viewed as a contradictory and enigmatic figure.[7] Although he was a staunch Republican, Warner encouraged film projects that promoted the agenda of Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.[6] He opposed European fascism and criticized Nazi Germany well before America's involvement in World War II.[8] An opponent of communism, after the war Warner appeared as a friendly witness before the House Un-American Activities Committee, voluntarily naming screenwriters who had been fired as suspected communists or sympathizers.[9] Despite his controversial public image, Warner remained a force in the motion picture industry until his retirement in the early 1970s

HARRY WARNER

Harry Morris Warner (born Hirsz Mojżesz Wonsal;[1] DECEMBER 12, 1881 - July 25, 1958) was an American studio executive, one of the founders of Warner Bros., and a major contributor to the development of the film industry. Along with his three younger brothers (Albert, Sam and Jack) Warner played a crucial role in the film business and played a key role in establishing Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc, serving as the company president until 1956.

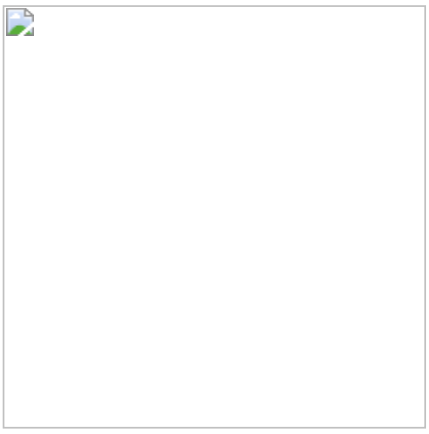
Warner was born Hirsz Mojżesz “Wonsal” or “Wonskolaser”[3][4][5] to a family of Ashkenazi Jews[6][7][8][9][10] from the village of Krasnosielc, Poland (then part of the Russian Empire: Russian Partition).[11][12][13] He was the son of Benjamin Wonsal, a shoemaker born in Krasnosielc, and Pearl Leah Eichelbaum. His given name was Mojżesz (Moses), however, he was called Hirsz (Anglicized to Hirsch) in the United States. In October 1889, he came to Baltimore, Maryland with his mother and siblings on the steamship Hermann from Bremen, Germany. Their father had preceded them, immigrating to Baltimore in 1888 in order to pursue his trade in shoes and shoe repair. It was at that time that he changed the family name to Warner which was used thereafter. As in many Jewish immigrant families, some of the children gradually acquired anglicized versions of their Yiddish-sounding names. Hirsz became Harry,[1] and his middle name Morris was likely a version of Mojżesz.

In the later part of 1925, Harry’s younger brother Sam had also acquired a radio station, KWBC. After acquiring his radio station, Sam decided to make an attempt to use synchronized sound in future Warner Bros. Pictures. Harry had initial reservations about the idea; when Sam first made this suggestion, Harry wanted to focus on background music before delving into people talking on screen. Harry responded, “We could ultimately develop sound to the point where people ask for talking pictures” The company also began acquiring theaters. Eventually, Warner Bros. came to own and operate some 250 theaters. By February 1926, however, the brothers’ radio business had failed, and the studio was facing a net loss of $333,413.00.

After a long period of refusing to accept the usage of sound in the company’s films, Warner now agreed to use synchronized sound in Warner Bros. shorts, as long as it was used only for background music, Harry then made a visit to Western Electric’s Bell Laboratories in New York, (which younger brother Sam had earlier visited) and was impressed. One problem that occurred for the Warners, though, was the fact that the high-ups at Western Electric were anti-Semitic. Sam, though, was able to convince the high-ups to sign with the studio after his wife Lina wore a gold cross at a dinner he attended with Western Electric brass. After this, Harry signed a partnership agreement with Western Electric to use Bell Laboratories to test the sound-on-film process.

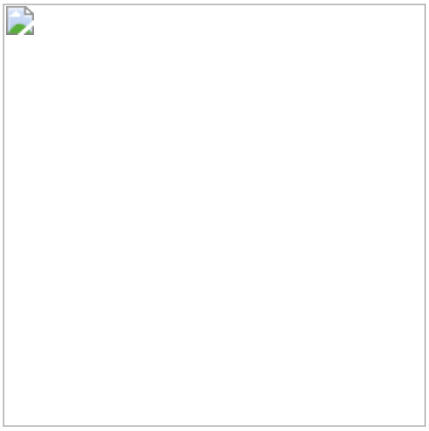
ALBERT WARNER

Abraham “Albert” Warner (born Aaron Wonsal,[1] July 23, 1884[2] - NOVEMBER 26, 1967) was an American film executive who was one of the founders of Warner Bros. He established the production studio with his brothers Harry, Sam, and Jack L. Warner. He served as the studio’s treasurer, until he sold his stock in 1956.



As a young man, along with his brother Sam, Albert Warner entered the nickelodeon business, and started displaying copies of The Great Train Robbery from a Kinetoscope at carnivals in Ohio and Pennsylvania in 1903; Sam ran the projector and Albert sold tickets.[28] In 1905, Harry agreed to join his two brothers’ business and sold his Youngstown bicycle shop.[28] During this time, the three brothers purchased a building in New Castle, Pennsylvania;[28] with their new building, the brothers established their first theater, The Cascade Movie Palace.[29] The theater was so successful that the brothers were able to purchase a second theater in New Castle as well.[30] This makeshift theatre, called the Bijou, was furnished with chairs borrowed from a local undertaker.[31] In 1907, the three brothers acquired fifteen additional theaters in the state of Pennsylvania, and named their new business The Dusquesne Amusement Supply Company.[32] The three brothers then rented an office in the Bakewell building in downtown Pittsburgh with a loan from Max Fleischer.[30] Harry then sent Sam to New York to purchase and ship films for their Pittsburgh exchange company,[30] while he and Albert remained in Pittsburgh to run the business.

SAM WARNER



Samuel Louis Warner (born Szmuel Wonsal[1][2],[3] August 10, 1887 - October 5, 1927) was an American film producer who was the co-founder and chief executive officer of Warner Bros. He established the studio along with his brothers Harry, Albert, and Jack L. Warner. Sam Warner is credited with procuring the technology that enabled Warner Bros. to produce the film industry’s first feature-length talking picture, The Jazz Singer.[4] He died in 1927, the day before the film’s enormously successful premiere.[5]

Samuel Warner was the first member of his family to move into the entertainment industry. In the early 1900s, he formed a business partnership with another Youngstown resident and “took over” the city’s Old Grand Opera House, which he used as a venue for “cheap vaudeville and photoplays”. The venture failed after one summer.[24] Warner then secured a job as a projectionist at Idora Park, a local amusement park.[25] He persuaded the family of the new medium’s possibilities and negotiated the purchase of a Model B Kinetoscope from a projectionist who was “down on his luck”.[26] The purchase price was $1,000.[27] Warner’s interest in film came after seeing Thomas Edison’s The Great Train Robbery while working as an employee at Cedar Point Pleasure Resort in Sandusky, Ohio. During this time, Albert agreed to join Warner and together the two displayed showings of The Great Train Robbery at carnivals throughout the states of Ohio and Pennsylvania;[28] Sam Warner would run the film projector and Albert would sell tickets.

In 1905, Harry Warner agreed to join his two brothers and sold his Youngstown bicycle shop.[29] Through the money Harry made by selling the bicycle shop, the three brothers were now able to purchase a building in New Castle, Pennsylvania;[30] The brothers named their new theater The Cascade Movie Palace.[31] The Cascade Movie Palace was so successful that the brothers were able to purchase a second theater in New Castle.[32] This makeshift theatre, called the Bijou, was furnished with chairs borrowed from a local undertaker.[33] They maintained the theater until moving into film distribution in 1907.[34] That year, the Warner brothers established the Pittsburgh-based Duquesne Amusement Company, and the three brothers rented an office in the Bakewell building in downtown Pittsburgh.[32] Harry then sent Sam Warner to New York to purchase, and ship, films for their Pittsburgh exchange company, while he and Albert remained in Pittsburgh to run the business.[32]

In 1925, after years of bachelorhood,[79] Warner met eighteen-year-old Ziegfeld Follies performer and actress Lina Basquette while spending time in New York visiting the Bell Laboratories. The two began an intense love affair.[80] On July 4, 1925, the two were married.[81] While Warner’s younger brother Jack did not object to Basquette’s Catholicism, the rest of the Warner family did.[82] They refused to accept Basquette and did not acknowledge her as a member of the Warner clan.[82] On October 6, 1926, the couple’s only child, daughter Lita, was born.

Basquette and her daughter reconnected in 1977 when Basquette backed a lawsuit that Lita brought against her uncle Jack Warner’s estate.

In September 1927, Jack-who was working nonstop with Sam on production of The Jazz Singer-noticed that his brother started having severe headaches and nosebleeds. By the end of the month, Sam was unable to walk straight.[88] He was hospitalized and was diagnosed with a sinus infection that was aggravated by several abscessed teeth. Doctors also discovered that Warner had developed a mastoid infection of the brain. After four surgeries to remove the infection, Warner slipped into a coma. He died of pneumonia caused by sinusitis, osteomyelitis and epidural and subdural abscesses on October 5, 1927, the day before the premiere of The Jazz Singer.

According to Hollywood Be Thy Name, the 1993 memoir of Jack Warner, Jr., and Cass Warner Sperling, character actor William Demarest claimed that Sam Warner was murdered by his own brothers.[91] This allegation, leveled in 1977, was never corroborated, and Demarest's reliability was questioned because of his long dependence on alcohol;[91] the last time that Sam would meet with his entire family was at his parent's wedding anniversary in 1926.[

U.S. GOVERNMENT RUNS 'GANG STALKING' VIGILANTISM, SAYS EX-FBI OFFICIAL

http://www.nowpublic.com/world/u-s-govt-runs-gang-stalking-vigilantism-says-ex-fbi-official Official confirms what thousands of victims have long known: an evil U.S. shadow government is conducting a covert, taxpayer-funded genocidal purge of American society - while Congress and an apparently entrained Obama administration sleep.

Author's note: Former FBI official Ted Gunderson died of cancer on July 31, 2011. Was his illness induced by silent electromagnetic assault or by other nefarious means? We will never know - and that's just the way certain entities want it.
A former senior official of the Federal Bureau of Investigation says "rogue" military intelligence and law enforcement units of the federal government oversee a nationwide network of community-based "gang stalking" harassment, intimidation and domestic terrorism directed at thousands of U.S. citizens who have been extrajudicially targeted as "dissidents" or undesirables.

TED GUNDERSON, 82, who has served as the special agent in charge of the FBI's Los Angeles, Memphis and Dallas field offices, has stated in a series of public speaking appearances that he is now targeted by these same elements, and fears for his life and for the safety of his family. He reports that the windows of his home have been shot out, and he believes he has been poisoned and physically sickened by those seeking to silence him.

Since his retirement from the FBI in the 1979, Gunderson has been a Southern California- based private investigator. He is most noted for his defense work on the murder case involving former Army physician Dr. Jeffrey MacDonald.

The ex-FBI official's comments represent the most compelling testimony to date indicating that "black operations" of the federal government are dedicated to waging a covert war of terror and persecution targeting American citizens.

> [Edward Paul Donegan's theory, me, mine, based what he knows from my family history and also study tht JFK murder is that the Criminal Enterprise is Illumiati and Masonry Muscle in for profit world financial and genetic cultivating] with for profit genes and medicine lines]

"Based on my thirty years' experience and research, I have determined there are thousands of victims who have been targeted by an illegal U.S. GOVERNMENT ROGUE CRIMINAL ENTERPRISE - military intelligence, probably, tied into CIA and FBI and so forth - that is active 24 hours a day throughout the United States," Gunderson stated in an October 2008 speech posted last fall on YouTube.

NOTE: It appears that the link to the Ted Gunderson YouTube video has been sabotaged. Please search "Ted Gunderson" and "YouTube" and look for the link to his speech at the Gulf Symposium. I believe this is more blatantly illegal and malicious interference with telecommunications by operatives of Lockheed Martin, under contract to U.S. Homeland-mil-intel, or another entity representing the agencies, commands and corporations of the U.S. fusion center network.

"It is far too extensive to be controlled by private enterprise," Gunderson said. "I believe this well organized and sophisticated operation has a central command located somewhere in the United States, with multiple satellite offices scattered throughout the country."

[Ed Donegan suggests Masons, Metro Churches, other entities of Little Rock Arknasas and MENA Airoport and Vatican-OSS-CIA-DARPA

Said Gunderson:

> Theodore L. Gunderson was an American Federal Bureau of Investigation Special Agent In Charge and head of the Los Angeles FBI. According to his son, he worked the case of Marilyn Monroe and the John F. Kennedy cases. Born: NOVEMBER 7, 1928, Colorado Springs, CO : November 7, 1928, Colorado Springs, CO Died: July 31, 2011, Memphis, TN

"It appears those who administer the program can call any location in the United States for surveillance, a telephone tap, or… harassment directed at a victim, and immediately dispense manpower to the source… This well-greased, covert operation makes the old FBI counterintelligence program (code-named "Cointelpro") look like a Sunday school class."

Gunderson also maintains that federal security and law enforcement agencies and commands have been infiltrated by members of secret societies such as the Illuminati, which he has described as a satanic criminal cult.

This correspondent has reported that Lockheed Martin, the world's largest defense contractor and the prime cyber-security and information technology supplier to the federal government, coordinates the communications and trains the "team leaders" of a nationwide Gestapo-like apparatus, which has tentacles into every security and law enforcement agency in the nation, including state and local police and 72 regional "fusion centers" administered by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. According to company literature, Lockheed Martin has operations in 46 of the 50 states.

nowpublic.com/world/rule-law-morality-die-usa-fusion-center-slow-kill-genocide

Lockheed Martin also has operational command and control over a U.S. government microwave radio frequency weapon system, deployed on cell tower masts throughout the U.S., that is being used to silently torture, impair, subjugate and electronically incarcerate so-called "targeted individuals." The nexus of this American "torture matrix" appears to be Lockheed Martin's Mission and Combat Support Solutions central command center in Norristown, Montgomery County, PA., which employs several thousand workers. The defense contractor's global headquarters is in Bethesda, MD, just outside the nation's capital.

nowpublic.com/world/u-s-silently-tortures-americans-cell-tower-microwaves

Lockheed Martin, under contract to U.S. security and intelligence agencies and commands, also conducts warrantless surveillance of the telecommunications of targeted persons, and routinely censors and tampers with the content of their communications, as this reporter has documented in a series of recent articles:

nowpublic.com/world/u-s-govt-uses-spoofed-web-pages-and-urls-censor-internet nowpublic.com/world/wash-post-blog-moderation-used-cover-u-s-govt-censorship

Thousands of Americans, including this veteran journalist, have publicly reported being the victims of silent electromagnetic assault and community-based home intrusions, vandalism, and even the poisoning of food, water and air. Federal and local law enforcement routinely dismiss their reports as the product of delusions or mental illness, and refuse to investigate their complaints.

These "targets" and their families have been physically harmed and financially destroyed as a result of taxpayer-funded "psychological operations," police-protected community "stalking" harassment and malicious vandalism, and other covert programs of personal destruction, including government-assisted financial sabotage. Many appear to have been targeted as a result of their politics; their activism or corporate whistle-blowing activities; their ethnic background; or as a result of score-settling vendettas by persons in positions of power - in government and in the private sector.

The former FBI executive's remarks are only now attracting widespread exposure on this and other web sites. This correspondent believes that recent revelations of government-sponsored domestic terrorism against U.S. citizens have prompted some conscientious insiders to call attention to Gunderson's public statements.

Gunderson has said that government-sponsored gang stalking terrorism is financed "through illegal black operations," such as sales of illegal drug; gambling; prostitution; and even sexual exploitation of children. But this reporter believes it is more likely that programs of government-sponsored domestic terrorism are funded from military and security "black ops" budgets that have been illegally diverted to covert domestic programs administered and conducted primarily by defense contractors.

Late last year, The New York Times disclosed that an official of the U.S. Air Force had set up an unauthorized military intelligence spy ring in Pakistan and Afghanistan, run by Lockheed Martin and funded by defense appropriations.

nytimes.com/2010/10/29/world/asia/29intel.html

This correspondent suspects that a similar arrangement could be funding government-sponsored "gang stalking" operations throughout the nation, and has urged Congress to immediately hold public hearings as part of a comprehensive investigation of military-style "black ops" targeting American citizens and their families - a silent, slow-kill genocide motivated by ideology and hate.

Subversion, Pure Risk, War Risk, War Operations

https://www.iedunote.com/pure-risks

There was a liability at least in murdering JFK. There was a risk of Nazism returning or racial strife destroying White European civilization.

My theory of this book is a Treason, successful, using the US Military and units within for objectives of the NWO in a war close enough with USA interests its ideology and purpose seems within the USA and the USA Command and Control.

In fact though this subversion of the USA and Military Forces creates a New Age John Harts war whose interests, methods, and objectives are at odds with, not aligned with, USA interests and the survival of some USA citizens and civil servants where these citizens or civil servants our outside the interests of the NWO but are law abiding and in the Constitutional Rights jurisdiction of the USA.

Targeting for Assassination law abiding citizens is the missue of military and espionage for foreign objectives and is largely either concealed or operated by moles within USA Government or Media.

The basic form of the scam is that those who surround me to, in their own words, defeat white supremacism, will label me with their own acts by assaults upon me for their acts towards others and toward me.

My law abiding Libertarian Objectivist political philosophy and art and contributions to those spheres are co-oppted into other systems while those same entities engage in incursive tresspassing vigilantism against me abusing me under color of law and using blame for the conflict incidents to subvert me to other in all maters of my life.

Illegal as an equal protection matter in the first place and second place. I am not responsible nor liable for any matter and then using planted evidence to subvert me in other matters is as illegal as it gets.

In the matters below and in this book children are victimize, both my character, by moral system, and my presence in public in the areas of the crimes are blamed by the perpetrators who claim to prosecute me but instead in a string of Due Process avoiding shams merely backstab me and persecute me for public conflicts they themselves originate.

Generally Social Justice operatives and beneficiaries are framing me, my morality, my esteem, my philosophy, even my art, such that theirs is perceived as better than mine and property claims against me and my Radical Right Wing are made as well.

The outlandishness of the acts towards me which make statements and labile me and towards other are sufficient to both incite me in anger and to incite others.

This is espionage based incitement of others against me, against my rights, and against my property, even against my family line and is unparallelled in history by the backers of the plan have no other way out from what would otherwise occur, my normal reproductivity, life, and assertions about MKULTRA and being its victim..

The system takes my normal acts in reality and turns them into a play on a stage as actors surround me similar to or as the FISA scandal. My dialogue of I would like a personal pizza gets responded to by a covert operator turning that into some seedy WWII antique shop dialogue.

In extortion vendors assert that my normal purchases are code purchases and use my normal purchases as their foil. For instance at Subways Sandwich Corpus Christi my order of a southwestern chicken sandwich special on a poster on a wall led to a black female making statements like “how do you want that stake and cheese” and in other orders at that shop “well you you like your buns toasted/buttered?”

John Harts New Age War funded by claims against seeming slave owners, aka abusers of SJW beneficiary females.

They know I reject their entendere, putting words in my mouth, or changing the meaning of words in my mouth, but a protection racket which planted the vendors has a Doppelgänger of me who did order pizza and the cops will catch that person.

What happens in that backroom the Doppelgänger of me is lead to a Honey Pot, an adult entertainer who attracts a pedophile who is the dopple of me, then the Dopple is forced to call the trust fund for a pay up or be arrested fee, the subject of what in cons are called The Grandparents Scam in shaking down the grandparent.

Before we get to the emergency, which does not exist, let us consider who wants to claim they are my emergency contact.

Christ Llloyd. His daughter worked for Genetech in marketing and he had some genetics companies he was working on including something phonetically called Flow Through and possible AIDS or or other research.

The ARC of Northern Virginia, retardation and Autism researchers seeking genetics cures.

Nueces County Social Services I refused to sign up for and never will, or the Nueces Texas District Attorney Matt Gonzales or US Marshalls who conduct asset seizures.

My brother Tom Donegan, gay rights activist and who has fought me for years as to whether I was competent or not, I always said I had far more actual real work and training than him.

Over the course of time I have learned that the emergency often is Doppelgangers of me mostly non white who have pictures of buttocks, especially white gym women, and have kept those pictures as “visual porn” and now those spontaneous masturbating Doppelgangers of me owe those white and other females MY DNA for them masturbating.

Again, this witness group includes “mop pushers” who through fraudulent acts inaccurately allege my masturbation, cause my self relief by denying me a partner, or themselves masturbate in gyms to white women in medical anonymity as the identity will be confused with my own.

The Sound and Fury Ploy I refer to is that as others photograph women character assassination of me before the public ascribes the event to me but denies me an allegation I could refute if it were made. Simply staring at me in aviator glasses is the baseless character assassination type of activity.

The Doppelgänger will have some sort of emergency and Grandparents will be called for the incompetent, the Doppelgänger of me, who needs some representation to settle matters.

This is the public appearances being manufactured linking me to things I am not linked to.

Thus PsyOps of MKULTRA and CIA Secret Service operations persecute me for activities I am not actually linked to, utilizing Marshall and other tactical groups can carry out lethal criminal and religious harassment conditions of my life through inciting vigilantism against me.

The work product of staging incriminating dialogue and photos I have no control of leads to the later assessment I must have been involved in something at the scene, but by the time of that confrontation I have been switched out with a Dopple who will take the circumstantial evidence and forge my confession to it creating a preponderance or complete case of my alleged involvement in calling adult entertainers, and those entertainers find the dopple of me has child porn.

In most likely some “deputized and self funding neighborhood watch the non whites or gays at the scene, or via the confession, are rewarded assets, genomic assets, for the sex offenses I appear to have been involved in.

It seems a Mr Hyde side of me came out, but in fact My Hyde is a real sex offender following me around dressed as me.

For the police/prosecutor, prosecuting THAT Mr. Hyde can get Dr Jekyll’s genome for the victims of Mr. Hyde and from Dr. Jekyll, if misrepresentation of Dr Jekyll is actually working for the victims of Mr. Hyde.

It is Mr. Hyde, or Lesbian couple Mrs. Hyde and Mrs. Hyde, who created the offense and then solved the offense, and as such, like the victims, will be part of the settlement from my retardation assets trust fund.

Effectively, Prosecutors and even Masons can fund their Christmas Toys Bins for their beneficiaries by faking cases against me while also claim to REPRESENT ma and my interests.

They do not, they are using my assets for themselves, and assigning their liability to me.

Some John Harts New Age War warriors frame me morally and sexually assaulting me and faking claims made to my trust fund
	Me Denying to me there is any allegation against me these condescending SJWs will tell my “grandparents” they are entitled to my baby because of what they caught me [themselves] doing

“I argued with a Trump supporter and he called me all sorts of names and his real malice and beliefs about me came out during the argument.”

“I merely put my camera into his face and walked with him in public and he argued with me saying ‘get the heck away from me.’

When WE said we are going to have his baby because we caught him, we caught him, he shouted anti gay anti black things at me showing he was a a psycho. Premised on my belief he should be made to have inter racial children it is therefore his moral error he is unwilling to provide us usage of his genome and that psychosis is what is blocking him from giving up children to others.”

One of the pro non white affects of this is the white person looks bad because the the Hoax, and it is a hoax, makes Dr Jekyll look like scum and a harmer of the vulnerable.

Black Marshalls staged at least 20 photos of teens and tots being photographed by an ass fetishist. A protection racket will in secret proceedings allege I took the pictures.

Getting themselves substituted for me, Anti White Supremacists isolate me and surround those who may have been influenced by my

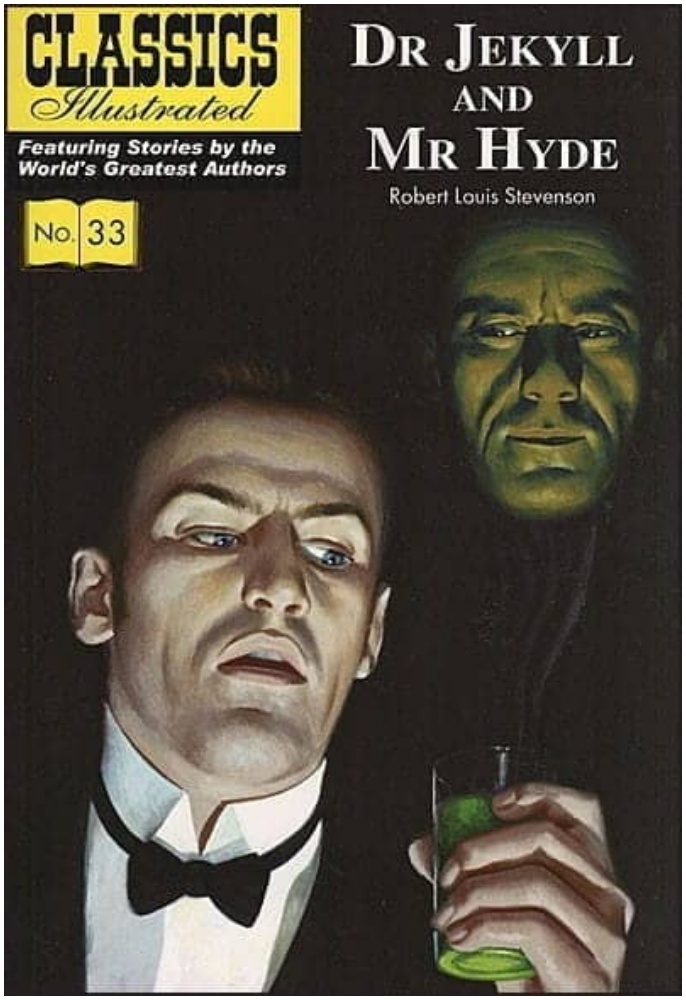
Dr Jekyll is proud of being white and defends the white race. His alleged “Mr Hyde side” loves minority children as his own and as his sex objects.

My Hyde is a dopple of me, not a side me, not a disassociated personality of mine. A fraudulent record of that being me was created and a fraudulent claim I have dissociative disorder fits the Mr Hyde personality attributes to me.

Mr Hyde is a alleged side, a character assassinating view of me, created by an Information Doppelganger and that acts of that information Doppelganger.

Black Marshalls	Mr Hyde	Related to neither, Ed Donega, Dr Jekyll

The paradox of who is Mr Hyde and how does he fit into some other identity



What “set off” Mr Hyde to masterbate to peeping tom acts and photos, that the Law Enforcement who invented and deployed Mr Hyde as FBI contractor was the need for the Government and Religious Missions to claim rights to my DNA and make a sock puppet Ed Donegan who has harmed others.

A fake “trigger” alleged in me is something set me off. In fact nothing ever did but women who the government wish away from me are told they should not be around me. Acts of others in my direction are women making a public show of apologizing for being around me, but vague that up with also the apologies is for tangling feet, shopping cart collision, etc.,

The sock puppet are my stolen clothes put onto the pupet of me to ID me.

Hyde, that puppet, is drawn from prison and homeless populations to “mind model” the allegations made behind my back which defame me and create liabilities in which property of mine (Dr Jekyll in this metaphor) is due to people victimized by Mr Hyde in my vicinity.

I have long said correctly the ass fetishism, peeping at women normally in my view, a need for white skin rather than Gothic or Victorian or leather or latex fashion was the prison felon aesthetic, not mine.

Mr Hyde disassociates, exists, in FBI operations per Jen Moore, the CIA and Secret Service from what I have heard directly, and flow from Eric Holder like programs targeting, defaming, and dispossession Whites who are seen as antagonistic to blacks and thus must be pre-empted and co-opted with the property of whites moved to blacks creating an equity rather than disequilibrium.

This is the fight against White Supremacism, “Targeting” me as Targeted Individual with defamatory and illegal evidence plants, etc., then inciting vigilantism against me.

As i sought the answer for racial hate crimes against me that only further polarized and issue still do not as my calling out black or other aggression and research the reason.

Further, that seems tied to MKUTRA history of 1961 tied to Obama, MKULTRA, religious use of my DNA, and the fake claim, claim backwards, that all of the was justified and allowed.

In fact this is mere persecution of me for acts and interests not my own, but created cover stories of who can create claims to my DNA as I move from homeless shelter to homeless shelter.

That others have an interest in use of my DNA they will not admit to me solves the paradox of why Mr Hyde is tied to illegal State persecution of me and why the State will not stop the acts against me.

The Aviator Glasses Wearers almost always are non-white, gay, or non-white gays. Their placing of Shill female vicitms near or in front of me, ass flashing me, or their photographing of women near me create the Legend that I am threat to women and women are a threat to me and that my DNA is due to those who were exploited [by the racket]

The black male and black nationalist above moved into apartment 40 of the floor I am on and another black male moved into apartment 47. Constant drug use, fighting, and violence was the result of them in the building and they repeatedly fl\ramed me while planted in the prepared building.

Because this scheme depends on inciting vigilantism against somebody scorned and that is done by planting evidence, physical assaults upon me, staging sympathetic figures as victims of a supposed scum bag, the total record is of manufacture of allegations against me to gain a fraudulent result.

Hundreds of material witness to this plan to defeat the appearance of white supremacism will be listed along with a gig at least of proof in evidence that this is all a sham and based in felonies, allegedly harmless, but not, allegedly ethical, but not.

The cover operation makes victims of Tom Dunham, myself, my parents, and others by asking neutral parties, the good guys, to do some dirty tricks for the social good including racket activity for the social good.

The operation of these assaults upon me in both the home, medical recovery, grocery, and other locations I use is part of the offensiveness of these acts the public and the press have supported though.

These self interested parties in the langauge of the street started it both surrounding me and my mother and those I know or knew such as Tom Dunham to fake a sexploitation of women ring that does not exist but is used to persecute me.

Hear Sayers

As is typical in PsyOps the the Good Guys often have been duped into acts by manipulators and these Good Guys will even help communicate the falsity they themselves hold as truth.

These dupes I call under the PsyOps sway of position 3 only speak honestly with postion 3, that position dishonest with them.

Thus in position 1 I have only this book to correct the record.

The Color of Law has been misused to gain the trust and cooperation of people in a very evil con scheme.

30 Yard Flips

Many Hear Sayers are those I would have been near or friends with but I was socailly sabotaged to. Thus a 15 yard forward play I would have made is flagged behind the scenes and I lose 15 yards instead.

Its a bad call on faked or staged photos, etc., but it leaves me with a 15 yard loss and 30 yard deficit.

This has been used to defeat my housing and seuxal reproductive rights, publishing rights, etc.,

This chart lays out the persecution of my by the protection racket and will be usefull for the classes of people witness will be listed by.

Conspirators Against Rights	Assets or Agents	Public Label Surounding Me	Me	Displacement of me with under privileged

Locations and Psuedo Locations

Locations I was at and locations I might have gone to but did not.

At locations I was at the class of witnesses of Mop Pushers, Doppelgangers, Marshalls, FBI, Teens as Pizza, were at.

Mop Pushers make statements like "have a handkerchif in your pocket" towards me or ass flash me as though they "are my porn" rather than people in public.

Etiology, Mens Rea, and Actus Rea

The need to sabotage me to women, making me look like an exploiter of women, a danger to women, and a teen or tot fetishist with no artistic or sexual sophistication created black nationalist desired assault upon me as character attack and allowed the imagery of me being assaulted with these teens and tots to inflame others against me since I was blamed for them getting in my path and I also am assualted on the scene for them being in my path.

Creating similar assaults on my intellect allow retardation firms to create a management of my genome for use in minorities as Social Justice.

Stalking and being assaulted (as I always am) Stalking

Stalking involves “repeated visual or physical proximity, non-consensual communication, threats, or a combination thereof” that are repeated on at least two occasions. There are seven specific tactics used by stalkers:

Hyperintimacy

The stalkers knows more about the stalked that expected and displays that.

Mediated contact

(Aggressive and hostile position maintained by subterfuge failing to concretely identify themselves or motives or reason for stalk impeding response and proof of stalk.

Interactional contact

(In my case blacks and non whites accuse me of pedophilia or teen phelia and peeping tom activity by disgustingly sexualizing alleged victims during my activities and police deny to me I an being stalked. During the course of the stalk ghetto non whites will make vague statements about “liking my watermelons and how big they are or my cookies and how they will have my baby, no further explanation though some have said I owe for teens and tots being near me and “I wanted it.” The Zoom photographer who will victimize the exploitable female is the peeper)

Surveillance

Use of surveillance data on me such as knowing I ordered an amazon weigh bar in the privacy of my home allows evidence manufacture in public I was led to that idea by a stalker, thus the stalker creating a visual appearance of being a helper to me rather than a Shiill and stlaker)

Invasion

Using Building Super and rental staff to facility break ins, evidence plants, physical and sexual assaults and robberies from neighbors and mail theft.

Harassment or intimidation

Frequent death threats on the basis I DID photograph the exploitable victim though a shill working with the other shills did, death threats on my filming the entire scene of then faking the exploitation of the teen or tot, police threats of mental health detention for thinking these stalkers are in any way tied to me)

“Dabbing” or “Cohorting” has been used with me. While I am actually in the dark of why call girls seem to be visiting those around me or who the parties are or what they are doing the males will often bang the wall in between seperate apartments or hotel rooms as if to say “we are getting started now together” through the banging on the shared wall.

Similarly blacks or gay scam artist who wrongfully have knowledge of anything I am doing inside my apartment will bang or knock on my door as though we are doing things together, we are doing things together, when we are not. The cover story of why the Ethiopian maid shows up as I am typing something intelligent is both psychological inflammatory to me as well as their pretending of involvement of my own independent work.

E.G. “Pork Chop” of Casa Linda and Donald who assaulted me was I was emailing Sarah Tonin, and these will be a class of witnesses themselves.)

I have requested an expungment of my record so i can obtain a shotgun and clear my front door outdoor side or patio from harassing assailants, including roaring engines.

Repeatedly those assaulting me during work or acts of necessity such as food or gym have said they will have my children and I have insisted any child with genome from me will be incinerated if ever found.

No one has any dount I mean that and part of trying to incite me to punch is rape baby taunting openly laughing about have buckets of grease, etc,

I have long speculated this was launched in the program Okeefe exposed of trying to provoke me to punch in any way that can be accomplished via stressors.

Coercion or threat

(Death threats from the those did did peep against me to establish the public appearance it was e who took the picture. Doppelgänger AKA Zoom photographer will give into Payup or Be Arrested using identity theft, in my identity to money launders.

Basic Operation of Zoom Photographer Scheme on locations and Persons operating it over decades

Zoom Photography Long Cons claiming Sperm Bank Access

Muddy Waters San Francisco Castro seems likely

Key elements were there. On one side of the street an Internet Cafe I was writing from and on the other side an apartment building. Someone from NA pointed out a woman chaning fairly frequently ala The Naked Guy and a scuzzy non white ex prisoner borrowed my SLR until he acted so creepy I demanded back earlier than he was borrowing it under verbal agreement.

Bizzare treatment of me followed that though I considered my own acts highly credible. Similar at Firehouse meeting of NA and also North Point where very scuzzy black person was making a scene. I think he said he was police but seemed more Marshall or something like that. Kept is acts hidden but was stalking me, often with his hands towards his genetilas in an upscale meeting AA location.

Folsom Street Eviction

I was living a a major scene area of FOlsom street very close to Tom Dunham and across the street from a bar he and I often hung out at. With no provocation whatsover my belongings were destroyed and I was thrown out while not there. Nothing made any sense butI was obviosouly being gang stalked in the gay bar downstairs in which innuendo and verbal assaults of me made no sense whatsoever.

The judge and everyone else refused any allegation against me and all non-sequitor assault on me (not flowing from anything I ever did) was non stop and unexplained.

Similar to my near rental with a meth dealer of an apartment across the street from Story Leather. Again, just all went cold on me, nothing to do with me or my actions.

Ball Park West. Foolish “Meet by the Poolside in the bushes” notice sent to me as a moron thinking I was in a college class, and of course I did not go along with it but a Doppelgänger did and I was evicted before getting there, all back females seem to set that up, and I had every legit right to live in Austin without fake allegations.

Both Stay and Play and Captiola same acts, and Casa Linda and Princess Apartments, all runing Doppelgänger scams.

Golds Gym, In Shape Fitness, LA Fitness, others placed bait for the Doppelgänger photograhper.

Same with Omin Hotel and Stripes.

In all cases negative activity of others in my vicinity will be ascribed to me and my positive activity will be ascribed to assailants positioning themselves in my vicinity during my work such as writing.

Mop Pushers create a fake legend of Fapping not occurring

At the DC Thermal Shelter, Bay Area Laundry, Target, Arlington County Sherrifs Detention, San Francisco streets, North Beach, Sea Wall, Golds Gym, Alrington Sport and Health, and other locations police reports, witnesses, photos, and other evidence show non whites engaged in masturbation at the site of women, particularly white women and often in swimwear, yoga pants, or cutoffs, not any particular fetish of mine.

In the Long Con these are also the Zoom Photographers who victimize women in my vicinity and work it out behind my back with a Protection Racket.

Character assaults upon me will be made associating me with the acts of others though any actual accusation against me will be absent from the staged innuendo.

Use of complicit personnel at homeless shelters chaning out sleeping locations or hotels claiming adjoing rooms has facilitated swapping the fapping from another to me or simply stigmatizing me need to get off in lue of having a partner.

Finally normal acts are escalated into peeping though not related to that so that evidence of peeping seems to exist while it is in fact not present.

Etiology again knocks

Everyone I ask says there is nothing at all in anyway unique to my genome yet people keep saying they are going to have my baby, also as they accuse me of irregular acts.

My belief is a scheme was needed to claim rights to my genome so it can be moved in such a way as to move the origins of the maternal side of the Obama family to sought locations and also at the same time prevent me, the half brother of Obama, from living normally and developing my own family tree.

This is probably Enrique Prado's under ground CIA contracting using cirminals hired and payed through CIA contracting including Mena Airport and other locations, this is Andy Ellington connected, and this is Jeffery Epstein connected blackmail for genetic rights designer babies for elite of society and US Military use including through the Ukraine as a genomics rebel base which operates on behalf of the Illuminati as does Little Rock connected people.

PAUL OLSON - A Federal witness in investigations to drug money corruption in Chicago politics, Paul had just finished 2 days of FBI interviews when his plane ride home crashed, killing Paul and 130 others on Sept 8 1994. The Sept. 15, 1994 Tempe Tribune newspaper reported that the FBI suspected that a bomb had brought down the airplane.

USAir Flight 427 was a scheduled flight from Chicago's O'Hare International Airport to Pittsburgh International Airport, with a final destination of West Palm Beach, Florida.

After the longest investigation in the history of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB), it was determined that the probable cause was that the aircraft's rudder malfunctioned and went hard over in a direction opposite to that commanded by the pilots, causing the plane to enter an aerodynamic stall from which the pilots were unable to recover. All 132 people on board were killed, making the crash the deadliest air disaster in Pennsylvania's history.

USAir Flight 1016 was a regularly scheduled flight in the southeastern United States, between Columbia, South Carolina, and Charlotte, North Carolina. On JULY 2, 1994, the flight encountered heavy thunderstorms and microburst-induced windshear while attempting to land, and crashed into heavy trees and a private residence near the airport.The crash and ensuing fire caused 37 fatalities and seriously injured twenty others.

One Final Review of the Genoracketeering Money Laundering Scheme Before the Events at Stay and Play and Capitola

Witnesses to what?

Before I list the California main witness (Jim Vocelka and William Ruiz) it will be necessary to understand the long con being run which until about 8/1/2019 I did not understand because the scheme was protected from my scrutiny, protected by the appearance of statements made to me which when I attempted to pin them down were withdrawn, protected by blind conservator ship misrepresentation of me, and media support for the protection racket operates by plant stories to create the “Legend” cover stories.

(In the conduct of Espionage covert operatives operate in a bubble of cover story as to who they are and what they are doing and in at least my case they manufacture a Legend of who I am by staging photos out of my control, planting evidence with access to my apartments, elsewhere, paying off witnesses or pretending to be neutral witnesses, etc.,)

Arriving in Texas homeless in about 2014 and using Gold’s gym Corpus Christ in about 2014 I saw unusual activity around my gym bag on the floor. I had it with me because I did not have a good quality lock to protect it from evidence plants. Plain clothes people surrounded it and warned people away from it as though a hazard, at the time I thought an alleged bomb.

Over the course of years, I saw that surrounding my forearm smart phone etc., and in late 2019 realized others were peeping tom photographing the gym, begging me to take yoga, and alleging a yoga pants gym shorts buttock fetishism of mine.

The “Legend” I was the one with such fetish gave others the cover story to engage in peeping tom acts, deny to me there was any issue, and tell others to stay away from me, babysitting me” in plain clothes, denying to me any cause or need existed for any party to be near me, told me mere coincidence.

Part of the Legendary acts occur when a Doppelgänger of me is invited to a secret room, Capt Rogers antique store style, where Capt Rogers is caught with peeping tom porn and must pay up with his DNA. That I really was in the store was true, and somebody did say something codewords like to me. Resultantly, babysitting me” in plain clothes, denying to me any cause or need existed for any party to be near me, told me mere they were normal gym patrons near me by mere coincidence but told others they and I were protected by plain clothes people in between me and women.

Thus they never showed good cause to me for their acts and they knew the appearance I was aberrant and needed babysitting was actually based on their own acts dressed as me and said to others to be my acts.

Over many years I would find a Doppelgänger of me was a peeper and being assessed my DNA for that persons act of peeping, agreed to a blind trust of me, one with stated racial hatred of me, and for social justice in the fight of white Supremacism launching law-fare against me for acts not my own but for biological property of my own.

Use of empty character assassinations or retractable implications in conversation with me gave the cover for the fraud to exist. The fraud is that a Doppelgänger of me was the offender, I was blamed by parties alleging to support me, and I have been denied accounting. Though it not necessary to explain a motive for fraud I believe this is CIA, FBI, and Secret Service connected as well a black nationalist connected and tied to racial experimentation with my family's DNA dating back to 1961 and that now a cover story must be created for continuing CIA operations regarding my DNA.

From 2007 to 2009 I was in a federal medical hospital trying to trace the theories of black nationalism which was the belief of assailants of my mother and I. Someone said to have been FBI SIS or Marshalls undercover as a prisoner made death threats against me repeatedly that my throat would be slashed, my balls would be cut off, and Jessica SImpson would be fucked by blacks, Jessica Simpson a bikini blonde on his coffee mug.

This person also assaulted me about my mother's heart stopping from Potassium congestive heart failure while I was in prison, a worry of me at the time, proving to me he was some sort of plant to assault me, he would not have otherwise in any possible way known the situation with my mother.

This I think is tied to the long term black nationalist street thug assaults that have been inexplicable over the course of my life and my mother's life and I now think tied to Black Hebrew Israelite and an Illuminati plan tied to my DNA in religious foreign racial use, Feb 20 Spiritual Code. My reproductivity ended and the appearance of the value of DNA as it exists in me must be erased if this DNA is to become "black DNA."

In Mountain Prophecies from Linda Newkirk it does seem black nationalists have targeted my mother and myself, in my case certainly for three decades.

With the core scheme outlined the witnesses to it will be identified in each location starting with Stay and Play then Capitola.

The core scheme is I will be defamed by a frame job behind my back, a peeping event probably at a teen or tot and probably buttocks. The actual perpetrators will character assassinate me with the moral high ground of a Sheriffs cap or something suggesting the Sheriff is an inch behind me, but the what I am not accused of was done by the person in the Sheriff's hat who will then ask any woman I was near to take the fake Sheriff as a substitute for me, behind my back, and that women will ask the fake Sheriff to sign my DNA over to others around the world and inter racially.

Finally, the White Supremacist Scum Bag will be sent packing. As I have pointed out this is the cause of my racial issues, this aggression towards me, and not the effect of them.

Defeating White Supremacism by Assets Smuggling and Humanism to the Needy

Humanism Google knowledge panel retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

Humanism is a philosophical stance that emphasizes the value and agency of human beings, individually and collectively. The meaning of the term humanism has fluctuated according to the successive intellectual movements which have identified with it. Wikipedia

I am asserting the Masons are continuing under oddly convoluted means to smuggle my genome and life work product to

- Themselves, their careers, and children
- To the entire world, where it all seems to have come from, rather than Windsors Kutscheras, but since I am the source, its genetic match to me also makes sense should that be identifiable.

Effectively an underground railroad spreading Soverign tied legacy genes into the world creating world equality and undermining racism, poverty, and war conditions.

Defining Subversion

Subversion, like terrorism and insurgency, has no universally accepted definition (Spjut, 1979, p. 254). For scholars such as Charles Townshend (1993, p. 116), the term is so elastic as to be virtually devoid of meaning, and its use does little more than convey the “enlarged sense of the vulnerability of modern systems to all kinds of covert assaults.” Indeed, during the Cold War, the British Security Service (MI5) defined subversion as a generalized intention to “overthrow or undermine parliamentary democracy by political, industrial or violent means” (UK Security Service, 2005). Among American officials, “subversion” was an equally imprecise term, most often used when describing real or more fanciful clandestine efforts (by communists, typically) to undermine the United States and its friends and allies.7

Viet Cong: The Proselytizing Program

he communist opposition in South Vietnam embraced a strategy that employed both violentand nonviolent methods in an interconnected way. What Douglas Pike (1966), p. 85) termed the NLF’s “violence program” included terrorism, guerrilla warfare, and conventional military operations. The NLF’s “political struggle” included a range of actions intended to build support among the Vietnamese people, mobilize the population, and weaken the ability of the Saigon government to prosecute the war. For the NLF, however, the political struggle was by no means secondary to the armed campaign; rather, these two elements were conceptualized as equal d complementary components of the overall campaign against the Saigon regime (CIA, 1966, p. 14

Wikipedia retrieved from Psychological warfare and copied or modified to here

Psychological warfare (PSYWAR), or the basic aspects of modern psychological operations (PSYOP), have been known by many other names or terms, including MISO, Psy Ops, political warfare, “Hearts and Minds”, and propaganda.[1] The term is used “to denote any action which is practiced mainly by psychological methods with the aim of evoking a planned psychological reaction in other people”.[2]

Various techniques are used, and are aimed at influencing a target audience’s value system, belief system, emotions, motives, reasoning, or behavior. It is used to induce confessions or reinforce attitudes and behaviors favorable to the originator’s objectives, and are sometimes combined with black operations or false flag tactics. It is also used to destroy the morale of enemies through tactics that aim to depress troops’ psychological states.[3][4]

Target audiences can be governments, organizations, groups, and individuals, and is not just limited to soldiers. Civilians of foreign territories can also be targeted by technology and media so as to cause an effect in the government of their country.[5]

In Propaganda: The Formation of Men’s Attitudes, Jacques Ellul discusses psychological warfare as a common peace policy practice between nations as a form of indirect aggression. This type of propaganda drains the public opinion of an opposing regime by stripping away its power on public opinion. This form of aggression is hard to defend against because no international court of justice is capable of protecting against psychological aggression since it cannot be legally adjudicated. “Here the propagandists is [sic] dealing with a foreign adversary whose morale he seeks to destroy by psychological means so that the opponent begins to doubt the validity of his beliefs and actions.”[6][7]

Sometimes there may be one or more simultaneous insurgencies (multipolar) occurring in a country.

Forms of Subversion

In addition to fomenting riots, what other activities might be characterized as subversive? Subversive actions can be grouped into three interrelated categories: (1) establishing front groups and penetrating and manipulating existing political parties; (2) infiltrating the armed forces, the police, and other institutions of the state, as well as important nonstate organizations; and (3) generating civil unrest through demonstrations, strikes, and boycotts. These categories will be discussed in turn below and will be explored more fully in the case studies.

Front Groups

To gain public credibility, attract new supporters, generate revenue, and acquire other resources, terrorist and insurgent groups need to undertake political activities that are entirely separate, or appear to be entirely separate, from the overtly violent activities of those groups. Sometimes this is achieved by infiltrating political parties, labor unions, community groups, and charitable organizations. Working in and through existing organizations, which provide a façade of legitimacy that might otherwise be unobtainable, terrorists and insurgents can bolster political allies, attack government policies, and attract international support. For those situations in which infiltration is too difficult, terrorists and insurgents may establish their own front groups - that is, organizations that purport to be independent but are in fact created and controlled by others. Front groups, notes John Thompson (2003), "can draw the sting of disapproval away from the cause and re-direct it against the state or institution that the terrorists are attacking." During the Cold War, front groups were established by many insurgent and terrorist groups, including the FMLN, the Viet Cong, and Sendero Luminoso (Shining Path). Today, groups as diverse as al Qaeda, the Kurdistan People's Congress (formerly known as the Partiya Karkaren Kurdistan), Lashkar-i-Taiyibah in Jammu and Kashmir, and the LTTE operate through political, social, and charitable fronts (Gunaratna, 2004, p. 95; Foreign Broadcast Information Service [FBIS], 2002; "Workers' Party," n.d.). Sinn Fein, the so-called "political wing" of the Provisional Irish Republican Army and arguably the most famous terrorist front in modern times, continues to serve as the respectable public face of Irish republican terrorism.

Infiltration

Terrorists and insurgents who penetrate state institutions can derive at least five significant benefits. The first is information: Infiltrating organs of the state, particularly the security forces, can help generate invaluable information about the government's capabilities, intentions, and weaknesses. Such infiltration, therefore, might be considered a form of intelligence collection against the state. Second, penetration can give terrorists and insurgents opportunities to plant false information, redirect the state's potentially lethal gaze, force the authorities to misallocate resources, and otherwise derail the state's campaign. This too is a type of intelligence operation; like counterintelligence (CI) carried out by government intelligence services, it (secretly) aims to disrupt the organization and operations of enemy forces. Third, successful infiltration may lead to opportunities to steal government funds, weapons, equipment, and other resources. Fourth, penetration allows insurgents and terrorists to "talent spot" potential recruits and identify candidates for blackmail or bribery. Finally, infiltration can contribute to the terrorist and insurgent strategy of weakening and delegitimizing the incumbent power.15 Just as infiltrators can help derail the state's counterterrorist or counterinsurgency campaign, so too can they degrade the state's ability to provide key public services by misdirecting resources, stealing funds, and spreading false and divisive rumors among those in the government workforce.

Infiltration of government institutions has been a tactic of revolutionaries at least sincethe time of Lenin, who concluded more than a century ago that "unless the revolution assumesa mass character and affects the troops, there can be no question of a serious struggle. Thatwe must work among the troops goes without saying" (Lenin, 1900).16 But the tactic is by nomeans confined to Marxist-Leninist groups. Al Qaeda reportedly claims to have infiltrated keygovernment agencies within the United Arab Emirates (Lathem, 2006), and in Bangladesh,the radical Jamaat-e-Islami party, which sponsors a network of 15,000 guerrillas, has filled thecountry's armed forces, security services, and civilian agencies with its sympathizers (Harrison,2006, p. 15). In Iraq, as mentioned above, insurgents have reportedly infiltrated the armedforces, the police, and intelligence services (Inspectors General, 2005, p. 22; "Insurgents,"2005). Such penetrations can have deadly consequences. An insurgent mortar attack on anIraqi National Guard base north of Baghdad in October 2004 killed four and wounded 80;according to a press account (Schmitt and Shanker, 2004, p. 1), the attack "came at the exacttime guardsmen were mustering for a ceremony, which is seen by experts as an indication thatthose firing off the mortars held inside information."

Finally, it must be mentioned that insurgent infiltration is not limited to state institutions, as again demonstrated today in Iraq. In Anbar province, insurgents have systematically infiltrated universities, where they reportedly occupy top academic and administrative positions. Iraq's oil industry, the country's most important economic sector, is also thoroughly penetrated by the insurgents, who have gone so far as to establish affiliated front companies to rake off illicit earnings.

Civil Unrest

As with infiltration, fomenting riots, organizing strikes, and staging demonstrations can have a corrosive effect on the power, presence, and capabilities of the state. Such unrest is first and foremost an affront to governmental authority, and the failure to suppress it can have damaging political repercussions for the state by demonstrating that it is incapable of living up to its fundamental responsibility to maintain public order. At the same time, however, overreaction by the security forces can play into the hands of terrorists and insurgents by seeming to confirm the opposition's claims about the fundamentally repressive nature of the state. The death of a demonstrator at the hands of the Berlin police in 1967 helped radicalize a generation of German young people, who came to believe that the Federal Republic of Germany was the Nazi regime reborn - a key component in the ideology of subsequent terrorist groups, most notably the RAF.

Civil unrest can prove useful in a variety of other political and operational ways. Largescale discord can deplete the resources of the state by forcing the authorities to deploy additional police, pay overtime, and in some cases send troops into the streets. With the security forces otherwise occupied, insurgents and terrorists gain a respite from the incumbent's campaign against them (U.S. Marine Corps Intelligence Activity, n.d. [1999]). Additionally, the greater presence of the security forces in response to unrest - in the form of patrols, roadblocks, and searches - can help the cause of the terrorists and insurgents by seeming to confirm the opposition's inevitable charge that the state has "militarized" the conflict and is now "at war" with people.

Strikes can cause serious economic damage. As Carlos Marighella observed in his Minimanual of the Urban Guerrilla (1969), perhaps the most widely read revolutionary "how-to" manual of the 1960s, > strikes … although they are of brief duration, cause severe damage to the enemy … [by] disrupting daily life, occurring endlessly, one after the other, in true guerrilla fashion.

Even less violent forms of unrest, such as worker absenteeism, passive resistance, boycotts, and deliberate attempts to cripple government agencies by "overloading the system" with false reports, can have powerfully disruptive effects, both economically and politically (Molnar, 1963, p. 102). According to one scholar associated with HT, "a regime could be brought down through acts of civil disobedience such as strikes, non-cooperation with the authorities, or demonstrations" (quoted in ICG, 2003, p. 7).

GUERRILLA WARFARE

guerrilla warfare, also spelled guerilla warfare, type of warfare fought by irregulars in fast-moving, small-scale actions against orthodox military and police forces and, on occasion, against rival insurgent forces, either independently or in conjunction with a larger political-military strategy.

GUERRILLA WARFARE

Guerrilla warfare is a form of irregular warfare in which small groups of combatants, such as paramilitary personnel, armed civilians, or irregulars, use military tactics including ambushes, sabotage, raids, petty warfare, hit-and-run tactics, and mobility, to fight a larger and less-mobile traditional military.

Guerrilla Warfare (for reasons of anonymity and asymmetry) avoid direct conflict with a uniformed military or target. Instead they harass the target's by creating hostile environments. Telephone lines may be cut, finances destroyed, assassination from undetected snipers, cars or bridges destroyed, fires set, planes downed, etc.,

Types of Subversion

I continue to assert many crimes and murders took place in Seattle following the events of the April 1962 Worlds Fair in which Donald Barr along with the Windsors and Kennedy family created Barrack Obama Jr. Recent series of events including under DOJ William Barr flash mobs invading and destorying that precict police station of which Willam Barr was quite forgiving.

Subversion can generally be broken down into internal and external subversion, but this distinction is not meant to imply that each follows a specific set of unique and separate tools and practices. Each subversive campaign is different because of the social, political, economic, cultural, and historical differences that each country has. Subversive activities are employed based upon an evaluation of these factors. This breakdown merely clarifies who the actors are. While the subversive actors may be different, the soon to be subverted targets are the same. As Paul Blackstock identifies, the ruling and political elites are the ultimate targets of persuasion because they control the physical instruments of state power.[18]

Internal subversion is actions taken by those within a country and can be used as a tool of power. In most cases the use or threat of force is the last step of internal subversion.[19]

External subversion is actions taken by another country in cooperation with those inside the subverted country and can be used as a tool of statecraft. Foreign volunteers from another country are not enough to qualify for external subversion.[17] The reason for this is that the individuals may legitimately share the cause of the internal subversive dissidents and have legitimately volunteered. Only when the government itself furnishes a nation with money, arms, supplies, or other help to dissidents can it be called external subversion.[20]

Tactics

Insurgencies differ in their use of tactics and methods. In a 2004 article, Robert R. Tomes spoke of four elements that "typically encompass an insurgency":[24]

- cell-networks that maintain secrecy (such as mole staffed Law Enforcement Intelligence Units)
- terrorism used to foster insecurity among the population and drive them to the insurgents for protection
- multifaceted attempts to cultivate support in the general population, often by undermining the new regime
- attacks against the government

Those recruiting Subversives often use motivations of nationalizing private resources, dispossessing property owners for divy, and ethnic or racial based robberies in my case genetics.

Offensive terror

Offensive terror can be defined as the killing of people, destruction of property, kidnapping, etc. It is usually a minor part of subversion and, "is used not to exert force in the transfer of state power, but is meant to cower the people or ruler".[33] Force used in this manner is meant to reinforce other forms or persuasion in addition to cowering the people or leaders.[37] Additionally, much like civil unrest and agitation, it raises the question of whether or not the state can provide security for the population. Terror also provides a practical motivation of physically removing political opponents. The assassination of an organization's leader may open the door to a successor that is more friendly to the subversives position or possibly someone that has successfully infiltrated the organization and is in fact one of the subversives.

Bribery

Bribery is one of the most common tools of subversion. Most societies see bribery as a form of corruption and it used as a subversive tool because it, "implies the undermining of existing rules of political or moral conduct".[38] It can also be one of the less reliable tools as well. Bribed officials are only useful if they take action. However actions taken over a period of time draw suspicion from the public. The official must be able to carefully conceal their actions or perform only key functions and action. For these reasons bribed officials are most effective when they are asked to take immediate action. In the case of external subversion, bribery is usually used for influence rather than for actions.[39]

Subversive activity is the lending of aid, comfort, and moral support to individuals, groups, or organizations that advocate the overthrow of incumbent governments by force and violence. All willful acts that are intended to be detrimental to the best interests of the government and that do not fall into the categories of treason, sedition, sabotage, or espionage are placed in the category of subversive activity.

I have law abiding religious and political and erotic interests thus I could never figure out why an Espionage Subversion schemem would target them.

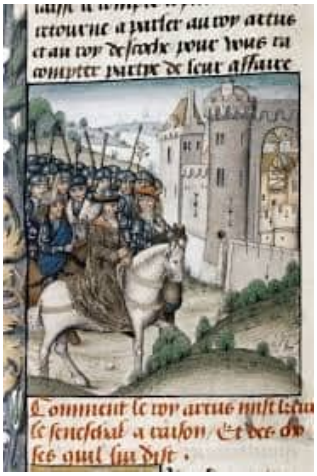
Lancelot Analogy



Lancelot du Lac (Frenchy for Lancelot of the Lake), also written as Launcelot and other variants (such as early German Lanzelet, early French Lanselos, early Welsh Lanslod Lak, Italian Lancelotto, Spanish Lanzarote del Lago, and Welsh Lawnslot y Llyn), is a character in some versions of Arthurian legend, where he is typically depicted as King Arthur's close companion and one of the greatest Knights of the Round Table. In the French-inspired Arthurian chivalric romance tradition, Lancelot is the orphaned son of King Ban of the lost kingdom of Benwick, raised in the fairy realm by the Lady of the Lake. A hero of many battles, quests and tournaments, and famed as a nearly unrivalled swordsman and jouster, Lancelot becomes the lord of Joyous Gard and personal champion of Arthur's wife Queen Guinevere. But when his adulterous affair with Guinevere is discovered, it causes a civil war that is exploited by Mordred to end Arthur's kingdom.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The issue of Glorian's DNA, who has it, who had it, who was entitled to it, and espionage interest and activities surrounding the mistakes of Sidney Gottleib and other, the Gotlieb Glorian affair much like the Lancelot Guinevere illicit affair new has an internal civil war of covert forces and abuse of commands like CENTCOM and DARPA as though Lancelot using them as forces against Arthur, but actually the rebellion holds the US Throne as moles of Lancelot already.

As I point out in Double Entry Fraud the manufacture of the fraud is visible to Tom Dunham and I but away from us it is accepted as truthful by those will depend on its veracity and the excuse of the fraud then become the means of abuse of processes, processes others accept as legitimate.

The questions posed are 1) Who manufactures the excuses, 2) Who depends on the excuses, 3) Who do they benefit, and perhaps in summary of 1-3, 4) Who will budge from the falsity when confronted with the truth or who will cling to excuses

A Knight's Tale

I care for the meat that I eat, that it is good, not spoiled, and thus I am healthy and at my prime.

I choose that from my father and uncle Harold of South Carolina and the farm.

Working on cars and keeping the old ones in the back yard in a row of overgrown weeds was a Southern way.

At any time the tinking might begin and one brough out of mothball again. Harold, my mother's adoptive brother always told me driving was not about the paint but knowning under the hood was O.K, the rest was busy work if there was time.

My father flew great planes in his life and he depended on them too.

We are people of our choices and of our decisions. I did drugs in college and made lots of mistakes.

At times I have been called delusional on my many missions including MKULTRA Birther / Truther.

Whether it is true or not I do not know. Was Glorian the daughter of King Edward VIII, an out of wedlock child of then Prince Edward of Wales and Maria Kutschera Von Trapp rescued by the Catholic Church?

That is my best guess. But I am a pawn on the chess board with an Inquisition system of attacks on that belief.

Perhaps I am more Miguel de Cervantes

(Spanish: [miˈɣel de θeɾˈβantes saˈβeðɾa]; 29 September 1547 (assumed) 22 April 1616 NS)[6] was a Spanish writer widely regarded as the greatest writer in the Spanish language, and one of the world's pre-eminent novelists. He is best known for his novel Don Quixote, a work often cited as both the first modern novel,[7][8][9] and one of the pinnacles of literature.[10][11]

Much of his life was spent in poverty and obscurity, many of its details are disputed or unknown, and the bulk of his surviving work was produced in the three years preceding his death. Despite this, his influence and literary contribution are reflected by the fact that Spanish is often referred to as "the language of Cervantes".[12]

By 1580, Spain was occupied integrating Portugal, and suppressing the Dutch Revolt, while the Ottomans were at war with Persia; the two sides agreed a truce, leading to an improvement of relations.[46] After almost five years, and four escape attempts, in 1580 Cervantes was set free by the Trinitarians, a religious charity that specialised in ransoming Christian captives, and returned to Madrid.[47]

While Cervantes was in captivity, both Don John and the Duke of Sessa died, depriving him of two potential patrons, while the Spanish economy was in dire straits. This made finding employment difficult; other than a period in 1581 to 1582, when he was employed as an intelligence agent in North Africa, little is known of his movements prior to 1584.[48]

Cervantes and his manservant have been imprisoned by the Spanish Inquisition, and a manuscript by Cervantes is seized by his fellow inmates, who subject him to a mock trial in order to determine whether the manuscript should be returned. Cervantes' defense is in the form of a play, in which Cervantes takes the role of Alonso Quijano, an old gentleman who has lost his mind and now believes that he should go forth as a knight-errant. Quijano renames himself Don Quixote de La Mancha, and sets out to find adventures with his "squire", Sancho Panza.

Like Spanish atheist philosopher Santayana much or their life works rose out of the many long tribulations of Spain and the medieval forms of oppressions which regulated its people and art and like many Cubas or others (or Eastern Europeans) arriving in the United States during the cold war the fiercest of liberty loyalism is found in them, those such as Andy Grove.

Maybe some of Prince Andrews blood runs in me. I keep setting up web sites trying to deny that.

All that doesn't matter too much. I have found the USA and perhaps much of Europe may still be under disguised Medival Masons control and it is that I am fighting.

I will just have to let history work on this matter and keep studying philosopy and art and jump rop and dance to my own Knights music on my magical mission.

Good enough for me.

What I can tell is stealthy assailants have concealed themselves and identity and activities which have surrounded in particular my mother and myself.

This book is the culmination of exploring possible motives of the assailants and my best working theory is DNA from my family was missued by Sidney Gottlieb, not a big deal, but since then the coverup has been increasingly criminal, expanding, and desperate, and if the truth were found out by me or the public the underground NWO racket and racketeers would be held accountable.

Funding it the operation out of my trust fund left by my mother was a way to get funding clandestinely with shakedown law suits which then funded the operation acting under various disguises, such researching psychology, studying racism, or stopping exploitation of minors, created conflicts with me which are not naturally occurring.

Seth Rich killed by Rosenstein Started by Fishy Fisher, 7 hours ago

Joseph Rosati is a DEA agent, and according to the whistleblower, someone considered a "cleaner" by higher ups in Washington D.C.

According to whistleblower testimony I have now received, Joseph Rosati is, in fact, the man who hired two MS-13 agents to shake down Seth Rich that fateful night. The intention that night, according to the whistleblower, wasn't to murder Rich, but to scare him into submission and shake him down for a USB key he was supposedly still carrying on his person - perhaps containing even more revelations, and destined for Wikileaks? Instead, what ended up happening was Rich fought back and then ran when confronted by the armed men, and was subsequently shot in the back by the panicked MS-13 goons.

Rosati was supposedly on the scene, overseeing the whole debacle.

The whistleblower would go on to say that they would take the USB key and flee the scene because they had never intended to kill Rich in the first place, and in a moment of panic, a young man's life was cut short.

And again, shortly after this, two MS-13 members would turn up dead.

According to this whistleblower, Joseph Rosati was the man responsible for orchestrating all of this.

Rich would succumb to his wounds shortly thereafter, leading to rampant speculation as to the motive for his murder, and despite his family suing various individuals and corporations along the way, many were still left thinking that Rich was murdered by the the DNC and the Clinton Machine for, they speculated, leaking incriminating DNC files to Julian Assange and Wikileaks, eventually causing Hillary to lose the 2016 election, and to fuel the then-nascent Pizzagate investigations, as millions of concerned patriots became aware of just what exactly these leaked e-mails implied. After much research and deliberation, a large contingent of the community would go on to posit that two MS-13 gang members had been involved in the murder of Seth Rich, acting as guns for hire in a not-so-random hit. Two potential suspects would turn up dead in a nearby area shortly thereafter; perhaps the result of a kind of clean-up job.

Dr Bradstreet

Here's Why Authorities Searched The Offices Of Controversial Autism Doctor Bradstreet retrieved from Forbes Emily Willingham Former Contributor (Science) and copied or modified to here

According to a federal government warrant, the offices of controversial autism doctor Jeff Bradstreet were the target in June of a search related to an experimental drug for autism. The compound, globulin component macrophage-activating factor, known as GcMAF, is one that Bradstreet reportedly used in "over 2000 children" with autism. Bradstreet, according to authorities in Rutherford County, NC, committed suicide there on June 19, after the search warrant was executed in late June.

According to the copy of the warrant provided to me by the United States Attorney's Office of the Northern District of Georgia, the search warrant was executed at Bradstreet's Buford, GA, 'wellness center' because authorities were seeking information related to "evidence of a crime and contraband, fruits of crime, or items illegally possessed" associated with violations of interstate commerce statutes covering food, drug, or other products that are "adulterated or misbranded" and with "frauds and swindles" by "wire, radio, or television." Punishments for those convicted of these crimes can include fines and up to 20 years in prison.

The warrant specifically references GcMAF and any records related to sale, shipping, billing, and delivery of GcMAF. It also covers Bradstreet's financial records and Internet activities.

GcMAF is thought in some circles to modulate the immune system in ways that make it a treatment for everything from autism (which some believe is immune related) to cancer. Bradstreet was the focus of GcMAF and autism in online communities, with discussions centered around "doing the GcMAF through Bradstreet" in online forums. One forum references a link to Bradstreet's blog as having "several posts" related to GcMAF, but a search of the site in its current iteration turns up no GcMAF-related hits (ETA: Those posts apparently were deleted, but you can read some of at these links here, here, here, here, and here). At least some users who discussed doing GcMAF treatments through Bradstreet appear to have been US based and discussed traveling to his offices for the shots. The shots appear to have cost about $50 each.

A Bradstreet family member has set up a GoFundMe campaign site “to find the answers to the many questions leading up to the death of Dr Bradstreet,” and I have reached out through the site to that family member for comment.

DR. Jeff Bradstreet retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

James Jeffrey “Jeff” Bradstreet (JULY 6, 1954 - June 19, 2015), was an American doctor, alternative medicine practitioner, and a former preacher[2] who ran the International Child Development Resource Center in Melbourne, Florida,[3] a medical practice in Buford, Georgia[4] and in Arizona, where he practiced homeopathy.[5][6] He also founded the Good News Doctor Foundation, which aimed to combine Christian beliefs with his medical practice.[7]

Bradstreet obtained a Florida medical license in 1984. He received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of South Florida in 1976, where he also went to medical school beginning three years later. His postgraduate research focused on aerospace medicine, and he received his training in this field from Wilford Hall Medical Center. He was an adjunct professor of child development and neuroscience at the Southwest College of Naturopathic Medicine in Tempe, Arizona.[8]

Autism claims and treatments

Bradstreet published autism research, which he claimed indicated vaccines as a cause, in the Journal of American Physicians and Surgeons, which is not indexed by PubMed. This research claimed that autistic children had a higher body burden of mercury,[9] and that three autistic children had measles RNA in their cerebrospinal fluid.[10] The Institute of Medicine has rejected any relationship between vaccines and autism.[11]

Bradstreet treated Colten Benevento a child diagnosed with autism (one of the test cases in the autism omnibus trial) with chelation therapy on the premise of removing mercury from his body, in spite of the fact that hair, blood, and urine tests had failed to show he exhibited abnormal levels of mercury.[12] Over an eight-year period, Colten visited Bradstreet's office 160 times.[13] Stephen Barrett has stated, "It appears to me that Bradstreet decides which of his nonstandard theories to apply and records diagnoses that embody them," and describes Bradstreet's mercury provoked tests as "phony".[12] Peter Hotez characterized Bradstreet's proposal to treat autism with chelation therapy as "dangerous."[6]

In an interview with the Chicago Tribune, Bradstreet defended the use of intravenous immunoglobulin (IVIG) as an autism treatment, saying, "Every kid with autism should have a trial of IVIG if money was not an option and IVIG was abundant."[14] Bradstreet also published research regarding the use of hyperbaric oxygen therapy for autism,[15] some of which concluded it was ineffective,[16] as well as a paper arguing that autistic children have an increased vulnerability to oxidative stress.[17] Further treatments Bradstreet used on autistic children included the controversial protein GcMAF, with which he claimed to have treated 600 children.[18] In an article for an anti-vaccine magazine, Bradstreet endorsed stem cell therapy as an autism treatment.[19]

Personal life and death

Bradstreet was found dead from a gunshot wound to the chest in the Broad River in Rutherford County, North Carolina in June 2015, after his Buford, Georgia medical office was raided by the FDA in connection with an investigation into GcMAF treatments.[4][20][21] At the time of his death, he lived in Braselton and ran his medical practice in Buford.[4] While the police ruled Bradstreet's death a suicide, a conspiracy theory has spread holding that Bradstreet was murdered for his use of a "holistic" therapy.[22]

Bradstreet's son has been diagnosed with autism, which Bradstreet attributed to a vaccination his son received at age 15 months.[23]

At the height of a typhoon, Maryk urges the captain to reverse course into the wind and take on ballast, but Queeg refuses. Maryk, supported by Keith, relieves Queeg of command under Article 184. The Caine returns to San Francisco, where Maryk and Keith face a court-martial for mutiny. Wounded Naval Aviator, Lieutenant Barney Greenwald, an attorney before entering the Navy, becomes Maryk's defense counsel.

At the court-martial, Keefer claims he never observed any mental illness in Queeg and was "flabbergasted" when he was relieved. Under Greenwald's relentless cross-examination, Queeg exhibits odd behavior on the stand, and Maryk is acquitted.

Following the acquittal, the officers of the Caine hold a party, where Keefer receives a frosty reception from Maryk. A drunken Greenwald arrives and berates all the officers for not appreciating Queeg's long service and failing to give him the support he asked for. He denounces Keefer as the real "author" of the mutiny and throws a glass of champagne in Keefer's face. The rest of the officers walk out, leaving Keefer alone in the room.

In 2005, Time magazine listed Craig Newmark as one of the 100 people shaping the world.

Newmark serves on the board of several non-profit organizations such as CUNY Graduate School of Journalism, Girls Who Code and Vets in Tech, among others. He also holds roles on the advisory boards of 18 other non-profits.

In 2011, Newmark launched craigconnects, a non-profit initiative to support the efforts of other non-profits and public service organizations working in the areas of global poverty, the Middle East, veterans affairs, and low-income neighborhoods.[22] In 2015, he founded Craig Newmark Philanthropies,[23] which acts as an umbrella for his other foundations,[21] such as his private charitable foundation, to which he contributed $50 million in 2016 to support military families, voter registration efforts, and women in technology.

In January 2017, TechCrunch reported that Newmark donated $500,000 to Wikipedia's attempt at "reducing harassment and vandalism on the site and improve the tools moderators use every day to keep the peace".

Between 2016 and 2020, Newmark donated $170 million to support journalism, combating harassment of journalists, cybersecurity, and election integrity. Donations he made include: $1 million each to ProPublica and the Poynter Institute in 2017,[15] $1 million to the Global Cyber Alliance, $150,000 to Women in CyberSecurity, $250,000 to PEN America, and $250,000 to the Girl Scouts for cybersecurity programs. In September 2018, he gave $20 million to fund the creation The Markup, a non-profit news organization.[25] In 2018, Newmark's donations totaled $143 million.[26] That year, Newmark donated $1 million to Mother Jones to help the magazine combat fake news.[27] In 2019, he donated $6 million to Consumer Reports to fund a Digital Lab focused on consumer privacy rights and digital security.[28] Newmark made a $20 million endowment to the CUNY Graduate School of Journalism, which was subsequently renamed the Craig Newmark Graduate School of Journalism.[15] According to The Chronicle of Philanthropy, Newmark's donations in 2020 included giving $1 million to the Anti-Defamation League, $388,000 to the American Press Institute, and $350,000 to the Feminist Majority Foundation and Ms. magazine.[21] Bloomberg News reported that Newmark donated $10 million to charities focused on hunger issues in 2020, as well.

Newmark gave $5 million to the Poynter Institute, which used the funds to establish the Craig Newmark Center for Ethics and Leadership. Newmark's previous donation of $1 million to the Poynter established the Craig Newmark Journalism Ethics Chair. He also gave $10 million to Columbia University to establish a center for journalism ethics and security, as well as a professorship.

The Chronicle of Philanthropy ranked Newmark 17th out of 50 in its 2020 ranking of individual donors, giving a total of $100 million.

AP versus US

Finally, the argument is made that to apply the Sherman Act to this association of publishers constitutes an abridgment of the freedom of the press guaranteed by the First Amendment.

> Perhaps it would be a sufficient answer to this contention to refer to the decisions of this Court in Associated Press v. Labor Board, supra, and Indiana Farmer's Guide Co. v. Prairie Farmer Co., 293 U. S. 268. It would be strange indeed however if the grave concern for freedom of the press which prompted adoption of the First Amendment should be read as a command that the government was without power to protect that freedom.
> The First Amendment, far from providing an argument against application of the Sherman Act, here provides powerful reasons to the contrary. That Amendment rests on the assumption that the widest possible dissemination of information from diverse and antagonistic sources is essential to the welfare of the public, that a free press is a condition of a free society. Surely a command that the government itself shall not impede the free flow of ideas does not afford nongovernmental combinations a refuge if they impose restraints upon that constitutionally guaranteed freedom. Freedom to publish means freedom for all, and not for some. Freedom to publish is guaranteed by the Constitution, but freedom to combine to keep others from publishing is not. Freedom of the press from governmental interference under the First Amendment does not sanction repression of that freedom by private interests. The First Amendment affords not the slightest support for the contention that a combination to restrain trade in news and views has any constitutional immunity.

The Press is important to the USA. It is also important to the private business MKULTRA Cabal. The Press takes bribes. It can be bought. It is for sale. It is owned by business interests who will not out the Cabal thus the Press is not an avenue of defense against the Cabal or its treason.

The Press is connected to treason. By being on bill in the stack of bills wound together to stay in place and order.

From - PROOF COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY HELPED BRITISH SABOTEURS AND AMERICAN TRAITORS TAKEOVER AMERICA IN 1902 *

Columbia Law created globalist phantoms, specters and demons who have lumbered America's institutions with demonic laws since 1902

These demonic laws are so full of convoluted lawyer clap trap that demon-oppressed "lawmakers" now pass them without even reading them. This must stop. Now.

These demon-laws were specifically intended to destroy America's Judeo-Christian moral foundation, hasten a British takeover, and cull (murder) "deplorables," "useless eaters, "non-producers" from society-all of whom are loved by God and made in His image and likeness

The roots of the C.I.A. are the British Pilgrims Society's MI6 thru Columbia University Law

The official C.I.A. histories are all faked to conjure up American heroes out of demons and disguise its monopolist, warmongering, satanic, eugenicist British origins

Alleged C.I.A. founder William J. Donovan was a mere stooge for J.P. Morgan, Lord Rothschild and John D. Rockefeller who conspired with Columbia University to groom him (1903-07)

The Truth: C.I.A., NSA, FBI, DoD, DOS, SEC, Judiciary and multinational corporate intelligencers are American stooges controlled by the British Empire

The film’s title refers to the day that the Supreme Court commences its annual term, which continues until June or early July of the following year. - Wikipeida

Though I (Edward Paul Donegan) have not seen the film since its release in 1981 I do recall the subplot of the Momemtum Engine.

The fictional device described in the film was a form of engine which release continuous pressure energy rather than shock pulsing bangs and was more efficient than cylinder based internal combustion engines.

This was described in the grocery store as gliding rather than banging on the handle of shopping carts losing most energy in the bang to problems in acceleration to energy expended energy consumption rations.

During the course of trying to being the Momentum Engine to market the enormouse cash power of the oil industry was able to frurstrate all attempts incling supporting law suits required to bring the invention to market.

Countering Foreign Propaganda and Disinformation Act retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Countering Foreign Propaganda and Disinformation Act is a bipartisan bill that was introduced by the United States Congress on 10 May 2016. The bill was initially called the Countering Information Warfare Act.

The bipartisan legislation was written in March 2016 by U.S. Senators Rob Portman (R, OH) and Chris Murphy (D, CT). It was additionally introduced in the United States

House of Representatives in a bipartisan fashion; co-sponsors included Congressmen Adam Kinzinger (R, IL) and Ted Lieu (D, CA).

In both the House and Senate the bill was included in the National Defense Authorization Act for fiscal year 2017. It passed the House in this fashion in a conference report vote on 2 December 2016. The Senate then passed the measure in a conference report on December 8 by a tally of 92-7.

On 23 December 2016, President Obama signed the 2017 National Defense Authorization Act into law.[1]

The story and facts I assert are threaten to the Cabal are defeated by Deep State PsyOps which I am a victim of. The turth or importance of this story, the story in this book and of my family history, will not be recognized by the Cabal whose existence the story threatens.

Michael Hastings and Valerie Jarrett at Barack Obama's victory party, 2012 and the scene of his fiery Jun18 2013 traffic death

Unlike government whisteblowers who have received hostile treatment from the Obama Administration - Peter Van Buren, Jesselyn Radack, John Kiriakou, Sibel Edmonds and Bradley Manning (to name a few) - a Lieutenant Colonel in the Army has written a damning indictment of America's highest military officers and the Afghan war without losing his job or rank.

Lt. Col. Daniel Davis published a candid 84-page report (via Rolling Stone) that is highly critical of the 2009 Afghan surge and the distortion of truth by senior ranking officials about the conditions on the ground in Afghanistan.

Lt. Col. Daniel Davis, who released a highly critical report regarding the distortion of truth by senior military officials in Iraq and Afghanistan, dedicated a section of his report to Information Operations (IO) and states that after Desert Storm the military wanted to transform IO "into a core military competency on a par with air, ground, maritime and special operations."

Davis quotes Brigadier General Ralph O. Baker - the Pentagon officer responsible for the Department of Defense's Joint Force Development (i.e. Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marines) - who defines IO as activities undertaken to "shape the essential narrative of a conflict or situation and thus affect the attitudes and behaviors of the targeted audience" and equates descriptions of combat operations with standard marketing strategies:

Davis defines IO as "the integrated employment of electronic warfare (EW), computer network operations (CNO), psychological operations (PSYOP), military deception (MILDEC), and operations security (OPSEC), in concert with specified supporting and related capabilities, to influence, disrupt, corrupt or usurp adversarial human and automated decision making while protecting our own."

Information Operations (IO) are primarily used to target foreign audiences, but Davis cites numerous senior leaders who want to (in the words of Colonel Richard B. Leap) "protect a key friendly center of gravity, to wit US national will" by repealing the Smith-Mundt Act to allow the direct deployment of these tactics on the American public.

OBTUSE (FRON OXFORD OED, DICTIONARY.COM, ELSEWHERE)

The adjective obtuse is good for describing someone slow on the uptake: "Don't be so obtuse: get with the program!" The adjective obtuse literally means "rounded" or "blunt,"

1. annoyingly insensitive or slow to understand. "he wondered if the doctor was being deliberately obtuse"

2. (of an angle) more than 90° and less than 180°.

ACUTE

having or showing a perceptive understanding or insight; shrewd. "an acute awareness of changing fashions"

DEMURE

reserved, modest, and shy

To demur is to show reluctance or to hesitate, like not quite getting in the car when someone opens the door, but demure isalways an adjective describing a modest, reserved, or shy person, and sounds like the mew of a tiny kitten.

(Defense uses Demurer) Although Charlie does owe the debt, Charlie believes the facts in the complaint [against Charlie] are not adequate to prove it, or grant relief to Fierce Loans. Also, he does not believe the complaint is worth his time to answer. He proceeds to file an objection to the complaint with the court in the form of a demurrer. In his demurrer, he states all the reasons he feels the judge should not allow the case to proceed. The judge grants the demurrer. In this example, Fierce Loans' allegations were true, but they did not present enough facts to prove the debt was owed by Charlie. Therefore, the judge did not accept the case (or drink the water)! Study.com

Obtuse acts such as blocking or marking off windows in my vicinity (Obtuse meanings space) rather than acute narrow asserts of facts "Ed is a peeper thus Ed we are blocking your use of the window" [a narrow meaning]

In short, to Demurer is to fall back and accept there is no grounds to continue, the defense may assert that as to a plaintiff actions, or a plaintif may demure upon a defendent asserting the plaintif has no case.

Legal Definition - Demurrer is a written statement or plea in response to a legal complaint made against another person; it does not dispute the truth, only the evidence presented is not adequate enough to bring relief or a cause of action. When an official complaint is made against another person in a court of law, a demurrer is a great way to offset any further court proceedings. It alerts the judge the case is not worthy of continuance and therefore calls for dismissal of the lawsuit.

Plaintiff uses Demurer (after Obtuse acts of innuendo only are offered as double entendre) coming from Plaintiffs but upon defendent challenge (Ed Donegan) plaintiffs Demures innuedno rescinding any plaintiff allegation and fall back to nothing was meant to be asserted other than single entender

The modus operandi is to plant misleading information through innuendo or suggestiveness, but to avoid debate about truthfullness of the innuendo

> Truth is treason in an empire of lies

The title of this blog is a quote from former Congressman and presidential candidate, Ron Paul.

George Orwell said it similarly: "In a time of universal deceit - telling the truth is a revolutionary act."

> "One of the saddest lessons of history is this: If we've been bamboozled long enough, we tend to reject any evidence of the bamboozle. We're no longer interested in finding out the truth. The bamboozle has captured us. It's simply too painful to acknowledge, even to ourselves, that we've been taken. Once you give a charlatan power over you, you almost never get it back." - Carl Sagan

Press Club San Francisco attempts to and does humiliate my mother

My mother in the 1970s and 80 was in various organiozations and activities and was a member of the National Press Club and we had some kind of family membership.

I loved reading from old books and historical works and they had these really nice green tinted desk reading lights that added a lot of ambience for reading their in-house books or those that you could bring yourself.

At one time Honey Binning and I stopped by there and I just showed her the environment while we were in San Francisco which we went to every now and then though I lived in Moraga and she lived in Oakland.

Once we walked through the place after Saint Patricks Day in San Francisco, I don't think drunk, then, more on our way INTO the city and getting started but we might have had something to drink at this point.

Later my mother began to get treated in a biaaze and humuliating way. She was very knowledgable and her dues were kept up but they began to sneer at her and suggest she was unable to pay her dues and also suggest she may not be the correct type of person for evcents, with a clear anti south carolina sneer.

I had always thoughty they were retaliationg against me and Honey but in retrospect they may also have been stalking her based on the types of treatment though disputes which emerged fit the cast of.

Biography

Carl Sagan was born in 1934 in Brooklyn, New York. Sagan had a childhood interest in astronomy that never disappeared and influenced him later in life. Finishing high school at the age of 16, Sagan headed to the University of Chicago, graduating in 1955 with a BA in physics and obtained his masters a year later and then went on to get a PhD in astronomy and astrophysics. After finishing at the University of Chicago, he moved to Berkeley, CA where he did research at the University of California, helping a team develop new technology for NASA.

The original Greek word daimon does not carry negative connotations.[1] The Ancient Greek word		Nor should it. In my reading of the history of Paganism those who wish to create a new understanding δαίμων daimōn denotes a spirit or divine power, much like the Latin genius or numen.[2] The Greek conception of a daimōn notably appears in the works of Plato, where it describes the divine inspiration of Socrates.		often “Demonize” the old beliefs, making them a thing of fright. What is Demonized today, and what do Free Masons or other religious affiliations fear as new form of Devil?

The Bamaboozle requires the belief in its Lie it requires disbelief of that which nullifies it. Thus to move forward in understanding, perhaps a stride of two steps, one step must be backwards to unlearn what contradicts advancement in theory.

This is the Epiphany this book, Illuminati Dawn, looks towards. We must unlearn that genes were equal around the globe, even those affecting brain development.

With most agreeing that is a strop backward in our understanding we can move forward with a new understating of Illuminati mistakes and Illuminati profiteering.

> Questions about the death of Alan David Standorf, a Whitehall High School graduate whose corpse was found at a Washington, D.C., airport 10 days ago, may never be answered because of the highly classified nature of Standorf's Army job, his brother said yesterday.

Standorf, 34, was a civil employee of Vint Hill Farm, a military security installation near Manassas, Va., but he resigned from that job in December because his Army Reserves unit had been called for Persian Gulf War training at Fort Bragg, N.C., police said.

A brother, Mark Standorf of Bethlehem, said the last time family members saw Standorf alive was Dec. 28, when he was visiting relatives in the Lehigh Valley before heading back to the D.C. area. Mark Standorf said Alan visited friends in Virginia on New Year's Eve, and he saw his landlady the following day.

Dr. Stephen Sheehy of the Medical Examiner's Office in Northern Virginia confirmed information the family was given — that Standorf died of a blunt force blow to the back of the head around Jan. 4.

Standorf's body, with no visible wounds, was found the night of Jan. 28 under clothing and luggage on the back floor of his small car, Sheehy said.

Standorf's car had been on a short-term parking lot at Metropolitan Washington National Airport since Jan. 4, said David Hess, spokesman for the Metropolitan Washington Airport police.

ark Standorf said his mother, Jeanette, would worry when Alan might casually mention that he was thinking of getting out of military work to become a policeman. When Mrs. Standorf once commented that a policeman's job would be too dangerous, Alan replied, 'What I do now is dangerous,'" Mark Standorf recalled. "Apparently whatever he (Alan) was doing was for the war."

"Everything he did was classified," Mark Standorf said, adding that if family conversation turned to work, Alan would quickly remind them he couldn't talk about it.

Standorf's civilian job was to oversee security measures at Vint Hill, which was described by police source as a "listening post" that would monitor radio communications from around the world.

The Standorf family moved to Whitehall in 1968 when Standorf's father, Norman, accepted a job transfer. After graduating from Whitehall High School in 1974, Alan Standorf entered the Army.

"Most of his years in the Army, he was stationed in Germany with military intelligence," Mark Standorf said. His brother graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1986, when he got his commission in the reserves, Mark Standorf said.

People believe what they want to believe. Conversely, they don't believe what they don't want to believe. That's just human nature. Most people seem to have found the source of political news that they prefer, and they agree with the views they hear or read, and there would be no harm in that if the news media was always reliable, but it isn't. There is reckless journalism from the far left all the way through to the far right. We're not asking anyone to change their political views.

We're just asking folks to be responsible enough to accept that journalism can be reckless or even self-serving and can cause great harm. We have categorized the reckless journalism that relates to the topic of our website and we give specific examples. We hope that folks will realize the damage that has been caused to people's lives and the barriers that have been built in finding justice for Kevin and Don, because of the likes of Unsolved Mysteries, 60 Minutes, The Washington Post, The Arkansas

The Crimes of Mena, by Sally Denton and Roger Morris was scheduled to appear in the Washington Post. After having cleared the legal department for all possible questions of inaccurate statements, the article was scheduled for publication

Just when the presses were set to roll, Washington Post Managing Editor Bob Kaiser (like George Bush, a member of the infamous “Skull & Bones Fraternity), killed the article without explanation. According to the sidebar which appeared with the Penthouse Magazine version of this story, Bob Kaiser refused to even meet with Sally Denton and Roger Morris, hiding in his office while his secretary made excuses.

Chapter Ten

And because of your suffering, alone, My Little One, and because of your heartfelt prayers on behalf of all of humanity, these evil ones will not use hyperspace as they have and will not use this medium again to further enslave humanity. And, while their weapons of terror are many and vast, I have crippled them severely this day and “only” and I say “only” again because of the terrible abuses, which you have suffered at the hands of Satan and those in the U. S. Government, especially and including George W. Bush and Bill Clinton! But, the worst of the two for you have been George. W. Bush, and these things he did to you in spite of the fact that My warnings through you saved his life!

Today, My Child, marks a great defeat for the U.S. Government, for George W. Bush, for the CIA, for NSA and the FBI. For, all of their combined efforts, plus the efforts of Satan and many others in government failed to kill you or to make you bow down to them.

STUNT

To stunt is to slow or hinder. Some people say that drinking coffee will stunt your growth when you're a teenager - they worry that you won't grow any taller.

Poor nutrition can stunt your growth, and bad soil will do the same for a plant - a lack of moisture or nutrients will stunt the development of your lettuce or tomatoes. Another meaning of stunt is a dangerous trick, the kind performed in an action movie or by planes in an air show. The root of “check the growth” is the Old English stunt, “short witted or foolish,” while the “trick” kind of stunt comes from nineteenth century American college slang.

    - v. check the growth or development of “You will stunt your growth by building all these muscles”
    - n. a creature (especially a whale) that has been prevented from attaining full growth

    - n, a difficult or unusual or dangerous feat; usually done to gain attention
    - v. perform a stunt or stunts

Corruption is a form of dishonesty or criminal offense undertaken by a person or organization entrusted with a position of authority, to acquire illicit benefit or abuse power for one's private gain. Corruption may include many activities including bribery and embezzlement, though it may also involve practices that are legal in many countries.[1] Political corruption occurs when an office-holder or other governmental employee acts in an official capacity for personal gain. Corruption is most commonplace in kleptocracies, oligarchies, narco-states and mafia states.[2]

Vocabulary.com retrieved from link and copied or modified to here is a government whose corrupt leaders (kleptocrats) use political power to appropriate the wealth of their nation, typically by embezzling or misappropriating government funds at the expense of the wider population.[1] [2] is a form of power structure in which power rests with a small number of people. These people may be distinguished by nobility, wealth, education, corporate, religious, political, or military control. Such states are often controlled by families who pass their influence from one generation to the next, but inheritance is not a necessary condition of oligarchy.

NARCO-STATE

Narco-state (also narco-capitalism or narco-economy[a]) is a political and economic term applied to countries where all legitimate institutions become penetrated by the power and wealth of the illegal drug trade.[2] The term was first used to describe Bolivia following the 1980 coup of Luis García Meza which was seen to be primarily financed with the help of narcotics traffickers.[3] Examples of some narco-states are described below. Other well-known examples are Mexico, Colombia, and Guinea-Bissau, where drug cartels produce, ship and sell drugs such as cocaine and marijuana.

MAFIA STATE

In politics, a mafia state is a state system where the government is tied with organized crime to the degree when government officials, the police, and/or military became a part of the criminal enterprise.[1][2] According to US diplomats, the phrase "mafia state" was coined by Alexander Litvinenko[3]

"In navies and the maritime industry, damage control is the emergency control of situations that may cause the sinking of a watercraft.

"Examples are: rupture of a pipe or hull especially below the waterline and damage from grounding (running aground) or hard berthing against a wharf.

Is THE MEDIA A PERSON ACTING UNDER COLOR OF LAW FOR PURPOSES OF § 1983? retrieved from link and copied or modified to here

There has been very little consensus on whether or not members of the media can be deemed government actors for purposes of 42 U.S.C. § 1983. However, courts have deemed the media government actors when certain factors are present.

This section of the Comment takes a look at cases that have dealt with media liability under § 1983 in order to determine what those factors are.

There is a trend toward holding media liable for a civil rights violation when there is a close relationship between the media and the government agents during the action in question. This will require a factual determination in each case.

It is clear that the courts will look for some type of an agreement between the media and the government agency-be it oral or written-that provides the media with some special privilege to which other private parties are not entitled.

For example, in Berger v. Hanlon,16 the Ninth Circuit held that Cable News Network (CNN) agents were government actors for purposes of a civil rights claim. 17 The Ninth Circuit found that there was not only a verbal, but a written agreement between the government and the media to engage jointly in an enterprise that only the government could lawfully institute-the execution of a search warrant.1 S In Barrett v. Outlet Broadcasting Inc.,i s the children of a suicide victim brought a § 1983 action against a city and members of its police department, alleging that police employees permitted a news crew to enter the victim's home, film the scene of a suicide and broadcast those pictures on television.

Plausible deniability retrieved from From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia and copied or modified to here

Plausible deniability is the ability of people, typically senior officials in a formal or informal chain of command, to deny knowledge of or responsibility for any damnable actions committed by others in an organizational hierarchy because of a lack or absence of evidence that can confirm their participation, even if they were personally involved in or at least willfully ignorant of the actions. If illegal or otherwise-disreputable and unpopular activities become public, high-ranking officials may deny any awareness of such acts to insulate themselves and shift the blame onto the agents who carried out the acts, as they are confident that their doubters will be unable to prove otherwise.

The lack of evidence to the contrary ostensibly makes the denial plausible (credible), but sometimes, it makes the denial only unactionable (Obstruction of jusstice, lying to investigators).

> There are a number of specific causes of action, including: contract-based actions; statutory causes of action; torts such as assault, battery, invasion of privacy, fraud, slander, negligence, intentional infliction of emotional distress; and suits in equity such as unjust enrichment and quantum meruit.

The term typically implies forethought, such as intentionally setting up the conditions for the plausible avoidance of responsibility for one's future actions or knowledge.

In some organizations, legal doctrines such as command responsibility exist to hold major parties responsible for the actions of subordinates who are involved in heinous acts and nullify any legal protection that their denial of involvement would carry [part of the denial of State peeping acts is treating me or my property like a peeper WITHOUT calling me a peeper ever to my face..

In politics and espionage, deniability refers to the ability of a powerful player or intelligence agency to pass the buck and to avoid blowback by secretly arranging for an action to be taken on its behalf by a third party that is ostensibly unconnected with the major player. In political campaigns, plausible deniability enables candidates to stay clean and denounce third-party advertisements that use unethical approaches or potentially-libelous innuendo.

Although plausible deniability has existed throughout history, the term was coined by the CIA in the early 1960s to describe the withholding of information from senior officials to protect them from repercussions if illegal or unpopular activities became public knowledge.

Agaim quoting by Offramp

Predatory Gangstalking is also called "terror stalking", "gangstalking", "flash mobbing", "cause stalking," "hate stalking," "multi-stalking, "happy slapping," "workplace bullying, and "covert war."

The reasons why it is employed?

You found the wrong forum on the internet and saw something you should not have seen; you worked for a company and found out some sensitive information; you got on the wrong side of someone who is a member of the vast satanic or luciferian cabal; etc.

What does this have to do with the field of the paranormal? On a macrocosmic level, preternatural beings are the driving force behind activities such as gang stalking. The destruction of a person feeds them. It also fits in with their overall agenda. People who are victims of gangstalking are people who pose a threat to the goals of the dark principalities.

In addition to being stalked by large groups of people, malevolent/demonic entities may be attacking you in the night, and disembodied voices may be harassing you at all hours. Though seemingly unrelated, all of these subjects tend to be connected.

The goal of Gang Stalking

The expressed [including to me Edward Paul Donegan] goal of Gang Stalking is to silence a victim, drive a victim insane and possibly to the point of suicide, or destroy the victim's reputation and believability as the person will likely be viewed as mentally ill should they complain or report the abuse. Gang Stalking is also used to gather information on individuals as well as force individuals to move or leave an area.

Motivations for the abuse

Motivations for Gang Stalking vary. Revenge for a real or imagined offense (People in these organizations are quite petty, mirroring their preternatural handlers); false accusations of a "horrible crime" [or horrible mental disease] of which the victim has gotten away with (Used to discredit the victim and destroy his/her reputation); silencing a corporate "whistle-blower"; defecting from a cult; a perceived enemy of a group or organization; "knowing too much" are all examples of possible motivations.

Or to by repudiably (deniably) irritating and frustrating a person (Happy Slapping normal hapy states) create frustration which appears to the examiner to by psychosis.

> Happy slapping Happy slapping was a fad originating in the United Kingdom around 2005, in which one or more people out of boredom attack a victim for the purpose of recording the assault. Wikipedia

Buck passing, or passing the buck (from street gantgs to me,) or sometimes (playing) the blame game, is the act of attributing to another person or group one's own responsibility. It is often used to refer to a strategy in power politics whereby a state tries to get another state to deter or fight an aggressor state while it remains on the sidelines.[1]

I am illegally Criminally Harassed Under Color of Law from rightful outcomes to fallback into skid row non white prison conditions and studied by provocation and assault so others can replace me.

My belief system which I call the Radical Right has been under attack by the US Government.

I call it the Radical Right because it is right wing in that it sees limited role for government, I call it conservatism in social, religious, and economic matters, conserving the use of the power of State to their most limited applications.

The radical reference is in regard to the English and other radicals of the Colonial Revolutionary belief system which represented a break from well established thought of the day. This system I propose returns to Classical Greek Natural Law philosophy rather than Christian influenced Neoclassical-ism. The breaks with Neoclassical-ism are along several lines, one of them being rejection of religious fundamentalism, either Islamic or Christian, which is Revelation scriptures based, and instead move to an inductive learning growing society based in Modernity, progressing.

We do not have an established religion so I do not embrace The Ten Commandments as foundations in US law as the Religious Right do and while I recognize the West as a distinct hemisphere and interest in history in today's society I believe we, the U.S., ought to sail with the crew we have, cling to Natural Law Philosophy as a means of governance, and for all new borns and immigrants this philosophy ought to be taught as our system of government, and that if a person newly taught to this Western heritage it ought to seem natural to believe in it. Of course our way of life respects freedom of speech and opinion and views will and of course are allowed to vary.

This view of the world and philosophy does not represent the Progressive Left, though the progressive elements are similarly Liberalist, nor is it the view of the Religious Right.

This legitimate viewpoint of mine has been subject to harassment, infiltration, and in my own case kidnap, as the mental health system has been used outside of its lawful role.

I assert that a Criminal Harassment Under Color of Law as Subversion of the USA and my MKULTRA family genome is based in taking over charities, using charities as claimants against me thus manufacturing a popular and publicly accepted Conspiracy Against my Rights under color of Subversives in Power feigning loyalty to the Constitution.

Those holding disdain or opposing views have defined me as a harassment and false arrested me into the mental health system.

These strategic arrests for my lawful activities have accomplished three things for the government.

1. Prevented or forestalled any political activity of mine for the time I have been under arrest.

2. Defamed me as mentally incompetent.

3. Made me vulnerable to my political adversaries as I have subjected to provocations under hostile or psychiatric circumstances, forcing me into unwanted debate or interviews.

This has been a politically motivated conspiracy against my rights and a disruption of the legitimate Radical Right wing in politics.

I tried to file Freedom of Information Requests from the National Institute of Health and Department of Energy which would have likely supported my claims the junk science of the Human Genome Program was politicized junk science, conducted without scientific standards, and that the HGP junk science created unfair and destructive racial policies.

A blend of witness tampering and conflicts of interests placed me under arrest for "harassing and annoying phone calls" which were in support of my FOIA requests and FOIA appeals which were not returning the documents I requested.

The NIH used its health care power and the PHS DOD element of it (see Prosecution for the Defense) to place me and my views under PsyOps and covert actions scrutiny and disruption ever since.

See EPW (Enemy Prisoner of War) on this link, and note also this quote from The PSYWAR

> Psychological Operations (PSYOP) or Psychological Warfare (PSYWAR) is simply learning everything about your target enemy, their beliefs, likes, dislikes, strengths, weaknesses, and vulnerabilities. Once you know what motivates your target, you are ready to begin psychological operations. (from psyhist)

"Psychological Warfare (PSYWAR) is simply learning everything about your target enemy, their beliefs, likes, dislikes, strengths, weaknesses, and vulnerabilities. Once you know what motivates your target, you are ready to begin psychological operations [of becoming the alternate choice for the Compromised and Absent original.]"

While I was held in custody undergoing involuntary interviews with NIH psychologists and psychiatrists, things I represented and spoke of while explaining and justifying my views to the National Institute of Health were being co-opted into the Obama Biden presidential campaign.

Barely clinging to homeless and homeless shelter living conditions, under constant death threats of knife attacks from incited and paid skid row assailants, I have long thought a true CIA Blackwater hit was out on me, Disposition Matrix, in part, because the people who have been threatening to kill me say they are connected to Secret Service, CIA, FBI, or others.

These are so called “Tawana Brawley” fake allegations hoax claims against me created by the SJWs of minority protection services.

Human Trafficking is the result, the framed person is used to fertilize others as penalty.

The people who want to plead me guilty to raping Tawana Brawley I can not only get rid of they state they will kill me as social justice and also claim to manage my DNA for me.

Don’t think that homeless shelters assaults are where the betrayal is most tangible. Many think they are truly fighting a white supremacist and they have been harmed by white supremacism or they think they are fighting a pedophile who has harmed children, and like Darth Vader, they can bypass debate in the Senate and just do the deed when no one is looking like the cops want them to do.

In fact my record, my real existence, the truth of me has no connections to white supremacy or teen or other such interests, if every I downloaded a teen in bikini or less porn image it was more just on random fluke or variation.

As for “white supremacy” I have spent 35 years at least being attacked by the needy, often blacks or gays, and trying to figure out why they were doing it both by researching my family history and Nazi ties and also studying how and why people, the needy, sought to benefit from the fights they were in with me, claiming a Social Justice higher moral ground and my calculating what they might need or want from me if I am blamed for the fight.

Evidence of such, the appearance I am either of those things is the result of a Gangstalk.

Gangstalks are the use of Mercenaries, those Targeted for espionage activities, which are political in nature. They plant a to near me and someone else takes a picture when I coincidentally seem to be answering some unexpected telemarketer call on my smart phone at the same time.

That mere appearance is used politically later behind my back to deny me housing, employment, even income, as I seem to be a fraudster harming people and my life needs to be disrupted.

Those ties to a survivable life, housing income, social fabric and social support, a family of my own and political, business, sexual, and artistic, housing my entire life is eroded away because of the Rumor Mongering the inculpating evidence plants created.

Much of the evidence up sold. Start with an incriminating photo in public out of my control then use it to get me tanked, behind my back with psychiatric evaluators, legal professionals, others, and get them to compound that manufactured evidence with their own findings based on the bad evidence used without me present, and from that unjust abuse of process detentions for me disrupting my during the detentions and making life with the civil detention records sheet impossible for future life.

In the little time I have had in dangerous conditions housing experiencing evidence plants, a turkey in the air dripping in the sweat of exhaustion, I have analyzed the events of my life and the gang stalk of me.

And I have followed the money. The black money of black markets and black market genetics for designer babies.

I didn’t have access to others bank accounts but I did find the cars paid for by the black market genetics bearing the license plate “Beaker” along Twitter and other accounts I found hinting a white supremacist caught in some trap is having to pay up with his DNA for harm to females.

The press has watched and participated in the conspiracy this book outs.

I will die in flight, a turkey who can not out-fly superior aggressor criminal forces acting under State power.

The Social Security Administration is one such group. Tampering with Social Security Numbers and being involved in failed Due Process as covertly my Social Security is dropped on fraud allegations, fraud by others, alleged behind my back to me.

These acts of others including harm to children is used to deny me both housing and income for housing and will bring about my death in a homeless shelter as some mercenary takes the matters of me into his own hands.

I have seen this process used before on many others.

That is the path as I can best navigate a survivable life path. While in the homeless shelter it will be concluded I have no cognitive capabilities and nothing of any value I can manage so I will pickup an asset manage while I am in there, the usual fatal attraction asset manager who is interested in my gaining my family biological assets and doing so by harming me and pretending disinterest or pity upon me, or event feigning anger at me for alleged conduct at the same time as they fawn over my and say they want my baby.

In fact a secret interest in my genome and fake rights to that genome, through violence against me, is what this book is about.

Black money of human genome trafficking in illegal and felony controlled black markets.

This book also completes the research, my research, into these attacks as based on the Government and former government workers need to coverup the ongoing and disastrous scientific Bluderlanch started by Sidney Gottlieb and now in a growing sapient coverup disaster.

An avalanche (also called a snowslide) is an event that occurs when a cohesive slab of snow lying upon a weaker layer of snow fractures and slides down a steep slope. Avalanches are typically triggered in a starting zone from a mechanical failure in the snowpack (slab avalanche) when the forces of the snow exceed its strength but sometimes only with gradual widening (loose snow avalanche). After initiation, avalanches usually accelerate rapidly and grow in mass and volume as they entrain more snow. If the avalanche moves fast enough, some of the snow may mix with the air forming a powder snow avalanche, which is a type of gravity current.

I am not looking for a Win Win here. Too much has been lost. I am seeking a Lose Lose. I have no shame in looking to the enemies of the USA, enemies of the people of the USA, and enemies of the media of the USA.

I am one too. Intellectual, morally, spiritually, and tactically. This nightmare of hate crime against me as I lay in a medical emergency in the gladiator pit was too interesting for the Illuminati to ever stand down from.

The difficulty I have faced is not the legitimacy of my fight but that the stadium I fight in is composed of feeces and any ladder out of this arena can not support my weight.

If fact the USA is built out of lies and my existence a fact the substance of which the fecal spray of the USA must coverup if the feces is to appear the greater substance.

The facts have been on my side all of my life and they have always been covered over by the lies which form the spray onto me, powered by the fan.

I have been offered a fight with aggressors. All during my life I have weighed taking it.

Mostly I did not. Some day I might. But for those already at war with the United States I applaud them and reason they too are victims of a USA which has lost its mind and now is in a desperate coverup by creating disasters around the world including the USA, Australia, Ethiopia, and other locations.

I am proud and confident a Quoran is in my home, and I find it a force of justice in the world, a source of wisdom learned over centuries of a wise people in rational pursuit of fairness and truth.

One of the most fundamental and truly terrifying parts of my life is 30 year long struggle ever even to be identified as Edward Paul Donegan.

There is always the Doppelgänger or identity theft at every moment of my being alive for thirty years and even at places like the Department of Motor Vehicles, court clerks office, gym, or other locations like detention, always the video is down or being serviced by some security company and it seems there is no record of who was realty at the window or booking desk or applying for the drivers license or in which unit of an apartment or hotel.

I have considered myself a stateless citizen of the USA on that basis and if I cant be identified as Edward Paul Donegan ever than any protection of my assets as myself is impossible or protection of myself from the liabilities of impersonators is impossible.

It is in this most basic struggle, to be correctly identified, I have lost every battle of my life and I will die losing exactly that same struggle, likely misidentified, to history, and to family genealogy, the person who never was actually Edward Paul Donegan.

by David Rothkopf (Author) "Oil is the most mind altering substance known to man."

… I was thinking back on the fact that I had probably given 50 or 60 speeches on the other book and whenever I gave a speech on "Running the World," somebody would stand up in the audience and say, that's the trouble with you Americans; you think you're running the world. And I would look at them aghast because, apparently, my subtle irony was lost in the title. And this taught me an important lesson and so there's no irony whatsoever in this title - (laughter) - although I try to weave some of it into the book. But - so that was part of the genesis. Part of it was the fact that when I was a student at Columbia University back when dinosaurs roamed the Earth, they had a core curriculum. And one of the things in the core curriculum was C. Wright Mills' book "The Power Elite." And "The Power Elite" looked at how power and the most powerful people interacted in the United States during the '50s. In fact, it just came out of - 51 years ago now, just about half a century ago.

And it looked at how political leadership and business leadership and military leadership interacted at just the moment of American post-war ascendancy, at just the moment when we were starting to have concerns that would lead a couple of years later to Dwight Eisenhower identifying the threat associated with the military-industrial complex. And I thought, you know, it would be interesting to look to see whether such an elite has emerged for the global era, and that, in fact, it was my sense that one had, and that by looking at this group, looking at this superclass, if you will, we would be able to see how globalization might evolve because no group is more globalized. And no group is having a greater influence on the nature of globalization than the most empowered people on the Earth. And so that's what led me into this. Now, you know, I think, on some level, the publisher thought that, you know, we would have a good audience among the conspiracy theorists out there - and there are plenty of conspiracy theorists. And I don't want to turn them away from this book - (laughter) - but just between you and me, it's not really a book for conspiracy theorists.

You know, I mean, all of us have had our brushes with conspiracy theory. I grew up, Jewish boy in New Jersey, hearing about the world Jewish conspiracy, and I thought, great. (Laughter.) You know, where do I sign up? (Laughter.) There are not many Jews and, you know, conceivably I could have a significant role - (laughter) - nothing flashy, but, you know, Canada maybe or - (laughter) - world sorghum prices or something like that. (Laughter.) You know, when you examine conspiracy theories, including that one, they break down pretty quickly. I mean, if the Jews really were running the world, we certainly could have done a better job. (Laughter.) You know, broadly speaking or certainly with regard - I mean, the Holocaust, the Inquisition - (laughter) - the musical stylings of Barry Manilow - (laughter) - you know what I'm saying. I mean, there are things that we could have done better. But, you know, if you look at Free Masons or you look at Skull and Bones, you know, you look at these various groups, they break down. You know, I mean, how can you have an academic secret society that George Bush is a member of? (Laughter.)

You know, it says something about the academic nature - (laughter) - in any event, of the secret society. But I think that if you go beyond these theories, there really is something to be learned. And so, what we decided to do was to come up with a benchmarking exercise, you know, a kind of a what's a definition of membership in this? And we're not looking at just the wealthy; we're looking at power. And so, the definition that we used was people who influence the lives of millions across borders on a regular basis. Now, we came up with six, 7,000 people that we could look at.

And we actually made a list and did a sort of demographic analysis of them and so forth. You might come up with 60,000. I don't want to debate about the size of the group. It's a tiny, tiny fraction of the people of the planet Earth, 6600; we came up with what happens to be one in a million. That means one member of this group for every million people that there are on the Earth. But when you get a group small enough like that, you can start seeing things about the group that are eye-opening that, you know, for instance, 94 percent of the group are men.

The single most underrepresented group in the global power structure, to this day, is women. If you look at legislatures around the world, the average participation of women in legislatures is 17 percent. It's worse here and in some other places. But in other forms of power, it's worse still than that. I think of the Fortune 500, there are 13 women right now who are CEOs. So that's one of the things that you might pick up from it. Right now, it's a very transatlantic group; 61 percent of it is from one side of the Atlantic or the other. But by far the most rapidly growing component of the group are people on the Asian side of the Pacific Ocean and that the center of gravity within the superclass is following the center of economic gravity on the planet.

So understanding how this group influences things will help us understand what the implications of a change like that might be. And, you know, there are other interesting things about the group, too, as you look at it: first of all, it's an older group. The average age, I think, is 58 years; primarily white guys, primarily people who are running businesses or financial organizations; used to be much - if you looked at elites in the past, they were much more from the public sector.

If you look at the most powerful people in the world today, it is increasingly part of the private sector. And we can go further and further. One of the interesting things about it is that we looked at where they were educated and, of the members of this group, something like a third, 30 percent, came from one of 20 universities in the world. Now, that's kind of striking when you consider that this is 6600 people from 180 countries around the world and most of, you know, a fairly substantial portion of them, a third roughly, have gone to just one of 20 schools. And I think if we made it one of 40 schools, we probably could have gotten it up to half.

So what does that say besides, you know, can I get my kid into that school? (Laughter.) You know, another thing that it says is that this is where networks start to be built. And one of the really defining characteristics of this group is the nature of the networks, that networking is the force multiplier in any kind of power structure because it gives you access, whether it's an access to do a deal, an access to get insight into what's going on inside a government. And I would go out and I'd talk to people; I talked to 150 people in doing this book. And time after time after time, when I talked to people sort of within the heart of this superclass, one of the first things they said is, small world.

And, you know, the small-world phenomenon came up over and over: I can get to anybody with a phone call; I can get to anybody with two phone calls. I can use that as insight that I can trade upon or insight - or connections that I can use from the point of view of influence and so forth. And so that is another thing that one can pick up from studying a group like this. Some dimensions of this are striking in that they really force us to step away from our preconceptions. All of us have been raised in sort of thinking in terms of, well, the Treaty of Westphalia. I know most of you right now, I can look at you and see that you're thinking of the Treaty of Westphalia. (Laughter.) It almost never leaves the forefront of my mind.

But the notion that there was this treaty 400 years ago and we started from then on thinking of the way the world is organized in terms of chunks of political entities known as nation-states. But the role of those nation-states in this particular era has been changed fairly dramatically. And this - I mean, people have been noting this for some time. Jessica Matthews wrote a paper over a decade ago called "Power Shift," which was a very important early acknowledgement of what was happening here. But that power shift has taken place in ways that are really, really interesting and I think haven't been taken into consideration by policymakers in a lot of respects.

On the one hand, the concentration of power in the hands of fewer and fewer people has grown and grown and grown. In the ’50s, when C. Wright Mills wrote that book, the defense budget of the United States was larger than the annual sales of the largest companies in the United States added up together. Today, the defense budget is 50-percent smaller than the annual sales of Exxon and Wal-Mart, the two largest companies.

So the size of companies is much greater. In the ’60s, the average international corporation had 100 subsidiaries. Today, the average international corporations have 10,000 subsidiaries. If you take the biggest companies, a company like Exxon has annual sales that make it roughly the same size of an economic entity as, say, Sweden, which has a - the 19th largest GDP in the world. Now, I know the difference between sales and GDP; this is just a thumbnail sketch of relative power. But here you have a phenomenon where the top 250 companies in the world produce sales that are the equivalent of one-third of global GDP, where the top 2,000 companies in the world have 70 million employees. They probably have half a billion dependents associated with those employees. And if you add in their suppliers and distributors, it certainly gets you to a billion people. That’s 2,000 CEOs and boards making decisions directly impacting the lives of a billion people.

On a planet where, of the six billion people on the planet, four billion of them have fairly lousy jobs, fairly lousy earning potential, the bottom three billion living on less than $2 a day. So there are only a couple of billion people on the planet that are particularly well employed. And half of them work for those 2,000 largest companies. Well, you know, when you look at the concentration of power, then you say, well, who has influence within that group? Well, the most influential people are the people at the top of the pyramid. It’s different company by company, but how do they get paid? I mean, that’s one of the things that’s got in - they get paid by their stock price. Well, what influences their stock price? Well, estimates say that hedge funds alone, because they trade so much, represent 30 to 50 percent of trading in markets on a daily basis. And of 10,000 hedge funds, the top 300 control 85 percent of the assets. The top 100 control 60 percent of the assets.

So very, very few financial institutions play a very, very influential role in determining stock prices, which determine the fate of the CEOs and the people who are leading these companies. Power is concentrated in other ways within these organizations as well. If you take the five largest companies in the world, the CEOs and the boards of those companies, 70 people, are on the boards of another 150 companies including a third of the 500 largest companies in the world and almost 25 different universities. So that - the little network at the top of the five largest companies who have, you know, annual sales of about $1.5 trillion reaches out and touches an enormous portion of the other leading companies which touch an enormous portion of the rest of the world

In terms of the affiliations and allegiance within the superclass, it's like, you know, any small town of 6,000 people. There are people who like each other, there are people who hate each other, there are people who are rivals for each other, and that's why I don't put a lot of stock in the notion that, you know, you get your superclass decoder ring and you go and, you know, you speak the secret language of the superclass and you impose your will.

But when significant numbers of members of this group act in a certain way, they can have a lot of influence. The 50 largest financial institutions in the world have $48.5 trillion in assets. That gives them commonality of interest and an enormous amount of influence, and when they act together it has an effect on how we regulate, how we look at markets, what we say is tolerable and what we don't say is tolerable in those regards, and I think that's what it is.

I would look at the superclass if I wanted to sort of look for problem areas, and I would look for pockets of aligned interest that are leading in the direction of what Hilda calls misbehaving. You know, because most of the activity isn't aligned and it isn't misbehaving, but there are places where there can be pockets of aligned interest where there are, that we need mechanisms that don't currently exist. And we would do well to advance them, and in fact I think that's the great sort of policy and political challenge of our lifetime and the lifetime of our children, is filling the governance gap globally.

Consider the Collusion or Cartel or coordinated acts among friendly Boys Club (or Queen of Diamonds) WASPs world in which News Agencies of Influence are cultivated, funded, and do well in nine 9s out of most reporting but do have an Ace-In-The-Whole capability when it is needed and consider the Business Plot.

the Superclass power of the Prince and how should he protect his own self interest?

The premise of this book and it sounds like a middle ground opinion of Mr. Rothkopf and others is that such power exists among the elite class which often moved between media, means of production, politics, education, even science and research with ease is that so much control exists among the elites that should the collude in a Cartel a “Prince” capability exists to create oppressive order the the Sherrif or Rottningham.

In this question I find the answer as to why I was gangstalked. In this Elite Superclass of some individual actors like Donald Barr and William Barr and others their need to cover up a “command decision” to assasinate JFK and so secretive clone research now creates a dirty war on the law abiding because the Sherriff of Rottingham and to protect the realm from the truth of its secrets.

Digging ever deeper holes for themselves?

It is an Epistimic Drift of what is true and and what the Realm Rulders need to be true and a dirty war is the fixers capabilit to try and hide the truth for the self portection of the individuals who have held the secretive title of Prince and still weild that power.

Westphalian sovereignty retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The principle of non-interference in other countries' domestic affairs was laid out in the mid-18th century by Swiss jurist Emer de Vattel.[10] States became the primary institutional agents in an interstate system of relations. The Peace of Westphalia is said to have ended attempts to impose supranational authority on European states. The "Westphalian" doctrine of states as independent agents was bolstered by the rise in 19th-century thoughts of nationalism, under which legitimate states were assumed to correspond to nations-groups of people united by language and culture.

The Law of Nations

Le droit des gens, 1775.

The cover page from The Law of Nations Vattel's masterpiece was largely influenced by a book titled Jus Gentium Methodo Scientifica Pertractum (The Law of Nations According to the Scientific Method) by Wolff. Vattel's work began, in fact, by translating Wolff's text from Latin, and adding his own thoughts. Vattel's work was also heavily influenced by Leibniz and Hugo Grotius. Focused largely on the rights and obligations of citizens and states, Vattel's work also had ramifications for Just War Theory as it outlined international diplomacy as we now know it.

Vattel elucidated the "Golden Rule of Sovereigns "One cannot complain when he is treated as he treats others.

Emer (Emmerich) de Vattel (French pronunciation: [vat-tĕl] 25 April 1714 - 28 December 1767[1]) was an international lawyer. He was born in Couvet in the Principality of Neuchâtel (now a canton part of Switzerland) in 1714 and died in 1767. He was largely influenced by Dutch jurist Hugo Grotius. He is most famous for his 1758 work The Law of Nations. This work was his claim to fame and won him enough prestige to be appointed as a councilor to the court of Frederick Augustus II of Saxony.

Proscribed rights, and do no harm to others or the property of others creates a utilitarian property rights motive for production

The harm principle says people should be free to act however they wish unless their actions cause harm to somebody else. The principle is a central tenet of the political philosophy known as liberalism and was first proposed by English philosopher John Stuart Mill.

The Elements of Law, Natural and Politic [1640] Oxford University Press, 2008 (Human Nature and de Corpore Politico, J.C.A. Gaskin, ed.)

This is Hobbes's first published philosophical work (1640), which was written in part in response to the conflicts between Charles I and Parliament. The book represents Hobbes's initial attempt to address political matters with the deductive methods of geometry, and proposes a definition of sovereignty that remains central to Hobbes's later political works. The Elements of Law has two parts: Human Nature and De Corpore Politico. This edition, edited by J. C. A. Gaskin, also includes chapters from Hobbes's later work De Corpore, his prose and verse autobiography, and parts of John Aubrey's Life of Hobbes.

In this Period of Natual Law Philosophy and the science of government

By the 17th century, the medieval teleological view came under intense criticism from some quarters. Thomas Hobbes instead founded a contractarian theory of legal positivism on what all men could agree upon: what they sought (happiness) was subject to contention, but a broad consensus could form around what they feared (violent death at the hands of another). The natural law was how a rational human being, seeking to survive and prosper, would act. Natural law, therefore, was discovered by considering humankind's natural rights, whereas previously it could be said that natural rights were discovered by considering the natural law. In Hobbes' opinion, the only way natural law could prevail was for men to submit to the commands of the sovereign. Because the ultimate source of law now comes from the sovereign, and the sovereign's decisions need not be grounded in morality, legal positivism is born. Jeremy Bentham’s modifications on legal positivism further developed the theory.

As used by Thomas Hobbes in his treatises Leviathan and De Cive, natural law is “a precept, or general rule, found out by reason, by which a man is forbidden to do that which is destructive of his life, or takes away the means of preserving the same; and to omit that by which he thinks it may best be preserved.”

In Russia, before the Bolshevik Revolution (1917), the term intelligentsiya described the status class of educated people whose cultural capital (schooling, education, enlightenment) allowed them to assume practical political leadership.[6]

Ivory Tower

Wikipedia quoted here from link

An ivory tower is a metaphorical place-or an atmosphere-where people are happily cut off from the rest of the world in favor of their own pursuits, usually mental and esoteric ones. From the 19th century, it has been used to designate an environment of intellectual pursuit disconnected from the practical concerns of everyday life.[1] Most contemporary uses of the term refer to academia or the college and university systems in many countries.[2][3]

In the 1990s, internet news existed mainly only in the form of newspaper websites. Then there was Drudge's site, which started first in 1995 as an email newsletter. "Drudge Report actually begins as a kind of gossip column on the internet. So he begins by creating all of these links," says Claire Bond Potter, a professor of history at the New School for Social research and the author of the 2020 book Political Junkies: From Talk Radio to Twitter, How Alternative Media Hooked Us on Politics and Broke Our Democracy. "But then, what he does is he sandwiches in his own material. It's a very simple, extremely ugly, overly chaotic design but the sweet spot that he hits is that other reporters who are on the internet will actually keep his page open all day and they'll pick up little bits of information that might actually lead to a story."

Drudge's gift shop clues, which included gossip about small screen hirings and firings, helped him establish credibility and an audience. Raised outside Washington, where his mother worked on the legal staff of Senator Ted Kennedy, he began gravitating away from Hollywood scoops and towards Beltway gossip with a conservative slant. New York Times writer at large Jim Rutenberg was a reporter at the New York Daily News when Drudge Report first appeared on his radar and he later covered him at the Times. It was clear to those in the media establishment that Drudge had a singular news instinct, though many were reluctant to acknowledge it. "When Drudge had the goods, he had the goods. He had this uncanny way of getting real stuff that we were all missing," Rutenberg says. "There was a lot of ambivalence because he was this upstart, he wasn't from our sort of journalistic training, per se. He hadn’t done the stations of the cross of journalism, but often he was kicking our ass.”

Illustration from Harper’s Weekly December 20, 1913 by Walter J. Enright

Publicity is justly commended as a remedy for social and industrial diseases. Sunlight is said to be the best of disinfectants; electric light the most efficient policeman. And publicity has already played an important part in the struggle against the Money Trust. The Pujo Committee has, in the disclosure of the facts concerning financial concentration, made a most important contribution toward attainment of the New Freedom. The battlefield has been surveyed and charted. The hostile forces have been located, counted and appraised. That was a necessary first step - and a long one - towards relief. The provisions in the Committee’s bill concerning the incorporation of stock exchanges and the statement to be made in connection with the listing of securities would doubtless have a beneficent effect. But there should be a further call upon publicity for service. That potent force must, in the impending struggle, be utilized in many ways as a continuous remedial measure.

Wealth

Combination and control of other people's money and of other people's businesses. These are the main factors in the development of the Money Trust. But the wealth of the investment banker is also a factor. And with the extraordinary growth of his wealth in recent years, the relative importance of wealth as a factor in financial concentration has grown steadily. It was wealth which enabled Mr. Morgan, in 1910, to pay $3,000,000 for $51,000 par value of the stock of the Equitable Life Insurance Society. His direct income from this investment was limited by law to less than one-eighth of one per cent. a year; but it gave legal control of $504,000,000 of assets. It was wealth which enabled the Morgan associates to buy, from the Equitable and the Mutual Life Insurance Company the stocks in the several banking institutions, which, merged in the Bankers' Trust Company and the Guaranty Trust Company, gave them control of $357,000,000 deposits. It was wealth which enabled Mr. Morgan to acquire his shares in the First National and National City banks, worth $21,000,000, through which he cemented the triple alliance with those institutions.

Now, how has this great wealth been accumulated? Some of it was natural accretion. Some of it is due to special opportunities for investment wisely availed of. Some of it is due to the vast extent of the bankers' operations. Then power breeds wealth as wealth breeds power. But a main cause of these large fortunes is the huge tolls taken by those who control the avenues to capital and to investors. There has been exacted as toll literally "all that the traffic will bear."

Excessive Bankers' Commissions

The Pujo Committee was unfortunately prevented by lack of time from presenting to the country the evidence covering the amounts taken by the investment bankers as promoters' fees, underwriting commissions and profits. Nothing could have demonstrated so clearly the power exercised by the bankers, as a schedule showing the aggregate of these taxes levied within recent years. It would be well worth while now to reopen the Money Trust investigation merely to collect these data. But earlier investigations have disclosed some illuminating, though sporadic facts.

The syndicate which promoted the Steel Trust, took, as compensation for a few weeks' work, securities yielding $62,500,000 in cash; and of this, J. P. Morgan & Co. received for their services, as Syndicate Managers, $12,500,000, besides their share, as syndicate subscribers, in the remaining $50,000,000. The Morgan syndicate took for promoting the Tube Trust $20,000,000 common stock out of a total issue of $80,000,000 stock (preferred and common). Nor were monster commissions limited to trust promotions. More recently, bankers' syndicates have, in many instances, received for floating preferred stocks of recapitalized industrial concerns, one-third of all common stock issued, besides a considerable sum in cash. And for the sale of preferred stock of well established manufacturing concerns, cash commissions (or profits) of from 7 1/2 to 10 per cent. of the cash raised are often exacted. On bonds of high-class industrial concerns, bankers' commissions (or profits) of from 5 to 10 points have been common.

Nor have these heavy charges been confined to industrial concerns. Even railroad securities, supposedly of high grade, have been subjected to like burdens. At a time when the New Haven's credit was still unimpaired, J. P. Morgan & Co. took the New York, Westchester & Boston Railway first mortgage bonds, guaranteed by the New Haven at 92 1/2; and they were marketed at 96 1/4. They took the Portland Terminal Company bonds, guaranteed by the Maine Central Railroad - a corporation of unquestionable credit - at about 88, and these were marketed at 92.

A large part of these underwriting commissions is taken by the great banking houses, not for their services in selling the bonds, nor in assuming risks, but for securing others to sell the bonds and incur risks. Thus when the Interboro Railway - a most prosperous corporation -financed its recent $170,000,000 bond issue, J. P. Morgan & Co. received a 3 per cent. commission, that is, $5,100,000, practically for arranging that others should underwrite and sell the bonds.

The aggregate commissions or profits so taken by leading banking houses can only be conjectured, as the full amount of their transactions has not been disclosed, and the rate of commission or profit varies very widely. But the Pujo Committee has supplied some interesting data bearing upon the subject: Counting the issues of securities of interstate corporations only, J. P. Morgan & Co. directly procured the public marketing alone or in conjunction with others during the years 1902-1912, of $1,950,000,000. What the average commission or profit taken by J. P. Morgan & Co. was we do not know; but we do know that every one per cent. on that sum yields $19,500,000. Yet even that huge aggregate of $1,950,000,000 includes only a part of the securities on which commissions or profits were paid. It does not include any issue of an intrastate corporation. It does not include any securities privately marketed. It does not include any government, state or municipal bonds.

It is to exactions such as these that the wealth of the investment banker is in large part due. And since this wealth is an important factor in the creation of the power exercised by the Money Trust, we must endeavor to put an end to this improper wealth getting, as well as to improper combination. The Money Trust is so powerful and so firmly entrenched, that each of the sources of its undue power must be effectually stopped, if we would attain the New Freedom.

How Shall Excessive Charges Be Stopped?

The Pujo Committee recommends, as a remedy for such excessive charges, that interstate corporations be prohibited from entering into any agreements creating a sole fiscal agent to dispose of their security issues; that the issue of the securities of interstate railroads be placed under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission; and that their securities should be disposed of only upon public or private competitive bids, or under regulations to be prescribed by the Commission with full powers of investigation that will discover and punish combinations which prevent competition in bidding. Some of the state public-service commissions now exercise such power; and it may possibly be wise to confer this power upon the interstate commission, although the recommendation of the Hadley Railroad Securities Commission are to the contrary. But the official regulation as proposed by the Pujo Committee would be confined to railroad corporations; and the new security issues of other corporations listed on the New York Stock Exchange have aggregated in the last five years $4,525,404,025, which is more than either the railroad or the municipal issues. Publicity offers, however, another and even more promising remedy: a method of regulating bankers' charges which would apply automatically to railroad, public-service and industrial corporations alike.

The question may be asked: Why have these excessive charges been submitted to? Corporations, which in the first instance bear the charges for capital, have, doubtless, submitted because of banker-control; exercised directly through interlocking directorates, or kindred relations, and indirectly through combinations among bankers to suppress competition. But why have the investors submitted, since ultimately all these charges are borne by the investors, except so far as corporations succeed in shifting the burden upon the community? The large army of small investors, constituting a substantial majority of all security buyers, are entirely free from banker control. Their submission is undoubtedly due, in part, to the fact that the bankers control the avenues to recognizedly safe investments almost as fully as they do the avenues to capital. But the investor's servility is due partly, also, to his ignorance of the facts. Is it not probable that, if each investor knew the extent to which the security he buys from the banker is diluted by excessive underwritings, commissions and profits, there would be a strike of capital against these unjust exactions?

?he Strike of Capital

A recent British experience supports this view. In a brief period last spring nine different issues, aggregating $135,840,000, were offered by syndicates on the London market, and on the average only about 10 per cent. of these loans was taken by the public. Money was "tight," but the rates of interest offered were very liberal, and no one doubted that the investors were well supplied with funds.The London Daily Mail presented an explanation:

"The long series of rebuffs to new loans at the hands of investors reached a climax in the ill success of the great Rothschild issue. It will remain a topic of financial discussion for many days, and many in the city are expressing the opinion that it may have a revolutionary effect upon the present system of loan issuing and underwriting. The question being discussed is that the public have become loth to subscribe for stock which they believe the underwriters can afford, by reason of the commission they receive, to sell subsequently at a lower price than the issue price, and that the Stock Exchange has begun to realize the public's attitude. The public sees in the underwriter not so much one who insures that the loan shall be subscribed in return for its commission as a middleman, who, as it were, has an opportunity of obtaining stock at a lower price than the public in order that he may pass it off at a profit subsequently. They prefer not to subscribe, but to await an opportunity of dividing that profit. They feel that if, when these issues were made, the stock were offered them at a more attractive price, there would be less need to pay the underwriters so high commissions. It is another practical protest, if indirect, against the existence of the middleman, which protest is one of the features of present-day finance."

Publicity as a Remedy

Compel bankers when issuing securities to make public the commissions or profits they are receiving. Let every circular letter, prospectus or advertisement of a bond or stock show clearly what the banker received for his middleman-services, and what the bonds and stocks net the issuing corporation. That is knowledge to which both the existing security holder and the prospective purchaser is fairly entitled. If the bankers' compensation is reasonable, considering the skill and risk involved, there can be no objection to making it known. If it is not reasonable, the investor will "strike," as investors seem to have done recently in England.

Such disclosures of bankers' commissions or profits is demanded also for another reason: It will aid the investor in judging of the safety of the investment. In the marketing of securities there are two classes of risks: One is the risk whether the banker (or the corporation) will find ready purchasers for the bonds or stock at the issue price; the other whether the investor will get a good article. The maker of the security and the banker are interested chiefly in getting it sold at the issue price. The investor is interested chiefly in buying a good article. The small investor relies almost exclusively upon the banker for his knowledge and judgment as to the quality of the security; and it is this which makes his relation to the banker one of confidence.

But at present, the investment banker occupies a position inconsistent with that relation. The bankers' compensation should, of course, vary according to the riskheassumes. Where there is a large risk that the bonds or stock will not be promptly sold at the issue price, the underwriting commission (that is the insurance premium) should be correspondingly large. But the banker ought not to be paid more for getting investorsto assume a larger risk.

In practice the banker gets the higher commission for underwriting the weaker security, on the ground that his own risk is greater. And the weaker the security, the greater is the banker's incentive to induce his customers to relieve him. Now the law should not undertake (except incidentally in connection with railroads and public-service corporations) to fix bankers' profits. And it should not seek to prevent investors from making bad bargains.

But it is now recognized in the simplest merchandising, that there should be full disclosures. The archaic doctrine ofcaveat emptoris vanishing. The law has begun to require publicity in aid of fair dealing. The Federal Pure Food Law does not guarantee quality or prices; but it helps the buyer to judge of quality by requiring disclosure of ingredients. Among the most important facts to be learned for determining the real value of a security is the amount of water it contains. And any excessive amount paid to the banker for marketing a security is water. Require a full disclosure to the investor of the amount of commissions and profits paid; and not only will investors be put on their guard, but bankers' compensation will tend to adjust itself automatically to what is fair and reasonable. Excessive commissions - this form of unjustly acquired wealth - will in large part cease.

Real Disclosure

But the disclosure must be real. And it must be a disclosure to the investor. It will not suffice to require merely the filing of a statement of facts with the Commissioner of Corporations or with a score of other officials, federal and state. That would be almost as ineffective as if the Pure Food Law required a manufacturer merely to deposit with the Department a statement of ingredients, instead of requiring the label to tell the story. Nor would the filing of a full statement with the Stock Exchange, if incorporated, as provided by the Pujo Committee bill, be adequate.

To be effective, knowledge of the facts must be actually brought home to the investor, and this can best be done by requiring the facts to be stated in good, large type in every notice, circular, letter and advertisement inviting the investor to purchase. Compliance with this requirement should also be obligatory, and not something which the investor could waive. For the whole public is interested in putting an end to the bankers' exactions. England undertook, years ago, to protect its investors against the wiles of promoters, by requiring a somewhat similar disclosure; but the British act failed, in large measure of its purpose, partly because under it the statement of facts was filed only with a public official, and partly because the investor could waive the provision. And the British statute has now been changed in the latter respect.

Disclose Syndicate Particulars

The required publicity should also include a disclosure of all participants in an underwriting. It is a common incident of underwriting that no member of the syndicate shall sell at less than the syndicate price for a definite period, unless the syndicate is sooner dissolved. In other words, the bankers make by agreement, an artificial price. Often the agreement is probably illegal under the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. This price maintenance is, however, not necessarily objectionable. It may be entirely consistent with the general welfare, if the facts are made known. But disclosure should include a list of those participating in the underwriting so that the public may not be misled. The investor should know whether his adviser is disinterested.

Not long ago a member of a leading banking house was undertaking to justify a commission taken by his firm for floating a now favorite preferred stock of a manufacturing concern. The bankers took for their services $250,000 in cash, besides one-third of the common stock, amounting to about $2,000,000. “Of course,” he said, “that would have been too much if we could have kept it all for ourselves; but we couldn’t. We had to divide up a large part. There were fifty-seven participants. Why, we had even to give $10,000 of stock to - (naming the president of a leading bank in the city where the business was located). He might some day have been asked what he thought of the stock. If he had shrugged his shoulders and said he didn’t know, we might have lost many a customer for the stock. We had to give him $10,000 of the stock to teach him not to shrug his shoulders.”

Think of the effectiveness with practical Americans of a statement like this:

A. B. & CO.

Investment Bankers

We have today secured substantial control of the successful machinery business heretofore conducted by - at -, Illinois, which has been incorporated under the name of the Excelsior Manufacturing Company with a capital of $10,000,000, of which $5,000,000 is Preferred and $5,000,000 Common.

As we have a large clientele of confiding customers, we were able to secure from the owners an agreement for marketing the Preferred stock - we to fix a price which shall net the owners in cash $95 a share.

We offer this excellent stock to you at $100.75 per share. Our own commission or profit will be only a little over $5.00 per share, or say, $250,000 cash, besides $1,500,000 of the Common stock, which we received as a bonus. This cash and stock commission we are to divide in various proportions with the following participants in the underwriting syndicate:

C. D. & Co., New York

E. F. & Co., Boston

L. M. & Co., Philadelphia

I. K. & Co., New York

O. P. & Co., Chicago,

Were such notices common, the investment bankers would “be worthy of their hire,” for only reasonable compensation would ordinarily be taken.

For marketing the preferred stock, as in the case of Excelsior Manufacturing Co. referred to above, investment bankers were doubtless essential, and as middlemen they performed a useful service. But they used their strong position to make an excessive charge. There are, however, many cases where the banker's services can be altogether dispensed with; and where that is possible he should be eliminated, not only for economy's sake, but to break up financial concentration.

Brandeis made his famous statement that > "sunlight is said to be the best of disinfectants" in a 1913 Harper's Weekly article, entitled "What Publicity Can Do."

But it was an image that had been in his mind for decades. Twenty years earlier, in a letter to his fiance, Brandeis had expressed an interest in writing a "a sort of companion piece" to his influential article on "The Right to Privacy," but this time he would focus on "The Duty of Publicity."

He had been thinking, he wrote, "about the wickedness of people shielding wrongdoers & passing them off (or at least allowing them to pass themselves off) as honest men." He then proposed a remedy:

If the broad light of day could be let in upon men's actions, it would purify them as the sun disinfects. - quoted from here

CIA Technical Weapons did kill Jen Moore when I was documenting the fraud that the CIA would take a valid part of my identity.

I was at on place at one point in time (I call that Element "A") and later as me (at Element B using identity theft) get caught be a Legitimate sex workers with something illegal (child porn, exploitation, etc.,)

The punishment at Element "B" is fake Edward Paul Donegan will sign fertilization and genetics rights in the the US Marshalls evidence locker when that is recommended by the adult entertainer.

The CIA and DOD will kill any opposition to this with OSS CIA TSS Weapons Systems of biological murder weapons the Illuminati brag about and are used by the Once Element “B” has been completed an unreliable (tampered with) record then exists of me, the identity theft victim which is used behind my back to report ME as the fraudster to Social Security admin, etc., leaving me to die without even that guaranteed income, as the income directed to me then gets directed to a “non fraudulent” asset manage of me, who is embezzling my genome rights to their needs via pretending to me me, and they also prevent my normal life via the tampered with records presented to others.

Element “C” often involves some new deal to come along, bizarre excuse as to why the old deal is not in place any more; for instance, the computer can not find it, Extended Stay America Springfield Virginia, the new contract though easily lost during Element B, such as NEW contract which seems to admit my guilt since it replaced the old contract.

In other words, how it always works is I am there and did not do anything wrong but a Doppelgänger is there with some vague indica he is me (this all is Element “A”) then at Element “B” the Doppelgänger is confronted and assets seized. At Element “C” without explanation the computer can not find my membership but I can resign though at a higher price.

Or the service such as Social Security our Housing is lost and I live under a bridge and I have to seek out those very corrupt family services that are part of money launder my genetics rights to their “victims” of me.

At Element “B” most likely Stay and Play I was living in wealth and with the working satellite, and my claiming I was poor and in Corpus Christi Texas without ID is Social Security Fraud. This hides that my real money is being used and laundered elsewhere, likely Stay and Play though I was zerod out from there and my drivers licenses with that address rescinded by the CA DMV, likely then re-issued to the Doppelgänger of me.

The Fraud and the Wealth at Stay and Play (which my stolen idenity IS a part of) is used as evidence to undermine my extreme poverty in Corpus Christi because that fraud is attributed to me and cancels my resources in Corpus Christi that I AM THE FAKE and the Doppelgänger at Stay and Play is the real me with my actual worth.

In fact all these scam artists are CIA front corporations working for all the people with something to hide. Stay and Play, Texas Rangers DPS drivers license, California DMV, Neuces County Services, ARC of Northern Virginia, the Nueces County Texas District Attorney, all backing this corrupt CIA black budgets trust fund scam of seized assets.

And I still think this is behind the murder of Jen Moore, Judge Roll, Justice Scalia, and others, this CIA attempt to prevent Truthfall, the truth coming out and Skyfall upon the corrupt MKULTRA Governments.

To repeat one of the points of this book

When those who have the opportunity to act covertly, with Press complicity (or Duplicity,) checks and balances containing the power of government are lost.

This is one of the premises of my book, that MSM complicity in this is the real problem with the USA and even Western Civilization.

Take on the real problems. Like James Watson was willing to do.

Or the press could take on the Three MS Word Documents on money laundering and CIA DOD SLUSH FUNDS (a.k.a CIA Black Budgets) I wrote at Stay and Play about William Ruiz, Golds Gym, and other locations.

Evidence Tampering into and from Abuse of Process. Faked evidence goes into the real process and out comes an outcome abusive to the process and abusive to the person the evidence was faked about, but it looks legitimate on its face.

The evidence underneath the real thing is fake, so the real thing is also fake but looks real, effectively a tampered with court order since it used sort of illegally guiding the hand if the judge.

This can include Abuse of Psychiatry, a from of Abuse of [medical] Process.

This was the plot of Law and Order SVU Taken I repeatedly cite. An arrest warrant with faked facts led to the arrest, detention, and murder of a suspect. The Grifters faked an allegation and the defendant went through the Process and died in it, died in detention.

The legal process and the defendant were being abused though by fake allegations against the defendant put into the Process (system) and activating the systems detention, asset seizure, systems.

I have spent 45 year of my life fighting off COINTELPRO against me and my mother. I have lost every fight and been thrown in psych wards and that record now re-victimizes me as evidence against me.

Its all fraud by the Deep State I can not escape.

Steven Pinker Defending Larry Summers

Should we treat some ideas as dangerous? Let's exclude outright lies, deceptive propaganda, incendiary conspiracy theories from malevolent crackpots, and technological recipes for wanton destruction. Consider only ideas about the truth of empirical claims or the effectiveness of policies that, if they turned out to be true, would require a significant rethinking of our moral sensibilities. And consider ideas that, if they turn out to be false, could lead to harm if people believed them to be true. In either case, we don't know whether they are true or false a priori, so only by examining and debating them can we find out. Finally, let's assume that we're not talking about burning people at the stake or cutting out their tongues but about discouraging their research and giving their ideas as little publicity as possible.

There is a good case for exploring all ideas relevant to our current concerns, no matter where they lead. The very act of engaging in rational discourse presupposes a commitment to evaluating ideas on their intellectual warrant alone. Otherwise how could one even make the case that dangerous ideas should be discouraged, in the face of someone else arguing (as Dan Gilbert does in this volume) that the idea of discouraging ideas is itself morally dangerous? Should proponents of keeping dangerous ideas private then be forced to keep that idea private, because their opponents deem it to be dangerous? If not, why should the proponents' judgment about dangerousness and nondangerousness be granted a privilege they deny to others? The idea that ideas should be discouraged a priori is inherently self-refuting. Indeed, it is the ultimate arrogance, as it assumes that one can be so certain about the goodness and truth of one's own ideas that one is entitled to discourage other people's opinions from even being examined.

Also, it's hard to imagine any aspect of public life where ignorance or delusion is better than an awareness of the truth, even an unpleasant one.

APPARATCHIK

An Apparatchik was a full-time, professional functionary of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union or the Soviet government apparat (аппарат, apparatus), someone who held any position of bureaucratic or political responsibility, with the exception of the higher ranks of management called nomenklatura. Propaganda

The Press has committed to a false science of race and a poorly founded sociology and world view created on top of the lies about race.

(for instance they under report back on white crime, etc. for fear of crime statistics not matching the existing racial theories.)

One of the effects of this is the press model of the world, in order to be consistent, must steer clear of actual reality whichh is INCONSISTENT with the core press model of understanding.

Thus the press must self sensor and leave in the forbidden zone of knowledge those very dangerous ideas and actions to the few and the undisclosed to the public.

It is in this forbidden zone of truth, under the rock in that icky places, this disaster has formed.

Only by making mistakes, together, out in the open, can we accept we made mistakes, or rather do HAVE to admit we made mistakes, out in the open, understand them, accept them, and move on from them together.

Those who make mistakes in secret, especially “elites” may be left with too much to hide, too much to cover up, and through more secret acts and abuses of power.

Political Correctness demonizing the Truth and the Enemy and demands its banishment.

Apparatchika

There are permissible beliefs in the U.S. and Western media which flow from the ideology of the Human Genome Program. While they differ in comparison to each other they both meet the required beliefs in National Theories of Race created by enforced by the U.S. Government.

What channel a belief is on will be the various subordinate competing derivations of approved national beliefs with the varied planks, platforms, and ethics.

What I think are alternative and even correct scientific foundations have simply been declared impermissible.

Thus each fact as it emerge must be contested or spun in accepted ideologies in ways each ideology can accept, reject, or interpret the data.

IO have noticed since first arriving in Corpus Christi in its skid row black female reports run plant "Legend" propaganda for instance while I was at St TImmons a black female stood in front of the building stating on camera a "High School Ring" had been found "in the soup."

The exact same thing happened at Salvation Army, a tall black female reporter, and something similar at Good Samaritans Baptist reccue mission.

An announcement was made the press were doing a story, if people wish to be in the shot they could go out the public area, but if they were hiding from being seen stay inside. I went out and asked the press if they had any questions or wished to interview me in a live shot. They did not

Taboo is one of those rare words in the English language that doesn't have Greek or Latin or French roots, coming instead from the South Pacific Islands in the eighteenth century via the explorer Captain Cook. For many islanders some things were tabu, meaning not only could they not be done but they could not be talked about either for risk of offending the Gods. This latter meaning still applies today (minus the spiritual underpinning), when we say that certain subjects are "taboo," meaning off-limits for discussion

Defamation of Character Lawsuits: Proving Actual Harm retrieved from AllLaw.com and copied or modified to here

A successful lawsuit for defamation of character might require a showing of real damage caused by the statement. Updated By David Goguen, J.D.

Defamation of character occurs when someone makes a false and harmful statement about you. "Libel" is a defamatory statement made in writing or posted online, while "slander" is spoken defamation. With either type, the statement must be published in some way (which just means some third party must have heard or read it), it must be false, and it must result in harm, usually to the subject's reputation. Those essential components of a defamation claim are fairly straightforward. But what kinds of harm can result from a defamatory statement, and can you recover compensation for those losses through a lawsuit?

HARM TO REPUTATION

Perhaps the most common negative consequence of a defamatory statement is harm to your professional reputation. If you're a local businessperson and someone makes a false statement about you to others, indicating that you did something dishonest, that might cause your customers to take their business elsewhere. In another example, perhaps an untrue statement in a company email caused your employer to doubt whether you should remain employed.

FINANCIAL HARM

Of course, financial consequences often go hand-in-hand with harm to reputation. If you lose existing business, or lose your job, or can prove that you lost business opportunities or the chance at a promotion, you can seek compensation ("damages") for those types of financial harm as long as you can prove them with some degree of accuracy. Learn more about calculating damages in a defamation case.

WHEN HARM MIGHT BE PRESUMED

Some kinds of false statements are automatically presumed to be defamatory. The 2006 Duke lacrosse scandal provides an example. In that case, a woman accused several college athletes of sexually assaulting her at a party. It turned out that her account was not trustworthy. A false statement accusing another person of committing a crime, or of engaging in sexual misconduct, is usually considered "per se defamatory," meaning that it will be presumed to constitute defamation if, in fact, it was:

- false, and
- maliciously or recklessly made.

Other kinds of false allegations may also be presumed to be defamatory. But it's important to bear in mind that expressions of opinion about you, even if negative, are not usually defamatory. Likewise, if someone recounts a true but less-than-flattering incident involving you, that doesn't amount to libel or slander. Embarrassment is not defamation.

"PAIN AND SUFFERING" IN DEFAMATION CASES>

In some situations, defamation can lead to mental and physical health problems including insomnia, depression, anxiety, and other negative effects. In some states, a defamation plaintiff might be able to recover compensation for these kinds of "pain and suffering" damages, depending on the nature of the defamatory statement, especially where economic harm is clear.

METHODS OF PROOF

In many jurisdictions, if you can prove that someone made a false statement about you knowingly or recklessly, and published it to other parties, you have established a claim of defamation, and it will be presumed that you have suffered (at least nominal) harm. If, however, your jurisdiction does not follow that rule, or if you are a public figure or someone who is in the public eye, you might have to prove you were in fact harmed by the defamatory statement.

In order to establish that your reputation has suffered, in addition to your own testimony you may need to provide witnesses and documentary proof. To prove financial harm, you could testify about the impact of the defamation on your income and economic standing, but you may also need bank statements, bills, pay stubs, accounting statements, or tax returns to back up your claims.

To prove pain and suffering, you could testify about the effects the defamation has had on you. You might also provide witnesses (including a spouse, relatives, and/or close friends) to testify about their observations about you in connection with the incident. If you're making a claim for significant mental or physical harm, you may need a doctor or other health care provider to testify about your symptoms and medical treatment, including evidence that the issues you're currently experiencing were not pre-existing. You would also want to provide medical bills to show what the treatment cost you out of pocket. Learn more about evidence you'll need to bring a defamation lawsuit.

To understand the nuances of defamation law and how it applies to your situation, you may want to consult with an experienced personal injury lawyer. Learn more about how a lawyer handles a defamation case.

Mercenary Conflict Engagement (includig media) with Mercenaries operating on Deep State loyalties

Being surveiled. subverted, and ghosted by competing interests including interests I and my Libertarian encampmenet would be hostile to Others gain the following I can not enfore my rights from intrusions and assets from larceny.

Genetically, from formal education as well as hard work and type of work utilizing libraries, IT and the Internet and rationalism rather than religious or community therapy street people drum circles self help witnessing) I have a high level of achievement.

Those who have had lesser achievement have recognized the gain of assaulting me on topic and hope to learn during the engagement my beliefs, and trapping me among provocateur assailants in a walled of from my social educational level peers.

Competition in Similar Process
Similar but competing in the system		Results Claimed

because of KOMPROMAT	Stolen	and discredited

Either way my property rights are not being defended but rather violated and that is being encouraged by the State.

Without that Standing and worth as a person, a potential husband, employee, activist, etc., I can not gain the foothold needed in life.

My absence from my peer groups community is replaced with the hostile mercenary assailants who have learned from conflicts with me, as they assume the studies aspects of me to further their lives in communities new to themselves.

Enforcement of my rights with my standing and worth hijacked and USA social, housing, and reproductive family, educational, and spiritual life has been denies by the State backed assailants attributing their flaws upon me as they move forward with they have studies as me their new worth designed to fit any toehod which would have matched the shape of my toes.

I have undergone State backed sexual, physical, and other assault so that during the conflicts others have benefited including under Color of Law, the conflict or evidence plants created State study opportunities of me via Abuse of Process and acts of true State violence without identification of State actors thus that the State avoids penalty or retribution for the State acts.

As I said in the Dire Warning chapter

https://isthmus.com/news/news/democratic-operative-scott-foval-says-sting-that-brought-him-down-was-a-fraud/

Throughout the videos, Foval discusses what he calls “conflict engagement,” saying “We have mentally ill people we pay to do shit” and describing “bird-dogging,” which he explains as planting people at events of his political opponents to get the attention of the media or to disrupt candidates. A couple days after the videos were released, Foval was “summarily dismissed from both” jobs, he says.

As I document the ENTIRE SCENE with these photos I am violently threatened by the entire Shill group who surrounded me.

Seeking my knowledge of Recovery and my capabilities representing recovery through assaults rather than cooperation

Hegel and the FOXP2 gene

My honest and hard working literate lifestyle and morality has been the mental health system motive to coopt and attack me because I was doing in my non employed life what they were not doing while at work.

I participated in non retarded activities such as reading groups, charity runs meetups, book clubs, philosophy meetups, etc. in Arlington Virginia with members of the community, often PHds and attorneys and others.

I was attack by black thugs at least 15 times and under constantly threat from gangtalk racketeering system around me I was several times arrested for rather than the stalkers.

I made (for HTML practice) a table on Hegal about polar opposites and “Live and Let Live” just simply trying to put encampments of disagreements asside in life, and finding common ground.

Rather than recognize it as good ideas in recovery, don’t be a pscyho in life, it was co-opted by “scholars” who were the experts and me who made the Alcoholics Anonymous like share of having good non psychotic relations with others, was turned into the Psycho who those scholars needed to study, perhaps because I carry the FOXP2 Borderline gene and of course that makes me a lab rat trapped by DARPA CIA experts as some sort of exotic psycho.

No, my hard work and non psychotic statement of My Principles was co-opted by those who wanted to credit themselves and discredit me. Since I was in the dental chair under gas, why not cop a feel and not tell me about it.

the Media backed the “scholars.”

In fact I had always planned on using social media to reconnect back into the Social Matrix as part of recovery since about 2003 and that Hegel meetup was that continuting plan. The person who was my counselor at the time, Penny Ashley was a far leftist who snapped the meetup time and location from me saying she had me. I was a racist, what was the Master and Slave thing I was doing now. I had to tell her this was a philosophy group, not New Nation News.

This was the same counselor I had to tell what a Dialectic was and also completely missed my having diabetes and was wrong about the diet plan, not accepting the one promoted by my Internal Medicine doctor and she did not understand my gym plan or routine either.

By studying me down to the Molecular level by assault and intrusion the Analog Molecule can be formed which will displace me. If the Analog Moleucule is not an exact shape of the copied molecule the original molecule might still bind somewhere.

Lethal State Backed Persecution by Defection of Those Who Would but Then Will Not Be Honest Roles in my Societal Life

Whether it be any State agency I go to, lawyer, doctor, Government agency, the press, or apartment rental, etc., I go to, its defection from me is recruited and achieved.

Mercenary interest found in those entities surrounding me with lethally deny the original good or service and do something hostile to me instead making survival in the USA nothing other than a subject of abuse existence for which neither the Government nor the Media have altered course.

Conflict Entanglement

Behavioral Health, DARPA backed Brain researchers have done hit jobs on me as they have themsleves or through Mercenaries conflict entangled with me.

Standing next to me and seeming to lead me (perhaps leading the Doppelgänger next to me) or pretending to coach me on what I am already doing has given Conflict Entanglers what literally is my claim to faim.

In fact they have the capability to show others using the own [lack of] credibility I am ignorant and with the public's assistance, the Media and its personalities, those can show a retard like me how to live, and in fact if what is hinted at to me matches my life then by the entanglement my intellectual standing, worth, and even property is credited to alleged teachers of me.

I am not bipolar. Hiding non cyclical Speech Spasmodia as "Bipolar pressured speech" hides the real presence of FOXP2 which has been a Behavioral Health mechanism to bring discredit to me and my own standing and statements about any topic or about any person INCLUDING my criticisms of Behavioral Health who entangles with me without right to do so.

DARPA Brain Program and Behavioral Health have the clout and even technology to do hit jobs on the reports they generate about me.

This includes inbound calls, SMS TXTs, or STOPS to my smartphone music such that I touch my phone for one purpose when it looks like I am using my phone for something else.

Similarly when I legitimately use my phone for stay starting Map My Run run tracking they stick a fake photo victim in front of my camera.

NEWSFLASH

The CIA and Marine Corps, Marshalls, and others are not racketeering the value of my genome into adult entertainers. The Press believes them.

BTW John Pilger also believes it possible Obama is the Manchurian Candidate, which is what he has reported on and would explain to keep my genes out of what would be immediate relatives white women, and into blacks instead, all tied to the Vatican and the CIA including in Texas.

Oh, the great war is at hand and few are the wiser! It is heartbreaking to see that so many are headed to slaughter and they are drunk with the consumption of the dark lusts of this deceptive world! They are fast asleep, yet their very necks are on the chopping blocks, and they hope against hope that this is not the case! But, alas it is so! At stake is now on this dark is every living soul of humanity!

This great war has everything to do with our Lord Jesus Christ, His soon return and reign on this Earth, versus the reign of Lucifer, Satan, the devil and his soon ending reign in this very dark world. But, my Dear Ones, as long as any love this world and what is in it, they will not see this war and will probably even scorn at the notion that it even exists! And, in so doing, they will not notice that they are neck-high in it until they are literally forced to make a choice for one side or the other! And, this is exactly what the "mark of the beast" is going to do for the sleeping and dumbed-down masses! They will be forced into choosing either the side of Satan, and thereby take his computer chip, or they will wake up, repent, and choose the side of righteousness, the side of our Saviour!

Blindness

The Press and the U.S. do not recognize the crime because they have blinded themselves to key elements of the story.

- The motive for the crime. Blacks ARE cognitively inferior to Whites and Asians for Modernity, especially true Sub Saharans.
- the opportunity for the crime, few press risk covering much of the high per capita crime levels of blacks for fear of being accused of unequal coverage of minorities. Thus a area of non camera coverage exists for people like the Obamas, Vince Stewart Jr., or others to operate under without enough scrutiny.
- Again, because people won't recognize issues like ASPM and the ATL, medical issues, the means of fixing these, also gets information blackholed.

Linda Newkirk is correct that in this world blindness to reality the Illuminati have been able to operate near publicly without being noticed or being ignored.

Julius Ochs Adler (December 3, 1892 - October 3, 1955) was an American publisher, journalist, and highly decorated United States Army officer with the rank of major general. He distinguished himself during World War I as Major and battalion commander in the 306th Infantry Regiment and received Distinguished Service Cross, the second highest decorations of the United States military for valor in combat.

Member of Justice Lodge No. 753 of New York City.

Following the War, he returned to his civilian job as journalist for The New York Times, but retained his reserve commission. Adler was recalled for federal service in 1940 and reached the rank of Brigadier general. He later served as Assistant Division Commander, 6th Infantry Division during New Guinea campaign, but reverted to the inactive status in late 1944. However Adler remained active in the Army Organized Reserve and reached the rank of major general and commander of 77th Infantry Division.

Adler returned stateside in April 1919 and reverted to the inactive status on May 10, 1919. He retain his reserve commission in the 306th Infantry Regiment and returned to his job with The New York Times. He become treasurer and vice-president of The New York Times and following the death of his uncle, Adolph Ochs, in April 1935, he was appointed General Manager of The Times. Adler was promoted to lieutenant colonel in 1923 and to colonel in 1930 in the Army Reserve. He assumed command of 306th Infantry Regiment in the Army Reserves in December 1924 and held it until his reactivation in October 1940.

Meanwhile in April 1932, Adler was appointed civilian aide to the Secretary of War, Patrick J. Hurley in connection with Citizens' Military Training Camp for Second Corps Area under Major general Dennis E. Nolan. For his contribution as a Princeton graduate to journalism or related fields, Adler became the second recipient of the medal awarded annually by the Daily Princetonian Alumni Association.

Adler participated in the pre-World War II defense program and in May 1940, he was appointed Head of the committee of representatives from New York, New Jersey and Delaware, which was responsible for the direction of the registration of 7,200 youths for the Citizens' Military Training Camps. Adler also urged Secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, with the adoption of compulsory military training.

World War II Adler was reactivated at his own request in October 1940 and appointed commanding officer of the 113th Infantry Regiment, 44th Division, at Fort Dix, New Jersey. After several months with that regiment, he was promoted to the temporary rank of Brigadier general on July 15, 1941 and assumed duty as Assistant Division Commander, 6th Infantry Division under Major general Franklin C. Sibert.

He participated in the desert training in California and embarked with the division to Hawaii in July 1943 for defense of the islands. Adler participated in the coordination of the defense plans of Oahu and received Bronze Star Medal. The Sixth Division then conducted intensive jungle training until January 1944, when it received orders to reinforce allied units on Southwest Pacific. Adler participated in the New Guinea campaign until June 1944, when became ill and was shipped to the United States for treatment.

Unfortunately his illness was so serious, Adler was declared unfit for active duty and reverted to an inactive status on NOVEMBER 17, 1944. At least his service with 6th Infantry Division on New Guinea was recognized with Legion of Merit.

Postwar career- American newspaper editors speak with survivors at a hospital in the newly liberated Buchenwald concentration camp, April 1945. Left to right: Norman Chandler, Los Angeles Times; William I. Nichols (leaning forward, center), This Week magazine; and Julius Ochs Adler, The New York Times. Adler returned to his job with The New Another tour of duty came in August and September 1945, when he was invited by Secretary of the Navy, James V. Forrestal to the Pacific Theater of Operations to obtain firsthand observation of the military operations. While in the Pacific, Japan surrendered and Adler filed dispatches to his newspaper aboard the U.S. Warships in Tokyo Bay.

Following the activation of 77th Infantry Division as the part of Army Organized Reserve, general Courtney Hodges, commanding general, First United States Army, appointed Adler as 77th Division commanding general. Adler commanded his division during the postwar training period at Camp Kilmer, New Jersey and received promotion to major general on January 24, 1948. He also served as the President of the Senior Army Reserve Commanders Association, 1949-1951 and a Reserve member of the Components Policy Board.

Media Liability robbed entirely from Coverwallet.com source html

Large international media operations like Felife.com operating from Turkey and Canada have promoted and facilitated the Criminal Syndicate including criminal trafficking across international borders and a policy banning any fetlife member for an act of accsuing another fetlife member of criminal activity.

https://www.coverwallet.com/general/media-liability

Media liability insurance is a specialized form of errors and omissions policy specifically designed for media clients who are at risk from liability claims brought by third parties. This type of policy is usually purchased by publishers, broadcasters, advertising agencies, authors, and other related firms that create and distribute media content through various platforms.

Typically written on a claim made basis, media liability insurance provides coverage against defamation, invasion of privacy, copyright infringement, plagiarism, intentional torts and related liabilities. Whether you are an online blogger, film producer, advertising company, news publisher, digital marketing company, or social media influencer, a media liability policy protects you from claim types that are unique to media professionals and for which you can be held financially responsible.

Who should buy Media Liability Insurance?

Media creators produce the shows we watch, the books we read, the music we love, the web content we read or stream, and more.

But behind the craftsmanship, media makers and entertainers often face liabilities that could lead to steep defense costs and the risk of a liability judgment. Things like libel, slander, intellectual property claims and similar issues are very common in the industry.

To protect the interest of publishers, broadcasters, producers, creators, and agencies, obtaining the right liability insurance is essential. This is where a media liability policy becomes extremely helpful, by providing coverage specifically designed for the unique needs of media producers. If your business deals with the following activities or have a direct relation with these industries, then having media liability insurance is highly recommended:

- Film and program producer
- Film, program, video and home entertainment distributor
- Publisher
- Author
- Radio, cable and television broadcaster
- Spokesperson
- Advertising agency
- Magazine, newspaper and book publisher
- Cable operator
- Marketing company
- Multimedia company
- Online content provider
- Brand manager
- Public speaker
- Public relation firm

If you aren’t sure if media liability insurance will address your specific needs, check with your broker. It may be possible that another type of policy is the best fit or that your business needs multiple policies to provide more complete coverage.

What is covered by Media Liability Insurance?

Depending on coverage offered, not all media liability policies are created equal. Insurers’ policies often vary while some businesses need a customized plan to suit their specific requirements. Media liability coverage includes the following but may not be limited to:

Defamation - often arising from false information, defamation is damaging another person, product, group, or business reputation. When false statements are verbalized, they are called slander. But when they are printed in words or images, it is then classified as libel.

Plagiarism - defined as the practice of taking someone else’s work or ideas and passing them off as one’s original work. Because ideas are often similar in some ways, plagiarism is a possible media liability claim that media creators can face. Even if there is no copyright, as long as it is proven that the content is made by someone else, you can be held legally responsible for using content without authorization or creating substantially similar content.

Copyright Infringement - if you reproduce, distribute, perform, or display a protected work without permission, you are violating the exclusive rights of the copyright holder. Just like plagiarism, copyright infringement is a common risk in the world of media and entertainment.

Invasion of Privacy - common for reporters, entertainment writers, and celebrity followers, invasion of privacy is the unjustifiable intrusion into the personal life of another without proper consent. It includes disclosing his or her private information, publicizing the person in a false light, or using his or her name for personal gain.

Other media liability claims that may be covered by your policy are emotional distress, negligent supervision, and personal disparagement. On the other hand, media liability insurance typically excludes the following circumstances:

- Breach of contract
- Patent infringements
- Claims made by regulatory authorities
- Normal business activities relating to employment

Paranoia resultant from Defamation of me and myself used as the Red Herring that distracts from identification or real peepers

- Beliefs about which the truth cannot be known with reasonable certainty, such as cultural or religious beliefs should not be classified as delusions without careful consideration.

DESCRIPTIVE PHENOMENOLOGICAL APPROACH

This approach to understanding delusions is a very influential one for psychiatrists. Jaspers' book General Psychopathology marked a major step forwards in establishing psychopathology as a scientific discipline. Experiencing mental states by the patient and the understanding of this experience by the physician defined the central framework. However, in contrast to biological phenomena, mental events in Jaspers' view can never be accessed directly, but only via the expressions of the person who experiences them. Phenomenology is the study of subjective experience. It is one's empathic access or understanding of the patient's experience. One enters into the other person's experiences using the analogy of one's own experience. Jaspers distinguishes between static understanding which "grasps particular psychic qualities and states as individually experienced" and genetic understanding which "grasps the emergence of one psychic event from another". Phenomenology is static understanding. Phenomenology is one's recreation of the patient's experiences through "transferring into", "empathizing with" or literally "feeling into" or "living with" the patient's experiences. In this way one arrives at an "actualization, representation or bringing to mind" of the patient's experience. "Phenomenology actualizes or represents the patient's inner subjective experiences. We can only make a representation of them through an act of empathy or understanding" (Jaspers, 1963).

THE CONCEPT OF FORM AND CONTENT

Following the theory of knowledge of the philosopher Immanuel Kant, Jaspers accepts that all experience or knowledge entails both an incoming sensation and an organizing concept. The former is matter or content, the latter is form. The empiricists (Locke, Berkeley Hume) emphasized incoming sensation exclusively; the rationalists (Descartes and Leibniz) emphasized the organizing concept exclusively. Kant took a carefully considered middle course. All experience and knowledge entails the two stems of conceptual form and intuitive content. This will be crucial for Jaspers' concept of delusion. In Kant's words from his Critique of Pure Reason:

Propaganda is communication that is primarily used to influence an audience and further an agenda, which may not be objective and may be selectively presenting facts in order to encourage a particular synthesis or perception, or using loaded language in order to produce an emotional rather than a rational response to the information that is being presented. [1] Propaganda is often associated with material which is prepared by governments, but activist groups, companies, religious organizations, the media, and individuals also produce propaganda.

In fact the minds of those who saw deceitful snapshots of scenes, manufactured scenes, were victims of Propaganda and I then I also became a victim of their paranoia towards me.

If the underlying delusions are organic they may not yeild to corrective evidence made available to the mind.

If the errors of fact driving the mind to erroneous conclusions is not based in biology or nor in fixed brain disorder then rational analysis should be available as an intervention.

My point is the operational elements with responsibilities are letting falsified information generated by others create paranoia about me and not only permits the process but reinforce the process in protection of the manufactured Propaganda and its affects which include what I term religious violence and ethnic violence, created false and actionable claims against percieved villany of opposition, racial, ethnic, and religious opposition.

Victim Playing (also known as playing the victim, victim card, or self-victimization) is the fabrication or exaggeration of victimhood for a variety of reasons such as to justify abuse of others, to manipulate others, a coping strategy, attention seeking or diffusion of responsibility

Victim playing by abusers is either

For abuse

- Dehumanization of a person, diverting attention away from acts of abuse by claiming that the abuse was justified based on another person's bad behavior (such as racism) (typically [a property of the victim).
- Grooming for abusive power and control by soliciting sympathy from others in order to gain their assistance in supporting or enabling the abuse of a victim (known as proxy abuse).

For manipulation

> Manipulators often play the victim role (“woe is me”) by portraying themselves as victims of circumstances or someone else’s behavior in order to gain pity or sympathy or to evoke compassion and thereby get something from someone. Caring and conscientious people cannot stand to see anyone suffering, and the manipulator often finds it easy and rewarding to play on sympathy to get cooperation.[3]

Blame - As a propaganda technique.

Labeling theory accounts for blame by postulating that when intentional actors act out to continuously blame an individual for nonexistent psychological traits and for nonexistent variables.

or the blaming behaviors, the intention is to create a negative valuation of innocent humans to induce fear, by using fear mongering. For centuries, governments have used blaming in the form of demonization to influence public perceptions of various other governments, to induce feelings of nationalism in the public From Wikipediaa, the free encyclopedia *

Rationalization (psychology)

From Wikipediaa, the free encyclopedia

In psychology and logic, rationalization or rationalization (also known as making excuses[according to whom?])[1] is a defense mechanism in which controversial behaviors or feelings are justified and explained in a seemingly rational or logical manner to avoid the true explanation, and are made consciously tolerable-or even admirable and superior-by plausible means.[2] It is also an informal fallacy of reasoning.[3]

Rationalization happens in two steps:

- A decision, action, judgment is made for a given reason, or no (known) reason at all.
- A rationalization is performed, constructing a seemingly good or logical reason, as an attempt to justify the act after the fact (for oneself or others).

Rationalization encourages irrational or unacceptable behavior, motives, or feelings and often involves ad hoc hypothesizing. This process ranges from fully conscious (e.g. to present an external defense against ridicule from others) to mostly unconscious (e.g. to create a block against internal feelings of guilt or shame). People rationalize for various reasons-sometimes when we think we know ourselves better than we do. Rationalization may differentiate the original deterministic explanation of the behavior or feeling in question.[4][5]

It is important to put emphasis on the notion that rationalization is exclusively a defense mechanism; as such, it must be a denial of an idea. Many conclusions individuals come to do not fall under the definition of rationalization as the term is denoted above.

WANT

The word want goes back to the 12th century and the Old Norse language, where vanta meant “to be deficient,” or “in want.” If someone keeps bugging you, you might lose patience and ask, “What do you want?” If you are seeking employment, check the "want ads" or look for signs saying "Help Wanted." If you are a "wanted criminal," you might have trouble getting hired.

WANTON

Wanton describes something excessive, uncontrolled and sometimes even cruel. The principal sees a food fight as a wanton act of vandalism done with wanton disregard for the rules, but the kids might just see it as fun.

Wikipediaa retrieved from Demonization and copied or modified to here

Demonization or Demonisation is the reinterpretation of polytheistic deities as evil, lying demons by other religions, generally by the monotheistic and henotheistic ones. The term has since been expanded to refer to any characterization of individuals, groups, or political bodies as evil. When Christians spread and conquered land, they demonized the gods and goddesses of the local people.

Religions, even those that are radically monotheistic, do not necessarily deny the existence of other gods or spiritual beings. On the contrary, they claim other gods are not worthy of worship and in actuality are demons who mislead followers from proper belief or practice. Christian missionaries often employed demonization tactics when converting pagans, although Judaism, Islam, and other religions have similar histories. Demonization is not limited to focusing on other religions but can also be directed inward to condemn various schools of thought or movements.

From a secular viewpoint, demonization can be used to denigrate an opposed individual or group, making adherents to one's own religion or viewpoint less inclined to do business with them (and possibly convert) and more inclined to fight against them. If foreigners are evil and corrupted by demonic influence, then any means of self-defense is easily portrayed as legitimate. The portrayal of almost all pagans in the Middle East as Baal worshippers in the Hebrew Bible is an example of this.[1] [2] If pagans are corrupted by the demon "god" Baal, then clearly they must be fought or at least oppressed.[3] Especially in the earlier books of the Hebrew Bible, foreign deities are portrayed as existing and corrupting entities rather than being mere powerless idols. Some would argue this later transferred to Christianity after Constantine I's ascension in its suppression of Roman paganism.[4] Some of the most known of these demonizations are Lucifer, Beelzebub and Baphomet up to the extend that they became synonymous with the devil/satan of Abrahamic religions. Later, the language of demonization would be invoked with the rise in Antisemitism in Iberia, leading to the Expulsion of Jews from Spain including the Moriscos.[5]

Political conflicts, Demonization is sometimes used against what are arguably political opponents rather than religious ones. The Knights Templar were destroyed by accusations that they worshipped Baphomet from King Philip the Fair. Baphomet, often thought to be Beelzebub, may have been used because of the likeness of this horned deity with the Christian images of Satan.[10][11

In order for a group to be successful in subverting a government, the group itself and its ideas must be seen as an acceptable alternative to the status quo. CAMOUFLAGE

To camouflage is to disguise, and a camouflage is that which disguises - like the leaf-colored and patterned uniforms worn by soldiers who want to blend in with their natural surroundings.

Camouflage evolved from the French camoufler, which was slang for "to disguise." Camoufler itself most likely comes from camouflet, meaning "puff of smoke" - a puff of smoke that makes it hard to see things. Camouflaged clothing certainly hides hunters from their prey, but the word can also be used in a more figurative sense, as in camouflaging criticism by veiling it as a backhanded compliment.

Buddy Ebsen (born Christian Ludolf Ebsen Jr., APRIL 2, 1908 - JULY 6, 2003), also known as Frank “Buddy” Ebsen,[2] was an American actor, comedian, and dancer, whose career spanned seven decades. His most famous role was as Jed Clampett in the CBS television sitcom The Beverly Hillbillies (1962-1971);

A middle child with four sisters and a Republican (aka GOP), Buddy Ebsen was born as Christian Ludolf (Adolf?) Ebsen Jr., on April 2, 1908, in Belleville, Illinois. His father, Christian Ludolf Ebsen Sr., was a Danish choreographer, who once owned a dance studio and was also a physical fitness advocate, before operating a natatorium (fitness pool) for the local school district,[5] and his mother, Frances (née Wendt),[6] was a Baltic German (specifically, Latvian) painter.

The witch's most popular depiction was in the classic 1939 film based on Baum's novel, where she was portrayed by Margaret Hamilton. Hamilton's characterization introduced green skin and this has been continued in later literary and dramatic representations Ebsen was noted for his unusual, surreal dancing and singing style (for example, his contribution to the "Swingin' the Jinx Away" finale of Born to Dance). His abilities might have been a reason filmmaker Walt Disney chose Ebsen to be filmed dancing in front of a grid as an aid to animating Mickey Mouse's dancing in Disney's 1929 to 1939 Silly Symphonies animated short films.

In 1940 Estonia and Latvia became Soviet republics. One of the main conditions posed by Hitler to Stalin in August 1939 was the prior transfer of all ethnic Germans living in Estonia and Latvia to areas under German military control.[10] These became known as the Nazi-Soviet population transfers. Stalin proceeded to set up Soviet military bases in Estonia and Latvia in late 1939.

In a speech to the Reichstag on October 6, 1939, which was broadcast live on radio, Hitler announced that German minorities should be resettled in the Reich (Back home to Reich, heim ins Reich). Resettlement was overseen by Himmler who created a new Reich Commisariat for the Strengthening of Germandom for this purpose.

Treaties were signed with Estonia and Latvia in 1939 and 1940 concerning the emigration of Baltic Germans and the liquidation of their educational, cultural, and religious institutions.

DiMaggio of course is remembered for his 56 game hitting streak in 1941. A record which is unlikely to ever be broken. Hitting streaks -nothing new to Dimaggio- back in 1933 while with San Francisco in the Pacific Coast League he had a 61 game hitting streak. Also- after the 56 game streak ended in 1941- he started a new streak which lasted 16 games- so in a 73 game stretch he had hits in 72 of the 73 games.

Keith Richards (born 18 DECEMBER 1943), attended Wentworth Primary School with Mick Jagger and was his neighbour until 1954 when the Richards and Jagger families both moved. From 1955 to 1959, Richards attended Dartford Technical High School for Boys. Recruited by Dartford Tech's choirmaster, R. W. "Jake" Clare, he sang in a trio of boy sopranos at, among other occasions, Westminster Abbey for Queen Elizabeth II. In 1959, Richards was expelled from Dartford Tech for truancy and transferred to Sidcup Art College, where he met Dick Taylor. At Sidcup, he was diverted from his studies proper and devoted more time to playing guitar with other students in the boys' room. At this point, Richards had learned most of Chuck Berry's solos.

Richards met Jagger again by chance on a train platform when Jagger was heading for classes at the London School of Economics. The mail-order rhythm & blues albums from Chess Records by Chuck Berry and Muddy Waters that Jagger was carrying revealed a mutual interest and led to a renewal of their friendship.

Caesar cipher retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

In cryptography, a Caesar cipher, also known as Caesar's cipher, the shift cipher, Caesar's code or Caesar shift, is one of the simplest and most widely known encryption techniques. It is a type of substitution cipher in which each letter in the plaintext is replaced by a letter some fixed number of positions down the alphabet. For example, with a left shift of 3, D would be replaced by A, E would become B, and so on. The method is named after Julius Caesar, who used it in his private correspondence.

The encryption step performed by a Caesar cipher is often incorporated as part of more complex schemes, such as the Vigenère cipher, and still has modern application in the ROT13 system. As with all single-alphabet substitution ciphers, the Caesar cipher is easily broken and in modern practice offers essentially no communications security.

The transformation can be represented by aligning two alphabets; the cipher alphabet is the plain alphabet rotated left or right by some number of positions. For instance, here is a Caesar cipher using a left rotation of three places, equivalent to a right shift of 23 (the shift parameter is used as the key)

SUPER 8 (2011 FILM)

Super 8 is a 2011 American monster thriller film written and directed by J. J. Abrams and produced by Steven Spielberg. The film stars Joel Courtney, Elle Fanning, and Kyle Chandler and tells the story of a group of young teenagers who are filming their own Super 8 movie when a train derails, releasing a dangerous presence into their town. The film was shot in Weirton, West Virginia and surrounding areas, portraying the fictional town of Lillian, Ohio.

The film reveals that in 1958, the Air Force captured an alien when it crash-landed. They experimented on the alien, while withholding its space craft, composed of the strange white cubes, which allowed the craft to shape-shift. The alien had established a psychic connection with Woodward, convincing him to help it escape Earth, but Nelec sabotaged, discredited, and discharged Woodward. Nelec captures the kids but the alien kills Nelec and the airmen, allowing the kids to escape. Jack escapes and agrees with Louis to put their differences aside to save their kids.

The military attacks the alien but their hardware goes haywire in its presence, resulting in significant collateral damage. Joe and Cary find a massive tunnel system under the town. The missing townfolk, including Alice, are hanging unconscious from the ceiling of a cavern. Here, the alien is creating a device, constructed from the missing electronics, and attached to the base of the water tower. Using firecrackers as a distraction, Joe frees Alice and the others. The alien grabs Joe, who quietly speaks to it, saying “bad things happen” but that it “can still live”. The alien allows them to return to the surface.

Khan also gives Kirk a set of coordinates, which Kirk asks

Scott to investigate. Scott discovers the coordinates lead to a covert Starfleet facility.

Enterprise is intercepted by a much larger Starfleet warship, USS Vengeance, commanded by Admiral Marcus. Marcus demands that Kirk deliver Khan, but Enterprise flees to Earth to expose him. After Vengeance disables Enterprise near the Moon, Carol reveals her presence aboard Enterprise to stop the attack.

On February 1, 2018, HBO announced it had given a series order to Demimonde, a new television series written and created by J. J.

Abrams. Other networks and streaming services interested in the series reportedly also included Apple. The series will be produced by Bad Robot Productions and Warner Bros. Television with executive producers including Abrams and Ben Stephenson.[1][2][3][4][5][6] On June 28, 2018, Bash Doran was announced as its executive producer and showrunner.[7] By July 24, 2019, Doran had exited the project.[8] She was replaced by Kira Snyder, Rand Ravich and Far Shariat.

In September 2017, it was announced by Lucasfilm's president, Kathleen Kennedy, that Abrams would be returning to direct and co-write Star Wars: The Rise of Skywalker with Chris Terrio.[34] The film was released in December 2019; it received mixed reviews from critics and fans,[35][36] while audience reactions leaned more positively.

Kathleen Kennedy (born JUNE 5, 1953)[1] is an American film producer and current president of Lucasfilm. In 1981, she co-founded the production company Amblin Entertainment with Steven Spielberg and Frank Marshall.

Her first film as a producer was E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial (1982). A decade later, again with Spielberg she produced the Jurassic Park franchise, the first two of which became two of the top ten highest-grossing films of the 1990s. In 1992, she co-founded The Kennedy/Marshall Company with her husband Frank Marshall. On October 30, 2012, she became the president of Lucasfilm after The Walt Disney Company acquired the company for over $4 billion.[2] She received the Irving G. Thalberg Award from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences in 2018.

Kennedy has participated in the making of over 60 films that have earnt over $11 billion worldwide, including five of the fifty highest-grossing films in motion picture history.[5] She has received 8 Academy Award for Best Picture nominations,[6] the third greatest number of nominations for the award behind Spielberg and Scott Rudin. As a producer, she is third behind Kevin Feige and Spielberg in domestic box office receipts, with over $7.5 billion as of 2020.

Kennedy was born in Berkeley, California, to Dione Marie "Dede" (née Dousseau), a one-time theater actress, and Donald R. Kennedy, a judge and attorney.[8] She has two sisters. Her twin sister, Connie, formerly a location manager in British Columbia, Canada, is now the executive producer of the Virtual Production company Profile Studios.[9] Her other sister is Dana Middleton-Silberstein, a television host and anchor, and press secretary/communications director for former Governor Gary Locke (D-WA).

Kennedy graduated from Shasta High School in Redding, California, in 1971. She continued her education at San Diego State University where she majored in telecommunications and film. In her final year, Kennedy gained employment at a local San Diego TV station, KCST (now KNSD), taking on various roles including camera operator, video editor, floor director and finally as KCST news production coordinator.[10]

Gary Faye Locke (born January 21, 1950) is an American politician and diplomat serving as the interim president of Bellevue College, the largest of the institutions that make up the Washington Community and Technical Colleges system.[1] Locke previously served as the 10th United States ambassador to China (2011-2014) and as the 21st governor of Washington (1997-2005). He also served in the Obama administration as United States Secretary of Commerce (2009-2011).

Locke is the first governor in the continental United States of East Asian descent and the only Chinese American ever to have served as a governor of any state. He was also the first Chinese American to serve as the U.S. ambassador to China.

Gary Locke was born on January 21, 1950, in Seattle, and spent his early years living in the Yesler Terrace public housing project. A third-generation Chinese American with paternal ancestry from Jilong village,[3] Taishan, Guangdong, China, Locke is the second of five children of James Locke, who served as a staff sergeant in the U.S. Fifth Armored Division during World War II. James Locke’s wife, Julie, is from Hong Kong,[4] which at that time was a British Crown Colony. His paternal grandfather left China in the 1890s and moved to the United States, where he worked as a houseboy in Olympia, Washington, in exchange for English lessons.[5] Locke did not learn to speak English until he was five years old and entered kindergarten.

Locke graduated with honors from Seattle’s Franklin High School in 1968. He achieved Eagle Scout rank and received the Distinguished Eagle Scout Award from the Boy Scouts of America.[6][7] Through a combination of part-time jobs, financial aid, and scholarships, Locke attended Yale University, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in political science in 1972.[8] He received his Juris Doctor from Boston University School of Law in 1975.

Locke was chosen to give his party's response to George W. Bush's 2003 State of the Union Address.[11] In a surprise move, Locke announced in July 2003 that he would not seek a third term,[12] saying, "Despite my deep love of our state, I want to devote more time to my family."[12] Susan Paynter, a columnist at the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, suggested that racist slurs, insults, and threats that Locke and his family received, especially after his rebuttal to Bush's State of the Union address, may have played a role in Locke's decision to leave office after two terms.[13] The governor's office received hundreds of threatening letters and emails; others threatened to kill his children.[13] His official portrait, painted by Michele Rushworth, was unveiled in the state capitol by Governor Christine Gregoire on January 4, 2006.

After leaving office, Locke joined the Seattle office of international law firm Davis Wright Tremaine LLP, in their China and governmental-relations practice groups. During the leadup to the 2008 Democratic presidential primary, Locke was Washington co-chairman of Hillary Clinton's campaign.

In 1975, Belushi was recommended to SNL creator and showrunner Lorne Michaels by Chevy Chase and Michael O'Donoghue, who accepted Belushi as a new cast member of the show after an audition. He developed a series of characters on the show that reached high success, including his performances as Henry Kissinger and Ludwig van Beethoven. Belushi's Albanian ancestry lent itself to his "Olympia Restaurant" sketch (in which he sold nothing but "cheeseburgers, cheeps [potato chips] and Pepsi"). After his breakout film role as John Blutarsky in National Lampoon's Animal House (1978), Belushi appeared in films such as 1941, The Blues Brothers, and Neighbors. He also pursued interests in music, creating with Aykroyd, Lou Marini, Tom Malone, Steve Cropper, Donald "Duck" Dunn, Paul Shaffer, and The Blues Brothers, from which the film received its name.

In his personal life, Belushi struggled with heavy drug use that threatened his comedy career; he was dismissed and rehired at SNL on several occasions due to his behavior. In 1982, Belushi died from combined drug intoxication possibly caused by Cathy Smith,[3] who injected him with a mixture of heroin and cocaine known as a speedball at the Chateau Marmont hotel in West Hollywood, California. He was posthumously honored with a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame in 2004.

Smith was born in Hamilton, Ontario. She became notorious in the Belushi case, but her association with celebrities went back at least 20 years prior to her confession in the National Enquirer. Her earliest acquaintance was with Levon Helm, who later joined the Band, in 1963.[6] In his autobiography, Helm recalls that Smith first met him in Hamilton, Ontario.[7] Helm, with friend and bandmate Rick Danko, was in a band called the Hawks at the time (see Ronnie Hawkins). At one point, the musicians were in Toronto facing a drug bust.

Smith has been connected to the Band's famous song, "The Weight" (1968).[9] Smith says in Rock and Roll Toronto: From Alanis to Zeppelin (1997),[10] that Richard Manuel offered to marry her, but she refused.[9] Nevertheless, she continued to tour and party with Helm, Danko, and Manuel through the 1960s, and at one point became pregnant with a child known as "The Band baby," as its paternity was unclear.[11] She later had an affair with Gordon Lightfoot. After the affair ended, Smith returned to Helm and the circle whose members made up The Band

At the Sleep Rite Motel in Pritchardville GA, Nash becomes paranoid. He is convinced that his room is bugged, and that undercover operatives have laced his free ice with sodium penathol. The constant presence of Dean Rusk's baby pictures flashing on the television set does not assuage his fears.

The New York Daily News highlights the fact that Hastings had received multiple death threats before his demise.

Following his role in bringing down Gen. Stanley A. McChrystal, Hastings was told by a McChrystal staffer, “We’ll hunt you down and kill you if we don’t like what you write.”

“Whenever I’d been reporting around groups of dudes whose job it was to kill people, one of them would usually mention that they were going to kill me,” said Hastings.

More recently, Ibragim Todashev, friend of accused Boston bomber Tamerlan Tsarnev, was shot in the head six times by the FBI, who initially claimed Todashev was armed but later had to admit this was a lie. Speculation has raged that Todashev was assassinated because he had knowledge about the Boston bombings which the feds didn’t want to see the light of public scrutiny.

Despite his actions, the murder of Christopher Dorner June 4, 1979 - FEBRUARY 12, 2013, who was burned to death by LAPD officers while hiding inside a cabin, shows that authorities will not hesitate to resort to such methods.

> It’s virtually inevitable that the true cause of Michael Hastings death will never be known and that the mainstream media will demonize anyone who questions the official narrative as a conspiracy theorist. Meanwhile, journalists and others who pose a threat to the military-industrial complex will continue to die in bizarre “accidents” that stink of foul play.

Paula Broadwell is married to Dr. Scott Broadwell, an interventional radiologist who graduated from George Washington University School of Medicine in 1996.[4] They reside in Charlotte, North Carolina, and have two young sons.[33]

The couple met in 2000, when they were both active duty U.S. Army captains. Scott Broadwell was then a physician and commander of the Mannheim military clinic in Germany and Kranz was completing a military intelligence deployment. They were married in Heidelberg Castle, with Lt. Col. Ronald Leininger, a Protestant Army chaplain, officiating.[41

Broadwell graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1995 with a Bachelor of Science degree in engineering and political geography.[15][16] She earned a Master of Arts degree in international security from the University of Denver's Josef Korbel School of International Studies in 2006.[17][18] She earned a Master of Public Administration degree from the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University in 2008.[19][20][21] Broadwell was a Research Associate in the Kennedy School's Center for Public Leadership Fellows, a term member at the Council on Foreign Relations, a Distinguished Young Leader in the French-America Foundation and American Council on Germany, and a national finalist in the White House Fellows[22] program.[23] She was elected as the Harvard student representative to the Academy of Achievement[24] in 2006. During this time, she also worked at The Fletcher School at Tufts University as the Deputy Director of the Jebsen Center on Counter-Terrorism.[25] In 2008, she entered the PhD program at the Department of War Studies at King's College London.[26] As of February 2014 Broadwell is listed as a "former student"[27] presumably without receiving a Ph.D. Her lead supervisor at KCL was Lawrence Freedman. He has been described as the "dean of British strategic studies"[2]

On NOVEMBER 14, 2012, Broadwell was stripped of her clearances to access classified information;[29] her promotion to lieutenant colonel was revoked and she was demoted back to major.[30] The Army classified her as ineligible for further promotion due to her being under investigation by the Army for the Petraeus affair scandal, until the investigation was fully resolved.[31]

The Real Lesson of the Petraeus Scandal We delude ourselves about the way we use technology. BY CHRISTINE ROSEN NOV 19, 2012

How Robert Maxwell rose from poverty - and corrupted his daughter Ghislaine

By Mary Kay LingeFebruary 6, 2021 NY Post

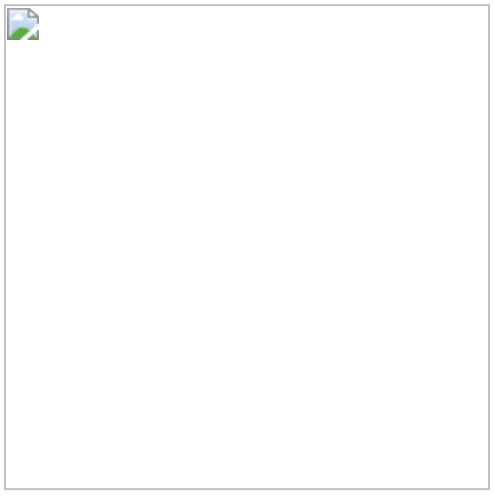
In the MKULTRA Year of 1945 Robert Maxwell married Betty



… born Jan Ludvik Hoch in 1923 to a desperately poor Jewish family in a village now in Ukraine.

"I was never young. I never had that privilege," Robert Maxwell said decades later. "I remember how cold I was, how hungry I was, and how much I loved my mother."

Young Jan's flair for languages gave the family hope that he might become a rabbi. But at age 16, he snipped off his sidelocks and left home as World War II loomed.

He made his way to England, where he adopted a new, vaguely Scottish name, blustered his way into the British Army, and saw action in France and Germany - leaving his family to be swept into the maw of the Holocaust. Only two sisters managed to survive.

Within 72 hours of her birth, Ghislaine Maxwell’s life was twisted by tragedy.

Baby Ghislaine was the ninth child born to Robert Maxwell, the self-made millionaire publisher, and his wife Betty. Though he had left his former name and identity far behind in a blighted corner of Czechoslovakia, Maxwell had been determined to sire a brood of nine children and recreate the family of his birth after Adolf Hitler’s forces slaughtered his siblings, both parents and a grandfather in the gas chambers of Auschwitz.

In his book, Preston traces Robert Maxwell’s tumultuous rise and mysterious 1991 death, while uncovering the forces that produced his manipulative, flirtatious youngest daughter.

Instead, he set out to “become a gentleman and a squire,” as he put it. His fluency in Russian, English and French landed him assignments from Britain’s intelligence services and a job running a propaganda operation in postwar Berlin.

There, Robert launched his publishing empire by buying up a huge catalog of German scientific research - with the help of an unprecedented investment from MI6, Britain’s foreign intelligence agency.

“He effectively became our agent,” Desmond Bristow, a former British intelligence officer, tells Preston in the book. It was a role that Maxwell apparently played for years, using his publishing perch to seed disinformation to Soviet contacts and pick up data on new technology.

CHRISTINE M. MIRZAYAN - Clinton Intern, DIED AUGUST 1ST, L998. Her death went unnoticed by the world. She was beaten to death with a heavy object near Georgetown University. What makes us think BILL's thugs did it? In the pre-trial publicity surrounding Paula Jones lawsuit, Newsweek's Mike Isikoff dropped hints that a "former White House staffer" with the initial "M" was about to go public with her story of sexual harassment at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

Details: On AUGUST 1, 1998, twenty-eight-year-old D.C. biology intern Christine Mirzayan went to a barbecue at a fellow intern's home. She vanished while walking home. She was later found raped and murdered in a D.C. park.

Results: Solved. Authorities no longer believe that Christine's murder is related to those of Chandra and Joyce. Separate suspects have been identified in these cases.

DNA testing later linked Christine's to the "Potomac River Rapist" who raped several young women in the Washington, D.C. area during the 1990s. On NOVEMBER 14, 2019, sixty-year-old Giles Daniel Warrick was arrested and charged with Christine's murder and the rapes. Police used forensic genealogy techniques, similar to that used to catch the Original Night Stalker, which led them to him.

Christine Mirzayan was 29 years old, a National Academy of Sciences intern, and had a promising career ahead of her on the summer evening in 1998 when she was walking home from a cookout in Washington, D.C. Tragically, she never made it. Her killer-a serial rapist who had previously attacked eight other women-is still at large.

Today, the FBI and its law enforcement partners are reaching out to the public-and a reward of up to $25,000 is being offered by Washington's Metropolitan Police Department (MPD)-for assistance in apprehending the offender known as the Potomac River Rapist.

On NOVEMBER 18, 1993, Ed Willey told [his wife] he had "illegally borrowed" more than $274,000 from two clients, Anthony Lanasa and his sister Josephine Abbott, and that he needed her to cosign a note promising to repay the money by November 30, according to a ten-page chronology of events preceding her husband's death that she submitted to the court during a lawsuit over the unpaid debt. "'If you don't sign it, we are all down the tubes,'" Kathy says Ed told her. Willey says in the document that on the Saturday after Thanksgiving, "the family became embroiled in a huge fight" over the money and that the next day "Edward Willey packed a bag and left the house" to stay at the home of one of his clients.

On Monday, NOVEMBER 29, Kathy took the train to Washington and met with Clinton-the meeting where she says she told him she desperately needed a job and he made an unwelcome sexual advance. She returned to her home in a Richmond suburb that evening. Ed was not home, and the next morning his body was found in a rural wooded area; he apparently had shot himself.

Another very suspicious 'Arkancide' (of Charles Wilbourne Miller,) retrieved from lWorld News Daily and copied or modified to here

An Arkansas medical examiner has once again concluded "suicide" in a case where common sense might determine otherwise. On NOV. 17, Charles Wilbourne Miller, 63, was found dead of a gunshot wound to the head in a shallow pit about 300 yards from his ranch house near Little Rock.

Police found a .410 gauge shotgun near Miller's body and a Ruger .357-caliber revolver submerged in water. Investigators concluded the Ruger was the weapon used by Miller to kill himself. Yet, two rounds in the handgun's cylinder had been spent.

Only in Arkansas does a suicide victim use two shots — not to mention two weapons — to kill himself.

Just last week, WorldNetDaily columnist Charles Smith revealed that a newly de-classified FBI document confirmed that Reno personally appointed Hubbell as the Justice Department's liaison to the computer chip project.

The document, a 1993 letter from FBI Director William Sessions to Reno, was obtained by Smith under the Freedom of Information Act. The FBI letter to Reno stated: "During the June 30, 1993, meeting with the National Security Council staff to discuss the status of the Presidential Decision and Review Directives concerning key-escrow encryption technology and telecommunications trends, which was attended by Associate Attorney General Webster Hubbell, the issue of a recommended solution to the law enforcement access problem, or the digital telephony issue, was discussed."

The existence of the White House computer system and data base — known as WHODB, White House Office Data Base, and containing as many as 200,000 names — was revealed by Paul Rodriguez in the Washington Times.

NSA worked with Systematics, half-owned by billionaire Jackson Stephens, a major contributor to Bill Clinton’s political campaigns dating back to his Arkansas days and a close associate of Mochtar and James Riady, the Indonesian billionaires and suspected Chinese government agents.

Congresswoman Stephanie Tubbs Jones (September 10, 1949 - August 20, 2008)

Stephanie Tubbs Jones [1][2][3] was an American politician who served as the U.S. Representative for Ohio's 11th congressional district from 1999 until her death in 2008

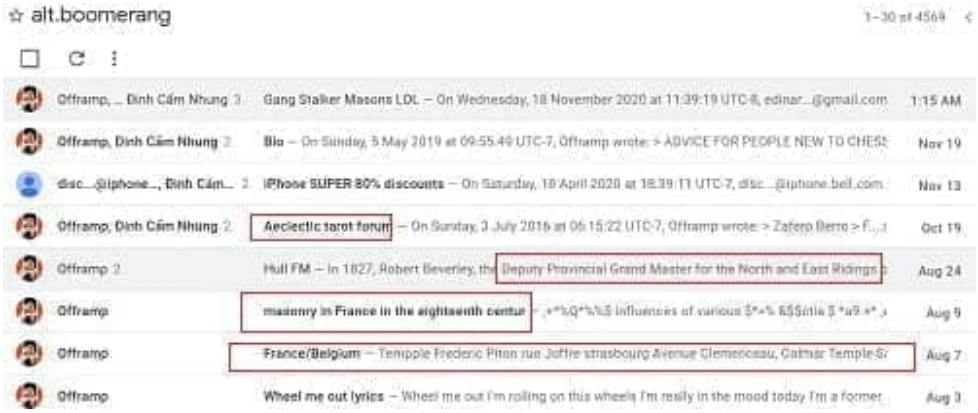
On December 19, 2006, Tubbs Jones was named Chairwoman of the House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct for the 110th Congress.

Democrat Comgresswoman Tubbs Jones was Golden Life Member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

On August 19, 2008, while driving her car, Congresswoman Tubbs Jones suffered a cerebral hemorrhage due to a burst aneurysm in her brain. Police had noticed erratic driving and identified the unconscious Tubbs Jones after her vehicle left the roadway and came to a stop in a field.[17][18][19] She was taken to the intensive care unit of Huron Hospital, a satellite of the Cleveland Clinic, where she was put on life support. Due to hemorrhaging, she remained in unstable and critical condition.[20][21][22]

> According to a spokesperson with the Cleveland Heights Police Department, approximately 9:00 pm on Tuesday a Cleveland Heights Police Officer observed Tubbs Jones car traveling eastbound on Mayfield Road, weaving from side to side. At Lee Road the car turned left and the officer followed. The car slid off the road into a grassy area near the intersection of Lee Road and Monticello Boulevard. Eye on the Republic

Tubbs Jones died August 20 at 6:12 p.m. EDT of complications from the brain hemorrhage.[2][3]



Gang Stalker Masons LOL

To: Gang stalking and its preternatural connections.

> The expressed [including to me Edward Paul Donegan] goal of Gang Stalking is to silence a victim, drive a victim insane and possibly to the point of suicide, or destroy the victim's reputation (or following I am looking at you Mook) and believability as the person will likely be viewed as mentally ill should they complain or report the abuse. Gang Stalking is also used to gather information on individuals as well as force individuals to move or leave an area.

I reported the abuse at Bay Area Laundery COrpus Christi, Freedom Fitness Corpus Christi, and other places and locations as was ejected for causing disturbances.

> Motivations for Gang Stalking vary. Revenge for a real or imagined offense (People in these organizations are quite petty, mirroring their preternatural handlers); false accusations of a "horrible crime" [or horrible mental disease] of which the victim has gotten away with (Used to discredit the victim and destroy

Did Sandy Hume hear something at the February 20 National Institute of Health meeting he was likely going to?

Sightings

Hume was a reporter for The Hill magazine, newspaper about Congress for Congress, and had broken a major story in 1997 regarding the friction between House Speaker Newt Gingrich and a faction led by Representative Paxon (who mysteriously announced his resignation just 24 hours after Hume’s death).

> Paxon was born in Akron, New York, near Buffalo. At the age of 15, Paxon volunteered for the first congressional campaign of former Buffalo Bills quarterback Jack Kemp. Kemp, decades later, was the Republican Vice Presidential nominee in 1996.
> Paxon graduated from St. Joseph's Collegiate Institute high school in 1972, and then from Canisius College. He was elected to the Erie County Legislature in November 1977 at the age of 23, making him the youngest member ever when elected. In addition, he holds honorary doctorates from Daemen College, Roberts Wesleyan College and Canisius College.

Hume's suicide [DATE OF DEATH: FEBRUARY 22, 1998 seemed to be one of those random stories that drops out of nowhere .. unless you think of Leslie Anne Shedd

A few months later, in February 1998, Paxon launched an attempt to unseat Armey from his leadership position. Just days later, Sandy Hume killed himself with a gunshot to the head.

Hume's suicide seemed to be one of those random stories that drops out of nowhere. No one will ever know whether his rash decisions and reckless mind-set in the early morning hours of FEB. 22 reflected instability or just plain drunkenness. At 2:20 a.m., Ritacco spotted Hume driving his '92 green BMW south on the Clara Barton Parkway from BETHESDA TO D.C., exceeding 75 mph in a 45 mph zone, according to Sgt. Joseph Cox, public information officer for the U.S. Park Police, which has jurisdiction over the parkway. Ritacco pursued Hume and signaled to him to pull over. Hume instead accelerated, attempting to flee.*

Sandy Hume, son of Brit already had a reputation for getting the story that nobody else wanted to look at. It is worth noting that his death came hard on the heels of reports that "a reporter" was about to break a story confirming the White House's use of investigators to dig up dirt on critics and investigators.

It has recently been confirmed that the man who performed the as-yet-unreleased autopsy is none other than Dr. James C. Beyer, who HAS A RECORD OF CONCEALING HOMICIDES BEHIND A RULING OF SUICIDE. Kenneth Starr's "suicidologist" Dr. Alan L. Berman has waded in again and, as he did in the Foster death, ruled it "100% certain that this is a suicide and can be nothing else".

Dr. Beyer served as an officer in the U.S. Army from February 1951 to NOVEMBER 1962, with overseas service in Korea in 1952 and 1953.

Paul Wilcher was the lawyer to whistleblowers Rodney Stich and Gunter Karl Russbacher. Wilcher died in disputed circumstances a month after writing a letter to then-new US Attorney General Janet Reno alleging that the CIA WAS KILLING PEOPLE TO COVER UP MIND CONTROL EXPERIMENTS [MKULTRA], and that the Waco incident was one of these events. Quoting the Wikipedia Page on Him Below

William Pelham Barr (born May 23, 1950) is an American attorney and government official and the 77th and 85th United States Attorney General. Barr's second stint in the post began in February 2019 during the Donald Trump administration, as he previously served as the 77th Attorney General from 1991 to 1993 during the George H. W. Bush administration.

From 1973 to 1977, Barr was employed by the Central Intelligence Agency during his schooling years. He then served as a law clerk to judge Malcolm Richard Wilkey. In the 1980s, Barr worked for the law firm Shaw, Pittman, Potts & Trowbridge, sandwiching a year's work in the White House of the Ronald Reagan administration dealing with legal policies. Before becoming Attorney General in 1991, Barr held numerous other posts within the Department of Justice, including leading the Office of Legal Counsel (OLC) and serving as Deputy Attorney General. From 1994 to 2008, Barr did corporate legal work for GTE and its successor company Verizon Communications, which made him a multimillionaire. From 2009 to 2018, Barr served on the board of directors for Time Warner.

Barr is a longtime proponent of the unitary executive theory of nearly unfettered presidential authority over the executive branch of the U.S. government.[1][2][3] In 1989, Barr, as the head of the OLC, justified the U.S. invasion of Panama to arrest Manuel Noriega. As deputy attorney general, Barr authorized an FBI operation in 1991 which freed hostages at the Talladega federal prison. An influential advocate for tougher criminal justice policies, Barr as attorney general in 1992 authored the report The Case for More Incarceration, where he argued for an increase in the United States incarceration rate.[4] Under Barr's advice, President George H. W. Bush in 1992 pardoned six officials involved in the IranContra affair.

William Pelham Barr was born May 23, 1950, to a Manhattan family that prized scholarship, Catholicism and Republican conservatism. His father was a World War II intelligence officer who became an assistant dean at Columbia University, then headed the elite, private Dalton School before resigning in a dispute with trustees.*

Jen Moore; Chilling story of 26 Year Old Victim Raped as a Child by Bill Clinton From: Bruce Sent on: Saturday, August 18, 2018 3:37 PM

Investigative journalist, Jen Moore's body was found in a District of Columbia hotel room on Monday, Aug. 13, after she died from a reported seizure. An autopsy had not been scheduled as of late Monday. Bormer FBI Agent Robyn Gritz, a friend of Moore's, made inquiries with homicide detectives Monday afternoon in Prince Georges County, Maryland. Preliminary reports from police said the death was not the result of suicide.

While friends and admirers mourn the loss of investigative journalist Jen Moore - who was found dead in a suburban D.C. hotel room Monday - a haunting final interview has surfaced where Moore details the Clinton case she was working on at the time of her suspicious death.

Moore, an advocate who investigated abused and trafficked children, had been in the process of investigating allegations by a 26-year-old man who - as a young boy - was sexually assaulted by Bill Clinton and pimped out at private sex parties attended by other D.C. elites.

Moore, who was often called “Task Force as a nickname,” was interviewed about the Clinton case on July 13th by YouTube and radio journalist Farmer Jones. One month later, Moore’s she was dead, her body found by employees at the Country Inn & Suites by Radisson, Washington, D.C. East - in Capitol Heights, Maryland. The investigation is ongoing. Autopsy results were not available on Wednesday.

During the Jones interview Moore expressed dismay and frustration that despite her sharing the details with Homeland Security agents in charge of child trafficking investigations a month before her death, and later with the FBI, no one had reached out to her to follow up about the details of the alleged victim. Or the alleged suspect.

Moore died of an apparent seizure. Police said the death was not the result of suicide.

> For many years, a group of sculpted clay faces, in desperate and immediate need of conservation, tenuously clung to the walls of the dug-out space called a “tunnel” beneath the former Wesleyan Methodist Church, the home of a noted abolitionist and social-reform oriented congregation in downtown Syracuse, New York. Archaeological and historical research indicates a 19th-century origin for the faces. The church openly participated in abolition and the Underground Railroad, and housed a national abolitionist press. However, even in a pro-emancipation community such as Syracuse, the dangers for refugees fleeing bondage were real, and the consequences of capture were life threatening. This was particularly true after the passage of the Fugitive Slave Act in 1850. This study > presents evidence that the clay faces may have been created by African American refugees from slavery. Moreover, it describes a community’s efforts to conserve and protect this resource.

The Night Chicago Died is a fictional story about mob Chicago of a night that did not actually occur but it does make an interesting historical reference for organized crime providing illegal goods, laundered value in racketeering operations.

The Trump Cabinet and Roles

It is my guess that Libertarian Michelle Fields is likely religious, as many libertarians seeking Religious Liberty for Evangelical Speech (one camp in the sometimes otherwise Atheist Ayn Rand LP umbrella) and she manuevered Corey Lewandowski out someone like Paul Manafort could be moved in and get close to Trump, and leveraging that into escalating Illuminatti power in the Trump presidency by then moving Mike Pence in.

With this done CIA and Secret Service and DIA geno plans could be continued into the Trump administration incentivising and conniving

Trump to join the world plan, bringing Trump into the Religious Right, out of isolationist policies, and into profiteering as well.

It became Orphanages as the “booze” distributors, and Opeus Dei and Vatican “muscle” working with the Deep (Wet) State to accomplish the World Plan.

While at Alabama, Vance was purportedly the head of a secret yet powerful inter-fraternity organization known as The Machine and was elected as President of the Student Government Association [and which later led to the Mafia silenciing him]. After earning his law degree, Vance entered military duty as an attorney in the United States Army Judge Advocate General Corps, and was stationed at the Pentagon. One of his first assignments was to serve on the team of lawyers defending the Army in hearings against charges brought by Senator Joseph McCarthy. The Alpha Rho chapter of Theta Nu Epsilon was founded at the University of Alabama in 1888.

The Alpha Rho Chapter was illegitimately founded; it was a chapter formed without formal permission of the society. In 1902, it contacted the governing authority of the society, the Alpha Chapter at Wesleyan University, and was accepted as a legitimate chapter. It was subsequently accepted by the administration and university community, and in 1905, the chapter hosted its first annual promenade, which was a successful public event.

In 1909, on February 14, The Alpha Rho Chapter created a new society, this one for members of the senior class, called The Skulls.[5] The Skulls replaced the Theta Nu Epsilon chapter. Both the earlier and later organizations were publicly recognized by the university, and appeared each year in the university yearbook.

The Skulls was considered a legitimate student group until 1922. The organization officially ceased to exist at that time.

Esquire devoted its April 1992 cover story to an exposé of The Machine.

indicators in the professional community that she would be a viable nomination to the Fed board.

Following the resignation of Elizabeth Ashburn Duke, Brainard was nominated to the Fed board on January 13, 2014, alongside Stanley Fischer and Jerome Powell. She was confirmed by a 61-31 vote in the U.S. Senate on June 12, 2014;[5] her 14-year term began four days later when she was sworn in by Fed chair Janet Yellen.[6] She now serves as administrative governor and chair of four committees: Financial Stability; Federal Reserve Bank Affairs; Consumer and Community Affairs; and Payments, Clearing and Settlements.

The tragic story of Rosemary Kennedy—intellectually challenged and hidden by her famous family—is the subject of Kate Clifford Larson's book, "Rosemary, The Hidden Kennedy Daughter". In this video, Kate gives us a behind the scenes look into her new best-selling book. This talk was sponsored by The C.V. Starr Center for the Study of the American Experience, the Department of Psychology, the Department of History, and the American Studies Program. here

Kate Clifford Larson is an American historian and Harriet Tubman scholar. Her 2003 biography of Harriet Tubman, Bound for the Promised Land[1] was one of the first non-juvenile Tubman biographies published in six decades. Larson is the consultant for the Harriet Tubman Special Resource Study of the National Park Service and serves on the advisory board of the Historic Context on the Underground Railroad in Delaware, Underground Railroad Coalition of Delaware.

Early life and education

Larson earned her doctorate in history at the University of New Hampshire. A graduate of Simmons College (B.A. Economics and History, 1980, M.A. 1995) and Northeastern University (MBA, 1986), she lives in Winchester, Massachusetts. She is an author, historian, and consultant.

Career

As Bound for the Promised Land was published, two other non-juvenile biographies of Tubman were published: Harriet Tubman: The Life and the Life Stories, by Jean M. Humez, and Harriet Tubman: The Road to Freedom by Catherine Clinton. Dr. Larson has been a consultant and interpretive specialist for numerous museum, community and public history initiatives related to Harriet Tubman and the Underground Railroad in Maryland, Delaware, and New York, including the 125 mile Harriet Tubman Underground Railroad Byway, an All-American Road, the NPS Harriet Tubman Underground Railroad National Park Special Resource Study, and the Harriet Tubman Underground Railroad State Park and Visitor Center in Maryland.

In 2001, Larson published an article titled “The Saturday Evening Girls: A Progressive Era Library Club and the Intellectual Life of Working Class and Immigrant Girls in Turn-of-the-Century Boston” in the journal The Library Quarterly.[2] She has also written “Racing for Freedom: Harriet Tubman’s Underground Railroad Network Through New York,” Afro-Americans In New York Life and History, Vol. 36 No. 1, January 2012, and contributed articles and reviews to a variety of other publications.

Another book by Larson, The Assassin’s Accomplice, about Mary Surratt’s role in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, was published in 2008.

Larson is also the author of Rosemary: The Hidden Kennedy Daughter, about Rosemary Kennedy, the disabled sister of President John F. Kennedy. [Houghton, Mifflin, Harcourt October 2015.]

The more accurate statement is Jack Ruby killed JFK

The more accurate statement is Jack Ruby as a Asset killed JFK.

The elites were trying to protect their Thrones in genetic research and thier claim to thrones, those thrones who would be a manageable Commonwealth and not warring children with no parents.

Jack Ruby had ties to ancient breeding Illuminati families tied to Gotha Germany and was mostly Protestantism in Germany, France, later England, and elsewhere in a form of secretive Kabbalism.

This order probably began researching FOXP2 Syndrome and Minimal Brain Disorder about the time literate people began writing.

Many families carry this gene and I Edward Paul Donegan am in the watched and studied family lines.

are the Kennedys and many others. The darker side of this is many Masonic families want this kept secret including the Windsors and their genetic arrogance.

JFK wanted nothing to do with the the nation of Great Britain, its rule of the world, or impostion of itself on Ireland or France especialy under an arrogant banner of superiority while Rosemear Kennedy had such a horror while the gene was hidden.

The British and the British loyalists killed JFK to silence him on the matter. In the more complex plot Russia was to be blamed as was Oswald who may or may not have fired a shot.

Oswald was a higher level player helping “silence” JFK on this matter by taking out Oswald who was about to talk.

Let me begin my theory of this book, the Donegans, the Bush family, the Kennedy family, Arkansas with a play.

> Somewhere at the FBI, CIA, the Pentagon, or DARPA CENTCOM NORCOM

Big General: The Ruskies and the Chinamen have some damn big new missiles and warheads!

Military Industrial Complex: Let's work with the oil companies and deprive Communists of oil revenue. That should disrupt many of their military and scientific research programs.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover: Yup, and the public does not see the threat. All that social justice in the world and rising racial strife is building those communist fools glory ever day. Soon they shall crown Fidel Castro King

James Angleton We need to disrupt communist plans and activities, plant childporn, assassinate, disrupt, etc., create sleepers and moles, overthrow governments:

DARPA NASA: We have some programs underway with Life Sciences tied to the British. It involved some out-of-wedlock Windsor family remembers secretly having and raising children with a language quirk, bad handwriting and grammar, etc., Maybe we can take the ones that don't show that defect and move them around the Commonwealth countries and independent countries, groom them for office but we wo't admit we are backing them.

CIA:We need bases, we need oil contracts that give us stake holding roles in world oil supplies, we need that to overlap with protecting the new homeland for Jewish refugees. We can work in Middle East, North Africa to weave that into existing British Petroleum and Standard Oil cooperation, etc.,

Angleton from CIA: WE have a lot of friends in the oil business. Let's let them play rough, even give them a hand getting into some unstable countries and these oil companies can hold hands with the moderate politicians and brag about how much hard US Currency the oil business puts into the hands of people of those countries.

Meeting Consensus:Done. Zapata Oil, Standard Oil, etc., will work with and get backing to move our overthrow teams in to industrializing unstable and hostile countries and increase our footing in those countries

John F. Kennedy and Robert F. Kennedy: ALl this cover genetics research is vital to national security, we need to understand all these race and other genes and medically import genes and the Griffith Experiment Opus Dei techniques, but I don't want this to go to far. Killing foreign leaders is not medical research, and I have no love for the Queen of England plans for Ireland either.

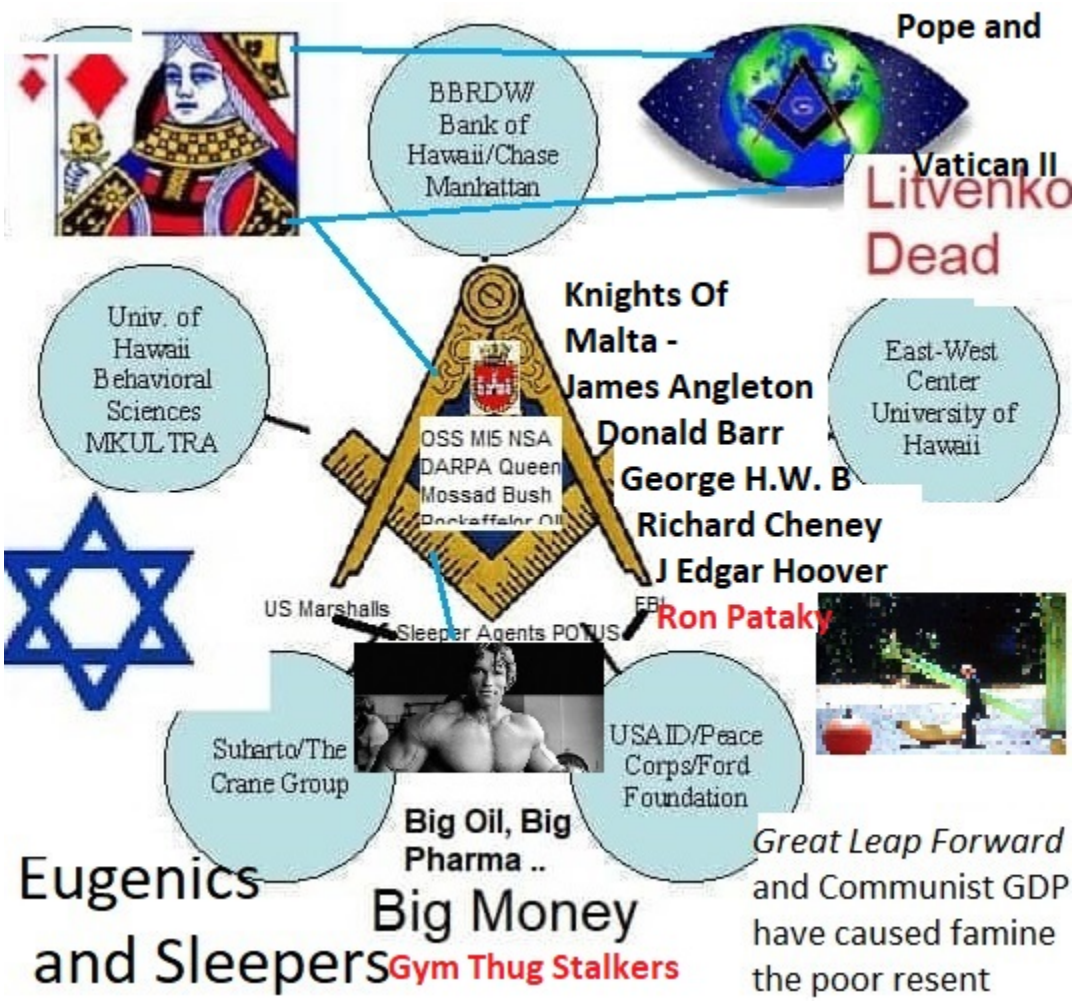
George H.W. Bush IF I make enough money in these operations I could be big some day, not just backed or allowed by the CIA FBI to get foreign oil contracts, I might even run for office some day, or translate my experience being a CIA backed company into working for the CIA itself.

Angleton:We have a lot of guys working with new technology. University of Wisconsin Madison has some Xray equipment in the works for medical use, we have some electro electroencephalograph technology I am testing in interrogation use, and we have some of that same stuff in caner studies and DNA. Some of this is studying birth defects, atomic blasts, etc., on volunteers or survivors. Atomic Veterans. Finally, we have some resources trying IVF. We could do a test fertilization starting February 20 1961. Might work well we could fudge it later to be a relative of a royal or something that we hid at birth.

J. Edgar Hoover: We are testing most of this stuff and getting telemetry from it, I get that from NASA and the military. RADAR, and microwave, other studies underway. Mary has a lab and also some cancer by Xray studies are being done by the old OSS team.

Angleton: Robert Mueller II father of Robert Mueller III is on the board of DupPont Corp which has Glorian Donegan in sort of hiding, out of wedlock with FOXP2. He attended Gilman School in Baltimore, and at Princeton majored in psychology. Bob was on the varsity football, hockey, and lacrosse teams and was a member of Cap and Gown Club. He also was, for three years, our first class president and was Ivy Orator senior year. He is leading the NSA CIA Behavioral Health care research on this, and was part of the OSS Eugenics research pre WWII era along with the Prescott Bush and many others. Let's see his fax.

Agngleton: J. Edgar Hoover and I think we can pull this off in our Behavioral Heath plan with Dr Cameron, the Rockefellers, Aussies and



Brits Canada but there is a risk of MKULTRA hearings into Behavioral Health Care and assassinations

NSA Secret Cell We can manage that risk and keep the operation under wraps. We have the Press Corpus in our pockets too.

Donald Barr: We Free Masons have some research going on in St Louis which is a space medicine center. We also have other Free Mason ties in world economies like Scottish Rites and OECD who are looking at Eugenic brain and other health increases for better life.

JFK and RFK: I still think the basics of research are good and we need to defeat communism. But using the Mafia as the sharp point of the spear as an FBI operation makes us the Mafia. We are crossing the line away from law enforcement and into political violence.

DARPA: Better Ethically Dead than Red. Its either do some dirty work or we are defeated by communism. They are ahead in the space race militarily and politically gaining ground by observing Capitalism places white wealth above laborer racial populations. Unless we embrace Hitler's ideas on race we have to find some way to defeat that. Grooming some select leaders for the countries in chaos will work.

JFK:I strongly disagree. I met with that guy, and Barrack Obama Jr turned out well according to these reports but I don't like the whole plan.

J. Edgar Hoover: The plan goes ahead, as we discussed at Manhattan Beach California and Seatle Expo with the Windsor family. Its a world need. The CIA St Loius lab says they can and will get the job done. WE have a guy there Clay Shaw who can help using the Malcom Little DNA. We also have Kings Daughters Hospital in Norfolk on the job.

Lyndon B. Johnson: The Peace Corps and East-West Center Hawaii are in this with us. I know a few things about them. I created them while I was in the Senate. And they know a few things about peace. The plan is a "Go" and it is a long term plan not to be obstructed.

The President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection Act of 1992, or the JFK Records Act, is a public law passed by the United States Congress, effective October 26, 1992. It directed the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) to establish a collection of records to be known as the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection. It stated that the collection shall consist of copies of all U.S. government records relating to the 1963 assassination of President John F. Kennedy, and that they are to be housed in the NARA Archives II building in College Park, Maryland. The collection also included any materials created or made available for use by, obtained by, or otherwise came into the possession of any state or local law enforcement office that provided support or assistance or performed work in connection with a federal inquiry into the assassination.

On July 24, 2017, the National Archives began to release the remaining documents previously withheld.

The first release included 441 FBI and CIA records which had previously been withheld in full. These records had never previously been made available to the public. Another 3,369 records were also released which had previously been withheld in part, meaning that they had previously been made public, but parts of the records had been kept back for reasons of security or privacy. Records in the first release included 17 audio files of interviews of Yuri Nosenko, a KGB officer who claimed to have been the officer in charge of the KGB file on Lee Harvey Oswald during Oswald's stay in the Soviet Union. Nosenko defected to the U.S. in January 1964 and was extensively debriefed over a period of several years.

On October 21, 2017, US President Donald Trump stated on his Twitter account that he would allow release of the remaining documents. He tweeted: "Subject to the receipt of further information, I will be allowing, as President, the long blocked and classified JFK FILES to be opened." His statement left open the possibility that some documents could still be withheld under the JFK Records Act if their release would harm military operations, law enforcement or foreign relations.

On October 26, Trump signed a memo ordering release of all records collected under section 5 of the JFK Records Act. He gave agencies wishing to appeal release of all information in these records until April 26, 2018, to do so.

On the same day, the NARA released another 2,891 records. Most of the records in this second release were previously withheld in part.

On November 3, the NARA released another 676 documents. Most of these were previously withheld in full. According to the Mary Ferrell Foundation, which holds a large database of records on the assassination, the majority of the records in this third release were from the CIA. These files still contain a number of redactions, which remain subject to further review under President Trump's order.

On November 9, the NARA released another 13,213 records. Most of these were previously withheld in part. According to the Mary Ferrell Foundation, the records in this fourth release were from the CIA and NSA.[28] Some of these records were redacted in part. These redactions remain subject to further review under President Trump's order.

n NOVEMBER 17, THE NARA released another 10,744 records, including 144 previously withheld in full and 10,600 previously withheld in part. All of the records in this fifth release were from the FBI. Some of these records were redacted in part. These redactions remain subject to further review under President Trump's order.

On DECEMBER 15, THE NARA RELEASED another 3,539 previously withheld documents, leaving a total of 86 still classified in full.

On April 26, 2018, the NARA released another 19,045 documents in accordance with President Trump's order. These releases include FBI, CIA, and other agency documents (both formerly withheld in part and formerly withheld in full) identified by the Assassination Records Review Board as assassination records. While no more documents required to be released under section 5 remain withheld in full, some still remain withheld in part.

In 2021, President Joe Biden postponed the release of remaining records, citing the COVID-19 pandemic as the reason. Future releases of documents were scheduled for December 15, 2021, and December 15, 2022. Agencies that object to releasing records before then will have to provide unclassified information detailing why the information is withheld, and a date when the information might be declassified. The initial response to the 2021 release was that it provided little new information.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is the domestic intelligence and security service of the United States and its principal federal law enforcement agency. Operating under the jurisdiction of the United States Department of Justice, the FBI is also a member of the U.S. Intelligence Community and reports to both the Attorney General and the Director of National Intelligence. A leading U.S. counter-terrorism, counterintelligence, and criminal investigative organization, the FBI has jurisdiction over violations of more than 200 categories of federal crimes.

Although many of the FBI's functions are unique, its activities in support of national security are comparable to those of the British MI5 and the Russian FSB. Unlike the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), which has no law enforcement authority and is focused on intelligence collection abroad, the FBI is primarily a domestic agency, maintaining 56 field offices in major cities throughout the United States, and more than 400 resident agencies in smaller cities and areas across the nation. At an FBI field office, a senior-level FBI officer concurrently serves as the representative of the Director of National Intelligence.

Despite its domestic focus, the FBI also maintains a significant international footprint, operating 60 Legal Attache (LEGAT) offices and 15 sub-offices in U.S. embassies and consulates across the globe. These foreign offices exist primarily for the purpose of coordination with foreign security services and do not usually conduct unilateral operations in the host countries.[8] The FBI can and does at times carry out secret activities overseas,[9] just as the CIA has a limited domestic function; these activities generally require coordination across government agencies.

The FBI was established in 1908 as the Bureau of Investigation, the BOI or BI for short. Its name was changed to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in 1935. The FBI headquarters is the J. Edgar Hoover Building, located in Washington, D.C.

During this year as Festus Gainey is dying in North Carolina and Nuremburg Race Laws are being passed Nuremburg the Von Traps, Captian Von Trapp, Maria August Kutschera, and the FBI CIA may have had a common mission in mind.

CRITICAL THINKING QUESTIONS

- Learn about warning signs for mass atrocity and genocide. What events during 1935 might be examples?
- Since the Nazis could never prove a biological, or racial, basis for Judaism, how did they define Jews in the Nuremberg Laws? What questions does this raise?
- What privileges and protections of German citizenship were now lost to those who were defined as Jewish?

The Ghost: The Secret Life of CIA Spymaster James Jesus Angleton Hardcover - October 24, 2017

The Deep State Wouldn't Exist Without James Jesus Angleton. In a new book, journalist Jefferson Morley documents how the former CIA spymaster laid the groundwork for unaccountable surveillance. WRITTEN BY DAVID MURRELL - Washingtonian

At the height of the Cold War, arguably no one in the CIA exercised more power than James Jesus Angleton, head of counterintelligence. He pioneered an illegal information-gathering campaign that spied on Americans' mail; he contravened United States nuclear policy, assisting Israel in developing nuclear weapons; he obfuscated what the CIA knew about Lee Harvey Oswald, JFK's alleged killer.

and you're watching book tv on c-span 2 live coverage of the Miami book fair charlie sykes who you just heard will be joining us a little bit later and you'll have the chance to talk with him in about 15 minutes or so cnn's van jones will be talking about his new book so that's coming up in the meantime we are set up in the center of the festival with a book tv call in set and we're pleased to be joined by author and journalist jefferson morley

His most recent book is called the ghost the secret life of CIA spymaster james jesus angleton who was mr angleton.

Mr morley james angleton would be born in 1917 he'd be 100 years old this year he was a yale educated spy and one of really the founding personalities of the CIA one of the most powerful men in the CIA from its founding in 1947 until his forest retirement in 1974.

So really a founding father of of US counterintelligence what type of issues and areas did he work on angleton used his position as chief of counter intelligence staff to really create a kind of CIA within the CIA and so he dabbled everywhere.

He was very influential in U.S. policy towards Israel, created programs of mass surveillance opening the mail of of of Americans, involved us in the domestic surveillance schemes of the Nixon Whitehouse for example was involved in the early days of the MKULTRA mind experiment program, a story i tell in The Ghost.

This was a man who made his influence felt everywhere very involved in U.S. policy towards Cuba so this position he a lot of CIA officers rise through a geographical directorate you know division within the CIA.

Angleton was kept had his fingers in many many things was he a well-known personality during the years he was active no he was not in fact there's stories that that i one story that i heard one man worked for him for four years and never knew who he was.

He was very secretive in his ways even within the CIA one of the underlying themes of your book is the importance of bureaucratic infighting that comes up again and again yes angleton is a master of that as an administrator he's kind of lousy he doesn't deal well with his subordinates.

Imagine having somebody work for you for four years and doesn't know who you are but in a one-to-one meeting angleton was extremely intelligent and his presentations were very compelling he cultivated Alan Dulles, Richard Helms (later CIA Directors) and so he was able to maintain his position even when he came in for a lot of criticism from his other colleagues in the CIA .

So Jefferson Morley if you survive in the CIKA at that level from 47 to 75 we often think about J. Edgar Hoover over at the FBI surviving that many presidents did he get close to the presidents as well or was it he did he have dirt on people what was a he was like j Edgar Hoover?

He was he was a close collaborator with Hoover for for many years. Hoover didn't like the CIA at all but he did come to trust Angleton because Angleton supplied him with that kind of secret information and both Hoover and Angleton were masters at using secrets to leverage their power so yes Angleton did collect information the president and the presidents.

He was probably closest to president Nixon. Nixon was the man who appealed to him most he thought Eisenhower may be a bit stodgy JFK a bit weak LBJ a bit crude Nixon for angleton was the best prepared president so he liked Nixon a lot and it's it's telling that you know they both fell at the same time and for the same reason because they were spying on their enemies and they were obsessive about secrecy.

Nixon resigns in august of 1974 and angleton is fired in December of 1974, kind of the last chapter of Watergate.

Is there a room at the CIA named after Mr. Angleton? No you know within the CIA Angleton is not in in good standing.

Then when this they sent people agents back to review what had this man done because it was so secretive the CIA themselves didn't know and the internal consensus of the CIA on angleton is negative - that he made a lot of mistakes and he and his actions harmed the agency so he has not honored that much within the agency.

You say in the book the ghost that his legacy is the mass surveillance of Americans? Of Americans, yeah you know today we have these powerful systems of mass surveillance that we've learned where the NSA can pick up on your email and your telephone calls angleton pioneered an early version of that which was the opening of the mail of Americans overseas mail.

He picked up this program in 1955 it was very small uh it was opening 100 200 letters a year within a few years he was opening 10 000 letters a year and on the barest of authority there was really no legal justification there was no warrant there was no probable cause for opening people's mail uh and he he ran this program from 50 late 50s to the early 70s opening 10 000 letters a year copying them indexing the names so this really was America's first mass surveillance program.

So you can see it as the as the progenitor of the of the of the systems that we have today he used the same justification for these systems that we hear today from the NSA and the CIA another line from the book is that mr angleton was not surprised when Lee Harvey Oswald shot JFK well he knew he might have been surprised when he shot him but he knew very well who Lee Harvey Oswald was and one of the most distinctive things but one of the most important pieces of the book is that angleton put Oswald under close monitoring (as a CIA asset?) in November 1959 and for the next four years wherever Oswald went angleton was informed in detail about what he was doing who he was in touch with his politics his personal life his foreign travels.

So the story that was fed to the American people after the assassination that this this guy came out of nowhere and shot the president that was a cover story to protect Angleton Oswald had been monitored for four years before November 22 1963.

Did the CIA know he was in Dallas in November of 63. a week before the assassination on November 15 1963? Angleton's top aide signs for an FBI report and we have the routing slip Jane Roman his liaison officer received the report and in that report the New Orleans FBI office reported that Oswald had returned from Mexico City and was living in the Dallas area so i believe that angleton read that report.

He was a voracious consumer of intelligence I believe that angleton knew Oswald was in Dallas a week before the assassination. Now mr morley you've been a reporter for 30 some years did you just go out to the CIA and go through their archives to find this information? No. I asked them for an interview and and not surprisingly they turned me down. I got this book from interviews with retired CIA people declassified CIA records and archival material at the LBJ Library the Gerald Ford Library the JFK Library as well as different collections at Stanford yale and uh Boston university so a lot this was kind of an investigative biography if the CIA documents were available would this be a different book or absolutely there's a secret study of Angleton's tenure as chief of the counterintelligence staff it's 12 volumes each volume is three to four hundred pages and that study which encompasses Angleton's entire career is totally classified so the that the full story of James Angleton is still classified this as i say in the beginning of the book this is the story as best it can be told so far.

If Americans are suspicious about a shadow government running this country your book gives a little bit of support to that doesn't it? Well you know when i started this book nobody talked about the "Deep State." That was an unknown phrase.

Two years later the president of the united states believes in it and it's in headlines all the time so this suspicion is very deep so i wasn't going to look for the deep state but if you look at Angleton's career you see the power that somebody can accumulate operating within these secret agencies and it does lend credence to these fears that people are secretly manipulating our political system from these positions of secrecy.

Angleton certainly did what do we not know about him in his or what should we know about his personal life.

Where did he live? In Washington D.C. Who were his friends? Angleton was a very um attractive man personally and people really you know people really believed in him um he was a father of three he lived very modestly in uh in Arlington Virginia off of glebe road um his his wife came from a very wealthy family but there was nothing ostentatious about him.

He was really an intellectual he cared about books and travel he was at the end of his career an Alcoholic and that tended to isolate him and it also made his thinking rigid and this is what led to his downfall.

He lost allies within the CIA. By the early 1970s but you know what even when i didn't like him he was a very he was never an uninteresting man. He was a very complex character and he was always interesting to try and figure out how he how he was thinking and how he made his way he was in his office until 1975.

Have you talked with people who knew him wel? Yes i did um i talked with a man named Ephraim Halevi who was the uh eventually became the chief of the Mossad and Halevi knew Angleton from when Angleton would go to Israel which he did quite frequently and Halevi was a junior officer who was you know carrying his briefcase and driving the car.

But Halevi knew him quite well i talked with a man named peter Sichel who was a CIA officer who worked with him in the 1950s. I talked with Jane Roman who was his aide, Bill Hood was another man who worked for him who I interviewed so these retired CIA people some of whom are now dead - you know - provided this insight into what was the man like in his work. Jefferson Morley spent many years at the Washington post and uh do you write for them anymore?

Occasionally? And do you have a piece coming up?

Yes. I'm going to write about the JFK files in the Washington post the ones that were just recently released yeah we're trying to go through them and figure out what's new and significant and i have some ideas towards that end have you found and you're going through these what 28 000 pages or files have you found some new material yeah there are things that are new it's a little bit confusing because some of this stuff has been made public before and people who come to the subject for the first time think oh wow look at this those of us who've been involved in this you know that that's not true but so far there have been some interesting things but remember the CIA knows what's in there so they're not going to release the good stuff first they're going to release the good stuff last so we are still waiting for the most important material to be released the author is Jefferson Morley the book the ghost the secret life of CIA spymaster James Jesus Angleton book.

Sovereign Military Order of Malta

The Sovereign Military Order of Malta (SMOM), officially the Sovereign Military Hospitaller Order of Saint John of Jerusalem, of Rhodes and of Malta (Italian: Sovrano Militare Ordine Ospedaliero di San Giovanni di Gerusalemme di Rodi e di Malta; Latin: Supremus Militaris Ordo Hospitalarius Sancti Ioannis Hierosolymitani Rhodiensis et Melitensis), commonly known as the Order of Malta, Malta Order or Knights of Malta, is a Catholic lay religious order, traditionally of a military, chivalric and noble nature. Though it possesses no territory, the order is a sovereign entity of international law and maintains diplomatic relations with many countries.

Its modern-day role is largely focused on providing humanitarian assistance and assisting with international humanitarian relations, for which purpose it has had permanent observer status at the United Nations General Assembly since 1994.

In the ecclesiastical heraldry of the Catholic Church, the Order of Malta is one of only two orders (along with the Order of the Holy Sepulchre) whose insignia may be displayed in a clerical coat of arms. (Laypersons have no such restriction.) The shield is surrounded with a silver rosary for professed knights, or for others the ribbon of their rank. Some members may also display the Maltese cross behind their shield instead of the ribbon.

Pope Pius XII born Eugenio Maria Giuseppe Giovanni Pacelli 2 March 1876 - 9 October 1958

Ordination 2 APRIL 1899 by Francesco di Paola Cassetta
Consecration 13 May 1917 by Benedict XV Created cardinal 16 DECEMBER 1929 by Pius XI

Pope Pius XII was head of the Catholic Church and sovereign of the Vatican City State from 2 March 1939 until his death in 1958. Before his election to the papacy, he served as secretary of the Department of Extraordinary Ecclesiastical Affairs, papal nuncio to Germany, and Cardinal Secretary of State, in which capacity he worked to conclude treaties with European and Latin American nations, such as the Reichskonkordat with Nazi Germany.

While the Vatican was officially neutral during World War II, the Reichskonkordat and his leadership of the Catholic Church during the war remain the subject of controversy—including allegations of public silence and inaction about the fate of the Jews. Pius employed diplomacy to aid the victims of the Nazis during the war and, through directing the Church to provide discreet aid to Jews and others, saved hundreds of thousands of lives. Pius maintained links to the German Resistance, and shared intelligence with the Allies. His strongest public condemnation of genocide was, however, considered inadequate by the Allied Powers, while the Nazis viewed him as an Allied sympathizer who had dishonoured his policy of Vatican neutrality. After the war, he advocated peace and reconciliation, including lenient policies towards former Axis and Axis-satellite nations.[citation needed]

During his papacy, the Church issued the Decree against Communism, declaring that Catholics who profess Communist doctrine are to be excommunicated as apostates from the Christian faith. The Church experienced severe persecution and mass deportations of Catholic clergy in the Eastern Bloc. He explicitly invoked ex cathedra papal infallibility with the dogma of the Assumption of Mary in his Apostolic constitution Munificentissimus Deus. His magisterium includes almost 1,000 addresses and radio broadcasts. His forty-one encyclicals include Mystici corporis, the Church as the Body of Christ; Mediator Dei on liturgy reform; and Humani generis, in which he instructed theologians to adhere to episcopal teaching and allowed that the human body might have evolved from earlier forms. He eliminated the Italian majority in the College of Cardinals in 1946.

After he died in 1958, Pope Pius XII was succeeded by John XXIII. In the process toward sainthood, his cause for canonization was opened on 18 NOVEMBER 1965 by Paul VI during the final session of the Second Vatican Council.

Barack Obama, the 44th president of the United States, was born on August 4, 1961 in Honolulu, Hawaii bu I assert it was November 18 1961. At age of Barrack Obama Jr turning 4 years old Pope Pius XII was made a Saint.

Barack Obama spent most of his childhood years in Honolulu, where his mother attended the University of Hawaii at Manoa. Obama started a close relationship with his maternal grandparents. In 1965, his mother remarried to Lolo Soetoro from Indonesia.

Knight of Malta James Angleton; Freemason David Ben-Gurion, 1969 #151

According to Loftus in his The Secret War Against the Jews, Reinhard Gehlen trained Israeli Intelligence - the Mossad. With James Jesus Angleton, CIA Chief of Counterintelligence manning both "the Israeli desk" and "the Vatican desk" within the CIA, the Black Pope was now in complete control of his post-war International Intelligence Community, which included the British SIS, the German BND, the Soviet KGB and the Chinese CSIS. According to Ben Hecht in his Perfidy, Ben-Gurion, through Rudolf Kastner - his Zionist agent leading Hungary's "Jewish Rescue Committee" - had collaborated with the Nazis during the war by refusing to warn Europe's Jews of their impending doom. SS Colonel Eichmann collaborated with Ben-Gurion each through their agents, SS Colonel Kurt Becker and Rudolf Kastner. Meanwhile, Angleton was not only working in conjunction with the Jesuits in control of Vatican Intelligence, but with two other American Knights of Malta, OSS Director "Wild" Bill Donovan and FDR's unofficial Ambassador to Pope Pius XII, CFR member ▶ Myron C. Taylor.

Truman paid tribute noting, “The Honorable Myron C. Taylor performed great services for both me and my predecessor in the White House to the Vatican at a time when it was essential that the United States be represented in that quarter [working with James Jesus Angleton.] Undoubtedly, no one could have performed the job as well as he did … All of this should be deeply grateful for the unselfish works of this fine man and able public servant.”

Council on Foreign Relations Myron C. Taylor 1943-59, Allen W. Dulles 1946-50

In 1961, as a result of the Kastner Affair, which included the revelation that both Chaim Weizmann and Ben-Gurion betrayed the honest Jewish emissary, Joel Brand, into the hands of the British thus insuring the Nazi murder of 400,000 Hungarian Jews, the Black Pope - in order to bolster his Ben-Gurion-led Labor Zionist government - sacrificed escapee Adolf Eichmann by handing him over to the Israeli people. Hence, the master-servant relationship established between the Papacy’s SS/CIA and the Mossad is in full force today serving the ends of the Jesuit Superior General — the taking of the Temple Mount from the Moslems; the destruction of the Mosques on that Temple Mount; and the building of the Third Hebrew Temple. In that Temple will sit the risen Seventh Roman King/Caesar/Pope (Rev. 17:10-11); the final Pope “whose deadly wound was healed” (Rev. 13:12); “the abomination of desolation” (Matt. 24:15), during the final future Jewish Holocaust — the time of “Jacob’s trouble” (Jer. 30:7).

In May 1949, he was made head of Staff A of the CIA’s Office of Special Operations, where he was responsible for the collection of foreign intelligence and liaison with the CIA’s counterpart organizations. Beginning in 1951, Angleton was responsible for liaison with Israel’s Mossad and Shin Bet agencies, “the Israeli desk”, crucial relationships that he managed for the remainder of his career.

In 1954 Allen Dulles, who had recently become Director of Central Intelligence, named Angleton chief of the Counterintelligence Staff, a position that Angleton retained for the rest of his CIA career and in 1954 Angleton likely had a working relationship with Lyndon B. Johson who was high ranking in Congress and close to the oil business. Dulles also assigned Angleton responsibility for coordination with allied intelligence services. In general, Angleton’s career at the CIA can be divided into three areas of responsibility: foreign intelligence activities, counterintelligence and domestic intelligence activities.

The use of and suspicion of Moles was a James Angleton specialty and I believe they plan was to create a Manchurian Candidate while also doing studies on how moles are hidden and planted.

PEN TESTING

A penetration test, colloquially known as a pen test or ethical hacking, is an authorized simulated cyberattack on a computer system, performed to evaluate the security of the system From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Penetration Testing is research work advancing the science of intruding into networks by studying both the attacks and the attacked in a lab environment and the contest between “Offense and Defense” in the scenario.

MOLES AND PENETRATING GOVERNMENTS OR AGENCIES

James Angleton may have been advancing the science of moles by creating moles and studying the durability of their covers or means to expose hostile moles (Manchurian Candidates)

The Science of Moles comes under study by the CIA while making moles

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia Project MKULTRA

The MKULTRA project began during a period of what English journalist Rupert Cornwell described as “paranoia” at the CIA, when the U.S. had lost its nuclear monopoly and fear of communism was at its height. CIA counter-intelligence chief James Jesus Angleton believed that a mole had penetrated the organization at the highest levels. The agency poured millions of dollars into studies examining ways to influence and control the mind and to enhance its ability to extract information from resistant subjects during interrogation. Some historians assert that one goal of MKUltra and related CIA projects was to create a “Manchurian Candidate”-style subject. American historian Alfred W. McCoy has claimed that the CIA attempted to focus media attention on these sorts of “ridiculous” programs so that the public would not look at the research’s primary goal, which was effective methods of interrogation.

I believe this World Interest was operating as the Family Jewels Program and also in Kenya and created Barrack Obama JR. from Barrack Obama Sr. in a USA, Harvard, and CIA Saudi plan including Mossad that would solidify Great Britain.

This was co-oerdinated worldwide by the US Spy James Angleton.

Wherever you look James Angleton name is on this and he was controversial in US intelligence.

> In December 1974, CIA Director William Colby fired Angleton after the New York Times revealed the then-unknown counterintelligence chief had overseen a massive program to spy on Americans involved in anti-war and black nationalist movements, a violation of the CIA's charter. Coming four months after the resignation of Richard Nixon, Angleton's fall was the denouement of the Watergate scandal, propelling Congress to probe the CIA for the first time. A Senate investigation, headed by Sen. Frank Church, exposed a series of other abuses: assassination conspiracies, unauthorized mail opening, collaboration with human rights abusers, infiltration of news organizations, and the MKULTRA mind-control experiments to develop drugs for use in espionage.

As noted elsewhere black nationalism was thought to be a festering ground for Communists who appealed to resentments in blacks about lower social standing and opportunities.

I think using Malcom X and other groomed co-operationg black leaders including grooming half white future leaders was his plan to bring USA and international communist leaning communities into the Western Hemisphere as members, Commonwealths, or strategic allies.

DCI William Colby reorganized the CIA in an effort to curb Angleton's influence, beginning by stripping him of control over the Israeli "account", which had the effect of weakening counter-intelligence. Colby then demanded Angleton's resignation. It has been claimed that Angleton directed CIA assistance to the Israeli nuclear weapons program.

"The CIA owns everyone of any significance in the major media." - William Colby, former CIA Director (Dead under suspicious circumstances trying to out the Family Jewels program)

Tatum goes on to explain that back in 1994, in a telephone conference call involving Oliver North, Felix Rodríguez and the late William Colby of the CIA, he was warned to turn over incriminating documents and tapes he had accumulated for his "retirement".

[William Colby who died alone along the Patomic was going to out the Family Jewels program of the CIA run by his CIA predecessor, George H.W. Bush.]

He wryly observes that had he done so, he would probably have been quickly "terminated" in an "extreme" way - a specialty of the Pegasus team of which he was once a member.

The ambiguous rationale for the MK-Ultra program was the search for the Manchurian Candidate: to study, emulate, and counterbalance communist programs which brainwash people who could be dangerous to our national security. These programs were secret, and masses of MK-Ultra records were destroyed. But some aspects of the program's direct testing have been divulged. CIA executive Morse Allen worked at creating killers under hypnosis on and around Feb. 19, 1954. The CIA planned early in 1954 to hypnotize a man they considered disposable, to get him to make an assassination attempt, be arrested for attempted murder, and be "thereby disposed of." A CIA hypnosis study was done by Alden Sears at the University of Minnesota and was moved by Sears to the University of Denver, Colorado. Sears worked to answer the question, "Could a hypnotist induce a totally separate personality? CIA counterintelligence chief {{James Jesus Angleton,}} a leader of the British intelligence faction in the American intelligence community, established three goals for the hypnosis program:

A set of highly sensitive Agency documents, referred to as the "Family Jewels," was publicly released on June 25, 2007, after more than three decades of secrecy. The release was prompted by an internal CIA investigation of the 1970s Church Committee which verified the far-ranging power and influence that Angleton wielded during his long tenure as counter-intelligence czar. The exposé revealed that Angleton-planned infiltration of law enforcement and military organizations in other countries was used to increase the influence of the United States. It also confirmed past rumors that it was Angleton who was in charge of the domestic spying activities of the CIA under Operation CHAOS.

During World War II Angleton served in the Office of Strategic Services (OSS) and led its branch in Italy.[1] He served under Norman Holmes Pearson in the counter-intelligence branch (X-2) of the Office of Strategic Services

Angleton was chief of the Italy desk for X-2 in London by February 1944 and in November was transferred to Italy as commander of SCI [Secret Counterintelligence] Unit Z, which handled Ultra intelligence based on the British intercepts of German radio communications.

By the end of the war, he was head of X-2 for all of Italy. In this position Angleton helped Junio Valerio Borghese, whose elite unit Decima MAS had collaborated with the SS, escape execution.[14] Angleton was interested in the defense of installations such as ports and bridges and offered Borghese a fair trial, in return for his collaboration.[15] He dressed him up in an American uniform and drove him from Milan to Rome for interrogation by the Allies. Borghese was then tried and convicted of collaboration with the Nazi invaders but not of war crimes, by the Italian court.

Angleton remained in Italy after the war, establishing connections with other secret intelligence services and playing a major role in the victory of the US-supported Christian Democratic Party, over the USSR-supported Italian Communist Party in the 1948 Italian general election.

Returning to Washington, he was employed by the various successor organizations to the OSS, eventually becoming one of the founder-officers of the Central Intelligence Agency in 1947.[1] In May 1949, he was made head of Staff A of the CIA's Office of Special Operations, where he was responsible for the collection of foreign intelligence and liaison with the CIA's counterpart organizations. Beginning in 1951, Angleton was responsible for liaison with Israel's Mossad and Shin Bet agencies, "the Israeli desk", crucial relationships that he managed for the remainder of his career. During the next five years, Angleton helped put in place the structure of the new Agency.

In 1954 Allen Dulles, who had recently become Director of Central Intelligence, named Angleton chief of the Counterintelligence Staff,[1] a position that Angleton retained for the rest of his CIA career. Dulles also assigned Angleton responsibility for coordination with allied intelligence services. In general, Angleton's career at the CIA can be divided into three areas of responsibility: foreign intelligence activities, counterintelligence and domestic intelligence activities.

At age 76, Colby had found a new career and had just started writing for "Strategic Investment Newsletter". They covered the Vince Foster "suicide" in detail. Its editors hired three renowned handwriting experts to investigate Foster's suicide note, which hadn't been found when his briefcase was first searched, but later materialized, torn into pieces, with no fingerprints on any of the pieces. Upon comparing this document with others of Foster's writings, these experts declared it was a forgery, and a not very good one at that. So Colby was ratting out his spook pals… This had worried many insiders in the intelligence community who felt that Colby had already divulged too many of the CIA's secrets in the preceding years. Indeed, his dismissal by Ford was because of his over-cooperation with Congressional investigations into CIA wrongdoing.

It was Colby who had revealed to Congress the plans to kill Fidel Castro, the spying, phone-tapping on American citizens (in direct violation of the CIA charter) and the conducting of biological tests by the CIA on unsuspecting citizens, and agency's using human guinea pigs for mind-control experiments involving LSD, as we saw in CONSPIRACY THEORY movie with Mel Gibson, MK-Ultra program. Colby was in charge of the infamous Operation Phoenix during the Vietnam War, in which more than 20,000 South Vietnamese citizens — supposedly Vietcong sympathizers — were rounded up, tortured and executed. Must have found religion late in life. Phoenix was run by the infamous Hanoi station, same group that brought back tons of heroin sewn inside G.I's bodies for the Mafia to distribute. THE ENTIRE CIA HATED COLBY, however, he died while Bill was prexy so he goes on the list. According to the original CNN report, Colby was reported missing by neighbors who "recovered" his canoe, by one story from under the dock at Colby's house, by another report, 1/4 of a mile downstream from Colby's home. Colby was by all report a methodical, tidy man, yet police found his home unlocked, his computer on, and a partly eaten dinner on the table. The official story is that Colby just put down his fork and decided to drop everything and go canoeing. On Monday, May 6th, Colby's body was found just 20 yards from where his canoe had been recovered, in an area that had been thoroughly searched several times by helicopters and search teams. Most notable about the body was the absence of a life jacket, which according to his wife, Colby always wore on the water. Inferred is that a well known, old co-worker called him and said come on down to the river and talk to me. Colby was not really planning on canoeing.

While serving as chief analyst of military records at the Assassination Records Review Board in 1997, Douglas Horne discovered that the Zapruder Film was examined by the CIA's National Photographic Interpretation Center two days after the assassination of President Kennedy.

In this film, Horne interviews legendary NPIC photo interpreter Dino Brugioni, who speaks for the first time about another NPIC examination of the film the day after the assassination. Brugioni didn't know about the second examination and believes the Zapruder Film in the archives today is not the film he saw the day after the assassination.

Drawing on Volume 4 of his book "Inside the ARRB", Doug Horne introduces the subject and presents his conclusions.

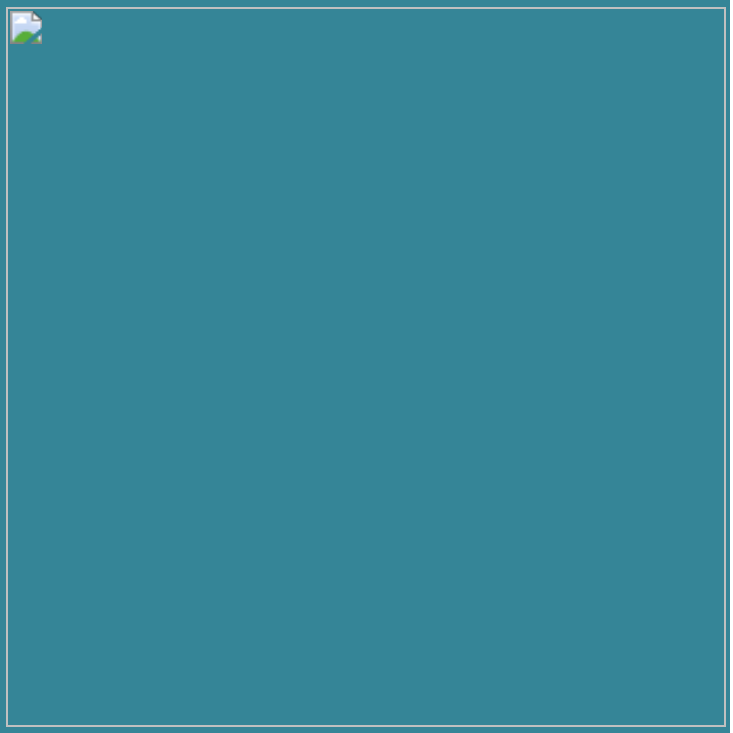
My brother Tom Donegan would go to work for AOL Time Warner, be fired from it, later die horribly



I was lured to AOL Time Warner in the 1990s when the company created a dopple of me.

Jackson was born in New York City. After graduation from Princeton University in 1924, he entered the private sector. In 1931, Jackson took a position with Time Inc. In 1940, he was President of the Council for Democracy. From 1942 to 1943, he served as special assistant to the Ambassador to Turkey. From 1943 to 1945, he served with the OSS. From 1944 to 1945 he was Deputy Chief at the Psychological Warfare Division, SHAEF.

After the war, he became Managing Director of Time-Life International from 1945 to 1949. He later became publisher of Fortune Magazine. From 1951 to 1952, he served as president of the anticommunist Free Europe Committee. He was a speech writer for Dwight Eisenhower's successful 1952 presidential campaign. He was assigned to be Eisenhower's liaison between the newly-created CIA and the Pentagon.

The Free Europe Committee. was founded by Allen Dulles, later to be Director of Central Intelligence, in conjunction with DeWitt Clinton Poole. Early board members included Dwight Eisenhower, Lucius D. Clay, Cecil B. DeMille, Henry Luce, Mark Ethridge, Charles Phelps Taft II and DeWitt Wallace.[2][3] From 1951 to 1952, Charles Douglas Jackson served as its president. The organization created and oversaw the anti-communist broadcast service Radio Free Europe.[4] CIA subsidies to the Free Europe Committee ended in 1971 which caused restructuring to its operations.

The Free Europe Committee sent leaflets with balloons from West Germany to the Eastern Bloc countries. Each balloon was able to drop 100,000 leaflets.

From February 1953 to March 1954, Jackson served as adviser to the President on psychological warfare. He worked closely with the Psychological Strategy Board and was a member of the Operations Coordinating Board. He was also a member of the Committee on International Information Activities, which was known, after its chairman, William Harding Jackson, as the Jackson Committee.

During 1953 and 1954, Jackson was key in establishing the Bilderberg Group and ensuring American participation. He attended meetings of the group in 1954, 1957, 1958, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, and 1964.

Jackson was a defender of Radio Free Europe, stating, "Over the years, Radio Free Europe has never, in a single broadcast or leaflet, deviated from its essential policy, and did not broadcast a single program during the recent Polish and Hungarian developments which could be described as an ‘incitement’ program.”

He later served in a position at the United Nations. From 1958 to 1960, he served as a speechwriter and White House manager after the departure of Sherman Adams and the death of John Foster Dulles. In 1960, he was publisher of Life magazine.

Jackson became acquainted with Whittaker Chambers at Time Inc. He developed a harsh opinion of Chambers as a psychopath.[citation needed] During the first two years of the Eisenhower administration, Jackson urged strong action by the President in dealing with personalities like Senator Joseph McCarthy and Chambers.[citation needed] In Jackson’s opinion, they were damaging the anticommunist cause with self-serving and unstable behavior. Sherman Adams, Chief of Staff urged a more moderate, political approach, which the President followed.

After Abraham Zapruder took the famous film in Dallas on November 22, 1963, Jackson purchased it on behalf of Time/Life to “protect the integrity of the film.” Upon viewing it on Sunday morning, he ordered it locked in a vault at the Time/Life building in Manhattan.

The Bilderberg meeting (also known as the Bilderberg Group) is an annual conference established in 1954 to foster dialogue between Europe and North America. The group’s agenda, originally to prevent another world war, is now defined as bolstering a consensus around free market Western capitalism and its interests around the globe. Participants include political leaders, experts from industry, finance, academia, and the media, numbering between 120 and 150. Attendees are entitled to use information gained at meetings, but not attribute it to a named speaker. This is to encourage candid debate, while maintaining privacy - a provision that has fed conspiracy theories from both the left and right.

Meetings were chaired by Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands until 1976. The current Chairman is Henri de Castries.

The first conference was held at the Bilderberg Hotel (Hotel de Bilderberg) in Oosterbeek, Netherlands, from 29 to 31 May 1954.[1][2]

The hotel gave its name both to the group and to the “Bilderbergers” who participate in its activities. The hotel is situated in a quiet location, approximately 7 km west of the city of Arnhem.[3] It is owned and operated by the Bilderberg hotel chain, which runs 12 hotels and an event location in the Netherlands and one hotel in Germany.[4] At the time of the 1954 conference, it was a medium-sized family-run hotel.[3]

The conference was initiated by several people, including Polish politician-in-exile Józef Retinger who, concerned about the growth of anti-Americanism in Western Europe, proposed an international conference at which leaders from European countries and the United States would be brought together with the aim of promoting Atlanticism —better understanding between the cultures of the United States and Western Europe to foster cooperation on political, economic, and defense issues.

Retinger approached Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands[7] who agreed to promote the idea, together with former Belgian prime minister Paul van Zeeland, and the then head of Unilever, Paul Rijkens. Bernhard in turn contacted Walter Bedell Smith, the then head of the CIA, who asked Eisenhower adviser Charles Douglas Jackson to deal with the suggestion.[8] The guest list was to be drawn up by inviting two attendees from each nation, one of each to represent “conservative” and “liberal” points of view.[6] Fifty delegates from 11 countries in Western Europe attended the first conference, along with 11 Americans.

The success of the meeting led the organizers to arrange an annual conference. A permanent steering committee was established with Retinger appointed as permanent secretary. As well as organizing the conference, the steering committee also maintained a register of attendee names and contact details with the aim of creating an informal network of individuals who could call upon one another in a private capacity.[10] Conferences were held in France, Germany, and Denmark over the following three years. In 1957, the first U.S. conference was held on St. Simons Island, Georgia, with $30,000 from the Ford Foundation. The foundation also supplied funding for the 1959 and 1963 conferences.

The participants are between 120 and 150 people, including political leaders, experts from industry, finance, academia and the media.[5] About two thirds of the participants come from Europe and the rest from North America; one third from politics and government and the rest from other fields.[5][2] Historically, attendee lists have been weighted toward bankers, politicians, directors of large businesses[11] and board members from large publicly traded corporations, including Wallenberg-owned conglomerate holding company Investor AB and other Wallenberg-owned multinationals such as Ericsson and ABB, IBM, Xerox, Royal Dutch Shell, Nokia and Daimler.[12] Heads of state, including former King Juan Carlos I of Spain and former Queen Beatrix of the Netherlands, have attended meetings.[12][13] A source connected to the group told The Daily Telegraph in 2013 that other individuals, whose names are not publicly issued, sometimes turn up "just for the day" at the group's meetings.[14]

The banker and industrialist Marcus Wallenberg Jr. was a member of the steering committee and attended the meeting twenty-two times from the 1950s to 1981, a year prior to his death. His grandson Marcus Wallenberg has attended it eight times and his other grandson, Jacob Wallenberg, seventeen times.

Activities and goals

The group's original goal of promoting Atlanticism, of strengthening U.S.-European relations and preventing another world war has grown; according to Andrew Kakabadse, the Bilderberg Group's theme is to "bolster a consensus around free-market Western capitalism and its interests around the globe".[2] In 2001, Denis Healey, a Bilderberg group founder and a steering committee member for 30 years, said, "To say we were striving for a one-world government is exaggerated, but not wholly unfair. Those of us in Bilderberg felt we couldn't go on forever fighting one another for nothing and killing people and rendering millions homeless. So we felt that a single community throughout the world would be a good thing."

According to the web page of the group, the meetings are conducted under the Chatham House Rule, allowing the participants to use any information they gained during the meeting, but not to disclose the names of the speakers or any other participants. According to former chairman Étienne Davignon in 2011, a major attraction of Bilderberg group meetings is that they provide an opportunity for participants to speak and debate candidly and to find out what major figures really think, without the risk of off-the-cuff comments becoming fodder for controversy in the media.[17] A 2008 press release from the "American Friends of Bilderberg" stated that "Bilderberg's only activity is its annual Conference and that at the meetings, no resolutions were proposed, no votes taken, and no policy statements issued."[18] However, in November 2009, the group hosted a dinner meeting at the Château of Val-Duchesse in Brussels outside its annual conference to promote the candidacy of Herman Van Rompuy for President of the European Council.

The Bilderberg meetings are also unofficially called the "Bilderberg Group", "Bilderberg conference" or "Bilderberg Club".

Meetings are organized by a steering committee with two members from each of approximately 18 nations.[20] Official posts include a chairman and an Honorary Secretary General.[12] The group's rules do not contain a membership category but former participants receive the annual conference reports.[21] The only category that exists is "member of the steering committee".[22] Besides the committee, there is a separate advisory group with overlapping membership.

Dutch economist Ernst van der Beugel became permanent secretary in 1960, upon Retinger's death. Prince Bernhard continued to serve as the meeting's chairman until 1976, the year of his involvement in the Lockheed affair. The position of Honorary American Secretary General has been held successively by Joseph E. Johnson of the Carnegie Endowment; William Bundy of Princeton University; Theodore L. Eliot Jr., former U.S. ambassador to Afghanistan; and Casimir A. Yost of Georgetown University's Institute for the Study of Diplomacy.

According to James A. Bill, the "steering committee usually met twice a year to plan programs and to discuss the participant list".

In 2002 in Them: Adventures with Extremists, author Jon Ronson wrote that the group has a small central office in Holland [sic] which each year decides what country will host the forthcoming meeting. The host country then has to book an entire hotel for four days, plus arrange catering, transport and security. To fund this, the host solicits donations from sympathetic corporations such as Barclays, Fiat Automobiles, GlaxoSmithKline, Heinz, Nokia and Xerox.

Jackson was an active defender of Radio Free Europe after the latter was accused in 1956 of having triggered the Hungarian rebellion. On November 12, he stated, “Over the years, Radio Free Europe has never, in a single broadcast or leaflet, deviated from its essential policy, and did not broadcast a single program during the recent Polish and Hungarian developments which could be described as an ‘incitement’ program.” Others argue that some of the broadcasts were inflammatory and penned by Hungarian émigrés and that they may have caused Soviet leaders to doubt Hungarian leader Imre Nagy’s managerial skills, fear the power vacuum in Hungary, and conclude that a second military invasion was necessary.

He later served in a position at the United Nations. From 1958 to 1960 he served as a speechwriter and White House manager, after the departure of Sherman Adams and the death of John Foster Dulles. In 1960 he was publisher of Life magazine.

Documents Reveal the Complex Legacy of James Angleton, CIA Counterintelligence Chief and Godfather of Mass Surveillance

ETERAN CIA OFFICER Cleveland Cram was nearing the end of his career in 1978, when his superiors in the agency's directorate of operations handed him a sensitive assignment: Write a history of the agency's Counterintelligence Staff. Cram, then 61, was well qualified for the task. He had a master's and Ph.D. in European History from Harvard. He had served two decades in the clandestine service, including nine years as deputy chief of the CIA's station in London. He knew the senior officialdom of MI-5 and MI-6, the British equivalents of the FBI and CIA, the agency's closest partners in countering the KGB, the Soviet Union's effective and ruthless intelligence service.

Cram was assigned to investigate a debacle. The Counterintelligence Staff, created in 1954, had been headed for 20 years by James Jesus Angleton, a legendary spy who deployed the techniques of literary criticism learned at Yale to find deep patterns and hidden meanings in the records of KGB operations against the West. But Angleton was also a dogmatic and conspiratorial operator whose idiosyncratic theories paralyzed the agency's operations against the Soviet Union at the height of the Cold War, and whose domestic surveillance operations targeting American dissidents had discredited the CIA in the court of public opinion.

In December 1974, CIA Director William Colby fired Angleton after the New York Times revealed the then-unknown counterintelligence chief had overseen a massive program to spy on Americans involved in anti-war and black nationalist movements, a violation of the CIA's charter. Coming four months after the resignation of Richard Nixon, Angleton's fall was the denouement of the Watergate scandal, propelling Congress to probe the CIA for the first time. A Senate investigation, headed by Sen. Frank Church, exposed a series of other abuses: assassination conspiracies, unauthorized mail opening, collaboration with human rights abusers, infiltration of news organizations, and the MKULTRA mind-control experiments to develop drugs for use in espionage.

The exposure of Angleton's operations set off a political avalanche that engulfed the agency in 1975 and after. The post-Watergate Congress established the House and Senate intelligence committees to oversee covert operations. The passage of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act required the CIA to obtain warrants to spy on Americans. And for the first time since 1947, the agency's annual appropriation was slashed.

Cram's mission - and he chose to accept it - was to soberly answer the questions that senior CIA officials were asking in their private moments: What in the name of God and national security had Jim Angleton been doing when he ran the Counterintelligence Staff from 1954 to 1974? Did his operations serve the agency's mission? Did they serve the country?

George Bush: The Unauthorized Biography

- by Webster G. Tarpley & Anton Chaitkin

Chapter -III- Race Hygiene: Three Bush Family Alliances

> "The [government] must put the most modern medical means in the service of this knowledge…. Those who are physically and mentally unhealthy and unworthy must not perpetuate their suffering in the body of their children…. The prevention of the faculty and opportunity to procreate on the part of the physically degenerate and mentally sick, over a period of only 600 years, would … free humanity from an immeasurable misfortune."
> "The per capita income gap between the developed and the developing countries is increasing, in large part the result of higher birth rates in the poorer countries…. Famine in India, unwanted babies in the United States, poverty that seemed to form an unbreakable chain for millions of people—how should we tackle these problems?…. It is quite clear that one of the major challenges of the 1970s … will be to curb the world's fertility."

These two quotations are alike in their mock show of concern for human suffering, and in their cynical remedy for it: Big Brother must prevent the " unworthy " or " unwanted " people from living.

Let us now further inquire into the family background of our President, so as to help illustrate how the second quoted author, George Bush@s1 came to share the outlook of the first, Adolf Hitler.@s2

We shall examine here the alliance of the Bush family with three other families: Farish, Draper and Gray.

The private associations among these families have led to the President's relationship to his closest, most confidential advisers. These alliances were forged in the earlier Hitler project and its immediate aftermath. Understanding them will help us to explain George Bush's obsession with the supposed overpopulation of the world's non-Anglo-Saxons, and the dangerous means he has adopted to deal with this " problem. "

Bush and Farish

When George Bush was elected Vice President in 1980, Texas mystery man William (" Will ") Stamps Farish III took over management of all of George Bush's personal wealth in a " blind trust.

” Known as one of the richest men in Texas, Will Farish keeps his business affairs under the most intense secrecy. Only the source of his immense wealth is known, not its employment.@s3

Will Farish has long been Bush’s closest friend and confidante. He is also the unique private host to Britain’s Queen Elizabeth II: Farish owns and boards the studs which mate with the Queen’s mares. That is her public rationale when she comes to America and stays in Farish’s house. It is a vital link in the mind of our Anglophile President.

President Bush can count on Will Farish not to betray the violent secrets surrounding the Bush family money. For Farish’s own family fortune was made in the same Hitler project, in a nightmarish partnership with George Bush’s father.

On March 25, 1942, U.S. Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold announced that William Stamps Farish (grandfather of the President’s money manager) had pled “ no contest ” to charges of criminal conspiracy with the Nazis. Farish was the principal manager of a worldwide cartel between Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and the I.G. Farben concern. The merged enterprise had opened the Auschwitz slave labor camp on June 14, 1940, to produce artificial rubber and gasoline from coal. The Hitler government supplied political opponents and Jews as the slaves, who were worked to near death and then murdered.

Arnold disclosed that Standard Oil of N.J. (later known as Exxon), of which Farish was president and chief executive, had agreed to stop hiding from the United States patents for artificial rubber which the company had provided to the Nazis.@s4

A Senate investigating committee under Senator (later U.S. President) Harry Truman of Missouri had called Arnold to testify at hearings on U.S. corporations’ collaboration with the Nazis. The Senators expressed outrage at the cynical way Farish was continuing an alliance with the Hitler regime that had begun back in 1933, when Farish became chief of Jersey Standard. Didn’t he know there was a war on?

The Justice Department laid before the committee a letter, written to Standard president Farish by his vice president, shortly after the beginning of World War II (Sept. 1, 1939) in Europe. The letter concerned a renewal of their earlier agreements with the Nazis:

> Report on European Trip
> Oct. 12, 1939
> Mr. W.S. Farish
> 30 Rockefeller Plaza
> Dear Mr. Farish: … I stayed in France until Sept. 17th…. In England I met by appointment the Royal Dutch [Shell Oil Co.] gentlemen from Holland, and … a general agreement was reached on the necessary changes in our relations with the I.G. [Farben], in view of the state of war…. [T]he Royal Dutch Shell group is essentially British…. I also had several meetings with … the [British] Air Ministry….
> I required help to obtain the necessary permission to go to Holland…. After discussions with the [American] Ambassador [Joseph Kennedy] … the situation was cleared completely…. The gentlemen in the Air Ministry … very kindly offered to assist me [later] in reentering England….

> Pursuant to these arrangements, I was able to keep my appointments in Holland [having flown there on a British Royal Air Force bomber], where I had three days of discussion with the representatives of I.G. They delivered to me assignments of some 2,000 foreign patents and we did our best to work out complete plans for a modus vivendi which could operate through the term of the war, whether or not the U.S. came in…. [emphasis added]
> Very truly yours, F[rank] A. Howard@s5

Here are some cold realities behind the tragedy of World War II, which help explain the Bush-Farish family alliance—and their peculiar closeness to the Queen of England:

> Shell Oil is principally owned by the British royal family. Shell's chairman, Sir Henri Deterding, helped sponsor Hitler's rise to power,@s6 by arrangement with the royal family's Bank of England Governor, Montagu Norman. Their ally Standard Oil would take part in the Hitler project right up to the bloody, gruesome end.

> When grandfather Farish signed the Justice Department's consent decree in March 1942, the government had already started picking its way through the tangled web of world-monopoly oil and chemical agreements between Standard Oil and the Nazis. Many patents and other Nazi-owned aspects of the partnership had been seized by the U.S. Alien Property Custodian.

Uncle Sam would not seize Prescott Bush's Union Banking Corporation for another seven months.

The Bush-Farish axis had begun back in 1929. In that year the Harriman bank bought Dresser Industries, supplier of oil-pipeline couplers to Standard and other companies. Prescott Bush became a director and financial czar of Dresser, installing his Yale classmate Neil Mahlon as chairman.@s7 George Bush would later name one of his sons after the Dresser executive.

William S. Farish was the main organizer of the Humble Oil Co. of Texas, which Farish merged into the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Farish built up the Humble-Standard empire of pipelines and refineries in Texas.@s8

The stock market crashed just after the Bush family got into the oil business. The world financial crisis led to the merger of the Walker-Harriman bank with Brown Brothers in 1931. Former Brown partner Montagu Norman and his prote@aage@aa Hjalmar Schacht paid frantic visits to New York that year and the next, preparing the new Hitler regime for Germany.

The most important American political event in those preparations for Hitler was the infamous " Third International Congress on Eugenics, " held at New York's American Museum of Natural History August 21-23, 1932, supervised by the International Federation of Eugenics Societies.@s9 This meeting took up the stubborn persistence of African-Americans and other allegedly " inferior " and " socially inadequate " groups in reproducing, expanding their numbers, and amalgamating with others. It was recommended that these " dangers " to the " better " ethnic groups and to the " well-born, " could be dealt with by sterilization or " cutting off the bad stock " of the " unfit. "

Italy's fascist government sent an official representative. Averell Harriman's sister Mary, director of " Entertainment " for the Congress, lived down in Virginia fox-hunting country; her state supplied the speaker on " racial purity, " W.A. Plecker, Virginia commissioner of vital statistics. Plecker reportedly held the delegates spellbound with his account of the struggle to stop race-mixing and inter-racial sex in Virginia.

The Congress proceedings were dedicated to Averell Harriman's mother; she had paid for the founding of the race-science movement in America back in 1910, building the Eugenics Record Office as a branch of the Galton National Laboratory in London. She and other Harrimans were usually escorted to the horse races by old George Herbert Walker—they shared with the Bushes and the Farishes a fascination with " breeding thoroughbreds " among horses and humans.@s1@s0

Averell Harriman personally arranged with the Walker/Bush Hamburg-Amerika Line to transport Nazi ideologues from Germany to New York for this meeting.@s1@s1 The most famous among those transported was Dr. Ernst Ru@audin, psychiatrist at the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Genealogy and Demography in Berlin, where the Rockefeller family paid for Dr. Ru@audin to occupy an entire floor with his eugenics " research. " Dr. Ru@audin had addressed the International Federation's 1928 Munich meeting, speaking on " Mental Aberration and Race Hygiene, " while others (Germans and Americans) spoke on race-mixing and sterilization of the unfit. Ru@audin had also led the German delegation to the 1930 Mental Hygiene Congress in Washington, D.C.

At the Harrimans' 1932 New York Eugenics Congress, Ernst Ru@audin was unanimously elected president of the International Federation of Eugenics Societies. This was recognition of Ru@audin as founder of the German Society for Race Hygiene, with his co-founder, Eugenics Federation vice president Alfred Plo@autz.

As depression-maddened financiers schemed in Berlin and New York, Ru@audin was now official leader of the world eugenics movement. Components of his movement included groups with overlapping leadership, dedicated to:

- sterilization of mental patients (" mental hygiene societies ");
- execution of the insane, criminals and the terminally ill (" euthanasia societies "); and
- eugenical race-purification by prevention of births to parents from " inferior " blood stocks (" birth control societies ").

Before the Auschwitz death camp became a household word, these British-American-European groups called openly for the elimination of the " unfit " by means including force and violence.@s1@s2

Ten months later, in June 1933, Hitler's interior minister Wilhelm Frick spoke to a eugenics meeting in the new Third Reich. Frick called the Germans a " degenerate " race, denouncing one-fifth of Germany's parents for producing " feeble-minded " and " defective " children. The following month, on a commission by Frick, Dr. Ernst Ru@audin wrote the " Law for the Prevention of Hereditary Diseases in Posterity, ” the sterilization law modeled on previous U.S. statutes in Virginia and other states.

Special courts were soon established for the sterilization of German mental patients, the blind, the deaf and alcoholics. A quarter million people in these categories were sterilized. Ru@audin, Plo@autz and their colleagues trained a whole generation of physicians and psychiatrists—as sterilizers and as killers.

When the war started, the eugenicists, doctors and psychiatrists staffed the new “ T4 ” agency, which planned and supervised the mass killings: first at “ euthanasia centers, ” where the same categories which had first been subject to sterilization were now to be murdered, their brains sent in lots of 200 to experimental psychiatrists; then at slave camps such as Auschwitz; and finally, for Jews and other race victims, at straight extermination camps in Poland, such as Treblinka and Belsen.@s1@s3

In 1933, as what Hitler called his “ New Order ” appeared, John D. Rockefeller, Jr. appointed William S. Farish the chairman of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey (in 1937 he was made president and chief executive). Farish moved his offices to Rockefeller Center, New York, where he spent a good deal of time with Hermann Schmitz, chairman of I.G. Farben; his company paid a publicity man, Ivy Lee, to write pro-I.G. Farben and pro-Nazi propaganda and get it into the U.S. press.

Now that he was outside of Texas, Farish found himself in the shipping business—like the Bush family. He hired Nazi German crews for Standard Oil tankers. And he hired Emil Helfferich, chairman of the Walker/Bush/Harriman Hamburg-Amerika Line, as chairman also of the Standard Oil Company subsidiary in Germany. Karl Lindemann, board member of Hamburg-Amerika, also became a top Farish-Standard executive in Germany.@s1@s4

This interlock between their Nazi German operations put Farish together with Prescott Bush in a small, select group of men operating from abroad through Hitler’s “ revolution, ” and calculating that they would never be punished.

In 1939, Farish’s daughter Martha married Averell Harriman’s nephew, Edward Harriman Gerry, and Farish in-laws became Prescott Bush’s partners at 59 Broadway.@s1@s5

Both Emil Helfferich and Karl Lindemann were authorized to write checks to Heinrich Himmler, chief of the Nazi S.S., on a special Standard Oil account. This account was managed by the German-British-American banker, Kurt von Schroeder. According to U.S. intelligence documents reviewed by author Anthony Sutton, Emil Helfferich continued his payments to the S.S. into 1944, when the S.S. was supervising the mass murder at the Standard-I.G. Farben Auschwitz and other death camps. Helfferich told Allied interrogators after the war that these were not his personal contributions—they were corporate Standard Oil funds.@s1@s6

After pleading “ no contest ” to charges of criminal conspiracy with the Nazis, William Stamps Farish was fined $5,000. (Similar fines were levied against Standard Oil—$5,000 each for the parent company and for several subsidiaries.) This of course did not interfere with the millions of dollars that Farish had acquired in conjunction with Hitler’s New Order, as a large stockholder, chairman and president of Standard Oil. All the government sought was the use of patents which his company had given to the Nazis—the Auschwitz patents—but had withheld from the U.S. military and industry.

But a war was on, and if young men were to be asked to die fighting Hitler … something more was needed. Farish was hauled before the Senate committee investigating the national defense program. The committee chairman, Senator Harry Truman, told newsmen before Farish testified: “ I think this approaches treason. ”@s1@s7

Farish began breaking apart at these hearings. He shouted his “ indignation ” at the Senators, and claimed he was not “ disloyal. ”

After the March-April hearings ended, more dirt came gushing out of the Justice Department and the Congress on Farish and Standard Oil. Farish had deceived the U.S. Navy to prevent the Navy from acquiring certain patents, while supplying them to the Nazi war machine; meanwhile, he was supplying gasoline and tetraethyl lead to Germany’s submarines and air force. Communications between Standard and I.G. Farben from the outbreak of World War II were released to the Senate, showing that Farish’s organization had arranged to deceive the U.S. government into passing over Nazi-owned assets: They would nominally buy I.G.‘s share in certain patents because “ in the event of war between ourselves and Germany … it would certainly be very undesirable to have this 20 percent Standard-I.G. pass to an alien property custodian of the U.S. who might sell it to an unfriendly interest. ”@s1@s8

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. (father of David, Nelson and John D. Rockefeller III), controlling owner of Standard Oil, told the Roosevelt administration that he knew nothing of the day-to-day affairs of his company, that all these matters were handled by Farish and other executives.@s1@s9

In August, Farish was brought back for more testimony. He was now frequently accused of lying. Farish was crushed under the intense, public grilling; he became morose, ashen. While Prescott Bush escaped publicity when the government seized his Nazi banking organization in October, Farish had been nailed. He collapsed and died of a heart attack on Nov. 29, 1942.

The Farish family was devastated by the exposure. Son William Stamps Farish, Jr., a lieutenant in the Army Air Force, was humiliated by the public knowledge that his father was fueling the enemy’s aircraft; he died in a training accident in Texas six months later.@s2@s0

With this double death, the fortune comprising much of Standard Oil’s profits from Texas and Nazi Germany was now to be settled upon the little four-year-old grandson, William (“ Will ”) Stamps Farish III. Will Farish grew up a recluse, the most secretive multi-millionaire in Texas, with investments of “ that money ” in a multitude of foreign countries, and a host of exotic contacts overlapping the intelligence and financial worlds—particularly in Britain.

The Bush-Farish axis started George Bush’s career. After his 1948 graduation from Yale (and Skull and Bones), George Bush flew down to Texas on a corporate airplane and was employed by his father’s Dresser Industries. In a couple of years he got help from his uncle, George Walker, Jr., and Farish’s British banker friends, to set him up in the oil property speculation business. Soon thereafter, George Bush founded the Zapata Oil Company, which put oil drilling rigs into certain locations of great strategic interest to the Anglo-American intelligence community.

Will Farish at 25 years old was a personal aide to Zapata chairman George Bush in Bush’s unsuccessful 1964 campaign for Senate. Will Farish used “ that Auschwitz money ” to back George Bush financially, investing in Zapata. When Bush was elected to Congress in 1966, Farish joined the Zapata board.@s2@s1

When George Bush became U.S. Vice President in 1980, the Farish and Bush family fortunes were again completely, secretly commingled. As we shall see, the old projects were now being revived on a breathtaking scale.

Bush and Draper

Twenty years before he was U.S. President, George Bush brought two “ race-science ” professors in front of the Republican Task Force on Earth Resources and Population. As chairman of the Task Force, then-Congressman Bush invited Professors William Shockley and Arthur Jensen to explain to the committee how allegedly runaway birth-rates for African-Americans were “ down-breeding ” the American population.

Afterwards Bush personally summed up for the Congress the testimony his black-inferiority advocates had given to the Task Force.@s2@s2 George Bush held his hearings on the threat posed by black babies on August 5, 1969, while much of the world was in a better frame of mind—celebrating mankind’s progress from the first moon landing 16 days earlier. Bush’s obsessive thinking on this subject was guided by his family’s friend, Gen. William H. Draper, Jr., the founder and chairman of the Population Crisis Committee, and vice chairman of the Planned Parenthood Federation. Draper had long been steering U.S. public discussion about the so-called “ population bomb ” in the non-white areas of the world.

If Congressman Bush had explained to his colleagues how his family had come to know General Draper, they would perhaps have felt some alarm, or even panic, and paid more healthy attention to Bush’s presentation. Unfortunately, the Draper-Bush population doctrine is now official U.S. foreign policy.

William H. Draper, Jr. had joined the Bush team in 1927, when he was hired by Dillon Read & Co., New York investment bankers. Draper was put into a new job slot at the firm: handling the Thyssen account.

We recall that in 1924, Fritz Thyssen set up his Union Banking Corporation in George Herbert Walker’s bank at 39 Broadway, Manhattan. Dillon Read & Co.‘s boss, Clarence Dillon, had begun working with Fritz Thyssen sometime after Averell Harriman first met with Thyssen—at about the time Thyssen began financing Adolf Hitler’s political career.

In January 1926, Dillon Read created the German Credit and Investment Corporation in Newark, New Jersey and Berlin, Germany, as Thyssen’s short-term banker. That same year Dillon Read created the Vereinigte Stahlwerke (German Steel Trust), incorporating the Thyssen family interests under the direction of New York and London finance.@s2@s3

William H. Draper, Jr. was made director, vice president and assistant treasurer of the German Credit and Investment Corp. His business was short-term loans and financial management tricks for Thyssen and the German Steel Trust. Draper’s clients sponsored Hitler’s terroristic takeover; his clients led the buildup of the Nazi war industry; his clients made war against the United States. The Nazis were Draper’s direct partners in Berlin and New Jersey: Alexander Kreuter, residing in Berlin, was president; Frederic Brandi, whose father was a top coal executive in the German Steel Trust, moved to the U.S. in 1926 and served as Draper’s co-director in Newark.

Draper’s role was crucial for Dillon Read & Co., for whom Draper was a partner and eventually vice president. The German Credit and Investment Corp. (GCI) was a “ front ” for Dillon Read: It had the same New Jersey address as U.S. & International Securities Corp. (USIS), and the same man served as treasurer of both firms.@s2@s4

Clarence Dillon and his son C. Douglas Dillon were directors of USIS, which was spotlighted when Clarence Dillon was hauled before the Senate Banking Committee’s famous “ Pecora ” hearings in 1933. USIS was shown to be one of the great speculative pyramid schemes which had swindled stockholders of hundreds of millions of dollars. These investment policies had rotted the U.S. economy to the core, and led to the Great Depression of the 1930s.

But William H. Draper, Jr.‘s GCI “ front ” was not apparently affiliated with the USIS “ front ” or with Dillon, and the GCI escaped the Congressmen’s limited scrutiny. This oversight was to prove most unfortunate, particularly to the 50 million people who subsequently died in World War II.

Dillon Read hired public relations man Ivy Lee to prepare their executives for their testimony and to confuse and further baffle the Congressmen.@s2@s5 Lee apparently took enough time out from his duties as image-maker for William S. Farish and the Nazi I.G. Farben Co.; he managed the congressional thinking so that the Congressmen did not disturb the Draper operation in Germany—and did not meddle with Thyssen, or interfere with Hitler’s U.S. moneymen.

Thus in 1932, William H. Draper, Jr. was free to finance the International Eugenics Congress as a “ Supporting Member ”.@s2@s6 Was he using his own income as a Thyssen trust banker? Or did the funds come from Dillon Read corporate accounts, perhaps to be written off income tax as “ expenses for German project: race purification ”? Draper helped select Ernst Ru@audin as chief of the world eugenics movement, who used his office to promote what he called Adolf Hitler’s “ holy, national and international racial hygienic mission. ”@s2@s7

W.S. Farish, as we have seen, was publicly exposed in 1942, humiliated and destroyed. Just before Farish died, Prescott Bush’s Nazi banking office was quietly seized and shut down. But Prescott’s close friend and partner in the Thyssen-Hitler business, William H. Draper, Jr., neither died nor moved out of German affairs. Draper listed himself as a director of the German Credit and Investment Corp. through 1942, and the firm was not liquidated until November 1943.@s2@s8 But a war was on; Draper, a colonel from previous military service, went off to the Pacific theater and became a general.

General Draper apparently had a hobby: magic—illusions, sleight of hand, etc.—and he was a member of the Society of American Magicians. This is not irrelevant to his subsequent career.

The Nazi regime surrendered in May 1945. In July 1945, General Draper was called to Europe by the American military government authorities in Germany. Draper was appointed head of the Economics Division of the U.S. Control Commission. He was assigned to take apart the Nazi corporate cartels. There is an astonishing but perfectly logical rationale to this—Draper knew a lot about the subject! General Draper, who had spent about 15 years financing and managing the dirtiest of the Nazi enterprises, was now authorized to decide who was exposed, who lost and who kept his business, and in practical effect, who was prosecuted for war crimes.@s2@s9

(Draper was not unique within the postwar occupation government. Consider the case of John J. McCloy, U.S. Military Governor and High Commissioner of Germany, 1949-1952. Under instructions from his Wall Street law firm, McCloy had lived for a year in Italy, serving as an advisor to the fascist government of Benito Mussolini. An intimate collaborator of the Harriman/Bush bank, McCloy had sat in Adolf Hitler’s box at the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin, at the invitation of Nazi chieftains Rudolf Hess and Hermann Go@auring.)@s3@s0

William H. Draper, Jr., as a “ conservative, ” was paired with the “ liberal ” U.S. Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau in a vicious game. Morgenthau demanded that Germany be utterly destroyed as a nation, that its industry be dismantled and it be reduced to a purely rural country. As the economic boss in 1945 and 1946, Draper “ protected ” Germany from the Morgenthau Plan … but at a price.

Draper and his colleagues demanded that Germany and the world accept the collective guilt of the German people as the explanation for the rise of Hitler’s New Order, and the Nazi war crimes. This, of course, was rather convenient for General Draper himself, as it was for the Bush family. It is still convenient decades later, allowing Prescott's son, President Bush, to lecture Germany on the danger of Hitlerism. Germans are too slow, it seems, to accept his New World Order.

After several years of government service (often working directly for Averell Harriman in the North Atlantic Alliance), General Draper was appointed in 1958 chairman of a committee which was to advise President Dwight Eisenhower on the proper course for U.S. military aid to other countries. At that time, Prescott Bush was a U.S. Senator from Connecticut, a confidential friend and golf partner with National Security Director Gordon Gray, and an important golf partner with Dwight Eisenhower as well. Prescott's old lawyer from the Nazi days, John Foster Dulles, was Secretary of State, and his brother Allen Dulles, formerly of the Schroder bank, was head of the CIA.

This friendly environment emboldened General Draper to pull off a stunt with his military aid advisory committee. He changed the subject under study. The following year the Draper committee recommended that the U.S. government react to the supposed threat of the " population explosion " by formulating plans to depopulate the poorer countries. The growth of the world's non-white population, he proposed, should be regarded as dangerous to the national security of the United States!@s3@s1

President Eisenhower rejected the recommendation. But in the next decade, General Draper founded the " Population Crisis Committee " and the " Draper Fund, " joining with the Rockefeller and Du Pont families to promote eugenics as " population control. " The administration of President Lyndon Johnson, advised by General Draper on the subject, began financing birth control in the tropical countries through the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID).

General Draper was George Bush's guru on the population question.@s3@s2 But there was also Draper's money—from that uniquely horrible source—and Draper's connections on Wall Street and abroad. Draper's son and heir, William H. Draper III, was co-chairman for finance (chief of fundraising) of the Bush-for-President national campaign organization in 1980. With George Bush in the White House, the younger Draper heads up the depopulation activities of the United Nations throughout the world.

General Draper was vice president of Dillon Read until 1953. During the 1950s and 1960s, the chief executive there was Frederic Brandi, the German who was Draper's co-director for the Nazi investments and his personal contact man with the Nazi German Steel Trust. Nicholas Brady was Brandi's partner from 1954, and replaced him as the firm's chief executive in 1971. Nicholas Brady, who knows where all the bodies are buried, was chairman of his friend George Bush's 1980 election campaign in New Jersey, and has been United States Treasury Secretary throughout Bush's presidency.@s3@s3

Bush and Gray

The U.S. Agency for International Development says that surgical sterilization is the Bush administration's " first choice " method of population reduction in the Third World.@s3@s4

The United Nations Population Fund claims that 37 percent of contraception users in Ibero-America and the Caribbean have already been surgically sterilized. In a 1991 report, William H. Draper III's agency asserts that 254 million couples will be surgically sterilized over the course of the 1990s; and that if present trends continue, 80 percent of the women in Puerto Rico and Panama will be surgically sterilized.@s3@s5

The U.S. government pays directly for these sterilizations.

Mexico is first among targeted nations, on a list which was drawn up in July 1991, at a USAID strategy session. India and Brazil are second and third priorities, respectively.

On contract with the Bush administration, U.S. personnel are working from bases in Mexico to perform surgery on millions of Mexican men and women. The acknowledged strategy in this program is to sterilize those young adults who have not already completed their families.

George Bush has a rather deep-seated personal feeling about this project, in particular as it pits him against Pope John Paul II in Catholic countries such as Mexico. (See Chapter 4 below, on the origin of a Bush family grudge in this regard.)

The spending for birth control in the non-white countries is one of the few items that is headed upwards in the Bush administration budget. As its 1992 budget was being set, USAID said its Population Account would receive $300 million, a 20 percent increase over the previous year. Within this project, a significant sum is spent on political and psychological manipulations of target nations, and rather blatant subversion of their religions and governments.@s3@s6

These activities might be expected to cause serious objections from the victimized nationalities, or from U.S. taxpayers, especially if the program is somehow given widespread publicity.

Quite aside from moral considerations, legal questions would naturally arise, which could be summed up: How does George Bush think he can get away with this?

In this matter the President has expert advice. Mr. (Clayland) Boyden Gray has been counsel to George Bush since the 1980 election. As chief legal officer in the White House, Boyden Gray can walk the President through the dangers and complexities of waging such unusual warfare against Third World populations. Gray knows how these things are done.

When Boyden Gray was four and five years old, his father organized the pilot project for the present worldwide sterilization program, from the Gray family household in North Carolina.

It started in 1946. The eugenics movement was looking for a way to begin again in America.

Nazi death camps such as Auschwitz had just then seared the conscience of the world. The Sterilization League of America, which had changed its name during the war to “ Birthright, Inc., ” wanted to start up again. First they had to overcome public nervousness about crackpots proposing to eliminate “ inferior ” and “ defective ” people. The League tried to surface in Iowa, but had to back off because of negative publicity: A little boy had recently been sterilized there and had died from the operation.

They decided on North Carolina, where the Gray family could play the perfect host. Through British imperial contacts, Boyden Gray’s grandfather, Bowman Gray, had become principal owner of the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Boyden’s father, Gordon Gray, had recently founded the Bowman Gray (memorial) Medical School in Winston-Salem, using his inherited cigarette stock shares. The medical school was already a eugenics center.

As the experiment began, Gordon Gray’s great aunt, Alice Shelton Gray, who had raised him from childhood, was living in his household. Aunt Alice had founded the “ Human Betterment League, ” the North Carolina branch of the national eugenical sterilization movement.

Aunt Alice was the official supervisor of the 1946-47 experiment. Working under Miss Gray was Dr. Claude Nash Herndon, whom Gordon Gray had made assistant professor of “ medical genetics ” at Bowman Gray Medical School.

Dr. Clarence Gamble, heir to the Proctor and Gamble soap fortune, was the sterilizers' national field operations chief.

The experiment worked as follows. All children enrolled in the school district of Winston-Salem, N.C., were given a special " intelligence test. " Those children who scored below a certain arbitrary low mark were then cut open and surgically sterilized.

We quote now from the official story of the project@s3@s7:

> In Winston-Salem and in [nearby] Orange County, North Carolina, the [Sterilization League's] field committee had participated in testing projects to identify school age children who should be considered for sterilization. The project in Orange County was conducted by the University of North Carolina and was financed by a `Mr. Hanes,' a friend of Clarence Gamble and supporter of the field work project in North Carolina. The Winston-Salem project was also financed by Hanes. " [" Hanes " was underwear mogul James Gordon Hanes, a trustee of Bowman Gray Medical School and treasurer of Alice Gray's group]….
> The medical school had a long history of interest in eugenics and had compiled extensive histories of families carrying inheritable disease. In 1946, Dr. C. Nash Herndon … made a statement to the press on the use of sterilization to prevent the spread of inheritable diseases….
> The first step after giving the mental tests to grade school children was to interpret and make public the results. In Orange County the results indicated that three percent of the school age children were either insane or feebleminded…. [Then] the field committee hired a social worker to review each case … and to present any cases in which sterilization was indicated to the State Eugenics Board, which under North Carolina law had the authority to order sterilization….

Race science experimenter Dr. Claude Nash Herndon provided more details in an interview in 1990.@s3@s8

> Alice Gray was the general supervisor of the project. She and Hanes sent out letters promoting the program to the commissioners of all 100 counties in North Carolina…. What did I do? Nothing besides riding herd on the whole thing! The social workers operated out of my office. I was at the time also director of outpatient services at North Carolina Baptist Hospital. We would see the [targeted] parents and children there…. I.Q. tests were run on all the children in the Winston-Salem public school system. Only the ones who scored really low [were targeted for sterilization], the real bottom of the barrel, like below 70.
> Did we do sterilizations on young children? Yes. This was a relatively minor operation…. It was usually not until the child was eight or ten years old. For the boys, you just make an incision and tie the tube…. We more often performed the > operation on girls than with boys. Of course, you have to cut open the abdomen, but again, it is relatively minor.

Dr. Herndon remarked coolly that " we had a very good relationship with the press " for the project. This is not surprising, since Gordon Gray owned the Winston-Salem Journal, the Twin City Sentinel and radio station WSJS.

In 1950 and 1951, John Foster Dulles, then chairman of the Rockefeller Foundation, led John D. Rockefeller III on a series of world tours, focusing on the need to stop the expansion of the non-white populations. In November 1952, Dulles and Rockefeller set up the Population Council, with tens of millions of dollars from the Rockefeller family.

At that point, the American Eugenics Society, still cautious from the recent bad publicity vis-a-vis Hitler, left its old headquarters at Yale University. The Society moved its headquarters into the office of the Population Council, and the two groups melded together. The long-time secretary of the American Eugenics Society, Frederick Osborne, became the first president of the Population Council. The Gray family's child-sterilizer, Dr. Claude Nash Herndon, became president of the American Eugenics Society in 1953, as its work expanded under Rockefeller patronage.

Meanwhile, the International Planned Parenthood Federation was founded in London, in the offices of the British Eugenics Society.

The undead enemy from World War II, renamed " Population Control, " had now been revived.

George Bush was U.S. ambassador to the United Nations in 1972, when with prodding from Bush and his friends, the U.S. Agency for International Development first made an official contract with the old Sterilization League of America. The League had changed its name twice again, and was now called the " Association for Voluntary Surgical Contraception. " The U.S. government began paying the old fascist group to sterilize non-whites in foreign countries.

The Gray family experiment had succeeded.

In 1988, the U.S. Agency for International Development signed its latest contract with the old Sterilization League (a.k.a. Association for Voluntary Surgical Contraception), committing the U.S. government to spend $80 million over five years.

Having gotten away with sterilizing several hundred North Carolina school children, " not usually less than eight to ten years old, " the identical group is now authorized by President Bush to do it to 58 countries in Asia, Africa and Ibero-America. The group modestly claims it has directly sterilized " only " two million people, with 87 percent of the bill paid by U.S. taxpayers.

Meanwhile, Dr. Clarence Gamble, Boyden Gray's favorite soap manufacturer, formed his own " Pathfinder Fund " as a split-off from the Sterilization League. Gamble's Pathfinder Fund, with additional millions from USAID, concentrates on penetration of local social groups in the non-white countries, to break down psychological resistance to the surgical sterilization teams.

The battle cry of the New Order was sounded in 1935 with the publication of Man the Unknown, by Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute in New York. This Nobel Prize-winner said " enormous sums are now required to maintain prisons and insane asylums…. Why do we preserve these useless and harmful beings? This fact must be squarely faced. Why should society not dispose of the criminals and the insane in a more economical manner? … The community must be protected against troublesome and dangerous elements…. Perhaps prisons should be abolished…. The conditioning of the petty criminal with the whip, or some more scientific procedure, followed by a short stay in hospital, would probably suffice to insure order. [Criminals including those] who have … misled the public on important matters, should be humanely and economically disposed of in small euthanasic institutions supplied with proper gases. A similar treatment could be advantageously applied to the insane, guilty of criminal acts. "

Carrel claimed to have transplanted the head of a dog to another dog and kept it alive for quite some time.

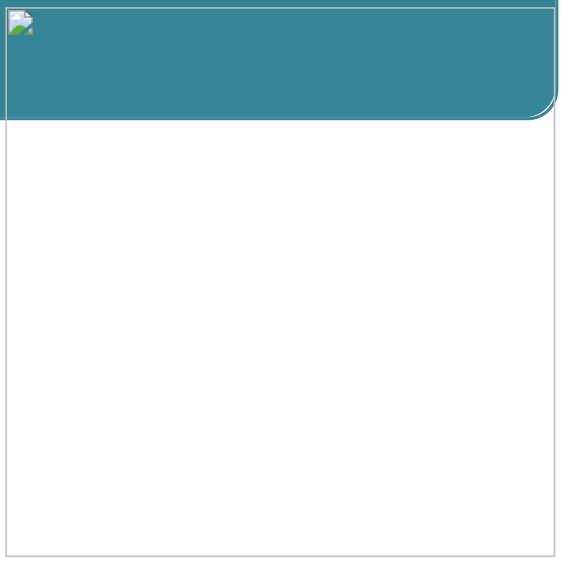
United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom In office July 12, 2001 - July 10, 2004 President George W. Bush



He was an only child, his father, Army Lt. William Stamps Farish Jr., died in a training flight near Waxahachie, when he was 4 years old. His grandfather is William Stamps Farish II, the founder of Humble Oil and Refining Company, which struck oil in the Houston suburb Humble, part of what was later to become the Exxon behemoth. William Stamps Farish II was appointed chairman of Standard Oil by John D. Rockefeller and went on to become president of Standard Oil from 1937 to 1942. His other grandfather was Robert E. Wood, who was the chief executive officer of the Sears, Roebuck & Co. Wood was the leader in the Old Right movement from the 1920s through the 1960s as well as a key financial backer of the America First Committee. Farish grew up in Houston, where he attended St. John's School and, after graduating from South Kent School (CT) during 1958, graduated from the University of Virginia.

Growing up his mother, Mary Farish, George H. W. Bush (later 41st President of the United States) and Barbara Bush Bush were very close friends. When Bush moved to Texas in 1948, it was the Farish connection that gave him his start in his career in the oil industry. Farish was taken in 'almost like family' - said Barbara Bush, while campaigning for George H. W. Bush's entrée into Washington Senatorial politics in 1964. During that unsuccessful campaign, Farish claimed to have been the first man to whom Bush confided his ultimate aim was to be president one day.

The Bush Farish alliance dated back to 1929. In that year the Wall Street investment bank of W. Averell Harriman bought Dresser Industries (later Halliburton), a supplier of oil-pipeline to Standard Oil and other oil companies. Prescott Bush, George H. W. Bush's father was a Harriman and Company executive who became a director and financier of Dresser and he served on the board of directors for twenty-two years.

The Windsors Cabal Are Concealers and Pretenders even most more than any others to any throne

Great Britain's Dr. Cameron and the USA's Dr Sidney Gotlieb are (or were as archetypes) the architects of the system of Deep State Ted Gunderson described which ins integrated with violent gang mafia for illegal programs and illegal ends, all of which are denied and part of psychiatric research, experimentation, and abuse of subjects involuntarily attacked including lethally.

Study minimal brain disorder, FOXP2 involves illegal use of DNA, illegal tracking of families, and hits on subjects who do not consent to program activities, would not have, or never did, or who had knowledge of the research and attempted to cancel it as the Kennedys did and the Donegans did.

The premise is those who are connected to "sovereign" or high performing "blue blood" lines are embraced as Windsor lost relatives those who show the grammar or other defects are harmed in life outcomes, distanced from the not-swithed-ons and led to dead end lack of good outcomes in their lives.

The methodology of State Actors researchers are

- Operate as civilians hiding their identity and conducting Espionage activities under cover

- Undermine or harass the Stalk victims life outcomes, fake the government records, etc.

- Expose the Stalk victim to State initiated homeless as job, home, family, and other parts of life are subverted by planted evidence, faked records, smear campaigns, public Shills of Long Cons, paid actors, and others helping con the public about the Stalk victim

While decribed to some as mere exercises of crisis stagecraft by paid actors for practicing in public or various research such as Conflict Engagement of causing fights to learn of positions of adversaries they are together the COINTELPRO system of deep state attacks law abiding citizens while undercover.

A State Secrets goal is to insure normally people with minor disabilities (Minimal Brain Disorder LONDON KE FAMILY are subject to extreme slander and subversion less they look like the celebrities they are related to.

The operation in public operates by payoffs and incentives to the paid actors who work for the Stat but deny their actions which are highly illegal.

The Confidential Assailants that are people like Ron Pataki are various Mafia the FBI, NSA, and CENTCOM have long term relationships with and are used for assassinations of foreign leaders, research victims in the USA, Britain or elsewhere, or staging pretexts for arrests such as the sexual assault warrant against Assange, or for other Special Activities and Special Access Programs.

Some reports are that these Mafia were trying to dissuade Seth Rich from leaks and and were hired by Rod Rosentien (along with Holder and Machen in the secrets protection program) and the mafia killed Rich with out explicit permission to do so.

Prince of Wales Albert Victor retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Prince Albert Victor, Duke of Clarence and Avondale (Albert Victor Christian Edward; 8 January 1864 - 14 January 1892) was the eldest child of the Prince and Princess of Wales (later King Edward VII and Queen Alexandra) and grandson of the reigning British monarch, Queen Victoria. From the time of his birth, he was second in the line of succession to the British throne, but did not become king as he died before his father and grandmother.

Albert Victor’s intellect, sexuality, and mental health have been the subject of speculation. Rumours in his time linked him with the Cleveland Street scandal, which involved a homosexual brothel;

however, there is no conclusive evidence that he ever went there, or was indeed homosexual.[1] Some authors have argued that he was the serial killer known as Jack the Ripper, but contemporaneous documents show that Albert Victor could not have been in London at the time of the murders, and the claim is widely dismissed.

Albert Victor was known to his family, and many later biographers, as "Eddy". When young, he traveled the world extensively as a naval cadet, and as an adult he joined the British Army, but did not undertake any active military duties. After two unsuccessful courtships, he became engaged to be married to Princess Victoria Mary of Teck in late 1891. A few weeks later, he died during an influenza pandemic. Mary later married his younger brother, who became King George V in 1910

The Great Treason was when the British Crown created a Fifth Column of sleepers in the USA who would operate under the theory that Britain and the USA together could and should oppose Russia and Iran and North Korea the same way the Britain and the USA opposed Nazi Germany.

This Special Relationship is bolstered by big business and maintained by assassination of those opposed to it. It plans British Crown expansion into new Commonwealths getting Ireland back, India back, Pakistan, and other countries while many Roman, French, Italian, and Boston Massachusetts Catholics have opposed the plan.

On 17 July 1917 King George V issued a proclamation declaring "The Name of Windsor is to be borne by His Royal House and Family and Relinquishing the Use of All German Titles and Dignities. *

Royal families were being dethroned around the world already at the time of King Goerge V and this family from Germany with a common Central European gene in a common brain type were tyring to hide tbe brain quirk, severe enough to cause clinically definable dysfunction like ADHD in its suite of symptoms.

King Edward the VIII Prince of York and his brother King George VI who took over his rule were close with and from Central Europe including Viennese psychiatry emerging from Carl Yung, Sigmuend Frued, and others.

From about 1901 to 1936 there was a significant period of hidden activities from the Windsor family.

The worked with the genetic scientists from Nazi Germany including Mengle and others and had out of wedlock children as the gene which about half of offspring have were studied in children resultant from affairs.

ONe such affair was King Edward VIII with Maria August Kutschera. Not too bad on the surface but it presented several serious PR problems.

- Out of wedlock children were used to study biological descendents. Bsatard children are not normally a problem though for Royals

- The Minimal Brain Dysfunction which I call FOXP2 Syndrom of the London King Edward VIII family does show a genetic flaw a family supposed to be a genetic example and of exceptional genetic legacy.

- History woudl change paths from benigh science of race and Eugenics to Genocide and the mass murder or enslavement of genetic outcasts and some Maria Kutschera was very cloelty tied the family of those Gestapp and Nazi generals who would become the very top of Naai Germany's war machine and death camp architects

This descended into a complexifyhing emnbrace of the Von Trapp Family Singers who would need illegal WETDIVISION suppport in bolstering their proponda stagemenship which like the Royal Family stagemanship in WIII was meant to be heroic battle calls against Germany were the Windsors were from.

With Germany a National Socialist country rejecting international communiism and international royal families and at war with England the Windors used the Windsor location of England to draw their name royal identity from becoming the Windsor Royal Family from Windsor Castle in London.

While the public was told Maria Von Trapp married Captain Von Trapp, Austrian war hero u-boat submarine captain who used his Whitehead torpedoes (mad by bis deceased wife British torpedo companay) and those people left Austria in 1926 AFTER being used by Uncle Kutscher as Hitler Youth on stage, they made great war time allies with the British as a success story of refugees coming to the USA via Engalnd adn supporting the Allies now when they were free from Nazis.

The Windsors did know their darkest of secrets were in the Maria Augusta Von Trapp story and this was a threat to the Brittian.

From 1926 on increasing levels of propoganda whiteshased the story for decades that the uncle was Franz Kutschera.

THe worsening of the proble was that a group of WASPS tied to England were working on British and Standard Oil and British Petroleum needs for Middle East NOrth Africa and the overthrow of Cuba and Indonesia and Hawaii and ohter nations and sleeper agents if groomed from those windsors including “half breeds” from around the world could build the Windsor family of connected world rule.

My family comes from the three children King Edward Prince Edward or King Edward VIII Prince Edward and King George VI Prince Albert had with Maria Kutscherea and others.

Julie Andrews seems another one who found out she (like Marlying Monroe who made a 1957 movie about Prince and Singer) all did half truth half altered names for the story.

These out of wedlock childre are tied to CIA British regime change plans the Kennedy family rejected and many Catholics opposed since William of Orange days.

Assassinations including of the Kennedy family have kept much of the story hidden but the assasinations are failing to work, the whole story is being reconstructed incling by this book, and MKULTRA Birther is emerging, the FBI created Barrack Obama Jr with the Saudies, Mossade, and others using out of wedlock Glorian Donegan DNA of Feb 20 Novermber 18 Dec 13 dates and the FBI would not like to admit it killed JFK RFK and Ted Gunerson to groom Barrack Obama JR as a CIA project for the NWO, but they did.

Queen Mary Revelations - How She Saved The Royals - UK Royal Documentary retrieved from UK Documentary8.15K subscribers and copied or modified to here

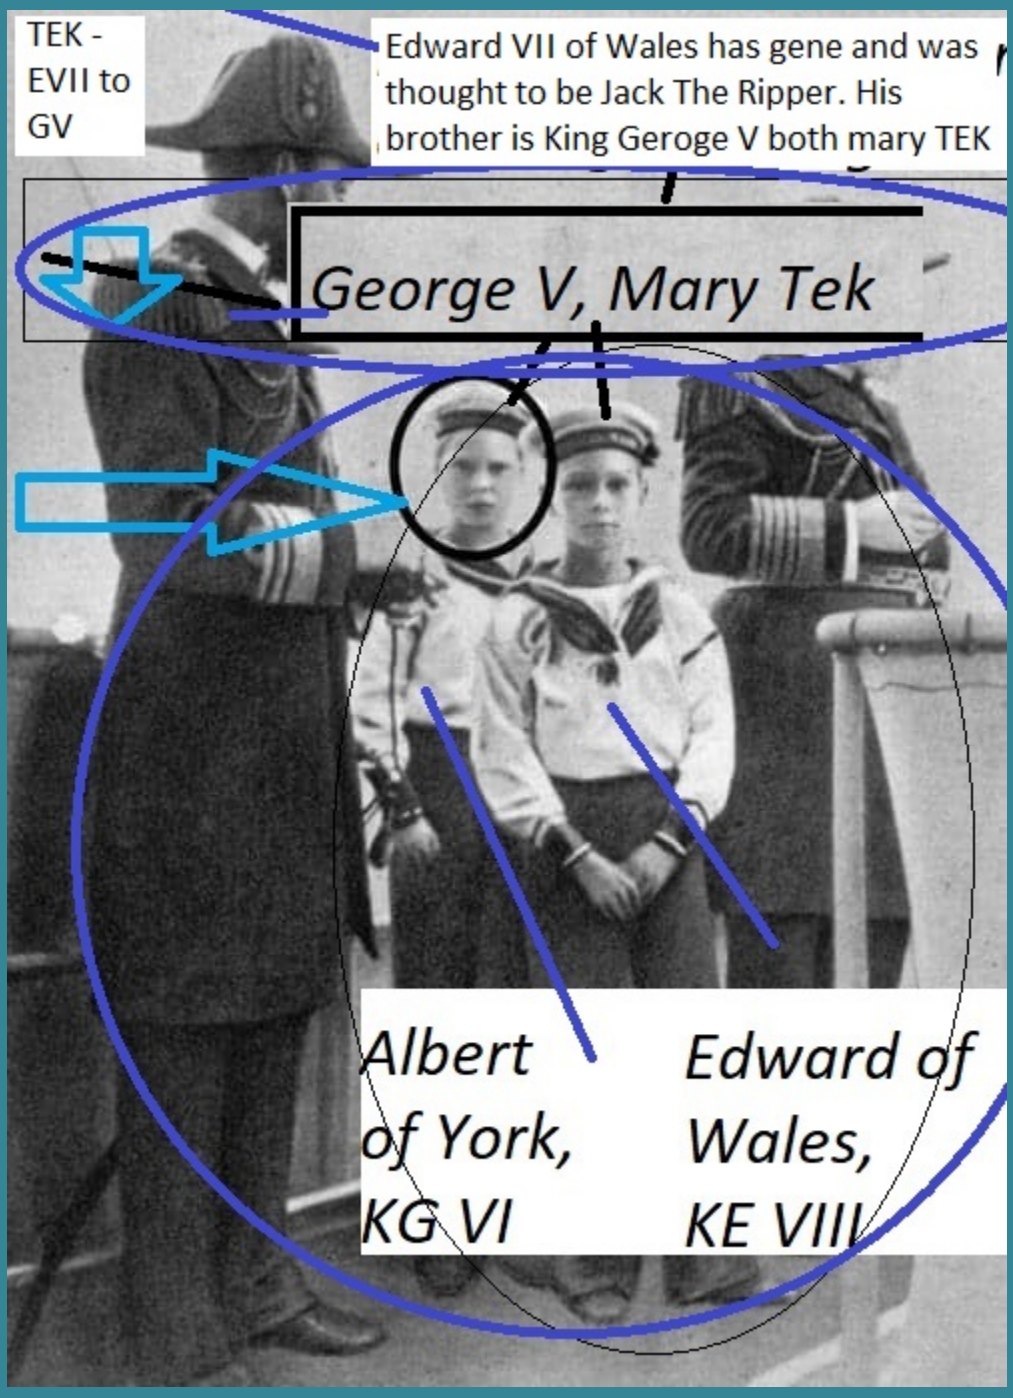
King George V and Queen Mary Tuk were catapulted into the center of their first national emergency on the 4TH OF AUGUST 1914 when britain declared war on Germany and it seems incredible that it should have started with such a relatively unimportant event as the assassination of the archduke Leopold of Austria.

World war one not only threatened the future of the country but also the crown the incident that began the war was a shooting of a royal that really was quite shocking to them and i think they felt very strongly that it was a possibility that people would want to throw them off their thrones.

Queen Victoria had imagined that if she simply married her children into enough European royal families then there would never be a war but here was the kaiser who of course was queen Victoria's grandson beginning a war with George v for George i don't think he ever imagined he'd be a wartime king European monarchs related to King George was stripped of their crowns including his cousin the |Tsar of Russia and royals all over Europe lose their thrones and some of them are assassinated the British crown wasn't as secure as it needed to be it had come under threat it was in danger and George and Mary needed to do something about it

The more likely version of this is Mary Tek had a first husband of King Edward VII Edward oF Wales who was thought to be Jack the Ripper in London prostitution houses. Upon his death Mary of Tek married Price of York who then succeeded King Edward VII Prince of Wales to become George V.

By many accounts including Fighting Monarch King George V wife fo Mary Tek and fathe of King George VI was emotional and a though child to control in ways but finally gew up well as was liked.



THE TRUE STORY OF THE KING'S SPEECH December 20, 2019 fightingmonarch In 1895, Prince Albert Saxe-Coburg-Gotha was born to Victoria von Teck, Princess of Württemberg, and her husband George V. The German boy who would become George VI was a sickly and fearful child prone to tears.

When Prince Albert was three years old, Nicola Tesla, financed by Illuminist John Jacob Astor IV, set up a station in Colorado Springs, later the home of the Air Force Academy. Through it he would transmit wireless signals from Pike's Peak to Paris. *

Crimes at Colorado Springs - The Air Force is Full of Satanists, Rapists, & Child Molesters

King Geroge V passed his gene (full or half copy?) onto Edward Prince of Wales, Albert Prince of York, and Princess mary at leat one copy of the gene. It was thought Mary of Teck was supposed to eliminate the inbreeding problem the Windsors had and they were trying to widen their genetic lineage to cover what they thought was an inbreeding problem but was more a common Central European Minimal Brain Dysfunction gene they did not want to admit they had and studeid the gene propagation in out of wedlock children., those children attributed to affairs of the spouses of Windsors, not the Windsors themselves.

Thgis was the real plan to save the Thrown of England from the stygma of a genetic brain quirk a time royals were losing their thrones.

This book suggests Harold and Glorian Gainey were out of wedlock Prince Edward VIII early Prince Edward of Wales and Maria August Kutschera children. There were three of those children I think Marlin Monroe was the other.

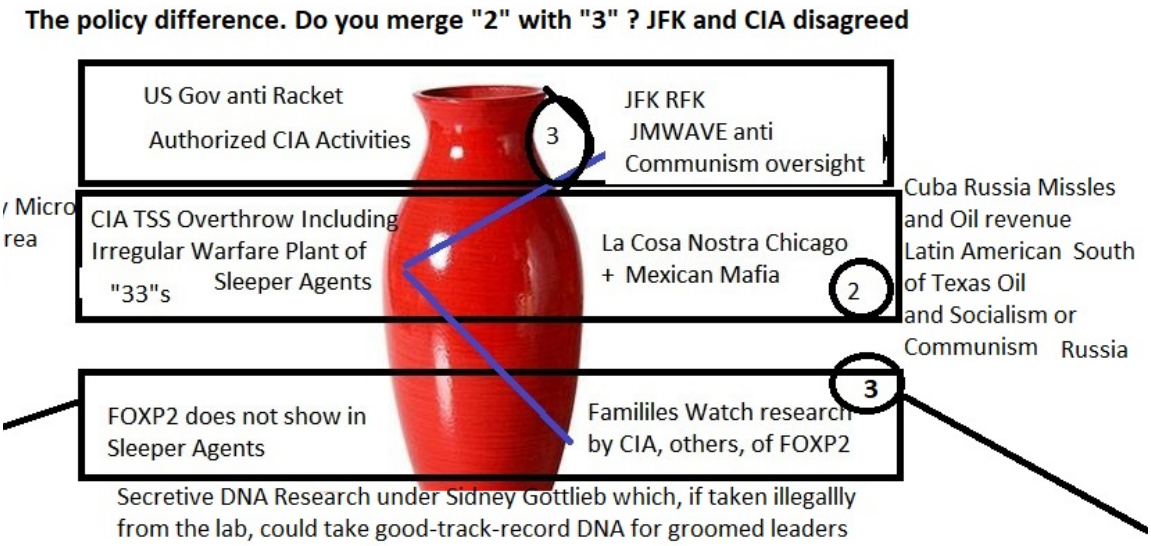
Love of the USA and Sovereign Republicanism Story



The Deep; State does exist but who is who? Is Trump fighting it or it fighing Trump?

The Deep State Is Real But it might not be what you think. retrieved from By MICHAEL CROWLEY September/October 2017 in Politico and copied or modified to here https://www.politico.com/magazine/story/2017/09/05/deep-state-real-cia-fbi-intelligence-215537/

At a conference in mid-July, Barack Obama's CIA director, John Brennan, remarked that executive branch officials have an "obligation … to refuse to carry out" outrageous or anti-democratic orders from President Donald Trump. The comment quickly caught the attention of Rush Limbaugh, who saw nothing short of a threat to the republic. "He practically called for a coup!" the radio host bellowed on the air a few days later, warning of a plot orchestrated by “embeds in the deep state at the Pentagon, State Department, various intelligence agencies.”

Embeds in the what? A year ago, the term “deep state” was the province of Edward Snowden acolytes and fans of paperback espionage thrillers. Today, Limbaugh takes it for granted that his millions of listeners know what it meant.

The deep state entered America’s national discourse in 2017 with the feeling of an already familiar character, ready to assume a starring role as hero or villain-depending on how you feel about Trump. It’s easy to dismiss the idea as the breathless complaint of a frustrated president who hasn’t learned to work the system. But it’s not that simple: There really is a kind of cabal that operates independently of elected officials in Washington-even if it’s not quite what Trump or his conservative allies think it is.

Political scientists and foreign policy experts have used the term deep state for years to describe individuals and institutions who exercise power independent of-and sometimes over-civilian political leaders. They applied it mainly to developing countries like Algeria, Pakistan, Egypt and Turkey, where generals and spies called the real shots in nominally democratic societies and replaced elected leaders when they saw fit [I Edward Paul Donegan think England views the USA as developing country easily controlled buy them.] (Turkey and Egypt have recently moved to more overt security-state dictatorships, in which the deep state is the only state.)

I suggest in this book a long line of Catholic straight-laced no corruption types are rejecting the Allies of WWII cartel of Defense Contractors as QEII backed Masonic strategic interests businesses that play dirty to win in other countries and thus become a glue to other countries creatign a weave together.

I suggest JFK and RFK and even TK started at the bottom of the vase when they held office as they grew in understanding of the middle of the vase above them they fell backwards away from it unable to in practive reach the top of the vase they were elected to.

See Yale lecture and syllabus on the American Revolution Joanne B. Freeman and whether republicanism is a radical rejection of Europen rule. IT is.

That middle of the vase was full of crime RFK and crime reporter Dorothy Kilgallen were trying to break up.

I belive Joseph Kennedy Sr though an Irish Catholic by ties to Great Brittain was connected to this web however JFK and RFK were attempting to stand on their own two feet and had the experience of being President and Attorney General in a weighty time and combines with their Boston anti Catholic expweriences and the situation between Ireland and the Republic of Ireland JFK and RFK rejected the old boys network of their father in Boston and attempted to go up against the CIA DOD QEII backed network.

That story is actually told in Love Story 1970 as JFK meets smart Jacki. In the movie JFK is actually WASP and the Jacki character is a smart Radcliff literature major. The JFK character will complete law school but the Jackie character dies of Cancer. Love means never have to say your sorry and I think going into 1979 a string of assassinations take down the Camelot family but they believe in what they are doing.

I also believe this movie or meme is represented on a Led Zepplin album cover in one of the windows of Physical Graffiti album art.

John Brennan (CIA officer) retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Brennan's 25 years with the CIA included work as a Near East and South Asia analyst, as station chief in Saudi Arabia, and as director of the National Counterterrorism Center. After leaving government service in 2005, Brennan became CEO of The Analysis Corporation, a security consulting business, and served as chairman of the Intelligence and National Security Alliance, an association of intelligence professionals.

Brennan served in the White House as Assistant to the President for Homeland Security between 2009 and 2013. Obama nominated Brennan as his next director of the CIA on January 7, 2013. The ACLU called for the Senate not to proceed with the appointment until they confirmed that "all of his conduct was within the law" at the CIA and White House. Brennan was approved by the Senate Intelligence Committee on March 5, 2013, to succeed David Petraeus as the Director of the CIA by a vote of 12 to 3.

On August 15, 2018, President Donald Trump announced that he had revoked Brennan's security clearance, although the White House reportedly did not follow through with the revocation process. Brennan had harshly criticized Trump several times since his election and responded to the revocation by stating "My principles are worth far more than clearances. I will not relent.

Brennan began his CIA career as an analyst and spent 25 years with the agency. He was a daily intelligence briefer for President Bill Clinton. In 1996, Brenned was CIA station chief in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, when the Khobar Towers bombing killed 19 U.S. servicemen. In 1999, he was appointed chief of staff to George Tenet, then-Director of the CIA. Brennan became deputy executive director of the CIA in March 2001. He was director of the newly created Terrorist Threat Integration Center from 2003 to 2004, an office that sifted through and compiled information for President Bush's daily top secret intelligence briefings and employed the services of analysts from a dozen U.S. agencies and entities.

Brennan then left government service for a few years, becoming Chairman of the Intelligence and National Security Alliance (INSA) and the CEO of The Analysis Corporation (TAC).[20] He continued to lead TAC after its acquisition by Global Strategies Group in 2007 and its growth as the Global Intelligence Solutions division of Global's North American technology business GTEC, before returning to government service with the Obama administration as Homeland Security Advisor on January 20, 2009.

On January 7, 2013, President Obama nominated Brennan to be director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Boston was tough for Catholics espicially going up against WASPs who had positions of power and the top of the hill. JFK as an Irishman was fighting uphill against discrimination and against the view of the Irish as poor people of inferior status to WASPs. Jacki and her style and literature degree and French background were all JFK needed to know he and being Irish were O.K., and that was much of the deep conection they had and huilt into an Auroa of Irish people around him.

After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in French literature from George Washington University in 1951, Jacqueline Bouvier started working for the Washington Times-Herald as an inquiring photographer. The following year, she met then-Congressman John Kennedy at a dinner party in Washington. He was elected to the Senate that same year, and the couple married on September 12, 1953, in Newport, Rhode Island. They had four children, two of whom died in infancy. Following her husband's election to the presidency in 1960, Kennedy was known for her highly publicized restoration of the White House and emphasis on arts and culture, as well as for her style. JFK History retrieved from University of Virginia Miller Center and copied or modified to here

Born soon after America's entry into the First World War, John Fitzgerald Kennedy was the nation's first president born in the 20th century. Both parents hailed from wealthy Boston families with long political histories. His maternal grandfather had been mayor of Boston. Kennedy's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, had made a fortune in the stock market, entertainment, and other business, managing to take his money out of the stock market just before the crash of 1929. Though the ensuing Great Depression gripped the nation, "Jack" and his eight siblings enjoyed a privileged childhood of elite private schools, sailboats, servants, and summer homes. Kennedy later claimed that his only experience of the Great Depression came from what he read in books while attending Harvard University.

For John, this privileged childhood was interrupted repeatedly by chronic bouts of illness. Afflicted with an almost constant stream of ailments, several of which went undiagnosed, Kennedy spent much of his time recuperating.

In 1938, on the eve of the Second World War, President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed Joseph P. Kennedy, John's father, to the key post of ambassador to the United Kingdom. The new ambassador was unsympathetic to British preparedness policies and found a cool reception in London. That year, Jack inherited $1 million dollars from his family, but his ambition remained strong. While in England with his father, he wrote his senior essay for Harvard University on England's lack of readiness for the Second World War. It was published and was well received by critics, becoming a bestseller under the title, Why England Slept.

World War II Military Service

After Kennedy graduated from Harvard, the United States entered World War II. His efforts to join the US Navy were initially thwarted by his ill-health, but after his father invervened, he was eventually admitted and assigned to serve in the South Pacific, commanding a small motor-torpedo boat, or “PT boat.” Kennedy and his crew participated in the campaign to wrest thousands of islands from Japanese control.

In August 1943, as the sailors were sleeping without posting a watch (in violation of naval regulations), a Japanese destroyer rammed his boat, PT 109. Towing a badly burned crewmate by a life-jacket strap clenched in his teeth, Kennedy led the crew’s ten survivors on a three-mile swim to refuge on a tiny island. The crew hid on the island from the enemy for days until Kennedy managed to summon help.

Widely credited with the rescue of his crew, Kennedy received the US Navy and Marine Corps Medal for Valor and a Purple Heart for injuries he sustained. Nevertheless, he returned home to a naval inquiry on the sinking. Although a board found evidence of poor seamanship, the Navy needed heroes more than it needed scapegoats, and Kennedy was cast as the former to build public morale, and recruited to go on speaking tours.

The war ended in 1945, but not without a deep cost to the Kennedy family: the oldest son, Joseph Jr., a pilot, was killed on a bombing mission in Europe. Handsome and outgoing, Joseph had been the one tapped by his father to become president one day. Upon his death, his father’s aspirations fell on John.

The Political Climb

After being discharged from the Navy, John Kennedy worked briefly as a reporter for the Hearst newspapers, and in 1946, the twenty-nine-year-old Kennedy won election to the US Congress representing a working-class Boston district. He served three terms in the US House of Representatives, earning a reputation as a somewhat conservative Democrat. He was re-elected in 1948 and again in 1950. In 1952, he ran for the US Senate and defeated the Republican incumbent from another Massachusetts family with a long political history, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. That same year, he met Jacqueline Bouvier at a dinner party, and, as he later put it, “leaned across the asparagus and asked her for a date.”

The two were married a year later and had three children, one of whom died in infancy in August 1963.

Kennedy continued to be dogged by poor health. Left thin and sallow by malaria brought home from the war in the Pacific, he also suffered from Addison's disease, which many doctors considered terminal. He relied on a steady stream of painkillers and steroids to treat the symptoms of his many ailments. Constant back pain prevented him from lifting even his own small children. Ironically, though, Kennedy's public image was one of youth, health, and vigor.

Kennedy put one period of enforced convalescence from back surgery to productive use by writing Profiles in Courage, a book about eight American senators who had taken unpopular but admirable moral stands. Benefiting also from the handiwork of Senate staffer Theodore Sorensen, the book won the Pulitzer Prize for biography in 1957.

Alternative Diagnosis for JFK hormone and neurotransmitters

Overview. Addison's disease, also called adrenal insufficiency, is an uncommon disorder that occurs when your body doesn't produce enough of certain hormones. In Addison's disease, your adrenal glands, located just above your kidneys, produce too little cortisol and, often, too little aldosterone.

Addison's disease overlay with ADHD/Minimal Brain Dysfunction

The adrenal medulla, the inner part of an adrenal gland, controls hormones that initiate the flight or fight response and sex drive via Androse. The main hormones secreted by the adrenal medulla include epinephrine (adrenaline) and norepinephrine (noradrenaline), which have similar functions. These are the Catomcholines. THe adrenal glands on the kidneys make Catecholamines deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) is a heterogeneous disease that affects children, adolescents, and adults. Genetic research has confirmed that there is a large hereditary component to this condition and has helped identify some of the genes associated with it. Among these are several genes associated with the catecholaminergic system including the dopamine receptor genes (DRD4 and DRD5), the dopamine transporter gene, and the gene for dopamine beta-hydroxylase, which catalyzes conversion of dopamine to norepinephrine. Attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder is believed to be a result of abnormalities in the frontal regions of the brain, particularly the prefrontal cortex and associated subcortical structures and circuits. Underpinning these abnormalities are disturbances of catecholamine neurotransmission. Studies have demonstrated that patients with ADHD have depleted levels of dopamine and norepinephrine thought to be largely the result of dysfunction of their respective transporter systems. The efficacy of stimulant agents confirms that the neurotransmitter abnormalities seen in ADHD are primarily catecholaminergic in origin.

Blinken attended the Dalton School in New York City until 1971. He then moved to Paris with his mother Judith and Samuel Pisar, whom she married following her divorce from Donald. Pisar, a Holocaust survivor, lawyer, and presidential adviser who was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize, has received posthumous scrutiny on social media for representing British publisher Robert Maxwell. In his confirmation hearing, Blinken told the story of his stepfather, who was the only Holocaust survivor of the 900 children of his school in Poland. Pisar found refuge in a US tank after making a break into the forest during a Nazi death march.[In Paris, Blinken attended École Jeannine Manuel.

Blinken attended Harvard University from 1980 to 1984,[19] where he majored in social studies and co-edited Harvard's daily student newspaper, The Harvard Crimson. Blinken also wrote a number of articles on current affairs for the Crimson. Blinken worked as an intern for The New Republic for around a year after graduating from Harvard. He entered Columbia Law School in 1985 and earned his J.D. degree in 1988.[23][24] After graduation, he practiced law in New York City and Paris.[25] Blinken worked with his father Donald to raise funds for Michael Dukakis, the Democratic nominee in the 1988 United States presidential election.

In his monograph Ally versus Ally: America, Europe, and the Siberian Pipeline Crisis (1987), Blinken argued that exerting diplomatic pressure on the Soviet Union during the Siberian pipeline crisis was less significant for American interests than maintaining strong relations between the United States and Europe.[26] Ally versus Ally was based on Blinken's undergraduate thesis.

During the Clinton administration, Blinken served in the State Department and in senior positions on the National Security Council from 1994 to 2001. He was a senior fellow at the Center for Strategic and International Studies from 2001 to 2002. He advocated for the 2003 invasion of Iraq while serving as the Democratic staff director of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee from 2002 to 2008.[2] He was a foreign policy advisor for Joe Biden's unsuccessful 2008 presidential campaign, before advising the Obama-Biden presidential transition.

From 2009 to 2013, Blinken served as deputy assistant to the president and national security advisor to the vice president. During his tenure in the Obama administration, he helped craft U.S. policy on Afghanistan, Pakistan, and the nuclear program of Iran.[3][4] After leaving government service, Blinken moved into the private sector, co-founding WestExec Advisors, a consulting firm.

The questions surrounding the precise nature of the “accident” that killed Hastings are given more weight by the fact that the journalist had made enemies within both the FBI and the CIA.

“Michael Hastings contacted WikiLeaks lawyer Jennifer Robinson just a few hours before he died, saying that the FBI was investigating him,” the official Wikileaks Twitter account announced yesterday.

Hastings “had the Central Intelligence Agency in his sights” and was set to release an article exposing the agency, according to L.A. Weekly.

More recently, Ibragim Todashev, friend of accused Boston bomber Tamerlan Tsarnev, was shot in the head six times by the FBI, who initially claimed Todashev was armed but later had to admit this was a lie.

Speculation has raged that Todashev was assassinated because he had knowledge about the Boston bombings which the feds didn’t want to see the light of public scrutiny.

Waltham is a city in Middlesex County, Massachusetts, United States, and was an early center for the labor movement as well as a major contributor to the American Industrial Revolution. The original home of the Boston Manufacturing Company, the city was a prototype for 19th century industrial city planning, spawning what became known as the Waltham-Lowell system of labor and production. The city is now a center for research and higher education, home to Brandeis University and Bentley University as well as industrial powerhouse Raytheon Technologies. The population was 65,218 at the census in 2020. Further Reading

On the day of the shooting the FBI made a terse statement that Todashev initiated a "violent confrontation." But the FBI has not yet issued a report on whether the use of deadly force was justified. And though FBI Director James Comey told reporters on Jan. 9 that he was “eager” to see the report released, the bureau has shown no sense of urgency to release any details of what happened, despite widely conflicting news accounts of the shooting, based on anonymous federal sources, and accusations by Todashev’s family that he was murdered. Citing its ongoing investigation, the FBI even ordered the Florida state medical examiner to seal the autopsy report, which was ready for release in July.

Early life and education

Born and brought up in a kosher household in Brooklyn, New York, Segal was the first of three brothers. His father was a rabbi and his mother was a homemaker. His interest in writing and narrating stories developed as a child. He went to Midwood High School, during which he suffered a serious accident while canoeing. His coach advised him to jog as a part of his rehabilitation, which ended up becoming his passion and caused him to participate in the Boston Marathon more than 12 times. He attended Harvard College, graduating as both the class poet and Latin salutatorian in 1958, and then obtained his master's degree (in 1959) and a doctorate (in 1965) in comparative literature from Harvard University,[1] after which he started teaching at Yale.

Writing career

In 1967, through connections on Broadway, Segal was given the opportunity to collaborate on the screenplay for the Beatles' 1968 motion picture Yellow Submarine, based on a story by Lee Minoff.

His first academic book, Roman Laughter: The Comedy of Plautus (1968), published by the Harvard University Press, gave him considerable recognition and chronicled the great Roman comic playwright, best known today as the inspiration for the Broadway hit A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum (1962). [citation needed]

In the late 1960s, Segal collaborated on other screenplays. He had also written a romantic story about a Harvard student and a Radcliffe student but failed to sell it. However, literary agent Lois Wallace at the William Morris Agency suggested he turn the script into a novel, and the result was a Love Story (1970). A New York Times No. 1 bestseller, the book became the top selling work of fiction for 1970 in the United States, and was translated into 33 languages worldwide. The motion picture of the same name was the number one box office attraction of 1970.

The novel proved problematic for Segal. He acknowledged that its success unleashed "egotism bordering on megalomania" and he was denied tenure at Yale. Moreover, Love Story "was ignominiously bounced from the nomination slate of the National Book Awards after the fiction jury threatened to resign." Segal later said that the book "totally ruined me."[2] He would go on to write more novels and screenplays, including the 1977 sequel to Love Story, titled Oliver's Story.

The Real Story Behind That JFK Quote About Destroying the CIA retrieved from ByMatt Novak, Gizmodo and copied or modified to here

Thanks to Wikileaks, you may have seen a quote from President Kennedy recently about his desire to “splinter the C.I.A. in a thousand pieces and scatter it to the winds.” Wikileaks used the quote as the password to decrypt its latest release about CIA spy tools. And the quote can be found in news stories around the world, including in some from The Intercept. The only problem? The origin of the quote is a bit dubious.

Famous quotes can be a funny thing in the 20th and 21st centuries. Sometimes we have a solid, first-hand account of something written down in a speech or recorded on film. Other times we rely on journalists and authors to accurately quote someone in a newspaper or a book. And still other times, we have to rely on those same journalists to relay what someone said from a third party. In the case of the JFK quote, it’s that last one.

The phrase “splinter into a thousand pieces and scatter it to the winds” actually dates back to at least the early 19th century and has decidedly religious origins. You can find versions of the phrase in Methodist sermons from 1819, in letters from clergy of the 1840s, and in fiction of the early 20th century.

In fact, British author John Buchan uses the phrase in his 1916 book Greenmantle, set during the First World War:

> Make no mistake, Madam; that folly is over. I will tear this sacred garment into a thousand pieces and scatter them on the wind. The people wait today for the revelation, but none will come. You may kill us if you can, but we have at least crushed a lie and done service to our country.’

So how did we start to attribute this phrase to JFK and his attitudes toward the CIA? The first attribution of this quote to President Kennedy comes from a story in the April 25, 1966 edition of the New York Times. Notably, this was almost three years after Kennedy's death:

So did Kennedy say it? Possibly. The only attribution we have is an anonymous source from the Kennedy administration by a New York Times reporter three years after Kennedy was assassinated. I've found no record that pre-dates 1966. It's not exactly like he said it in a public speech or even to a reporter directly.

The Truman quote comes from a December 22, 1963 article by former president Harry Truman himself in the Washington Post, published just a month after JFK's assassination and has been used as fodder for conspiracy theorists who think that the CIA killed Kennedy.

Kennedy was clearly frustrated with the CIA after the Bay of Pigs fiasco. But as far as verifying a quote is concerned, this one from JFK isn't rock solid. For all we know, this anonymous official was using his own words (leaning on a common phrase, of course) to relay the emotion that Kennedy was trying to convey at the time.

We learn from MR Novak that quote comes from a King George V appointed Canadian Governor during 1936 rule. So we can created a plausible context that this went into the mind of JFK regarding used Vont Trapp WIndsor DNA as part of a CIA plot with the British and then out of his mouth as he repurposes the language of the phrase.

John Buchan, 1st Baron Tweedsmuir GCMG GCVO CH PC DL (/ˈbʌxən/; 26 August 1875 - 11 February 1940) was a British novelist, historian, and Unionist politician who served as Governor General of Canada, the 15th since Canadian Confederation.

After a brief legal career, Buchan simultaneously began his writing career and his political and diplomatic careers, serving as a private secretary to the administrator of various colonies in southern Africa. He eventually wrote propaganda for the British war effort during the First World War. He was elected Member of Parliament for the Combined Scottish Universities in 1927, but he spent most of his time on his writing career, notably writing The Thirty-Nine Steps and other adventure fiction.

In 1935, King George V, on the advice of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, appointed Buchan to replace the Earl of Bessborough as Governor General of Canada, for which purpose Buchan was raised to the peerage. He occupied the post until his death in 1940.

George V (George Frederick Ernest Albert; 3 JUNE 1865 - 20 January 1936) was King of the United Kingdom and the British Dominions, and Emperor of India, from 6 May 1910 until his death in 1936.

It was in 1936 into 1938 the Von Trapp Singers were utilized to counter the Austrian Anschluss and this history was made clear to JFK and what resulted from that history.

Buchan was enthusiastic about literacy and the development of Canadian culture, and he received a state funeral in Canada before his ashes were returned to the United Kingdom.

Modern critics have commented on the racist and anti-semitic attitudes displayed in his writing.

Jack Leon Ruby (born Jacob Leon Rubenstein; MARCH 25, 1911 - January 3, 1967) was an American nightclub owner. He fatally shot Lee Harvey Oswald on November 24, 1963, while Oswald was in police custody after being charged with both the assassination of John F. Kennedy, the incumbent United States president, and the murder of Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit. A Dallas jury found Ruby guilty of murdering Oswald, and he was sentenced to death.

Jack Ruby was born Jacob Leon Rubenstein[1] on March 25, 1911, in the Maxwell Street area of Chicago, the son of Joseph Rubenstein and Fannie Turek Rutkowski (or Rokowsky), both Polish-born Orthodox Jews from Sokołów. Ruby was the fifth of his parents' 10 surviving children. While he was growing up, his parents were often violent towards each other and frequently separated; Ruby's mother was eventually committed to a mental hospital. His troubled childhood and adolescence were marked by juvenile delinquency with time being spent in foster homes. At age 11 in 1922, he was arrested for truancy. Ruby eventually skipped school so often that he had to spend time at the

From his early childhood, Ruby was nicknamed "Sparky" by those who knew him. His sister, Eva Grant, said that he acquired the nickname because he resembled a slow-moving horse named "Spark Plug" or "Sparky" in the contemporary comic strip Barney Google. ("Spark Plug" debuted as a character in the strip in 1922, when Ruby was 11. Other accounts say that the name was given because of his quick temper. In either event, Grant stated that Ruby did not like the nickname Sparky, and was quick to fight anyone who called him that.

In the 1940s, Ruby frequented race tracks in Illinois and California. He was drafted in 1943 and served in the U.S. Army Air Forces during World War II, working as an aircraft mechanic at U.S. bases until 1946. He had an honorable record and was promoted to Private First Class. Upon discharge, in 1946, Ruby returned to Chicago.

In 1947, Ruby moved to Dallas, where he and his brothers soon afterward shortened their surnames from Rubenstein to Ruby. The stated reason for this was that the name "Rubenstein" was too long and that he was "well known" as Jack Ruby.[6] Ruby later went on to manage various nightclubs, strip clubs, and dance halls. He developed close ties to many Dallas Police officers who frequented his nightclubs, where he provided them with free liquor, prostitutes and other favors.

Arguably the most well known (and well-loved) US President, John F Kennedy also has the strongest Irish lineage, with all four of his grandparents hailing from the Emerald Isle. His paternal grandfather was born and raised in New Ross, County Wexford, while his maternal grandfather hailed from County Limerick. Raised in Massachusetts and New York, the Kennedy dynasty is the definition of Irish-American and the charming John Francis easily won over Americans when his election came around - although his stellar military performance and political persona also helped things!

Hailed as an Irish hero, Kennedy toured Ireland five months before his assassination in 1963, followed by throngs of well-wishers everywhere he went. He was the first foreign leader to address the Houses of the Oireachtas and also received two honorary degrees during his short 4-day visit. He and his wife Jackie visited Galway were presented with a pair of Claddagh Rings to honour Kennedy's Irish roots. He must have liked it as he was photographed wearing it throughout his trip. *

Jacqueline Lee Bouvier was born on July 28, 1929, at Southampton Hospital in Southampton, New York, to Wall Street stockbroker John Vernou “Black Jack” Bouvier III and socialite Janet Norton Lee.[7] Her mother was of Irish descent,[8] and her father had French, Scottish, and English ancestry.[9][a] Named after her father, she was baptized at the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola in Manhattan and raised in the Catholic faith.

A popular first lady, she endeared the American public with her fashion sense, devotion to her family, and dedication to the historic preservation of the White House. During her lifetime, she was regarded as an international fashion icon.

After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in French literature from George Washington University in 1951, Jacqueline Bouvier started working for the Washington Times-Herald as an inquiring photographer.[2] The following year, she met then-Congressman John Kennedy at a dinner party in Washington. He was elected to the Senate that same year, and the couple married on September 12, 1953, in Newport, Rhode Island. They had four children, two of whom died in infancy. Following her husband’s election to the presidency in 1960, Kennedy was known for her highly publicized restoration of the White House and emphasis on arts and culture, as well as for her style.[3][4] At age 31, she was the third-youngest first lady of the United States when her husband was inaugurated.

The Entente Cordiale (French pronunciation: [ɑ̃tɑ̃t kɔʁdjal]; lit. ‘Cordial Agreement’) comprised a series of agreements signed on 8 April 1904 between the United Kingdom and the French Republic which saw a significant improvement in Anglo-French relations.[1] Beyond the immediate concerns of colonial demarcation addressed by the agreement, the signing of the Entente Cordiale marked the end of almost a thousand years of intermittent conflict between the two states and their predecessors, and replaced the modus vivendi that had existed since the end of the Napoleonic Wars in 1815 with a more formal agreement.

The Entente Cordiale represented the culmination of the policy of Théophile Delcassé (France's foreign minister from 1898 to 1905), who believed that a Franco-British understanding would give France some security in Western Europe against any German system of alliances (see Triple Alliance (1882)). Credit for the success of the negotiation of the Entente Cordiale belongs chiefly to Paul Cambon (France's ambassador in London from 1898 to 1920) and to the British Foreign Secretary, Lord Lansdowne.

In 1989, The National Endowment for the Arts honored him with the NEA Jazz Masters Award. [3] He was also honored in 2003 with the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers (ASCAP) Jazz Living Legend Award. In 2008, he was awarded the National Medal of Arts. On April 13, 2009, the University of Hartford presented Jones with an honorary Doctorate of Music for his musical accomplishments.

Jones recorded more than 60 albums under his own name, and countless others as a sideman, including Cannonball Adderley's celebrated album Somethin' Else. On May 19, 1962, he played piano as actress Marilyn Monroe sang her famous "Happy Birthday, Mr. President" song to then U.S. president John F. Kennedy.

The 1704 August 02 Grand Island of Britain centered Grand Alliance preserves itself

The Battle of Blenheim(German: Zweite Schlacht bei Höchstädt; French: Bataille de Höchstädt; Dutch: Slag bij Blenheim) fought on 13 August [O.S. 2 AUGUST] 1704, was a major battle of the War of the Spanish Succession. The overwhelming Allied victory ensured the safety of Vienna (Austria and the very center of Continental Europe) from the Franco-Bavarian army, thus preventing the collapse of the reconstituted Grand Alliance.

When France and its ally Bavaria moved to capture Vienna the duke of Marlborough led the allies on a 250 mile march from the Netherlands to the Danube in just five weeks he orchestrated a brilliant campaign of disinformation to confuse the other side about his destination and then when he reached Bavaria his troops plundered villagers to persuade the enemy to fight so on the 13th of august the allies faced the French and the bavarians and the commander Marshall Tallard by nightfall the French and Bavarians had lost twenty thousand men the allies four and a half thousand the Grand Glliance had prevailed and the domination of Europe by the French was over.

The Grand Alliance was the anti-French coalition formed on 20 December 1689 between England, the Dutch Republic and the Holy Roman Empire. It was signed by the two leading opponents of France: William III, King of England and Stadtholder of the Dutch Republic, and Emperor Leopold, on behalf of the Archduchy of Austria.

With the later additions of Spain and Savoy, the coalition fought the 1688-1697 Nine Years' War against France that ended with the 1697 Treaty of Ryswick.

The Second Grand Alliance was reformed by the 1701 Treaty of The Hague prior to the War of the Spanish Succession and was dissolved after the 1713 Treaty of Utrecht.

Within months of arriving in the Pacific, Kennedy's boat was rammed by a Japanese destroyer, killing 2 crew members and stranding Kennedy and his surviving shipmates, marking the beginning of the famous PT-109 episode in which Kennedy towed a badly wounded crewman with the strap of his life jacket clenched between his teeth for a punishing 5-hour swim to a nearby island. The survivors were eventually rescued and Kennedy would serve another 6 weeks before ending his Pacific tour of duty on NOVEMBER 18

Jan. 13, 1942: Ejection Seat Works, Pilot Elated

Source: Various Photo: The Heinkel-He 280 was an early German jet. A test pilot was flying one when he needed the ejection seat for real.

1942: At the height of World War II, German test pilot Helmut Schenck becomes the first person known to use an ejection seat to successfully exit his aircraft in an emergency situation.

Schenck, testing a Heinkel He-280 jet fighter, was in tow behind a conventionally powered aircraft when his plane iced up, making it impossible to start his engines. He jettisoned his canopy and activated the seat. Powered by compressed gas, the seat catapulted him clear of the aircraft.

Schenck was the first to use this method of exiting his aircraft in an emergency. Another Heinkel pilot had previously ejected successfully under test conditions.

Germany, which produced the Messerschmitt Me-262, the world's first operational jet fighter, also led the way in developing the ejection seat (.pdf). This was logical enough, considering that the speed and g-forces generated by these high-speed planes made escape problematical for a pilot equipped with only a parachute. Exiting the aircraft by "bailing out," as was common in propeller-driven planes, was exceedingly dangerous in a jet aircraft.

The British also studied aircraft ejection during the interwar years but set the project aside in favor of other pursuits. They would not seriously revisit the subject until after the war.

Ejection seats were eventually installed in several jet-aircraft models flown by the Luftwaffe, including the Heinkel He-162 Volksjäger, the Arado Ar-234B Nachtigal and the Messerschmitt Me-163 Komet. Strangely, the ejection seat was only rarely installed in the Me-262, which was the most widely used German jet fighter of the war.

From the time of Schenck's successful escape to the end of World War II, approximately 60 Luftwaffe airmen ejected from their planes in combat situations.

“Dorothy was a Catholic and would not have committed suicide.” - Mark Shaw.

If the Catholic Church feels this of Suicide, and holds Abortion and Divorce rules, how would a Catholic of the 1960s view assassination?

Christian views on suicide retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

According to the theology of the Catholic Church, death by suicide is a grave matter. The Church holds that one’s life is the property of God, and to destroy that life is to wrongly assert dominion over God’s creation, or to attack God remotely. In the past, the Catholic Church would not conduct funeral services for persons who killed themselves, and they could not be buried in a Catholic cemetery. However, the church lifted the prohibition on funerals for suicide victims in the 1980s.

In the 1990s, Pope John Paul II approved the Catechism of the Catholic Church, which acknowledged the role that mental illnesses may play in suicide. Regarding the effect of psychological disorders on a person’s culpability, the Catechism states that:

> Grave psychological disturbances, anguish, or grave fear of hardship, suffering, or torture can diminish the responsibility of the one committing suicide.

Despite the fact that historical Catholic doctrine (possibly influenced by the Baltimore Catechism which was used until the 1960s) generally considered suicide to be a mortal sin, the Catholic Church rejected this conclusion with the introduction of the Catechism of the Catholic Church, which declared that:

> We should not despair of the eternal salvation of persons who have taken their own lives. By ways known to him alone, God can provide the opportunity for salutary repentance. The Church prays for persons who have taken their own lives.

The FBI could not get Dorothy to talk in regards to who leaked to her Warren Commission files before their public relase. She would die before revealing her source." Mark Shaw. Contract killing retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Contract killing is a form of murder or assassination in which one party hires another party to kill a targeted person or persons.[1] It involves an illegal agreement which includes some form of payment, monetary or otherwise. Either party may be a person, group, or organization. Contract killing has been associated with organized crime, government conspiracies, and vendettas. For example, in the United States, the gang

Murder, Inc. committed hundreds of murders on behalf of the National Crime Syndicate during the 1930s and 1940s.

Contract killing provides the hiring party with the advantage of not having to carry out the actual killing, making it more difficult for law enforcement to connect them with the murder. The likelihood that authorities will establish that party's guilt for the committed crime, especially due to lack of forensic evidence linked to the contracting party, makes the case more difficult to attribute to the hiring party.

Contract killers may exhibit serial killer traits, but are generally not classified as such because of third-party killing objectives and detached financial and emotional incentives.[2][3][4] Nevertheless, there are occasionally individuals that are labeled as both hitmen and serial killers.

A contract killer is colloquially known as a hitman. Contract killers who work for criminal organizations are often known as enforcers.

A Close Hit is when a person is over a period of time manueverd to be close to the target to be able to conduct the hit from close proximity to Kilgallen was assigned to write an article on such boom towns for Good Housekeeping magazine.

[Instead she scoffed at the Mafia activities in the town which led to a Gran Jury and no indictments of the Mafia]

There does not seem to be any follow-up news coverage of grand jury actions or developments.

As for Kilgallen, she dashed off to England to cover the June 2 crowning of Queen Elizabeth. She continued to maintain a high media profile and was known for having excellent sources within the Washington spy community, frequently offering scoops on Fidel Castro and the CIA.

J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI began to secretly investigate her with much more vigor than Augusta ever threw at its gamblers.

But it was the last years of Kilgallen's life that grew very, very interesting.

A Hollywood insider, she knew President John F. Kennedy and his girlfriends and hinted at liaisons with movie star Marilyn Monroe.

After Kennedy's death in Dallas, Kilgallen went to Texas to cover the case. Jack Ruby, the bar owner who shot assassin Lee Harvey Oswald on national TV, gave her private interviews. The Dallas cops told her secrets, and Kilgallen began confiding to friends that she was writing a book that would tell the story of who really killed JFK. She said it would make her a fortune.

But we'll never know what she dug up.

In late 1965, soon after returning from interviews in Dallas, Kilgallen was found dead in her New York home.

it happens all the time a celebrity journalist comes to town and everyone does what they can to impress they wine and dine and put on a good show but you know what happens a few weeks later the story comes out and the town gets trashed.

It happened in Atlanta during the 1996 Olympics it happened in Augusta in 1953 and the journalist was Dorothy she's pretty much forgotten today but half a century ago.

Kilgallen was part Barbara Walters and part Oprah Winfrey with a dash of Sylvia Cooper thrown in a nationally known newspaper reporter author and screenwriter.

Kilgallen was a Hollywood columnist a radio personality and a regular panelist on the TV show What's My Line or her perceptive interviewing skills were on display each week as she tried to guess the profession of a mystery guest.

She came to Augusta 61 years ago this spring because everyone else was coming to Augusta too we were a boomtown with construction at Fort Gordon and the bomb plant bringing in people and jobs.

Kilgallen was assigned to write an article on such boom towns for Good Housekeeping magazine Chronicle editor Lewis Harris did what he could to keep Kilgallen happy he took her to a bar specifically he took her to the Bonaire Hotel and then he took her to the Colonial Club for socializing and then they went to the town tavern for lobster and Kilgallen said it was pretty good costs three dollars and fifty cents.

Kilgallen saw all the commerce and construction and said of our town it is as if Scarlett O'Hara had come to town from the ball wiggled out of her satin gown and put on a space suit but Kilgallen was at heart a reporter and she quickly found another side of Augusta that most boomtowns seemed to share, gambling a lot of it.

When her article came out in April 1953 Kilgallen described visit after visit to Augustus many gambling establishments this was sort of embarrassing because Mayor Hugh Hamilton had run for office the year before on a vow to get rid of it.

After the article came out mayor Hamilton demanded an apology the Richmond County grand jury vowed to get to the bottom of it to dutifully announcing that it would do so on the Chronicles front page well you know what happened not much the grand jury never seemed to get into investigating gambling and Kilgallen herself had to rush off to England to cover the crowning of the new Queen Elizabeth II.

Dorothy Kilgallen continued to maintain a high media profile and was known for having excellent sources within the Washington spy community frequently offering scoops on Castro and the CIA but it was the last years of her life that grew very very interesting.

A Hollywood insider she knew President Kennedy and his girlfriends and hinted at liaisons with movie star Marilyn Monroe after Kennedy's death in Dallas. Kilgallen went to Texas to cover the case Jack Ruby the bar owner who shot Lee Harvey Oswald on national TV gave her private interviews she told her friends that she was writing a book that would tell the story who really killed Kennedy that book was never written.

In 1965 soon after returning from Dallas Kilgallen was found dead in her home she was sitting up in bed reading a best-seller that her friends said she'd already read she didn't have her reading glasses without which she couldn't have read the book anyway and her notes for all the interviews on Kennedy they were never found initially the story was she died of a heart attack; however, further tests indicated a curious alcohol drug overdose some said similar to Marilyn Monroe.

Lewis Harris by then the executive editor of The Chronicle wrote a nice column about Dorothy Kilgallen for the paper it was the same paper that only months before had published one of its most talked-about investigations ever a look at organized gambling in Augusta

Murder of John H. Wood retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Jamiel Chagra, known as Jimmy, was born in El Paso, Texas on December 7, 1944. Chagra's drug dealings came under close scrutiny by law enforcement and the judicial system. On NOVEMBER 21, 1978, Assistant U.S. Attorney James Kerr was ambushed and shot at near his home by two men who fired 19 bullets at his car. Kerr escaped with only minor glass cuts. Kerr had been involved with pursuing Chagra for his drug dealings. On December 23, 1978, Lee Chagra was shot and killed in his law office in El Paso.

John Howland Wood Jr. (March 31, 1916 - May 29, 1979) was an American lawyer and judge from Texas. He served as a United States district judge of the United States District Court for the Western District of Texas before being assassinated by contract killer Charles Harrelson outside Wood's home in San Antonio, in 1979. Wood's killing was the first assassination of a federal judge in the 20th century.

Chagra's downfall began in February 1979 when he was arrested on trafficking charges. He was scheduled to appear before United States District Judge John Wood, a judge nicknamed "Maximum John" who had a reputation for giving out the maximum sentence allowed for drug-related crimes. Chagra faced a possible life sentence without parole if convicted and reportedly feared he would receive a life sentence, according to prosecutors. Chagra attempted to bribe Judge Wood for "$5 million or 10 million". Facing life for smuggling, Jimmy Chagra allegedly decided to have the judge killed.

Chagra was accused of (and was acquitted of, although he later confessed to conspiracy in a deal to help his wife) hiring hitman Charles Harrelson (actor Woody Harrelson's father) to kill Wood for $250,000; on May 29, 1979, Judge Wood was murdered outside his home by a shot in the back. He was the first federal judge to die by assassination in over a century.[23] The authorities did not immediately suspect Chagra of involvement in the assassination, and it took thousands of man-hours to identify them as suspects in the case. His drug case went to trial and Chagra was found guilty in August 1979 and sentenced to 30 years. Chagra jumped bail, but was captured six months later in Las Vegas.

Harrelson was eventually caught and convicted of being the gunman after Chagra discussed the assassination with his brother Joe during Joe's visit to Jimmy in United States Penitentiary in Leavenworth, Kansas, after FBI agents bugged the rooms in which they were speaking. This was among over a thousand recorded conversations that the government had collected as evidence. The position of federal authorities was that even though Joe Chagra was a lawyer, he was also suspected in conspiracy to conceal the crime; therefore, their conversations were not covered by attorney-client privilege.

Both Harrelson and Chagra's brother Joe were implicated in the assassination.

August 1978 — Wood presides at drug smuggling conspiracy trial in El Paso of banker Rick De La Torre. Assistant U.S. Attorney James W. Kerr Jr. convinces a jury to convict De La Torre for his role in an unsuccessful attempt to import nine tons of marijuana from Columbia to an airstrip in West Texas. The lost case was personal for defense attorneys Lee Chagra and his younger brother Joe Chagra: De Le Torre is the husband of their sister, Patricia.

Sept. 8, 1978 — Kerr summons topless dancers and their bosses before a federal grand jury in El Paso in an investigation into racketeering and organized prostitution. No indictments are returned. Many of the dancers were the wives and girlfriends of members of the El Paso chapter of the Tony Randall, Dorothy Kilgallen and Bennett Cerf are on deck this evening. Miss Francis thanks the studio and viewing audiences for their support for her during her recent tragedy. On a lighter note, host and moderator, John Daly, wishes Miss Kilgallen a very happy birthday. This evening's contestants come in pairs and groups. First up, Miss La Velda Rowe and Miss La Vona Rowe, twin sisters from Iowa City, Iowa, who are news photographers. The panel is stumped, so the sisters win by default. Next up, a pair of sisters from Utah, who sell worms to fishermen. Miss Kilgallen, with laser-beam focus, correctly determines the girls' summer occupation. The mystery celebrity guests this evening are the young ladies and gentlemen who appear as the Trapp family singers in the Rodgers and Hammerstein stage musical, "The Sound of Music," a tremendous hit. Lauri Peters, who plays the eldest daughter, Liesl, acts as spokesman for the group, who are identified by Arlene Francis. Miss Francis would like for them to sing, "Do-Re-Mi," but, Mr. Daly says that's not allowed, but says he took his family to see the show and was utterly delighted. Finally, in keeping with this evening's theme, brothers Bernard and Howard Ross of Union, New Jersey, and dentists are the final contestants. Time is short, but Tony Randall correctly identifies the gentlemen's' profession. There is some banter about the upcoming Democratic convention in Los Angeles this Presidential election year, which John Daly will cover before the panel says good night and Mr. Daly invites viewers to tune in next week.

Forty years after Kilgallen's death, Pataky penned two poems that, Shaw believes, suggest his involvement as a plant. The first, "Never Trust a Stiff at a Typewriter," includes the line, "Somebody who's dead could tell no tales." The second, called "Vodka Roulette," typed next to the image of a bartender mixing drinks, reads, "Make one of 'em poison." Journalist's tell-all on mobster tied to JFK might have gotten her killed By Susan Edelman New York Post Pataky admits a close friendship with Kilgallen but flatly denies an affair, his presence at the Regency that night, or any involvement in her death. “I loved Dorothy dearly,” he wrote to Shaw last week.

Later Kilgallen managed to obtain a private interview with Jack Ruby. She told friends that she had information that would “break the case wide open”. Aware of what had happened to Bill Hunter and Jim Koethe, Kilgallen handed a draft copy of her chapter on the assassination to her friend, Florence Smith.

Bill Hunter worked as a reporter for the Long Beach Independent Press Telegram. He was involved in the investigation of the killing of President John F. Kennedy. On 24th November, 1963, Hunter and Jim Koethe of the Dallas Times Herald interviewed George Senator. Also there was the attorney Tom Howard. Earlier that day Senator and Howard had both he dropped it and tried to pick it up.

Jim Koethe decided to write a book about the assassination of John F. Kennedy. However, he died on 21st September, 1964. It seems that a man broke into his Dallas apartment and killed him by a karate chop to the throat. Tom Howard died of a heart-attack, aged 48, in March, 1965.

J. D. Tippit (some sources claim he was christened Jefferson Davis) was born in Clarksville, Red River County, Texas, on September 18, 1924. During the Second World War Tippit served in the Seventeenth Airborne Division of the United States Army (July, 1944, to June, 1946).

Soon after leaving the army Tippit married Marie Frances Gasaway. The couple had three children. Over the next few years Tippit worked for Sears, Roebuck and Company (1948-1949) and as a farmer (1949-1950). The family eventually moved to Dallas and joined the Police Department in July, 1952. He was a successful officer and in 1956 he was cited for bravery for his role in disarming a criminal.

Tippit was one of the few officers in the Dallas Police Force not to be called to Dealey Plaza to help investigate the assassination. Instead, at 12.45 p.m. he was sent to the Oak Cliff section of Dallas.

At 1.16 p.m. Tippit approached a man, later identified as Lee Harvey Oswald, walking along East 10th Street. Domingo Benavides, later testified that after a short conversation, Oswald pulled out a hand gun and fired four shots at Tippit. However, Acquilla Clemons, who was sitting on a porch of a house close by, claimed that there were two men involved in the attack on Tippit. Another witness, Frank Wright, also claimed that Tippit was shot by two men.

Another witness, Helen Markham, also saw the killing. However, she described the killer as being short and somewhat on the heavy side, with slightly bushy hair." Later, Markham identified Oswald in a police lineup, but this was after she had seen his photograph on television.

Warren Reynolds did not see the shooting but saw the gunman running from the scene of the crime. He claimed that the man was not Oswald.

After he survived an attempt to kill him, he changed his mind and identified Oswald as the man he had seen.

J. D. Tippit was buried in the memorial plot at Laurel Land Memorial Park, Dallas.

About Mark

The author of 20+ books, Mark Shaw, the former legal analyst for USA Today, CNN, and USA Today, is a California attorney and investigative reporter who has dedicated the past ten years to probing the truth about the JFK and Lee Harvey Oswald assassinations through his three books, Melvin Belli: King of the Courtroom, The Poison Patriarch: How the Betrayals of Joseph P. Kennedy Caused the Assassination of JFK, and his latest, The Reporter Who Knew Too Much.

Through extensive research, interviews with a multitude of credible witnesses to the Dallas events, and his recent discovery of several eyewitness, videotaped interviews of those closest to Dorothy Kilgallen never seen before, Mr. Shaw has uncovered a plausible explanation for who killed JFK and why based on common sense motive. Regarding The Reporter Who Knew Too Much, Shaw says: “After writing The Poison Patriarch, I was compelled to tell Dorothy’s story since I kept hearing her shout to me from the grave, ‘Investigate, Investigate, Investigate’ based on inside information about her death that I learned while writing the first two books. I know some will doubt this happened, but after I began my investigation, Dorothy guided my path leading me to evidence including official government documents, her own personal papers, and most important, the videotaped interviews with those whom she confided in regarding her 18-month exhaustive JFK investigation.

Without Dorothy’s help, this book would not have been possible. Repeatedly, she told me where to search for new facts about her death. I did so and the result is a comprehensive book clearly indicating the true cause of her death and that of her beloved president.”

Mark Shaw has written for USA Today, Huffington Post, and the Aspen Daily News, which he co-founded. Mark formally was a host or correspondent for ABC’s Good Morning America, and CBS’s People and has appeared on the REEZL Channel’s program, The Kennedy’s.

Mr. Mike Morath
Commissioner of Education
Texas Education Agency

Austin, Texas, 78701

Re: The 6th Floor Museum at Dealey Plaza and Distortions of History Affecting Students of All Ages

Dear Mr. Morath,

While I'm certain that most of your attention right now is focused on school re-openings so students and teachers are safe, I feel an obligation to forward along great concerns I have about these same students and teachers being subjected to continuing distortions of history during any visits to the 6th Floor Museum at Dealey Plaza in Dallas so as to study the JFK assassination. As with all of the educational material presented during the school year and beyond, I know you strive for accuracy and strike from the curriculum any material unsuitable for these young people.

With this in mind, and as an "educator" of sorts myself through efforts as a respected author who has published nearly 30 books with four written about the assassination including the bestseller, The Reporter Who Knew Too Much, (enclosed for your interest along with the follow-up book, Denial of Justice), with a fifth to be published early next year, I am alerting you to the deceptive practices affecting students, teachers, parents, the general public and researchers for nearly twenty years and counting.

On what basis do I make these allegations, ones I trust you will take seriously to the extent that either you or a member of your staff, will investigate them sooner than later so that those who pass through the museum and are affected by its website promotions and programs, will be spared a deliberate campaign to distort the truth? The proof of wrongdoing was exposed to me this past year when I had a disturbing interaction with officials there culminating in my visiting the museum as I trust you will at your earliest convenience.

John Charles Patrick Croghan Daly

FEBRUARY 20 Johannesburg, South Africa, known as John Charles Daly or simply John Daly, was a South African-born American radio and television personality, CBS News broadcast journalist, ABC News executive, TV anchor, and game show host, best known for his work on the CBS panel show What's My Line?

On December 22, 1960, Daly married Virginia Warren, daughter of then-chief justice Earl Warren in San Francisco. They were married for more than 30 years, until Daly's death.

In World War II, he was the first national correspondent to report the attack on Pearl Harbor and the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt, and he covered much of the front-line news from Europe and North Africa.

I (Tammy Wilson) was a preschooler when my family watched the show religiously - on Sunday evenings after "Lassie," "Candid Camera" and "The Ed Sullivan Show." I knew little of what the people were talking about, but I liked watching Arlene Frances, the glamorous blonde actress with her silk boas and sparkly heart-shaped necklace. My mother was so

Oscar Pistorius Born: NOVEMBER 22, 1986
Sandton, South Africa

taken with Arlene's necklace that she ran out and bought herself one in rhinestones.

Media personality John Charles Daly hosted the show, flipping cards based on cash winnings for contestants up to $50 - roughly $500 in today's money.

Other regular panelists were the genial Bennet Cerf, co-founder of Random House publishing, and Dorothy Kilgallen, the brunette with the real brains of the "What's My Line?" panel. A crack investigative reporter and national columnist, she was less attractive than Arlene, but held her ground when it came to discerning the occupations of contestants that ranged from trampoline instructors to fertilizer manufacturers to hockey stick salesmen.

The second male panelist was usually a guest such as Johnny Carson or Jerry Lewis or the host of "General Electric Theatre," Ronald Reagan.

A thorough investigation was never conducted though biographers have attempted to solve the mystery in true crime books. A motive? They need only look as far as the manuscript she was working on.

Kilgallen, who had covered such famous cases as the Lindbergh kidnapping and the Sam Sheppard trial, was covering the Jack Ruby case in Dallas. Ruby, as we know, was the man who shot and killed Lee Harvey Oswald, the alleged murderer of President John F. Kennedy. Kilgallen, the only reporter to be granted an interview with Ruby, was in the process of writing a book that would supposedly "bust this case wide open," to use her words.

Earlier, Kilgallen had publicly expressed skepticism about the Warren Commission's findings. In an odd twist of coincidence, John Charles Daly, moderator of "What's My Line?" was married to the daughter of Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Had Kilgallen published her tell-all book, we would likely know far more about the Kennedy assassination and the roles Oswald and Ruby played.

As I watch those fuzzy old episodes of “What’s My Line?” I want to ask the smart brunette on the panel, what do you know? What can you tell us while there’s still time?

About Dorothy

Called by famed attorney F. Lee Bailey “A very bright and very good reporter of criminal cases, the best there was,” “One of the greatest women writers in the world,” by Ernest Hemingway, and by the New York Post, “The most powerful female voice in America,” Dorothy Kilgallen was a What’s My Line? television star, radio personality, celebrated journalist, revered investigative reporter and author.

One of the most courageous journalists in history, Kilgallen was a larger-than-life true Renaissance woman and the first female media icon whose accomplishments rival modern day legends like Oprah Winfrey, Barbara Walters, and Diane Sawyer.

During the 1950s, and ’60s, the college dropout-turned-feisty-journalist with the light-up smile, Irish wit, and high society manners who achieved phenomenal success in a man’s world, made enemies ranging from show business celebrities to government officials to those in the underworld. Fifteen-plus years of Kilgallen scathing Journal-American ”Voice of Broadway” columns, ones that could further or inhibit a career, triggered hatred from television, film and Broadway personalities experiencing her wrath. These columns, focused on the rich and famous, were syndicated by the Hearst chain to more than 200 newspapers across America with Kilgallen loyal readers glued to every word.

Kilgallen crowning achievement was her dogged investigation of the JFK assassination. More than anything, it was Kilgallen strong belief in justice-her determined pursuit of the truth-that triggered condemnation, vows of revenge and death threats.

> "A lot of people knew Dorothy as a very tough game player; others knew her as a tough newspaper woman. When she went after a story, nothing could get in her way."

As Kilgallen neared the end of her JFK assassination investigation, her body was discovered in her townhouse bedroom with the official cause of death a drug overdose combined with alcohol consumption: "Circumstances Undetermined." Extensive research points toward a true Kilgallen Murder Mystery since she was truly, "The Reporter Who Knew Too Much."

Fames Saloon Owner Daniel Henry Lavezzo Jr dies

Daniel Henry Lavezzo Jr. was born in Manhattan on July 20, 1917. He grew up in Greenwich, Conn., and attended several prep schools, including Choate, where he played football with John F. Kennedy, according to his son, Daniel Henry Lavezzo III. He then entered the Navy instead of college, and after World War II pursued a variety of jobs, including selling Zenith radios in the Midwest.

He decided to join his father in his antiques business in New York. His father owned seven lots along Third Avenue, including the site of Clarke's. In 1949, Mr. Lavezzo, his father and a brother, John, bought the business.

The goal was the same as with antiques: to preserve a piece of the past. The business would combine the old bar crowd, which included late-night revelers in black tie and carpenters in overalls, with Ivy League professionals eager to relax in comfortable surroundings.

Food became more important around 1950, when city health authorities began to encourage dining in bars. In 1956, a large dining room was added in the back.

Its large oval table became the headquarters of a group of regulars who called themselves the Science Club and met every Friday for lunch. Dorothy Kilgallen, a panelist on the television show "What's My Line?" started the practice of bringing a mystery guest. One of the guests was Harry Belafonte, who won immediate approval by asking, "What are we meeting to overthrow?"

Mr. Allen said he began stopping at Clarke's after returning from World War II and facing an "invisible," if clearly not thirsty, future. Mr. Lavezzo suggested that he start working at the bar, in part to stem his rising bar tab. Mr. Allen began studying his boss's style.

He noticed that Mr. Lavezzo refused to use ice machines, apparently because he enjoyed the old-fashioned ritual of the iceman coming. He gave Earl Wilson and other gossip columnists free drinks, like all the other bars, but begged them not to mention Clarke's, mainly so celebrities might feel protected there. He marveled that all New York Giants football players and coaches drank without charge, only because Mr. Lavezzo was such an unabashed fan.

When Mr. Allen opened a restaurant he copied the checked tablecloths, the bare brick and other features. But he said those were not the important lessons.

”What I got from him was his point of view,” Mr. Allen said.

Mr. Lavezzo dressed nattily, favoring madras sport jackets when they were in fashion, and sometimes when they were not.

Mr. Lavezzo is survived by his son and brother, one grandson and one great-grandson.

His passion was racing, breeding and betting on horses. His thoroughbred Chas Conerly, named for the Giants football player, ran well in the early 1980’s.

Born on JULY 3, 1913 in Chicago, Illinois, Dorothy Kilgallen was destined for a career in journalism. With her father employed as a reporter for the International News Service, Dorothy followed in his footsteps to become a top reporter for the New York Evening Journal. At the age of 23, her fame and popularity grew when she participated in a race around the world. She and two other reporters (Leo Kieran and H. R. Ekins) from competing newspapers rushed around the world in an effort to shatter previous world records and to become some of the first passengers to traverse the Pacific on the (▶ China Clipper . Being the only female participating in the race, Kilgallen attracted international attention as she traversed the globe. She reported her adventures daily through the New York Evening Journal. Her route took her from New York to Germany (via the Hindenburg) to Rome to Hong Kong to Manila to Hawaii to San Francisco and finally back to New York. She ultimately came in second in the race, completing her around the world journey in 24 days. Often referred to as a ▶ “modern day Nellie Bly” , Kilgallen was regularly mentioned on the front page of the New York Evening Journal throughout the duration of this race. Following this venture, Kilgallen wrote an autobiography (Girl Around the World) and a fictional screenplay (Fly Away Baby) both focused on her experiences with world travel. She died on November 8, 1965.

Ten Days in a Mad-House is a book by American journalist Nellie Bly. It was initially published as a series of articles for the New York World; Bly later compiled the articles into a book, being published by Ian L. Munro in New York City in 1887.

The book was based on articles written while Bly was on an undercover assignment for the New York World, feigning insanity at a women’s boarding house, so as to be involuntarily committed to an insane asylum. She then investigated the reports of brutality and neglect at the Women’s Lunatic Asylum on Blackwell’s Island (now called Roosevelt Island).

The book received acclaim from critics at the time. Accumulation of her reportage and the release of her content brought her fame and led to a grand jury investigation and financial increase in the Department of Public Charities and Corrections.

Earlier that evening, the 42-year-old junior senator from New York was declared the winner in the South Dakota and California Democratic presidential primary during the 1968 presidential election. He was pronounced dead at 1:44 a.m. PDT on June 6, about 26 hours after he had been shot.

The vision for Good Samaritan Hospital began in living rooms and coffee shops in Silicon Valley in the early 1960s, as members of Episcopalian and Methodist churches and other members of the community banded together to raise funds for a hospital with a dual purpose - to treat the whole person (body, mind, and spirit) and to cater to the needs of a growing population.

With generations of history in the Valley, the Cilker family donated some of the original land dedicated to the new hospital, including the plot containing the oak tree, and made other acreage available for development. Dedicated volunteers and the earliest members of the Auxiliary of Good Samaritan Hospital raised funds for construction, equipment, and a hospital chaplaincy. Dreams became a reality when we opened our doors in 1965.

Growth and Expansion Additional fund-raising and strategic planning between 1968 and 1974 allowed the hospital to double in size. By 1974, the hospital was licensed for 403 beds and new services including cardiovascular, diagnostic imaging, intensive care, cardiac care, and expanded emergency services that became available to the families and businesses rapidly populating Silicon Valley.

On June 5 1968 he criticized the war in Vietnam and thought a change of policy was required *, I believe the policy at that time as expressed in the Pentagon Papers and elsewhere was to overthrow Vietnam and place a friendly Soverieng into position as Head of State, matching a program of assasinatins and overthrow around the globe by the CIA and US DOD and US FBI.

US Puppet Batista and Fidel Castro were close frineds. Batista made a deal with the US Mafia to create La Nacional US Mob run Casino resort. Fidel turns communist and begins to rebel.

RFK gained national attention as the chief counsel of the Senate Labor Rackets Committee from 1957 to 1959, where he publicly challenged Teamsters President Jimmy Hoffa over the union's corrupt practices. RFK’s tenure is known for advocating for the civil rights movement, the fight against organized crime and the Mafia, and involvement in U.S. foreign policy related to Cuba.

The Mafia had a real opportunity in Labor Rackets because as my father Jim Donegan pointed out being a Bureaucrat of some type allowed power to stop a project or activity. Once that power is available the bureaucrat must be appeased and may actually be in position to blackmail.

My mother Glorian Donegan told me a story of her volunteer time on the Suicide Hotline (my brother Tom Donegan would continue this tradition.) A caller was despondent over an affair he had. “Have you talked with your friends about this?” “Yes” he said. “They are all congratualing me.”

With single provider labor agreements if the mob can intimidate either party they are in kingpin position to alter off center deals or siphon from them.

The Chicago Mob was represented by Sam Giacaoni, close friend of Frank Sinatra. Giocana ran Policies, a lottery illegal but profitlable in Chicago Illinois.

Giecani moved to Palm Springs and Las Vegas running resorts and rackets in mob controlled operations.

Meyer Lansky representing the mob from Miami Florida was the Gambling Commmisioner of Las Vegas and was given the contract via US puppet Batista in Cuba to run the casinos as an annex of US operations. Jack Ruby was the go between and the FBI CIA was using these mob groups to support Batista including to supres Cuban communist nationals. RFK was opposing this in the Congress before JFK ran for president.

From 1957 to 1959, he made a name for himself while serving as the chief counsel to the Senate’s McClellan Committee under chairman John L. McClellan. Kennedy was given authority over testimony scheduling, areas of investigation, and witness questioning by McClellan, a move that was made by the chairman to limit attention to himself and allow outrage by organized labor to be directed toward Kennedy. Robert F. Kennedy was Attorney General of the Department of Justice from January 21, 1961 - September 3, 1964. The assassination of JFK on November 22 1963 pulled the DOJ chair out from under him and thus steered the DOJ away from fighting the Mafia.

Like Ted Gunderson of the FBI RFK continued his mafia fight into politics as a US Senator and presidential candidate until his assassination in 1968.

Charles Ellsworth Goodell Jr. (March 16, 1926 - January 21, 1987) was an American Congressman and a United States Senator from New York. In both cases he came into office following the deaths of his predecessors, first in a special election and second as a temporary appointee following the assassination of Senator RFK.

In his House seat he replaced Daniel Alden Reed. Reed died from a major heart attack in Washington, D.C. on FEBRUARY 19, 1959. He was buried at Sheridan Cemetery in Sheridan, New York. He had played and coached collegiate football.

He was elected to four full terms in Congress after winning his first race in 1959. He resigned on September 9, 1968, to accept an appointment by Governor Nelson Rockefeller to fill the vacancy caused by the assassination of United States Senator Robert F. Kennedy on June 5, 1968.

Goodell was the father of National Football League Commissioner Roger Goodell.

Nicholas deBelleville Katzenbach (January 17, 1922 - May 8, 2012) was an American lawyer who served as United States Attorney General during the Lyndon B. Johnson administration after the departure of Robert F. Kennedy.

He retired from IBM in 1986 and became a partner at the firm of Riker, Danzig, Scherer, Hyland & Perretti in New Jersey.[15] He was named chairman of the failing

In 1980, Katzenbach testified in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia for the defense of W. Clay LaVergne Shaw(acquitted for murder of JFK in 1969) New Orleans Democrat District Attorney Jim Garrison prosecuted Clay Shaw on the charge that Shaw and a group of activists, including David Ferrie and Guy Banister, were involved in a conspiracy with elements of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) in the John F. Kennedy assassination. Garrison arrested Shaw on March 1, 1967. Garrison believed that Shaw was the man named as "Clay Bertrand" in the Warren Commission Report. Garrison said that Shaw used the alias Clay Bertrand in New Orleans' gay society. During the trial, which took place in January-February 1969, Garrison called insurance salesman Perry Russo[citation needed] as his main witness. Russo testified that he had attended a party at the apartment of anti-Castro activist David Ferrie. At the party, Russo said that Lee Harvey Oswald (who Russo said was introduced to him as "Leon Oswald"), Ferrie, and "Clay Bertrand" (who Russo identified in the courtroom as Shaw) had discussed assassinating Kennedy.[18] The conversation included plans for the "triangulation of crossfire" and alibis for the participants.

Certain families were the subject of illegal sruveillance abuse by the NSA, CIA, and illegal Behavioral Research which in fact was a mafi of Midnight Climax and other CIA activity tied to Free Masonry. Then on December 22, 1974, The New York Times published a lengthy article by Seymour Hersh detailing operations engaged in by the CIA over the years that had been dubbed the "family jewels". Covert action programs involving assassination attempts on foreign leaders and covert attempts to subvert foreign governments were reported for the first time. In addition, the article discussed efforts by intelligence agencies to collect information on the political activities of US citizens.

The Troubles (Irish: Na Trioblóidí) were an ethno-nationalist conflict in Northern Ireland that lasted about 30 years from the 1968 to 1998. Also known internationally as the Northern Ireland conflict, it is sometimes described as an "irregular war" or "low-level war". The conflict began in the late 1960s and is usually deemed to have ended with the Good Friday Agreement of 1998. Although the Troubles mostly took place in Northern Ireland, at times violence spilled over into parts of the Republic of Ireland, England and mainland Europe.

The conflict was primarily political and nationalistic, fuelled by historical events. It also had an ethnic or sectarian dimension, but despite the use of the terms 'Protestant' and 'Catholic' to refer to the two sides, it was not a religious conflict. A key issue was the status of Northern Ireland. Unionists and loyalists, who for historical reasons were mostly Ulster Protestants, wanted Northern Ireland to remain within the United Kingdom. Irish nationalists and republicans, who were mostly Irish Catholics, wanted Northern Ireland to leave the United Kingdom and join a united [republican] Ireland.

More than 3,500 people were killed in the conflict, of whom 52% were civilians, 32% were members of the British security forces and 16% were members of paramilitary groups.

The IRA a marginalised remnant of the Irish Republican Army survived the Irish Civil War. This would come to have a major impact on Northern Ireland. Although the IRA was proscribed on both sides of the new Irish border, it remained ideologically committed to overthrowing both the Northern Ireland and the Free State governments by force of arms to unify Ireland.

Joseph Connolly (19 January 1885 - 18 January 1961) was an Irish Fianna Fáil politician.

Connolly was a co-founder of the first Freedom Club to propagate Sinn Féin's message in 1911.[4] He was a leader of the Irish Volunteers in Belfast between 1914 and 1916. On 31 January 1916 he married his fiancé, Róisín McGavock, who had completed an Arts Degree at Queen's University Belfast, and they set up home together at Divis Drive near Falls Park. They had eight children together. He was in Dublin for Easter 1916 and Eoin MacNeill sent him to deliver his countermanding order to Drogheda, Belfast and other planned areas of Volunteer mobilisation. After the Easter Rising went ahead anyway in Dublin Connolly was arrested in Belfast and was interned in Knutsford Prison and Reading Gaol.

He was educated at Milford Street School and at St Malachy's College. Joseph Connolly was an ardent nationalist and became a member of the Gaelic League and the Gaelic Athletic Association

The Irish Volunteers (Irish: Óglaigh na hÉireann), sometimes called the Irish Volunteer Force or Irish Volunteer Army, was a military organisation established in 1913 by Irish nationalists. It was ostensibly formed in response to the formation of the Ulster Volunteers in 1912, and its declared primary aim was "to secure and maintain the rights and liberties common to the whole people of Ireland". The Volunteers included members of the Gaelic League, Ancient Order of Hibernians and Sinn Féin,[10] and, secretly, the Irish Republican Brotherhood (IRB). Increasing rapidly to a strength of nearly 200,000 by mid-1914, it split in September of that year over John Redmond's commitment to the British War effort, with the smaller group retaining the name of "Irish Volunteers".

Mary Sherman went on to do graduate work at the University of Chicago. As Edward Haslam points out in Dr. Mary's Monkey: "In 1937, it (University of Chicago) produced the first sustained nuclear reaction for UC physicist Enrico Fermi. This is where Mary Sherman did her post-graduate work. She was trained at the headquarters of nuclear, bio-chemical, and genetic research in America." During this period Sherman did ground-breaking research into botanical viruses which lived in soil.

Mary Sherman was murdered on 21st July, 1964. She had been stabbed in the heart, arm, leg and stomach. Her mattress had been set on fire, but her massive burns could not have come from the smoking mattress. The crime has never been solved. Sherman's death occurred on the day the Warren Commission came to her city (New Orleans) to obtain testimony about the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

In 1979, Richard Helms, former Director of the CIA, testified under oath that Shaw had been a part-time contact of the Domestic Contact Service (DCS) of the CIA, where Shaw volunteered information from his travels abroad, mostly to Latin America.[31] Like Shaw, 150,000 Americans (businessmen, and journalists, etc.) had provided such information to the DCS by the mid-1970s "on a nonclandestine basis" and that "such acts of cooperation should not be confused with an actual Agency relationship".

As one of the president's closest White House advisers, Kennedy played a crucial role in the events surrounding the Berlin Crisis of 1961.[115] Operating mainly through a private, backchannel connection to Soviet spy Georgi Bolshakov, he relayed important diplomatic communications between the American and Soviet governments.[116] Most significantly, this connection helped the U.S. set up the Vienna Summit in June 1961, and later to defuse the tank standoff with the Soviets at Berlin's Checkpoint Charlie in October.[117]

Operation Northwoods was a proposed false flag operation against American citizens that originated within the US Department of Defense of the United States government in 1962. The proposals called for the CIA operatives to both stage and actually commit acts of terrorism against American military and civilian targets, blaming them on the Cuban government, and using it to justify a war against Cuba. The possibilities detailed in the document included the possible assassination of Cuban immigrants, sinking boats of Cuban refugees on the high seas,[2] hijacking planes to be shot down or given the appearance of being shot down,[2] blowing up a U.S. ship, and orchestrating violent terrorism in U.S. cities.[3] The proposals were rejected by President John F. Kennedy. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

In addition to Operation Northwoods, under the Operation Mongoose program the U.S. Department of Defense had a number of similar proposals for actions to be taken against the Cuban regime of Fidel Castro.

Twelve of these proposals come from a 2 FEBRUARY 1962 memorandum entitled "Possible Actions to Provoke, Harass or Disrupt Cuba," written by Brig. Gen. William H. Craig and submitted to Brig. Gen. Edward Lansdale, the commander of the Operation Mongoose project.

In 1969, she died in a car accident on Chappaquiddick Island, while being driven by U.S. Senator Ted Kennedy.

U.S. Senator Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, age 37, and his cousin, Joseph Gargan, 39,[Notes 1] planned to race Kennedy's sailboat, Victura, in the 1969 Edgartown Yacht Club Regatta on Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19, 1969, after having forgone the previous year's Regatta because of the assassination of Kennedy's brother, Robert, that June.[13] Gargan rented secluded Lawrence Cottage for the weekend on Chappaquiddick Island,[14] which is a tiny island accessible by ferry from Edgartown on Martha's Vineyard.

Joseph F. Gargan, Jr. (FEBRUARY 16, 1930 DECEMBER 12, 2017), was an American lawyer and a nephew of Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy. He was one of only two men, along with Paul Markham, in whom Ted Kennedy chose to confide immediately after the Chappaquiddick automobile accident which killed Mary Jo Kopechne. Orphaned at the age of sixteen, Gargan spent two consecutive summers with the Kennedys, and, being closer in age to Ted than the other Kennedy brothers were, developed a close relationship with his cousin Ted. Gargan was the campaign chairman for Robert F. Kennedy's 1968 presidential campaign.

W. Arthur Garrity Jr. (Gary 7?) was the United States Attorney for the District of Massachusetts from 1961 to 1966.

As a federal judge, Garrity was at the center of a contentious battle over desegregation busing in Boston from the 1970s to the 1980s. He found a recurring pattern of racial discrimination in the operation of the Boston public schools in a 1974 ruling.[3] His ruling found the schools were unconstitutionally segregated.

As a remedy, he used a busing plan developed by the Massachusetts State Board of Education to implement the state's Racial Imbalance Law that had been passed by the Massachusetts state legislature a few years earlier, requiring any school with a student enrollment that was more than 50% nonwhite to be balanced according to race. The Boston School Committee consistently disobeyed orders from the state Board of Education. Garrity's ruling, upheld on appeal by conservative judges on the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit and by the Supreme Court led by Warren Burger, required school children to be brought to different schools to end segregation and led to the Boston busing crisis of 1974-88. By the final Garrity-decided court case in 1988, Garrity had assumed more control over a school system than any judge in American history.

An obituary in the New York Times noted that > Opposition to desegregation exploded in some areas, particularly the largely Irish Catholic enclaves of Charlestown and South Boston, and spilled over into racial violence. Garrity became the target of death threats and at least two attempts on his life. He remained under guard 24 hours a day from 1974-78. He was scorned and snubbed by many; his name appeared in profane city graffiti; he was hanged in effigy, and demonstrators came to his home.

By the end of Star Trek’s second season, it looked as though the show would be canceled. Word spread among cast and crew in the summer of 1967, as episodes continued to be filmed. Low ratings and network disputes with show creator Gene Roddenberry over how the program should be run had given NBC reason to pull the plug.

In all likelihood, the cancellation would have happened had it not been for the work of Bjo and John Trimble, two dedicated Star Trek fans who organized a letter-writing campaign of fans around the country. The enormous volume of mail convinced NBC to give Star Trek one more season.

Before the campaign took off in earnest, however, Roddenberry was already looking for other opportunities. He cared for Star Trek, but the reality of the time did not seem to show any real future for the series. Near the end of 1967, Roddenberry began work on “Assignment: Earth,” a brand new television series. It had many sci-fi elements, but was totally unconnected to Star Trek.

“Assignment: Earth” focused on Gary Seven, a super-skilled Doctor Who-esque traveler of sorts, who went into Earth’s present day to ensure history followed its proper course. He is joined by Roberta, a secretary, who learns about his mission and follows him along on his adventures. Seven is also accompanied by a shape-shifting cat (a humorous foil to his serious-toned character), along with Beta 5, a super-advanced computer who acts as a kind of advisor. They fight against the Omegans, an evil alien race attempting to undermine Earth via time travel, just as Gary Seven would attempt to set things right. Roddenberry pitched the series as a combination of spy-adventure and science fiction.

The main Babylon 5 story arc occurs between the years 2257 and 2262. The show depicts a future where Earth has a unified Earth government and has gained the technology for faster-than-light travel using 'jump gates', a kind of wormhole technology allowing transport through the alternate dimension of hyperspace. The Colonies within the solar system and beyond, make up the Earth Alliance, which has established contact with other spacefaring species. Ten years before the series is set, Earth barely escaped destruction by the technologically superior Minbari, who sought revenge after an Earth starship unwittingly killed their leader during first contact, only for them to unexpectedly surrender on the brink of victory. Earth has since established peaceful relationships with them and the Earth Alliance has become a significant and generally respected power within the galactic community.

Robert F. Kennedy 1968 presidential Campaign poster

Robert Francis Kennedy (NOVEMBER 20, 1925 - June 6, 1968), also referred to by his initials RFK and occasionally by the nickname Bobby,[1][2] was an American politician and lawyer who served as the 64th United States Attorney General from January 1961 to September 1964, and as a U.S. Senator from New York from January 1965 until his assassination in June 1968. He was, like his brothers John and Edward, a prominent member of the Democratic Party and has come to be viewed by some historians as an icon of modern American liberalism.[3]

Kennedy was born into a wealthy, political family in Brookline, Massachusetts. After serving in the U.S. Naval Reserve from 1944 to 1946, Kennedy returned to his studies at Harvard University, graduating in 1948. He received his law degree from the University of Virginia, and was admitted to the Massachusetts bar in 1951. He began his career as a correspondent for The Boston Post and as a lawyer at the Justice Department, but later resigned to manage his brother John's successful campaign for the U.S. Senate in 1952. The following year, he worked as an assistant counsel to the Senate committee chaired by Senator Joseph McCarthy.

He gained national attention as the chief counsel of the Senate Labor Rackets Committee from 1957 to 1959, where he publicly challenged Teamsters President Jimmy Hoffa over the union's corrupt practices. Kennedy resigned from the committee to conduct his brother's successful campaign in the 1960 presidential election. He was appointed United States Attorney General at the age of 36, becoming the youngest Cabinet member in U.S. history since Alexander Hamilton in 1789.[4] He served as his brother's closest advisor until his 1963 assassination.[5]

Kennedy's Catholicism was central to his politics and personal attitude to life and its purpose; he inherited his faith from his family. He was more religious than his brothers[104] and approached his duties with a Catholic worldview.

Throughout his life, he made reference to his faith, how it informed every area of his life, and how it gave him the strength to re-enter politics following his older brother's assassination. His was not an unresponsive and staid faith, but the faith of a Catholic Radical, perhaps the first successful Catholic Radical in American political history. [340]

In the last years of his life, he also found great solace in the playwrights and poets of ancient Greece, especially the writings of Aeschylus,[104] suggested to him by Jacqueline after JFK's death.[341] In his Indianapolis speech on April 4, 1968, on the day of the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr., Kennedy quoted these lines from Aeschylus:

As early as the mid-1950s, King had received death threats because of his prominence in the civil rights movement. He had confronted the risk of death, including a nearly fatal stabbing in 1958, and made its recognition part of his philosophy. He taught that murder could not stop the struggle for equal rights. After the assassination of President Kennedy in 1963, King told his wife, Coretta Scott King, "This is what is going to happen to me also. I keep telling you, this is a sick society."

King participated in a massive march in Memphis on March 28, 1968, which ended in violence.[8] On April 3, King returned to Memphis to attempt a successful new march later that week. His airline flight to Memphis was delayed by a bomb threat, but he arrived in time to make a planned speech to a gathering at the Mason Temple (world headquarters of the Church of God in Christ).[9][10][11]

The largest and most influential of these societies has been the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn, which consisted of several well known members of society, including the British occultist Aleister Crowley. The other is the Rosicrucian Order, A.M.O.R.C, an international, initiatic Fraternity, which involves itself in several educational and cultural activities worldwide.

The Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia was founded in 1867 and derived from the SRIS following the admission of William James Hughan[citation needed][1] and Robert Wentworth Little into that order. The two of them were advanced quickly in Scotland and granted a warrant to form a Society in England. The formation meeting took place on June 1, 1867 in Aldermanbury, London, with Robert Wentworth Little elected Supreme Magus.

Most Colleges in Australia belong to provinces within the Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia (SRIA).

Its connection to the Cabal can be debated.

The Apalachin meeting (/ˈæpəˈleɪkɪn/ AP-ə-LAY-kin) was a historic summit of the American Mafia held at the home of mobster Joseph "Joe the Barber" Barbara, at 625 McFall Road in Apalachin, New York, on NOVEMBER 14, 1957. Allegedly, the meeting was held to discuss various topics including loansharking, narcotics trafficking, and gambling, along with dividing the illegal operations controlled by the recently murdered Albert Anastasia. An estimated 100 Mafiosi from the United States, Italy, and Cuba are thought to have attended this meeting. Immediately after the Anastasia murder that October, and after taking control of the Luciano crime family, renamed the Genovese crime family, from Frank Costello, Vito Genovese wanted to legitimize his new power by holding a national Cosa Nostra meeting.

2001: A Space Odyssey and the secret mission creates is a worm in HAL

Only about a month into their voyage, there were problems on board. The HAL 9000 [FBI Intelligence Unit], the on-board artificially intelligent computer, reported a malfunction in the AE-35 unit, the device responsible for maintaining a communication link with Earth. Bowman went EVA and replaced the unit, but after the manual diagnostics, neither Poole or Bowman could find anything wrong with it. Hal said it was due to "human error", but the astronauts were suspicious.

Poole and Bowman met secretly in one of the EVA pods, thinking that HAL couldn't hear them. However, he could still read their lips through the window. He "overheard" that they were planning to disconnect him.

When Sirhan was 12 years old, his family immigrated to the US, moving briefly to New York and then to California. In Altadena, he attended Eliot Junior High School, followed by John Muir High School and Pasadena City College, both in Pasadena. Sirhan's father, Bishara, has been characterized as a stern man who often beat his sons harshly.

Sirhan never became an American citizen, retaining instead his Jordanian citizenship.[7] As an adult, he changed church denominations several times, joining Baptist and Seventh-day Adventist churches.[11] Then in 1966, he joined the occult organization Ancient Mystical Order of the Rose Cross, commonly known as the Rosicrucians.[12]

Rosicrucianism is a spiritual and cultural movement which arose in Europe in the early 17th century after the publication of several texts which purported to announce the existence of a hitherto unknown esoteric order to the world and made seeking its knowledge attractive to many.[1][2] The mysterious doctrine of the order is "built on esoteric truths of the ancient past", which "concealed from the average man, provide insight into nature, the physical universe, and the spiritual realm."[3] The manifestos do not elaborate extensively on the matter, but clearly combine references to Kabbalah, Hermeticism, alchemy, and Christian mysticism.[4]

The Rosicrucian manifestos heralded a "universal reformation of mankind", through a science allegedly kept secret for decades until the intellectual climate might receive it.

David Anthony Kennedy (June 15, 1955 April 25, 1984) was the fourth of eleven children of Robert F. Kennedy and Ethel Skakel.

David Anthony Kennedy, born on June 15, 1955 in Washington, D.C., was the fourth child of Robert F. Kennedy and Ethel Skakel. As a child, David was shy, introverted and sensitive, and shared a particularly strong bond with his father.

On JUNE 4, 1968, 11 days before his 13th birthday, Kennedy nearly drowned while he and his siblings were swimming in the Pacific Ocean near the Malibu, California beach house of Hollywood film director John Frankenheimer, a Kennedy family friend. Kennedy had been knocked over by a wave and was trapped on the bottom by the undertow. His father dived under the water and rescued him, scraping and bruising his own forehead in the process.

A 1973 Jeep accident left Kennedy's then girlfriend, Pamela Kelley, paralyzed. His oldest brother, Joseph Kennedy II, had been driving the Jeep and was charged with reckless driving. Kennedy suffered a fractured vertebra and became addicted to the painkillers he was given in the hospital.

Kennedy was diagnosed twice with bacterial endocarditis, an inflammation of the heart often associated with the use of intravenous drugs. He overdosed on drugs in 1976 and 1978 and also had some skirmishes with the law, which included speeding offenses and DUI.[citation needed]

Death - In the spring of 1984, Kennedy completed a month-long stay at St. Mary's Hospital and Rehabilitation Center in Minneapolis. On April 19, he flew down to Palm Beach, Florida for Easter, where several members of the Kennedy family had gathered. Kennedy checked into Room 107 of the Brazilian Court Hotel and spent the next few days partying. On April 25, staff went to check on his welfare at the insistence of concerned family members; he was found dead on the floor of his suite from an overdose of cocaine, Demerol, and Mellaril.

He died of head and neck injuries after an accident on an Aspen Mountain ski slope on New Year's Eve. Kennedy, by all accounts an excellent skier, apparently lost control of one ski and crashed headfirst into a tree.

Kennedy had reportedly caught a snowpacked water bottle being tossed around as a makeshift football at the time of the accident. He and a number of family members and friends were on a slope for intermediate skiers called Copper Bowl, skiing at the end of the day when conditions often become icy.

"I was in the middle of the run about 15 feet away from him," a 30-year-old New Yorker who spoke on the condition of anonymity said in today's Boston Herald. "All of a sudden I saw him hit. It happened in a microsecond."

AMERICAN LEGION

The American Legion, commonly known as the Legion, is a nonprofit organization of U.S. war veterans headquartered in Indianapolis, Indiana. It is made up of state, U.S. territory, and overseas departments, and these are in turn made up of local posts. The organization was formed on March 15, 1919, in Paris, France, by a thousand officers and men of the American Expeditionary Forces (A. E. F.),[1] and it was chartered on September 16, 1919, by the United States Congress.[2] The Legion played the leading role in the drafting and passing of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, commonly known as the "G.I. Bill". In addition to organizing commemorative events, members provide assistance at Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) hospitals and clinics. It is active in issue-oriented U.S. politics. Its primary political activity is lobbying on behalf of interests of veterans and service members, including support for benefits such as pensions and the Veterans Health Administration.[3] It has also historically promoted Americanism, individual obligation to the community, state, and nation; peace and good will.[4]

Originally founded in 1920 by American veterans returning from WWI service in France, the group began as part of the American Legion. In 1960, the Forty & Eight broke away to become an independent veterans organization, which is still active today. Membership is by invitation among honorably serving or honorably discharged members of the U.S. Armed Forces. The group is devoted to upholding and defending the U.S. Constitution; to promoting the well-being of veterans, their widows and orphans; and to actively participating in selected charitable programs, including those that promote child welfare and nurses training. Are you a member of this group? Do you have other objects associated with it? The National Heritage Museum would love to hear about it in a comment here.

FRENCH FOREIGN LEGION

he Foreign Legion (FFL;French: Légion étrangère, French pronunciation: [leʒjɔ̃ etʁɑ̃ʒɛʁ], L.É.) is a part of the French Army established in 1831. Legionnaires are highly trained soldiers and the Legion is unique in that it is open to foreign recruits willing to serve in the French Armed Forces. When it was founded, the Foreign Legion was not unique; other foreign formations existed at the time in France.[7] The Foreign Legion is today known as a unit whose training focuses on traditional military skills and on its strong esprit de corps, as its men come from different countries with different cultures.

Consequently, training is often described as not only physically challenging, but also very stressful psychologically. French citizenship may be applied for after three years' service.[8] The Legion is the only part of the French Military that does not swear allegiance to France, but to the Foreign Legion itself[dubious - discuss].[9] Any soldier who gets wounded during a battle for France can immediately apply to be a French citizen under a provision known as "Français par le sang versé" ("French by spilled blood").[8] As of 2018, members come from 140 different countries.

Foreign Legion fighters are recruits of people who wish new identity through military service. People are not asked their real indenties when they enlist, they are mercenaries with no official background and may on the run from other nations and their pasts. As long as they are young enough and fit enought they can engage in combat, often non uniformed guerille warfare, and fight on behalf of the recruiting nations, often gaining citizenship and a replacement identity in doing so.

AUBAGNE, France (AP) _ Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf, commander U.S. forces in the Gulf War, received two French military honors today at Foreign Legion headquarters.

Gen. Maurice Schmitt, head of France's armed forces during the war, pinned the medal of Grand Officer of the Legion of Honor on Schwarzkopf during the short ceremony. The medal, given for Schwarzkopf's military leadership in expelling Iraq's army from Kuwait, was given in the name of President Francois Mitterrand.

The Foreign Legion, meanwhile, admitted the U.S. Army general to its legendary ranks, awarding him the highest distinction for an outsider: Honorary Legionnaire, First Class.

"Your men are great," Schwarzkopf told Foreign Legion officers in French.

The Foreign Legion fought alongside U.S. paratroops in Iraq, securing the west flank of the allied offensive.

The Legion of Honor, created by Napoleon in 1802, recognizes outstanding civilian or military service by Frenchmen and foreigners. The rank of Grand Officer is the second-highest.

The US Military also offers pathways to US Citizenship through US Military service.

Another example of Morales indiscretion was allowing his photograph to be taken by Kevin Schofield at the El Molino restaurant on AUGUST 4, 1973. The picture appeared in the Arizona Republic with the following text: "Feted by friends at a fiesta Saturday was former American counsul to Cuba, David Sanchez, left, who was in that country when Castro took over… In government service for 28 years, Sanchez is now consultant in the office of deputy director for Operations Counter-insurgency and Special Activities in Washington."

Soon afterwards Morales left the CIA. However, he continued to make regular trips to Washington. When asked about this by his friend Ruben Carbajal, Morales replied: "Oh, they run into some problems, I have to go up there and take care of them. These people never let go of you."

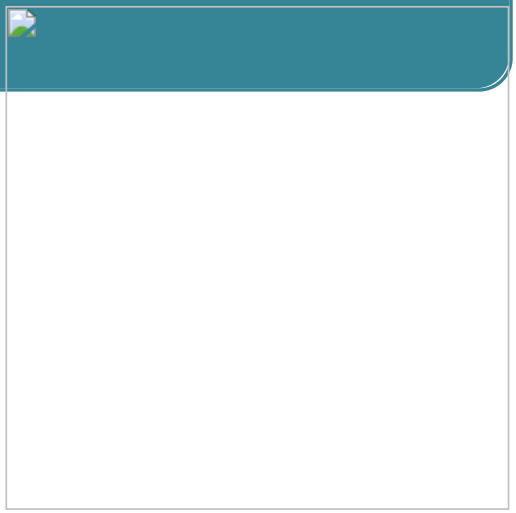
Murders of Chaney, Goodman, and Schwernerr retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Remains of Chaney, Goodman, and Schwerner Located AUGUST 4, 1964



Pulitzer Prize-winning composer Steven Stucky's evening-long concert drama, August 4, 1964, was based on the events of that date: the discovery of the bodies of the three civil rights workers and the reported attack on two American warships in the Gulf of Tonkin. Commissioned to commemorate the centennial of the birth of Lyndon B. Johnson, it premiered to excellent reviews.[71]

The bodies of the CORE activists were found only after an informant (discussed in FBI reports only as "Mr. X") passed along a tip to federal authorities.[30] They were discovered on August 4, 1964, 44 days after their murder, underneath an earthen dam on Burrage's farm. Schwerner and Goodman had each been shot once in the heart; Chaney, a black man, had been severely beaten, castrated and shot three times.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover initially ordered the FBI Office in Meridian, run by John Proctor, to begin a preliminary search after the three men were reported missing. That evening, U.S. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy escalated the search and ordered 150 federal agents to be sent from New Orleans.[25] Two local Native Americans found the smoldering car that evening; by the next morning, that information had been communicated to Proctor. Joseph Sullivan of the FBI immediately went to the scene.[26] By the next day, the federal government had arranged for hundreds of sailors from the nearby Naval Air Station Meridian to search the swamps of Bogue Chitto.

During the investigation, searchers including Navy divers and FBI agents discovered the bodies of Henry Hezekiah Dee and Charles Eddie Moore in the area (the first was found by a fisherman). They were college students who had disappeared in May 1964. Federal searchers also discovered 14-year-old Herbert Oarsby, and five other unidentified Mississippi blacks, whose disappearances in the recent past had not attracted attention outside their local communities.[27]

The disappearance of Chaney, Goodman and Schwerner captured national attention. By the end of the first week, all major news networks were covering their disappearances. President Lyndon Johnson met with the parents of Goodman and Schwerner in the Oval Office. Walter Cronkite's broadcast of the CBS Evening News on June 25, 1964, called the disappearances "the focus of the whole country's concern". [28]

Bill Clinton helps unveil Hubert Humphrey memorial at Minnesota Capitol retrieved from By FREDERICK MELO | fmelo@pioneerpress.com | Pioneer Press PUBLISHED: August 3, 2012 and copied or modified to here

On Saturday, AUG. 4, former President Bill Clinton joined Humphrey's sons Skip, Bob and Doug in unveiling a memorial statue of Humphrey before an audience of 1,000 on the Minnesota Capitol grounds. The 7-foot tall bronze statue sits near the intersection of John Ireland and the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. boulevards.

Mondale called Humphrey the most influential political leader in Minnesota history.

Humphrey died in 1978, 14 years after engineering the victory of the landmark ▶ 1964 Civil Rights Act, which ended segregation and racial discrimination in public education and federally assisted programs. The act also chipped away at laws in the south aimed at marginalizing black voters through special voter-registration requirements, setting the stage for the Voting Rights Act and other important civil rights legislation.

To get the Civil Rights Act passed, Humphrey, who was then the Democratic minority whip in the U.S. Senate, reached out to Republican Minority Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois and redrafted portions of the legislation to make it palatable across the aisle.

"He was convinced that racial segregation and Jim Crow was a stain on our democracy," Klobuchar said.

Incorporated on Dec. 6, 1928, North American Aviation's formation followed the founding of the Boeing Company in 1916 and Douglas Aircraft in 1921. For its first few years, North American operated as a holding company, owning parts of many other aviation firms, including Douglas and General Aviation Manufacturing Corp. in Dundalk, Maryland.

In 1934, federal antitrust legislation required that the company give up its holdings in other aircraft companies. At that point, under engineer Dutch Kindelberger and designers Lee Atwater and J.S. Smithson, North American became an aviation manufacturer, moving into General Aviation's plant at Dundalk.

Its stay there would be temporary. After the company won its first airplane contract for 42 NA-16 trainers in 1935, Kindelberger began moving North American's manufacturing operations west.

He built temporary quarters in El Segundo near the southeast corner of Mines Field, more than a decade before it became Los Angeles International Airport. The company rented 20 acres there for $600 a month. A permanent factory was finished on the site and occupied in January 1936, with 250 employees.

North American's location has been confused over the years by the company's use of an Inglewood mailing address. Also, it eventually would build facilities on property both in El Segundo and in the city of Los Angeles.

The NA-16 trainer, the first U.S. military plane to have an official model number, which would evolve into the BT-9 and then the AT-6 Texan, became an important aircraft in the training of American and British pilots. The company focused on such smaller planes at first, choosing not to compete with larger operations which could produce bigger, multi-engine planes.

These trainers became essential with the outbreak of World War II and the resultant need to train thousands of men quickly to become pilots. By the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, North American's employment had risen to 23,000 people, and it was producing more than 300 aircraft per month.

In 1939, North American had begun developing a twin-engine bomber that eventually evolved into the B-25 Mitchell bomber. Named after the late air warfare pioneer Gen. Billy Mitchell, the planes went into production in 1939.

The B-25 became famous when Col. Jimmy Doolittle used them in his famous raid on Tokyo on April 18, 1942. Immortalized in the book and film "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," The Doolittle raid was the first U.S. air attack on the Japanese mainland and was an important morale booster early in the war effort.

Perhaps the company's most outstanding wartime achievement was the development of the P-51 Mustang fighter. The plane grew out of Great Britain's desire to purchase more P-40 Flying Tiger fighters from the U.S.

Lee Atwood convinced the British that North American could provide it with an even better fighter. A prototype of the proposed new design was rushed into production and first flew on Oct. 26, 1940. Britain had the planes in service by April 1941. Its first engine had performance problems, but once Rolls Royce engines began to be used in the P-51s, their superior performance made them one of the most important Allied weapons of the war. By war's end, more than 5,000 P-51s were in service for the U.S.

A bitter strike hit the plant in June 1941. Because of the threat to national security, President Franklin D. Roosevelt considered the strike an emergency, and ordered federal troops sent in to safeguard the plant. A few months later, Roosevelt wrote in a Collier's magazine article that the strike had been "inspired and directed by Communist forces, interested not in the advancement of labor but in the defeat and overthrow of the United States." The strike was settled peacefully with the signing of a new contract on July 1, 1941.

The ramped-up war effort led to the opening of additional North American plants in Kansas City, Mo. and Dallas, Texas in addition to the El Segundo plant. The Hollywood Park horse racing season was canceled in 1943 when North American leased out the racetrack to get more space for production.

The company turned out more than 40,000 airplanes during the war, including 9,498 B-25 Mitchell bombers, 15,586 P-51 Mustangs, and 15,498 trainers of various types. North American built 14 percent of all aircraft produced by U.S. manufacturers for the war effort.

The firm's orders dropped off rapidly after the war ended, causing it to close its plants in Kansas City and Dallas. North American engineers already had been working with the new jet engine technology, and now that effort moved forward quickly with the company producing a variety of postwar jet fighter designs.

The company hit the jackpot with the F-86 Sabre Jet, the Air Force's first swept-wing fighter jet. Its first test flight was in 1947, and it went into production in 1948. It would become the premier fighter plane of the Korean War, which began in 1950. North American expanded again, ramping up production in El Segundo and building plants in Downey and Columbus, Ohio to keep up with demand.

The company produced a variety of jet airplanes during the 1950s, including the F-100 series of fighters. It also presaged the space program with its development of the X-15 rocket research plane, whose test flights began in June 1959 and ran through 1968.

Starting in 1951, North American's Downey plant also began developing and producing rocket engines for Atlas, Thor and Jupiter missiles during the 1950s, as well as the early Redstone boosters that would later be used for the first Mercury space flights. It formed a separate company, Rocketdyne, in Canoga Park, to produce rocket engines. North American's Rocketdyne unit later would produce rocket engines that would power the Gemini and Apollo space programs, including the second stage rocket of the massive Saturn V that launched the Apollo 11 moon landing.

In September 1967, North American merged with the Rockwell Standard Corp. to become North American Rockwell Corp. In July 1972, it won the $2.6 billion contract to develop the space shuttle at the Downey plant. In February 1973, the company officially was renamed Rockwell International Corporation.

After work on the B-1 Bomber program, another huge defense contract won by Rockwell, slowed in the late 1980s, the company began reducing its operations at its El Segundo facilities. Many of its employees were laid off in the aerospace industry downturn of the early 1990s. In October 1993, Rockwell announced it would shut down almost all its operations in the South Bay, transferring most employees to its Seal Beach and Downey plants.

In December 1996, Rockwell International Corporation's aerospace and defense divisions, including Rockwell's space systems unit, guidance systems firm Autonetics and Rocketdyne, merged with the Boeing Company and were renamed singly as Boeing North American Inc. The unit later was integrated into Boeing's Defense division. Rocketdyne was sold to United Technologies in 2005.

The buildings on the North American site in El Segundo were demolished after Rockwell left the South Bay so that the land could be sold. The Campus El Segundo development currently is under construction there.

When Sirhan was 12 years old, his family immigrated to the US, moving briefly to New York and then to California. In Altadena, he attended Eliot Junior High School, followed by John Muir High School and Pasadena City College, both in Pasadena. Sirhan's father, Bishara, has been characterized as a stern man who often beat his sons harshly.

Sirhan never became an American citizen, retaining instead his Jordanian citizenship.[7] As an adult, he changed church denominations several times, joining Baptist and Seventh-day Adventist churches.[11] Then in 1966, he joined the occult organization Ancient Mystical Order of the Rose Cross, commonly known as the Rosicrucians.[12]

Rosicrucianism is a spiritual and cultural movement which arose in Europe in the early 17th century after the publication of several texts which purported to announce the existence of a hitherto unknown esoteric order to the world and made seeking its knowledge attractive to many.[1][2] The mysterious doctrine of the order is "built on esoteric truths of the ancient past", which "concealed from the average man, provide insight into nature, the physical universe, and the spiritual realm."[3] The manifestos do not elaborate extensively on the matter, but clearly combine references to Kabbalah, Hermeticism, alchemy, and Christian mysticism.[4]

The Rosicrucian manifestos heralded a "universal reformation of mankind", through a science allegedly kept secret for decades until the intellectual climate might receive it.

THE MONROE FILES Marilyn Monroe was poisoned by JFK's bro Bobby who gave her drinks spiked with drugs, claims ex-LAPD cop retrieved from The-sun.com and copied or modified to here

In a sensational new book, former detective Mike Rothmiller reveals evidence that Bobby Kennedy killed blonde bombshell Marilyn was hidden in the Los Angeles Police Department archives for six decades.

Rothmiller's revelations are told in 'Bombshell: The Night Bobby Kennedy Killed Marilyn Monroe' to be published on Thursday, JULY 8.

Talking to the Sun Online Detective Rothmiller alleges:

- Despite decades of denials, Robert Kennedy DID visit Marilyn's Los Angeles home to warn her to 'shut up' about her affairs with him and Jack Kennedy.
- They had a fight and Bobby Kennedy searched the house to find her diary. Kennedy then plied her with a drugged drink and she was dead by the time he left the house.
- Officers from LAPD's Intelligence division DID cover up the crime, making Marilyn's murder look like suicide.
- LA cops stole her diary, photo-copied its dynamite contents detailing her affairs with both Kennedys.

From his home in Arizona, Mike Rothmiller, told The Sun how he first discovered secret police dossiers on Marilyn Monroe's death in the LAPD Intelligence archive in 1978.

In those files, Detective Rothmiller also uncovered copies of Monroe's diary in which she wrote down her intimate thoughts and the times she had sex with the Kennedy brothers.

He says: "When I went into that unit I had no idea what was in there, nobody in the police department does except the guys who work there and the Chief of Police.

"Since 1932, detectives - who were not allowed to make any arrests - compiled hundreds of thousands of files.

"Those reports could be one paragraph or 1,000 pages.

"I was curious and started coming across famous names.

"I thought this was interesting. Why are they in files? Why was the President in a file in the Organised Crime unit?

"So I would go and find the reports and I would just start reading them.

"There were files on three Kennedys - the President, the Attorney General and their brother Edward.

"Those files were linked to others, just like a huge spider's web.

Those files revealed how LAPD had Marilyn under surveillance - installing listening bugs at her house in Fifth Helena Drive, Brentwood, and tapping her telephone.

OCID also kept secret files on Marilyn's friend and neighbour, British-born actor Peter Lawford, star of the original Oceans Eleven, who was the Kennedys' brother-in-law.

Peter Sydney Ernest Lawford

From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

Peter Sydney Ernest Lawford (born Peter Sydney Ernest Aylen; 7 September 1923 - 24 December 1984) was an English-born American actor, producer, and socialite, who resided in the United States throughout his adult life.

He was a member of the “Rat Pack” and the brother-in-law of President John F. Kennedy and senators Robert F. Kennedy and Edward Kennedy. From the 1940s to the 1960s, he was a well-known celebrity and starred in a number of highly acclaimed films.

Born in London in 1923, he was the only child of Lieutenant General Sir Sydney Turing Barlow Lawford, KBE (1865-1953) and May Sommerville Bunny (1883-1972). At the time of Peter’s birth, however, his mother was married to Lieutenant Colonel Dr. Ernest Vaughn Aylen D.S.O,[5] one of Sir Sydney’s officers, while his father was married to Muriel Williams.[1] At the time, May and Ernest Aylen were living apart. May confessed to Aylen that the child was not his, a revelation that resulted in a double divorce. Sydney and May wed in September 1924 after their divorces were finalised and when their son was one year old.

Lawford’s family was connected to the English aristocracy through his uncle Ernest Lawford’s wife (a daughter of the Scottish 14th Earl of Eglinton) as well as his aunt Ethel Turner Lawford (who married a son of the 1st Baron Avebury). His aunt, Jessie Bruce Lawford, another of his father’s sisters, was the second wife of the Hon Hartley Williams, senior puisne judge of the Supreme Court of the colony of Victoria, Australia. A relative, through his mother, was Australian artist Rupert Bunny.

David Low Hackett (NOVEMBER 12, 1926 April 23, 2011) was an American official.

Born in Dedham, Massachusetts, Hackett was appointed by President John F. Kennedy to head the President’s Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime. Later, Hackett headed a study group for the establishment of a domestic peace corps group which later became AmeriCorps Vista. A friend of Robert F. Kennedy, Hackett helped with Kennedy’s presidential campaign in 1968. He served in the United States Army in Europe during World War II and then went to McGill University, completing a B.A. in 1950. Hackett lived in Bethesda, Maryland.[1] He was the inspiration for the character Phineas in A Separate Peace by John Knowles.[2] “It’s clear that Phineas’ house was 848 High Street,” across from the Dedham Common.

Richard C. Drayne, 49, who was press secretary for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.) for 10 years and worked in three Kennedy family presidential campaigns, died of cancer yesterday at his home in Washington.

Mr. Drayne was Kennedy's Senate and campaign press secretary from 1965 to 1975 and was a traveling press secretary in the 1968 presidential campaign of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy (D-N.Y.). He later was campaign press secretary for R. Sargent Shriver, the Kennedys' brother-in-law, who ran for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination.

After three years as a consultant in public affairs and telecommunications policy, Mr. Drayne rejoined Sen. Edward Kennedy as a senior adviser in Kennedy's bid for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination. Since then he had been with the CBS-TV Washington bureau as public affairs counsel.

Richard Charles Drayne was born Oct. 22, 1937, in Pittsburgh. He attended Georgetown University for a year and Pennsylvania State University for three years.

At Penn State he was managing editor of the university newspaper, where he met Patricia Evans, his wife-to-be, who also was on the staff.

In addition to his wife, of Washington, survivors include four children, Michael Richard, Elizabeth Mary, Katherine Evans and Susanna Margaret Drayne; his mother, Mary Drayne, and one brother, Vincent Drayne, both of Pittsburgh, and one sister, Mary Drayne of New York City.

Sir David Ferrier retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

Ferrier was born in Woodside near Aberdeen, and educated at Aberdeen Grammar School before studying for an MA at Aberdeen University (graduated 1863). As a medical student, he began to work as a scientific assistant to the influential free-thinking philosopher and psychologist Alexander Bain (1818-1903), one of the founders of associative psychology. Around 1860, psychology was finding its scientific foundation mainly in Germany, with the rigorous research of Hermann von Helmholtz (1821-1894), who had trained as a physicist, and of Wilhelm Wundt (1832-1920). They focused their work mainly in the area of sensory psychophysiology, because it was the most rewarding for the approach based on the paradigms of experimental physics. Both worked at the University of Heidelberg. In 1864 Bain prompted Ferrier to spend some time in their laboratories.

On returning to Scotland, Ferrier graduated in medicine in 1868 at the University of Edinburgh. A few years later, in 1870, he moved into London and started work as a neuropathologist at the King's College Hospital and at the National Hospital for Paralysis and Epilepsy, Queen Square. The latter - now the National Hospital for Neurology and Neurosurgery - was the first hospital in England to be dedicated to the treatment of neurological diseases and has a David Ferrier ward named in his memory.

At that period, the great neurologist John Hughlings Jackson (1835-1911) worked in the same hospital as Ferrier. Jackson was refining his concepts of the sensorimotor functions of the nervous system, derived from clinical experience. Jackson proposed that there was an anatomical and physiological substrate for the localization of brain functions, which was hierarchically organized.

Influenced by Jackson who became a close friend and mentor, Ferrier decided to embark on an experimental program. It aimed to extend the results of two German physiologists, Eduard Hitzig (1838-1907) and Gustav Fritsch (1837-1927). In 1870, they had published results on localized electrical stimulation of the motor cortex in dogs. Ferrier wanted also to test Jackson's idea that epilepsy had a cortical origin, as it was suggested by his clinical observations.

Leo Ryan was a Revealer

Leo Ryan investigated CIA activities at Jonestown and Folsom Prison tied to Jim Jones and Peoples Temple in San Francisco. Scottish Rites made their building available.

There were three significant buildings on the South (odd numbered) 1800 block of Geary Boulevard.

MAJESTIC HALL AND DANCING ACADEMY

The most famous to rock fans is of course the Fillmore Auditorium at 1805 Geary, on the corner of Fillmore and Geary, built in 1912 (as The Majestic Hall and Dancing Academy) and still operating today.

TEMPLE BETH ISRAEL

Temple Beth Israel, an early Jewish congregation in San Francisco, founded around 1860, which began constructing its fifth building at 1839 Geary in 1905, although its completion was interrupted by the April 1906 earthquake

ALFRED PIKE MEMORIAL TEMPLE

Next to the synagogue was the Scottish Rites (Masonic) Temple Building, known as the Alfred Pike Memorial Temple, at 1859 Geary, which dated back to the 19th century.

Museum of the City of San Francisco

Two buildings with fascinating history were both destroyed in 1989. The large building in the center was Temple Beth Israel, which was later rebuilt. However, the building burned in 1989 shortly before the earthquake.

Albert Pike Scottish Rite Temple was rebuilt and later sold to the Rev. Jim Jones who occupied it as Peoples Temple. It was from here he led members of his congregation to their doom in Jonestown. Peoples Temple was later sold to a Korean church, damaged during the 1989 earthquake, and demolished.

Church Committee retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Church Committee (formally the United States Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities) was a U.S. Senate select committee in 1975 that investigated abuses by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), National Security Agency (NSA), Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Chaired by Idaho Senator Frank Church (D-ID), the committee was part of a series of investigations into intelligence abuses in 1975, dubbed the "Year of Intelligence", including its House counterpart, the Pike Committee, and the presidential Rockefeller Commission. The committee's efforts led to the establishment of the permanent U.S. Senate Select Committee on Intelligence.

The most shocking revelations of the committee include Operation MKULTRA involving the drugging and torture of unwitting US citizens as part of human experimentation on mind control;[1][2] COINTELPRO involving the surveillance and infiltration of American political and civil-rights organizations;[3] Family Jewels, a CIA program to covertly assassinate foreign leaders;[4][5][6][7] Operation Mockingbird as a systematic propaganda campaign with domestic and foreign journalists operating as CIA assets and dozens of US news organizations providing cover for CIA activity.[8]

Foreshadowing the 2013 Global surveillance disclosures by Snowden, it also unearthed Project SHAMROCK in which the major telecommunications companies shared their traffic with the NSA.

By the early years of the 1970s, a series of troubling revelations had appeared in the press concerning intelligence activities. First came the revelations by Army intelligence officer Christopher Pyle in January 1970 of the U.S. Army's spying on the civilian population[9][10] and Senator Sam Ervin's Senate investigations produced more revelations.[11] Then on December 22, 1974, The New York Times published a lengthy article by Seymour Hersh detailing operations engaged in by the CIA over the years that had been dubbed the "family jewels". Covert action programs involving assassination attempts on foreign leaders and covert attempts to subvert foreign governments were reported for the first time. In addition, the article discussed efforts by intelligence agencies to collect information on the political activities of US citizens.

The creation of the Church Committee was approved on January 27, 1975, by a vote of 82 to 4 in the Senate.

Project SHAMROCK was the sister project to Project MINARET, an espionage exercise started in August 1945.[1] Project MINARET involved the accumulation of all telegraphic data that entered or exited the United States.[2] The Armed Forces Security Agency (AFSA)[3] and its successor, the National Security Agency (NSA), were given direct access to daily microfilm copies of all incoming, outgoing, and transiting telegrams via the Western Union and its associates RCA and ITT. NSA did the operational interception, and, if there was information that would be of interest to other intelligence agencies, the material was passed to them.[4] Intercepted messages were disseminated to the FBI, CIA, Secret Service, Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs (BNDD), and the Department of Defense. No court authorized the operation and there were no warrants.

According to Stephen Budiansky, the precursor to the project occurred in 1940: “In January 1940 the Army’s adjutant general sent a letter to the president of RCA, David Sarnoff, asking if a Lieutenant Earle F. Cook might be assigned to the company…” Cook photographed all international commercial cablegrams. “The clandestine arrangementalmost certainly illegalset a precedent…” Official wartime censorship began in Dec. 1940, when all cables were “turned over to the government for inspection.” According to Louis W. Tordella, “the collection program ‘just ran on’ ever since its beginning in World War II ‘without a great deal of attention from anyone’…” Three major cable companies provided copies of all international telegrams passing through New York, Washington, and San Francisco. In the 1950s, “New Shamrock” tapped the links of 6070 foreign embassies.

According to Athan Theoharis, the post-World War II continuation of Project SHAMROCK brought hesitation from the telegraph companies, who were concerned about the legality of their actions and that employees would reveal the companies’ government cooperation to the public.[6] Their fears were assuaged after a promise from Attorney General Tom Clark that the U.S. government would not prosecute the companies for their participation in Project SHAMROCK, and after Congress approved a bill section that made it illegal for “unauthorized” individuals to reveal information related to code-breaking, which was a part of SHAMROCK’s operations.

At the height of Project SHAMROCK, 150,000 messages were printed and analyzed by NSA personnel in a month.

USSID 18 was the general guideline for handling signal intelligence (SIGINT) inadvertently collected on US citizens, without a warrant, prior to the George W. Bush Administration. The post-Clinton era interpretations of FISA and USSID 18's principles assume that the executive branch has unitary authority for warrantless surveillance. This assertion came under congressional investigation as an apparent violation of FISA's intent.

George Walker Bush (born JULY 6, 1946) is an American politician and businessman who served as the 43rd president of the United States from 2001 to 2009. A member of the Bush family and Republican Party, he previously served as the 46th governor of Texas from 1995 to 2000.

The CIA later wrote that "these Congressional investigations eventually delved into all aspects of the CIA and the IC [Intelligence Community] and for the first time in the Agency's history, CIA officials faced hostile Congressional committees bent on the exposure of abuses by intelligence agencies and on major reforms," while criticizing the Pike Committee for never developing a "cooperative working relationship with the Agency [CIA] or the Ford administration." Yet the CIA also wrote that "despite its failures, the Pike Committee inquiry was a new and dramatic break with the past [because] it was the first significant House investigation of the IC since the creation of the CIA in 1947."[8] The London School of Economics and Political Science wrote a similar piece in 2011, saying that the oversight committee chaired by Pike who wanted to publish his committee's report was stonewalled by the Ford administration. This piece also notes that the report describes "details of a covert CIA operation in support of Kurdish rebels in northern Iraq, who were fighting for autonomy against the sinister, pro-Communist, Ba'ath regime in Baghdad" but that in their view there were distortions of "important details" and criticism of Henry Kissinger.[9] In the present, the Mary Farrell Foundation decided to publish the sections of the final report Pike wanted to make public in the first place.[10]

Otis g. Pike was born in Riverhead, New York. He served in the United States Marine Corps in the Pacific as a Dive Bomber and Night Fighter pilot from 1942 until 1946. He graduated with an A.B. from the School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University in 1943 after completing a senior thesis titled "American-Chinese Relations: Emphasizing the Years 1931-1941."[2] He then received a J.D. from Columbia Law School in 1948.

Sonny Bono a California Catholic anti mafia Congressman was a Revealer

Irish Mob retrieved from Wikipedia and copied or modified to here

The Irish Mob (Irish mafia, Irish organized crime) is an organized crime syndicate based in the United States, Canada, and Ireland, which has been in existence since the early 19th century. Originating in Irish-American street gangs - depicted in Herbert Asbury's 1927 book, The Gangs of New York - the Irish Mob has appeared in most major U.S. cities, especially on the east coast, including Boston, New York City, Philadelphia, and Chicago.

FBI corruption

During the 1970s and 1980s, the FBI's Boston office was largely infiltrated through corrupt federal agent John J. Connolly, by which Whitey Bulger was able to use his status as a government informant against his rivals (the extent of which would not be revealed until the mid to late 1990s).

The scandal was the basis for the non-fiction book Black Mass and its 2015 dramatic film adaptation.

Daniel J. "Danny" O'Leary (January 30, 1900 - August 15, 1928) was an Irish Philadelphia mobster involved in bootlegging who, a rival of Maxie "Boo Boo" Hoff throughout Prohibition, would struggle for dominance among the many gangs of Philadelphia's underworld.[citation needed] His death, only six days after his participation in the gangland slaying of Hugh "Hughie" McLoon, would mark the beginning of gang wars during the late 1920s eventually leading to a Special August Grand Jury investigating corruption and influence of organized crime in the city.

The Tri State New England area and navigable waters and docks loading proximity to Toronto and Nova Scotia Canada made Detroit, Boston, and other locations Bootlegging areas and was part of Old Milwaukee Wisconson Jazz speakeasy.

It is my own account my family the Donegans knew of these Catholic Mafia, of dock workers in Boston, elsewhere and Ducky Boys street gang in New York (I think that was a real name of them also fictionalized) and other places and the FBI Espionage Counter Intel used Mafia to force the chessboard knocking some pieces of chess board over (off) and trying to have its own mafia cartel army available to both spy on the underworld and be the undercover "shot caller" of some of the Irish Mafia operations as well as espionage needed such as assassinations.

In Love Story I believe Jacki Kennedy approaches JFK over being Catholic and that identity. “Oliver (Oliver Cromwell?” is anti white privledge and rounounces elite status. Jackkie asks him to embrace it, as a Catholic and lead equal to the WAPS but as a Catholic. She even implies she might even become a Catholic Queem of France someday I think not really wanting it but suggesting France was a Catholic Franco Pride a rival of England.

I his earlier life married to Cher who sang Half Breed. Why won’t poeple accept a Half Breed Gypsy like character wandering much like a Eurasion child of Vietnam? Certainly a Barrack Obama Jr. or others could find a home somewhere on either side of their heritage.

Jackie isn’t lookking to turn away from the power structure, from what would be calle privileged families today, shw wanted to build Catholic legitacy and in the High And Noble republicanism office of the PRsidency of the Unites States of America which freed itself from England, the East India Tea company at the Teat Party, as JFK’s book Profiles in Courage teachs as English Parlimentary POLs argued stood againts British Imperialism/

Myh father all of his life wanted to discourage me from the IRA or groups like that and felt the Dirty War was one not to fight and wanted to be a US citizen who rejected acts of terror.

Lame Cherry says CIA killed Secretary Rob Brown with an Ice Bullet. Sonny Bono head injury matched a .45.

SONNY Bono, former husband and singing partner of superstar Cher, was clubbed to death by hitmen on the orders of drug and weapons dealers who feared he was going to expose them, a former FBI agent claims.

One possibility the public discussion of forensic evidence would be consistent with is that Bono was bit in the head, died, and face down loaded into a sled which took him to the tree his body was recovered from and during that his own skip parker was blood stained from his being changed from face down to face up in the sled. Perhaps seasonal Ski Patrol temps.

Michael LeMoyne Kennedy (February 27, 1958 - December 31, 1997) was an American lawyer, businessman, and activist in Massachusetts. He was the sixth of eleven children to Robert F. Kennedy and Ethel Skakel. Kennedy also served as the head of the non-profit organization Citizens Energy. He died in a skiing accident in Aspen, Colorado in 1997 after he skied into a tree.

Six days later Sonny Bono dies the same way.

In this time frame, 1998 Tom Donegan offered Ed Donegan a chance to interview at AOL Time Warner for a job. Events were surreal and out of control with dopples in both payroll and walking around me and as I called out the odd constant abnormalities they said I was experiencing emotional problems and fired.

I used leather folios all my life and a coworker Toni used the exact same one and began acting as me in all sorts of ways. He was Irish looking with red hair. A different Ed Donegan working for the AOL movie company Sun Productions had a similar salary which was deposited into my checking account my salary was also deposited into.

It is now news in Australia that new evidence has turned up that suggests that California congressman Sonny Bono was murdered and did not die in a skiing accident as we have been told repeatedly. Although he was an American whose job was to represent Americans, as far as the mainstream United States press is concerned this news is unworthy of the attention of the people of the United States. This is the same American press, of course, that never breathed the slightest hint of suspicion that there might have been foul play involved when the experienced skier Bono was reported to have slammed into a tree at the Heavenly Ski resort in Nevada on January 5, 1998. There were no witnesses, the autopsy report was not released to the public, and Bono had shown himself to be something of a thorn in the side of official Washington, which is probably all the more reason for the lapdogs who call themselves journalists to have dummied up.

Tower was born in Houston, Texas, the son of Joe Z. Tower (1898-1970) and Beryl Tower (1898-1990). His father was a Methodist, later United Methodist, minister, and John traveled wherever his father was named by the denominational conference to pastor a church. He returned to Texas after the war in 1946, discharged as a seaman first class, and completed his undergraduate courses at Southwestern University, graduating in 1948 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science. While at Southwestern, Tower was a member of the Iota chapter of the Kappa Sigma fraternity,

In 1949, he moved to Dallas to take graduate courses at Southern Methodist University and to work part-time as an insurance agent. He left SMU in 1951 and entered academia as an assistant professor at Midwestern University (now Midwestern State University) in Wichita Falls. In 1952 and 1953, he pursued graduate coursework at the London School of Economics and conducted field research on the organization of the Conservative Party of the United Kingdom. His research was presented in his thesis, The Conservative Worker in Britain. He received his Master of Arts degree from SMU in 1953.

During his time in Wichita Falls, Tower established his core political relationships, including Pierce Langford III, a key figure in the financing of the British offshore pirate radio stations created between 1964 and 1967 by Don Pierson of Eastland, Texas. While at the London School of Economics, Tower put in an appearance at the offices of Swinging Radio England on Curzon Street.

Lyndon B Johnson, the incumbent Texas senator and famous nationwide as the Senate Majority Leader, won the election against Tower. As John F. Kennedy’s running mate, Johnson was also seeking the vice presidency in the same election. Tower’s campaign slogan was “double your pleasure, double your fun - vote against Johnson two times, not one.”

According to The Assassination of Robert Maxwell: Israel’s Superspy by Gordon Thomas and Martin Dillon, Tower became the liaison for Robert Maxwell, a British publishing mogul and super-agent[clarification needed] for Mossad, to the White House and to US government operations. The relationship began in 1984, and the soon-to-be retired Tower “told Maxwell that his fee as Maxwell’s personal consultant would be $200,000.

Tower took Maxwell’s request for American help in arming Iran, and relayed it to President Reagan as a means to trade for American hostages held in Lebanon. “Two days later the former Senator reported to Maxwell that his meeting with President Reagan had produced a positive response.”

Tower retired from the Senate after nearly twenty-four years in office. He continued to be involved in national politics, advising the campaigns of Ronald Reagan and George H. W. Bush. Two weeks after his leaving office,

Tower was named chief United States negotiator at the Strategic Arms Reduction Talks in Geneva, Switzerland. Tower resigned from this office in 1987, and for a time was a professor at Southern Methodist University. He became a consultant with Tower, Eggers, and Greene Consulting from 1987 until his death in 1991

In November 1986, President Reagan asked Tower to chair the President's Special Review Board to study the action of the National Security Council and its staff during the Iran-Contra Affair. The board, which became known as the Tower Commission, issued its report on February 26, 1987. The report was highly critical of the Reagan administration and of the National Security Council's dealings with both Iran and the Nicaraguan Contras.

In 1989, Tower was President George H. W. Bush's choice to become Secretary of Defense. In a stunning move, particularly since Tower was himself a former Senate colleague, the Senate rejected his nomination. The largest factors were concern about possible conflicts of interest and Tower's personal life, in particular allegations of alcohol abuse and womanizing.

After Tower's defeat, he was named chairman of the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board. Dick Cheney, then a Representative from Wyoming and the House Minority Whip, was later confirmed as Secretary of Defense whose nomination was successful.

On April 5, 1991, Tower was aboard Atlantic Southeast Airlines Flight 2311 when it crashed while on approach for landing at Brunswick, Georgia. The crash instantly killed everyone on board, including Tower and his middle daughter, Marian, the astronaut Sonny Carter, and twenty others. An investigation determined that the crash resulted from failure of the plane's propeller control unit.

Manley Lanier "Sonny" Carter Jr., M.D. (August 15, 1947 - April 5, 1991), (Capt, USN), was an American chemist, physician (Flight Surgeon), professional soccer player, naval officer and aviator, test pilot, and NASA astronaut who flew on STS-33. Carter received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Chemistry from Emory University in Atlanta in 1969, and a Doctor of Medicine degree from there in 1973. During his time at Emory, Carter was a brother in the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity

Atlantic Southeast Airlines Flight 2311 was a regularly scheduled commuter flight from Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport to Glynco Jetport

(since renamed Brunswick Golden Isles Airport) in Brunswick, Georgia on April 5, 1991. The flight, operated using a twin-turboprop Embraer EMB 120 Brasilia, crashed just north of Brunswick while approaching the airport for landing. All 23 people aboard the plane were killed, including passengers NASA Astronaut Sonny Carter and former United States Senator John Tower.[

The National Transportation Safety Board determines that, the probable cause of this accident was the loss of control in flight as a result of a malfunction of the left engine propeller control unit, which allowed the propeller blade angles to go below the flight idle position. Contributing to the accident was the deficient design of the propeller control unit by Hamilton Standard and the approval of the design by the Federal Aviation Administration. The design did not correctly evaluate the failure mode that occurred during this flight, which resulted in an uncommanded and uncorrectable movement of the blades of the airplane's left propeller below the flight idle position.

According to most of the interviewed witnesses, the airplane suddenly rolled to the left until the wings were perpendicular to the ground.[1]:2 The aircraft then descended in a nose-down attitude and disappeared from sight behind trees near the airport. From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

SENATOR PAUL WELLSTONE

Paul Wellstone, former member of the United States Senate from Minnesota

Paul David Wellstone (July 21, 1944 - October 25, 2002) was an American academic, author, and politician who represented Minnesota in the United States Senate from 1991 until he was killed in a plane crash in Eveleth, Minnesota, in 2002.

In 1999, Wellstone formed an exploratory committee to run for President of the United States in 2000. After campaigning in the early primary states, he announced he would not seek the presidency because of chronic physical limitations from a college wrestling injury. His condition was later diagnosed as multiple sclerosis. As senator, Wellstone authored the Wellstone Amendment for the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002. His efforts toward campaign finance reform were overturned in 2010 by the U.S. Supreme Court in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission.

Eleven days before the 2002 U.S. Senate election, Wellstone died in a plane crash in Eveleth, Minnesota. His wife, Sheila, and daughter, Marcia, also died on board. Wellstone's sons, David and Mark, were not on the flight, and until 2018 co-chaired the Wellstone Action nonprofit organization in honor of their parents.

On October 25, 2002, Wellstone, along with seven others, died in an airplane crash in eastern Minnesota, at 10:22 a.m. He was 58 years old. The other victims were his wife, Sheila; one of his three children, Marcia; the two pilots; and campaign staffers Mary McEvoy, Tom Lapic and Will McLaughlin. The airplane was en route to Eveleth, where Wellstone was to attend the funeral of Martin Rukavina, a steelworker whose son Tom Rukavina served in the Minnesota House of Representatives. Wellstone decided to go to the funeral instead of a Minneapolis rally and fundraiser attended by Mondale and fellow Senator Ted Kennedy

He was born FEB. 18, 1917, to Thomas and Lucy (Basic) Rukavina in Virginia. He graduated from Virginia Roosevelt High School and attended Virginia and Mesabi Community College. He married Martha Mordini on NOV. 22, 1941, in Virginia.

also this which is not the youtube): Guest: Bob Fletcher In the first half, Bob Fletcher, a retired investigative researcher who conducted a probe into the CIA's involvement in US drug trade, spoke about the return of Planet X (Nibiru), how money has been secretly siphoned out of budgets to prepare for it, and the coming global cataclysm. According to his information, Planet X was first discovered in 1983 by infrared telescopes and appeared to be on an inbound trajectory. Since then, the United States has built numerous underground facilities (such as at Cheyenne Mountain), which will be offered as a survival option to only an elite few, he stated. China has reportedly also completed the construction of underground facilities. Operation Jade Helm 15, a military-law enforcement exercise coming later this year, is a dry run for "martial law," and is being conducted as a test for how to deal with the public when they learn about Nibiru's impending arrival, Fletcher contended.

For Americans, the new revelations can be found buried away-and ignored by "respectable people"-in the U.S. supermarket tabloid, Globe, of April 14, which hit the news racks on April 4. They were said to have been gathered by investigator Bob Fletcher, 66, who, according to Globe, was connected to the case even before Bono died:

He also feels partially responsible for what happened to the California congressman.

Before Bono's death, Fletcher had been probing the activities of high ranking U.S. military and government officials he claims were raking in millions from arms and drug deals in Central America and Southeast Asia.

He says he sent his shocking findings of corruption, including videotaped evidence, to Bono.

"I later received a call from an assistant in his offices to tell me Sonny had seen my full report and was absolutely livid about the level of corruption I made him aware of," Fletcher tells GLOBE.

"He was going to make it his No. 1 priority when Congress resumed after the Christmas and New Year break. He was going to go after the biggest names.

"Just 10 days later, I received a call that he was dead. I'd heard it was suspected his offices had been bugged. Tragically, that must have been the case. There's no doubt in my mind Sonny was murdered by someone who needed to silence him."

The new evidence is the long-suppressed autopsy report, itself, which Fletcher obtained and furnished to Globe.

After reviewing the shocking secret documents, former FBI agent Ted Gunderson tells GLOBE: "The official version of Sonny Bono's death is hogwash. It's nonsense for anyone to now try to suggest that Bono died after crashing into a tree.

There's zero evidence in this autopsy report or any of these official documents to show such an accident happened. Instead, there's powerful proof he was assassinated. "This was an evil plot that was carried out to almost perfection by ruthless assassins."

Even though two of the online Australian newspapers attribute their article to "staff writers," it's the same short article in The Australian, Mercury (The Voice of Tasmania), and The Daily Telegraph (first two links now dead), beginning:

> SONNY Bono, former husband and singing partner of superstar Cher, was clubbed to death by hitmen on the orders of drug and weapons dealers who feared he was going to expose them, a former FBI agent claims.
> Ted Gunderson, now a private investigator, has told the US Globe tabloid that Bono, who served as mayor of Palm Springs for four years, did not die after hitting a tree on a Nevada ski slope in January 1998 as everyone believed.

So identical, are they, in fact, that all three of them have the first sentence in bold. Continuing in the brief, rather sketchy article, they say:

> Bono, an experienced skier, was ambushed on the slopes by hired hitmen, who beat him to death and then staged a tree collision, Mr. Gunderson said.
> He called for authorities to dig up Bono's remains and open a homicide investigation.
> His claims have reportedly been backed by top forensics experts who fear Nevada authorities were too quick to call the death a skiing accident.

The Australian papers, it should also be noted, leave the impression that Gunderson is the prime mover in this investigation while only mentioning Fletcher at the end of their article as follows:

> Investigator Bob Fletcher had also confessed he sent evidence of a 10-year study that linked top US government officials to arms and weapons dealers to Bono less than a month before his death, the Globe reported.
> "(Bono) was going to make it his No.1 priority… There's no doubt in my mind Sonny was murdered by someone who needed him silenced," Mr Fletcher told the paper.

In an email to me on May 13, 2008, Mr. Fletcher was emphatic that Gunderson "has had absolutely nothing to do with this investigation." (The foregoing section, starting with "The Australian papers…," was added on May 13.)

Interestingly, Yahoo also picked up the story, but it is Yahoo for the United Kingdom and Ireland and Yahoo for Australia (both links now dead). It would appear that Yahoo is as compliant toward corrupt American authorities as it is toward their counterparts in China.

The Autopsy

How compelling is the new evidence? The five-page autopsy report prepared by Dr. David E. Palosaari, official pathologist for Washoe County at the time, concluded that the death was caused by "craniocerebral injuries due to blunt force trauma (skiing accident)."

But Globe reports further:

> Other injuries detailed in the document included a black eye, swollen lips, bloody nose, bruised jaw, and two upper teeth knocked out, all on the right side of the head.
